The anointing with oil may simply be medicinal treatment, as in its use by the Good Samaritan in Luke 10:34a – "He went to him and bound up his wounds, pouring on oil and wine." This is also the case in Isaiah 1:6b – "... bruises and sores and raw wounds; they are not pressed out or bound up or softened with oil." Some however view it as being of spiritual significance. Either way, it is done "in the name of the Lord", acknowledging that healing is ultimately from him. Note that Mark 6:13 also speaks of Jesus' followers (the twelve disciples) employing this practice – "And they cast out many demons and anointed with oil many who were sick and healed them."

I. General

Good leadership is one of the most important prerequisites for a healthy church. For a church to function effectively it is critical that leaders know and do what is required of them. It is also important for church members to know what they should expect of leaders – and how they can support their leaders.

Note that a number of verses in this chapter speak of Paul and other NT leaders in their work overseeing a number of churches, or of leaders of the nation of Israel – such as Moses, Joshua, prophets, priests and kings. Such verses are generally readily applicable to leaders of local churches today, and to their relationship with church members.

Churches have leaders

Acts 13:1 Now there were in the church at Antioch prophets and teachers, Barnabas, Simeon who was called Niger,^a Lucius of Cyrene, Manaen a member of the court of Herod the tetrarch, and Saul. 📖

^a Niger is a Latin word meaning black, or dark

Prophets and teachers have key leadership roles in the church.

Acts 14:23 And when they had appointed elders for them in every church, with prayer and fasting they committed them to the Lord in whom they had believed. 📖

Acts 20:17 Now from Miletus he sent to Ephesus and called the elders of the church to come to him. 📖

Rom 16:1 I commend to you our sister Phoebe, a servant^b of the church at Cenchreae, ... 📖

The text note suggests that Phoebe was a deaconess, a ministerial position in the church (cf. Phil 1:1 ↓).

Phil 1:1 Paul and Timothy, servants^c of Christ Jesus, To all the saints in Christ Jesus who are at Philippi, with the overseers^d and deacons:^e ... 📖

^d Or bishops; Greek episkopoi

^e Or servants, or ministers; Greek diakonoi

Although not explicitly stated, the leaders referred to in this and the following verses are leaders of churches.

Heb 13:7 Remember your leaders, those who spoke to you the word of God. Consider the outcome of their way of life, and imitate their faith. 📖

1Pet 5:1 So I exhort the elders among you, as a fellow elder and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, as well as a partaker in the glory that is going to be revealed: ... 📖

Matt 16:18 And I tell you, you are Peter, and on this rock^f I will build my church, and the gates of hell^g shall not prevail against it. 📖

^g Greek the gates of Hades

Note that “Peter” sounds like “rock” (cf. text note). This points to Peter’s leadership role in Jesus Christ’s building of his church.

Acts 1:20 For it is written in the Book of Psalms, “May his camp become desolate, and let there be no one to dwell in it; and “Let another take his office.” 📖

The reference is to Judas Iscariot and “his place of leadership” (NIV®) in the early church as a whole, as one of the twelve disciples.

Typically churches are together overseen by a central leadership group

In the NT church, all the local churches were overseen by the apostles and the elders based in Jerusalem. Similarly today each church denomination has some form of central leadership group overseeing its churches.

Acts 11:20-22 But there were some of them, men of Cyprus and Cyrene, who on coming to Antioch spoke to the Hellenists^h also, preaching the Lord Jesus. ²¹And the hand of the Lord was with them, and a great number who believed turned to the Lord. ²²*The report of this came to the ears of the church in Jerusalem, and they sent Barnabas to Antioch.* 📖

^h Or Greeks (that is, Greek-speaking non-Jews)

Here the leaders of the church in Jerusalem took action to oversee the development of the church in the city of Antioch.

Acts 15:1-2, 6, 19-20, 22-29 But some men came down from Judea and were teaching the brothers, “Unless you are circumcised according to the custom of Moses, you cannot be saved.” ²And after Paul and Barnabas had no small dissension and debate with them, Paul and Barnabas and some of the others were appointed to go up to Jerusalem to the apostles and the elders about this question. 📖 ... ⁶*The apostles and the elders were gathered together to consider this matter.* 📖 ... [James:] ¹⁹*Therefore my judgment is that we should not trouble those of the Gentiles who turn to God, ²⁰but should write to them to abstain from the things polluted by idols, and from sexual immorality, and from what has been strangled, and from blood.* 📖 ... ²²*Then it seemed good to the apostles and the elders, with the whole church, to choose men from among them and send them to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas. They sent Judas called Barsabbas, and Silas, leading men among the brothers, ²³with the following letter: “The brothers, both the apostles and the elders, to the brothersⁱ who are of the Gentiles in Antioch and Syria and Cilicia, greetings. ²⁴Since we have heard that some persons have gone out from us and troubled you^j with words, unsettling your minds, although we gave them no instructions, ²⁵it has seemed good to us, having come to one accord, to choose men and send them to you with our beloved Barnabas and Paul, ²⁶men who have risked their lives for the sake of our Lord Jesus Christ. ²⁷We have therefore sent Judas and Silas, who themselves will tell you the same things by word of mouth. ²⁸For it has seemed good to the Holy Spirit and to us to lay on you no greater burden than these requirements: ²⁹that you abstain from what has been sacrificed to idols, and from blood, and from what has been strangled, and from sexual immorality. If you keep yourselves from these, you will do well. Farewell.”* 📖

ⁱ Or brothers and sisters; also verses 32, 33, 36

^j Some manuscripts some persons from us have troubled you

Doctrinal issues are here overseen by the apostles and elders in Jerusalem. In vv. 19-20 James – who appears to preside over proceedings – advocates ruling in line with the position of Paul and Barnabas, a stance agreed to by the other apostles and elders (cf. vv. 22-24, 28-29).

Acts 16:4 As they went on their way through the cities, they delivered to them for observance the decisions that had been reached by the apostles and elders who were in Jerusalem. 📖

This is speaking of instructions of the apostles and elders in Jerusalem being delivered to churches in different towns.

✚ Paul oversaw a number of churches:

2Thes 3:14 If anyone does not obey what we say in this letter, take note of that person, and have nothing to do with him, that he may be ashamed. 📖

In his work as an apostle, Paul himself played a significant role in overseeing the affairs of quite a number of churches – many of which he had been instrumental in their establishment. Paul often did this through his letters – as exemplified in this verse – and sometimes through his co-workers, as shown in his instruction to Titus in Titus 1:5: “This is why I left you in Crete, so that you might put what remained into order, and appoint elders in every town as I directed you–”

Ultimately it is God who chooses leaders . . .

- Further examples of God appointing people to a specific role, p. 957

Note that one implication of the teaching here is that in choosing leaders, churches should prayerfully seek God’s leading so as to make a choice in accordance with his will.

1Cor 12:28 And God has appointed in the church first apostles, second prophets, third teachers, then miracles, then gifts of healing, helping, administrating, and various kinds of tongues. 📖

One can infer from this verse both that God has ordained that these positions exist in churches and that he chooses people to fulfill these positions.

2Cor 4:1 Therefore, having this ministry by the mercy of God,^k we do not lose heart. 📖

^k Greek as we have received mercy

Here Paul refers to the leadership roles of himself and his co-workers, given to them by God in his mercy.

Heb 5:1, 4 For every high priest chosen from among men is appointed to act on behalf of men in relation to God, to offer gifts and sacrifices for sins. 📖 ... ⁴*And no one takes this honor for himself, but only when called by God, just as Aaron was.* 📖

What is said here of the position of high priest is arguably applicable to church leaders today. Note that it is not obvious whether the selecting and appointing spoken of in v. 1 is that done directly by God, or the actions taken by leaders in response to God's choice and calling (v. 4).

Num 27:15-18 Moses spoke to the LORD, saying, ¹⁶*“Let the LORD, the God of the spirits of all flesh, appoint a man over the congregation* ¹⁷*who shall go out before them and come in before them, who shall lead them out and bring them in, that the congregation of the LORD may not be as sheep that have no shepherd.”* ¹⁸*So the LORD said to Moses, “Take Joshua the son of Nun, a man in whom is the Spirit, and lay your hand on him.”*

Deut 17:15 ... you may indeed set a king over you whom the LORD your God will choose. One from among your brothers you shall set as king over you. You may not put a foreigner over you, who is not your brother.

1Ki 19:16 And Jehu the son of Nimshi you shall anoint to be king over Israel, and Elisha the son of Shaphat of Abel-meholah you shall anoint to be prophet in your place.

Here God tells Elijah to anoint the ones he has chosen for these critical leadership roles amongst God's people.

1Chr 28:4-5 Yet the LORD God of Israel chose me from all my father's house to be king over Israel forever. For he chose Judah as leader, and in the house of Judah my father's house, and among my father's sons he took pleasure in me to make me king over all Israel. ⁵*And of all my sons (for the LORD has given me many sons) he has chosen Solomon my son to sit on the throne of the kingdom of the LORD over Israel.*

Note that in v. 4b David tells of God choosing Judah to be the leading tribe of Israel.

Ps 78:70-71 He chose David his servant and took him from the sheepfolds; ⁷¹*from following the nursing ewes he brought him to shepherd Jacob his people, Israel his inheritance.*

Jer 3:15 And I will give you shepherds after my own heart, who will feed you with knowledge and understanding.

Amos 2:11 And I raised up some of your sons for prophets, and some of your young men for Nazirites. Is it not indeed so, O people of Israel?" declares the LORD.

Nazirites took a vow of devout devotion to God and, as with the prophets, had a role in the spiritual leadership of Israel.

. . . Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit play a role in the making of leaders

Luke 12:42 And the Lord said, “Who then is the faithful and wise manager, whom his master will set over his household, to give them their portion of food at the proper time?”

This refers to leaders of God's people (“the faithful and wise manager”) being given such authority by Jesus Christ (“the master”).

Acts 1:24-26 And they prayed and said, “You, Lord, who know the hearts of all, show which one of these two you have chosen ²⁵*to take the place in this ministry and apostleship from which Judas turned aside to go to his own place.”* ²⁶*And they cast lots for them, and the lot fell on Matthias, and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.*

The Lord's choice was ascertained here through the casting of lots.

1Cor 3:5 What then is Apollos? What is Paul? Servants through whom you believed, as the Lord assigned to each.

Although Paul rightly refers to Apollos and himself as “Servants”, their roles or tasks were nevertheless crucial leadership ones – assigned by the Lord.

2Cor 10:8 For even if I boast a little too much of our authority, which the Lord gave for building you up and not for destroying you, I will not be ashamed.

Similar in 2 Corinthians 13:10 Paul speaks of: “... the authority that the Lord has given me for building up and not for tearing down.”

Judg 3:10 The Spirit of the LORD was upon him, and he judged Israel. He went out to war, and the LORD gave Cushan-rishathaim king of Mesopotamia into his hand. And his hand prevailed over Cushan-rishathaim.

✦ Jesus' choosing of the twelve disciples:

Luke 6:13-16 And when day came, he called his disciples and chose from them twelve, whom he named apostles: ¹⁴*Simon, whom he named Peter, and Andrew his brother, and James and John, and Philip, and Bartholomew,* ¹⁵*and Matthew, and Thomas, and James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon who was called the Zealot,* ¹⁶*and Judas the son of James, and Judas Iscariot, who became a traitor.* 📖

Leaders will be accountable to God for their work

Heb 13:17 Obey your leaders and submit to them, for they are keeping watch over your souls, as those who will have to give an account. Let them do this with joy and not with groaning, for that would be of no advantage to you. 📖

The reference is to giving account to the Lord on the day of judgment.

1Cor 4:1-4 This is how one should regard us, as servants of Christ and stewards of the mysteries of God. ²*Moreover, it is required of stewards that they be found trustworthy.* ³But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged by you or by any human court. In fact, I do not even judge myself. ⁴For I am not aware of anything against myself, but I am not thereby acquitted. It is the Lord who judges me. 📖

Paul implies that those who have been entrusted with God's work will be held accountable for it by indicating that: "it is required" that they prove trustworthy (v. 2); and the Lord judges them (v. 4).

Luke 12:42-48 And the Lord said, "Who then is the faithful and wise manager, whom his master will set over his household, to give them their portion of food at the proper time?" ⁴³*Blessed is that servant^p whom his master will find so doing when he comes.* ⁴⁴*Truly, I say to you, he will set him over all his possessions.* ⁴⁵*But if that servant says to himself, 'My master is delayed in coming,' and begins to beat the male and female servants, and to eat and drink and get drunk,* ⁴⁶*the master of that servant will come on a day when he does not expect him and at an hour he does not know, and will cut him in pieces and put him with the unfaithful.* ⁴⁷*And that servant who knew his master's will but did not get ready or act according to his will, will receive a severe beating.* ⁴⁸*But the one who did not know, and did what deserved a beating, will receive a light beating. Everyone to whom much was given, of him much will be required, and from him to whom they entrusted much, they will demand the more.* 📖

The use of "servant" in the context (cf. vv. 35-44) speaks primarily of leaders – as reflected by the term "manager" in v. 42 – although aspects of this passage have a wider application.

Ezek 34:10a Thus says the Lord GOD, Behold, I am against the shepherds, and I will require my sheep at their hand and put a stop to their feeding the sheep. 📖

"I will require my sheep at their hand" means that God would hold the leaders accountable for the state of his flock, his people.

Isa 9:13-16 The people did not turn to him who struck them, nor inquire of the LORD of hosts. ¹⁴*So the LORD cut off from Israel head and tail, palm branch and reed in one day—* ¹⁵*the elder and honored man is the head, and the prophet who teaches lies is the tail;* ¹⁶*for those who guide this people have been leading them astray, and those who are guided by them are swallowed up.* 📖

The bad leaders would be held accountable (vv. 14-15) as they were principally responsible for the people's failure to return to or to seek God (v. 13), leading them astray (v. 16).

✦ Teachers will be judged more strictly than other church members:

James 3:1 Not many of you should become teachers, my brothers, for you know that we who teach will be judged with greater strictness. 📖

Note that this teaching parallels that above in Luke 12:47-48.

Leaders will be richly rewarded for good work

Matt 24:45-47 Who then is the faithful and wise servant,^q whom his master has set over his household, to give them their food at the proper time? ⁴⁶*Blessed is that servant whom his master will find so doing when he comes.* ⁴⁷*Truly, I say to you, he will set him over all his possessions.* 📖

^q Greek bondservant; also verses 46, 48, 50

This speaks of Jesus Christ rewarding the faithful servants whom he has put in charge of his other servants – i.e. leaders in his "household", the church.

1Pet 5:4 And when the chief Shepherd appears, you [elders] will receive the unfading crown of glory. 📖

1Thes 2:19-20 For what is our hope or joy or crown of boasting before our Lord Jesus at his coming? Is it not you?

²⁰*For you are our glory and joy.*

Here “joy” (cf. Phil 4:1 ↓) may be alluding to Paul’s future joy when Christ comes and rewards him for his ministry amongst the Thessalonians. Alternatively, like his “hope” (v. 19), it may be joy which he has in anticipating his future reward for his work. The “crown” (cf. Phil 4:1 ↓) alludes to the wreath that was given to the victors at the Greek games; the Thessalonians will be as such for him to glory in.

Phil 4:1 Therefore, my brothers,^r whom I love and long for, my joy and crown, stand firm thus in the Lord, my beloved.

^r Or brothers and sisters; also verses 8, 21

1Tim 3:13 For those who serve well as deacons gain a good standing for themselves and also great confidence in the faith that is in Christ Jesus.

The “good standing” may well be referring to the standing of these deacons in God’s sight – pointing to God’s approval and the associated rewards. Alternatively, gaining respect and honor before the congregation may be in view.

‡ Paul’s anticipated pride in his work on Jesus Christ’s return:

Phil 2:14-16 Do all things without grumbling or questioning, ¹⁵*that you may be blameless and innocent, children of God without blemish in the midst of a crooked and twisted generation, among whom you shine as lights in the world,* ¹⁶*holding fast to the word of life, so that in the day of Christ I may be proud that I did not run in vain or labor in vain.*

On Jesus Christ’s return Paul hoped to be able to take pride in the godly lives of the Philippians, to which his work had led.

Acts 6:5-6 And what they said pleased the whole gathering, and they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Spirit, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolaus, a proselyte of Antioch. ⁶*These they set before the apostles, and they prayed and laid their hands on them.*

The practice of established leaders laying their hands on newly appointed leaders and ones being commissioned for a new role, occurs a number of times in both the OT and NT (cf. Num 8:10 ↓; Num 27:18, 23 ↓; 1Tim 5:22 ↓). It appears to denote the bestowing of authority by established leaders, who have such authority, onto the newly appointed leaders.

Acts 14:23, 26 And when they had appointed elders for them in every church, with prayer and fasting they committed them to the Lord in whom they had believed. ... ²⁶and from there they sailed to Antioch, where they had been commended to the grace of God for the work that they had fulfilled.

When people are appointed to a particular role, notably a leadership one, other leaders should commend/commit them to God in prayer (cf. Acts 6:6 ↑).

Num 8:10-11 When you bring the Levites before the LORD, the people of Israel shall lay their hands on the Levites, ¹¹and Aaron shall offer the Levites before the LORD as a wave offering from the people of Israel, that they may do the service of the LORD.

The wave offering (v. 11) appears to have been to symbolize the Levites being offered to God as living sacrifices, dedicated to assisting the priests in doing God’s work. Leaders today likewise need to be willing to offer themselves unconditionally to God in his service – something which may be formally signified in their ordination as was the case here.

Num 27:18-20, 22-23 So the LORD said to Moses, “Take Joshua the son of Nun, a man in whom is the Spirit, and lay your hand on him. ¹⁹Make him stand before Eleazar the priest and all the congregation, and you shall commission him in their sight. ²⁰You shall invest him with some of your authority, that all the congregation of the people of Israel may obey. ... ²²And Moses did as the LORD commanded him. He took Joshua and made him stand before Eleazar the priest and the whole congregation, ²³and he laid his hands on him and commissioned him as the LORD directed through Moses.

Moses commissioned Joshua before all the people so that they would clearly recognize the authority that was invested in him, and so obey him (v. 20).

1Tim 5:22 Do not be hasty in the laying on of hands, nor take part in the sins of others; keep yourself pure.

The first clause is commonly understood to be referring to the ordination of elders – the public signifying and recognition of their appointment to a leadership role. Their appointment should not be done without due consideration, nor until the candidate has had sufficient time to prove their suitability (cf. 1Tim 3:6 ↓; 1Tim 3:10 ↓).

b) Required Characteristics

The following characteristics are required of all believers, but it is especially vital for the life of Christian groups that they are exemplified by leaders. As such, churches need to bear in mind the following characteristics when choosing leaders.

Note that largely: the verses in the first two subsections speak of attributes that are required of a person to be chosen as a leader; the verses in the third and fourth subsections contain exhortations to those who are leaders to have the qualities concerned; and the verses in the fifth and sixth subsection contain examples of leaders displaying necessary attitudes.

^t Or a man of one woman; also verse 12

^u Or devious in speech

^v Or Wives, likewise, must, or Women, likewise, must

The requirement that an overseer must “be well thought of by outsiders” (v. 7) probably has in view the need for the church and in particular its leaders to show that they are credible, for the sake of spreading the gospel amongst outsiders and for bringing glory to God. The verse appears to teach that having a bad reputation would cause an overseer to fall into “a snare of the devil”, presumably a reference to Satan deceiving them into sin rather than referring to any particular “snare”. It does not say how or why this is the case. Perhaps the thought is that those without a good reputation may well not be deserving of such and so be the type of person quite likely to fall into Satan’s traps.

Titus 1:5-8 This is why I left you in Crete, so that you might put what remained into order, and appoint elders in every town as I directed you— *“if anyone is above reproach, the husband of one wife,^w and his children are believers and not open to the charge of debauchery or insubordination. ⁷For an overseer,^x as God’s steward, must be above reproach. ^y Some manuscripts holiness

This refers in part to Paul’s previous work amongst the Corinthians. Bear in mind that the text note indicates that some manuscripts have “holiness” (NASB, NIV) instead of simplicity.

1Thes 2:10 You are witnesses, and God also, how holy and righteous and blameless was our conduct toward you believers.

1Tim 5:1-2 Do not rebuke an older man but encourage him as you would a father, younger men as brothers, ²older women as mothers, younger women as sisters, in all purity.

Although very much applicable to all believers, this direction was given to Timothy as a pastoral worker.

Ps 132:9 Let your priests be clothed with righteousness, and let your saints shout for joy.

The reference may be to the character and actions of the priests – i.e. that they “do what is right” (NCV™; cf. GNT) – hence the verse’s inclusion here. However some commentators point to the close relationship between God’s righteousness and salvation as indicating that it is speaking of the priests propagating God’s righteousness so as to realize the salvation of the people.

Ecl 12:10 The Preacher sought to find words of delight, and uprightly he wrote words of truth.

Zec 3:6-7 And the angel of the LORD solemnly assured Joshua, ⁷“Thus says the LORD of hosts: If you will walk in my ways and keep my charge, then you shall rule my house and have charge of my courts, and I will give you the right of access among those who are standing here.

The high priest Joshua is representative of the priests and/or the nation of Israel, with the verses having in view governance either of God’s people (by the priests) or of all God’s realm (by Israel). As such this passage is indicative of the need for those who would lead God’s people to be obedient to God’s laws. The “right of access among those who are standing here” (v. 7b) probably refers to being in God’s presence as the angels are, being his priest with ready access to him.

✦ Leaders must not be recent converts:

1Tim 3:6 He must not be a recent convert, or he may become puffed up with conceit and fall into the condemnation of the devil.

Verse 10 (included earlier in this subsection) also reflects that leaders must not be recent converts, stating that potential leaders need to “be tested first” and “prove themselves blameless”. The reference to falling into the condemnation of the devil, most likely means to face the same condemnation as the devil does. Note that other interpretations include: falling from a high position just as the devil did; and judgment dealt out by the devil (cf. NLT).

Josh 1:6, 9 Be strong and courageous, for you shall cause this people to inherit the land that I swore to their fathers to give them. ... ⁹Have I not commanded you? Be strong and courageous. Do not be frightened, and do not be dismayed, for the LORD your God is with you wherever you go.

1Chr 28:10 Be careful now, for the LORD has chosen you to build a house for the sanctuary; be strong and do it.

Ezra 7:28b I took courage, for the hand of the LORD my God was on me, and I gathered leading men from Israel to go up with me.

Ezra is speaking here of going to Jerusalem, to minister to the Israelites there.

Ezra 10:2-4 And Shecaniah the son of Jehiel, of the sons of Elam, addressed Ezra: "We have broken faith with our God and have married foreign women from the peoples of the land, but even now there is hope for Israel in spite of this. ³Therefore let us make a covenant with our God to put away all these wives and their children, according to the counsel of my lord^c and of those who tremble at the commandment of our God, and let it be done according to the Law. ⁴Arise, for it is your task, and we are with you; be strong and do it."

Paul exhorts Timothy to use his gift (v. 6) in his ministry, bearing in mind that God does not give a spirit that "makes us weak and fearful" (NirV®), but a spirit of power (and of love and self-discipline).

Leaders must be willing to not only serve God and Jesus Christ, but also church members.

Matt 20:25-28 But Jesus called them to him and said, "You know that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them. ²⁶It shall not be so among you. But whoever would be great among you must be your servant,^e ²⁷*and whoever would be first among you must be your slave,*^f ²⁸*even as the Son of Man came not to be served but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many."*

1Ki 12:7 And they said to him, "If you will be a servant to this people today and serve them, and speak good words to them when you answer them, then they will be your servants forever."

This good advice was given to Rehoboam, King of Israel. However he did not follow it, which led to the secession of the northern tribes from his kingdom.

1Cor 3:5-6 What then is Apollos? What is Paul? Servants through whom you believed, as the Lord assigned to each. ⁶I planted, Apollos watered, but God gave the growth. ☞

Paul's reference to himself as a servant suggests his willingness to serve the churches.

1Cor 16:15-16 Now I urge you, brothers^g—you know that the household^h of Stephanas were the first converts in Achaia, and that they have devoted themselves to the service of the saints— ¹⁶be subject to such as these, and to every fellow worker and laborer. ☞

^h Greek house

The fact that Paul tells the Corinthians to submit to the household of Stephanas, implies that they had a leadership role. The willingness of the household of Stephanas to serve in this role was underscored by their devotion to doing so.

1Pet 5:2 ... shepherd the flock of God that is among you, exercising oversight,ⁱ not under compulsion, but willingly, as God would have you; ^j*not for shameful gain, but eagerly*; ... ☞

ⁱ Some manuscripts omit exercising oversight

^j Some manuscripts omit as God would have you

This and 2 Chronicles 19:8-9 below speak of willingly exercising leadership responsibilities. Note that here the phrase "exercising oversight" has been translated as "serving as overseers" (NIV®, NKJV).

2Chr 19:8-9 Moreover, in Jerusalem Jehoshaphat appointed certain Levites and priests and heads of families of Israel, to give judgment for the LORD and to decide disputed cases. They had their seat at Jerusalem. ⁹And he charged them: "Thus you shall do in the fear of the LORD, in faithfulness, and with your whole heart: ... ☞

✦ Do not seek authority and status; instead be a servant:

Matt 23:8-12 But you are not to be called rabbi, for you have one teacher, and you are all brothers.^k ⁹*And call no man your father on earth, for you have one Father, who is in heaven.* ¹⁰*Neither be called instructors, for you have one instructor, the Christ.* ¹¹*The greatest among you shall be your servant.* ¹²*Whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and whoever humbles himself will be exalted.* ☞

^k Or brothers and sisters

The disciples were not to seek titles of authority and status (vv. 8-10). As Matthew 20:25-28 above teaches, greatness amongst Jesus' followers comes not from things such as these, but from serving others (v. 11).

Deep love for church members . . .

2Cor 2:4 For I wrote to you out of much affliction and anguish of heart and with many tears, not to cause you pain but to let you know the abundant love that I have for you. ☞

2Cor 6:11-13 We have spoken freely to you,¹ Corinthians; our heart is wide open. ¹²You are not restricted by us, but you are restricted in your own affections. ¹³In return (I speak as to children) widen your hearts also. ☞

¹ Greek Our mouth is open to you

In appealing to the somewhat wayward and rebellious Corinthian church, Paul speaks of his love for them (v. 11; cf. 2Cor 7:3 ↓) – which was in a sense a paternal love (v. 13).

2Cor 7:3, 15 I do not say this to condemn you, for I said before that you are in our hearts, to die together and to live together. ☞ ... ¹⁵*And his [Titus's] affection for you is even greater, as he remembers the obedience of you all, how you received him with fear and trembling.* ☞

In v. 3, Paul is saying that the Corinthian believers were in his heart/thoughts to the extent that he would journey together with them through life or death.

Gal 4:18-19 It is always good to be made much of for a good purpose, and not only when I am present with you, ¹⁹*my little children, for whom I am again in the anguish of childbirth until Christ is formed in you!* ☞

Paul's metaphor (v. 19) demonstrates his ardent concern for the Galatians, who were faltering under the influence of false teachers.

2Cor 8:16 But thanks be to God, who put into the heart of Titus the same earnest care I have for you.

2Cor 11:2-3 For I feel a divine jealousy for you, since I betrothed you to one husband, to present you as a pure virgin to Christ. ³But I am afraid that as the serpent deceived Eve by his cunning, your thoughts will be led astray from a sincere and pure devotion to Christ.

Paul was jealous for his converts and their commitment to Christ (v. 2a) "just as God is" (GNT) – possibly meaning "with a jealousy that comes from God" (NCV™) – reflecting Paul's deep love and concern for them.

2Cor 11:28-29 And, apart from other things, there is the daily pressure on me of my anxiety for all the churches. ²⁹Who is weak, and I am not weak? Who is made to fall, and I am not indignant?

Such was Paul's concern for the churches (v. 28) that he strongly identified with them in their weaknesses and trials (v. 29). The final phrase may be speaking of "intense concern" (NASB), "distress" (GNT, cf. NCV), or even "anger" (NLT, cf. CEV).

2Cor 12:20-21 For I fear that perhaps when I come I may find you not as I wish, and that you may find me not as you wish—that perhaps there may be quarreling, jealousy, anger, hostility, slander, gossip, conceit, and disorder. ²¹I fear that when I come again my God may humble me before you, and I may have to mourn over many of those who sinned earlier and have not repented of the impurity, sexual immorality, and sensuality that they have practiced.

Note that Paul's reference to being humbled or "ashamed" (CEV, NCV) before them (v. 21a) would have been at least partly due to the pride and joy he took in them and their progress in the faith.

1Thes 3:5 For this reason, when I could bear it no longer, I sent to learn about your faith, for fear that somehow the tempter had tempted you and our labor would be in vain.

Phil 2:19-20 I hope in the Lord Jesus to send Timothy to you soon, so that I too may be cheered by news of you. ²⁰For I have no one like him, who will be genuinely concerned for your welfare.

As a leader, supervise church affairs

Acts 20:28 Pay careful attention to yourselves and to all the flock, in which the Holy Spirit has made you overseers, to care for the church of God,^o which he obtained with his own blood.^p

^o Some manuscripts of the Lord

^p Or with the blood of his Own

As "overseers", leaders oversee and so supervise church affairs, including the welfare of church members (cf. Be a shepherd taking care of God's flock, p. 1484).

Num 27:16-17, 21 "Let the LORD, the God of the spirits of all flesh, appoint a man over the congregation ¹⁷who shall go out before them and come in before them, who shall lead them out and bring them in, that the congregation of the LORD may not be as sheep that have no shepherd."  ... ²¹And he shall stand before Eleazar the priest, who shall inquire for him by the judgment of the Urim before the LORD. At his word they shall go out, and at his word they shall come in, both he and all the people of Israel with him, the whole congregation.

Joshua is referred to in v. 21. Like Joshua and Moses before him, church leaders are to lead the people – as the term “leader” implies.

1Chr 25:2 Of the sons of Asaph: Zaccur, Joseph, Nethaniah, and Asharelah, sons of Asaph, under the direction of Asaph, who prophesied under the direction of the king. 📖

2Chr 23:18 And Jehoiada posted watchmen for the house of the LORD under the direction of the Levitical priests and the Levites whom David had organized to be in charge of the house of the LORD, to offer burnt offerings to the LORD, as it is written in the Law of Moses, with rejoicing and with singing, according to the order of David. 📖

As with 1 Chronicles 25:2b above, this illustrates a chain of command in the leadership and supervision of Israel and its affairs. The king assigned responsibility for the temple to the priests, who by implication would then supervise others in matters regarding the temple. Such a chain of command is applicable to and, as such, has its parallels in the church today.

Ezra 3:9 And Jeshua with his sons and his brothers, and Kadmiel and his sons, the sons of Judah, together supervised the workmen in the house of God, along with the sons of Henadad and the Levites, their sons and brothers. 📖

Neh 11:11 Seraiah the son of Hilkiyah, son of Meshullam, son of Zadok, son of Meraioth, son of Ahitub, ruler of the house of God, ... 📖

1Tim 5:17 Let the elders who rule well be considered worthy of double honor, especially those who labor in preaching and teaching. 📖

✦ In leading, listen to and consider suggestions:

Deut 1:22-23 [Moses:] *Then all of you came near me and said, ‘Let us send men before us, that they may explore the land for us and bring us word again of the way by which we must go up and the cities into which we shall come.’*²³*The thing seemed good to me, and I took twelve men from you, one man from each tribe.* 📖

Delegate work to capable people

Note that the verses below illustrate that leaders delegating work to others has the following advantages: leaders will be better able to cope; leaders will be able to concentrate better on the main priorities of their roles; more work will be done; and new and emerging leaders will be developed.

Acts 6:1-4 Now in these days when the disciples were increasing in number, a complaint by the Hellenists^a arose against the Hebrews because their widows were being neglected in the daily distribution. ²And the twelve summoned the full number of the disciples and said, “It is not right that we should give up preaching the word of God to serve tables. ³*Therefore, brothers,^r pick out from among you seven men of good repute, full of the Spirit and of wisdom, whom we will appoint to this duty.* ⁴*But we will devote ourselves to prayer and to the ministry of the word.”* 📖

2Tim 2:2 ... and what you have heard from me in the presence of many witnesses entrust to faithful men who will be able to teach others also. 📖

Ex 18:13-18, 21-23 The next day Moses sat to judge the people, and the people stood around Moses from morning till evening. ¹⁴When Moses’ father-in-law saw all that he was doing for the people, he said, “What is this that you are doing for the people? Why do you sit alone, and all the people stand around you from morning till evening?” ¹⁵And Moses said to his father-in-law, “Because the people come to me to inquire of God; ¹⁶when they have a dispute, they come to me and I decide between one person and another, and I make them know the statutes of God and his laws.” ¹⁷Moses’ father-in-law said to him, “What you are doing is not good. ¹⁸*You and the people with you will certainly wear yourselves out, for the thing is too heavy for you. You are not able to do it alone.* 📖 ... ²¹*Moreover, look for able men from all the people, men who fear God, who are trustworthy and hate a bribe, and place such men over the people as chiefs of thousands, of hundreds, of fifties, and of tens.* ²²*And let them judge the people at all times.* Every great matter they shall bring to you, but any small matter they shall decide themselves. So it will be easier for you, and they will bear the burden with you. ²³*If you do this, God will direct you, you will be able to endure, and all this people also will go to their place in peace.”* 📖

This occurrence also appears to be in view in Deuteronomy 1:9-18, with there being a number of parallels, as seen in 1:15. There Moses says, “So I took the heads of your tribes, wise and experienced men, and set them as heads over you, commanders of thousands, commanders of hundreds, commanders of fifties, commanders of tens, and officers, throughout your tribes.”

Num 11:14, 16-17 [Moses:] I am not able to carry all this people alone; the burden is too heavy for me. 📖 ... ¹⁶*Then the LORD said to Moses, “Gather for me seventy men of the elders* of Israel, whom you know to be the elders of the people and officers over them, and bring them to the tent of meeting, and let them take their stand there with you. ¹⁷And I will come down and talk with you there. And I will take some of the Spirit that is on you and put it on them, and they shall bear the burden of the people with you, so that you may not bear it yourself alone.

Here it is God who initiates the delegating of work, indicating that he would anoint and empower the seventy elders Moses selected with the Holy Spirit for them to help Moses.

1Chr 6:31 These are the men whom David put in charge of the service of song in the house of the LORD after the ark rested there.

1Chr 26:32 King David appointed him and his brothers, 2,700 men of ability, heads of fathers' houses, to have the oversight of the Reubenites, the Gadites and the half-tribe of the Manassites for everything pertaining to God and for the affairs of the king.

2Chr 19:5, 8 He appointed judges in the land in all the fortified cities of Judah, city by city,  ... ⁸*Moreover, in Jerusalem Jehoshaphat appointed certain Levites and priests and heads of families of Israel, to give judgment for the LORD and to decide disputed cases.* They had their seat at Jerusalem.

Mark 3:14-15 And he appointed twelve (whom he also named apostles) so that they might be with him and he might send them out to preach ¹⁵and have authority to cast out demons.

Jesus appointed the apostles, to be with him and do his work.

✦ Nurture new and prospective leaders:

Deut 3:28 But charge Joshua, and encourage and strengthen him, for he shall go over at the head of this people, and he shall put them in possession of the land that you shall see.

Mark 3:14-15 above is also illustrative of the nurturing of new or prospective leaders. There Jesus both takes his disciples with him – enabling them to see and learn how he ministers – and delegates work to them.

Complementing the comparison with a mother (v. 7), the likening of Paul's dealings with the Thessalonians to that of a father (v. 11) – along with the apparent tone of his exhortations (v. 12a) – reflects Paul's gentleness and measured use of authority.

Heb 5:2 He [a high priest] can deal gently with the ignorant and wayward, since he himself is beset with weakness.

Philem 1:8-9 Accordingly, though I am bold enough in Christ to command you to do what is required, ⁹yet for love's sake I prefer to appeal to you—I, Paul, an old man and now a prisoner also for Christ Jesus—

2Cor 1:24 Not that we lord it over your faith, but we work with you for your joy, for you stand firm in your faith.

2Cor 13:9-10 For we are glad when we are weak and you are strong. Your restoration is what we pray for. ¹⁰For this reason I write these things while I am away from you, that when I come I may not have to be severe in my use of the authority that the Lord has given me for building up and not for tearing down.

The phrase “when we are weak” (v. 9) appears to allude back to v. 4 where Paul spoke of being weak in Christ – “we also are weak in him” – quite possibly a reference to Paul's non-assertiveness that he had displayed on his previous visit to Corinth. Here in v. 9 then, Paul may be meaning that he was more than happy to be “weak” – i.e. not needing to be harsh in the use of his authority (v. 10) – if they were strong in the faith.

1Tim 5:1-2 Do not rebuke an older man but encourage him as you would a father, younger men as brothers, ²older women as mothers, younger women as sisters, in all purity.

In addition to the command explicitly regarding the exercising of authority in v. 1a, vv. 1b-2 contain further complementary instructions.

1Pet 5:3 ... not domineering over those in your charge, but being examples to the flock.

Mark 10:42-45 *And Jesus called them to him and said to them, “You know that those who are considered rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them. ⁴³But it shall not be so among you. But*

Neh 5:15 The former governors who were before me laid heavy burdens on the people and took from them for their daily ration^v forty shekels^w of silver. Even their servants lorded it over the people. But I did not do so, because of the fear of God.

^w A shekel was about 2/5 ounce or 11 grams

In addition to not lording it over those under them, leaders should not take advantage of their authority, as governors preceding Nehemiah had done in demanding quantities of silver in addition to supplies.

Prov 28:16 A ruler who lacks understanding is a cruel oppressor, but he who hates unjust gain will prolong his days.

... but exercise authority where necessary

1Cor 4:18-21 Some are arrogant, as though I were not coming to you. ¹⁹But I will come to you soon, if the Lord wills, and I will find out not the talk of these arrogant people but their power. ²⁰For the kingdom of God does not consist in talk but in power. ²¹What do you wish? Shall I come to you with a rod, or with love in a spirit of gentleness?

In v. 20 Paul is implying that if need be he would come to the Corinthians ready to exercise power, the power of the Holy Spirit (cf. 2:4-5).

2Cor 10:2, 6, 10-11 I beg of you that when I am present I may not have to show boldness with such confidence as I count on showing against some who suspect us of walking according to the flesh. ... ⁶being ready to punish every disobedience, when your obedience is complete. ... ¹⁰For they say, “His letters are weighty and strong, but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech of no account.” ¹¹Let such a person understand that what we say by letter when absent, we do when present.

In v. 6, Paul is probably speaking essentially of “obedience” to Christ (cf. v. 5), but he may have in view obedience to himself as an apostle of Christ. He appears to be saying that he will be ready to punish every act of disobedience – presumably primarily that of his opponents – once the Corinthian church as a whole was obedient. As such his view would probably have been that there was no point in him trying to take action against his opponents until he was sure of the obedience and support of the rest of the church.

2Cor 13:2-3 I warned those who sinned before and all the others, and I warn them now while absent, as I did when present on my second visit, that if I come again I will not spare them— ³since you seek proof that Christ is speaking in me. He is not weak in dealing with you, but is powerful among you.

Note that in v. 3 Paul implies that his authority and power comes ultimately from Jesus Christ, who worked through him.

1Thes 4:2 For you know what instructions we gave you through the Lord Jesus.

Paul gave the Thessalonians instructions by “the authority of the Lord Jesus” (GNT, NCV, NIV).

2Thes 3:4 And we have confidence in the Lord about you, that you are doing and will do the things that we command.

Exercising of authority is apparent in the issuing of commands (cf. 1Thes 4:2 ↑; 1Tim 1:3 ↓; 1Tim 4:11 ↓).

1Tim 1:3 As I urged you when I was going to Macedonia, remain at Ephesus so that you may charge certain persons not to teach any different doctrine, ...

1Tim 4:11-12 Command and teach these things. ¹²Let no one despise you for your youth, but set the believers an example in speech, in conduct, in love, in faith, in purity.

In v. 12 Paul urges Timothy to establish his authority through leading by example.

Titus 2:15 Declare these things; exhort and rebuke with all authority. Let no one disregard you.

Leaders should both exhort and rebuke with full authority, exercising in their church the authority that their church has granted to them.

† The special authority bestowed on the disciples:

Matt 18:18 Truly, I say to you, whatever you bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth shall be loosed^x in heaven.

^x Or shall have been bound . . . shall have been loosed

This may be interpreted in at least two ways. It may mean that the disciples would have the authority to decide what would be prohibited or permitted (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV) in the kingdom. Alternatively, if the rendering in the text note is taken, it would instead be speaking of taking action that reflects what has already been determined in heaven. (This is probably the more common interpretation.) Note that in 16:18-19 this authority is given to Peter alone (v. 19) in his role as the “rock” on which Jesus would build his church (v. 18), whereas here it appears to be extended to the other disciples. The context even suggests that it is applicable to other leaders or churches.

2Tim 3:10 You, however, have followed my teaching, my conduct, my aim in life, my faith, my patience, my love, my steadfastness, ... 📖

Paul could point to his own words, actions, motives and character as being exemplary.

Phil 3:17 Brothers, join in imitating me, and keep your eyes on those who walk according to the example you have in us. 📖

Heb 13:7 Remember your leaders, those who spoke to you the word of God. Consider the outcome of their way of life, and imitate their faith. 📖

The readers are encouraged to remember the lives of their former leaders (who had presumably passed away) and the outcomes that their lives had for the kingdom, as a stimulus to imitating their faith.

Judg 7:17-18 And he said to them, “Look at me, and do likewise. When I come to the outskirts of the camp, do as I do. ¹⁸When I blow the trumpet, I and all who are with me, then blow the trumpets also on every side of all the camp and shout, ‘For the LORD and for Gideon.’” 📖

Be a shepherd taking care of God's flock

Acts 20:28-31 Pay careful attention to yourselves and to all the flock, in which the Holy Spirit has made you overseers, to care for the church of God,^b which he obtained with his own blood.^c ²⁹I know that after my departure fierce wolves will come in among you, not sparing the flock; ³⁰and from among your own selves will arise men speaking twisted things, to draw away the disciples after them. ³¹Therefore be alert, remembering that for three years I did not cease night or day to admonish everyone with tears.

^c Or with the blood of his Own

The title "overseer" (v. 28a; cf. 1Pet 5:2 ↓) indicates a role of overseeing or watching over a church – not dissimilar to a shepherd watching over his flock. In v. 31, the warning to "be alert" points to the need to guard the flock.

1Pet 5:1-2 So I exhort the elders among you, as a fellow elder and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, as well as a partaker in the glory that is going to be revealed: ²*shepherd the flock of God that is among you, exercising oversight,^d not under compulsion, but willingly, as God would have you;^e not for shameful gain, but eagerly; ...*

^d Some manuscripts omit exercising oversight

^e Some manuscripts omit as God would have you

Num 27:16-17 "Let the LORD, the God of the spirits of all flesh, appoint a man over the congregation ¹⁷*who shall go out before them and come in before them, who shall lead them out and bring them in, that the congregation of the LORD may not be as sheep that have no shepherd.*"

2Sam 5:2 In times past, when Saul was king over us, it was you who led out and brought in Israel. And the LORD said to you, 'You shall be shepherd of my people Israel, and you shall be prince over Israel.'

1Chr 17:6 In all places where I have moved with all Israel, did I speak a word with any of the judges of Israel, whom I commanded to shepherd my people, saying, "Why have you not built me a house of cedar?"

Ps 78:70-71 He chose David his servant and took him from the sheepfolds; ⁷¹*from following the nursing ewes he brought him to shepherd Jacob his people*, Israel his inheritance.

Jer 23:4 I will set shepherds over them who will care for them, and they shall fear no more, nor be dismayed, neither shall any be missing, declares the LORD.

Ezek 34:2 Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel; prophesy, and say to them, even to the shepherds, Thus says the Lord GOD: Ah, shepherds of Israel who have been feeding yourselves! Should not shepherds feed the sheep?

John 21:15-16 When they had finished breakfast, Jesus said to Simon Peter, "Simon, son of John, do you love me more than these?" He said to him, "Yes, Lord; you know that I love you." He said to him, "Feed my lambs." ¹⁶He said to him a second time, "Simon, son of John, do you love me?" He said to him, "Yes, Lord; you know that I love you." He said to him, "Tend my sheep."

Hos 12:13 By a prophet the LORD brought Israel up from Egypt, and by a prophet he was guarded.

This and Hebrews 13:17a below do not use a shepherd/flock analogy, but do further speak of the need for leaders to take care of their people.

Heb 13:17a Obey your leaders and submit to them, for they are keeping watch over your souls, as those who will have to give an account.

Note that the section cross-referenced above contains a number of examples of prayers for church members or God's people, by Paul and other leaders.

Phil 1:3-4 I thank my God in all my remembrance of you, ⁴always in every prayer of mine for you all making my prayer with joy, ...

Col 1:9 And so, from the day we heard, we have not ceased to pray for you, asking that you may be filled with the knowledge of his will in all spiritual wisdom and understanding, ...

Num 14:19-20 [Moses:] Please pardon the iniquity of this people, according to the greatness of your steadfast love, just as you have forgiven this people, from Egypt until now." ²⁰Then the LORD said, "I have pardoned, according to your word.

Num 21:7-8 And the people came to Moses and said, "We have sinned, for we have spoken against the LORD and against you. Pray to the LORD, that he take away the serpents from us." So Moses prayed for the people. ⁸And the LORD said to Moses, "Make a fiery serpent and set it on a pole, and everyone who is bitten, when he sees it, shall live."

2Chr 30:18-20 For a majority of the people, many of them from Ephraim, Manasseh, Issachar, and Zebulun, had not cleansed themselves, yet they ate the Passover otherwise than as prescribed. For Hezekiah had prayed for them, saying, "May the good LORD pardon everyone ¹⁹who sets his heart to seek God, the LORD, the God of his fathers, even though not according to the sanctuary's rules of cleanness."^f ²⁰And the LORD heard Hezekiah and healed the people.

^f Hebrew not according to the cleanness of holiness

2Chr 30:27 Then the priests and the Levites arose and blessed the people, and their voice was heard, and their prayer came to his holy habitation in heaven.

1Sam 7:5, 8-9 Then Samuel said, "Gather all Israel at Mizpah, and I will pray to the LORD for you." ... ⁸And the people of Israel said to Samuel, "Do not cease to cry out to the LORD our God for us, that he may save us from the hand of the Philistines."⁹So Samuel took a nursing lamb and offered it as a whole burnt offering to the LORD. And Samuel cried out to the LORD for Israel, and the LORD answered him.

Jer 42:1-4 Then all the commanders of the forces, and Johanan the son of Kareah and Jezaniah the son of Hoshaiiah, and all the people from the least to the greatest, came near ²and said to Jeremiah the prophet, "Let our plea for mercy come before you, and pray to the LORD your God for us, for all this remnant—because we are left with but a few, as your eyes see us— ³that the LORD your God may show us the way we should go, and the thing that we should do."⁴Jeremiah the prophet said to them, "I have heard you. Behold, I will pray to the LORD your God according to your request, and whatever the LORD answers you I will tell you. I will keep nothing back from you."

Joel 2:17 Between the vestibule and the altar let the priests, the ministers of the LORD, weep and say, "Spare your people, O LORD, and make not your heritage a reproach, a byword among the nations." Why should they say among the peoples, "Where is their God?"

^g Or reproach, that the nations should rule over them

2Sam 6:18 And when David had finished offering the burnt offerings and the peace offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the LORD of hosts.

Blessing people in this way is in effect praying for them (cf. 2Chr 30:27 ↑).

† Samuel considered that any failure of his to pray for the people would be sinning against God:

1Sam 12:23 Moreover, as for me, far be it from me that I should sin against the LORD by ceasing to pray for you, and I will instruct you in the good and the right way.

Strengthen members in the faith

Acts 15:41 And he went through Syria and Cilicia, strengthening the churches.

Acts 16:4-5 As they went on their way through the cities, they delivered to them for observance the decisions that had been reached by the apostles and elders who were in Jerusalem. ⁵So the churches were strengthened in the faith, and they increased in numbers daily.

The churches were strengthened through Paul and his co-workers delivering the sound decision of the apostles and elders on an issue that had caused division and angst in the churches (cf. 15:1-29).

Rom 1:11-12 For I long to see you, that I may impart to you some spiritual gift to strengthen you— ¹²*that is, that we may be mutually encouraged by each other's faith, both yours and mine.*

A number of commentators interpret “impart to you some spiritual gift” (v. 11) as not referring to Paul bestowing on them a spiritual gift. Rather they think Paul means either that he intended to use a spiritual gift of his own to strengthen them or that he would confer on them a spiritual blessing. In v. 12 Paul qualifies what he has just said, indicating that he hoped there would in fact be mutual encouragement.

2Cor 12:19b It is in the sight of God that we have been speaking in Christ, and all for your upbuilding, beloved.

2Cor 13:10 For this reason I write these things while I am away from you, that when I come I may not have to be severe in my use of the authority that the Lord has given me for building up and not for tearing down.

1Thes 3:1-2, 9-10 Therefore when we could bear it no longer, we were willing to be left behind at Athens alone, ²and we sent Timothy, our brother and God's coworker^h in the gospel of Christ, to establish and exhort you in your faith, ... ⁹For what thanksgiving can we return to God for you, for all the joy that we feel for your sake before our God, ¹⁰as we pray most earnestly night and day that we may see you face to face and supply what is lacking in your faith?

Strengthening church members in the faith involves strengthening their own faith, as Paul speaks of here.

Phil 1:25 Convinced of this, I know that I will remain and continue with you all, for your progress and joy in the faith, ...

Titus 1:1 Paul, a servantⁱ of God and an apostle of Jesus Christ, for the sake of the faith of God's elect and their knowledge of the truth, which accords with godliness, ...

ⁱ Or slave; Greek bondservant

The purpose of Paul's work was to help or further the faith of God's chosen ones, which went hand in hand with deepening their knowledge of the truth (cf. Col 1:28 ↓; Col 2:2 ↓).

Col 1:28 Him we proclaim, warning everyone and teaching everyone with all wisdom, that we may present everyone mature in Christ.

Col 2:1-2 For I want you to know how great a struggle I have for you and for those at Laodicea and for all who have not seen me face to face, ²*that their hearts may be encouraged,* being knit together in love, to reach all the riches of full assurance of understanding and the knowledge of God's mystery, which is Christ, ...

† Leaders are to use their spiritual gifts to build up the body of Christ:

Eph 4:11-12 And he gave the apostles, the prophets, the evangelists, the shepherds^j and teachers,^k ¹²to equip the saints for the work of ministry, for building up the body of Christ, ...

^j Or pastors

^k Or the shepherd-teachers

This is usually understood to mean that those who are given such leadership functions by Christ (v. 11) have been gifted as such to prepare the rest of God's people for service (v. 12a). This preparing of others is itself an example of strengthening God's people in their faith. Additionally, the end result is that in turn the whole church is built up (v. 12b) or strengthened.

Follow up and pastor members by visiting them . . .

- 1Tim 3:14-15 ; 2Cor 10:11

Parallels can be drawn here between how Paul followed up whole churches by visiting them and how leaders ought to follow up and pastor church members in part by visiting them. (A similar point can be made regarding writing to believers, as per the following subsection.)

Acts 15:36, 41 And after some days Paul said to Barnabas, "Let us return and visit the brothers in every city where we proclaimed the word of the Lord, and see how they are." ...
⁴¹And he went through Syria and Cilicia, strengthening the churches.

Acts 9:32 Now as Peter went here and there among them all, he came down also to the saints who lived at Lydda.

Acts 18:23 After spending some time there, he departed and went from one place to the next through the region of Galatia and Phrygia, strengthening all the disciples.

On Paul's third missionary journey he visited churches that he had established or ministered to on his earlier trips.

2Cor 1:15-16 Because I was sure of this, I wanted to come to you first, so that you might have a second experience of grace.
¹⁶*I wanted to visit you on my way to Macedonia, and to come back to you from Macedonia and have you send me on my way to Judea.*

2Cor 12:14a Here for the third time I am ready to come to you. And I will not be a burden, for I seek not what is yours but you.

Paul planned to visit the Corinthians because he wanted to secure them, for Christ.

Phil 2:19 I hope in the Lord Jesus to send Timothy to you soon, so that I too may be cheered by news of you.

Unable to follow up the Philippians by visiting them himself, Paul sent Timothy instead (cf. 1Thes 3:2).

1Thes 3:2, 10 ... and we sent Timothy, our brother and God's coworker^q in the gospel of Christ, to establish and exhort you in your faith, ...¹⁰*as we pray most earnestly night and day that we may see you face to face and supply what is lacking in your faith?*

^q Some manuscripts servant

2Jn 1:12 Though I have much to write to you, I would rather not use paper and ink. Instead I hope to come to you and talk face to face, so that our joy may be complete.

The last clause may well speak of joy from achieving pastoral objectives on visiting his readers, along with having fellowship with them.

. . . or by writing letters to them

2Cor 1:1 Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus by the will of God, and Timothy our brother, To the church of God that is at Corinth, with all the saints who are in the whole of Achaia: ...

Here Paul begins his second letter to the Corinthian church – to teach, exhort and encourage them.

Col 4:16 And when this letter has been read among you, have it also read in the church of the Laodiceans; and see that you also read the letter from Laodicea.

2Thes 2:15 So then, brothers, stand firm and hold to the traditions that you were taught by us, either by our spoken word or by our letter.

1Tim 3:14-15 I hope to come to you soon, but I am writing these things to you so that, ¹⁵if I delay, you may know how one ought to behave in the household of God, which is the church of the living God, a pillar and buttress of the truth. 📖

Heb 13:22 I appeal to you, brothers,^r bear with my word of exhortation, for I have written to you briefly. 📖

1Pet 5:12 By Silvanus, a faithful brother as I regard him, I have written briefly to you, exhorting and declaring that this is the true grace of God. Stand firm in it. 📖

2Pet 3:1-2 This is now the second letter that I am writing to you, beloved. In both of them I am stirring up your sincere mind by way of reminder, ²that you should remember the predictions of the holy prophets and the commandment of the Lord and Savior through your apostles, ... 📖

1Jn 2:1, 7, 12-14, 26 My little children, I am writing these things to you so that you may not sin. But if anyone does sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous. 📖 ... ⁷Beloved, I am writing you no new commandment, but an old commandment that you had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word that you have heard. 📖 ... ¹²I am writing to you, little children, because your sins are forgiven for his name's sake. ¹³I am writing to you, fathers, because you know him who is from the beginning. I am writing to you, young men, because you have overcome the evil one. I write to you, children, because you know the Father. ¹⁴I write to you, fathers, because you know him who is from the beginning. I write to you, young men, because you are strong, and the word of God abides in you, and you have overcome the evil one. 📖 ... ²⁶I write these things to you about those who are trying to deceive you. 📖

In vv. 12-14 John reassures his readers that he writes to them because of their soundness in the faith. This illustrates that even church members who are strong Christians should be given attention and follow-up – particularly with the common threat from false teachers (v. 26).

2Cor 10:9-11 *I do not want to appear to be frightening you with my letters. ¹⁰For they say, "His letters are weighty and strong, but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech of no account." ¹¹Let such a person understand that what we say by letter when absent, we do when present. 📖*

Verse 1 suggests that Paul tried to accomplish in his letters what he would have tried to do if he was present – indicative of the fact that letters are a way of ministering in one's absence.

Col 2:5 For though I am absent in body, yet I am with you in spirit, rejoicing to see your good order and the firmness of your faith in Christ. 📖

Likewise in 1 Corinthians 5:3a Paul says: "For though absent in body, I am present in spirit ..." And somewhat similarly, in 1 Thessalonians 2:17 Paul says: "... we were torn away from you, brothers, for a short time, in person not in heart ..." Such terminology points both to Paul's closeness to and care for such churches in his absence – both of which he builds on as he pastors them in his letters.

Serve church members

Here Jesus points out an irony in God's kingdom: one who rules, the "greatest" (v. 26b), must serve the others.

Rom 15:30-31 I appeal to you, brothers, by our Lord Jesus Christ and by the love of the Spirit, to strive together with me in your prayers to God on my behalf, ³¹that I may be delivered from the unbelievers in Judea, and that my service for Jerusalem may be acceptable to the saints, ... 📖

Num 16:9 ... is it too small a thing for you that the God of Israel has separated you from the congregation of Israel, to bring you near to himself, to do service in the tabernacle of the LORD and to stand before the congregation to minister to them, ... 📖

To “minister” involves serving. In fact here the phrase “minister to them” can be rendered “serve them” (NCV™, NKJV, NRSV).

2Chr 35:3 And he said to the Levites who taught all Israel and who were holy to the LORD, “Put the holy ark in the house that Solomon the son of David, king of Israel, built. You need not carry it on your shoulders. Now serve the LORD your God and his people Israel. 📖

Work hard at helping church members

2Cor 12:15a I will most gladly spend and be spent for your souls. 📖

Along with giving everything he had for them, Paul was willing to give himself fully in his service to the Corinthians.

Col 1:28-29 Him we proclaim, warning everyone and teaching everyone with all wisdom, that we may present everyone mature in Christ. ²⁹*For this I toil, struggling with all his energy that he powerfully works within me.* 📖

Col 2:1 For I want you to know how great a struggle I have for you and for those at Laodicea and for all who have not seen me face to face, ... 📖

Col 4:13 For I bear him [Epaphras] witness that he has worked hard for you and for those in Laodicea and in Hierapolis. 📖

2Pet 1:15 And I will make every effort so that after my departure you may be able at any time to recall these things. 📖

1Thes 2:9 For you remember, brothers, our labor and toil: we worked night and day, that we might not be a burden to any of you, while we proclaimed to you the gospel of God. 📖

Note that here Paul is speaking of working hard so that he would be able to help them, without being a financial burden, rather than of actually in helping them.

✦ Leaders should lead with zeal:

Rom 12:8 ... the one who exhorts, in his exhortation; the one who contributes, in generosity; the one who leads,^u with zeal; the one who does acts of mercy, with cheerfulness. 📖

^u Or gives aid

Leaders should carry out their leadership duties with zeal, which induces hard work.

Be prepared to suffer hardship for church members

2Cor 1:6 If we are afflicted, it is for your comfort and salvation; and if we are comforted, it is for your comfort, which you experience when you patiently endure the same sufferings that we suffer. 📖

2Cor 4:12 So death is at work in us, but life in you. 📖

Here Paul alludes to the great physical sufferings – and their toll on him – that he underwent in his work (cf. vv. 7-11), work that was for the benefit of the Corinthians’ spiritual life.

Eph 3:1 For this reason I, Paul, a prisoner for Christ Jesus on behalf of you Gentiles— 📖

Paul is referring or alluding to his imprisonment in Rome, in the course of his service to Jesus Christ for the sake of the Ephesians and Gentiles in general.

Col 1:24 Now I rejoice in my sufferings for your sake, and in my flesh I am filling up what is lacking in Christ’s afflictions for the sake of his body, that is, the church, ... 📖

Paul considered that what he had suffered for the Colossians was a necessary part in the completion (cf. GNT, NLT) or continuation (cf. CEV) of Christ’s sufferings for the sake of his people.

2Tim 2:10 Therefore I endure everything for the sake of the elect, that they also may obtain the salvation that is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory. 📖

✦ Paul was prepared to cover any costs for Onesimus:

Philem 1:18 If he has wronged you at all, or owes you anything, charge that to my account. 📖

Confrontation and rebuke are needed when a church member sins and does not deal with it themselves. If confrontation and rebuke prove to be ineffective, then disassociation is required.

- Rebuke members for their sin . . .
- . . . and warn them to stop sinning

Confront church members over sin

Ezek 16:2 Son of man, make known to Jerusalem her abominations, ...

Just as the OT prophets confronted the people as a whole with their sin (cf. Mic 3:8 ↓; Isa 58:1 ↓; Lam 2:14 ↓), so today church leaders should confront both individual church members and, when applicable, whole churches with their sin.

Mic 3:8 But as for me, I am filled with power, with the Spirit of the LORD, and with justice and might, to declare to Jacob his transgression and to Israel his sin.

Isa 58:1 Cry aloud; do not hold back; lift up your voice like a trumpet; declare to my people their transgression, to the house of Jacob their sins.

2Chr 26:18 ... and they [priests] withstood King Uzziah and said to him, “It is not for you, Uzziah, to burn incense to the LORD, but for the priests, the sons of Aaron, who are consecrated to burn incense. Go out of the sanctuary, for you have done wrong, and it will bring you no honor from the LORD God.”

Lam 2:14 Your prophets have seen for you false and deceptive visions; they have not exposed your iniquity to restore your fortunes, but have seen for you oracles that are false and misleading.

The prophets were supposed to expose the people’s sin – which the prophets in question had failed to do.

Matt 18:15-17 If your brother sins against you, go and tell him his fault, between you and him alone. If he listens to you, you have gained your brother. ¹⁶But if he does not listen, take one or two others along with you, that every charge may be established by the evidence of two or three witnesses. ¹⁷If he refuses to listen to them, tell it to the church. And if he refuses to listen even to the church, let him be to you as a Gentile and a tax collector.

These instructions are for believers or church members themselves in confronting fellow believers over sin. But the instructions are also applicable to leaders in their approach to confronting church members who have sinned and not repented.

Gal 2:11-14 But when Cephas came to Antioch, I opposed him to his face, because he stood condemned. ¹²For before certain men came from James, he was eating with the Gentiles; but when they came he drew back and separated himself, fearing the circumcision party. ¹³And the rest of the Jews acted hypocritically along with him, so that even Barnabas was led astray by their hypocrisy. ¹⁴*But when I saw that their conduct was not in step with the truth of the gospel, I said to Cephas before them all, “If you, though a Jew, live like a Gentile and not like a Jew, how can you force the Gentiles to live like Jews?”*

Paul confronted and rebuked Cephas/Peter because his action was not consistent with the gospel (v. 14a) – nor with how he had acted before certain Jews had arrived (v. 12a). What Peter did was particularly serious as it implied that living as a Gentile was not good enough for a believer, and so pressured Gentiles to follow Jewish customs – as alluded to in Paul’s rebuke (v. 14b).

3Jn 1:10 So if I come, I will bring up what he is doing, talking wicked nonsense against us. And not content with that, he refuses to welcome the brothers, and also stops those who want to and puts them out of the church.

John speaks of telling others of the malicious gossiping of a church member (Diotrephes) and possibly also to the other sinful actions listed. Here it would have been particularly appropriate to expose such behavior as it was ongoing and was affecting other people, even the church as a whole.

Titus 1:9, 13-14 He must hold firm to the trustworthy word as taught, so that he may be able to give instruction in sound^v doctrine and also to rebuke those who contradict it. 📖 ...
¹³This testimony is true. Therefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith, ¹⁴*not devoting themselves to Jewish myths and the commands of people who turn away from the truth.* 📖

^v Or healthy; also verse 13

The command to “rebuke them sharply” (v. 13) appears to refer to church members influenced by false teaching and even those actively supporting it – although not necessarily the main instigators (those “who turn away from the truth”, v. 14) who may well have been outsiders. Presumably the rebuke needed to be sharp because the actions of those in question gravely threatened the fabric of the whole church.

2Tim 4:2 ... preach the word; be ready in season and out of season; reprove, rebuke, and exhort, with complete patience and teaching. 📖

Paul’s instruction to Timothy to “reprove” or reprimand church members is probably at least in part in reference to sin, as with the subsequent instruction to “rebuke”.

Titus 2:15 Declare these things; exhort and rebuke with all authority. Let no one disregard you. 📖

1Sam 13:13 And Samuel said to Saul, “You have done foolishly. You have not kept the command of the LORD your God, with which he commanded you. For then the LORD would have established your kingdom over Israel forever. 📖

As the spiritual leader of God’s people, Samuel here rebukes King Saul for his sin.

Matt 16:21-23 From that time Jesus began to show his disciples that he must go to Jerusalem and suffer many things from the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and on the third day be raised. ²²And Peter took him aside and began to rebuke him, saying, “Far be it from you,

Lord!^w This shall never happen to you.” ²³But he turned and said to Peter, “Get behind me, Satan! You are a hindrance^x to me. For you are not setting your mind on the things of God, but on the things of man.” 📖

^w Or “[May God be] merciful to you, Lord!”

^x Greek stumbling block

By his use of “Satan” (v. 23) in rebuking Peter – who was himself inappropriately rebuking Jesus (v. 22) – it is apparent that Jesus could see an agenda of Satan in Peter’s words. Jesus was not suggesting that Peter was possessed by Satan, but possibly some satanic influence is implied.

Luke 3:19-20 But Herod the tetrarch, who had been reprovved by him for Herodias, his brother’s wife, and for all the evil things that Herod had done, ²⁰added this to them all, that he locked up John in prison. 📖

This suggests that in addition to exhorting church members, leaders have a role in speaking out against wrongs in the wider society.

1Cor 4:14 I do not write these things to make you ashamed, but to admonish you as my beloved children. 📖

2Cor 7:8-9 For even if I made you grieve with my letter, I do not regret it—though I did regret it, for I see that that letter grieved you, though only for a while. ⁹As it is, I rejoice, not because you were grieved, but because you were grieved into repenting. For you felt a godly grief, so that you suffered no loss through us. 📖

Paul had earlier written a letter rebuking the Corinthians for sin. (Quite possibly this was a letter that has been lost, rather than 1 Corinthians.) Despite the pain it had caused (v. 8), it had the desired effect – producing godly grief and leading them to repent (v. 9).

Expel unrepentant sinners . . .

See also:

- Note: Unchecked sin corrupts others, p. 1495
- Get rid of sinful influences, p. 1858

Expulsion of unrepentant sinners from the church is necessary primarily to prevent their behavior from adversely affecting the rest of the church. (This danger is discussed later in Note: Unchecked sin corrupts others, p. 1495.) It also has the ultimate good of the offender in view, as the following subsection indicates.

Matt 18:17-18 If he refuses to listen to them, tell it to the church. And if he refuses to listen even to the church, let him be to you as a Gentile and a tax collector. ¹⁸Truly, I say to you, whatever you bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth shall be loosed^a in heaven.

^a Or shall have been bound . . . shall have been loosed

To treat one as “a Gentile and a tax collector” (v. 17) is to disassociate from such a person, with the tax collectors of the day being viewed as traitors and exploiters. In v. 18, most likely the binding in this context alludes to the expulsion of a sinner and the loosing to the reinstatement of such a sinner, once they have repented. As referred to earlier, the assertion that such things will be done “in heaven” is usually understood in view of the rendering in the text note to mean that such actions would be indicative of what has already been determined by God.

1Cor 5:1-2, 6-7, 11-13 It is actually reported that there is sexual immorality among you, and of a kind that is not tolerated even among pagans, for a man has his father’s wife. ²And you are arrogant! Ought you not rather to mourn? Let him who has done this be removed from among you. . . . ⁶Your boasting is not good. Do you not know that a little leaven leavens the whole lump? ⁷Cleanse out the old leaven that you may be a new lump, as you really are unleavened. For Christ, our Passover lamb, has been sacrificed. . . . ¹¹But now I am writing to you not to associate with anyone who bears the name of brother if he is guilty of sexual immorality or greed, or is an idolater, reviler, drunkard, or swindler—even to eat with such a one. ¹²For what have I to do with judging outsiders? Is it not those inside the church whom you are to judge? ¹³God judges^b those outside. “Purge the evil person from among you.”

^b Or will judge

2Thes 3:6 Now we command you, brothers, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that you keep away from any brother who is walking in idleness and not in accord with the tradition that you received from us.

Titus 3:10 As for a person who stirs up division, after warning him once and then twice, have nothing more to do with him, . . .

Num 15:30-31 But the person who does anything with a high hand, whether he is native or a sojourner, reviles the LORD, and that person shall be cut off from among his people. ³¹Because he has despised the word of the LORD and has broken his commandment, that person shall be utterly cut off; his iniquity shall be on him.

To act as such “with a high hand” (v. 30) is to do so “defiantly” (NASB, NIV). Sinning defiantly actually blasphemes God (v. 30) as it is very dishonoring to him. This is largely because it: discredits his laws and he himself as the one who instituted the laws; and shows disdain towards him as the one to whom we are accountable for breaking the laws. Anyone who so readily dishonored God was to be cut off from his people – a stipulation that is not without application in today’s church.

Deut 13:5 But that prophet or that dreamer of dreams shall be put to death, because he has taught rebellion against the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt and redeemed you out of the house of slavery, to make you leave the way in which the LORD your God commanded you to walk. So you shall purge the evil^c from your midst.

^c Or evil person

The importance of the final command is underlined by it being repeated a further eight times in Deuteronomy. It is also referred to in Judges 20:13 and quoted in 1 Corinthians 5:13 above.

1Cor 14:37-38 If anyone thinks that he is a prophet, or spiritual, he should acknowledge that the things I am writing to you are a command of the Lord. ³⁸*If anyone does not recognize this, he is not recognized.*

The final clause may be speaking of church members needing to ignore people who ignore the Lord's commands – hence its inclusion here. Alternatively, it may be speaking of such people being ignored by God or Jesus Christ, presumably on Judgment Day.

... This is partly for the benefit of the offenders themselves

1Cor 5:4-5 When you are assembled in the name of the Lord Jesus and my spirit is present, with the power of our Lord Jesus, ⁵*you are to deliver this man to Satan for the destruction of the flesh, so that his spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord.*^d

^d Some manuscripts add Jesus

The phrase “deliver this man to Satan” (v. 5; cf. 1Tim 1:20 ↓) is commonly understood as meaning that the man was to be cast out of the church (cf. NLT) and so into the world, Satan's domain, open to affliction by him. The following clause – “for the destruction of the flesh” probably means that affliction by Satan would act as a purifying process leading to the destruction of the man's sinful nature. Ultimately expelling such a person is done in the hope that they will be saved (v. 5b).

1Tim 1:19-20 ...holding faith and a good conscience. By rejecting this, some have made shipwreck of their faith, ²⁰among whom are Hymenaeus and Alexander, whom I have handed over to Satan that they may learn not to blaspheme.

2Thes 3:14-15 If anyone does not obey what we say in this letter, take note of that person, and have nothing to do with him, that he may be ashamed. ¹⁵Do not regard him as an enemy, but warn him as a brother.

The given aim (v. 14b) of dissociating or expulsion, alludes to the repentance of the previously unrepentant sinner. In addition, note that v. 15 qualifies the measure, implying that the disassociation was not to be done without compassion. Quite likely the hope of reconciliation is in view as well as correction.

Have multiple witnesses in disciplinary procedures

Deut 19:15 A single witness shall not suffice against a person for any crime or for any wrong in connection with any offense that he has committed. Only on the evidence of two witnesses or of three witnesses shall a charge be established.

Matt 18:16 But if he does not listen, take one or two others along with you, that every charge may be established by the evidence of two or three witnesses.

2Cor 13:1-2 This is the third time I am coming to you. Every charge must be established by the evidence of two or three witnesses. ²I warned those who sinned before and all the others, and I warn them now while absent, as I did when present on my second visit, that if I come again I will not spare them—

In quoting Deuteronomy 19:15 (v. 1b) Paul no doubt has in view dealing with sin amongst the Corinthians (v. 2).

1Tim 5:19 Do not admit a charge against an elder except on the evidence of two or three witnesses.

Deut 17:2-7 If there is found among you, within any of your towns that the LORD your God is giving you, a man or woman who does what is evil in the sight of the LORD your God, in transgressing his covenant, ³and has gone and served other gods and worshiped them, or the sun or the moon or any of the host of heaven, which I have forbidden, ⁴and it is told you and you hear of it, then you shall inquire diligently, and if it is true and certain that such an abomination has been done in Israel, ⁵then you shall bring out to your gates that man or woman who has done this evil thing, and you shall stone that man or woman to death with stones. ⁶*On the evidence of two witnesses or of three witnesses the one who is to die shall be put to death; a person shall not be put to death on the evidence of one witness.* ⁷*The hand of the witnesses shall be first against him to put him to death, and afterward the hand of all the people.* So you shall purge^e the evil^f from your midst.

^f Or evil person; also verse 12

That the witnesses were to be the ones to begin the punishment was not only appropriate but would impress on them the seriousness of their testimony. Note that this passage may well be in view in Hebrews 10:28 – “Anyone who has set aside the law of Moses dies without mercy on the evidence of two or three witnesses.”

✦ Be prepared to punish wrongdoing:

2Cor 7:11 For see what earnestness this godly grief has produced in you, but also what eagerness to clear yourselves, what indignation, what fear, what longing, what zeal, what punishment! At every point you have proved yourselves innocent in the matter.

The phrase “what punishment!” is a reference to being prepared to “punish wrongdoing” (GNT, NASB, NLT, NRSV).

Restoring a person who has sinned

Note that the following instructions largely appear to have in view people who have repented of their sin.

2Cor 2:5-8, 10-11 Now if anyone has caused pain, he has caused it not to me, but in some measure—not to put it too severely—to all of you. ⁶For such a one, this punishment by the majority is enough, ⁷so you should rather turn to forgive and comfort him, or he may be overwhelmed by excessive sorrow. ⁸So I beg you to reaffirm your love for him.  ... ¹⁰Anyone whom you forgive, I also forgive. Indeed, what I have forgiven, if I have forgiven anything, has been for your sake in the presence of Christ, ¹¹so that we would not be outwitted by Satan; for we are not ignorant of his designs.

Paul urges the Corinthians to forgive and discontinue the punishment of a person who had “caused pain” (v. 5) – and presumably had since repented. Continuing it would be destructive, unnecessary and possibly even vindictive. In vv. 10-11, Paul makes the important point that not forgiving such a person would leave the church members themselves susceptible to Satan’s schemes. Note that vv. 5, 10 suggest that the sin in question may have been something against Paul, which was also an affront to the Corinthians – hence Paul speaks of both them and him forgiving the offender (vv. 10-11).

Gal 6:1-2 Brothers,^g if anyone is caught in any transgression, you who are spiritual should restore him in a spirit of gentleness. Keep watch on yourself, lest you too be tempted. ²Bear one another’s burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ.

^g Or Brothers and sisters; also verse 18

Note that the context suggests that the phrase “one another’s burdens” (v. 2) encompasses the spiritual weaknesses of others. As such v. 2 would be speaking of supporting each other in overcoming sin, in line with v.1.

1Jn 5:16 If anyone sees his brother committing a sin not leading to death, he shall ask, and God^h will give him life—to those who commit sins that do not lead to death. There is sin that leads to death; I do not say that one should pray for that.

^h Greek he

Praying for someone who has committed sin is shown here to be important in working for their restoration. Note that “death” probably refers to spiritual death, but some understand it to denote physical death. (Likewise in James 5:20 below “death” probably refers to spiritual death but could be interpreted as denoting physical death.) There are a number of possibilities for the meaning of “sin that leads to death”, including: not believing in Jesus Christ; habitual sin; blaspheming the Holy Spirit; and – in light of the context of this letter – denying the incarnation.

Jude 1:22-23 And have mercy on those who doubt; ²³save others by snatching them out of the fire; to others show mercy with fear, hating even the garmentⁱ stained by the flesh.

ⁱ Greek chiton, a long garment worn under the cloak next to the skin

In v. 22, “those who doubt” – and possibly also the others mentioned in v. 23 – appear to be people who had been influenced by the false teachers spoken of beforehand (cf. vv. 3-19), influenced to the point of doubting doctrinal truth. In v. 23b, with the reference to “fear” Jude exhorts his readers to be wary when helping those who had sinned, lest they themselves become entangled in sin, as no one is immune to temptation (cf. Gal 6:1 ↑).

Isa 57:14 And it shall be said, “Build up, build up, prepare the way, remove every obstruction from my people’s way.”

This speaks of aiding God’s repentant people to return to him by removing any obstacles in the way – and so is applicable to helping repentant sinners in the church.

✦ The importance of turning back a wayward believer:

James 5:19-20 My brothers, if anyone among you wanders from the truth and someone brings him back, ²⁰let him know that whoever brings back a sinner from his wandering will save his soul from death and will cover a multitude of sins.

1Cor 5:6 Your boasting is not good. Do you not know that a little leaven leavens the whole lump?

Leaven, like yeast, would spread throughout and affect a whole lump of dough. Unchecked sin can likewise spread throughout and affect a whole church.

Gal 2:13 And the rest of the Jews acted hypocritically along with him, so that even Barnabas was led astray by their hypocrisy.

Heb 12:15 See to it that no one fails to obtain the grace of God; that no “root of bitterness” springs up and causes trouble, and by it many become defiled; ...

Deut 29:18 Beware lest there be among you a man or woman or clan or tribe whose heart is turning away today from the LORD our God to go and serve the gods of those nations. Beware lest there be among you a root bearing poisonous and bitter fruit, ...

Note that this verse is in view in Hebrews 12:15 immediately above.

1Ki 14:16 And he will give Israel up because of the sins of Jeroboam, which he sinned and made Israel to sin.

King Jeroboam is a prime example of one whose sin – largely through his position of power – led to the corruption of others.

✦ Disciplinary measures serve as warnings to others:

Deut 13:10-11 You shall stone him to death with stones, because he sought to draw you away from the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery. ¹¹*And all Israel shall hear and fear and never again do any such wickedness as this among you.*

Other similar examples of such measures and their benefit as warnings can be found in Deuteronomy 17:12-13; 19:18-20; 21:21. Similarly 1 Timothy 5:20b speaks of rebuking elders publicly “so that the rest may stand in fear.” See also Note: God’s judgments serve as examples and warnings to others, p. 426.

In the OT Israelite nation, some women had roles as leaders . . .

Judg 4:4-9a, 14-15 Now Deborah, a prophetess, the wife of Lappidoth, was judging Israel at that time. ⁵*She used to sit under the palm of Deborah between Ramah and Bethel in the hill country of Ephraim, and the people of Israel came up to her for judgment.* ⁶*She sent and summoned Barak the son of Abinoam from Kedesh-naphtali and said to him, “Has not the LORD, the God of Israel, commanded you, ‘Go, gather your men at Mount Tabor, taking 10,000 from the people of Naphtali and the people of Zebulun.’”* ⁷*And I will draw out Sisera, the general of Jabin’s army, to meet you by the river Kishon with his chariots and his troops, and I will give him into your hand?”* ⁸*Barak said to her, “If you will go with me, I will go, but if you will not go with me, I will not go.”* ⁹*And she said, “I will surely go with you.*  ...¹⁴And Deborah said to Barak, “Up! For this is the day in which the LORD has given Sisera into your hand. Does not the LORD go out before you?” So Barak went down from Mount Tabor with 10,000 men following him. ¹⁵*And the LORD routed Sisera and all his chariots and all his army before Barak by the edge of the sword. And Sisera got down from his chariot and fled away on foot.*

Barak’s reply (v. 8) showed a lack of faith – later rebuked by Deborah (cf. v. 9b) – but also underlined his recognition of Deborah’s leadership role.

Judg 5:7 The villagers ceased in Israel; they ceased to be until I arose; I, Deborah, arose as a mother in Israel.

The phrase “a mother in Israel” has the sense “a mother for Israel” (GNT, NLT), implying that Deborah had the role of leader and protector of Israel.

Mic 6:4 For I brought you up from the land of Egypt and redeemed you from the house of slavery, and I sent before you Moses, Aaron, and Miriam.

Miriam was the sister of Moses and Aaron (cf. Ex 15:20 ↓).

... and some women were prophetesses

See also:

▪ Judg 4:4 ↑

OT prophetesses (and prophets) did not only make prophecies. Being authorized to speak for God, they gave commands and other directions from God. As such their role was also one of leadership.

Ex 15:20 Then Miriam the prophetess, the sister of Aaron, took a tambourine in her hand, and all the women went out after her with tambourines and dancing.

2Ki 22:14-15 So Hilkiah the priest, and Ahikam, and Achbor, and Shaphan, and Asaiah went to Huldah the prophetess, the wife of Shallum the son of Tikvah, son of Harhas, keeper of the wardrobe (now she lived in Jerusalem in the Second Quarter), and they talked with her. ¹⁵And she said to them, “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: “Tell the man who sent you to me, ...

In the subsequent verses the prophetess Huldah gives her prophecy from God (cf. vv. 16-20).

Isa 8:3a And I went to the prophetess [Isaiah’s wife], and she conceived and bore a son.

✦ The wise woman of the city of Abel:

2Sam 20:15-22 And all the men who were with Joab came and besieged him [Sheba] in Abel of Beth-maacah. They cast up a mound against the city, and it stood against the rampart, and they were battering the wall to throw it down. ¹⁶*Then a wise woman called from the city, “Listen! Listen! Tell Joab, ‘Come here, that I may speak to you.’”* ¹⁷And he came near her, and the woman said, “Are you Joab?” He answered, “I am.” Then she said to him, “Listen to the words of your servant.” And he answered, “I am listening.” ¹⁸Then she said, “They used to say in former times, ‘Let them but ask counsel at Abel,’ and so they settled a matter. ¹⁹I am one of those who are peaceable and faithful in Israel. You seek to destroy a city that is a mother in Israel. Why will you swallow up the heritage of the LORD?” ²⁰Joab answered, “Far be it from me, far be it, that I should swallow up or destroy! ²¹That is not true. But a man of the hill country of Ephraim, called Sheba the son of Bichri, has lifted up his hand against King David. Give up him alone, and I will withdraw from the city.” And the woman said to Joab, “Behold, his head shall be thrown to you over the wall.” ²²*Then the woman went to all the people in her wisdom.* And they cut off the head of Sheba the son of Bichri and threw it out to Joab. So he blew the trumpet, and they dispersed from the city, every man to his home. And Joab returned to Jerusalem to the king.

The wise woman played a leadership role. Firstly she addressed Joab on behalf of her city (vv. 16-19). Then she advised her people on the best course of action (v. 22) – advice which they took, to their betterment.

In the NT church, some women had significant ministerial roles . . .

Acts 18:26 He began to speak boldly in the synagogue, but when Priscilla and Aquila heard him, they took him and explained to him the way of God more accurately.

Here a woman, Priscilla (cf. Rom 16:3 ↓), is involved in the instruction of a noted preacher, Apollos.

Rom 16:1-4 I commend to you our sister Phoebe, a servant[†] of the church at Cenchreae, ²that you may welcome her in the Lord in a way worthy of the saints, and help her in whatever she may need from you, for she has been a patron of many and of myself as well. ³*Greet Prisca and Aquila, my fellow workers in Christ Jesus,* ⁴who risked their necks for my life, to whom not only I give thanks but all the churches of the Gentiles give thanks as well.

In v. 1, the Greek translated “servant” (v. 1) has also been rendered as “deaconess” (ESV text note, AMP) and “deacon” (NLT, NRSV). Thus it probably refers to a recognized ministerial position, suggesting that Phoebe was “a leader in the church” (CEV). Verse 4 suggests that Priscilla (v. 3; cf. Acts 18:26 ↑) exercised some kind of leadership, implying that her and her husband’s ministry encompassed “all the churches of the Gentiles”.

Rom 16:6-7, 12 Greet Mary, who has worked hard for you. ⁷*Greet Andronicus and Junia,^k my kinsmen and my fellow prisoners. They are well known to the apostles,^l and they were in Christ before me.*  ... ¹²*Greet those workers in the Lord,* Tryphaena and Tryphosa. Greet the beloved Persis, who has worked hard in the Lord.

^k Or Junias

^l Or messengers

Here Paul lists a number of women who appear to have had notable ministerial roles, especially Junia who is said to have been “well known to the apostles” (v. 7).

Phil 4:3 Yes, I ask you also, true companion,^m help these women, who have labored side by side with me in the gospel together with Clement and the rest of my fellow workers, whose names are in the book of life.

^mOr loyal Syzygus; Greek true yokefellow

... One such role was prophesying

Acts 2:17-18 And in the last days it shall be, God declares, that I will pour out my Spirit on all flesh, and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams; ¹⁸*even on my male servantsⁿ and female servants in those days I will pour out my Spirit, and they shall prophesy.*

ⁿ Greek bondservants; twice in this verse

Here Peter quotes a prophecy from Joel as having been fulfilled in the manifestation of the Spirit that had just occurred (cf. vv. 1-12). Although only men had been spoken of in this occurrence (cf. vv. 7, 15), presumably Peter saw an ongoing fulfillment of this prophecy in the church, including prophesying by women.

Acts 21:9 He had four unmarried daughters, who prophesied.

This is referring to the daughters of Philip the evangelist, who was one of the seven chosen for ministry in 6:2-6.

‡ An earlier NT prophetess:

Luke 2:36a, 38 And there was a prophetess, Anna, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher.  ... ³⁸*And coming up at that very hour she began to give thanks to God and to speak of him to all who were waiting for the redemption of Jerusalem.*

Note that this was at the time of Jesus’ birth, prior to the Christian church.

Controversial passages on women not speaking in church

See also:

- Wives should submit to their husbands, p. 1697

1Cor 14:33b-37 As in all the churches of the saints, ³⁴the women should keep silent in the churches. For they are not permitted to speak, but should be in submission, as the Law also says. ³⁵If there is anything they desire to learn, let them ask their husbands at home. For it is shameful for a woman to speak in church. ³⁶Or was it from you that the word of God came? Or are you the only ones it has reached? ³⁷If anyone thinks that he is a prophet, or spiritual, he should acknowledge that the things I am writing to you are a command of the Lord.

Some take this on face value, understanding it to mean that women should remain silent in church and not be in positions of teaching or authority, as they are to be “in submission” (v. 34b) to their husbands. Others believe that in saying that women should remain silent in church, Paul has in view social norms of the day, where apparently it was considered shameful for a woman to speak in public. Another view is that these instructions were aimed at curbing noisy and disorderly church meetings – in particular disorderly expression of some spiritual gifts in the Corinthian church (cf. vv. 26-33a). Proponents of the first view see these instructions as being relevant to every Christian church in every age and culture, unlike those who hold to the latter two interpretations. A further viewpoint is that these instructions were regarding married women, and so not necessarily applicable to all women. Note that “as the Law also says” (v. 34b) appears to have Genesis 3:16 primarily in view.

1Tim 2:11-14 Let a woman learn quietly with all submissiveness. ¹²I do not permit a woman to teach or to exercise authority over a man; rather, she is to remain quiet. ¹³For Adam was formed first, then Eve; ¹⁴and Adam was not deceived, but the woman was deceived and became a transgressor.

The use of Adam and Eve as validation, indicates that Paul’s statements in vv. 11-12 were not based on local culture. Verse 13 implies that the created order entails headship or authority. Regarding v. 14, two of the more common explanations are: it is implying that women are inherently more susceptible to being deceived; and it is illustrating that a woman taking the lead may well have negative effects.

‡ Verses that appear to be referring to women praying or prophesying aloud in church:

1Cor 11:4-5, 13 Every man who prays or prophesies with his head covered dishonors his head, ⁵but every wife^o who prays or prophesies with her head uncovered dishonors her head, since it is the same as if her head were shaven. ☞ ... ¹³Judge for yourselves: is it proper for a wife to pray to God with her head uncovered? ☞

^o In verses 5-13, the Greek word gunē is translated wife in verses that deal with wearing a veil, a sign of being married in first-century culture

If these verses are referring to women praying and prophesying aloud in church, then their content contrasts with the verses above.

Note: The oneness and interdependence of women and men “in” Jesus Christ

Gal 3:28 There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither slave^p nor free, there is no male and female, for you are all one in Christ Jesus. ☞

Oneness in Jesus Christ takes primacy over all distinctions. In him there is no defining or ultimate distinction between men and women – for all believers are basically part of the one entity, the body of Christ. Neither male nor female is spiritually superior to the other, and both are equal before God.

1Cor 11:11-12 Nevertheless, in the Lord woman is not independent of man nor man of woman; ¹²for as woman was made from man, so man is now born of woman. And all things are from God. ☞

Paul sees women and men – and by association presumably also their roles – as being interdependent (v. 11), in accordance with their interdependence in nature (v. 12).

A number of other translation follow the alternative rendering in the text note (cf. AMP, CEV, GNT, NIV, NKJV, NLT), which speaks of the church members love for Paul.

2Cor 12:15 I will most gladly spend and be spent for your souls. If I love you more, am I to be loved less? ☞

The rhetorical question obviously implies that the Corinthians should love Paul all the more because of how much he gave of himself in his love for them.

1Thes 5:25 Brothers, pray for us. 📖

Here Paul calls on the Thessalonians to pray for him and his associates in their work of spreading the gospel and building God's kingdom in various regions (cf. Pray for those spreading the gospel, p. 1323; and Pray to God for help in the work – and ask others to pray, p. 1415). Such verses are readily applicable to praying for the leaders in one's own church.

Respect and revere your leaders

1Thes 5:12-13 We ask you, brothers, to respect those who labor among you and are over you in the Lord and admonish you, ¹³*and to esteem them very highly in love because of their work*. Be at peace among yourselves. 📖

Lev 21:8 You shall sanctify him, for he offers the bread of your God. He shall be holy to you, for I, the LORD, who sanctify you, am holy. 📖

"You shall sanctify him" in this context speaks of treating the priests as holy (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV, NLT, NRSV). Treating them as holy would have necessarily involved a deep respect for them. Note that "the bread of your God" refers to food sacrifices.

Josh 4:14 On that day the LORD exalted Joshua in the sight of all Israel, and they stood in awe of him just as they had stood in awe of Moses, all the days of his life. 📖

2Cor 7:15 And his affection for you is even greater, as he remembers the obedience of you all, how you received him with fear and trembling. 📖

Honor your leaders

See comment below in . . . Leaders deserve material support, p. 1502.

Phil 2:25, 29 I have thought it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus my brother and fellow worker and fellow soldier, and your messenger and minister to my need, 📖 ...

1Cor 16:17-18 I rejoice at the coming of Stephanas and Fortunatus and Achaicus, because they have made up for your absence, ¹⁸for they refreshed my spirit as well as yours. Give recognition to such men. 📖

Such "recognition" would involve "acknowledgment" (NASB, NKJV) and "honor" (NLT).

Gal 4:13-14 You know it was because of a bodily ailment that I preached the gospel to you at first, ¹⁴*and though my condition was a trial to you, you did not scorn or despise me, but received me as an angel of God, as Christ Jesus.* 📖

✦ The islanders on Malta honored Paul and his companions:

Acts 28:10 They also honored us greatly,^t and when we were about to sail, they put on board whatever we needed. 📖

^t Greek honored us with many honors

At least the majority of the islanders would not have been believers (cf. v. 6), but they provide a good example for church members regarding honoring leaders.

Based on the context, a number of commentators state that Moses is speaking here of a line of prophets, rather than just one. Jesus Christ’s mission is usually seen as a unique fulfillment of Moses’ prophecy (v. 15a). Moses’ exhortation is still very much applicable today. For believers should listen to those amongst them who speak God’s word – and in particular to Jesus Christ’s teaching.

Deut 27:9 Then Moses and the Levitical priests said to all Israel, “Keep silence and hear, O Israel: this day you have become the people of the LORD your God.

Neh 8:1-3 And all the people gathered as one man into the square before the Water Gate. And they told Ezra the scribe to bring the Book of the Law of Moses that the LORD had commanded Israel. ²So Ezra the priest brought the Law before the assembly, both men and women and all who could understand what they heard, on the first day of the seventh month. ³And he read from it facing the square before the Water Gate from early morning until midday, in the presence of the men and the women and those who could understand. And the ears of all the people were attentive to the Book of the Law.

Neh 8:13 On the second day the heads of fathers’ houses of all the people, with the priests and the Levites, came together to Ezra the scribe in order to study the words of the Law.

These representatives of the people gathered to study the Law under Ezra’s teaching (cf. CEV).

Here Moses is speaking to the Israelites, referring largely to the law and instructions he had passed on to them from God.

Deut 34:9 And Joshua the son of Nun was full of the spirit of wisdom, for Moses had laid his hands on him. So the people of Israel obeyed him and did as the LORD had commanded Moses.

Josh 1:16-17 And they answered Joshua, “All that you have commanded us we will do, and wherever you send us we will go.”¹⁷*Just as we obeyed Moses in all things, so we will obey you.* Only may the LORD your God be with you, as he was with Moses! 📖

In v. 10 Paul urges the at times uncooperative Corinthians to not give any trouble to Timothy, who was apparently timid, so that he would be “at ease”. The priests and Levites were allocated portions of offerings and tithes, allowing them to devote themselves to the work involved in carrying out the priestly and ministerial requirements of the Law of the LORD (v. 4) – without having to set aside time to do other work for the sake of their livelihood.

Neh 12:44, 47 On that day men were appointed over the storerooms, the contributions, the firstfruits, and the tithes, to gather into them the portions required by the Law for the priests and for the Levites according to the fields of the towns, for Judah rejoiced over the priests and the Levites who ministered. ¶ ...⁴⁷And all Israel in the days of Zerubbabel and in the days of Nehemiah gave the daily portions for the singers and the gatekeepers; and they set apart that which was for the Levites; and the Levites set apart that which was for the sons of Aaron. ¶

Here and in Luke 10:7a below Jesus is giving instructions – to his disciples here and seventy-two others below – on sending them out to do the work of proclaiming the kingdom in various towns. In both cases the final clause indicates that those in full-time work for the kingdom deserve to be supported in material matters.

Luke 10:7a And remain in the same house, eating and drinking what they provide, for the laborer deserves his wages. ¶

1Cor 9:4-14 Do we not have the right to eat and drink?⁵Do we not have the right to take along a believing wife,⁴ as do the other apostles and the brothers of the Lord and Cephas?⁶Or is it only Barnabas and I who have no right to refrain from working for a living? ⁷Who serves as a soldier at his own expense? Who plants a vineyard without eating any of its fruit? Or who tends a flock without getting some of the milk?

⁸Do I say these things on human authority? *Does not the Law say the same?*⁹For it is written in the Law of Moses, “You shall not muzzle an ox when it treads out the grain.” Is it for oxen that God is concerned? ¹⁰Does he not speak entirely for our sake? It was written for our sake, because the plowman should plow in hope and the thresher thresh in hope of sharing in the crop. ¹¹If we have sown spiritual things among you, is it too much if we reap material things from you? ¹²If others share this rightful claim on you, do not we even more? Nevertheless, we have not made use of this right, but we endure anything rather than put an obstacle in the way of the gospel of Christ. ¹³Do you not know that those who are employed in the temple service get their food from the temple, and those who serve at the altar share in the sacrificial offerings? ¹⁴In the same way, the Lord commanded that those who proclaim the gospel should get their living by the gospel. ¶

Muzzling an ox “when it treads out the grain” (v. 9; cf. 1Tim 5:17-18 ↓) would unfairly prevent it from eating of the grain amidst which it was laboring, not allowing it to replenish its strength. Paul points out that this is more than relevant to workers of the gospel, who should have their needs met by those whom they work amongst.

1Tim 5:17-18 Let the elders who rule well be considered worthy of double honor, especially those who labor in preaching and teaching. ¹⁸For the Scripture says, “You shall not muzzle an ox when it treads out the grain,” and, “The laborer deserves his wages.” ¶

In v. 17, “double honor” may refer to remuneration in addition to respect for the work they do, or to extra remuneration – “double pay” (GNT, cf. CEV, NLT). The two quotations in v. 18 show that remuneration or material support is certainly involved.

2Tim 2:6 It is the hard-working farmer who ought to have the first share of the crops. ¶

This is quite possibly primarily referring to hardworking church leaders deservedly receiving material support from their congregation or “field” in which they labor (cf. 1Cor 9:7, 10-11 ↑). Alternatively spiritual rewards may be in view.

Num 18:21, 30-31 To the Levites I have given every tithe in Israel for an inheritance, in return for their service that they do, their service in the tent of meeting, ¶ ...³⁰Therefore you shall say to them [the Levites], “When you have offered from it the best of it, then the rest shall be counted to the Levites as produce of the threshing floor, and as produce of the winepress. ³¹And you may eat it in any place, you and your households, for it is your reward in return for your service in the tent of meeting.

And besides our own comfort, we rejoiced still more at the joy of Titus, because his spirit has been refreshed by you all.

In v. 4, Paul's joy – and related feelings – was in response to the Corinthians' attitude to him (v. 7), which demonstrated their love for him.

Phil 4:10 I rejoiced in the Lord greatly that now at length you have revived your concern for me. You were indeed concerned for me, but you had no opportunity.

2Tim 1:4 As I remember your tears, I long to see you, that I may be filled with joy.

Timothy's deep love for his mentor was evidenced by his tears when they had parted. Because of this love for him, Paul knew that he would be filled with joy on seeing Timothy again. A parallel can be made with church members' love for their leader/s.

Phil 2:1-2 So if there is any encouragement in Christ, any comfort from love, any participation in the Spirit, any affection and sympathy, ²complete my joy by being of the same mind, having the same love, being in full accord and of one mind.

Paul states that his joy would be made complete by the Philippians' having unity and love for one another.

Phil 1:7 For I have derived much joy and comfort from your love, my brother, because the hearts of the saints have been refreshed through you.

Church members can bring leaders joy by firm faith and obedient, godly lives

Col 2:5 For though I am absent in body, yet I am with you in spirit, rejoicing to see your good order and the firmness of your faith in Christ.

Phil 4:1 Therefore, my brothers,^e whom I love and long for, my joy and crown, stand firm thus in the Lord, my beloved.

^e Or brothers and sisters; also verses 8, 21

Here "joy" may be speaking of the joy Paul experienced in his mentoring relationship with the Philippians, with quite possibly their firm faith partly in view as per the subsequent clause. With it being mentioned along with "crown", it could also allude to: Paul's future joy when Christ comes and rewards him for his ministry amongst the Philippians; and/or joy which he has in anticipating his future reward for his work. The "crown" alludes to the wreath given to the victors at the Greek games; the Philippians would be as such for him to glory in.

1Thes 3:8-9 For now we live, if you are standing fast in the Lord. ⁹For what thanksgiving can we return to God for you, for all the joy that we feel for your sake before our God, ...

3Jn 1:3-4 For I rejoiced greatly when the brothers^f came and testified to your truth, as indeed you are walking in the truth. ⁴I have no greater joy than to hear that my children are walking in the truth.

^f Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated "brothers") refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God's family, the church; also verses 5, 10

Rom 16:19 For your obedience is known to all, so that I rejoice over you, but I want you to be wise as to what is good and innocent as to what is evil.

Heb 13:17 Obey your leaders and submit to them, for they are keeping watch over your souls, as those who will have to give an account. Let them do this with joy and not with groaning, for that would be of no advantage to you.

Phil 1:3-5 I thank my God in all my remembrance of you, ⁴always in every prayer of mine for you all making my prayer with joy, ⁵because of your partnership in the gospel from the first day until now.

1Thes 2:19-20 For what is our hope or joy or crown of boasting before our Lord Jesus at his coming? Is it not you?

²⁰*For you are our glory and joy.*

Paul appears to have in view the Thessalonians' spiritual growth, encompassing such things as their faith and deeds. Paul's "joy" could well denote his future joy when Christ comes, although it is very much applicable also to the present.

2Cor 2:1-3 For I made up my mind not to make another painful visit to you. ²For if I cause you pain, who is there to make me glad but the one whom I have pained? ³And I wrote as I did, so that when I came I might not suffer pain from those who should have made me rejoice, for I felt sure of all of you, that my joy would be the joy of you all.

The purpose of the letter referred to (v. 3) was to admonish the Corinthians over certain issues, leading them back to obedient and godly ways – by which they would make Paul glad (v. 2) and rejoice (v. 3). Note that the last clause speaks of the Corinthians consequently sharing in Paul's joy.

✚ Leaders should work for the joy of church members:

2Cor 1:24 Not that we lord it over your faith, but we work with you for your joy, for you stand firm in your faith.

Similarly in Philippians 1:25-26 Paul speaks of working with his readers for their joy in the faith – "Convinced of this, I know that I will remain and continue with you all, for your progress and joy in the faith, ²⁶so that in me you may have ample cause to glory in Christ Jesus, because of my coming to you again.

II. Teaching in the Church

Teaching is one of the main roles of most church leaders. Good teaching is based on God's word, and should be delivered in accordance with the directions and sound examples found in Scripture. On the topic of teaching, one must also be aware of the characteristics of "false" teachers who are so often present in the church, so as to recognize them and deal with them.

a) What to Teach: God's Word

See also:

- Explain God's word and truths, p. 1512

Subsections

- Teach and preach God's word

- Teach the truths of the faith . . .

- Read God's word in church assemblies
- Use God's word as the authoritative standard in determining what is true . . .
- . . . and use God's word in determining what actions are legitimate
- Note: Do not add to or subtract from God's word – nor distort it

Teach and preach God's word

2Tim 3:16-17 All Scripture is breathed out by God and profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, and for training in righteousness, ¹⁷that the man of God^a may be competent, equipped for every good work.

^a That is, a messenger of God (the phrase echoes a common Old Testament expression)

2Tim 4:1-2 I charge you in the presence of God and of Christ Jesus, who is to judge the living and the dead, and by his appearing and his kingdom: ²*preach the word*; be ready in season and out of season; reprove, rebuke, and exhort, with complete patience and teaching.

Acts 6:2-4 And the twelve summoned the full number of the disciples and said, "It is not right that we should give up preaching the word of God to serve tables. ³Therefore, brothers,^b pick out from among you seven men of good repute, full of the Spirit and of wisdom, whom we will appoint to this duty. ⁴*But we will devote ourselves to prayer and to the ministry of the word.*"

^b Or brothers and sisters

The "ministry of the word" (vv. 2, 4) is the "work of teaching God's word" (NCV™).

Acts 13:5 When they arrived at Salamis, they proclaimed the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews. And they had John to assist them.

Note that often in NT verses, as is the case here, expressions such as "the word of God" refer to the gospel in particular (cf. AMP) – "the Good News of God" (NCV™).

Acts 15:35 But Paul and Barnabas remained in Antioch, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with many others also.

Acts 18:11 And he stayed a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them.

1Thes 2:13 And we also thank God constantly^c for this, that when you received the word of God, which you heard from us, you accepted it not as the word of men but as what it really is, the word of God, which is at work in you believers.

^c Or without ceasing

Titus 1:1-3 Paul, a servant^d of God and an apostle of Jesus Christ, for the sake of the faith of God's elect and their knowledge of the truth, which accords with godliness, ²in hope of eternal life, which God, who never lies, promised before the ages began^e ³and at the proper time manifested in his word through the preaching with which I have been entrusted by the command of God our Savior; ...

^d Or slave; Greek bondservant

^e Greek before times eternal

Heb 13:7a Remember your leaders, those who spoke to you the word of God.

1Pet 1:25 ... but the word of the Lord remains forever." And this word is the good news that was preached to you.

Ezek 2:7 And you shall speak my words to them, whether they hear or refuse to hear, for they are a rebellious house.

Rom 15:4 For whatever was written in former days was written for our instruction, that through endurance and through the encouragement of the Scriptures we might have hope. 📖

This implies that the Scriptures are filled with things to teach us – and so should be taught.

✦ Let Christ's word dwell in you richly as you teach:

Col 3:16 Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly, teaching and admonishing one another in all wisdom, singing psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, with thankfulness in your hearts to God. 📖

This is not specifically saying that we should use the word itself in teaching, but arguably this is implied. Paul is saying that we should be filled with the word and so be strongly influenced by it as we teach and admonish one another.

Teach God's commands and ways

Ex 18:20 ... and you shall warn them about the statutes and the laws, and make them know the way in which they must walk and what they must do. 📖

Ex 24:3 Moses came and told the people all the words of the LORD and all the rules.^f And all the people answered with one voice and said, "All the words that the LORD has spoken we will do." 📖

^f Or all the just decrees

2Chr 26:5 He set himself to seek God in the days of Zechariah, who instructed him in the fear of God, and as long as he sought the LORD, God made him prosper. 📖

Instruction "in the fear of God" (cf. 2Ki 17:28 ↓) speaks of teaching how to live in accordance with a fear of God, which primarily involves obeying God's commands (cf. CEV, NCV). Similarly in Psalms 34:11b David says, "I will teach you the fear of the LORD."

2Ki 17:28 So one of the priests whom they had carried away from Samaria came and lived in Bethel and taught them how they should fear the LORD. 📖

Note that here the people being taught were not God's people as such, but foreigners who had been settled into what had been the northern kingdom of Israel, in place of the deported Israelites. Also note that the priest referred to may have been of the false worship system that had held sway in the former northern kingdom of Israel. He certainly did not succeed in instilling true fear and obedience amongst the population at large (cf. vv. 29-41). Nevertheless, the verse rightly speaks of the importance of teaching God's people how to fear God.

Teach the truths of the faith . . .

1Tim 4:6, 10-11 If you put these things before the brothers,^k you will be a good servant of Christ Jesus, being trained in the words of the faith and of the good doctrine that you have followed. . . .¹⁰For to this end we toil and strive,¹ because we have our hope set on the living God, who is the Savior of all people, especially of those who believe. ¹¹Command and teach these things.

^k Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated "brothers") refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God's family, the church

In v. 6a Paul exhorts Timothy to instruct the believers in the things that he had been writing about, which were composed of or in line with "the words of the faith" (v. 6b) and the good doctrine that Timothy himself had followed. Verse 10 contains more such truth that Timothy was to teach.

Matt 13:52 And he said to them, "Therefore every scribe who has been trained for the kingdom of heaven is like a master of a house, who brings out of his treasure what is new and what is old."

Scribes were teachers of the law. Here Jesus is illustrating that in teaching one should set forth the "treasures" or truths of God's kingdom, including the new teachings that he brought and those of OT Scripture.

Titus 2:11-15a For the grace of God has appeared, bringing salvation for all people, ¹²training us to renounce ungodliness and worldly passions, and to live self-controlled, upright, and godly lives in the present age, ¹³waiting for our blessed hope, the appearing of the glory of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ, ¹⁴who gave himself for us to redeem us from all lawlessness and to purify for himself a people for his own possession who are zealous for good works. ¹⁵Declare these things; exhort and rebuke with all authority.

In v. 15a Paul refers to the content of the preceding verses in the chapter, which includes teaching on both the role of God's grace (vv. 11-12) and on Jesus Christ (vv. 13-14) – as well as earlier instructions to various groups on how to live (cf. vv. 2-10).

Titus 3:4-8 But when the goodness and loving kindness of God our Savior appeared, ⁵he saved us, not because of works done by us in righteousness, but according to his own mercy, by the washing of regeneration and renewal of the Holy Spirit, ⁶whom he poured out on us richly through Jesus Christ our Savior, ⁷so that being justified by his grace we might become heirs according to the hope of eternal life. ⁸The saying is trustworthy, and I want you to insist on these things, so that those who have believed in God may be careful to devote themselves to good works. These things are excellent and profitable for people.

The trustworthy "saying" (v. 8a) containing the things that Titus was to "insist on" (v. 8a) or emphasize (cf. GNT, NIV) in his teaching, is the doctrinal statement in the preceding verses (vv. 4-7).

1Jn 1:5 This is the message we have heard from him and proclaim to you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all.

Job 27:11 I will teach you concerning the hand of God; what is with the Almighty I will not conceal.

Job is basically saying that he will teach about the ways of God.

. . . Examples of spiritual truth being taught from Scripture

Matt 24:15-16, 29-30 So when you see the abomination of desolation spoken of by the prophet Daniel, standing in the holy place (let the reader understand), ¹⁶then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains. . . .²⁹"Immediately after the tribulation of those days the sun will be darkened, and the moon will not give its light, and the stars will fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens will be shaken. ³⁰Then will appear in heaven the sign of the Son of Man, and then all the tribes of the earth will mourn, and they will see the Son of Man coming on the clouds of heaven with power and great glory.

Here Jesus quotes from or refers to Daniel 9:27, 11:31, 12:11 (v. 15) and Isaiah 13:10, 34:4 (v. 29).

Luke 24:26-27, 45-47 Was it not necessary that the Christ should suffer these things and enter into his glory?" ²⁷And beginning with Moses and all the Prophets, he interpreted to them in all the Scriptures the things concerning himself. ⁴⁵Then he opened their minds to understand the Scriptures, ⁴⁶and said to them, “Thus it is written, that the Christ should suffer and on the third day rise from the dead, ⁴⁷and that repentance and forgiveness of sins should be proclaimed in his name to all nations, beginning from Jerusalem. ⁴⁸

Note that in vv. 46-47 Jesus is not directly quoting an OT passage. He appears to have a number in view.

Acts 2:25-31 For David says concerning him, “I saw the Lord always before me, for he is at my right hand that I may not be shaken; ²⁶therefore my heart was glad, and my tongue rejoiced; my flesh also will dwell in hope. ²⁷For you will not abandon my soul to Hades, or let your Holy One see corruption. ²⁸You have made known to me the paths of life; you will make me full of gladness with your presence. ²⁹“Brothers, I may say to you with confidence about the patriarch David that he both died and was buried, and his tomb is with us to this day. ³⁰Being therefore a prophet, and knowing that God had sworn with an oath to him that he would set one of his descendants on his throne, ³¹he foresaw and spoke about the resurrection of the Christ, that he was not abandoned to Hades, nor did his flesh see corruption. ³²

Peter quotes Psalm 16:8-11 (vv. 25-28) and then teaches how it applies to Jesus (vv. 29-31).

Acts 8:32-35 Now the passage of the Scripture that he was reading was this: “Like a sheep he was led to the slaughter and like a lamb before its shearer is silent, so he opens not his mouth. ³³In his humiliation justice was denied him. Who can describe his generation? For his life is taken away from the earth.” ³⁴And the eunuch said to Philip, “About whom, I ask you, does the prophet say this, about himself or about someone else?” ³⁵Then Philip opened his mouth, and beginning with this Scripture he told him the good news about Jesus. ³⁶

Gal 3:5-14 Does he who supplies the Spirit to you and works miracles among you do so by works of the law, or by hearing with faith— ⁶just as Abraham “believed God, and it was counted to him as righteousness”? ⁷Know then that it is those of faith who are the sons of Abraham. ⁸And the Scripture, foreseeing that God would justify^m the Gentiles by faith, preached the gospel beforehand to Abraham, saying, “In you shall all the nations be blessed.” ⁹So then, those who are of faith are blessed along with Abraham, the man of faith. ¹⁰For all who rely on works of the law are under a curse; for it is written, “Cursed be everyone who does not abide by all things written in the Book of the Law, and do them.” ¹¹Now it is evident that no one is justified before God by the law, for “The righteous shall live by faith.”ⁿ ¹²But the law is not of faith, rather “The one who does them shall live by them.” ¹³Christ redeemed us from the curse of the law by becoming a curse for us—for it is written, “Cursed is everyone who is hanged on a tree”—¹⁴so that in Christ Jesus the blessing of Abraham might come to the Gentiles, so that we might receive the promised Spirit^o through faith. ¹⁵

ⁿ Or The one who by faith is righteous will live

^o Greek receive the promise of the Spirit

Here Paul quotes from Scripture no less than six times in eight verses. He does so to teach that: those who believe or have faith are deemed righteous or justified along with Abraham (vv. 6-7) – including Gentiles (vv. 8-9) – as opposed to observing the law (vv. 10-12), through what Jesus Christ accomplished (vv. 13-14).

Read God’s word in church assemblies

1Tim 4:13 Until I come, devote yourself to the public reading of Scripture, to exhortation, to teaching. ¹⁴

Ex 24:7 Then he took the Book of the Covenant and read it in the hearing of the people. And they said, “All that the LORD has spoken we will do, and we will be obedient.” ⁸

Deut 31:10-13 And Moses commanded them, “At the end of every seven years, at the set time in the year of release, at the Feast of Booths, ¹¹when all Israel comes to appear before the LORD your God at the place that he will choose, you shall read this law before all Israel in their hearing. ¹²Assemble the people, men, women, and little ones, and the sojourner within your towns, that they may hear and learn to fear the LORD your God, and be careful to do all the words of this law, ¹³and that their children, who have not known it, may hear and learn to fear the LORD your God, as long as you live in the land that you are going over the Jordan to possess.” ¹⁴

Josh 8:34-35 And afterward he read all the words of the law, the blessing and the curse, according to all that is written in the Book of the Law. ³⁵There was not a word of all that Moses commanded that Joshua did not read before all the assembly of Israel, and the women, and the little ones, and the sojourners who lived^p among them. ³⁶

2Ki 23:2 And the king went up to the house of the LORD, and with him all the men of Judah and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem and the priests and the prophets, all the people, both small and great. And he read in their hearing all the words of the Book of the Covenant that had been found in the house of the LORD.

Neh 8:2-3, 18 So Ezra the priest brought the Law before the assembly, both men and women and all who could understand what they heard, on the first day of the seventh month. ³And he read from it facing the square before the Water Gate from early morning until midday, in the presence of the men and the women and those who could understand. And the ears of all the people were attentive to the Book of the Law.  ... ¹⁸And day by day, from the first day to the last day, he read from the Book of the Law of God. They kept the feast seven days, and on the eighth day there was a solemn assembly, according to the rule.

Jer 36:5-6 And Jeremiah ordered Baruch, saying, “I am banned from going to the house of the LORD, ⁶so you are to go, and on a day of fasting in the hearing of all the people in the LORD’s house you shall read the words of the LORD from the scroll that you have written at my dictation. You shall read them also in the hearing of all the men of Judah who come out of their cities.

Luke 4:16-19 And he came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up. And as was his custom, he went to the synagogue on the Sabbath day, and he stood up to read. ¹⁷And the scroll of the prophet Isaiah was given to him. He unrolled the scroll and found the place where it was written, ¹⁸“The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he has anointed me to proclaim good news to the poor. He has sent me to proclaim liberty to the captives and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty those who are oppressed, ¹⁹to proclaim the year of the Lord’s favor.”

Acts 13:15 After the reading from the Law and the Prophets, the rulers of the synagogue sent a message to them, saying, “Brothers, if you have any word of encouragement for the people, say it.”

Acts 13:27 For those who live in Jerusalem and their rulers, because they did not recognize him nor understand the utterances of the prophets, which are read every Sabbath, fulfilled them by condemning him.

Acts 15:21 For from ancient generations Moses has had in every city those who proclaim him, for he is read every Sabbath in the synagogues.

Col 4:16 And when this letter has been read among you, have it also read in the church of the Laodiceans; and see that you also read the letter from Laodicea.

1Thes 5:27 I put you under oath before the Lord to have this letter read to all the brothers.

Isa 8:19-20 And when they say to you, “Inquire of the mediums and the necromancers who chirp and mutter,” should not a people inquire of their God? Should they inquire of the dead on behalf of the living? ²⁰To the teaching and to the testimony! If they will not speak according to this word, it is because they have no dawn.

The “teaching” and the “testimony” (v. 20a) presumably refer to God’s law and/or the teachings and testimony or prophecies that God had given through Isaiah; certainly some aspects of God’s word are in view. One should turn to God’s word in seeking guidance and truth (v. 20a) – rather than to other sources (v. 19). Moreover, if any instruction is not in accordance with God’s word, then the person advocating it has no “dawn” (v. 20b), i.e. spiritual light.

Matt 11:2-5 Now when John heard in prison about the deeds of the Christ, he sent word by his disciples ³and said to him, “Are you the one who is to come, or shall we look for another?” ⁴And Jesus answered them, “Go and tell John what you hear and see: ⁵the blind receive their sight and the lame walk, lepers^a are cleansed and the deaf hear, and the dead are raised up, and the poor have good news preached to them.

In response to John the Baptist’s query, Jesus quotes from the OT to show that he was indeed the “one who is to come” (v. 3) – i.e. the Messiah.

John 5:39-40, 46 You search the Scriptures because you think that in them you have eternal life; and it is they that bear witness about me, ⁴⁰yet you refuse to come to me that you may have life.  ... ⁴⁶For if you believed Moses, you would believe me; for he wrote of me.

Jesus points to the authority of the Scriptures to validate the truth of his claims.

Acts 17:2-3 And Paul went in, as was his custom, and on three Sabbath days he reasoned with them from the Scriptures, ³explaining and proving that it was necessary for the Christ to suffer and to rise from the dead, and saying, “This Jesus, whom I proclaim to you, is the Christ.”

Acts 18:28 ... for he powerfully refuted the Jews in public, showing by the Scriptures that the Christ was Jesus.

Matt 22:23, 28-32 The same day Sadducees came to him, who say that there is no resurrection, and they asked him a question,  ... ²⁸In the resurrection, therefore, of the seven, whose wife will she be? For they all had her.” ²⁹But Jesus answered them, “You are wrong, because you know neither the Scriptures nor the power of God. ³⁰For in the resurrection they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are like angels in heaven. ³¹And as for the resurrection of the dead, have you not read what was said to you by God: ³²*I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? He is not God of the dead, but of the living.*”

The Sadducees were wrong both in their understanding of what the resurrection will involve and, more fundamentally, in not believing in the resurrection – with this disbelief being at the heart of their question. Jesus makes a general reference to the authority of Scripture in correcting their misunderstanding (vv. 29-30); and then quotes from Scripture to expose the fallacy of not believing in the resurrection (vv. 31-32).

Acts 15:13-19 After they finished speaking, James replied, “Brothers, listen to me. ¹⁴*Simeon has related how God first visited the Gentiles, to take from them a people for his name.* ¹⁵And with this the words of the prophets agree, just as it is written, ¹⁶“After this I will return, and I will rebuild the tent of David that has fallen; I will rebuild its ruins, and I will restore it, ¹⁷that the remnant^r of mankind may seek the Lord, and all the Gentiles who are called by my name, says the Lord, who makes these things ¹⁸known from of old.” ¹⁹Therefore my judgment is that we should not trouble those of the Gentiles who turn to God, ...

^r Or rest

In vv. 15-18 James uses Scripture to affirm the validity of what had appeared to occur – the conversion of a significant number of Gentiles (v. 14; cf. vv. 7-9). Note that in v. 19 James goes on to conclude from this how they, the Jewish leaders of the church, should respond.

Matt 12:1-7 At that time Jesus went through the grainfields on the Sabbath. His disciples were hungry, and they began to pluck heads of grain and to eat. ²But when the Pharisees saw it, they said to him, “Look, your disciples are doing what is not lawful to do on the Sabbath.” ³He said to them, “Have you not read what David did when he was hungry, and those who were with him: ⁴*how he entered the house of God and ate the bread of the Presence, which it was not lawful for him to eat nor for those who were with him, but only for the priests?* ⁵Or have you not read in the Law how on the Sabbath the priests in the temple profane the Sabbath and are guiltless? ⁶I tell you, something greater than the temple is here. ⁷And if you had known what this means, ‘I desire mercy, and not sacrifice,’ you would not have condemned the guiltless.”

Jesus refers three times to the OT Scriptures (vv. 3-4, 5, 7) to refute the Pharisees’ accusation that the disciples’ actions were unlawful (vv. 1-2). The first two times were references to examples of necessity taking precedence over regulations in the law. In conjunction with this, in v. 7 Jesus quotes from Hosea 6:6 to advocate following the spirit of the law rather than a legalistic, judgmental application of it. For comment on v. 6, see the comment on Matt 12:6 – under God granted Jesus sovereign authority, p. 538.

Matt 19:3-6 And Pharisees came up to him and tested him by asking, “Is it lawful to divorce one’s wife for any cause?” ⁴He answered, “Have you not read that he who created them from the beginning made them male and female, ⁵and said, ‘Therefore a man shall leave his father and his mother and hold fast to his wife, and the two shall become one flesh’? ⁶So they are no longer two but one flesh. What therefore God has joined together, let not man separate.”

Matt 21:12-13 And Jesus entered the temple^s and drove out all who sold and bought in the temple, and he overturned the tables of the money-changers and the seats of those who sold pigeons. ¹³He said to them, “It is written, ‘My house shall be called a house of prayer,' but you make it a den of robbers."

^s Some manuscripts add of God

Here Jesus appears to appeal to the authority of Scripture to both denounce the actions of the money changers and to justify his own action. He uses the Scripture first to indicate what God's house should be and then to show what the money changers and sellers were making it.

Matt 26:50b-54 Then they came up and laid hands on Jesus and seized him. ⁵¹And behold, one of those who were with Jesus stretched out his hand and drew his sword and struck the servant^t of the high priest and cut off his ear. ⁵²Then Jesus said to him, "Put your sword back into its place. For all who take the sword will perish by the sword. ⁵³Do you think that I cannot appeal to my Father, and he will at once send me more than twelve legions of angels? ⁵⁴But how then should the Scriptures be fulfilled, that it must be so?"

In v. 54 Jesus was in effect saying that the Scriptures had stated or ordained that his time of trial should take place. By this Jesus implied that his disciples should therefore yield to the authority of Scripture and not resist his arrest (vv. 51-52).

Luke 4:3-12 The devil said to him, "If you are the Son of God, command this stone to become bread." ⁴And Jesus answered him, "It is written, 'Man shall not live by bread alone.'" ⁵And the devil took him up and showed him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time, ⁶and said to him, "To you I will give all this authority and their glory, for it has been delivered to me, and I give it to whom I will. ⁷If you, then, will worship me, it will all be yours." ⁸And Jesus answered him, "It is written, 'You shall worship the Lord your God, and him only shall you serve.'" ⁹And he took him to Jerusalem and set him on the pinnacle of the temple and said to him, "If you are the Son of God, throw yourself down from here, ¹⁰for it is written, 'He will command his angels concerning you, to guard you,' ¹¹and 'On their hands they will bear you up, lest you strike your foot against a stone.'" ¹²And Jesus answered him, "It is said, 'You shall not put the Lord your God to the test.'"

Note that vv. 10-11 illustrate that Scripture can be misused, with Satan doing so here. One needs to interpret Scripture – and other people's application of it – in the light of all Scripture, as Jesus demonstrates in his reply in v. 12.

Jer 23:36 But ‘the burden of the LORD’ you shall mention no more, for the burden is every man’s own word, and you pervert the words of the living God, the LORD of hosts, our God.

Jeremiah uses a wordplay here, as the Hebrew for “burden” can also mean “oracle” (cf. ESB). The false prophets had been claiming that their whimsical and false oracles were of God. As such they misrepresented God’s word, to the detriment of what was really his word.

Zeph 3:4 Her prophets are fickle, treacherous men; her priests profane what is holy; they do violence to the law.

The clause “do violence to the law” (cf. Ezek 22:26) means to abuse the law (cf. CEV). Distorting the law is quite possibly in view (cf. GNT). Alternatively the reference may be to breaking it (cf. NCV, NLT).

Matt 5:19 Therefore whoever relaxes one of the least of these commandments and teaches others to do the same will be called least in the kingdom of heaven, but whoever does them and teaches them will be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

Acts 17:2-3 And Paul went in, as was his custom, and on three Sabbath days he reasoned with them from the Scriptures, ³explaining and proving that it was necessary for the Christ to suffer and to rise from the dead, and saying, “This Jesus, whom I proclaim to you, is the Christ.”

Acts 28:23 When they had appointed a day for him, they came to him at his lodging in greater numbers. From morning till evening he expounded to them, testifying to the kingdom of God and trying to convince them about Jesus both from the Law of Moses and from the Prophets.

In addition to expounding/explaining the kingdom of God, Paul’s efforts to convince these Jews about Jesus from the OT

Scriptures would have involved him explaining about Jesus and the testimony of the Scriptures to him.

Acts 18:26 He began to speak boldly in the synagogue, but when Priscilla and Aquila heard him, they took him and explained to him the way of God more accurately. 📖

Where applicable, use illustrations in teaching

Rom 6:17-19 But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, ¹⁸and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. ¹⁹*I am speaking in human terms, because of your natural limitations. For just as you once presented your members as slaves to impurity and to lawlessness leading to more lawlessness, so now present your members as slaves to righteousness leading to sanctification.* 📖

In v. 19a Paul appears to apologize for using a less than perfect illustration or analogy in describing believers as previously “slaves of sin” (v. 17) and now “slaves of righteousness” (v. 18). If this is the case, presumably he felt that – because of their human limitations (v. 19a) – his readers lacked spiritual perception and needed a somewhat stark illustration to grasp his point.

Rom 7:1-4 Or do you not know, brothers^y—for I am speaking to those who know the law—that the law is binding on a person only as long as he lives? ²*For a married woman is bound by law to her husband while he lives, but if her husband dies she is released from the law of marriage.* ^z ³*Accordingly, she will be called an adulteress if she lives with another man while her husband is alive. But if her husband dies, she is free from that law, and if she marries another man she is not an adulteress.* ⁴*Likewise, my brothers, you also have died to the law through the body of Christ, so that you may belong to another, to him who has been raised from the dead, in order that we may bear fruit for God.* 📖

^y Or brothers and sisters; also verse 4

^z Greek law concerning the husband

In order to illustrate that the law no longer has authority over believers (vv. 1, 4), Paul uses an illustration or an example of how death brings release from the law (v. 2-3), drawing a parallel between the two cases.

Rom 9:20-21 But who are you, O man, to answer back to God? Will what is molded say to its molder, “Why have you made me like this?” ²¹*Has the potter no right over the clay, to make out of the same lump one vessel for honorable use and another for dishonorable use?* 📖

1Cor 9:24-27 Do you not know that in a race all the runners run, but only one receives the prize? So run that you may obtain it. ²⁵*Every athlete exercises self-control in all things. They do it to receive a perishable wreath, but we an imperishable.* ²⁶*So I do not run aimlessly; I do not box as one beating the air.* ²⁷*But I discipline my body and keep it under control,^a lest after preaching to others I myself should be disqualified.* 📖

^a Greek I pummel my body and make it a slave

Here Paul likens the Christian life and the reward of the afterlife to a race and its prize – to emphasize the focus, determination and discipline required. Note that “I discipline my body” (v. 27) means that Paul strongly disciplined himself, bringing his body with its desires into submission.

Gal 3:15, 17 To give a human example, brothers:^b even with a man-made covenant, no one annuls it or adds to it once it has been ratified. 📖 ...¹⁷This is what I mean: the law, which came 430 years afterward, does not annul a covenant previously ratified by God, so as to make the promise void. 📖

^b Or brothers and sisters

Gal 4:1-5 I mean that the heir, as long as he is a child, is no different from a slave,^c though he is the owner of everything, ²but he is under guardians and managers until the date set by his father. ³*In the same way we also, when we were children, were enslaved to the elementary principles^d of the world.* ⁴*But when the fullness of time had come, God sent forth his Son, born of woman, born under the law, ⁵to redeem those who were under the law, so that we might receive adoption as sons.* 📖

^c Greek bondservant; also verse 7

^d Or elemental spirits; also verse 9

Regarding the term “the elementary principles” (v. 3), the law may primarily be in view (cf. AMP) – which would fit comfortably with vv. 4-5. But this interpretation is debatable; for further comment see So through Jesus Christ believers have been released from the law, p. 653.

2Tim 2:3-4 Share in suffering as a good soldier of Christ Jesus. ⁴No soldier gets entangled in civilian pursuits, since his aim is to please the one who enlisted him. 📖

Paul likens the Christian life to that of a soldier both in endurance of hardship (v. 3) – such as persecution by enemies – and in undivided devotion to the cause (v. 4).

Do not teach beyond what the hearers can understand

2Cor 1:13 For we are not writing to you anything other than what you read and acknowledge^e and I hope you will fully acknowledge—

^e Or understand; twice in this verse; also verse 14

The alternative to “acknowledge” given in the text note – “understand” – is preferred by most modern translations (cf. AMP, CEV, GNT, NASB, NCV, NIV, NKJV, NLT, NRSV).

Mark 4:33 With many such parables he spoke the word to them, as they were able to hear it.

This appears to be speaking of Jesus teaching the people “as much as they could understand” (CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV; cf. AMP, NLT).

John 16:12 I still have many things to say to you, but you cannot bear them now.

Here Jesus refrains from teaching his disciples certain truths, for at this point they were unable to understand and absorb them (cf. AMP, CEV).

1Cor 3:2 I fed you with milk, not solid food, for you were not ready for it. And even now you are not yet ready, ...

‡ A warning regarding presenting sacred truths to the wicked:

Matt 7:6 Do not give dogs what is holy, and do not throw your pearls before pigs, lest they trample them underfoot and turn to attack you.

Non-believers who are antagonistic against or contemptuous of the gospel are in view, as opposed to non-believers in general. There is no point trying – or to keep on trying – to give things that are holy and of God (cf. CEV) to people who cannot (or will not) appreciate or understand them.

2Cor 4:2 But we have renounced disgraceful, underhanded ways. We refuse to practice cunning or to tamper with God’s word, but by the open statement of the truth we would commend ourselves to everyone’s conscience in the sight of God.

The truth should be taught openly – plainly and frankly.

Col 1:28 Him we proclaim, warning everyone and teaching everyone with all wisdom, that we may present everyone mature in Christ.

Teachers need to have godly wisdom (cf. Prov 16:23 ↓). As such they should take care to apply it in their teaching, teaching with “all wisdom” which involves “comprehensive insight into the ways and purposes of God” (AMP).

2Tim 4:2 ... preach the word; be ready in season and out of season; reprove, rebuke, and exhort, with complete patience and teaching.

Titus 2:7-8 Show yourself in all respects to be a model of good works, and in your teaching show integrity, dignity,⁸ and sound speech that cannot be condemned, so that an opponent may be put to shame, having nothing evil to say about us.

Such “sound speech” (v. 8) involves instruction that is “sound and fit and wise and wholesome, vigorous and irrefutable and above censure” (AMP).

2Tim 2:23-25 Have nothing to do with foolish, ignorant controversies; you know that they breed quarrels. ²⁴*And the Lord’s servant^f must not be quarrelsome but kind to everyone, able to teach, patiently enduring evil,* ²⁵*correcting his opponents with gentleness.* God may perhaps grant them repentance leading to a knowledge of the truth, ...

In v. 24 Paul appears to list aspects of a godly character with Timothy’s teaching role in view. In their instructing – as in their lives generally – teachers should ensure that they are not quarrelsome or resentful, but kind to everyone. Note that in v. 23 Paul may well be referring to silly, trivial issues. Particularly as a teacher, Timothy should avoid such things.

Ecc 12:10 The Preacher sought to find words of delight, and uprightly he wrote words of truth.

Such words encourage learning (cf. Prov 16:21 ↓).

Prov 16:21, 23 The wise of heart is called discerning, and sweetness of speech increases persuasiveness. ... ²³*The heart of the wise makes his speech judicious and adds persuasiveness to his lips.*

These verses and 25:15 below have been included in this subsection as they deal with persuasiveness, which teachers sometimes need.

Prov 25:15 With patience a ruler may be persuaded, and a soft tongue will break a bone.

Along with patience, gentle words and tactfulness increases the persuasiveness of one's speech.

The teaching needs to be correct . . .

Jer 42:4 Jeremiah the prophet said to them, "I have heard you. Behold, I will pray to the LORD your God according to your request, and whatever the LORD answers you I will tell you. I will keep nothing back from you."

Note that this is referring to conveying an answer from God, rather than teaching doctrine – but obviously it is also applicable to the latter.

Acts 5:20 "Go and stand in the temple and speak to the people all the words of this Life."

This is referring to proclaiming the Gospel to non-Christians, rather than primarily to teaching God's people (as is possibly also the case with Colossians 1:25 above) but it is applicable to both situations.

✦ The church should be "a pillar and buttress of the truth":

1Tim 3:15 ... if I delay, you may know how one ought to behave in the household of God, which is the church of the living God, a pillar and buttress of the truth.

The truth should be upheld by the church – which of course involves truth being upheld within the church.

Keep reminding church members of teachings

2Tim 2:14 Remind them of these things, and charge them before God^p not to quarrel about words, which does no good, but only ruins the hearers.

1Cor 15:1 Now I would remind you, brothers,^q of the gospel I preached to you, which you received, in which you stand, ...

Phil 3:1 Finally, my brothers,^r rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you is no trouble to me and is safe for you.

^r Or brothers and sisters; also verses 13, 17

2Pet 1:12-13, 15 Therefore I intend always to remind you of these qualities, though you know them and are established in the truth that you have. ¹³*I think it right, as long as I am in this body,*^s to stir you up by way of reminder,  ... ¹⁵*And I will make every effort so that after my departure you may be able at any time to recall these things.*

^s Greek tent; also verse 14

2Pet 3:1-2 This is now the second letter that I am writing to you, beloved. In both of them I am stirring up your sincere mind by way of reminder, ²*that you should remember the predictions of the holy prophets and the commandment of the Lord and Savior through your apostles, ...*

Note that "the commandment of the Lord and Savior" probably refers to Jesus' teachings as a whole, although some commentators think that the command to love one another may primarily be in view.

1Jn 2:7 Beloved, I am writing you no new commandment, but an old commandment that you had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word that you have heard.

Note: Church members can themselves instruct one another

Col 3:16 Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly, teaching and admonishing one another in all wisdom, singing psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, with thankfulness in your hearts to God.

Rom 15:14 I myself am satisfied about you, my brothers,^t that you yourselves are full of goodness, filled with all knowledge and able to instruct one another.

^t Or brothers and sisters; also verse 30

The expression "filled with all knowledge" suggests that the Roman believers were amply filled with spiritual knowledge (cf. AMP; Col 3:16 ↑). Thus, such believers are competent to instruct each other.

1Cor 14:26 What then, brothers? When you come together, each one has a hymn, a lesson, a revelation, a tongue, or an interpretation. Let all things be done for building up.

Along with giving one another “a lesson”, the other things listed here are also means by which believers learn and grow through each other.

Eph 5:18-19 And do not get drunk with wine, for that is debauchery, but be filled with the Spirit, ¹⁹*addressing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody to the Lord with your heart, ...*

This usage of “psalms and hymns and spiritual songs” (v. 19; cf. Col 3:16 ) is a form of ministry to others, with instruction quite possibly being in view here as one of the prime aims, as such things contain truths of the faith. (The same comment could be made regarding the identical phrase in Colossians 3:16 above.)

1Thes 4:18 Therefore encourage one another with these words.

We should instruct each other in (and remind each other of) the truths of the faith, such as that in view here regarding Christ’s return (cf. vv. 13-17).

✦ Learn together what is right and good:

Job 34:4 Let us choose what is right; let us know among ourselves what is good.

Here Elihu speaks of together discerning and learning what is right and good.

c) Traits of False Teachers (I): Their Teaching

Note that also included in this and the following sections on false teachers are verses regarding false prophets, ungodly priests and other ungodly religious leaders, including Pharisees. For similar to false teachers in the church, all these were in positions of spiritual authority amongst God’s people and taught misleading things.

Subsections

- False teachers speak lies and delusions of their own, in God’s name
- Their teaching is hollow – of worldly, human origin
- False teachers say what their listeners like to hear – appealing and pleasant things . . .
- . . . False teachers do not confront their listeners with their sin
- False teachers teach different doctrine to what is correct
- False teachers distort and oppose the truth
- False teachers typically deny Jesus Christ – and so are of the antichrist
- Other notes about their teaching
- Note: False teachers and their teaching are savage and destructive – causing controversies and divisions

False teachers speak lies and delusions of their own, in God’s name

- False teachers are deceitful, p. 1525

Jer 14:14 And the LORD said to me: “The [false] prophets are prophesying lies in my name. I did not send them, nor did I command them or speak to them. They are prophesying to you a lying vision, worthless divination, and the deceit of their own minds.

Jer 23:16, 26, 31, 36 Thus says the LORD of hosts: “Do not listen to the words of the prophets who prophesy to you, filling you with vain hopes. They speak visions of their own minds, not from the mouth of the LORD.  ... ²⁶How long shall there be lies in the heart of the prophets who prophesy lies, and who prophesy the deceit of their own heart,  ... ³¹Behold, I am against the prophets, declares the LORD, who use their tongues and declare, ‘declares the LORD.’  ... ³⁶*But ‘the burden of the LORD’ you shall mention no more, for the burden is every man’s own word, and you pervert the words of the living God, the LORD of hosts, our God.*

As noted earlier, the word for “burden” (v. 36) can mean “oracle”, depending on the context.

Jer 29:9 ... for it is a lie that they are prophesying to you in my name; I did not send them, declares the LORD.

Ezek 13:3, 6-7, 17 Thus says the Lord GOD, Woe to the foolish prophets who follow their own spirit, and have seen nothing!  ... ⁶*They have seen false visions and lying divinations. They say, 'Declares the LORD,' when the LORD has not sent them, and yet they expect him to fulfill their word. ⁷Have you not seen a false vision and uttered a lying divination, whenever you have said, 'Declares the LORD,' although I have not spoken?'*  ... ¹⁷*And you, son of man, set your face against the daughters of your people, who prophesy out of their own minds. Prophecy against them ...*

Ezek 22:28 And her prophets have smeared whitewash for them, seeing false visions and divining lies for them, saying, 'Thus says the Lord GOD,' when the LORD has not spoken.

2Pet 2:3 And in their greed they will exploit you with false words. Their condemnation from long ago is not idle, and their destruction is not asleep.

Their teaching is hollow – of worldly, human origin

See also:

- False teachers lack understanding and knowledge, p. 1526

Teaching that is hollow is devoid of truth, containing nothing of real value.

Jer 5:13 The prophets will become wind; the word is not in them. Thus shall it be done to them!

Eph 5:6 Let no one deceive you with empty words, for because of these things the wrath of God comes upon the sons of disobedience.

Titus 1:10 For there are many who are insubordinate, empty talkers and deceivers, especially those of the circumcision party.

Jude 1:12 These are hidden reefs^u at your love feasts, as they feast with you without fear, shepherds feeding themselves; waterless clouds, swept along by winds; fruitless trees in late autumn, twice dead, uprooted; ...

^u Or are blemishes

As clouds without rain and trees without fruit do not produce what they appear to promise, so the false teachers do not produce teaching of the soundness and quality that they claim. The phrase “twice dead” quite possibly refers to their physical death and either being effectively dead trees (not having fruit), or being eternally condemned. The term “uprooted” would similarly appear to be a reference either to being devoid of any spiritual roots and life, and/or to eternal condemnation.

Col 2:8 See to it that no one takes you captive by philosophy and empty deceit, according to human tradition, according to the elemental spirits^v of the world, and not according to Christ.

^v Or elementary principles; also verse 20

As indicated in the text note, “the elemental spirits of the world” (cf. v. 20 ↓) may be speaking of the elementary principles of the world. Another possibility is demonic spirits, propagating teaching that is in accordance with worldly thinking.

Col 2:20-22 If with Christ you died to the elemental spirits of the world, why, as if you were still alive in the world, do you submit to regulations— ²¹*“Do not handle, Do not taste, Do not touch”* ²²*(referring to things that all perish as they are used)—according to human precepts and teachings?*

Here Paul has primarily in view the heresy of asceticism – which involved the observance of strict rules to supposedly gain God’s approval. Such thinking is based on a strain of worldly wisdom; it is merely human teachings rather than being of God.

1Jn 4:5 They are from the world; therefore they speak from the world, and the world listens to them.

Mark 7:1-13 Now when the Pharisees gathered to him, with some of the scribes who had come from Jerusalem, ²*they saw that some of his disciples ate with hands that were defiled, that is, unwashed.* ³*(For the Pharisees and all the Jews do not eat unless they wash^w their hands, holding to the tradition of the elders, ⁴and when they come from the marketplace, they do not eat unless they wash.^x And there are many other traditions that they observe, such as the washing of cups and pots and copper vessels and dining couches.)* ⁵*And the Pharisees and the scribes asked him, “Why do your disciples not walk according to the tradition of the elders, but eat with defiled hands?”* ⁶*And he said to them, “Well did Isaiah prophesy of you hypocrites, as it is written, “This people honors me with their lips, but their heart is far from me; ⁷in vain do they worship me, teaching as doctrines the commandments of men.’ ⁸You leave the commandment of God and hold to the tradition of men.”* ⁹*And he said to them, “You have a fine way of rejecting the commandment of God in order to establish your tradition!”* ¹⁰*For Moses said, ‘Honor your father and your mother’; and, ‘Whoever reviles father or mother must surely die.’ ¹¹But you say, ‘If a man tells his father or his mother, “Whatever you would have gained from me is Corban”’ (that is, given to God)^z— ¹²then you no longer permit him to do* anything for his father or mother,¹³ thus making void the word of God by your tradition that you have handed down. And many such things you do.”

^w Greek unless they wash with a fist, probably indicating a kind of ceremonial washing

^y Some manuscripts omit and dining couches

^z Or an offering

The Jewish leaders had developed their own traditions which as such were of human origin – merely “commandments of men ... the tradition of men” (vv. 7-8). Jesus berated them for focusing on their traditions more so than God’s commands. This was particularly serious when their traditions conflicted with God’s commands (vv. 9-11).

✦ Their teaching involves “irreverent babble” and is not true knowledge:

1Tim 6:20-21 O Timothy, guard the deposit entrusted to you. Avoid the *irreverent babble and contradictions of what is falsely called “knowledge,”*²¹ for by professing it some have swerved from the faith. Grace be with you.^a

^a The Greek for you is plural

The phrase ‘what is falsely called “knowledge”’ may refer primarily to Gnosticism. The Gnostics claimed to have an elite, secret knowledge, essential to salvation. Note that similar to the term “irreverent babble”, Paul earlier described such false teaching as “irreverent, silly myths” (4:7).

False teachers say what their listeners like to hear – appealing and pleasant things . . .

^b Or healthy

Jer 29:8 For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Do not let your prophets and your diviners who are among you deceive you, and do not listen to the dreams that they dream,^c ...

^c Hebrew your dreams, which you cause to dream

The text note suggests that the last clause may be referring to dreams that the people encouraged the false prophets to have (cf. NIV).

2Pet 2:18-19 For, speaking loud boasts of folly, they entice by sensual passions of the flesh those who are barely escaping from those who live in error. ¹⁹*They promise them freedom,* but they themselves are slaves^d of corruption. For whatever overcomes a person, to that he is enslaved.

Jer 6:14 They have healed the wound of my people lightly, saying, ‘Peace, peace,’ when there is no peace.

The prophets and priests merely dealt superficially with the spiritual problems of the people, comforting them with false messages of peace (cf. Jer 23:17 ↓).

Jer 23:16-17 Thus says the LORD of hosts: “Do not listen to the words of the prophets who prophesy to you, filling you with vain hopes. They speak visions of their own minds, not from the mouth of the LORD. ¹⁷*They say continually to those who despise the word of the LORD, ‘It shall be well with you’; and to everyone who stubbornly follows his own heart, they say, ‘No disaster shall come upon you.’*”

1Ki 22:11-13 And Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah made for himself horns of iron and said, “Thus says the LORD, ‘With these you shall push the Syrians until they are destroyed.’” ¹²*And all the prophets prophesied so and said, “Go up to Ramoth-gilead and triumph; the LORD will give it into the hand of the king.”* ¹³*And the messenger who went to summon Micaiah said to him, “Behold, the words of the prophets with one accord are favorable to the king. Let your word be like the word of one of them, and speak favorably.”*

The false prophets simply prophesied what they knew the king would like to hear, favourable things. In v. 13 Micaiah is urged to do the same.

... False teachers do not confront their listeners with their sin

Lam 2:14 Your prophets have seen for you false and deceptive visions; they have not exposed your iniquity to restore your fortunes, but have seen for you oracles that are false and misleading.

Ezek 22:27-28 Her princes in her midst are like wolves tearing the prey, shedding blood, destroying lives to get dishonest gain. ²⁸*And her prophets have smeared whitewash* for them, seeing false visions and divining lies for them, saying, 'Thus says the Lord GOD,' when the LORD has not spoken.

Jer 23:17 They say continually to those who despise the word of the LORD, 'It shall be well with you'; and to everyone who stubbornly follows his own heart, they say, 'No disaster shall come upon you.'

The false prophets did not confront their listeners with their sin nor its consequences.

Ezek 13:22 Because you have disheartened the righteous falsely, although I have not grieved him, and you have encouraged the wicked, that he should not turn from his evil way to save his life, ...

Far from confronting them with their sin, the false prophets actively and/or effectively encouraged the wicked not to turn from their evil ways.

✦ Rather than to be told what is right, the Israelites wanted to be told only pleasant things:

Isa 30:9-11 For they are a rebellious people, lying children, children unwilling to hear the instruction of the LORD; ¹⁰who say to the seers, "Do not see," and to the prophets, "Do not prophesy to us what is right; speak to us smooth things, prophesy illusions, ¹¹leave the way, turn aside from the path, let us hear no more about the Holy One of Israel."

Such an attitude is also shown in 2 Timothy 4:3 in the previous subsection. Micah 2:11 similarly reflects this attitude: 'If a man should go about and utter wind and lies, saying, "I will preach to you of wine and strong drink," he would be the preacher for this people!'

False teachers teach different doctrine to what is correct

Rom 16:17 I appeal to you, brothers, to watch out for those who cause divisions and create obstacles contrary to the doctrine that you have been taught; avoid them.

2Cor 11:4 For if someone comes and proclaims another Jesus than the one we proclaimed, or if you receive a different spirit from the one you received, or if you accept a different gospel from the one you accepted, you put up with it readily enough.

Gal 1:6-8 I am astonished that you are so quickly deserting him who called you in the grace of Christ and are turning to a different gospel— ⁷not that there is another one, but there are some who trouble you and want to distort the gospel of Christ. ⁸But even if we or an angel from heaven should preach to you a gospel contrary to the one we preached to you, let him be accursed.

False teachers distort and oppose the truth

▪ Gal 1:7

Acts 20:30 ... and from among your own selves will arise men speaking twisted things, to draw away the disciples after them.

This refers to men "distorting the truth" (NRSV; cf. NCV, NIV, NLT).

2Pet 3:16 ... as he does in all his letters when he speaks in them of these matters. There are some things in them that are hard to understand, which the ignorant and unstable twist to their own destruction, as they do the other Scriptures.

Jer 23:36 But 'the burden of the LORD' you shall mention no more, for the burden is every man's own word, and you pervert the words of the living God, the LORD of hosts, our God.

Mic 3:9 Hear this, you heads of the house of Jacob and rulers of the house of Israel, who detest justice and make crooked all that is straight, ...

The last clause may be speaking of twisting the truth (cf. CEV), hence the inclusion of the verse here. More precisely, it may be referring to perverting justice/equity (cf. AMP, NKJV, NRSV). Note that along with other leaders of Israel, false prophets and ungodly priests appear to be in view here (cf. vv. 5-7, 11).

2Cor 4:2 But we have renounced disgraceful, underhanded ways. We refuse to practice cunning or to tamper with God's word, but by the open statement of the truth we would commend ourselves to everyone's conscience in the sight of God.

The methods of Paul and his associates contrasted with those of false teachers.

2Tim 3:8 Just as Jannes and Jambres opposed Moses, so these men also oppose the truth, men corrupted in mind and disqualified regarding the faith.

2Tim 4:15 Beware of him yourself, for he strongly opposed our message.

Note that this refers to Alexander the coppersmith, not necessarily a false teacher in the church.

False teachers typically deny Jesus Christ – and so are of the antichrist

False teachers typically deny or dilute key aspects of the gospel of Jesus Christ. It is not clear what the false teachers' denial of Jesus Christ below in 2 Peter 2:1 and Jude 1:4b encompassed, although his sovereignty as Lord could largely be in view. In the verses from 1 John and 2 John, the false teaching in view is the Gnostic heresy, which denied that the man Jesus was God's promised Christ incarnated as a human.

2Pet 2:1 But false prophets also arose among the people, just as there will be false teachers among you, who will secretly bring in destructive heresies, even denying the Master who bought them, bringing upon themselves swift destruction.

The phrase "the Master who bought them" appears to suggest that the false teachers had once been saved. But a number of commentators argue that more likely it is referring only to Jesus Christ having paid the price of redemption – as he has for the whole world – and that they had not necessarily appropriated it.

Jude 1:4 For certain people have crept in unnoticed who long ago were designated for this condemnation, ungodly people, who pervert the grace of our God into sensuality and deny our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ.

1Jn 2:22-23 Who is the liar but he who denies that Jesus is the Christ? This is the antichrist, he who denies the Father and the Son. ²³No one who denies the Son has the Father. Whoever confesses the Son has the Father also.

Note that v. 23 explains and elaborates on the last clause of v. 22, stating implications of denying or acknowledging Jesus Christ.

1Jn 4:3 ... and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already.

Here "every spirit" refers to the spirits influencing the false teachers. The last clause probably means that the spirit of the antichrist is already in the world, at work in such false teachers (cf. 2Jn 1:7 ↓).

2Jn 1:7 For many deceivers have gone out into the world, those who do not confess the coming of Jesus Christ in the flesh. Such a one is the deceiver and the antichrist.

Any such false teacher is a deceiver and an enemy of Christ (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV, NLT), effectively doing the work of the antichrist.

✦ False teachers do not have the Holy Spirit:

Jude 1:19 It is these who cause divisions, worldly people, devoid of the Spirit.

Col 2:23 These [regulations] have indeed an appearance of wisdom in promoting self-made religion and asceticism and severity to the body, but they are of no value in stopping the indulgence of the flesh.

This false asceticism (cf. v. 20; 1Tim 4:3 ↓) was a component of Gnostic teaching, which was evident in an early form in Paul's day. It involved strict regulations, including abstinence from food and other things. Despite appearing to be wise and to engender self-control, these regulations were in fact useless in controlling physical desires.

1Tim 1:3-4 As I urged you when I was going to Macedonia, remain at Ephesus so that you may charge certain persons not to teach any different doctrine,⁴ nor to devote themselves to myths and endless genealogies, which promote speculations rather than the stewardship⁸ from God that is by faith.

Ezek 22:26 Her priests have done violence to my law and have profaned my holy things. They have made no distinction between the holy and the common, neither have they taught the difference between the unclean and the clean, and they have disregarded my Sabbaths, so that I am profaned among them. 📖

The things listed are descriptive of the ungodly priests' teaching and/or of actions of theirs that would presumably have been reflected in their teaching.

Matt 23:4, 13, 15 They tie up heavy burdens, hard to bear,^h and lay them on people's shoulders, but they themselves are not willing to move them with their finger. 📖 ... ¹³"But woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! Verse 4 indicates that false teaching can be burdensome and restrictive. Verse 13 speaks of how false teachers hamper people from progressing into God's kingdom. Indeed often those they influence are turned further from God's way than even the false teachers themselves, as v. 15 implies.

✦ They do not strengthen their people spiritually:

Ezek 13:5 You have not gone up into the breaches, or built up a wall for the house of Israel, that it might stand in battle in the day of the LORD. 📖

In failing to strengthen the people spiritually, the false prophets left them vulnerable to punishment on the day of God's judgment.

Note: False teachers and their teaching are savage and destructive – causing controversies and divisions

Matt 7:15 Beware of false prophets, who come to you in sheep's clothing but inwardly are ravenous wolves. 📖

Phil 3:2 Look out for the dogs, look out for the evildoers, look out for those who mutilate the flesh. 📖

The term "dogs" may well refer to the savageness of those who advocated such false teaching, which here was the supposed need of circumcision (cf. Titus 1:10-11 ↓). With dogs being considered an unclean animal by the Jews, the term may also be used here to denote the moral impurity of such people.

John 10:10 The thief comes only to steal and kill and destroy. I came that they may have life and have it abundantly. 📖

Verse 10 suggests that Paul's instructions in v. 9 have in view the things mentioned as being typically associated with false teachers. Note that Paul gives similar instructions to Timothy in 2 Timothy 2:23 – "Have nothing to do with foolish, ignorant controversies; you know that they breed quarrels."

2Pet 2:1 But false prophets also arose among the people, just as there will be false teachers among you, who will secretly bring in destructive heresies, even denying the Master who bought them, bringing upon themselves swift destruction. 📖

1Tim 6:4b-5 He has an unhealthy craving for controversy and for quarrels about words, which produce envy, dissension, slander, evil suspicions, ⁵and constant friction among people who are depraved in mind and deprived of the truth, imagining that godliness is a means of gain. 📖

The quarreling “about words” (v. 4) may have been regarding the technical meaning of certain words. The fondness of false teachers and “people who are depraved in mind” (v. 5) for such controversies and quarrels, leads to animosity amongst themselves as well as affecting the unity of the church as a whole.

The minds and consciences of false teachers are corrupted

- Jude 1:16 ↴; 2Pet 2:19 ↴

Titus 1:15-16 To the pure, all things are pure, but to the defiled and unbelieving, nothing is pure; but both their minds and their consciences are defiled. ¹⁶*They profess to know God, but they deny him by their works. They are detestable, disobedient, unfit for any good work.* 📖

Paul is speaking against false teachers, probably ones who were advocating various ascetic regulations such as prohibitions of certain foods. Paul states that for those who are spiritually pure, all such non-moral things are pure. In contrast, those persons whose minds and consciences are defiled do not have a clear perspective on what is and is not pure, leading them to mistakenly deem such things as impure. In v. 16, the corrupt state of the minds and consciences of the false teachers is further evidenced by their hypocritical and detestable behavior.

1Tim 6:5 ... and constant friction among people who are depraved in mind and deprived of the truth, imagining that godliness is a means of gain. 📖

2Tim 3:8 Just as Jannes and Jambres opposed Moses, so these men also oppose the truth, men corrupted in mind and disqualified regarding the faith. 📖

Col 2:18 Let no one disqualify you, insisting on asceticism and worship of angels, going on in detail about visions,¹ puffed up without reason by his sensuous mind, ... 📖

¹ Or about the things he has seen

The minds of false teachers are characteristically of the flesh (cf. NASB, NKJV) and “sinful” (NLT) – indicative of being corrupted.

1Tim 4:1-2 Now the Spirit expressly says that in later times some will depart from the faith by devoting themselves to deceitful spirits and teachings of demons, ²through the insincerity of liars whose consciences are seared, ... 📖

1Tim 1:5-6 The aim of our charge is love that issues from a pure heart and a good conscience and a sincere faith. ⁶*Certain persons, by swerving from these, have wandered away into vain discussion*, ... 📖

The context shows that here Paul is speaking of false teachers, with “vain discussion” quite probably a reference to their false teaching. The fact that they had wandered away from the particular good things listed (v. 5b), indicates that their minds and consciences had been corrupted.

False teachers typically follow their sinful desires

2Pet 2:9-10, 12-14, 19 ... then the Lord knows how to rescue the godly from trials,^m and to keep the unrighteous under punishment until the day of judgment,¹⁰ and especially those who indulge in the lust of defiling passion and despise authority. Bold and willful, they do not tremble as they blaspheme the glorious ones, ...¹² But these, like irrational animals, creatures of instinct, born to be caught and destroyed, blaspheming about matters of which they are ignorant, will also be destroyed in their destruction,¹³ suffering wrong as the wage for their wrongdoing. They count it pleasure to revel in the daytime. They are blots and blemishes, reveling in their deceptions,ⁿ while they feast with you. ¹⁴*They have eyes full of adultery, insatiable for sin.* They entice unsteady souls. They have hearts trained in greed. Accursed children! ...¹⁹ They promise them freedom, but they themselves are slaves^o of corruption. For whatever overcomes a person, to that he is enslaved. ...

^m Or temptations

ⁿ Some manuscripts love feasts

^o Greek bondservants

Jude 1:4, 16, 18 For certain people have crept in unnoticed who long ago were designated for this condemnation, ungodly people, who pervert the grace of our God into sensuality and deny our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ. ...¹⁶ These are grumblers, malcontents, following their own sinful desires; they are loud-mouthed boasters, showing favoritism to gain advantage. ...¹⁸ They^p said to you, "In the last time there will be scoffers, following their own ungodly passions." ...

^p Or Christ, because they

Jer 23:11, 14 Both prophet and priest are ungodly; even in my house I have found their evil, declares the LORD. ...¹⁴ But in the prophets of Jerusalem I have seen a horrible thing: they commit adultery and walk in lies; they strengthen the hands of evildoers, so that no one turns from his evil; all of them have become like Sodom to me, and its inhabitants like Gomorrah. ...

This does not specifically mention sinful desires or passions, but it further speaks of associated sinful actions, that are typical of false prophets or teachers.

✦ False teachers may exhibit a form of godliness, but do not have its power:

2Tim 3:5 ... having the appearance of godliness, but denying its power. Avoid such people. ...

This speaks of false teachers having an external appearance or form of godliness, but not practicing it and so not allowing its power to permeate their lives.

False teachers are generally greedy for personal gain

See also:

▪ Rom 16:18 ↓

Note that "personal gain" is not limited to material or financial gain (although these are what the following verses refer to). Other things such as power and prestige are also sought by many false teachers.

1Tim 6:4b-5 He has an unhealthy craving for controversy and for quarrels about words, which produce envy, dissension, slander, evil suspicions, ⁵and constant friction among people who are depraved in mind and deprived of the truth, imagining that godliness is a means of gain. ...

Titus 1:11 They must be silenced, since they are upsetting whole families by teaching for shameful gain what they ought not to teach. ...

2Pet 2:3a, 14b-15 And in their greed they will exploit you with false words. ...¹⁴ ... They have hearts trained in greed. Accursed children! ¹⁵Forsaking the right way, they have gone astray. They have followed the way of Balaam, the son of Beor, who loved gain from wrongdoing, ...

Balaam was a pagan prophet or diviner, who was prepared to use his "religious" position for financial gain (cf. Numbers 22-24). The false teachers followed his way (v. 15; cf. Jude 1:11-12 ↓) in being greedy for money as he was. Also their immorality paralleled his work in enticing the Israelites into immortality (cf. Numbers 31:16; Rev 2:14).

Jude 1:11-12 Woe to them! For they walked in the way of Cain and abandoned themselves for the sake of gain to Balaam's error and perished in Korah's rebellion. ¹²These are hidden reefs^q at your love feasts, as they feast with you without fear, shepherds feeding themselves; waterless clouds, swept along by winds; fruitless trees in late autumn, twice dead, uprooted; ...

^q Or are blemishes

John 10:1, 8, 10, 12-13 Truly, truly, I say to you, he who does not enter the sheepfold by the door but climbs in by another way, that man is a thief and a robber.  ... ⁸*All who came before me are thieves and robbers, but the sheep did not listen to them.*  ... ¹⁰*The thief comes only to steal and kill and destroy. I came that they may have life and have it abundantly.*  ... ¹²*He who is a hired hand and not a shepherd, who does not own the sheep, sees the wolf coming and leaves the sheep and flees, and the wolf snatches them and scatters them.* ¹³*He flees because he is a hired hand and cares nothing for the sheep.*

The thieves and robbers represent false Messiahs and/or the false or bad religious leaders who have their own interests at heart, such as the Pharisees and the false prophets of old. Verse 1 appears to be speaking of such people using ungodly methods to put themselves in positions of influence over the people. In v. 12, the mercenary “hired hand” – most likely signifying the religious leaders – puts self-interest ahead of caring for the flock, similarly to the thieves and robbers.

Isa 56:11 The dogs have a mighty appetite; they never have enough. But they are shepherds who have no understanding; they have all turned to their own way, each to his own gain, one and all.

Jer 6:13 For from the least to the greatest of them, everyone is greedy for unjust gain; and from prophet to priest, everyone deals falsely.

The phrase “everyone is greedy for unjust gain” refers to the people generally, but the universality of the greed – from “the least to the greatest” – and the subsequent reference to “prophets and priests”, indicates that the false prophets and priests are included.

Ezek 13:19 You have profaned me among my people for handfuls of barley and for pieces of bread, putting to death souls who should not die and keeping alive souls who should not live, by your lying to my people, who listen to lies.

Ezek 34:2-4 Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel; prophesy, and say to them, even to the shepherds, Thus says the Lord GOD: Ah, shepherds of Israel who have been feeding yourselves! Should not shepherds feed the sheep? ³You eat the fat, you clothe yourselves with the wool, you slaughter the fat ones, but you do not feed the sheep. ⁴The weak you have not strengthened, the sick you have not healed, the injured you have not bound up, the strayed you have not brought back, the lost you have not sought, and with force and harshness you have ruled them.

Note that vv. 3b-4 indicate that in their selfishness, the leaders of Israel – including the spiritual leaders – neglected those for whom they should have been caring.

Mic 3:5, 11 Thus says the LORD concerning the prophets who lead my people astray, who cry “Peace” when they have something to eat, but declare war against him who puts nothing into their mouths.  ... ¹¹*Its heads give judgment for a bribe; its priests teach for a price; its prophets practice divination for money; yet they lean on the LORD and say, “Is not the LORD in the midst of us? No disaster shall come upon us.”*

Note that v. 5 appears to portray the false prophets as giving favorable prophecies to those who fed or paid them and showing animosity in unfavorable prophecies against those who would not.

‡ They want people to be devoted to them:

Gal 4:17 They make much of you, but for no good purpose. They want to shut you out, that you may make much of them.

“They want to shut you out” refers to false teachers trying to shut the readers off from Paul.

False teachers are deceitful

Rom 16:18 For such persons do not serve our Lord Christ, but their own appetites,^r and by smooth talk and flattery they deceive the hearts of the naive.

^r Greek their own belly

2Cor 11:13-15 For such men are false apostles, deceitful workmen, disguising themselves as apostles of Christ. ¹⁴And no wonder, for even Satan disguises himself as an angel of light. ¹⁵So it is no surprise if his servants, also, disguise themselves as servants of righteousness. Their end will correspond to their deeds.

Matt 7:15 Beware of false prophets, who come to you in sheep’s clothing but inwardly are ravenous wolves.

Eph 4:14 ... so that we may no longer be children, tossed to and fro by the waves and carried about by every wind of doctrine, by human cunning, by craftiness in deceitful schemes.

Col 2:4 I say this in order that no one may delude you with plausible arguments.

The term "delude" implies willful deceit.

1Tim 4:1-2 Now the Spirit expressly says that in later times some will depart from the faith by devoting themselves to deceitful spirits and teachings of demons, through the insincerity of liars whose consciences are seared, ...

Both the evil spiritual forces behind false teachers and the lying false teachers themselves are deceitful.

2Tim 3:13 ... while evil people and impostors will go on from bad to worse, deceiving and being deceived.

Titus 1:10 For there are many who are insubordinate, empty talkers and deceivers, especially those of the circumcision party.

2Jn 1:7 For many deceivers have gone out into the world, those who do not confess the coming of Jesus Christ in the flesh. Such a one is the deceiver and the antichrist.

The clause "have gone out into the world" may be indicating that such deceitful false teachers had departed from certain churches – who recognized them for what they were – and now were a threat to other churches.

✦ They secretly introduce false teaching:

2Pet 2:1 But false prophets also arose among the people, just as there will be false teachers among you, who will secretly bring in destructive heresies, even denying the Master who bought them, bringing upon themselves swift destruction.

False teachers typically introduce their false teachings "subtly and stealthily" (AMP) – which further evidences their deceitfulness.

False teachers are often conceited and contemptuous

Col 2:18 Let no one disqualify you, insisting on asceticism and worship of angels, going on in detail about visions,^s puffed up without reason by his sensuous mind, ...

^s Or about the things he has seen

1Tim 6:3-4a If anyone teaches a different doctrine and does not agree with the sound^t words of our Lord Jesus Christ and the teaching that accords with godliness, he is puffed up with conceit and understands nothing.

^t Or healthy

2Pet 2:18 For, speaking loud boasts of folly, they entice by sensual passions of the flesh those who are barely escaping from those who live in error.

Boasting (cf. Jude 1:16 ↓) evidences conceit.

Jude 1:16 These are grumblers, malcontents, following their own sinful desires; they are loud-mouthed boasters, showing favoritism to gain advantage.

Note the additional typical actions mentioned.

2Pet 2:10 ... and especially those [false teachers] who indulge in the lust of defiling passion and despise authority. Bold and willful, they do not tremble as they blaspheme the glorious ones, ...

Jude 1:18 They^u said to you, "In the last time there will be scoffers, following their own ungodly passions."

^u Or Christ, because they

False teachers are in view. Their scoffing shows their contemptuousness.

False teachers lack understanding and knowledge

- 1Tim 6:4 ↑

Matt 15:14 Let them alone; they are blind guides.^v And if the blind lead the blind, both will fall into a pit.

^v Some manuscripts add of the blind

The Pharisees were spiritually blind, lacking insight.

1Tim 1:6-7 Certain persons, by swerving from these, have wandered away into vain discussion, ⁷desiring to be teachers of the law, without understanding either what they are saying or the things about which they make confident assertions.

1Tim 6:5 ... and constant friction among people who are depraved in mind and deprived of the truth, imagining that godliness is a means of gain.

2Tim 3:8-9 Just as Jannes and Jambres opposed Moses, so these men also oppose the truth, men corrupted in mind and disqualified regarding the faith. ⁹But they will not get very far, for their folly will be plain to all, as was that of those two men.

2Pet 2:12 But these, like irrational animals, creatures of instinct, born to be caught and destroyed, blaspheming about matters of which they are ignorant, will also be destroyed in their destruction, ...

2Pet 3:16 ... as he does in all his letters when he speaks in them of these matters. There are some things in them that are hard to understand, which the ignorant and unstable twist to their own destruction, as they do the other Scriptures.

Peter may well have in view that “the ignorant and unstable” false teachers found the things referred to, too hard to understand.

Jude 1:10 But these people blaspheme all that they do not understand, and they are destroyed by all that they, like unreasoning animals, understand instinctively.

Isa 56:10-11 His watchmen are blind; they are all without knowledge; they are all silent dogs; they cannot bark, dreaming, lying down, loving to slumber. ¹¹The dogs have a mighty appetite; they never have enough. But they are shepherds who have no understanding; they have all turned to their own way, each to his own gain, one and all.

Note that additionally v. 10b portrays Israel’s religious leaders as lazy.

Jer 10:21 For the shepherds are stupid and do not inquire of the LORD; therefore they have not prospered, and all their flock is scattered.

Hos 4:6 My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge; because you have rejected knowledge, I reject you from being a priest to me. And since you have forgotten the law of your God, I also will forget your children.

The priests had themselves rejected knowledge and so the people consequently also lacked knowledge.

✦ They wrongly claim to know God:

Titus 1:16 They profess to know God, but they deny him by their works. They are detestable, disobedient, unfit for any good work.

Similarly Jeremiah 2:8 speaks of ungodly priests not knowing God – “Those who handle the law did not know me ...”

^w Some manuscripts add here (or after verse 12) verse 14: Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you devour widows’ houses and for a pretense you make long prayers; therefore you will receive the greater condemnation

With the use of “woe” (v. 17; cf. Luke 1:52 ; Luke 17:1 ; Isa 5:20 ), Jesus pronounces grief and in particular condemnation. Creating great emphasis, Jesus actually uses the condemnatory statement in v. 17a as a refrain throughout Matthew 23 (cf. vv. 13, 15, 23, 25, 27, 29).

Gal 1:8-9 But even if we or an angel from heaven should preach to you a gospel contrary to the one we preached to you, let him be accursed. ⁹As we have said before, so now I say again: If anyone is preaching to you a gospel contrary to the one you received, let him be accursed.

Titus 3:10-11 As for a person who stirs up division, after warning him once and then twice, have nothing more to do with him, ¹¹*knowing that such a person is warped and sinful; he is self-condemned.*

Paul does not say how or why such a false teacher is “self” condemned (v. 11). The thought may be that one condemns oneself by not heeding warnings (v. 10) and being “warped and sinful” (v. 11).

Jude 1:4 For certain people have crept in unnoticed who long ago were designated for this condemnation, ungodly people, who pervert the grace of our God into sensuality and deny our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ.

Luke 17:1 And he said to his disciples, “Temptations to sin^x are sure to come, but woe to the one through whom they come!

^x Greek Stumbling blocks

This is not specifically referring to false teachers, but no doubt is applicable to them. The same applies to the following verse from Isaiah.

Isa 5:20 Woe to those who call evil good and good evil, who put darkness for light and light for darkness, who put bitter for sweet and sweet for bitter!

Matt 7:19 Every tree that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire.

Jesus said this when speaking about false prophets (cf. vv. 15-16). The “fire” is probably a reference to their eternal destiny in hell.

2Cor 11:15 So it is no surprise if his servants, also, disguise themselves as servants of righteousness. Their end will correspond to their deeds.

Gal 5:10 I have confidence in the Lord that you will take no other view than mine, and the one who is troubling you will bear the penalty, whoever he is.

The final destruction of such false teachers is quite possibly primarily in view.

2Pet 2:1-6, 9, 12-13a, 17 But false prophets also arose among the people, just as there will be false teachers among you, who will secretly bring in destructive heresies, even denying the Master who bought them, bringing upon themselves swift destruction. ²And many will follow their sensuality, and because of them the way of truth will be blasphemed. ³And in their greed they will exploit you with false words. Their condemnation from long ago is not idle, and their destruction is not asleep. ⁴For if God did not spare angels when they sinned, but cast them into hell^y and committed them to chains^z of gloomy darkness to be kept until the judgment; ⁵if he did not spare the ancient world, but preserved Noah, a herald of righteousness, with seven others, when he brought a flood upon the world of the ungodly; ⁶if by turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah to ashes he condemned them to extinction, making them an example of what is going to happen to the ungodly;^a  ... ⁹then the Lord knows how to rescue the godly from trials,^b and to keep the unrighteous under punishment until the day of judgment,  ... ¹²But these, like irrational animals, creatures of instinct, born to be caught and destroyed, blaspheming about matters of which

^b Or temptations

The term “swift destruction” (v. 1) means that their destruction will be “sudden” (GNT) rather than immediate, possibly referring to their eternal destiny rather than demise in the present life.

2Pet 3:16 ... as he does in all his letters when he speaks in them of these matters. There are some things in them that are hard to understand, which the ignorant and unstable twist to their own destruction, as they do the other Scriptures.

Jer 14:15 Therefore thus says the LORD concerning the prophets who prophesy in my name although I did not send them, and who say, ‘Sword and famine shall not come upon this land’: By sword and famine those prophets shall be consumed.

Jer 23:15 Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts concerning the prophets: “Behold, I will feed them with bitter food and give them poisoned water to drink, for from the prophets of Jerusalem ungodliness has gone out into all the land.”

Ezek 13:14-16 And I will break down the wall that you have smeared with whitewash, and bring it down to the ground, so that its foundation will be laid bare. When it falls, you shall perish in the midst of it, and you shall know that I am the LORD. ¹⁵*Thus will I spend my wrath upon the wall and upon those who have smeared it with whitewash, and I will say to you, The wall is no more, nor those who smeared it,* ¹⁶*the prophets of Israel who prophesied concerning Jerusalem and saw visions of peace for her, when there was no peace, declares the Lord GOD.*

The references to a “wall” may refer to the protective walls of Jerusalem. Metaphorically speaking, the false prophets whitewashed the walls of Israel’s security – leading the people to think that they would have peace when in fact judgment loomed.

‡ Anyone who relaxes any commandment is the “least” in God’s kingdom:

Matt 5:19 Therefore whoever relaxes one of the least of these commandments and teaches others to do the same will be called least in the kingdom of heaven, but whoever does them and teaches them will be called great in the kingdom of heaven. 📖

The phrase “in the kingdom of heaven” implies that such people may still be accepted into the kingdom rather than being shut out and in hell. As such it would have in view other redeeming aspects of their lives and beliefs. However being “called least in the kingdom of heaven” may be referring to the consummation of the kingdom and its reign enveloping all creation, with such people being deemed as the least of all people – in effect condemned.

Acts 20:29-31 I know that after my departure fierce wolves will come in among you, not sparing the flock;³⁰and from among your own selves will arise men speaking twisted things, to draw away the disciples after them.³¹Therefore be alert, remembering that for three years I did not cease night or day to admonish everyone with tears. 📖

Paul refers here to those who taught that circumcision was necessary to gain God’s approval.

1Jn 4:4 Little children, you are from God and have overcome them, for he who is in you is greater than he who is in the world. 📖

John speaks here of his readers not being caught out by false prophets or teachers, because “he” who is in them – most likely referring to the Holy Spirit – is greater than Satan.

We should watch out that we do not get led astray by false teachers and lose our reward.

Note that in saying “knowing this beforehand”, Peter is referring to earlier informing them of the threat of false teachers.

Isa 8:19-20 And when they say to you, “Inquire of the mediums and the necromancers who chirp and mutter,” should not a people inquire of their God? Should they inquire of the dead on behalf of the living? ²⁰To the teaching and to the testimony! If they will not speak according to this word, it is because they have no dawn.

Although mediums and spiritists are primarily in view (v. 19), v. 20 is readily applicable to assessing any teachers by comparing their teaching with God’s word. The last statement indicates that if any instruction is not in accordance with God’s word (v. 20a), then the person advocating it has no spiritual light.

Acts 17:11 Now these Jews were more noble than those in Thessalonica; they received the word with all eagerness, examining the Scriptures daily to see if these things were so.

1Tim 6:3-4a If anyone teaches a different doctrine and does not agree with the soundⁱ words of our Lord Jesus Christ and the teaching that accords with godliness, ⁴he is puffed up with conceit and understands nothing.

ⁱ Or healthy

This implies that teaching that does not agree with that of Jesus Christ and what is known to be godly teaching, is doctrinally false.

1Jn 4:1-3, 6 Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, for many false prophets have gone out into the world. ²By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, ³and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already.  ... ⁶We are from God. Whoever knows God listens to us; whoever is not from God does not listen to us. By this we know the Spirit of truth and the spirit of error.

In vv. 1-3, “spirit” refers to the spirit influencing a person to either acknowledge Jesus Christ or not – indicative of whether the “spirit” is the Holy Spirit or an evil one. Verse 6 indicates that those teachers who did not listen to the apostles were not from God. Similarly we can recognize present-day teachers to be false if they: do not acknowledge Jesus Christ and what the NT states about him; or do not believe or follow the apostles' writings.

✦ The test of fulfilled prophecy:

Deut 18:21-22 And if you say in your heart, 'How may we know the word that the LORD has not spoken?'— ²²when a prophet speaks in the name of the LORD, if the word does not come to pass or come true, that is a word that the LORD has not spoken; the prophet has spoken it presumptuously. You need not be afraid of him.

If what someone proclaims in God's name does not come true, it shows them to be a false prophet. However if it does take place this does not necessarily mean that they are of God (cf. Deut 13:1-3; Matt 24:24; 2Thes 2:9-10; Rev 13:13-14); we must still evaluate what they teach.

False teachers can be recognized by their "fruit" and actions

See also:

- d) Traits of False Teachers (II): Characteristics, p. 1523

Matt 7:16-18 You will recognize them by their fruits. Are grapes gathered from thornbushes, or figs from thistles? ¹⁷So, every healthy tree bears good fruit, but the diseased tree bears bad fruit. ¹⁸A healthy tree cannot bear bad fruit, nor can a diseased tree bear good fruit.

Jesus is speaking of recognizing false prophets. As used here, "fruit" is that which one's inner being or character produces – basically one's words (cf. Matt 12:33-34 ↓) and actions. In a secondary sense, the effect of one's words and actions – particularly on other people – is also one's produce or "fruit".

Matt 12:33-34 Either make the tree good and its fruit good, or make the tree bad and its fruit bad, for the tree is known by its fruit. ³⁴You brood of vipers! How can you speak good, when you are evil? For out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaks.

In v. 33 Jesus appears firstly to be speaking of the good works he had done – in particular driving out demons (cf. vv. 22-32) – as being evidence that he was of God, not Satan. In v. 34 he indicates that the principle expressed in v. 33 likewise showed the nature of the Pharisees – which in their case was evil.

1Jn 3:7-8, 10 Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. ⁸Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil.

 ... ¹⁰*By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother.*

In speaking of how to recognize who are the children of God and who are not, John is speaking of people in the church community – and appears to primarily have in view recognizing false teachers (v. 7a; cf. 2:18-26).

2Jn 1:9 Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son.

Quite likely John has false teachers in view (cf. v. 7, 10). Any teacher who "goes beyond Christ's teaching" (NCV™) or the teaching "about Christ" (CEV) – in what they teach and/or how they live – is shown to "not have God".

Titus 1:16 They profess to know God, but they deny him by their works. They are detestable, disobedient, unfit for any good work.

The ungodly actions of these Cretan false teachers was clear evidence against them.

Do not tolerate false teachers and their teaching . . .

Rev 2:2 I know your works, your toil and your patient endurance, and how you cannot bear with those who are evil, but have tested those who call themselves apostles and are not, and found them to be false.

1Tim 1:3-4 As I urged you when I was going to Macedonia, remain at Ephesus so that you may charge certain persons not to teach any different doctrine, ⁴nor to devote themselves to myths and endless genealogies, which promote speculations rather than the stewardship^k from God that is by faith.

^k Or good order

Titus 1:10-11 For there are many who are insubordinate, empty talkers and deceivers, especially those of the circumcision party. ¹¹They must be silenced, since they are upsetting whole families by teaching for shameful gain what they ought not to teach.

Gal 2:4-5 Yet because of false brothers secretly brought in—who slipped in to spy out our freedom that we have in Christ Jesus, so that they might bring us into slavery— ⁵*to them we did not yield in submission even for a moment*, so that the truth of the gospel might be preserved for you. 📖

Do not tolerate and so do not succumb to false teachers and their teaching.

Col 2:16 Therefore let no one pass judgment on you in questions of food and drink, or with regard to a festival or a new moon or a Sabbath. 📖

False teachers are in view here. As part of not putting up with them and their teaching, we should not give any credence to what they think of what we do or believe.

2Cor 11:4, 19-20 For if someone comes and proclaims another Jesus than the one we proclaimed, or if you receive a different spirit from the one you received, or if you accept a different gospel from the one you accepted, you put up with it readily enough. 📖 ... ¹⁹*For you gladly bear with fools, being wise yourselves!* ²⁰*For you bear it if someone makes slaves of you, or devours you, or takes advantage of you, or puts on airs, or strikes you in the face.* 📖

This and the following references (Gal 3:1; Rev 2:14-16, 20) contain rebukes for tolerating false teachers and even accepting their teaching. Here the Corinthians were so extreme in their quest for more knowledge and wisdom, that they were willing to put up with teachers who were fools (vv. 4, 19) and even with abuse from them (v. 20).

Gal 3:1 O foolish Galatians! Who has bewitched you? It was before your eyes that Jesus Christ was publicly portrayed as crucified. 📖

Rev 2:14-16, 20 But I have a few things against you: you have some there who hold the teaching of Balaam, who taught Balak to put a stumbling block before the sons of Israel, so that they might eat food sacrificed to idols and practice sexual immorality. ¹⁵*So also you have some who hold the teaching of the Nicolaitans.* ¹⁶*Therefore repent.* If not, I will come to you soon and war against them with the sword of my mouth. 📖 ... ²⁰*But I have this against you, that you tolerate that woman Jezebel, who calls herself a prophetess and is teaching and seducing my servants¹ to practice sexual immorality and to eat food sacrificed to idols.* 📖

... Have nothing to do with false teachers

Rom 16:17 I appeal to you, brothers, to watch out for those who cause divisions and create obstacles contrary to the doctrine that you have been taught; avoid them. 📖

1Cor 15:33-34 Do not be deceived: "Bad company ruins good morals."^m ³⁴*Wake up from your drunken stupor, as is right, and do not go on sinning.* For some have no knowledge of God. I say this to your shame. 📖

^m Probably from Menander's comedy Thais

The bad company referred to (v. 33) appears to be false teachers who denied the resurrection. As such, the implication is that the Corinthians should "not go on sinning" (v. 34), disassociating from them, spurning them and their teaching.

2Tim 3:5 ... having the appearance of godliness, but denying its power. Avoid such people. 📖

Paul appears to have false teachers at least primarily in view here (cf. vv. 6-9).

Titus 3:9-10 But avoid foolish controversies, genealogies, dissensions, and quarrels about the law, for they are unprofitable and worthless. ¹⁰*As for a person who stirs up division, after warning him once and then twice, have nothing more to do with him, ...* 📖

1Tim 4:7 Have nothing to do with irreverent, silly myths. Rather train yourself for godliness; ... 📖

In conjunction with having nothing to do with false teachers, have nothing to do with their teaching.

2Jn 1:10-11 If anyone comes to you and does not bring this teaching, do not receive him into your house or give him any greeting, ¹¹*for whoever greets him takes part in his wicked works.* 📖

Deut 18:20 But the prophet who presumes to speak a word in my name that I have not commanded him to speak, orⁿ who speaks in the name of other gods, that same prophet shall die. 📖

ⁿ Or and

Although believers do not put to death such false prophets or teachers, this does point to the need to dissociate from them. (This also highlights the evil and foolishness of being presumptuous in proclaiming something as being of God.)

✦ Work against false teachers:

2Cor 11:12-13 And what I do I will continue to do, in order to undermine the claim of those who would like to claim that in their boasted mission they work on the same terms as we do.

¹³*For such men are false apostles, deceitful workmen, disguising themselves as apostles of Christ.*

Note that Paul's work against false teachers can also be seen in the previous subsection, in him advocating the silencing of false teachers in 1 Timothy 1:3-4 and Titus 1:10-11.

Note: False teachers often succeed in leading people astray . . .

Gal 1:6-7 I am astonished that you are so quickly deserting him who called you in the grace of Christ and are turning to a different gospel—⁷not that there is another one, but there are some who trouble you and want to distort the gospel of Christ.

1Tim 6:20-21 O Timothy, guard the deposit entrusted to you. Avoid the irreverent babble and contradictions of what is falsely called "knowledge," ²¹for by professing it some have swerved from the faith. Grace be with you.^p

2Tim 2:17-18 ... and their talk will spread like gangrene. Among them are Hymenaeus and Philetus, ¹⁸who have swerved from the truth, saying that the resurrection has already happened. They are upsetting the faith of some.

Here "upsetting" (cf. Titus 1:11) may have the sense of "undermining" (AMP; cf. NLT) or even "destroying" (CEV, NCV; cf. NIV, NKJV).

2Pet 2:18 For, speaking loud boasts of folly, they entice by sensual passions of the flesh those who are barely escaping from those who live in error.

Rev 2:20 But I have this against you, that you tolerate that woman Jezebel, who calls herself a prophetess and is teaching and seducing my servants^q to practice sexual immorality and to eat food sacrificed to idols.

Matt 24:11, 24 And many false prophets will arise and lead many astray. ... ²⁴*For false christs and false prophets will arise and perform great signs and wonders, so as to lead astray, if possible, even the elect.*

The phrase "if possible" (v. 24) is not necessarily speaking of whether or not such deception of the elect is possible. It may simply be referring to the intent of the deceivers. (cf. ZBC)

Gal 5:7-9 You were running well. Who hindered you from obeying the truth? ⁸*This persuasion is not from him who calls you. ⁹A little leaven leavens the whole lump.*

The quotation in v. 9 is used to illustrate that false teaching (cf. vv. 7b-8a) – the "persuasion" – can spread through a whole church.

Titus 1:11 They must be silenced, since they are upsetting whole families by teaching for shameful gain what they ought not to teach.

2Pet 2:2 And many will follow their sensuality, and because of them the way of truth will be blasphemed.

Isa 3:12b O my people, your guides mislead you and they have swallowed up^r the course of your paths.

^r Or they have confused

Isa 9:15-16 ... the elder and honored man is the head, and the prophet who teaches lies is the tail; ¹⁶for those who guide this people have been leading them astray, and those who are guided by them are swallowed up.

The prophets along with "the elder and honored man" led astray the people as a whole (cf. Isa 3:12b ; Jer 50:6 .

Jer 50:6 My people have been lost sheep. Their shepherds have led them astray, turning them away on the mountains. From mountain to hill they have gone. They have forgotten their fold.

Mal 2:8 But you have turned aside from the way. You have caused many to stumble by your instruction. You have corrupted the covenant of Levi, says the LORD of hosts, ...

✦ Nevertheless, God's foundation stands firm:

2Tim 2:19 But God's firm foundation stands, bearing this seal: "The Lord knows those who are his," and, "Let everyone who names the name of the Lord depart from iniquity."

The "firm foundation" most likely refers to either God's truth or the church. Despite the efforts of the false teachers (cf. vv.

16-18), God's foundation stands firm. The foundation is sealed with two complementary facets of the faith, referred to by the two quotations. The first points to God's firm hold on those who are his. The second underlines a key aspect of what identifies and affirms them as truly being God's people.

I. Loving Qualities

The importance of love could hardly be more emphatically stated by the Bible. Love should encompass every area of our lives and be the basis of all that we do in relating to people. Other personal qualities reflective of love are also regularly applicable in our relationships with other people (and are also discussed in this section).

Note that the teaching in this and the subsequent chapters in Part G. Relating to People is also relevant to the preceding part of this book, Part F. Church Life.

1Cor 13:4-7 Love is patient and kind; love does not envy or boast; it is not arrogant⁵ or rude. It does not insist on its own way; it is not irritable or resentful;^a it does not rejoice at wrongdoing, but rejoices with the truth.⁷ Love bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things.

^a Greek irritable and does not count up wrongdoing

The Greek rendered as "bears" (v. 7a) can be understood to speak of protecting (cf. NIV) and supporting (cf. CEV), along with persevering. The subsequent two phrases in v. 7, "believes all things, hopes all things", probably mean that love is ever prepared to believe the best of others and hopes the best for them (cf. ESB).

1Jn 3:16-18 By this we know love, that he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. ¹⁷But if anyone has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him? ¹⁸Little children, let us not love in word or talk but in deed and in truth.

Jesus Christ exemplified love for us (v. 16) and so we should love by emulating him in living sacrificially for others. In conjunction with this, we should not merely love with words but with actions and sincerity (vv. 17-18).

1Jn 4:10-11, 19 In this is love, not that we have loved God but that he loved us and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins. ¹¹Beloved, if God so loved us, we also ought to love one another.  ... ¹⁹We love because he first loved us.

Just as we should try to emulate Jesus Christ's love as shown in laying down his life for us (cf. 1Jn 3:16 ↑), so we should try to emulate God's love in sending his Son to die for us (vv. 10-11). In accordance with this teaching, v. 19 suggests that our love for others is prompted by and is an emulation of God's love for us.

2Jn 1:6 And this is love, that we walk according to his commandments; this is the commandment, just as you have heard from the beginning, so that you should walk in it.

This appears to be saying that we manifest love by walking in obedience to God's commands (v. 6a), one of which is in fact the command to love one another (v. 6b) – "walk in love" (AMP, NIV; cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NLT).

The supremacy of love

Mark 12:28-33 And one of the scribes came up and heard them disputing with one another, and seeing that he answered them well, asked him, "Which commandment is the most important of all?"²⁹ Jesus answered, "The most important is, 'Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God, the Lord is one.³⁰ And you shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind and with all your strength.'³¹ The second is this: 'You shall love your neighbor as yourself.'³² There is no other commandment greater than these." ³²And the scribe said to him, "You are right, Teacher. You have truly said that he is one, and there is no other besides him. ³³*And to love him with all the heart and with all the understanding and with all the strength, and to love one's neighbor as oneself, is much more than all whole burnt offerings and sacrifices.*"

Obviously this speaks of the utmost importance of love for God, as well as of love for others, the subject of this section.

1Cor 12:31; 13:1-3, 8, 13 But earnestly desire the higher gifts. And I will show you a still more excellent way. ^{13:1}If I speak in the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I am a noisy gong or a clanging cymbal. ²And if I have prophetic powers, and understand all mysteries and all knowledge, and if I have all faith, so as to remove mountains, but have not love, I am nothing. ³If I give away all I have, and if I deliver up my body to be burned, ^b*but have not love, I gain nothing*. ... ⁸*Love never ends*. As for prophecies, they will pass away; as for tongues, they will cease; as for knowledge, it will pass away. ... ¹³So now faith, hope, and love abide, these three; but the greatest of these is love.

^b Some manuscripts deliver up my body [to death] that I may boast

Col 3:12-14 Put on then, as God's chosen ones, holy and beloved, compassionate hearts, kindness, humility, meekness, and patience, ¹³bearing with one another and, if one has a complaint against another, forgiving each other; as the Lord has forgiven you, so you also must forgive. ¹⁴And above all these put on love, which binds everything together in perfect harmony.

This points to the supremacy of love over other virtues – suggesting it is “more important than anything” (CEV; cf. NLT). Verse 14 infers that love “is the perfect bond of unity” (NASB).

James 2:8 If you really fulfill the royal law according to the Scripture, “You shall love your neighbor as yourself,” you are doing well.

The reference to this command as “the royal law” points to its supremacy amongst laws regarding our relationships with others.

1Pet 4:8 Above all, keep loving one another earnestly, since love covers a multitude of sins.

“Above all” points to loving others as the most important thing to do in our relationships with others. Note that this quotes Proverbs 10:12 – “... love covers all offenses.” It does not mean that loving others atones for sin, but that love forgives and “buries” the sins of others – particularly wrongs against oneself.

✦ Better a little with love than much with hatred:

Prov 15:17 Better is a dinner of herbs where love is than a fattened ox and hatred with it.

2Jn 1:6 And this is love, that we walk according to his commandments; this is the commandment, just as you have heard from the beginning, so that you should walk in it.

As suggested earlier, the last clause is saying that we should: “Live a life of love.” (NCV™)

Rom 13:8 Owe no one anything, except to love each other, for the one who loves another has fulfilled the law.

This implies that we are to continually love one another.

1Cor 14:1 Pursue love, and earnestly desire the spiritual gifts, especially that you may prophesy.

We are to strive hard to be loving, showing love in all aspects of our lives.

1Tim 6:11b Pursue righteousness, godliness, faith, love, steadfastness, gentleness.

Similarly 2 Timothy 2:22 says, “... pursue righteousness, faith, love ...”

Do things in love

1Cor 16:14 Let all that you do be done in love.

Gal 5:6, 13 For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision nor uncircumcision counts for anything, but only faith working through love. ... ¹³For you were called to freedom, brothers. Only do not use your freedom as an opportunity for the flesh, but through love serve one another.

Eph 4:1-2 I therefore, a prisoner for the Lord, urge you to walk in a manner worthy of the calling to which you have been called, ²with all humility and gentleness, with patience, bearing with one another in love, ...

Eph 4:15-16 Rather, speaking the truth in love, we are to grow up in every way into him who is the head, into Christ, ¹⁶from whom the whole body, joined and held together by every joint with which it is equipped, when each part is working properly, makes the body grow so that it builds itself up in love.

The body of Christ “builds itself up in love” (v. 16) by each part of it doing its work in love.

Phil 1:15-16 Some indeed preach Christ from envy and rivalry, but others from good will. ¹⁶The latter do it out of love, knowing that I am put here for the defense of the gospel.

1Thes 5:13a ... and to esteem them very highly in love because of their work.

Rom 15:30 I appeal to you, brothers, by our Lord Jesus Christ and by the love of the Spirit, to strive together with me in your prayers to God on my behalf, ...

Paul appears to exhort his readers by or in love – which comes from the Holy Spirit. However, alternatively he may be urging them to act according to the love given to them (cf. NLT).

Philem 1:8-9 Accordingly, though I am bold enough in Christ to command you to do what is required, ⁹*yet for love's sake I prefer to appeal to you*—I, Paul, an old man and now a prisoner also for Christ Jesus—

Similar to Romans 15:30 above, the love referred to appears to be that with which Paul makes his appeal (cf. GNT, NCV, NLT).

✦ An exhortation against an action not done in love:

Rom 14:15 For if your brother is grieved by what you eat, you are no longer walking in love. By what you eat, do not destroy the one for whom Christ died.

Love others as you love yourself . . .

Lev 19:18 You shall not take vengeance or bear a grudge against the sons of your own people, but you shall love your neighbor as yourself: I am the LORD.

Mark 12:31, 33 The second is this: 'You shall love your neighbor as yourself.' There is no other commandment greater than these." ... ³³And to love him with all the heart and with all the understanding and with all the strength, and to love one's neighbor as oneself, is much more than all whole burnt offerings and sacrifices.

James 2:8 If you really fulfill the royal law according to the Scripture, "You shall love your neighbor as yourself," you are doing well.

Lev 19:34 You shall treat the stranger who sojourns with you as the native among you, and you shall love him as yourself, for you were strangers in the land of Egypt: I am the LORD your God.

Luke 10:25-37 And behold, a lawyer stood up to put him to the test, saying, “Teacher, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?” ²⁶He said to him, “What is written in the Law? How do you read it?” ²⁷And he answered, “You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength and with all your mind, and your neighbor as yourself.” ²⁸And he said to him, “You have answered correctly; do this, and you will live.” ²⁹But he, desiring to justify himself, said to Jesus, “And who is my neighbor?” ³⁰Jesus replied, “A man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and he fell among robbers, who stripped him and beat him and departed, leaving him half dead. ³¹Now by chance a priest was going down that road, and when he saw him he passed by on the other side. ³²So likewise a Levite, when he came to the place and saw him, passed by on the other side. ³³But a Samaritan, as he journeyed, came to where he was, and when he saw him, he had compassion. ³⁴He went to him and bound up his wounds, pouring on oil and wine. Then he set him on his own animal and brought him to an inn and took care of him. ³⁵And the next day he took out two denarii^c and gave them to the innkeeper, saying, ‘Take care of him, and whatever more you spend, I will repay you when I come back.’ ³⁶Which of these three, do you think, proved to be a neighbor to the man who fell among the robbers?” ³⁷He said, “The one who showed him mercy.” And Jesus said to him, “You go, and do likewise.”

^c A denarius was a day's wage for a laborer

In v. 29 the lawyer asked who was his neighbor, whom he should love as himself (cf. v. 27b). But in concluding his reply, Jesus turned the question around, asking instead who had acted as a neighbor, showing love to another. The implication of Jesus' reply is that the key to fulfilling the command to love one's neighbor as oneself (v. 27) is not in determining who is one's neighbor, but in one's willingness to love as a neighbor. We should accordingly love all people we encounter.

... "Love your neighbor as yourself" sums up God's law

See also:

- Mark 12:31, 33 ↑

The whole moral law – all that involves our relationships with other people – is summed up by the command to love others as ourselves. In doing so, we fulfill or carry out the law.

Rom 13:8-10 Owe no one anything, except to love each other, for the one who loves another has fulfilled the law. ⁹For the commandments, "You shall not commit adultery, You shall not murder, You shall not steal, You shall not covet," and any other commandment, are summed up in this word: "You shall love your neighbor as yourself." ¹⁰Love does no wrong to a neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law. 📖

Gal 5:14 For the whole law is fulfilled in one word: "You shall love your neighbor as yourself." 📖

Matt 22:37-40 And he said to him, "You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. ³⁸This is the great and first commandment. ³⁹And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. ⁴⁰On these two commandments depend all the Law and the Prophets." 📖

Just as all aspects of the law involving our relationships with other are summed up by the command to love your neighbor as yourself, so all aspects of the law involving our relationship with God are summed up by the command to love God "with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind" (v. 37). As such, all "the Law and the Prophets" are based on (cf. CEV, NIV, NLT) and depend (cf. Amp, GNT, NCV, NASB) on these two commandments.

✚ Do to others what you would want them to do to you:

Matt 7:12 So whatever you wish that others would do to you, do also to them, for this is the Law and the Prophets. 📖

To do to others what you wish they would do to you (cf. Luke 6:31 ↓) is the practical application of "love your neighbor as yourself" (NEL). As such, it likewise sums up God's law.

Love your enemies and do good to them . . .

Matt 5:43-44 You have heard that it was said, 'You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy.' ⁴⁴But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, ... 📖

Luke 6:27-36 But I say to you who hear, Love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, ²⁸bless those who curse you, pray for those who abuse you. ²⁹To one who strikes you on the cheek, offer the other also, and from one who takes away your cloak do not withhold your tunic^d either. ³⁰Give to everyone who begs from you, and from one who takes away your goods do not demand them back. ³¹And as you wish that others would do to you, do so to them. ³²"If you love those who love you, what benefit is that to you? For even sinners love those who love them. ³³And if you do good to those who do good to you, what benefit is that to you? For even sinners do the same. ³⁴And if you lend to those from whom you expect to receive, what credit is that to you? Even sinners lend to sinners, to get back the same amount. ³⁵But love your enemies, and do good, and lend, expecting nothing in return, and your reward will be great, and you will be sons of the Most High, for he is kind to the ungrateful and the evil. ³⁶Be merciful, even as your Father is merciful. 📖

Verses 29-30 largely speak of meekness in the face of mistreatment; the context suggests that such non-retaliation is an aspect of loving our enemies. Verse 35 shows that those who love and do good to their enemies – not simply just to those who do the right thing by them (v. 32-34) – will be considered God's children, as such love and kindness to enemies reflects God's own kindness to "the ungrateful and the evil". Verse 36 reiterates this theme, most likely having primarily in view showing mercy to enemies – as opposed to exacting vengeance on them.

Ex 23:4-5 If you meet your enemy's ox or his donkey going astray, you shall bring it back to him. ⁵If you see the donkey of one who hates you lying down under its burden, you shall refrain from leaving him with it; you shall rescue it with him. 📖

Lev 19:18 You shall not take vengeance or bear a grudge against the sons of your own people, but you shall love your neighbor as yourself: I am the LORD. ￼

Rom 12:17-21 Repay no one evil for evil, but give thought to do what is honorable in the sight of all. ¹⁸If possible, so far as it depends on you, live peaceably with all. ¹⁹*Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave it^e to the wrath of God, for it is written, "Vengeance is mine, I will repay, says the Lord."* ²⁰*To the contrary, "if your enemy is hungry, feed him; if he is thirsty, give him something to drink; for by so doing you will heap burning coals on his head."* ²¹*Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good.* ￼

To be "overcome by evil" (v. 21) means here to succumb to repaying evil with evil, being enveloped by evil through acting in evil – letting "evil get the best of you" (NLT). We need to bear in mind that evil not only threatens us from outside sources, but can also well up from within ourselves, permeating us. Rather than being "overcome by evil", one should defeat evil by doing good, as depicted in v. 20. Note that v. 20b depicts the significant impact that doing good has on one's enemy, probably implying that it is more incisive than retaliation (cf. 2Ki 6:23 ↓).

1Thes 5:15 See that no one repays anyone evil for evil, but always seek to do good to one another and to everyone. ￼

1Pet 3:9 Do not repay evil for evil or reviling for reviling, but on the contrary, bless, for to this you were called, that you may obtain a blessing. ￼

Rather than responding in kind to those who revile or curse us, we are to respond by blessing them (cf. Luke 6:28 ↑; Rom 12:14 ↓; 1Cor 4:12 ↓). In such contexts, to bless others is effectively to pray for God's blessing on them. In doing so, we ourselves will be blessed by God – as indicated by the last clause.

Rom 12:14 Bless those who persecute you; bless and do not curse them. ￼

1Cor 4:12b-13a When reviled, we bless; when persecuted, we endure; ¹³when slandered, we entreat. ￼

Verse 13a appears to speak of responding diplomatically to slander – with kind or gentle words (cf. AMP, CEV, GNT, NIV, NLT, NRSV) – having the aim of making peace.

2Ki 6:21-23 As soon as the king of Israel saw them, he said to Elisha, "My father, shall I strike them down? Shall I strike them down?" ²²He answered, "You shall not strike them down. Would you strike down those whom you have taken captive with your sword and with your bow? Set bread and water before them, that they may eat and drink and go to their master." ²³*So he prepared for them a great feast, and when they had eaten and drunk, he sent them away, and they went to their master.* And the Syrians did not come again on raids into the land of Israel. ￼

The men concerned were a large force of enemy soldiers that Elisha had delivered into the hands of the king of Israel, through God striking them with temporary blindness (cf. vv. 18-20). Verse 23 suggests that largely by this repayment of intended evil with good, the hostility of the enemies was dissolved.

2Chr 28:9-11, 15 But a prophet of the LORD was there, whose name was Oded, and he went out to meet the army that came to Samaria and said to them, "Behold, because the LORD, the God of your fathers, was angry with Judah, he gave them into your hand, but you have killed them in a rage that has reached up to heaven." ¹⁰*And now you intend to subjugate the people of Judah and Jerusalem, male and female, as your slaves. Have you not sinned of your own against the LORD your God?* ¹¹*Now hear me, and send back the captives from your relatives whom you have taken, for the fierce wrath of the LORD is upon you.*" ￼

... ¹⁵And the men who have been mentioned by name rose and took the captives, and with the spoil they clothed all who were naked among them. They clothed them, gave them sandals, provided them with food and drink, and anointed them, and carrying all the feeble among them on donkeys, they brought them to their kinsfolk at Jericho, the city of palm trees. Then they returned to Samaria. ￼

Our own guilt before God (v. 10b) is one significant reason as to why we should not ill treat our enemies (v. 9b-10a), but rather do good to them (v. 15).

Deuteronomy 15:12-15 above similarly makes the point that we ought to treat others in accordance with the way God has treated us, making this point in reference to granting freedom as well as in regard to being generous.

Lend to others

Deut 15:7-8 If among you, one of your brothers should become poor, in any of your towns within your land that the LORD your God is giving you, you shall not harden your heart or shut your hand against your poor brother, ⁸*but you shall open your hand to him and lend him sufficient for his need, whatever it may be.*

... Examples of hospitality

Gen 18:2-8 He lifted up his eyes and looked, and behold, three men were standing in front of him. When he saw them, he ran from the tent door to meet them and bowed himself to the earth ³and said, “O Lord,ⁿ if I have found favor in your sight, do not pass by your servant. ⁴*Let a little water be brought, and wash your feet, and rest yourselves under the tree*, ⁵*while I bring a morsel of bread, that you may refresh yourselves, and after that you may pass on*—since you have come to your servant.” So they said, “Do as you have said.” ⁶*And Abraham went quickly into the tent to Sarah and said, “Quick! And he stood by them under the tree while they ate.*

ⁿ Or My lord

^o A seah was about 7 quarts or 7.3 liters

The last statement (v. 8b) suggests that Abraham stood by so as to be ready to serve them. Note that the three “men” apparently included the two angels mentioned in 19:1-3 immediately below. The third may have been a manifestation of God, being referred to as “the LORD” a number of times in the rest of the chapter.

Gen 19:1-3 The two angels came to Sodom in the evening, and Lot was sitting in the gate of Sodom. When Lot saw them, he rose to meet them and bowed himself with his face to the earth ²and said, “My lords, please turn aside to your servant’s house and spend the night and wash your feet. Then you may rise up early and go on your way.” They said, “No; we will spend the night in the town square.” ³*But he pressed them strongly; so they turned aside to him and entered his house. And he made them a feast and baked unleavened bread, and they ate.*

Ex 2:20 He said to his daughters, “Then where is he? Why have you left the man? Call him, that he may eat bread.”

Judg 19:20-21 And the old man said, “Peace be to you; I will care for all your wants. Only, do not spend the night in the square.” ²¹*So he brought him into his house and gave the donkeys feed. And they washed their feet, and ate and drank.*

Rom 16:23a Gaius, who is host to me and to the whole church, greets you.

‡ Do not accept the hospitality of a stingy person:

Prov 23:6-8 Do not eat the bread of a man who is stingy;^r do not desire his delicacies, ⁷for he is like one who is inwardly calculating.^s “Eat and drink!” he says to you, but his heart is not with you. ⁸You will vomit up the morsels that you have eaten, and waste your pleasant words.

^r Hebrew whose eye is evil

^s Or for as he calculates in his soul, so is he

Verse 8 seems to be implying that accepting such hospitality will result in a stingy host’s attitude manifesting itself in unsavory ways.

Be kind and gracious . . .

- Speak graciously, p. 1645

Kindness is often spoken of in regard to generosity; hence the inclusion here of this and the following subsection.

However kindness is a broad concept. The corresponding Hebrew and Greek words are also inclusive of other such things as: mercy or compassion; faithfulness or loyalty; and gentleness. Thus, like love, kindness is also quite pertinent to the other sections in the first half of this chapter. A similar comment can be made regarding graciousness.

Mic 6:8 He has told you, O man, what is good; and what does the LORD require of you but to do justice, and to love kindness,^t and to walk humbly with your God?

^t Or steadfast love

Zec 7:9 Thus says the LORD of hosts, Render true judgments, show kindness and mercy to one another, ...

Eph 4:32 Be kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, as God in Christ forgave you.

2Tim 2:24 And the Lord's servant^u must not be quarrelsome but kind to everyone, able to teach, patiently enduring evil, ...

^u Greek bondservant

Col 3:12 Put on then, as God's chosen ones, holy and beloved, compassionate hearts, kindness, humility, meekness, and patience, ...

Prov 31:26 She opens her mouth with wisdom, and the teaching of kindness is on her tongue.

The last clause is speaking either of advocating kindness (cf. NCV), or teaching/instructing with kindness (cf. NLT). Such things are associated with wisdom.

Ps 109:16 For he [a wicked person] did not remember to show kindness, but pursued the poor and needy and the brokenhearted, to put them to death.

One implication of this is that we should show kindness.

Ps 112:4 Light dawns in the darkness for the upright; he is gracious, merciful, and righteous.

1Pet 2:18-20 Servants, be subject to your masters with all respect, not only to the good and gentle but also to the unjust.¹⁹*For this is a gracious thing, when, mindful of God, one endures sorrows while suffering unjustly.*²⁰For what credit is it if, when you sin and are beaten for it, you endure? But if when you do good and suffer for it you endure, this is a gracious thing in the sight of God.

... Insights on and examples of kindness

Job 6:14 He who withholds^v kindness from a friend forsakes the fear of the Almighty.

^v Syriac, Vulgate (compare Targum); the meaning of the Hebrew word is uncertain

Prov 11:16-17 A gracious woman gets honor, and violent men get riches. ¹⁷A man who is kind benefits himself, but a cruel man hurts himself.

Prov 21:21 Whoever pursues righteousness and kindness will find life, righteousness, and honor.

Luke 6:35 But love your enemies, and do good, and lend, expecting nothing in return, and your reward will be great, and you will be sons of the Most High, for he is kind to the ungrateful and the evil.

Acting kindly – by such actions as spoken of in the first part of the verse – identifies us with God, who is kind to all.

1Cor 13:4 Love is patient and kind; love does not envy or boast; it is not arrogant ...

Gen 19:19a Behold, your servant has found favor in your sight, and you have shown me great kindness in saving my life.

Note that this and the following verses contain examples of kindness.

Gen 50:21 So do not fear; I will provide for you and your little ones. Thus he comforted them and spoke kindly to them.

Similarly to the second statement, in Ruth 2:13, Ruth says to Boaz: "... you have comforted me and spoken kindly to your servant."

Josh 2:12-14 [Rahab:] Now then, please swear to me by the LORD that, as I have dealt kindly with you, you also will deal kindly with my father's house, and give me a sure sign¹³ that you will save alive my father and mother, my brothers and sisters, and all who belong to them, and deliver our lives from death."¹⁴And the men said to her, "Our life for yours even to death! If you do not tell this business of ours, then when the LORD gives us the land we will deal kindly and faithfully with you."

Ruth 3:10 And he said, "May you be blessed by the LORD, my daughter. You have made this last kindness greater than the first in that you have not gone after young men, whether poor or rich.

Here Boaz speaks of Ruth indicating her willingness to marry him for the sake of her deceased husband. As he was a close relative, doing so would provide her deceased husband with an heir. Boaz speaks of this as a great kindness – or “family loyalty” (GNT, NLT; cf. CEV) – as she was prepared to do this despite the fact that Boaz was considerably older than her. The kindness that Ruth had showed earlier – “the first” – was her great commitment and personal sacrifice in taking care of her impoverished mother-in-law, Naomi.

Acts 28:2 The native people^w showed us unusual kindness, for they kindled a fire and welcomed us all, because it had begun to rain and was cold. 📖

^w Greek barbaroi (that is, non-Greek speakers); also verse 4

At least the majority of the islanders would not have been believers (cf. v. 6), but their example of kindness is a striking example for all.

✦ Kindness is a “fruit” of the Spirit:

Gal 5:22-23 But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness,²³ gentleness, self-control; against such things there is no law. 📖

Generosity brings oneself great blessing

Ps 112:5 It is well with the man who deals generously and lends; who conducts his affairs with justice. 📖

Prov 11:24-25 One gives freely, yet grows all the richer; another withholds what he should give, and only suffers want.²⁵ Whoever brings blessing will be enriched, and one who waters will himself be watered. 📖

Verse 24 contains a striking paradox, with an eternal application – the one who gives, gains more; while the one who does not give, will end up being in need.

Prov 14:21 Whoever despises his neighbor is a sinner, but blessed is he who is generous to the poor. 📖

Prov 22:9 Whoever has a bountiful^x eye will be blessed, for he shares his bread with the poor. 📖

^x Hebrew good

The term “bountiful eye” here denotes a generous person (cf. GNT, NASB, NCV, NIV, NKJV, NLT, NRSV).

Acts 20:35 In all things I have shown you that by working hard in this way we must help the weak and remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he himself said, ‘It is more blessed to give than to receive.’ 📖

Luke 6:35 But love your enemies, and do good, and lend, expecting nothing in return, and your reward will be great, and you will be sons of the Most High, for he is kind to the ungrateful and the evil. 📖

Luke 6:38 ...give, and it will be given to you. Good measure, pressed down, shaken together, running over, will be put into your lap. For with the measure you use it will be measured back to you. 📖

Jesus figuratively speaks of the amount of blessing being a large amount, maximized like a measure of wheat being pressed down and shaken together “to make room for more” (NLT).

2Cor 9:6 The point is this: whoever sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and whoever sows bountifully^y will also reap bountifully. 📖

^y Greek with blessings; twice in this verse

Ps 37:26 He is ever lending generously, and his children become a blessing. 📖

Presumably this means that a generous man’s children become a blessing to him – even in being blessed themselves (cf. AMP, NIV).

Prov 18:16 A man’s gift makes room for him and brings him before the great. 📖

Prov 19:6 Many seek the favor of a generous man,^z and everyone is a friend to a man who gives gifts. 📖

^z Or of a noble

✦ Give to a number of recipients:

Eccl 11:1-2 Cast your bread upon the waters, for you will find it after many days.² Give a portion to seven, or even to eight, for you know not what disaster may happen on earth. 📖

This could be referring to being generous (i.e. giving to many) – or it may be intended as commercial advice (i.e. invest in many ventures). In either case, such action will eventually bring a return (v. 1b). Furthermore such diversification of one’s assets will mean that one will have a number of possible sources to call upon should disaster come upon the land (v. 2).

Pray for persecuted Christians

c) Mercy

Mercy involves such things as: not penalizing those subject to one's judgment and retribution (due to things like wrongful action or debt); and doing more than one is bound to do in helping others. It is showing kindness beyond what is required of one or is otherwise considered fitting.

Subsections

- Show mercy
- Be merciful and God will show you mercy
- Be compassionate
- Forgive others . . .
- . . . Forgive and God will forgive you
- Do not judge others . . .
- . . . If you judge others, God will judge you accordingly
- Note: Human judgment is typically superficial and inadequate

Show mercy

Zec 7:9 Thus says the LORD of hosts, Render true judgments, show kindness and mercy to one another, ...

Luke 6:36 Be merciful, even as your Father is merciful.

Ps 112:4 Light dawns in the darkness for the upright; he is gracious, merciful, and righteous.

Dan 4:27 Therefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable to you: break off your sins by practicing righteousness, and your iniquities by showing mercy to the oppressed, that there may perhaps be a lengthening of your prosperity.

Matt 9:13 Go and learn what this means, 'I desire mercy, and not sacrifice.' For I came not to call the righteous, but sinners.

Here Jesus quotes Hosea 6:6 to self-righteous Pharisees, whose lack of understanding of Jesus' mission was not unrelated to their failure to understand God's requirements for them. God requires mercy towards others, even above religious rituals (cf. Matt 23:23 ↓).

Matt 23:23 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you tithe mint and dill and cumin, and have neglected the weightier matters of the law: justice and mercy and faithfulness. These you ought to have done, without neglecting the others.

Luke 10:36-37 Which of these three, do you think, proved to be a neighbor to the man who fell among the robbers?" ³⁷He said, "The one who showed him mercy." And Jesus said to him, "You go, and do likewise."

James 3:17 But the wisdom from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, open to reason, full of mercy and good fruits, impartial and sincere.

Jude 1:22-23 And have mercy on those who doubt; ²³save others by snatching them out of the fire; to others show mercy with fear, hating even the garment^a stained by the flesh.

^a Greek chiton, a long garment worn under the cloak next to the skin

In v. 22 Jude tells his readers to show mercy to those who doubt – "those whose faith is wavering" (NLT) – which was possibly due to the influence of false teachers. In v. 23b the proposed objects of mercy appear to be those who had sinned. Showing mercy to such sinners needs to be accompanied by fear of sin's enticement.

Prov 21:10 The soul of the wicked desires evil; his neighbor finds no mercy in his eyes.

To not show mercy is a characteristic of wicked people.

✚ Show mercy cheerfully:

Rom 12:8 ... the one who exhorts, in his exhortation; the one who contributes, in generosity; the one who leads,^b with zeal; the one who does acts of mercy, with cheerfulness.

^b Or gives aid

This is speaking of the spiritual gift of doing "acts of mercy" for the needy, rather than to showing mercy in general. However the principal of showing mercy cheerfully is readily applicable to the latter – as indeed it is to all that we do.

Be merciful and God will show you mercy

Ps 18:25 With the merciful you show yourself merciful; with the blameless man you show yourself blameless; ...

Matt 5:7 Blessed are the merciful, for they shall receive mercy.

The final clause refers to being shown mercy by God.

Matt 18:32-35 Then his master summoned him and said to him, ‘You wicked servant! I forgave you all that debt because you pleaded with me. ³³And should not you have had mercy on your fellow servant, as I had mercy on you?’ ³⁴And in anger his master delivered him to the jailers,^c until he should pay all his debt. ³⁵So also my heavenly Father will do to every one of you, if you do not forgive your brother from your heart.

James 2:12-13 So speak and so act as those who are to be judged under the law of liberty. ¹³For judgment is without mercy to one who has shown no mercy. Mercy triumphs over judgment.

In this context, the final statement appears to indicate that if we are merciful we will receive God’s mercy rather than his judgment on judgment day.

Be compassionate

See also:

- Jesus was compassionate, p. 524

Compassion is generally the emotion underlying mercy; it is expressed in merciful action.

Judg 21:6 And the people of Israel had compassion for Benjamin their brother and said, “One tribe is cut off from Israel this day.

1Sam 23:21 And Saul said, “May you be blessed by the LORD, for you have had compassion on me.

Ps 103:13 As a father shows compassion to his children, so the LORD shows compassion to those who fear him.

Luke 10:33-35 But a Samaritan, as he journeyed, came to where he was, and when he saw him, he had compassion. ³⁴He went to him and bound up his wounds, pouring on oil and wine. Then he set him on his own animal and brought him to an inn and took care of him. ³⁵And the next day he took out two denarii^d and gave them to the innkeeper, saying, “Take care of him, and whatever more you spend, I will repay you when I come back.”

The Good Samaritan’s compassion, led him to act mercifully (vv. 34-35; cf. v. 37).

Luke 15:20 And he arose and came to his father. But while he was still a long way off, his father saw him and felt compassion, and ran and embraced him and kissed him.

Col 3:12 Put on then, as God’s chosen ones, holy and beloved, compassionate hearts, kindness, humility, meekness, and patience, ...

Heb 10:34 For you had compassion on those in prison, and you joyfully accepted the plundering of your property, since you knew that you yourselves had a better possession and an abiding one.

Job 30:25 Did not I weep for him whose day was hard? Was not my soul grieved for the needy?

Job’s deep compassion for the needy is evident here – and indeed is exemplary.

‡ Be tenderhearted:

Eph 4:32 Be kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, as God in Christ forgave you.

1 Peter 3:8 also speaks of being tenderhearted: “Finally, all of you, have unity of mind, sympathy, brotherly love, a tender heart, and a humble mind.”

Forgive others . . .

See also:

- Eph 4:32

Luke 17:3-4 Pay attention to yourselves! If your brother sins, rebuke him, and if he repents, forgive him, ⁴and if he sins against you seven times in the day, and turns to you seven times, saying, ‘I repent,’ you must forgive him.

Col 3:13 ... bearing with one another and, if one has a complaint against another, forgiving each other; as the Lord has forgiven you, so you also must forgive.

This suggests that we should forgive others of any perceived wrong against ourselves even if they have not acknowledged it and asked to be forgiven.

Luke 23:33-34a And when they came to the place that is called The Skull, there they crucified him, and the criminals, one on his right and one on his left. ³⁴And Jesus said, “Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do.”^e

^e Some manuscripts omit the sentence And Jesus . . . what they do

Acts 7:59-60 And as they were stoning Stephen, he called out, "Lord Jesus, receive my spirit." ⁶⁰And falling to his knees he cried out with a loud voice, "Lord, do not hold this sin against them." And when he had said this, he fell asleep.

Stephen's prayer in v. 60a implies that he forgave those who were killing him, emulating Jesus' example (cf. Luke 23:33-34a [†]).

2Cor 2:7-8, 10-11 ... so you should rather turn to forgive and comfort him, or he may be overwhelmed by excessive sorrow. ⁸So I beg you to reaffirm your love for him.  ... ¹⁰Anyone whom you forgive, I also forgive. Indeed, what I have forgiven, if I have forgiven anything, has been for your sake in the presence of Christ, ¹¹so that we would not be outwitted by Satan; for we are not ignorant of his designs.

Paul urges the Corinthians to forgive and discontinue the punishment of a church member who has "caused grief" (v. 5) – and presumably has since repented. In doing so they are to reaffirm their love for him (v. 8). In vv. 10-11, Paul makes the important point that not forgiving such a person would leave the church members themselves susceptible to Satan's schemes. In saying this Paul may have had in mind that not forgiving others can lead to such things as bitterness and hard-heartedness, which Satan can readily use.

2Tim 4:16 At my first defense no one came to stand by me, but all deserted me. May it not be charged against them!

Here Paul shows forgiveness towards those who had deserted him.

Prov 10:12 Hatred stirs up strife, but love covers all offenses.

The phrase "covers all offenses" (cf. Prov 17:9 [↓]) means to overlook (cf. CEV, GNT) or forgive (cf. NCV) all offences. The last clause is quoted or referred to in 1 Peter 4:8b – "...love covers a multitude of sins."

Prov 17:9 Whoever covers an offense seeks love, but he who repeats a matter separates close friends.

Gen 50:15-21 When Joseph's brothers saw that their father was dead, they said, "It may be that Joseph will hate us and pay us back for all the evil that we did to him." ¹⁶So they sent a message to Joseph, saying, "Your father gave this command before he died, ¹⁷'Say to Joseph, Please forgive the transgression of your brothers and their sin, because they did evil to you.' And now, please forgive the transgression of the servants of the God of your father." Joseph wept when they spoke to him. ¹⁸His brothers also came and fell down before him and said, "Behold, we are your servants." ¹⁹But Joseph said to them, "Do not fear, for am I in the place of God? ²⁰As for you, you meant evil against me, but God meant it for good, to bring it about that many people^f should be kept alive, as they are today. ²¹So do not fear; I will provide for you and your little ones." Thus he comforted them and spoke kindly to them.

^f Or a numerous people

It is not clear whether the instructions of vv. 16-17 were fabricated or not. However, it is clear from Joseph's response (vv. 19-21) that he did indeed forgive his brothers, as his father had supposedly requested (v. 17).

... Forgive and God will forgive you

Matt 6:12-15 ... and forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors. ¹³And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.^g ¹⁴For if you forgive others their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you, ¹⁵but if you do not forgive others their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

^g Or the evil one; some manuscripts add For yours is the kingdom and the power and the glory, forever. Amen

Verse 12 is from the Lord's Prayer. In vv. 14-15 Jesus comments on it.

Mark 11:25 And whenever you stand praying, forgive, if you have anything against anyone, so that your Father also who is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses."^h

^h Some manuscripts add verse 26: But if you do not forgive, neither will your Father who is in heaven forgive your trespasses

Luke 6:37 Judge not, and you will not be judged; condemn not, and you will not be condemned; forgive, and you will be forgiven; ...

Matt 18:21-35 Then Peter came up and said to him, "Lord, how often will my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? As many as seven times?" ²²Jesus said to him, "I do not say to you seven times, but seventy times seven."ⁱ ²³"Therefore the kingdom of heaven may be compared to a king who wished to settle accounts with his servants.^j ²⁴When he began to settle, one was brought to him who owed him ten thousand talents.^k ²⁵And since he could not pay, his master ordered him to be sold, with his wife and children and all that he had, and payment to be made. ²⁶So the servant^l fell on his knees, imploring him, 'Have patience with me, and I will pay you everything.'²⁷And out of pity for him, the master of that servant released him and forgave him the debt. ²⁸But when that same servant went out, he found one of his fellow servants who owed him a hundred denarii,^m and seizing him, he began to choke him, saying, 'Pay what you owe.' ²⁹So his fellow servant fell down and pleaded with him, 'Have patience with me, and I will pay you.' ³⁰He refused and went and put him in prison until he should pay the debt. ³¹When his fellow servants saw what had taken place, they were greatly distressed, and they went and reported to their master all that had taken place. ³²Then his master summoned him and said to him, 'You wicked servant! I forgave you all that debt because you pleaded with me. ³³And should not you have had mercy on your fellow servant, as I had mercy on you?' ³⁴And in anger his master delivered him to the jailers,ⁱ until he should pay all his debt. ³⁵So also my heavenly Father will do to every one of you, if you do not forgive your brother from your heart."

In v. 22 Jesus is implying that we should always forgive, rather than put a limit on the number of times that we do it.

✦ Forgive because Jesus Christ forgave you:

Col 3:13 ... bearing with one another and, if one has a complaint against another, forgiving each other; as the Lord has forgiven you, so you also must forgive. ☰

Not only should we forgive others so that we will be forgiven, but we should also forgive because we have been forgiven by Christ – forgive "because the Lord forgave you" (NCV™).

Do not judge others . . .

We are not to judge others in a condemnatory manner, as if we were in some position of authority to do so; nor in a self-righteous sense, which is inevitably hypocritical. Note, however, that there are Bible verses instructing us to make judgments or choices regarding good and bad people or things. For example in 1 Corinthians Paul speaks of the need for believers to judge those in the church (cf. 5:12), and also says that: "The spiritual man makes judgments about all things..." (2:15). See also Evaluate all things, p. 1930; e) Guarding against False Teachers, p. 1529; and e) Dealing with Sin in the Church, p. 1490.

John 8:15 You judge according to the flesh; I judge no one. ☰

Jesus appears to be saying that he did not set himself up to judge anyone (cf. 3:17, AMP). We should follow his example. Note that some commentators think that Jesus is actually meaning that he did not judge in the referred-to worldly fashion of his adversaries – i.e. "by human standards"

Rom 14:1-4, 10, 12-13 As for the one who is weak in faith, welcome him, but not to quarrel over opinions. ²One person believes he may eat anything, while the weak person eats only vegetables. ³Let not the one who eats despise the one who abstains, and let not the one who abstains pass judgment on the one who eats, for God has welcomed him. ⁴Who are you to pass judgment on the servant of another? It is before his own master^o that he stands or falls. And he will be upheld, for the Lord is able to make him stand. ☰ ... ¹⁰Why do you pass judgment on your brother? Or you, why do you despise your brother? For we will all stand before the judgment seat of God; ☰ ... ¹²So then each of us will give an account of himself to God. ¹³Therefore let us not pass judgment on one another any longer, but rather decide never to put a stumbling block or hindrance in the way of a brother. ☰

^o Or lord

Believers are not to judge each other on disputable matters – matters that Scripture does not discuss or is not concerned with. The reminders in vv. 10, 12 that we ourselves will be judged by God, is a sobering deterrent to judging other servants of his. The suggestion is that such condemnatory judgment of other servants of God leaves us more liable to being so judged by God – as per the theme of the following subsection.

1Cor 4:5 Therefore do not pronounce judgment before the time, before the Lord comes, who will bring to light the things now hidden in darkness and will disclose the purposes of the heart. Then each one will receive his commendation from God. ☰

In light of the inadequacy of human judgment (cf. vv. 3-4) and the limitedness of human knowledge, Paul exhorts his readers to wait for the Lord's judgment.

James 4:11-12 Do not speak evil against one another, brothers.^p The one who speaks against a brother or judges his brother, speaks evil against the law and judges the law. But if you judge the law, you are not a doer of the law but a judge. ¹²There is only one lawgiver and judge, he who is able to save and to destroy. But who are you to judge your neighbor? ☰

^p Or brothers and sisters

Speaking evil against another – and so judging them – breaks such laws as ones against slander and for love (cf. Lev 19:16-18). By consciously acting contrary to such laws, or any law, one in a sense deems or judges God's law to be flawed.

Matt 7:3-5 Why do you see the speck that is in your brother's eye, but do not notice the log that is in your own eye? ⁴Or how can you say to your brother, 'Let me take the speck out of your eye,' when there is the log in your own eye? ⁵You hypocrite, first take the log out of your own eye, and then you will see clearly to take the speck out of your brother's eye.

Jesus figuratively urges his listeners not to be judgmental (cf. vv. 1-2 ) in criticizing what may seem to them to be faults in others, while being oblivious to their own often greater faults.

John 8:3-11 The scribes and the Pharisees brought a woman who had been caught in adultery, and placing her in the midst ⁴they said to him, "Teacher, this woman has been caught in the act of adultery. ⁵Now in the Law Moses commanded us to stone such women. So what do you say?" ⁶This they said to test him, that they might have some charge to bring against him. Jesus bent down and wrote with his finger on the ground. ⁷And as they continued to ask him, he stood up and said to them, "Let him who is without sin among you be the first to throw a stone at her." ⁸And once more he bent down and wrote on the ground. ⁹But when they heard it, they went away one by one, beginning with the older ones, and Jesus was left alone with the woman standing before him. ¹⁰Jesus stood up and said to her, "Woman, where are they? Has no one condemned you?" ¹¹She said, "No one, Lord." And Jesus said, "Neither do I condemn you; go, and from now on sin no more."

Jesus' statement in v. 7 implied that none of the woman's accusers was qualified to begin executing judgment, a point that was not lost on them (vv. 9-10). Even Jesus did not condemn her (v. 11a), but he did require her to repent (v. 11b). For further comment on the passage see Note: The sexually immoral who believe and repent are forgiven and granted righteousness, p. 1921.

... If you judge others, God will judge you accordingly

See also:

▪ Rom 14:10, 12-13

We will all face God's judgment (cf. Rom 14:10, 12 ) , but the following verses speak of the same condemnatory standard of judgment being applied by God to those who exercise it themselves.

Matt 7:1-2 Judge not, that you be not judged. ²For with the judgment you pronounce you will be judged, and with the measure you use it will be measured to you.

Luke 6:37 Judge not, and you will not be judged; condemn not, and you will not be condemned; forgive, and you will be forgiven; ...

Note that this follows an exhortation to be merciful (cf. v. 36), suggesting that refraining from judging and also forgiving (as per the latter part of the verse) are two aspects of showing mercy.

Rom 2:1, 3 Therefore you have no excuse, O man, every one of you who judges. For in passing judgment on another you condemn yourself, because you, the judge, practice the very same things.  ... ³Do you suppose, O man—you who judge those who practice such things and yet do them yourself—that you will escape the judgment of God?

In asserting that those who pass judgment do the same things (v. 1b) Paul may well have had in mind that all people commit the same sins, even if in varying degrees. The truth of this is seen in the light of Jesus' teaching in Matthew 5:21-22, 27-28, where Jesus condemns thoughts which mirror actual sinful deeds. Additionally, perhaps there is also a psychological or spiritual phenomenon whereby we make ourselves more vulnerable to particular sins by condemning others for such sins.

James 5:9 Do not grumble against one another, brothers, so that you may not be judged; behold, the Judge is standing at the door.

Grumbling or complaining against others is an outward expression of inner condemnatory judgment of them – which leaves oneself open to such judgment.

Ezek 7:27 The king mourns, the prince is wrapped in despair, and the hands of the people of the land are paralyzed by terror. According to their way I will do to them, and according to their judgments I will judge them, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

The phrase "according to their judgments" may be referring to the standards they had used in judging others – hence the verse's inclusion here. Alternatively, it may well be speaking of the standards they had used in their harsh treatment of others, with God indicating here that he would use similar standards in determining the degree of punishment that he would inflict on them.

‡ Believers are not to judge non-believers, but do have a responsibility to judge believers:

1Cor 5:12-13 For what have I to do with judging outsiders? Is it not those inside the church whom you are to judge? ¹³God judges⁴ those outside. "Purge the evil person from among you."

⁴ Or will judge

Judgment of those outside the church should be left to God (v. 13a). However believers have a responsibility to keep fellow church members accountable – even taking disciplinary action if necessary (v. 13b).

Note: Human judgment is typically superficial and inadequate

1Sam 16:1, 3, 6-7 The LORD said to Samuel, “How long will you grieve over Saul, since I have rejected him from being king over Israel? Fill your horn with oil, and go. I will send you to Jesse the Bethlehemite, for I have provided for myself a king among his sons.” ...³And invite Jesse to the sacrifice, and I will show you what you shall do. And you shall anoint for me him whom I declare to you.” ...⁶When they came, he [Samuel] looked on Eliab and thought, “Surely the LORD’s anointed is before him.”⁷But the LORD said to Samuel, “Do not look on his appearance or on the height of his stature, because I have rejected him. For the LORD sees not as man sees: man looks on the outward appearance, but the LORD looks on the heart.”

John 7:23-24 If on the Sabbath a man receives circumcision, so that the law of Moses may not be broken, are you angry with me because on the Sabbath I made a man’s whole body well? ²⁴Do not judge by appearances, but judge with right judgment.

John 8:15 You judge according to the flesh; I judge no one.

The implication here is that human standards are flawed and inadequate to base judgment upon.

1Cor 4:3-4 But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged by you or by any human court. In fact, I do not even judge myself. ⁴For I am not aware of anything against myself, but I am not thereby acquitted. It is the Lord who judges me.

In the first statement Paul speaks of his disregard of human judgment. He then further alludes to its inadequacy by pointing to his own insufficiency to judge even himself.

James 2:2-7 For if a man wearing a gold ring and fine clothing comes into your assembly, and a poor man in shabby clothing also comes in, ³and if you pay attention to the one who wears the fine clothing and say, “You sit here in a good place,” while you say to the poor man, “You stand over there,” or, “Sit down at my feet,” ⁴have you not then made distinctions among yourselves and become judges with evil thoughts? ⁵Listen, my beloved brothers, has not God chosen those who are poor in the world to be rich in faith and heirs of the kingdom, which he has promised to those who love him? ⁶But you have dishonored the poor man. Are not the rich the ones who oppress you, and the ones who drag you into court? ⁷Are they not the ones who blaspheme the honorable name by which you were called?

Such typical human judgment is not only superficial (vv. 2-3), it is: discriminatory and evil (v. 4); inconsistent with God’s purposes (vv. 5-6a); even incompatible with one’s own experience (v. 6b); and tends to favor those who despise our Lord (v. 7).

1Cor 2:14-15 The natural person does not accept the things of the Spirit of God, for they are folly to him, and he is not able to understand them because they are spiritually discerned. ¹⁵The spiritual person judges all things, but is himself to be judged by no one.

This points to the inadequacy of human judgment. In view of v. 14, v. 15b appears to be speaking of non-spiritual people’s judgment (cf. NLT), judgment that is necessarily worldly or merely human. Being without the Spirit of God, such people cannot understand things that are of the Holy Spirit (v. 14) and so are in no position to judge those who have the Holy Spirit (v. 15b). Regarding the first clause of v. 15, Paul appears to mean that in having the Holy Spirit (cf. v. 12) believers have the capacity – at least to some degree – to understand and make judgment about all things (cf. v. 10), with spiritual truths probably being primarily in view (cf. vv. 6-13, 16) as opposed to other people. For further comment see Having the Holy Spirit is linked with having wisdom and knowledge, p. 847.

Prov 16:2 All the ways of a man are pure in his own eyes, but the LORD weighs the spirit.

People’s ability to evaluate their own ways is limited and superficial (cf. Prov 21:2a ↓) – in contrast to God’s ability to evaluate or judge people.

Prov 21:2 Every way of a man is right in his own eyes, but the LORD weighs the heart.

✦ Paul’s resolve to no longer regard or judge people from a superficial, worldly viewpoint:

2Cor 5:16 From now on, therefore, we regard no one according to the flesh. Even though we once regarded Christ according to the flesh, we regard him thus no longer.

Here “regard” involves judging (cf. CEV, GNT) or evaluating (cf. NLT) others.

2Cor 10:1 I, Paul, myself entreat you, by the meekness and gentleness of Christ—I who am humble when face to face with you, but bold toward you when I am away!—

Generally at least, we should exhort others in a manner reflective of “the meekness and gentleness” that characterized Jesus Christ, as Paul begins to do here. Moreover, meekness and gentleness should generally be reflected in how we interact with others.

Gal 5:22-23 But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, ²³gentleness, self-control; against such things there is no law.

As gentleness is a “fruit” of the Holy Spirit’s work in us, we should accordingly seek to be gentle.

Eccl 7:8 Better is the end of a thing than its beginning, and the patient in spirit is better than the proud in spirit.

The second part of the verse is true enough as a general principle. If it has the first part of the verse in view, it may more specifically be meaning that patience is better than pride in accomplishing something.

Be meek

See also:

- Col 3:12
- Jesus was meek, p. 525
- Submit to one another, p. 1302
- Be humble towards others, p. 1905

The concept of “meekness” involves an approach of non-retaliation (as per the following two subsections) – even non-resistance (cf. Matt 5:38-42) – in the face of offences. It is akin to being submissive, involves forbearance and is characterized by humility, gentleness and quietness.

Num 12:3 Now the man Moses was very meek, more than all people who were on the face of the earth.

Ps 37:11 But the meek shall inherit the land and delight themselves in abundant peace.

God's judgment may be partially in view, following which the meek would or will inherit God's land.

Isa 29:19 The meek shall obtain fresh joy in the LORD, and the poor among mankind shall exult in the Holy One of Israel.

This is taken from prophecies of future restoration for Israel, in which the meek will obtain joy.

Matt 5:5 Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth.

Here “the earth” refers to the new or renewed earth at the consummation of the messianic kingdom. Note that Jesus may have been alluding to Psalms 37:11 above.

Matt 5:38-42 You have heard that it was said, ‘An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth.’ ³⁹But I say to you, Do not resist the one who is evil. But if anyone slaps you on the right cheek, turn to him the other also. ⁴⁰*And if anyone would sue you and take your tunic,^u let him have your cloak as well.* ⁴¹*And if anyone forces you to go one mile, go with him two miles.* ⁴²*Give to the one who begs from you, and do not refuse the one who would borrow from you.*

^u Greek chiton, a long garment worn under the cloak next to the skin

The command to “not resist the one who is evil” (v. 39a) is given in respect to one's own rights; it is not saying that we should not stand against an evil person on behalf of others. The illustrations that follow (vv. 39b-42; cf. Luke 6:29-30) show that one should not retaliate and not insist on one's rights. Some commentators view these as hyperbole, while others consider such a view to be watering down the extent of what is being taught.

Luke 6:29-30 To one who strikes you on the cheek, offer the other also, and from one who takes away your cloak do not withhold your tunic^v either. ³⁰*Give to everyone who begs from you, and from one who takes away your goods do not demand them back.*

^v Greek chiton, a long garment worn under the cloak next to the skin

1Cor 6:7 To have lawsuits at all with one another is already a defeat for you. Why not rather suffer wrong? Why not rather be defrauded?

Paul is speaking of believers taking out lawsuits against other believers. With his first statement, Paul appears to refer to spiritual failure, either: in seeking retribution, as opposed to being meek and forgiving; or in being at odds with a fellow believer/s, as opposed to being unified as parts of the body of Christ.

2Cor 10:1 I, Paul, myself entreat you, by the meekness and gentleness of Christ—I who am humble when face to face with you, but bold toward you when I am away!—

Titus 2:9 Slaves^w are to be submissive to their own masters in everything; they are to be well-pleasing, not argumentative, ...

^w Or servants; Greek bondservants

1Pet 2:18-23 Servants, be subject to your masters with all respect, not only to the good and gentle but also to the unjust. ¹⁹*For this is a gracious thing, when, mindful of God, one endures sorrows while suffering unjustly.* ²⁰*For what credit is it if, when you sin and are beaten for it, you endure? But if when you do good and suffer for it you endure, this is a gracious thing in the sight of God.* ²¹*For to this you have been called, because Christ also suffered for you, leaving you an example, so that you might follow in his steps.* ²²*He committed no sin, neither was deceit found in his mouth.* ²³*When he was reviled, he did not revile in return; when he suffered, he did not threaten, but continued entrusting himself to him who judges justly.*

The phrase “mindful of God” (v. 19) more specifically has in view being “conscious of his will” (GNT), with submission to one’s master – even a harsh one (v. 18) – being of God’s will.

James 3:13 Who is wise and understanding among you? By his good conduct let him show his works in the meekness of wisdom.

One can infer from this that meekness comes from wisdom. Such an association with wisdom underlines the importance of meekness.

2Sam 16:11-12 And David said to Abishai and to all his servants, “Behold, my own son seeks my life; how much more now may this Benjaminite! Leave him alone, and let him curse, for the LORD has told him to.” ¹²It may be that the LORD will look on the wrong done to me,^x and that the LORD will repay me with good for his cursing today.”

^x Septuagint, Vulgate will look upon my affliction

In the latter part of v. 11, David asserts that the cursing he was receiving (cf. vv. 5-8) may well have been prompted by God (cf. v. 10) – reason enough to meekly leave alone the curser. Note that in v. 12 David raises the possibility of God’s blessing for meekly enduring such treatment.

Prov 12:16 The vexation of a fool is known at once, but the prudent ignores an insult.

Prov 19:11 Good sense makes one slow to anger, and it is his glory to overlook an offense.

Do not take revenge . . .

Lev 19:18 You shall not take vengeance or bear a grudge against the sons of your own people, but you shall love your neighbor as yourself: I am the LORD.

Prov 24:29 Do not say, “I will do to him as he has done to me; I will pay the man back for what he has done.”

1Sam 24:16-19 As soon as David had finished speaking these words to Saul, Saul said, “Is this your voice, my son David?” And Saul lifted up his voice and wept. ¹⁷He said to David, “You are more righteous than I, for you have repaid me good, whereas I have repaid you evil.” ¹⁸*And you have declared this day how you have dealt well with me, in that you did not kill me when the LORD put me into your hands.* ¹⁹*For if a man finds his enemy, will he let him go away safe? So may the LORD reward you with good for what you have done to me this day.*

David had refused to take the opportunity to kill Saul (cf. vv. 12-13 ↴), despite the fact that Saul had been seeking to capture him and probably kill him.

Job 31:29-30, 40 “If I have rejoiced at the ruin of him who hated me, or exulted when evil overtook him” ³⁰*(I have not let my mouth sin by asking for his life with a curse),* . . . ⁴⁰*let thorns grow instead of wheat, and foul weeds instead of barley.*” The words of Job are ended.

In conjunction with not taking revenge against our enemies (v. 30), v. 29 indicates that we should also not rejoice when they encounter trouble (cf. Prov 24:17-18 ↴).

Ezek 25:12, 15, 17 “Thus says the Lord GOD: Because Edom acted revengefully against the house of Judah and has grievously offended in taking vengeance on them, . . . ¹⁵“Thus says the Lord GOD: Because the Philistines acted revengefully and took vengeance with malice of soul to destroy in never-ending enmity, . . . ¹⁷*I will execute great vengeance on them with wrathful rebukes. Then they will know that I am the LORD, when I lay my vengeance upon them.*”

This illustrates that taking revenge ourselves – particularly maliciously – can in fact lead to God’s vengeance against us.

Luke 9:53-55 But the people did not receive him, because his face was set toward Jerusalem. ⁵⁴And when his disciples James and John saw it, they said, "Lord, do you want us to tell fire to come down from heaven and consume them?"^y ⁵⁵But he turned and rebuked them.^z

^y Some manuscripts add as Elijah did

^z Some manuscripts add and he said, "You do not know what manner of spirit you are of; for the Son of Man came not to destroy people's lives but to save them"

Jesus strongly disapproved of paying back the Samaritans' unfriendliness with harm.

... Rather than taking revenge, wait for God to act

Rather than taking revenge in order to impose what we consider to be just vengeance and/or to alleviate any suffering caused us by others, we should wait for God to act – for him to take vengeance and/or deliver us.

Rom 12:19 Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave it^a to the wrath of God, for it is written, "Vengeance is mine, I will repay, says the Lord."

^a Greek give place

Gen 50:15, 19 When Joseph's brothers saw that their father was dead, they said, "It may be that Joseph will hate us and pay us back for all the evil that we did to him."  ... ¹⁹But Joseph said to them, "Do not fear, for am I in the place of God?"

Rather than taking revenge himself, Joseph acknowledged that the execution of any due vengeance was God's prerogative.

1Sam 24:12-15 May the LORD judge between me and you, may the LORD avenge me against you, but my hand shall not be against you. ¹³As the proverb of the ancients says, 'Out of the wicked comes wickedness.' But my hand shall not be against you. ¹⁴After whom has the king of Israel come out? After whom do you pursue? After a dead dog! After a flea! ¹⁵May the LORD therefore be judge and give sentence between me and you, and see to it and plead my cause and deliver me from your hand.

Note that this precedes vv. 16-19 in the previous subsection.

1Sam 25:32-33, 39 And David said to Abigail, "Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, who sent you this day to meet me! ³³Blessed be your discretion, and blessed be you, who have kept me this day from bloodguilt and from avenging myself with my own hand!  ... ³⁹When David heard that Nabal was dead, he said, "Blessed be the LORD who has avenged the insult

I received at the hand of Nabal, and has kept back his servant from wrongdoing. The LORD has returned the evil of Nabal on his own head." Then David sent and spoke to Abigail, to take her as his wife.

Prov 20:22 Do not say, "I will repay evil"; wait for the LORD, and he will deliver you.

Prov 24:17-18 Do not rejoice when your enemy falls, and let not your heart be glad when he stumbles, ¹⁸lest the LORD see it and be displeased, and turn away his anger from him.

This indicates that vindictive attitudes may in fact lead to God discontinuing punishment on one's enemy.

1Pet 2:23 When he was reviled, he did not revile in return; when he suffered, he did not threaten, but continued entrusting himself to him who judges justly.

Rather than retaliate, Jesus entrusted himself to God, trusting that God had his suffering and destiny in hand. As such, Jesus waited for God to fulfill his purpose in the suffering.

✦ Paying back evil for good brings evil on oneself:

Prov 17:13 If anyone returns evil for good, evil will not depart from his house.

Seek peace, including peace with others . . .

See also:

- Live in peace and harmony with each other, p. 1302

The verses in this subsection appear to primarily have in view being at peace with others ourselves, but a number of them can also be applied to promoting peace between others, as per the following subsection. Similarly, at least one or two verses in the following subsection could possibly have primarily in view being at peace with others ourselves, rather than promoting peace for others.

Ps 34:14 Turn away from evil and do good; seek peace and pursue it.

Rom 12:18 If possible, so far as it depends on you, live peaceably with all.

Heb 12:14 Strive for peace with everyone, and for the holiness without which no one will see the Lord.

2Tim 2:22 So flee youthful passions and pursue righteousness, faith, love, and peace, along with those who call on the Lord from a pure heart.

We should strive for “harmony and concord with others” (AMP).

^b Greek kodrantēs, Roman copper coin (Latin quadrans) worth about 1/64 of a denarius (which was a day’s wage for a laborer)

Seeking peace with others often involves: seeking reconciliation (vv. 23-24); and seeking to amicably resolve disputes (v. 25).

... and seek peace for others – in part through prayer

Est 10:3 For Mordecai the Jew was second in rank to King Ahasuerus, and he was great among the Jews and popular with the multitude of his brothers, for he sought the welfare of his people and spoke peace to all his people. 📖

^c Or loyal Syzygus; Greek true yokefellow

Apparently there had been a serious disagreement between Euodia and Syntyche. Here Paul himself seeks to make peace between them (v. 2) and also urges Syzygus (cf. text note) to likewise help these women resolve their differences (v. 3a).

Prov 12:20 Deceit is in the heart of those who devise evil, but those who plan peace have joy. 📖

Matt 5:9 Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called sons^d of God. 📖

^d Greek huioi; see Preface

People who “work for peace” (GNT, NLT, cf. NCV) will be deemed to be children of God because they show that they partake of his nature and/or participate in working for his purposes.

James 3:18 And a harvest of righteousness is sown in peace by those who make peace. 📖

Peacemakers do their work in a peaceful way, producing righteousness. This could be speaking of righteousness in the lives of themselves or of others – or even both. It is applicable to both.

Ps 122:6-8 Pray for the peace of Jerusalem! “May they be secure who love you! ⁷Peace be within your walls and security within your towers!” ⁸For my brothers and companions’ sake I will say, “Peace be within you!” 📖

This is illustrative of seeking and praying for the peace of the city or locality where one lives (cf. Jer 29:7 ↓; 1Tim 2:1-2 ↓; Prov 29:8 ↓) – as well as for Jerusalem itself.

Jer 29:7 But seek the welfare of the city where I have sent you into exile, and pray to the LORD on its behalf, for in its welfare you will find your welfare. 📖

1Tim 2:1-2 First of all, then, I urge that supplications, prayers, intercessions, and thanksgivings be made for all people, ²for kings and all who are in high positions, that we may lead a peaceful and quiet life, godly and dignified in every way. 📖

‡ Wise people will calm anger:

Prov 29:8 Scoffers set a city aflame, but the wise turn away wrath. 📖

In light of the first part of the verse, the second part may primarily be speaking of wise people promoting peace amongst others by calming a situation inflamed with anger.

Live and act in a quiet manner

- Wait for God patiently and quietly, p. 1952

1Thes 4:10b-11 But we urge you, brothers, to do this more and more,¹¹ and to aspire to live quietly, and to mind your own affairs, and to work with your hands, as we instructed you, ...

Note that minding your own business is complementary to leading a quiet life.

1Pet 3:3-4 Do not let your adorning be external—the braiding of hair and the putting on of gold jewelry, or the clothing you wear—⁴but let your adorning be the hidden person of the heart with the imperishable beauty of a gentle and quiet spirit, which in God's sight is very precious.

Ps 35:20 For they do not speak peace, but against those who are quiet in the land they devise words of deceit.

Although not the main point of the verse, this does suggest that living quietly is a good thing to do.

Eccl 9:17 The words of the wise heard in quiet are better than the shouting of a ruler among fools.

This indicates that the wise speak with “quiet words” (GNT, NCV, NIV, NLT, NRSV; cf. CEV, NKJV).

Isa 42:2 He will not cry aloud or lift up his voice, or make it heard in the street; ...

This is referring to the Messiah, with his relatively quiet and discreet approach in his incarnation.

Matt 1:19 And her husband Joseph, being a just man and unwilling to put her to shame, resolved to divorce her quietly.

Amos 5:13 Therefore he who is prudent will keep silent in such a time, for it is an evil time.

We should not infer from this that we should never speak out during times when evil powers hold sway. Nevertheless it does point to the fact that there will be times when God's interests are better advanced through quiet work.

Prov 9:13 The woman Folly is loud; she is seductive^e and knows nothing.

^e Or full of simpleness

It is foolish to be “loud and brash” (NLT).

II. Antitheses of Love

We have various tendencies that work counter to love. These largely involve selfish attitudes and ill feelings – along with the adverse speech and actions that they produce. These greatly inhibit and harm our relationships with others, and must be avoided.

a) Selfish Attitudes

See also:

- b) Generosity, p. 1543

Subsections

- Do not pursue selfish ends . . .
- . . . Examples of selfishness
- Do not be greedy
- Do not covet
- Seek the interests of others before your own . . .
- . . . Do so even at great cost to yourself, as Jesus Christ did
- Be considerate and reasonable

Do not pursue selfish ends . . .

Ps 119:36 Incline my heart to your testimonies, and not to selfish gain!

Jer 45:5 And do you seek great things for yourself? Seek them not, for behold, I am bringing disaster upon all flesh, declares the LORD. But I will give you your life as a prize of war in all places to which you may go.

God's command to Jeremiah's scribe, Baruch, was given in the context of the impending judgment that would engulf the land, thwarting any aspirations for great things or of greatness. However God's command to not seek greatness is very much applicable to his people at any time.

Rom 2:8 ... but for those who are self-seeking^a and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, there will be wrath and fury.

^a Or contentious

1Cor 13:5b It [love] does not insist on its own way; it is not irritable or resentful;^b ...

^b Greek irritable and does not count up wrongdoing

Phil 2:3 Do nothing from rivalry or conceit, but in humility count others more significant than yourselves.

Rivalry is generally indicative of selfishness. Moreover, the Greek translated here as "rivalry" can also be translated as "selfishness" (NASB, NCV; cf. NLT) or "selfish ambition" (GNT, NIV, NKJV, NRSV).

James 3:14-16 But if you have bitter jealousy and selfish ambition in your hearts, do not boast and be false to the truth. ¹⁵This is not the wisdom that comes down from above, but is earthly, unspiritual, demonic. ¹⁶For where jealousy and selfish ambition exist, there will be disorder and every vile practice.

In v. 14 "the truth" most likely refers to the reality of this envy and selfish ambition (cf. CEV, NCV, NLT). Another possibility is that it denotes the truth of the gospel, which is effectively denied or negated by these things.

Prov 18:1 Whoever isolates himself seeks his own desire; he breaks out against all sound judgment.

This suggests that pursuing selfish ends defies sound judgment (cf. CEV).

2Cor 1:17 Was I vacillating when I wanted to do this? Do I make my plans according to the flesh, ready to say "Yes, yes" and "No, no" at the same time?

The phrase "according to the flesh" suggests that Paul claims that he did not make plans in a worldly way (cf. AMP, NCV, NIV, NLT, NRSV), in a way that served his own interests – "from selfish motives" (GNT) – so that he would be inclined to easily change his mind to suit himself. Paul implies that to do so would be like saying "Yes" and "No" in the one breath.

. . . Examples of selfishness

Gen 13:8-11 Then Abram said to Lot, "Let there be no strife between you and me, and between your herdsmen and my herdsmen, for we are kinsmen."⁹Is not the whole land before you? Separate yourself from me. If you take the left hand, then I will go to the right, or if you take the right hand, then I will go to the left."¹⁰And Lot lifted up his eyes and saw that the Jordan Valley was well watered everywhere like the garden of the LORD, like the land of Egypt, in the direction of Zoar. (This was before the LORD destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah.)¹¹So Lot chose for himself all the Jordan Valley, and Lot journeyed east. Thus they separated from each other.

Lot's selfish choice (v. 11) is in direct contrast with Abram's considerate and unselfish act in giving him the choice (vv. 9-10).

Isa 56:11 The dogs have a mighty appetite; they never have enough. But they are shepherds who have no understanding; they have all turned to their own way, each to his own gain, one and all.

Ezek 34:8 As I live, declares the Lord GOD, surely because my sheep have become a prey, and my sheep have become food for all the wild beasts, since there was no shepherd, and because my shepherds have not searched for my sheep, but the shepherds have fed themselves, and have not fed my sheep, ...

Matt 23:25 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you clean the outside of the cup and the plate, but inside they are full of greed and self-indulgence.

The Greek translated here as "self-indulgence" can also be translated as "selfishness" (CEV, GNT). It speaks of pleasing only oneself (cf. NCV).

Mark 10:35-37, 41 And James and John, the sons of Zebedee, came up to him and said to him, "Teacher, we want you to do for us whatever we ask of you." ³⁶And he said to them, "What do you want me to do for you?" ³⁷And they said to him, "Grant us to sit, one at your right hand and one at your left, in your glory."  ... ⁴¹And when the ten heard it, they began to be indignant at James and John.

The reaction of the other ten disciples (v. 41) implies that they correctly interpreted James and John's request as selfish.

Phil 1:17 The former proclaim Christ out of rivalry, not sincerely but thinking to afflict me in my imprisonment.

3Jn 1:9-10 I have written something to the church, but Diotrephes, who likes to put himself first, does not acknowledge our authority. ¹⁰So if I come, I will bring up what he is doing, talking wicked nonsense against us. And not content with that, he refuses to welcome the brothers, and also stops those who want to and puts them out of the church.

Verse 10 shows the lengths Diotrephes was prepared to go to in order to further his own interests and selfish ends.

Do not be greedy

Matt 23:25 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you clean the outside of the cup and the plate, but inside they are full of greed and self-indulgence.

1Cor 5:11 But now I am writing to you not to associate with anyone who bears the name of brother if he is guilty of sexual immorality or greed, or is an idolater, reviler, drunkard, or swindler—not even to eat with such a one.

This underlines the gravity of greed (along with sexually immorality).

Prov 15:27 Whoever is greedy for unjust gain troubles his own household, but he who hates bribes will live.

Prov 28:25 A greedy man stirs up strife, but the one who trusts in the LORD will be enriched.

Jer 8:10 Therefore I will give their wives to others and their fields to conquerors, because from the least to the greatest everyone is greedy for unjust gain; from prophet to priest, everyone deals falsely.

This evidences the fact that greed leads to other sins, such as deceit, a reminder of the fact that "the love of money is a root of all kinds of evils" (1Tim 6:10).

1Cor 6:9-10 Or do you not know that the unrighteous^d will not inherit the kingdom of God? Do not be deceived: neither the sexually immoral, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor men who practice homosexuality,^e ¹⁰nor thieves, nor the greedy, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor swindlers will inherit the kingdom of God.

^d Or wrongdoers

^e The two Greek terms translated by this phrase refer to the passive and active partners in consensual homosexual acts

Ps 10:3 For the wicked boasts of the desires of his soul, and the one greedy for gain curses^f and renounces the LORD.

^f Or and he blesses the one greedy for gain

‡ Greedy people are never satisfied:

Hab 2:5 "Moreover, wine^g is a traitor, an arrogant man who is never at rest.^h His greed is as wide as Sheol; like death he has never enough. He gathers for himself all nations and collects as his own all peoples.”

^g Masoretic Text; Dead Sea Scroll wealth

^h The meaning of the Hebrew of these two lines is uncertain

Like death, greedy people are never satisfied (cf. CEV, GNT, NASB, NCV, NRSV). Isaiah 56:11a makes a similar point, referring to wicked leaders as “dogs” – “The dogs have a mighty appetite; they never have enough.”

Do not covet

We are not to crave or desire anything that belongs to another person.

Ex 20:17 “You shall not covet your neighbor’s house; you shall not covet your neighbor’s wife, or his male servant, or his female servant, or his ox, or his donkey, or anything that is your neighbor’s.”

Deut 7:25 The carved images of their gods you shall burn with fire. You shall not covet the silver or the gold that is on them or take it for yourselves, lest you be ensnared by it, for it is an abomination to the LORD your God.

This appears to indicate that in coveting the silver and gold on these idols of “gods”, the people would risk being led into worship of them.

Luke 12:15 And he said to them, “Take care, and be on your guard against all covetousness, for one’s life does not consist in the abundance of his possessions.”

In the latter part of the verse Jesus points out that life is not about and does not depend on how much one has.

Eph 5:3, 5-6 But sexual immorality and all impurity or covetousness must not even be named among you, as is proper among saints. ... ⁵For you may be sure of this, that everyone who is sexually immoral or impure, or who is covetous (that is, an idolater), has no inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God. ⁶Let no one deceive you with empty words, for because of these things the wrath of God comes upon the sons of disobedience.

The description of such a person as “an idolater” (v. 5) probably refers primarily to being covetous, rather than also to the preceding adjectives. Covetous people serve their own interests, effectively putting themselves and material things in the place of God. The phrase “these things” (v. 6) refers to the sins mentioned in v. 5, which include being covetous. God’s wrath comes on people because of such things.

Col 3:5 *Put to death therefore what is earthly in you:*ⁱ sexual immorality, impurity, passion, evil desire, and covetousness, which is idolatry.

ⁱ Greek therefore your members that are on the earth

Covetousness is in a real sense idolatry as greedy people in effect idolize money or materialism (cf. Eph 5:5 ↑). Their hearts are set on such things, which thus become the object of their endeavors. They are “really serving a false god” (NCV™).

Acts 20:33 I coveted no one’s silver or gold or apparel.

Josh 7:20-21 And Achan answered Joshua, “Truly I have sinned against the LORD God of Israel, and this is what I did: ²¹*when I saw among the spoil a beautiful cloak from Shinar, and 200 shekels of silver, and a bar of gold weighing 50 shekels,*^j then I coveted them and took them. And see, they are hidden in the earth inside my tent, with the silver underneath.”

^j A shekel was about 2/5 ounce or 11 grams

In 6:18-19 Joshua had warned the people that they were not to take any of Jericho’s great riches for themselves. Achan’s coveting led to him disobeying this command, which had horrific consequences – for all the people and in particular himself (cf. vv. 4-5, 24-25).

Mic 2:1-2 Woe to those who devise wickedness and work evil on their beds! When the morning dawns, they perform it, because it is in the power of their hand. ²*They covet fields and seize them, and houses, and take them away; they oppress a man and his house, a man and his inheritance.*

Verse 1 indicates that coveting (v. 2) is sin and will bring woe. These verses also show that coveting can lead to other sins (cf. James 4:1-2 ↓), involving the perpetration of great injustice.

‡ Coveting can lead to quarrels and fights:

James 4:1-2 What causes quarrels and what causes fights among you? Is it not this, that your passions^k are at war within you?¹ ²*You desire and do not have, so you murder. You covet and cannot obtain, so you fight and quarrel.* You do not have, because you do not ask.

Here “murder” is probably hyperbole – “you are ready to kill” (GNT, NCV). The intense, destructive attitude that it depicts would appear here to arise from coveting, particularly in view of the following statement.

Seek the interests of others before your own . . .

1Cor 10:24, 33 Let no one seek his own good, but the good of his neighbor. ☞ ... ³³just as I try to please everyone in everything I do, not seeking my own advantage, but that of many, that they may be saved. ☞

Verse 24 is not saying that we should never do anything for our own good. Paul is meaning that we should not focus on or be looking out for our own good, but rather for the good of others.

Phil 2:4 Let each of you look not only to his own interests, but also to the interests of others. ☞

Phil 2:20-21 For I have no one like him, who will be genuinely concerned for your welfare. ²¹*For they all seek their own interests, not those of Jesus Christ.* ☞

Paul appears to correlate being concerned about the interests of others (v. 20b) – in contrast to looking out for one’s own interests (v. 21a) – with being concerned about the interests of Jesus Christ (v. 21b). Note that in v. 20 Paul is speaking of Timothy, whose exemplary genuine concern for the welfare of the Philippians (v. 20) contrasted with the self-interest of others (v. 21a).

Rom 15:1-3 We who are strong have an obligation to bear with the failings of the weak, and not to please ourselves. ²*Let each of us please his neighbor for his good, to build him up.* ³*For Christ did not please himself, but as it is written, “The reproaches of those who reproached you fell on me.”* ☞

We should bear with the shortcomings of others, pleasing and encouraging them, rather than pleasing ourselves to their detriment (vv. 1-2; cf. ch. 14). In Psalm 69:9 – quoted in v. 3b – David spoke of how he had faithfully put pleasing God ahead of pleasing himself, at the cost of suffering the insults that his association with God brought. Paul quotes it to underline the fact that even Christ did not please himself (v. 3a), his point being that likewise we should please others ahead of pleasing ourselves (vv. 1-2).

Num 14:12, 19 [God, to Moses:] I will strike them with the pestilence and disinherit them, and I will make of you a nation greater and mightier than they. ☞ ... [Moses:] ¹⁹*Please pardon the iniquity of this people, according to the greatness of your steadfast love, just as you have forgiven this people, from Egypt until now.* ☞

Here Moses provides a notable example of seeking the interests of others rather than one’s own. Rather than accepting God’s offer of greatness (v. 12b), Moses put the people’s interests ahead of such glory for himself (v. 19).

Even Christ did not come to be served, but to serve, even giving his life for others. We should similarly serve others, even seeking their interests at great cost to ourselves.

2Cor 8:9 For you know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that though he was rich, yet for your sake he became poor, so that you by his poverty might become rich. ☞

Note that this selflessness of Christ was to an extent paralleled by Paul in his work, in which Paul spoke of being “poor, yet making many rich” (6:10).

1Jn 3:16-17 By this we know love, that he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. ¹⁷*But if anyone has the world’s goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God’s love abide in him?* ☞

Putting the interests of others ahead of our own is particularly pertinent in regard to the interests of fellow believers. We should all the more be prepared to do so at the cost to ourselves of material possessions (v. 17) and even to the point of laying down our lives for them (v. 16).

Gen 44:32-33 For your servant became a pledge of safety for the boy to my father, saying, ‘If I do not bring him back to you, then I shall bear the blame before my father all my life.’ ³³*Now therefore, please let your servant remain instead of the boy as a servant to my lord, and let the boy go back with his brothers.* ☞

The speaker is Judah. The boy is his brother Benjamin, his father Isaac's youngest son.

As punishment for David's act of pride and self-reliance in spite of all that God had done for him, God had sent a plague on Israel. Here David unselfishly asks that he bear the full brunt of the punishment rather than it continue on his people.

Rom 16:3-4 Greet Prisca and Aquila, my fellow workers in Christ Jesus, who risked their necks for my life, to whom not only I give thanks but all the churches of the Gentiles give thanks as well.

Gal 4:14-15 ... and though my condition was a trial to you, you did not scorn or despise me, but received me as an angel of God, as Christ Jesus. ¹⁵What then has become of the blessing you felt? For I testify to you that, if possible, you would have gouged out your eyes and given them to me.

The hyperbole in the latter part of v. 15 underlines the willingness the Galatians had had in aiding Paul even at great personal cost.

1Thes 2:9 For you remember, brothers, our labor and toil: we worked night and day, that we might not be a burden to any of you, while we proclaimed to you the gospel of God.

Nehemiah did not demand his rights as the governor, being considerate of the heavy demands that were already on the people (cf. NCV, Nlrv, NLT).

Prov 25:17, 20 Let your foot be seldom in your neighbor's house, lest he have his fill of you and hate you. ...²⁰Whoever sings songs to a heavy heart is like one who takes off a garment on a cold day, and like vinegar on soda.

Avoid anger

See also:

- Ezek 35:11 ↓
- Being quick-tempered is foolish and ungodly, p. 1662

The inclusion of the topic of “Anger” under “Ill Feelings” needs qualifying. Anger is not always necessarily wrong (cf. comment on Eph 4:26-27 ↓). In fact at times anger is attributed to God and to Jesus Christ.

Ps 37:8 Refrain from anger, and forsake wrath! Fret not yourself; it tends only to evil. 📖

Eccl 7:9 Be not quick in your spirit to become angry, for anger lodges in the bosom of fools. 📖

Eph 4:26-27, 31 Be angry and do not sin; do not let the sun go down on your anger,²⁷ and give no opportunity to the devil. 📖
...³¹ Let all bitterness and wrath and anger and clamor and slander be put away from you, along with all malice. 📖

Not all anger is sinful in itself, but one needs to be wary of anger as it can easily lead to sin, hence the warning in v. 26a. One should also not allow anger to linger on and fester (v. 26b), as this would give the devil a starting point from which to make advances (v. 27).

Gal 5:19-20 Now the works of the flesh are evident: sexual immorality, impurity, sensuality,²⁰ idolatry, sorcery, enmity, strife, jealousy, fits of anger, rivalries, dissensions, divisions, ... 📖

1Tim 2:8 I desire then that in every place the men should pray, lifting holy hands without anger or quarreling; ... 📖

James 1:19-20 Know this, my beloved brothers: let every person be quick to hear, slow to speak, slow to anger;²⁰ for the anger of man does not produce the righteousness of God. 📖

Prov 14:29 Whoever is slow to anger has great understanding, but he who has a hasty temper exalts folly. 📖

Prov 15:18 A hot-tempered man stirs up strife, but he who is slow to anger quiets contention. 📖

Prov 16:32 Whoever is slow to anger is better than the mighty, and he who rules his spirit than he who takes a city. 📖

Prov 19:11 Good sense makes one slow to anger, and it is his glory to overlook an offense. 📖

Being slow to anger is a sign of wisdom.

Prov 19:19 A man of great wrath will pay the penalty, for if you deliver him, you will only have to do it again. 📖

Prov 29:22 A man of wrath stirs up strife, and one given to anger causes much transgression. 📖

Prov 30:33 For pressing milk produces curds, pressing the nose produces blood, and pressing anger produces strife. 📖

The phrase “pressing anger” appears to refer to stirring up anger (cf. GNT, NCV, NIV).

Gen 49:6-7 Let my soul come not into their council; O my glory, be not joined to their company. For in their anger they killed men, and in their willfulness they hamstringed oxen.⁷ Cursed be their anger, for it is fierce, and their wrath, for it is cruel! I will divide them in Jacob and scatter them in Israel. 📖

✚ Being angry with another makes one subject to judgment:

Matt 5:21-22 You have heard that it was said to those of old, ‘You shall not murder; and whoever murders will be liable to judgment.’²² But I say to you that everyone who is angry with his brother^q will be liable to judgment; whoever insults^r his brother will be liable to the council; and whoever says, 'You fool!' will be liable to the hell^s of fire.

^q Some manuscripts insert without cause

^r Greek says Raca to (a term of abuse)

^s Greek Gehenna; also verses 29, 30

Here "brother" "may refer to people in general or to other followers" (CEV text note). "You fool!" (v. 22) appears to be an insult spoken in anger.

Do not hate

See also:

▪ Gal 5:19-20

Lev 19:17 You shall not hate your brother in your heart, but you shall reason frankly with your neighbor, lest you incur sin because of him.

Note that the last clause may mean that if our neighbor has done something wrong and we do not take them to task about it, then we also bare some responsibility. Alternatively, in the light of the first statement in the verse, it may mean that if our neighbor has done something that induces us to be hateful, we should rebuke them rather than hate them in our hearts, which would cause us also to be guilty of sin.

Titus 3:3 For we ourselves were once foolish, disobedient, led astray, slaves to various passions and pleasures, passing our days in malice and envy, hated by others and hating one another.

1Jn 2:9, 11 Whoever says he is in the light and hates his brother is still in darkness.  ... ¹¹*But whoever hates his brother is in the darkness and walks in the darkness, and does not know where he is going, because the darkness has blinded his eyes.*

Here and in the following verses from 1 John, "brother" quite probably refers to a fellow believer – although arguably the teaching can be understood to extend to one's neighbor, i.e. all people.

1Jn 3:15 Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him.

Not dissimilar to Jesus' comment regarding anger in Matthew 5:21-22 in the previous subsection, John correlates hate with murder. It is an attitude of the heart that is outwardly fulfilled in murder (cf. Deut 19:11 ); it is the spiritual equivalent of murder. And one who unrepentantly hates, like an unrepentant murderer, does not have eternal life "abiding in him".

1Jn 4:20 If anyone says, "I love God," and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot^t love God whom he has not seen.

^t Some manuscripts how can he

For comment, see the comment on 1Jn 4:20-21 – under . . . Not loving other Christians has negative implications, p. 1314.

Gen 37:4 But when his brothers saw that their father loved him more than all his brothers, they hated him and could not speak peacefully to him.

This illustrates that hatred breeds unkindness and animosity (cf. vv. 18-28; Num 35:20 ; Deut 19:11-12 .

Num 35:20-21a And if he pushed him out of hatred or hurled something at him, lying in wait, so that he died, ²¹or in enmity struck him down with his hand, so that he died, then he who struck the blow shall be put to death.

This and Deuteronomy 19:11-12 below speak of how hatred can lead to violence and even murder.

Deut 19:11-12 But if anyone hates his neighbor and lies in wait for him and attacks him and strikes him fatally so that he dies, and he flees into one of these cities, ¹²then the elders of his city shall send and take him from there, and hand him over to the avenger of blood, so that he may die.

Prov 10:12 Hatred stirs up strife, but love covers all offenses.

Prov 15:17 Better is a dinner of herbs where love is than a fattened ox and hatred with it.

‡ God treated Edom according to the manifestation of its hatred of its Israelite neighbors:

Ezek 35:11 ... therefore, as I live, declares the Lord GOD, I will deal with you according to the anger and envy that you showed because of your hatred against them. And I will make myself known among them, when I judge you.

Get rid of bitterness

Eph 4:31 Let all bitterness and wrath and anger and clamor and slander be put away from you, along with all malice.

Note that bitterness may be listed first as often it is a key factor in the development of the other things listed.

Acts 8:23 For I see that you are in the gall^u of bitterness and in the bond of iniquity.

^u That is, a bitter fluid secreted by the liver; bile

Rom 3:14 "Their mouth is full of curses and bitterness."

Heb 12:15 See to it that no one fails to obtain the grace of God; that no "root of bitterness" springs up and causes trouble, and by it many become defiled; ...

Bitterness can express itself in ways that influence and defile others.

James 3:14 But if you have bitter jealousy and selfish ambition in your hearts, do not boast and be false to the truth.

Ps 73:21-22 When my soul was embittered, when I was pricked in heart, ²²I was brutish and ignorant; I was like a beast toward you.

‡ Do not be resentful:

1Cor 13:5b It [love] does not insist on its own way; it is not irritable or resentful;^v ...

^v Greek irritable and does not count up wrongdoing

Do not bear malice

See also:

- Eph 4:31

Malice involves ill will towards others, wanting to cause them harm or to see them suffer.

Col 3:8 But now you must put them all away: anger, wrath, malice, slander, and obscene talk from your mouth.

1Pet 2:1 So put away all malice and all deceit and hypocrisy and envy and all slander.

1Cor 5:8 Let us therefore celebrate the festival, not with the old leaven, the leaven of malice and evil, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

Note that in light of the references to leaven (here and in v. 6) and also to the Passover lamb (cf. v. 7), the "festival" quite probably alludes to the Festival of Unleavened Bread. It is used here either as a reference to celebrating the sacrifice of "Christ, our Passover lamb" (v. 7), or alternatively to the Christian life being a joyful life or "festival", in the light of Christ's sacrifice and its implications.

Ex 23:1 You shall not spread a false report. You shall not join hands with a wicked man to be a malicious witness.

Ezek 25:6-7a For thus says the Lord GOD: Because you have clapped your hands and stamped your feet and rejoiced with all the malice within your soul against the land of Israel, ⁷therefore, behold, I have stretched out my hand against you, and will hand you over as plunder to the nations.

Matt 22:15-18 Then the Pharisees went and plotted how to entangle him in his words. ¹⁶And they sent their disciples to him, along with the Herodians, saying, "Teacher, we know that you are true and teach the way of God truthfully, and you do not care about anyone's opinion, for you are not swayed by appearances."¹⁷Tell us, then, what you think. Is it lawful to pay taxes to Caesar, or not?" ¹⁸But Jesus, aware of their malice, said, "Why put me to the test, you hypocrites?

^w Greek for you do not look at people's faces

Rom 1:28-29a And since they did not see fit to acknowledge God, God gave them up to a debased mind to do what ought not to be done. ²⁹*They were filled with all manner of unrighteousness, evil, covetousness, malice.*

‡ Malice is associated with hatred:

Titus 3:3 For we ourselves were once foolish, disobedient, led astray, slaves to various passions and pleasures, passing our days in malice and envy, hated by others and hating one another.

Do not be jealous . . .

Rom 13:13 Let us walk properly as in the daytime, not in orgies and drunkenness, not in sexual immorality and sensuality, not in quarreling and jealousy.

1Cor 3:3 ... for you are still of the flesh. For while there is jealousy and strife among you, are you not of the flesh and behaving only in a human way?

Gal 5:19-20 Now the works of the flesh are evident: sexual immorality, impurity, sensuality, ²⁰idolatry, sorcery, enmity, strife, jealousy, fits of anger, rivalries, dissensions, divisions, ...

James 3:14-16 But if you have bitter jealousy and selfish ambition in your hearts, do not boast and be false to the truth. ¹⁵*This is not the wisdom that comes down from above, but is earthly, unspiritual, demonic.* ¹⁶*For where jealousy and selfish ambition exist, there will be disorder and every vile practice.*

As noted earlier, “the truth” most likely is referring to the reality of this jealousy and selfish ambition (cf. CEV, NCV, NLT). Boasting about such things and denying them are opposite approaches, but they are both inappropriate.

Job 5:2 Surely vexation kills the fool, and jealousy slays the simple.

Prov 27:4 Wrath is cruel, anger is overwhelming, but who can stand before jealousy?

Here “who” may refer to the one who is jealous, rather than the one who is the object of the jealousy. Jealousy has an irresistible, detrimental effect on those in whom it abides (cf. Job 5:2 ↑) – as does envy (cf. Ps 73:2-3 ↓; Prov 14:30 ↓).

Num 11:26-29 Now two men remained in the camp, one named Eldad, and the other named Medad, and the Spirit rested on them. They were among those registered, but they had not gone out to the tent, and so they prophesied in the camp. ²⁷And a young man ran and told Moses, “Eldad and Medad are prophesying in the camp.” ²⁸And Joshua the son of Nun, the assistant of Moses from his youth, said, “My lord Moses, stop them.” ²⁹But Moses said to him, “Are you jealous for my sake? Would that all the LORD’s people were prophets, that the LORD would put his Spirit on them!”

Moses provides an excellent example of spurning jealousy.

1Sam 18:6-9 As they were coming home, when David returned from striking down the Philistine, the women came out of all the cities of Israel, singing and dancing, to meet King Saul, with tambourines, with songs of joy, and with musical instruments.^x ⁷And the women sang to one another as they celebrated, “Saul has struck down his thousands, and David his ten thousands.” ⁸And Saul was very angry, and this saying displeased him. He said, “They have ascribed to David ten thousands, and to me they have ascribed thousands, and what more can he have but the kingdom?” ⁹And Saul eyed David from that day on.

^x Or triangles, or three-stringed instruments

Following this incident, Saul kept a “jealous eye” (NIV®, NLT) on David.

Acts 7:9 And the patriarchs, jealous of Joseph, sold him into Egypt; but God was with him ...

This and the following references (13:45; 17:5a), illustrate how jealousy can lead to wicked actions.

Acts 13:45 But when the Jews saw the crowds, they were filled with jealousy and began to contradict what was spoken by Paul, reviling him.

Acts 17:5 But the Jews were jealous, and taking some wicked men of the rabble, they formed a mob, set the city in an uproar, and attacked the house of Jason, seeking to bring them out to the crowd.

... Do not envy

Gal 5:26 Let us not become conceited, provoking one another, envying one another.

Prov 3:31 Do not envy a man of violence and do not choose any of his ways, ...

This and the following two extracts from Proverbs may allude to how being envious of wicked people can lead one to follow their ways.

Prov 23:17 Let not your heart envy sinners, but continue in the fear of the LORD all the day.

Prov 24:1, 19-20 Be not envious of evil men, nor desire to be with them, ... ¹⁹Fret not yourself because of evildoers, and be not envious of the wicked, ²⁰for the evil man has no future; the lamp of the wicked will be put out.

Note that Psalms 37:1-2 is quite similar to vv. 19-20.

1Cor 13:4 Love is patient and kind; love does not envy or boast; it is not arrogant ...

Ps 73:2-3 But as for me, my feet had almost stumbled, my steps had nearly slipped. ³For I was envious of the arrogant when I saw the prosperity of the wicked.

Envy (v. 3) can lead to one losing one’s grip (v. 2) on such things as godliness and a sound mindset and existence.

Prov 14:30 A tranquil^y heart gives life to the flesh, but envy^z makes the bones rot.

^y Or healing

^z Or jealousy

Ecc 4:4 Then I saw that all toil and all skill in work come from a man’s envy of his neighbor. This also is vanity and a striving after wind.

Striving to achieve goals simply to satisfy envy is a common but pointless exercise.

Mark 15:9-10 And he answered them, saying, “Do you want me to release for you the King of the Jews?” ¹⁰For he perceived that it was out of envy that the chief priests had delivered him up.

Titus 3:3 For we ourselves were once foolish, disobedient, led astray, slaves to various passions and pleasures, passing our days in malice and envy, hated by others and hating one another.

✦ Paul's godly jealousy for his converts' undivided devotion to Christ:

2Cor 11:2 For I feel a divine jealousy for you, since I betrothed you to one husband, to present you as a pure virgin to Christ.

Do not show contempt

See also:

- Do not scoff, p. 1571

"Contempt" means to regard someone (or something) as inferior, insignificant or foolish.

Gen 16:1, 4-5 Now Sarai, Abram's wife, had borne him no children. She had a female Egyptian servant whose name was Hagar.  ... ⁴And he went in to Hagar, and she conceived. And when she saw that she had conceived, she looked with contempt on her mistress.^a ⁵And Sarai said to Abram, "May the wrong done to me be on you! I gave my servant to your embrace, and when she saw that she had conceived, she looked on me with contempt. May the LORD judge between you and me!"

^a Hebrew her mistress was dishonorable in her eyes; similarly in verse 5

This indicates that contempt is wrong – "the wrong done to me" (v. 5a).

Prov 3:34 Toward the scorners he is scornful, but to the humble he gives favor.^b

^b Or grace

To be "scornful" is to have contempt and often involves the expression of it.

Prov 14:21 Whoever despises his neighbor is a sinner, but blessed is he who is generous to the poor.

To despise someone is to look upon them with contempt.

Prov 17:5 Whoever mocks the poor insults his Maker; he who is glad at calamity will not go unpunished.

Mocking someone is not only showing contempt towards them, but also to God as their Maker.

Prov 18:3 When wickedness comes, contempt comes also, and with dishonor comes disgrace.

This underlines the evil nature of contempt, indicating that it is or can be bred by wickedness.

Prov 23:22 Listen to your father who gave you life, and do not despise your mother when she is old.

Ezek 22:7 Father and mother are treated with contempt in you; the sojourner suffers extortion in your midst; the fatherless and the widow are wronged in you.

Here God is condemning "the princes of Israel" (v. 6).

Matt 5:22 But I say to you that everyone who is angry with his brother^c will be liable to judgment; whoever insults^d his brother will be liable to the council; and whoever says, 'You fool!' will be liable to the hell^e of fire.

^c Some manuscripts insert without cause

^d Greek says Raca to (a term of abuse)

^e Greek Gehenna; also verses 29, 30

Insults are indicative of contempt.

Matt 18:10 See that you do not despise one of these little ones. For I tell you that in heaven their angels always see the face of my Father who is in heaven.^f

^f Some manuscripts add verse 11: For the Son of Man came to save the lost

Note that "little ones" may refer primarily to young or new believers, instead of children generally. Alternatively, it may denote believers in general, who should humble themselves like little children (cf. v. 4).

Luke 18:9-14 He also told this parable to some who trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and treated others with contempt: ¹⁰"Two men went up into the temple to pray, one a Pharisee and the other a tax collector. ¹¹The Pharisee, standing by himself, prayed^g thus: 'God, I thank you that I am not like other men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even like this tax collector. ¹²I fast twice a week; I give tithes of all that I get.' ¹³But the tax collector, standing far off, would not even lift up his eyes to heaven, but beat his breast, saying, 'God, be merciful to me, a sinner!' ¹⁴*I tell you, this man went down to his house justified, rather than the other. For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, but the one who humbles himself will be exalted.*"

^g Or standing, prayed to himself

Gal 4:14 ... and though my condition was a trial to you, you did not scorn or despise me, but received me as an angel of God, as Christ Jesus.

Titus 2:15 Declare these things; exhort and rebuke with all authority. Let no one disregard you.

Titus was not to let anyone “look down” (GNT, NRSV) on him or what he had to say – implying that it would have been wrong for any of the church members to treat him with such disrespect and contempt.

Deut 17:12-13 The man who acts presumptuously by not obeying the priest who stands to minister there before the LORD your God, or the judge, that man shall die. So you shall purge the evil from Israel. ¹³And all the people shall hear and fear and not act presumptuously again.

Because of their association with God in their roles, showing such contempt (cf. NIV) for a judge or a priest was to a large extent being contemptuous of God (cf. Prov 17:5 ↑).

2Tim 2:24 And the Lord’s servant^h must not be quarrelsome but kind to everyone, able to teach, patiently enduring evil, ...

^h Greek bondservant

Titus 3:1-2 Remind them to be submissive to rulers and authorities, to be obedient, to be ready for every good work, ²to speak evil of no one, to avoid quarreling, to be gentle, and to show perfect courtesy toward all people.

2Tim 2:14 Remind them of these things, and charge them before Godⁱ not to quarrel about words, which does no good, but only ruins the hearers.

ⁱ Some manuscripts the Lord

Whether this is referring to quarreling about the technical meaning of certain words or some other matter, the issues involved were certainly trivial. Doing so was not only pointless but also destructive, a foolish practice (cf. v. 23) – akin to sin.

Matt 12:19 He will not quarrel or cry aloud, nor will anyone hear his voice in the streets; ...

This is speaking of the Messiah.

Gen 13:8 Then Abram said to Lot, “Let there be no strife between you and me, and between your herdsmen and my herdsmen, for we are kinsmen.”^j

^j Hebrew we are men, brothers

Strife accompanies quarreling (cf. Prov 17:14 ↓; Prov 20:3 ↓; Prov 26:21 ↓); one leads to the other.

Gen 45:24 Then he sent his brothers away, and as they departed, he said to them, “Do not quarrel on the way.”

Prov 17:14, 19 The beginning of strife is like letting out water, so quit before the quarrel breaks out. ... ¹⁹Whoever loves transgression loves strife; he who makes his door high seeks destruction.

Strife and quarreling are sinful in themselves; but they also lead to sin – which may well be the gist of v. 19a.

Prov 20:3 It is an honor for a man to keep aloof from strife, but every fool will be quarreling.

Prov 21:9, 19 It is better to live in a corner of the housetop than in a house shared with a quarrelsome wife. ... ¹⁹It is better to live in a desert land than with a quarrelsome and fretful woman.

In the same vain Proverbs 19:13 says, “... a wife’s quarreling is a continual dripping of rain.” (cf. 27:15-16).

Prov 26:17, 21 Whoever meddles in a quarrel not his own is like one who takes a passing dog by the ears. ... ²¹As charcoal to hot embers and wood to fire, so is a quarrelsome man for kindling strife.

Ex 21:18 When men quarrel and one strikes the other with a stone or with his fist and the man does not die but takes to his bed, ...

This illustrates that quarrelling can easily lead to violence (cf. Isa 58:4 ↓).

Isa 58:4 Behold, you fast only to quarrel and to fight and to hit with a wicked fist. Fasting like yours this day will not make your voice to be heard on high.

Ex 17:1-3 All the congregation of the people of Israel moved on from the wilderness of Sin by stages, according to the commandment of the LORD, and camped at Rephidim, but there was no water for the people to drink. ²Therefore the people quarreled with Moses and said, "Give us water to drink." And Moses said to them, "Why do you quarrel with me? Why do you test the LORD?" ³*But the people thirsted there for water, and the people grumbled against Moses and said, "Why did you bring us up out of Egypt, to kill us and our children and our livestock with thirst?"*

‡ God hates discord being sewn amongst brothers:

Prov 6:16-19 There are six things that the LORD hates, seven that are an abomination to him: ¹⁷haughty eyes, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood, ¹⁸a heart that devises wicked plans, feet that make haste to run to evil, ¹⁹a false witness who breathes out lies, and one who sows discord among brothers.

Do not curse

Rom 12:14 Bless those who persecute you; bless and do not curse them.

James 3:9-10 With it we bless our Lord and Father, and with it we curse people who are made in the likeness of God. ¹⁰*From the same mouth come blessing and cursing. My brothers,^k these things ought not to be so.*

^k Or brothers and sisters; also verse 12

Lev 19:14 You shall not curse the deaf or put a stumbling block before the blind, but you shall fear your God: I am the LORD.

Lev 20:9 For anyone who curses his father or his mother shall surely be put to death; he has cursed his father or his mother; his blood is upon him.

Job 31:29-30 If I have rejoiced at the ruin of him who hated me, or exulted when evil overtook him ³⁰*(I have not let my mouth sin by asking for his life with a curse), ...*

Ecc 10:20 Even in your thoughts, do not curse the king, nor in your bedroom curse the rich, for a bird of the air will carry your voice, or some winged creature tell the matter.

One reason for not cursing others is that they may come to hear of it.

Ps 10:7 His mouth is filled with cursing and deceit and oppression; under his tongue are mischief and iniquity.

Cursing is characteristic of "the wicked" (v. 2).

Ps 59:12-13 For the sin of their mouths, the words of their lips, let them be trapped in their pride. For the cursing and lies that they utter, ¹³consume them in wrath; consume them till they are no more, that they may know that God rules over Jacob to the ends of the earth. Selah

Rather than cursing those who curse, the psalmist asks God to deal with such people accordingly (cf. Ps 109:17 ↓), because of "the cursing and lies that they utter" (v. 12b).

Ps 109:17 He loved to curse; let curses come^l upon him! He did not delight in blessing; may it be far^m from him!

^l Revocalization; Masoretic Text curses have come

^m Revocalization; Masoretic Text it is far

Prov 26:2 Like a sparrow in its flitting, like a swallow in its flying, a curse that is causeless does not alight.

An undeserved curse will bring no harm to the innocent person it is directed against (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NLT).

‡ It would inevitably be hypocritical to be upset by being cursed by others:

Ecc 7:21-22 Do not take to heart all the things that people say, lest you hear your servant cursing you. ²²*Your heart knows that many times you yourself have cursed others.*

Do not scoff

Job 36:18 Beware lest wrath entice you into scoffing, and let not the greatness of the ransom turn you aside.

Ps 1:1 Blessed is the manⁿ who walks not in the counsel of the wicked, nor stands in the way of sinners, nor sits in the seat of scoffers; ...

ⁿ The singular Hebrew word for man (ish) is used here to portray a representative example of a godly person; see Preface

Prov 9:12 If you are wise, you are wise for yourself; if you scoff, you alone will bear it.

This may well be referring in particular to scoffing at wisdom – “whoever makes fun of wisdom will suffer for it.” (NCV™, cf. GNT, NLT)

Prov 14:6 A scoffer seeks wisdom in vain, but knowledge is easy for a man of understanding.

Scoffing is incompatible with wisdom (cf. Prov 9:12 ↑; Prov 11:12 ↓).

Prov 15:12 A scoffer does not like to be reproved; he will not go to the wise.

Prov 19:29 Condemnation is ready for scoffers, and beating for the backs of fools.

Scoffing leads to one being punished.

Prov 21:24 “Scoffer” is the name of the arrogant, haughty man who acts with arrogant pride.

Pride and arrogance are characteristics of a scoffer.

Prov 22:10 Drive out a scoffer, and strife will go out, and quarreling and abuse will cease.

Prov 24:9 The devising^o of folly is sin, and the scoffer is an abomination to mankind.

^o Or scheming

Prov 29:8 Scoffers set a city aflame, but the wise turn away wrath.

Isa 29:20 For the ruthless shall come to nothing and the scoffer cease, and all who watch to do evil shall be cut off, ...

2Pet 3:3-4 ... knowing this first of all, that scoffers will come in the last days with scoffing, following their own sinful desires. ⁴They will say, “Where is the promise of his coming? For ever since the fathers fell asleep, all things are continuing as they were from the beginning of creation.”

Prov 11:12 Whoever belittles his neighbor lacks sense, but a man of understanding remains silent.

Zeph 2:8-10 “I have heard the taunts of Moab and the revilings of the Ammonites, how they have taunted my people and made boasts against their territory. ⁹Therefore, as I live,” declares the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “Moab shall become like Sodom, and the Ammonites like Gomorrah, a land possessed by nettles and salt pits, and a waste forever. The remnant of my people shall plunder them, and the survivors of my nation shall possess them.” ¹⁰This shall be their lot in return for their pride, because they taunted and boasted against the people of the LORD of hosts.

Do not slander

Eph 4:31 Let all bitterness and wrath and anger and clamor and slander be put away from you, along with all malice.

1Pet 2:1 So put away all malice and all deceit and hypocrisy and envy and all slander.

Lev 19:16 You shall not go around as a slanderer among your people, and you shall not stand up against the life^p of your neighbor: I am the LORD.

^p Hebrew blood

Ex 23:1 You shall not spread a false report. You shall not join hands with a wicked man to be a malicious witness.

Ps 15:1-3 O LORD, who shall sojourn in your tent? Who shall dwell on your holy hill? ²He who walks blamelessly and does what is right and speaks truth in his heart; ³who does not slander with his tongue and does no evil to his neighbor, nor takes up a reproach against his friend; ...

Note that the last clause appears to have gossip (cf. GNT, NCV) in view – the theme of the following subsection.

Ps 50:20-21 You sit and speak against your brother; you slander your own mother’s son. ²¹These things you have done, and I have been silent; you thought that I^q was one like yourself. But now I rebuke you and lay the charge before you.

^q Or that the I AM

As the text note implies, God is the speaker – the one who will rebuke and charge (v. 21) such slanderers.

Ps 101:5 [David:] Whoever slanders his neighbor secretly I will destroy. Whoever has a haughty look and an arrogant heart I will not endure.

Prov 10:18 The one who conceals hatred has lying lips, and whoever utters slander is a fool.

Prov 11:13 Whoever goes about slandering reveals secrets, but he who is trustworthy in spirit keeps a thing covered.

Prov 30:10 Do not slander a servant to his master, lest he curse you, and you be held guilty. 📖

Titus 3:2 ... to speak evil of no one, to avoid quarreling, to be gentle, and to show perfect courtesy toward all people. 📖

To “speak evil of” another (cf. James 4:11 ↓) includes slandering (cf. NIV), but is not limited to it.

James 4:11 Do not speak evil against one another, brothers.^r The one who speaks against a brother or judges his brother, speaks evil against the law and judges the law. But if you judge the law, you are not a doer of the law but a judge. 📖

For comment, see the comment on James 4:11-12 – under Do not judge others . . ., p. 1551.

3Jn 1:10 So if I come, I will bring up what he is doing, talking wicked nonsense against us. And not content with that, he refuses to welcome the brothers, and also stops those who want to and puts them out of the church. 📖

Do not gossip

See also:

- Ps 15:3 ↑

Prov 16:28 A dishonest man spreads strife, and a whisperer separates close friends. 📖

A “whisperer” (cf. Prov 18:8 ↓; Prov 26:20 ↓) is a gossip.

Prov 17:9 Whoever covers an offense seeks love, but he who repeats a matter separates close friends. 📖

Prov 18:8 The words of a whisperer are like delicious morsels; they go down into the inner parts of the body. 📖

The first clause remarks on the attractiveness of listening to gossip – something which arguably is as bad as actually doing the gossiping, for doing so makes gossip possible and encourages it. The second clause may similarly have the attractiveness of gossip in view – but it could instead be implying that it is detrimental to the listener (cf. NLT), having an affect on one’s inmost being.

Prov 26:20 For lack of wood the fire goes out, and where there is no whisperer, quarreling ceases. 📖

This suggests that gossip is a key cause of quarreling.

Rom 1:29 They were filled with all manner of unrighteousness, evil, covetousness, malice. They are full of envy, murder, strife, deceit, maliciousness. They are gossips, ... 📖

2Cor 12:20 For I fear that perhaps when I come I may find you not as I wish, and that you may find me not as you wish—that perhaps there may be quarreling, jealousy, anger, hostility, slander, gossip, conceit, and disorder. 📖

1Tim 5:13 Besides that, they learn to be idlers, going about from house to house, and not only idlers, but also gossips and busybodies, saying what they should not. 📖

‡ Avoid people who talk too much:

Prov 20:19 Whoever goes about slandering reveals secrets; therefore do not associate with a simple babbler.^s 📖

^s Hebrew with one who is simple in his lips

Avoid people who talk too much because of the likelihood of them gossiping, both to you and about you.

Do not grumble, particularly against others

James 5:9 Do not grumble against one another, brothers, so that you may not be judged; behold, the Judge is standing at the door. 📖

1Pet 4:9 Show hospitality to one another without grumbling. 📖

Phil 2:14-15 Do all things without grumbling or questioning, ¹⁵that you may be blameless and innocent, children of God without blemish in the midst of a crooked and twisted generation, among whom you shine as lights in the world, ... 📖

Avoiding grumbling about or “finding fault” (NirV®) with others is vital to being “without blemish” (v. 15) ourselves.

Jude 1:16 These are grumblers, malcontents, following their own sinful desires; they are loud-mouthed boasters, showing favoritism to gain advantage. 📖

Ex 16:2-3, 8 And the whole congregation of the people of Israel grumbled against Moses and Aaron in the wilderness, ³and the people of Israel said to them, “Would that we had died by the hand of the LORD in the land of Egypt, when we sat by the meat pots and ate bread to the full, for you have brought us out into this wilderness to kill this whole assembly with hunger.” 📖 ... ⁸And Moses said, “When the LORD gives you in the evening meat to eat and in the morning bread to the full, because the LORD has heard your grumbling that you grumble against him—what are we? Your grumbling is not against us but against the LORD."

The people's complaints against Moses and Aaron were in effect against God (v. 8), whom Moses and Aaron represented, heightening the seriousness of their grumbling.

✦ Do not revile others:

1Cor 6:10 ... nor thieves, nor the greedy, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor swindlers will inherit the kingdom of God.

To "revile" is to verbally attack someone in an abusive and/or insulting fashion.

Ezek 8:17 Then he said to me, "Have you seen this, O son of man? Is it too light a thing for the house of Judah to commit the abominations that they commit here, that they should fill the land with violence and provoke me still further to anger? Behold, they put the branch to their^v nose.

^v Or my

Note that it is not clear as to exactly what the expression "put the branch to their nose" means. Whatever the case, it was obviously, like violence, offensive to God (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NLT).

Mal 2:16 "For the man who does not love his wife but divorces her,^w says the LORD, the God of Israel, covers^x his garment with violence, says the LORD of hosts. So guard yourselves in your spirit, and do not be faithless."

1Pet 4:15 But let none of you suffer as a murderer or a thief or an evildoer or as a meddler. 📖

1Jn 3:12 We should not be like Cain, who was of the evil one and murdered his brother. And why did he murder him? Because his own deeds were evil and his brother's righteous. 📖

Gen 9:5-6 And for your lifeblood I will require a reckoning: from every beast I will require it and from man. From his fellow man I will require a reckoning for the life of man. ⁶"Whoever sheds the blood of man, by man shall his blood be shed, for God made man in his own image. 📖

Ex 21:14 But if a man willfully attacks another to kill him by cunning, you shall take him from my altar, that he may die. 📖

The NT does not propagate the death penalty. Nevertheless its mention here in regard to murder – as with other topics in this section (cf. Deut 2:25 ↓) – serves to illustrate the seriousness of the crime (cf. Gen 9:6 ↑).

Deut 27:24-25 'Cursed be anyone who strikes down his neighbor in secret.' And all the people shall say, 'Amen.'²⁵*"Cursed be anyone who takes a bribe to shed innocent blood.*' And all the people shall say, 'Amen.' 📖

Such cursing pronounced God's punishment.

2Ki 24:3-4 Surely this came upon Judah at the command of the LORD, to remove them out of his sight, for the sins of Manasseh, according to all that he had done, ⁴and also for the innocent blood that he had shed. For he filled Jerusalem with innocent blood, and the LORD would not pardon. 📖

Prov 6:16-17 There are six things that the LORD hates, seven that are an abomination to him: ¹⁷haughty eyes, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood, ... 📖

Prov 28:17 If one is burdened with the blood of another, he will be a fugitive until death;^b let no one help him. 📖

^b Hebrew until the pit

The reference to being a "fugitive" is speaking of being a fugitive from justice or possibly from a tormented conscience (cf. AMP).

Ezek 35:6 ... therefore, as I live, declares the Lord God, I will prepare you for blood, and blood shall pursue you; because you did not hate bloodshed, therefore blood shall pursue you. 📖

Hab 2:10 You have devised shame for your house by cutting off many peoples; you have forfeited your life. 📖

James 4:1-2 What causes quarrels and what causes fights among you? Is it not this, that your passions^c are at war within you?^d ²You desire and do not have, so you murder. You covet and cannot obtain, so you fight and quarrel. You do not have, because you do not ask. 📖

^c Greek pleasures; also verse 3

^d Greek in your members

As noted earlier, here "murder" is probably hyperbole – "you are ready to kill" (GNT, NCV). However it portrays an intense, destructive attitude which can lead to actual murder.

James 5:1, 6 Come now, you rich, weep and howl for the miseries that are coming upon you. 📖 ... ⁶You have condemned and murdered the righteous person. He does not resist you. 📖

1Jn 3:15 Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him. ☞

Rev 21:8 But as for the cowardly, the faithless, the detestable, as for murderers, the sexually immoral, sorcerers, idolaters, and all liars, their portion will be in the lake that burns with fire and sulfur, which is the second death. ☞

Lev 19:16 You shall not go around as a slanderer among your people, and you shall not stand up against the life^e of your neighbor: I am the LORD. ☞

^e Hebrew blood

In light of the first clause, in the second clause the meaning may be: "nor shall you [secure yourself by false testimony or by silence and] endanger the life of your neighbor" (AMP; cf. NIV). Supplementary to commands not to murder is this command to not do such things that would endanger another's life.

Num 35:16-17, 20-25 But if he struck him down with an iron object, so that he died, he is a murderer. The murderer shall be put to death. ¹⁷And if he struck him down with a stone tool that could cause death, and he died, he is a murderer. The murderer shall be put to death. ☞ ... ²⁰And if he pushed him out of hatred or hurled something at him, lying in wait, so that he died, ²¹or in enmity struck him down with his hand, so that he died, then he who struck the blow shall be put to death. He is a murderer. The avenger of blood shall put the murderer to death when he meets him. ²²"But if he pushed him suddenly without enmity, or hurled anything on him without lying in wait ²³or used a stone that could cause death, and without seeing him dropped it on him, so that he died, though he was not his enemy and did not seek his harm, ²⁴then the congregation shall judge between the manslayer and the avenger of blood, in accordance with these rules. ²⁵And the congregation shall rescue the manslayer from the hand of the avenger of blood, and the congregation shall restore him to his city of refuge to which he had fled, and he shall live in it until the death of the high priest who was anointed with the holy oil. ☞

Another such law determining if a killing was in fact murder is that regarding the killing of a thief in Exodus 22:2-3a: "If a thief is found breaking in and is struck so that he dies, there shall be no bloodguilt for him, ³but if the sun has risen on him, there shall be bloodguilt for him."

Do not rape

Deut 22:25 But if in the open country a man meets a young woman who is betrothed, and the man seizes her and lies with her, then only the man who lay with her shall die. ☞

Gen 34:2, 7 And when Shechem the son of Hamor the Hivite, the prince of the land, saw her, he seized her and lay with her and humiliated her. ☞ ... ⁷The sons of Jacob had come in from the field as soon as they heard of it, and the men were indignant and very angry, because he had done an outrageous thing in Israel by lying with Jacob's daughter, for such a thing must not be done. ☞

Judg 20:5-6 And the leaders of Gibeah rose against me and surrounded the house against me by night. They meant to kill me, and they violated my concubine, and she is dead. ⁶So I took hold of my concubine and cut her in pieces and sent her throughout all the country of the inheritance of Israel, for they have committed abomination and outrage in Israel. ☞

2Sam 13:10-14 Then Amnon said to Tamar, "Bring the food into the chamber, that I may eat from your hand." And Tamar took the cakes she had made and brought them into the chamber to Amnon her brother. ¹¹But when she brought them near him to eat, he took hold of her and said to her, "Come, lie with me, my sister." ¹²She answered him, "No, my brother, do not violate^f me, for such a thing is not done in Israel; do not do this outrageous thing. ¹³As for me, where could I carry my shame? And as for you, you would be as one of the outrageous fools in Israel. Now therefore, please speak to the king, for he will not withhold me from you." ¹⁴But he would not listen to her, and being stronger than she, he violated her and lay with her. ☞

^f Or humiliate; also verses 14, 22, 32

The damaging effect that this incident had on Tamar is shown later in vv. 19-22. Amnon himself – Tamar's half-brother – paid the ultimate price for his evil act, with Tamar's full brother Absalom killing him for it (vv. 26-29). Note that the above-mentioned incidences of rape also drew gruesome revenge (cf. Gen 34:25-29; Judg 20:33-48).

Do not kidnap

Ex 21:16 Whoever steals a man and sells him, and anyone found in possession of him, shall be put to death. ☞

Deut 24:7 If a man is found stealing one of his brothers of the people of Israel, and if he treats him as a slave or sells him, then that thief shall die. So you shall purge the evil from your midst.

1Tim 1:9-10 ... understanding this, that the law is not laid down for the just but for the lawless and disobedient, for the ungodly and sinners, for the unholy and profane, for those who strike their fathers and mothers, for murderers, ¹⁰the sexually immoral, men who practice homosexuality, enslavers,^g liars, perjurers, and whatever else is contrary to sound^h doctrine, ...

^g That is, those who take someone captive in order to sell him into slavery

^h Or healthy

Such “enslavers” are “kidnappers” (CEV, GNT, NASB, NKJV), as reflected in the text note.

Gen 40:15 For I was indeed stolen out of the land of the Hebrews, and here also I have done nothing that they should put me into the pit.

Joseph was effectively kidnapped – the most infamous example in the Bible.

Do not oppress

Oppression entails unjust use of power, often involving violence or threat of violence.

Lev 19:13a “You shall not oppress your neighbor or rob him.

Ezek 45:9 Thus says the Lord GOD: Enough, O princes of Israel! Put away violence and oppression, and execute justice and righteousness. Cease your evictions of my people, declares the Lord GOD.

Isa 33:15-16 He who walks righteously and speaks uprightly, who despises the gain of oppressions, who shakes his hands, lest they hold a bribe, who stops his ears from hearing of bloodshed and shuts his eyes from looking on evil, ¹⁶he will dwell on the heights; his place of defense will be the fortresses of rocks; his bread will be given him; his water will be sure.

Isa 58:3 ‘Why have we fasted, and you see it not? Why have we humbled ourselves, and you take no knowledge of it?’ Behold, in the day of your fast you seek your own pleasure,ⁱ and oppress all your workers.

ⁱ Or pursue your own business

God ignores any supposed religious acts of oppressors.

Ezek 18:5-7 If a man is righteous and does what is just and right— ⁶if he does not eat upon the mountains or lift up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, does not defile his neighbor’s wife or approach a woman in her time of menstrual impurity, ⁷*does not oppress anyone*, but restores to the debtor his pledge, commits no robbery, gives his bread to the hungry and covers the naked with a garment, ...

Ecc 7:7 Surely oppression drives the wise into madness, and a bribe corrupts the heart.

Isa 30:12-13 Therefore thus says the Holy One of Israel, “Because you despise this word and trust in oppression and perverseness and rely on them, ¹³*therefore this iniquity shall be to you like a breach in a high wall, bulging out, and about to collapse, whose breaking comes suddenly, in an instant;* ...

Jer 6:6 For thus says the LORD of hosts: “Cut down her trees; cast up a siege mound against Jerusalem. This is the city that must be punished; there is nothing but oppression within her.

Jer 22:13 Woe to him who builds his house by unrighteousness, and his upper rooms by injustice, who makes his neighbor serve him for nothing and does not give him his wages, ...

The things spoken of here are acts of oppression.

Zeph 3:1 Woe to her who is rebellious and defiled, the oppressing city!

‡ Lament over the plight of the oppressed:

Ecc 4:1-2 Again I saw all the oppressions that are done under the sun. And behold, the tears of the oppressed, and they had no one to comfort them! On the side of their oppressors there was power, and there was no one to comfort them. ²*And I thought the dead who are already dead more fortunate than the living who are still alive.*

I. Justice in Action

Topics encompassed by the theme of justice together form a very large proportion of what the Bible says about how to relate to other people. It is essential that we incorporate the Bible's teaching on these topics into our own lives. In doing so, we must be mindful that acting justly involves not only doing what is right ourselves; it also involves ensuring that others are treated fairly – notably the needy.

a) Do What Is Just and Right

Practice justice

Mic 6:8 He has told you, O man, what is good; and what does the LORD require of you but to do justice, and to love kindness,^a and to walk humbly with your God?

^a Or steadfast love

Deut 16:20 Justice, and only justice, you shall follow, that you may live and inherit the land that the LORD your God is giving you.

Isa 1:17 ... learn to do good; seek justice, correct oppression; bring justice to the fatherless, plead the widow's cause.

Jer 7:5 For if you truly amend your ways and your deeds, if you truly execute justice one with another, ...

Hos 12:6 "So you, by the help of your God, return, hold fast to love and justice, and wait continually for your God."

Matt 23:23 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you tithe mint and dill and cumin, and have neglected the weightier matters of the law: justice and mercy and faithfulness. These you ought to have done, without neglecting the others.

Lev 19:36 You shall have just balances, just weights, a just ephah, and a just hin:^b I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt.

^b An ephah was about 3/5 bushel or 22 liters; a hin was about 4 quarts or 3.5 liters

Job 31:13-15 If I have rejected the cause of my manservant or my maidservant, when they brought a complaint against me, ¹⁴what then shall I do when God rises up? When he makes inquiry, what shall I answer him? ¹⁵Did not he who made me in the womb make him? And did not one fashion us in the womb?

God's judgment (v. 14; cf. Lam 3:34-36 ↓) – particularly in light of the equality of all people before him (v. 15) – provides great incentive to act justly towards others.

Ps 94:15 ... for justice will return to the righteous, and all the upright in heart will follow it.

During a time when the wicked held sway, the psalmist had confidence that a time would come when the righteous would again have justice – and all the upright would follow it.

Prov 12:5 The thoughts of the righteous are just; the counsels of the wicked are deceitful.

Jer 5:1 Run to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem, look and take note! Search her squares to see if you can find a man, one who does justice and seeks truth, that I may pardon her.

Jerusalem was devoid of justice.

Lam 3:34-36 To crush underfoot all the prisoners of the earth, ³⁵to deny a man justice in the presence of the Most High, ³⁶to subvert a man in his lawsuit, the Lord does not approve.

✚ Unlike the wicked, those who seek God understand justice:
Prov 28:5 Evil men do not understand justice, but those who seek the LORD understand it completely.

Practice righteousness along with justice . . .

In accordance with justice, God commands us to act towards others in righteousness. The need to act righteously is reflected in the following subsections.

Gen 18:19 For I have chosen^c him, that he may command his children and his household after him to keep the way of the LORD by doing righteousness and justice, so that the LORD may bring to Abraham what he has promised him.

^c Hebrew known

Job 29:14 I put on righteousness, and it clothed me; my justice was like a robe and a turban.

Job figuratively portrays himself and his actions as being characterized by righteousness and justice.

Ps 106:3 Blessed are they who observe justice, who do righteousness at all times!

Prov 21:3 To do righteousness and justice is more acceptable to the LORD than sacrifice.

Isa 56:1 Thus says the LORD: “Keep justice, and do righteousness, for soon my salvation will come, and my deliverance be revealed.”

Jer 22:3a Thus says the LORD: Do justice and righteousness, and deliver from the hand of the oppressor him who has been robbed.

Ezek 45:9 Thus says the Lord GOD: Enough, O princes of Israel! Put away violence and oppression, and execute justice and righteousness. Cease your evictions of my people, declares the Lord GOD.

Amos 5:24 But let justice roll down like waters, and righteousness like an ever-flowing stream.

... Do what is right

Deut 6:18 And you shall do what is right and good in the sight of the LORD, that it may go well with you, and that you may go in and take possession of the good land that the LORD swore to give to your fathers ...

2Ki 22:2 And he did what was right in the eyes of the LORD and walked in all the way of David his father, and he did not turn aside to the right or to the left.

Ps 15:1-2 O LORD, who shall sojourn in your tent? Who shall dwell on your holy hill? ²He who walks blamelessly and does what is right and speaks truth in his heart; ...

Prov 23:16 My inmost being^d will exult when your lips speak what is right.

^d Hebrew My kidneys

Eph 6:1 Children, obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right.

Rev 22:11 Let the evildoer still do evil, and the filthy still be filthy, and the righteous still do right, and the holy still be holy.

Note that the first part of the verse is not condoning wickedness. With the nearness of Jesus Christ's return in view, John appears to be mean: Let those intent on committing evil do so for they will be repaid soon enough.

2Ki 7:8-9 And when these lepers came to the edge of the camp, they went into a tent and ate and drank, and they carried off silver and gold and clothing and went and hid them. Then they came back and entered another tent and carried off things from it and went and hid them. ⁹Then they said to one another, “We are not doing right. This day is a day of good news. If we are silent and wait until the morning light, punishment will overtake us. Now therefore come; let us go and tell the king's household.”

In the midst of a famine, these lepers reasoned that they had nothing to lose by going to the camp of the Arameans (cf. vv. 3-4) who were besieging their city of Samaria (cf. 6:24). On arrival they discovered the Arameans had fled leaving everything behind.

Do no wrong to others

Lev 25:17 You shall not wrong one another, but you shall fear your God, for I am the LORD your God.

Lev 19:35 You shall do no wrong in judgment, in measures of length or weight or quantity.

Deut 23:15-16 You shall not give up to his master a slave who has escaped from his master to you. ¹⁶He shall dwell with you, in your midst, in the place that he shall choose within one of your towns, wherever it suits him. You shall not wrong him.

Note that this is speaking of the case of a foreign slave, presumably fleeing from oppression.

Jer 22:3b And do no wrong or violence to the resident alien, the fatherless, and the widow, nor shed innocent blood in this place.

Ps 15:3 ... who does not slander with his tongue and does no evil to his neighbor, nor takes up a reproach against his friend; ...

Ezek 18:8 ... does not lend at interest or take any profit,^e withholds his hand from injustice, executes true justice between man and man, ...

^e That is, profit that comes from charging interest to the poor; also verses 13, 17 (compare Leviticus 25:36)

Dan 6:22 My God sent his angel and shut the lions' mouths, and they have not harmed me, because I was found blameless before him; and also before you, O king, I have done no harm.

Acts 25:8 Paul argued in his defense, "Neither against the law of the Jews, nor against the temple, nor against Caesar have I committed any offense."

2Cor 7:2 Make room in your hearts^f for us. We have wronged no one, we have corrupted no one, we have taken advantage of no one.

^f Greek lacks in your hearts

1Thes 4:6 ... that no one transgress and wrong his brother in this matter, because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as we told you beforehand and solemnly warned you.

1Sam 24:11-13 See, my father, see the corner of your robe in my hand. For by the fact that I cut off the corner of your robe and did not kill you, you may know and see that there is no wrong or treason in my hands. I have not sinned against you, though you hunt my life to take it. ¹²May the LORD judge between me and you, may the LORD avenge me against you, but my hand shall not be against you. ¹³*As the proverb of the ancients says, 'Out of the wicked comes wickedness.'* But my hand shall not be against you.

1Sam 29:6 Then Achish called David and said to him, "As the LORD lives, you have been honest, and to me it seems right that you should march out and in with me in the campaign. For I have found nothing wrong in you from the day of your coming to me to this day. Nevertheless, the lords do not approve of you.

1Cor 6:8 But you yourselves wrong and defraud—even your own brothers!^g

^g Or brothers and sisters

Doing wrong to fellow believers is particularly bad in that it shows disloyalty or unfaithfulness, in addition to being unjust.

✚ Do not put off doing good:

Prov 3:27-28 Do not withhold good from those to whom it is due,^h when it is in your power to do it. ²⁸*Do not say to your neighbor, "Go, and come again, tomorrow I will give it"—when you have it with you.*

^h Hebrew Do not withhold good from its owners

Strive to do what is right in the eyes of both God and people

Rom 12:17 Repay no one evil for evil, but give thought to do what is honorable in the sight of all.

2Cor 8:21 ... for we aim at what is honorable not only in the Lord's sight but also in the sight of man.

Acts 24:16 So I always take pains to have a clear conscience toward both God and man.

Paul is in effect saying that he tried "not to do anything wrong in the eyes of God and man" (NIRV®).

Rom 14:18 Whoever thus serves Christ is acceptable to God and approved by men.

✚ As Jesus grew up, he grew in favor with both God and people:

Acting justly brings blessing

Note that in addition to the verses in this and the following subsection, there are a number of other verses throughout this chapter that speak of acting justly bringing blessing and injustice bringing God's judgment (or other consequences). Usually they speak of a particular kind of just or unjust action and are included in a subsection dealing with the action in view. The verses in this and the following subsection largely speak more generally of justness and/or unjustness.

Ps 50:23 The one who offers thanksgiving as his sacrifice glorifies me; to one who orders his way rightly I will show the salvation of God!

Ps 106:3 Blessed are they who observe justice, who do righteousness at all times!

Ps 112:5 It is well with the man who deals generously and lends; who conducts his affairs with justice.

Isa 33:14-16 The sinners in Zion are afraid; trembling has seized the godless: “Who among us can dwell with the consuming fire? Who among us can dwell with everlasting burnings?” ¹⁵*He who walks righteously and speaks uprightly, who despises the gain of oppressions, who shakes his hands, lest they hold a bribe, who stops his ears from hearing of bloodshed and shuts his eyes from looking on evil,* ¹⁶*he will dwell on the heights; his place of defense will be the fortresses of rocks; his bread will be given him; his water will be sure.*

The “consuming fire” and “everlasting burning” (v. 14) appear to be references to God (cf. Deut 4:24; 9:3; Heb 12:29). As such the question would effectively be asking: “Who can dwell with God?” The answer is those who are righteous and act justly (v. 15). Alternatively God’s judgment may be primarily in view in v. 14 (cf. GNT). The passage would then be indicating that only the righteous and just will be able to stand in God’s judgment. In either case, v. 16 adds that the just will be secure and have sufficient provisions.

Isa 56:1-2 Thus says the LORD: “Keep justice, and do righteousness, for soon my salvation will come, and my deliverance be revealed. ²*Blessed is the man who does this, and the son of man who holds it fast, who keeps the Sabbath, not profaning it, and keeps his hand from doing any evil.”*

One can infer from v. 1 that those who maintain justice and do what is right will experience God’s salvation as opposed to his judgment, when God’s righteousness is manifested and revealed. In v. 2, the blessedness spoken of is in part for not doing any evil (v. 2a) and so would apply to those who act justly and do what is right (v. 1a; cf. Ps 106:3).

Isa 64:5a You meet him who joyfully works righteousness, those who remember you in your ways.

The phrase “meet him” speaks of God welcoming (cf. GNT, NLT) or coming to the aid of (cf. CEV, NCV, NIV) those who joyfully do what is right.

Jer 22:15 Do you think you are a king because you compete in cedar? Did not your father eat and drink and do justice and righteousness? Then it was well with him.

Ezek 18:5-9 If a man is righteous and does what is just and right— ⁶*if he does not eat upon the mountains or lift up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, does not defile his neighbor’s wife or approach a woman in her time of menstrual impurity,* ⁷*does not oppress anyone, but restores to the debtor his pledge, commits no robbery, gives his bread to the hungry and covers the naked with a garment,* ⁸*does not lend at interest or take any profit,* ⁹*withholds his hand from injustice, executes true justice between man and man,* ⁹*walks in my statutes, and keeps my rules by acting faithfully—he is righteous; he shall surely live,* declares the Lord GOD.

^j That is, profit that comes from charging interest to the poor; also verses 13, 17 (compare Leviticus 25:36)

Acts 10:34-35 So Peter opened his mouth and said: “Truly I understand that God shows no partiality, ³⁵but in every nation anyone who fears him and does what is right is acceptable to him.”

Job 31:2-3 What would be my portion from God above and my heritage from the Almighty on high? ³Is not calamity for the unrighteous, and disaster for the workers of iniquity?

Ezek 9:9-10 Then he said to me, “The guilt of the house of Israel and Judah is exceedingly great. The land is full of blood, and the city full of injustice. For they say, “The LORD has forsaken the land, and the LORD does not see.’ ¹⁰*As for me, my eye will not spare, nor will I have pity; I will bring their deeds upon their heads.”*

Amos 5:7, 10-12, 16-17 O you who turn justice to wormwood^k and cast down righteousness to the earth!  ... ¹⁰*They hate* him who reproves in the gate, and they abhor him who speaks the truth. ¹¹Therefore because you trample on^l the poor and you exact taxes of grain from him, you have built houses of hewn stone, but you shall not dwell in them; you have planted pleasant vineyards, but you shall not drink their wine. ¹²For I know how many are your transgressions and how great are your sins— you who afflict the righteous, who take a bribe, and turn aside the needy in the gate. ... ¹⁶Therefore thus says the LORD, the God of hosts, the Lord: “In all the squares there shall be wailing, and in all the streets they shall say, ‘Alas! Alas!’ They shall call the farmers to mourning and to wailing those who are skilled in lamentation, ¹⁷and in all vineyards there shall be wailing, for I will pass through your midst,” says the LORD.

^k Or to bitter fruit

^l Or you tax

In v. 17, “for I will pass through your midst” speaks ominously of God’s judgment.

Mic 3:9-12 Hear this, you heads of the house of Jacob and rulers of the house of Israel, who detest justice and make crooked all that is straight, ¹⁰*who build Zion with blood and Jerusalem with iniquity*. ¹¹*Its heads give judgment for a bribe; its priests teach for a price; its prophets practice divination for money; yet they lean on the LORD and say, “Is not the LORD in the midst of us? No disaster shall come upon us.”* ¹²*Therefore because of you Zion shall be plowed as a field; Jerusalem shall become a heap of ruins, and the mountain of the house a wooded height.*

Mic 7:3-4 Their hands are on what is evil, to do it well; the prince and the judge ask for a bribe, and the great man utters the evil desire of his soul; thus they weave it together. ⁴*The best of them is like a brier, the most upright of them a thorn hedge. The day of your watchmen, of your punishment, has come; now their confusion is at hand.*

“The day of your watchmen” (v. 4) refers to the day that their “watchmen” the prophets warned them about – the day God would inflict his punishment on them, a time of perplexity (cf. AMP, NKJV) and panic (cf. CEV, NirV).

Administer and maintain justice

Jer 21:12 O house of David! Thus says the LORD: “Execute justice in the morning, and deliver from the hand of the oppressor him who has been robbed, lest my wrath go forth like fire, and burn with none to quench it, because of your evil deeds.”

Deut 33:21 He chose the best of the land for himself, for there a commander’s portion was reserved; and he came with the heads of the people, with Israel he executed the justice of the LORD, and his judgments for Israel.

Isa 1:17 ... learn to do good; seek justice, correct oppression; bring justice to the fatherless, plead the widow’s cause.

“Seek justice” means to “See that justice is done” (CEV, GNT).

Isa 56:1 Thus says the LORD: “Keep justice, and do righteousness, for soon my salvation will come, and my deliverance be revealed.”

Ezek 18:8 ... does not lend at interest or take any profit,^m withholds his hand from injustice, executes true justice between man and man, ...

^mThat is, profit that comes from charging interest to the poor; also verses 13, 17 (compare Leviticus 25:36)

Ezek 45:9 Thus says the Lord GOD: Enough, O princes of Israel! Put away violence and oppression, and execute justice and righteousness. Cease your evictions of my people, declares the Lord GOD.

Ps 82:3 Give justice to the weak and the fatherless; maintain the right of the afflicted and the destitute.

Lev 25:53 He shall treat him as a servant hired year by year. He shall not rule ruthlessly over him in your sight.

The Israelites were to see to it that such servants or slaves (cf. v. 47) were treated justly.

Prov 24:11 Rescue those who are being taken away to death; hold back those who are stumbling to the slaughter.

This appears to be speaking of rescuing those who have been wrongly condemned to die.

Prov 21:15 When justice is done, it is a joy to the righteous but terror to evildoers.

✦ Oppose the wicked:

Prov 28:4 Those who forsake the law praise the wicked, but those who keep the law strive against them.

Judge justly

Prov 31:9 Open your mouth, judge righteously, defend the rights of the poor and needy.

Zec 7:9 Thus says the LORD of hosts, Render true judgments, show kindness and mercy to one another, ...

Zec 8:16 These are the things that you shall do: Speak the truth to one another; render in your gates judgments that are true and make for peace; ...

Note that the “gates” of the cities was where official business was carried out.

Ex 23:6-7 You shall not pervert the justice due to your poor in his lawsuit. ⁷Keep far from a false charge, and do not kill the innocent and righteous, for I will not acquit the wicked.

Deut 1:16 And I charged your judges at that time, ‘Hear the cases between your brothers, and judge righteously between a man and his brother or the alien who is with him.

Deut 16:18-20 You shall appoint judges and officers in all your towns that the LORD your God is giving you, according to your tribes, and they shall judge the people with righteous judgment. ¹⁹You shall not pervert justice. You shall not show partiality, and you shall not accept a bribe, for a bribe blinds the eyes of the wise and subverts the cause of the righteous. ²⁰Justice, and only justice, you shall follow, that you may live and inherit the land that the LORD your God is giving you.

Deut 25:1 If there is a dispute between men and they come into court and the judges decide between them, acquitting the innocent and condemning the guilty, ...

Ps 58:1 Do you indeed decree what is right, you gods?^a Do you judge the children of man uprightly?

^a Or mighty lords (by revocalization; Hebrew in silence)

The second rhetorical question implies that one should indeed judge uprightly.

Prov 17:15, 26 He who justifies the wicked and he who condemns the righteous are both alike an abomination to the LORD. ... ²⁶To impose a fine on a righteous man is not good, nor to strike the noble for their uprightness.

Isa 5:22-24 Woe to those who are heroes at drinking wine, and valiant men in mixing strong drink, ²³who acquit the guilty for a bribe, and deprive the innocent of his right! ²⁴Therefore, as the tongue of fire devours the stubble, and as dry grass sinks down in the flame, so their root will be as rottenness, and their blossom go up like dust; for they have rejected the law of the LORD of hosts, and have despised the word of the Holy One of Israel.

✦ Judge carefully as well as fairly, on behalf of God, who is with you:

2Chr 19:5-7, 11b He appointed judges in the land in all the fortified cities of Judah, city by city, ⁶and said to the judges, “Consider what you do, for you judge not for man but for the LORD. He is with you in giving judgment. ⁷Now then, let the fear of the LORD be upon you. Be careful what you do, for there is no injustice with the LORD our God, or partiality or taking bribes.” ... ¹¹ ... Deal courageously, and may the LORD be with the upright!^o

^o Hebrew the good

In saying “you judge not for man but for the LORD” (v. 6), the thought may well be that the judges were judging “on the authority of the Lord” (GNT) – effectively “on the Lord’s behalf” (NRSV). In making decisions on matters of justice, judges are in a real sense acting on behalf of or in place of God – “for the judgment is God’s” (Deut 1:17). Note that the declaration that God would be with them whenever they gave a verdict (v. 6b) is reflected in v. 11b.

Do not show partiality in judging . . .

See also:

- Deut 16:19 ↑; 2Chr 19:5-7 ↑

Ex 23:3 ... nor shall you be partial to a poor man in his lawsuit.

Partiality by judges is usually to the detriment of the poor, who can least afford to be the victims of it. But it is also wrong to show them favoritism.

Lev 19:15 You shall do no injustice in court. You shall not be partial to the poor or defer to the great, but in righteousness shall you judge your neighbor.

Deut 1:17 You shall not be partial in judgment. You shall hear the small and the great alike. You shall not be intimidated by anyone, for the judgment is God's. And the case that is too hard for you, you shall bring to me, and I will hear it.

Prov 24:23-25 These also are sayings of the wise. Partiality in judging is not good. ²⁴Whoever says to the wicked, "You are in the right," will be cursed by peoples, abhorred by nations, ²⁵but those who rebuke the wicked will have delight, and a good blessing will come upon them.

Prov 18:5 It is not good to be partial to^p the wicked or to deprive the righteous of justice.

^p Hebrew to lift the face of

. . . Nor show partiality in other matters

Prov 28:21 To show partiality is not good, but for a piece of bread a man will do wrong.

1Tim 5:21 In the presence of God and of Christ Jesus and of the elect angels I charge you to keep these rules without prejudging, doing nothing from partiality.

James 2:1-4, 9 My brothers,⁴ show no partiality as you hold the faith in our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory. ²For if a man wearing a gold ring and fine clothing comes into your assembly, and a poor man in shabby clothing also comes in, ³and if you pay attention to the one who wears the fine clothing and say, "You sit here in a good place," while you say to the poor man, "You stand over there," or, "Sit down at my feet," ⁴have you not then made distinctions among yourselves and become judges with evil thoughts? ... ⁹But if you show partiality, you are committing sin and are convicted by the law as transgressors.

⁴ Or brothers and sisters; also verses 5, 14

Note that v. 4 indicates that showing partiality means that one has made an unfair judgment, "acting like a crooked judge" (CEV).

James 3:17 But the wisdom from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, open to reason, full of mercy and good fruits, impartial and sincere.

Jude 1:16 These are grumblers, malcontents, following their own sinful desires; they are loud-mouthed boasters, showing favoritism to gain advantage.

Gen 37:3-4 Now Israel loved Joseph more than any other of his sons, because he was the son of his old age. And he made him a robe of many colors.^r ⁴But when his brothers saw that their father loved him more than all his brothers, they hated him and could not speak peacefully to him.

^r See Septuagint, Vulgate; or (with Syriac) a robe with long sleeves. The meaning of the Hebrew is uncertain; also verses 23, 32

Showing favoritism breeds ill will.

Further instructions about legal judgments

Ezek 44:24 In a dispute, they shall act as judges, and they shall judge it according to my judgments. They shall keep my laws and my statutes in all my appointed feasts, and they shall keep my Sabbaths holy.

Judges decisions should be made in accordance with God's laws (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV, NLT).

Deut 19:15 A single witness shall not suffice against a person for any crime or for any wrong in connection with any offense that he has committed. Only on the evidence of two witnesses or of three witnesses shall a charge be established.

Deut 19:18-19 The judges shall inquire diligently, and if the witness is a false witness and has accused his brother falsely, ¹⁹then you shall do to him as he had meant to do to his brother. So you shall purge the evil^s from your midst.

^s Or evil person

Accusations should be thoroughly investigated and any false witnesses should be punished appropriately.

Deut 25:2-3 ... then if the guilty man deserves to be beaten, the judge shall cause him to lie down and be beaten in his presence with a number of stripes in proportion to his offense. ³Forty stripes may be given him, but not more, lest, if one should go on to beat him with more stripes than these, your brother be degraded in your sight.

Any punishment should be in accordance with what the crime deserves (v. 2), but it should not be degrading (v. 3).

Deut 17:8-11 If any case arises requiring decision between one kind of homicide and another, one kind of legal right and another, or one kind of assault and another, any case within your towns that is too difficult for you, then you shall arise and go up to the place that the LORD your God will choose. ⁹And you shall come to the Levitical priests and to the judge who is in office in those days, and you shall consult them, and they shall declare to you the decision. ¹⁰Then you shall do according to what they declare to you from that place that the LORD will choose. And you shall be careful to do according to all that they direct you. ¹¹According to the instructions that they give you, and according to the decision which they pronounce to you, you shall do. You shall not turn aside from the verdict that they declare to you, either to the right hand or to the left.

Verses 10-11 point out the obligation to abide by the judge's decision. Note that local courts are being referred to in v. 8a.

Ecc 8:11 Because the sentence against an evil deed is not executed speedily, the heart of the children of man is fully set to do evil.

This highlights the need for sentences to be carried out promptly.

John 7:51 "Does our law judge a man without first giving him a hearing and learning what he does?"

A person must not be condemned without first being given a hearing.

‡ There are two sides to every story:

Prov 18:17 The one who states his case first seems right, until the other comes and examines him.

The other person referred to is the opponent of the first person (cf. AMP, CEV, GNT).

Have the same laws for foreigners as for the native-born

See also:

▪ Note: Treat foreigners the same as your native-born, p. 1592

Lev 24:22 You shall have the same rule for the sojourner and for the native, for I am the LORD your God.

Num 15:29-30 You shall have one law for him who does anything unintentionally, for him who is native among the people of Israel and for the stranger who sojourns among them. ³⁰But the person who does anything with a high hand, whether he is native or a sojourner, reviles the LORD, and that person shall be cut off from among his people.

Verse 29 is saying that there shall be only one law for anyone who sins unintentionally – applicable to both native Israelites and foreigners among them.

Num 9:14 And if a stranger sojourns among you and would keep the Passover to the LORD, according to the statute of the Passover and according to its rule, so shall he do. You shall have one statute, both for the sojourner and for the native.

Note that the regulations spoken of here concern worship – rather than civil law – which is also primarily in view in 15:14-16 immediately below.

Num 15:14-16 And if a stranger is sojourning with you, or anyone is living permanently among you, and he wishes to offer a food offering, with a pleasing aroma to the LORD, he shall do as you do. ¹⁵For the assembly, there shall be one statute for you and for the stranger who sojourns with you, a statute forever throughout your generations. You and the sojourner shall be alike before the LORD. ¹⁶One law and one rule shall be for you and for the stranger who sojourns with you.

Lev 18:26 But you shall keep my statutes and my rules and do none of these abominations, either the native or the stranger who sojourns among you ...

‡ All God's laws were read to all the people including foreigners:

Josh 8:35 There was not a word of all that Moses commanded that Joshua did not read before all the assembly of Israel, and the women, and the little ones, and the sojourners who lived^t among them.

OT laws of compensation

Ex 21:18-19 When men quarrel and one strikes the other with a stone or with his fist and the man does not die but takes to his bed, ¹⁹then if the man rises again and walks outdoors with his staff, he who struck him shall be clear; only he shall pay for the loss of his time, and shall have him thoroughly healed.

Ex 21:26-27 When a man strikes the eye of his slave, male or female, and destroys it, he shall let the slave go free because of his eye. ²⁷If he knocks out the tooth of his slave, male or female, he shall let the slave go free because of his tooth.

Ex 21:33-34 When a man opens a pit, or when a man digs a pit and does not cover it, and an ox or a donkey falls into it, ³⁴the owner of the pit shall make restoration. He shall give money to its owner, and the dead beast shall be his.

Ex 21:35-36 When one man's ox butts another's, so that it dies, then they shall sell the live ox and share its price, and the dead beast also they shall share. ³⁶Or if it is known that the ox has been accustomed to gore in the past, and its owner has not kept it in, he shall repay ox for ox, and the dead beast shall be his.

Ex 22:5-6 If a man causes a field or vineyard to be grazed over, or lets his beast loose and it feeds in another man's field, he shall make restitution from the best in his own field and in his own vineyard. ⁶"If fire breaks out and catches in thorns so that the stacked grain or the standing grain or the field is consumed, he who started the fire shall make full restitution.

Ex 22:14-15 If a man borrows anything of his neighbor, and it is injured or dies, the owner not being with it, he shall make full restitution. ¹⁵If the owner was with it, he shall not make restitution; if it was hired, it came for its hiring fee.^u

^u Or it is reckoned in (Hebrew comes into) its hiring fee

The owner's presence (v. 15a) presumably should have ensured that the animal was not mistreated or neglected; as such the borrower was not liable for injury or death.

† The principle to determine the penalty for injuring another:

Lev 24:19-20 If anyone injures his neighbor, as he has done it shall be done to him, ²⁰fracture for fracture, eye for eye, tooth for tooth; whatever injury he has given a person shall be given to him.

This is often understood to be expressing a principle that judicial penalties should fit the crime, rather than being an instruction to be taken literally. Moreover there are no examples in Scripture of it being applied literally. Note that Exodus 21:23-25 gives a similar but more expansive instruction – in relation to a specific circumstance – “But if there is harm, then you shall pay life for life, ²⁴eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot, ²⁵burn for burn, wound for wound, stripe for stripe.”

And if the world is to be judged by you, are you incompetent to try trivial cases? ³Do you not know that we are to judge angels? How much more, then, matters pertaining to this life! ⁴So if you have such cases, why do you lay them before those who have no standing in the church? ⁵I say this to your shame. Can it be that there is no one among you wise enough to settle a dispute between the brothers, ⁶but brother goes to law against brother, and that before unbelievers? ⁷To have lawsuits at all with one another is already a defeat for you. Why not rather suffer wrong? Why not rather be defrauded?*

Verse 7a appears to refer to spiritual failure, either: in being of the unified body of Christ; or in seeking retribution rather than being meek and forgiving of each other.

Prov 29:9 If a wise man has an argument with a fool, the fool only rages and laughs, and there is no quiet.

This suggests that going to court or disputing with a fool may well prove to be a pointless exercise, only exacerbating the problem.

Pray for persecuted Christians

c) Justice and the Needy (I): Instructions

Being created by God and in the image of God, all people have the right to be treated justly and to live without poverty. As such, aiding the needy and fighting poverty are very much matters of justice, not merely charity.

Subsections

- Do not mistreat the needy
- Defend the cause of the needy
- Give to the needy . . .
- . . . Provide the needy with food and clothing
- Even sell your possessions to give to the poor
- Note: Treat foreigners the same as your native-born

Do not mistreat the needy

Jer 22:3b And do no wrong or violence to the resident alien, the fatherless, and the widow, nor shed innocent blood in this place.

Zec 7:10 ... do not oppress the widow, the fatherless, the sojourner, or the poor, and let none of you devise evil against another in your heart.

Ex 22:22 You shall not mistreat any widow or fatherless child.

Ex 23:6 You shall not pervert the justice due to your poor in his lawsuit.

Prov 22:22 Do not rob the poor, because he is poor, or crush the afflicted at the gate, ...

Do not exploit the poor because they are poor and so vulnerable, unlikely to be able to adequately defend themselves in court.

Prov 23:10 Do not move an ancient landmark or enter the fields of the fatherless, ...

This refers to taking over land of the fatherless by moving boundary markers of their land so as to reduce the size of their land and increase adjacent properties.

Deut 24:6, 10-13, 17-18 No one shall take a mill or an upper millstone in pledge, for that would be taking a life in pledge.
 ... ¹⁰*“When you make your neighbor a loan of any sort, you shall not go into his house to collect his pledge. ¹¹You shall stand outside, and the man to whom you make the loan shall bring the pledge out to you. ¹²And if he is a poor man, you shall not sleep in his pledge. ¹³You shall restore to him the pledge as the sun sets, that he may sleep in his cloak and bless you. And it shall be righteousness for you before the LORD your God.*

 ... ¹⁷*“You shall not pervert the justice due to the sojourner or to the fatherless, or take a widow’s garment in pledge, ¹⁸but you shall remember that you were a slave in Egypt and the LORD your God redeemed you from there; therefore I command you to do this.*

In addition to being clearly in view in the latter verses, presumably people who are poor – or at least needy to some degree – are primarily in view in vv. 6, 10-11. A millstone (v. 6) was critical to a man and his family’s livelihood as it was usually the means for grinding grain. Verses 10-11 appear in part at least to be aimed at protection of the dignity and privacy of the poor. Verse 18 makes the point that having been redeemed by God from their own needy predicament in Egypt, the Israelites ought to treat the needy in accordance with God’s goodness to them in their need.

Deut 24:14-15 You shall not oppress a hired servant who is poor and needy, whether he is one of your brothers or one of the sojourners who are in your land within your towns. ¹⁵You shall give him his wages on the same day, before the sun sets (for he is poor and counts on it), lest he cry against you to the LORD, and you be guilty of sin.

Deut 27:18-19 *‘Cursed be anyone who misleads a blind man on the road.’ And all the people shall say, ‘Amen.’ ¹⁹“Cursed be anyone who perverts the justice due to the sojourner, the fatherless, and the widow.’ And all the people shall say, ‘Amen.’ *

✦ Mistreating a poor person insults God, their Maker:

Prov 14:31 Whoever oppresses a poor man insults his Maker, but he who is generous to the needy honors him.

Defend the cause of the needy

Ps 82:3-4 Give justice to the weak and the fatherless; maintain the right of the afflicted and the destitute. ⁴Rescue the weak and the needy; deliver them from the hand of the wicked.

Prov 31:8-9 Open your mouth for the mute, for the rights of all who are destitute.^x Open your mouth, judge righteously, defend the rights of the poor and needy.

^x Hebrew are sons of passing away

Here the “mute” refers to people “who cannot speak for themselves” (GNT, NCV, NIV, NLT).

Isa 1:17 ... learn to do good; seek justice, correct oppression; bring justice to the fatherless, plead the widow’s cause.

Job 29:11-17 When the ear heard, it called me blessed, and when the eye saw, it approved,¹²because I delivered the poor who cried for help, and the fatherless who had none to help him. ¹³The blessing of him who was about to perish came upon me, and I caused the widow’s heart to sing for joy. ¹⁴I put on righteousness, and it clothed me; my justice was like a robe and a turban. ¹⁵I was eyes to the blind and feet to the lame. ¹⁶I was a father to the needy, and I searched out the cause of him whom I did not know. ¹⁷*I broke the fangs of the unrighteous and made him drop his prey from his teeth.*

In addition to the verses which clearly speak of defending the needy (vv. 12, 16b-17), note that vv. 13-16a also speak of Job’s assistance of the needy, in more general terms. Possibly some aspects of these middle verses also have defending the needy partly in view, especially in light of v. 14.

Ps 72:4, 12-14 May he defend the cause of the poor of the people, give deliverance to the children of the needy, and crush the oppressor!  ... ¹²*For he delivers the needy when he calls, the poor and him who has no helper.* ¹³*He has pity on the weak and the needy, and saves the lives of the needy.* ¹⁴*From oppression and violence he redeems their life, and precious is their blood in his sight.*

Psalms 72 was composed for a Davidic king, and is understood to be messianic. Note that while those in authority may be in a better position and have a greater responsibility to defend the cause of the needy, all people are obliged to do what they can to help the needy.

Prov 29:7 A righteous man knows the rights of the poor; a wicked man does not understand such knowledge.

A righteous person is concerned about the rights of the poor.

Deut 23:15-16 You shall not give up to his master a slave who has escaped from his master to you. ¹⁶*He shall dwell with you, in your midst, in the place that he shall choose within one of your towns, wherever it suits him.* You shall not wrong him.

As noted earlier, this refers to a slave from another country seeking refuge in Israel from oppression (cf. CEV) – as is implied by the instruction to let him live in whatever town he choose (v. 16).

✦ The plea of the Moabite refugees for shelter:

Isa 16:2-4a Like fleeing birds, like a scattered nest, so are the daughters of Moab at the fords of the Arnon. ³*Give counsel; grant justice; make your shade like night at the height of noon; shelter the outcasts; do not reveal the fugitive;* ⁴*let the outcasts of Moab sojourn among you; be a shelter to them^y from the destroyer.*

^y Some Hebrew manuscripts, Septuagint, Syriac; Masoretic Text let my outcasts sojourn among you; as for Moab, be a shelter to them

Deut 15:7-11 If among you, one of your brothers should become poor, in any of your towns within your land that the LORD your God is giving you, you shall not harden your heart or shut your hand against your poor brother, ⁸*but you shall open your hand to him and lend him sufficient for his need, whatever it may be.* ⁹*Take care lest there be an unworthy thought in your heart and you say, ‘The seventh year, the year of release is near;’ and your eye look grudgingly^z on your poor brother, and you give him nothing, and he cry to the LORD against you, and you be guilty of sin.* ¹⁰*You shall give to him freely, and your heart shall not be grudging when you give to him, because for this the LORD your God will bless you in all your work and in all that you undertake.* ¹¹For there will never cease to be poor in the land. Therefore I command you, ‘You shall open wide your hand to your brother, to the needy and to the poor, in your land.’

^z Or be evil; also verse 10

Verse 9 refers to the law stating that debts of a fellow Israelite were to be cancelled every seven years (cf. vv. 1-3). Thus if one lent to a needy “brother” just prior to this year, there was little time and less hope of receiving back what was loaned; hence the temptation to take the approach spoken of in v. 9.

Ps 112:9 He [a righteous man] has distributed freely; he has given to the poor; his righteousness endures forever; his horn is exalted in honor.

Prov 21:26 All day long he craves and craves, but the righteous gives and does not hold back. 📖

Giving to the needy is most likely what the writer has primarily in view.

Acts 10:1-2 At Caesarea there was a man named Cornelius, a centurion of what was known as the Italian Cohort,^{2a} a devout man who feared God with all his household, gave alms generously to the people, and prayed continually to God. 📖

Rom 15:26 For Macedonia and Achaia have been pleased to make some contribution for the poor among the saints at Jerusalem. 📖

2Cor 9:12 For the ministry of this service is not only supplying the needs of the saints but is also overflowing in many thanksgivings to God. 📖

The "service" referred to was contributing to the collection for the needy Christians in Jerusalem (cf. Rom 15:26 ↑; Gal 2:10 ↓).

With the references to cloth and clothing in the surrounding verses (vv. 19, 21-22), providing the needy with clothing may well be primarily in view here.

Isa 21:14 To the thirsty bring water; meet the fugitive with bread, O inhabitants of the land of Tema. 📖

Ezek 18:7 ... does not oppress anyone, but restores to the debtor his pledge, commits no robbery, gives his bread to the hungry and covers the naked with a garment, ... 📖

Acts 9:36, 39 Now there was in Joppa a disciple named Tabitha, which, translated, means Dorcas.^c She was full of good works and acts of charity. 📖 ...³⁹So Peter rose and went with them. And when he arrived, they took him to the upper room. All the widows stood beside him weeping and showing tunics^d and other garments that Dorcas made while she was with them. 📖

^c The Aramaic name Tabitha and the Greek name Dorcas both mean gazelle

^d Greek chiton, a long garment worn under the cloak next to the skin

Job 31:16-23 If I have withheld anything that the poor desired, or have caused the eyes of the widow to fail,¹⁷ or have eaten my morsel alone, and the fatherless has not eaten of it¹⁸ (for from my youth the fatherless^e grew up with me as with a father, and from my mother's womb I guided the widow^f),¹⁹ if I have seen anyone perish for lack of clothing, or the needy without covering,²⁰ if his body has not blessed me,^g and if he was not warmed with the fleece of my sheep,²¹ if I have raised my hand against the fatherless, because I saw my help in the gate,²² then let my shoulder blade fall from my shoulder, and let my arm be broken from its socket.²³ For I was in terror of calamity from God, and I could not have faced his majesty. 📖

^g Hebrew if his loins have not blessed me

As reflected in the subsequent verses, v. 16 appears to encompass basic needs such as food and clothing.

Titus 3:14 And let our people learn to devote themselves to good works, so as to help cases of urgent need, and not be unfruitful. 📖

The phrase "urgent need" (v. 14) is most likely referring to daily necessities needed by the poor, i.e. food and clothing.

✦ As well as food and clothing, provide the poor with shelter:

Isa 58:7 Is it not to share your bread with the hungry and bring the homeless poor into your house; when you see the naked, to cover him, and not to hide yourself from your own flesh? 📖

Even sell your possessions to give to the poor

Luke 12:33 Sell your possessions, and give to the needy. Provide yourselves with moneybags that do not grow old, with a treasure in the heavens that does not fail, where no thief approaches and no moth destroys. 📖

Mark 10:21 And Jesus, looking at him, loved him, and said to him, “You lack one thing: go, sell all that you have and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me.” 📖

Those who would be quick to point out that Jesus only said this to the rich man because his great wealth (v. 22) had come between himself and God, should be careful to assess if they have a similar problem, as well as to “drink in” the other verses in this and the surrounding subsections.

Acts 2:44-45 And all who believed were together and had all things in common. ⁴⁵And they were selling their possessions and belongings and distributing the proceeds to all, as any had need. 📖

Acts 4:34-37 There was not a needy person among them, for as many as were owners of lands or houses sold them and brought the proceeds of what was sold ³⁵*and laid it at the apostles' feet, and it was distributed to each as any had need.* ³⁶Thus Joseph, who was also called by the apostles Barnabas (which means son of encouragement), a Levite, a native of Cyprus, ³⁷*sold a field that belonged to him and brought the money and laid it at the apostles' feet.* 📖

1Jn 3:17 But if anyone has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him? 📖

We must use our material possessions to provide for the needy – such as by selling them and using the proceeds for providing for the poor, or giving the possessions themselves to the poor (cf. Luke 19:8 ↓).

Luke 19:8 And Zacchaeus stood and said to the Lord, “Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor. And if I have defrauded anyone of anything, I restore it fourfold.” 📖

Note that the latter part of the verse indicates that giving half of his goods to the poor was in addition to any compensation Zacchaeus made for any swindling he had done.

✦ Giving one's possessions to the poor must be done with love:

1Cor 13:3 If I give away all I have, and if I deliver up my body to be burned,^h but have not love, I gain nothing. 📖

^h Some manuscripts deliver up my body [to death] that I may boast

This principle applies to all giving and all charitable acts – in fact to all one does for God's kingdom.

Note: Treat foreigners the same as your native-born

- Have the same laws for foreigners as for the native-born, p. 1587

Along with such groups as orphans and widows who were usually poor, foreigners (or aliens) were acknowledged as being vulnerable and so needy. Moreover, presumably they were also often poor. As such, specific mention of them is often made in general directives concerning treatment of the needy (cf. Do not mistreat the needy), as well as in matters concerning them in particular (as per the following verses).

Lev 19:34 You shall treat the stranger who sojourns with you as the native among you, and you shall love him as yourself, for you were strangers in the land of Egypt: I am the LORD your God. 📖

Having been aliens themselves, knowing the difficulties that aliens face and no doubt themselves having desired and prayed to God for equality when in Egypt, the Israelites were accordingly to treat aliens fairly, i.e. the same as their own people.

Deut 1:16 And I charged your judges at that time, ‘Hear the cases between your brothers, and judge righteously between a man and his brother or the alien who is with him.’ 📖

Judge righteously, whether a case is between two native-born citizens or one of them and a foreigner.

Ezek 47:21-22 So you shall divide this land among you according to the tribes of Israel. ²²*You shall allot it as an inheritance for yourselves and for the sojourners who reside among you and have had children among you. They shall be to you as native-born children of Israel. With you they shall be allotted an inheritance among the tribes of Israel.* 📖

Defending and providing for the needy are a vital part of true religion

Note that a number of the following references have been included here as they correlate defending or providing for the needy with particular aspects of what can be called "true religion" (e.g. honoring God, godly fasting, knowing God, giving offerings to God and having the love of God). The following subsection likewise makes such a correlation, in regard to righteousness.

James 1:27 Religion that is pure and undefiled before God, the Father, is this: to visit orphans and widows in their affliction, and to keep oneself unstained from the world.

Here "visit" would be appear to include the intention to care for the needs of (cf. AMP, CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV, NLT, NRSV).

Prov 14:31 Whoever oppresses a poor man insults his Maker, but he who is generous to the needy honors him.

Isa 58:5-7 Is such the fast that I choose, a day for a person to humble himself? Is it to bow down his head like a reed, and to spread sackcloth and ashes under him? Will you call this a fast, and a day acceptable to the LORD? ⁶"Is not this the fast that I choose: to loose the bonds of wickedness, to undo the straps of the yoke, to let the oppressedⁱ go free, and to break every yoke?" ⁷Is it not to share your bread with the hungry and bring the homeless poor into your house; when you see the naked, to cover him, and not to hide yourself from your own flesh?"

ⁱ Or bruised

Here fasting is used somewhat figuratively to signify worship generally. True worship should be reflected in and involve action on behalf of the needy. Note that in the last clause, "not to hide yourself from" speaks of not turning away from.

Jer 22:16 He judged the cause of the poor and needy; then it was well. Is not this to know me? declares the LORD.

Acts 10:4 And he stared at him in terror and said, "What is it, Lord?" And he said to him, "Your prayers and your alms have ascended as a memorial before God."

Cornelius's prayers and alms are portrayed as being akin to sacrifices offered up ("have ascended") to God. As such it portrays his alms (i.e. giving money or food to the poor) "as a sacrifice" (AMP; cf. NIV) or offering to God – i.e. as an act of worship or true religion.

James 2:14-17 What good is it, my brothers, if someone says he has faith but does not have works? Can that faith save him? ¹⁵If a brother or sister is poorly clothed and lacking in daily food, ¹⁶and one of you says to them, "Go in peace, be warmed and filled," without giving them the things needed for the body, what good is that? ¹⁷So also faith by itself, if it does not have works, is dead.

ⁱ Or benefit

This passage is quite possibly just drawing a parallel between the uselessness of faith without deeds and mere words without actively providing for the poor – rather than directly correlating not providing for the poor with not having true faith. The possibility that the latter is also true is the reason for this passage being included here.

1Jn 3:17 But if anyone has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him?

✦ Giving to the poor is equated with lending to God:

Prov 19:17 Whoever is generous to the poor lends to the LORD, and he will repay him for his deed.

Defending and providing for the needy are associated with righteousness

- James 1:27 ↑

Ps 112:9 He has distributed freely; he has given to the poor; his righteousness endures forever; his horn is exalted in honor. 📖

Note that vv. 1-5 mention other godly attributes and actions that are also important for one to be considered righteous.

Isa 58:8 Then shall your light break forth like the dawn, and your healing shall spring up speedily; your righteousness shall go before you; the glory of the LORD shall be your rear guard. 📖

The reference is to defending and providing for the needy (cf. vv. 5-7 ↑). In v. 8, “your righteousness” may well mean “your rightness, your justice, and your right relationship with God” (AMP; cf. CEV, NLT). Alternatively God and his righteousness may be in view (cf. GNT, NCV, NIRV).

Dan 4:27 Therefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable to you: break off your sins by practicing righteousness, and your iniquities by showing mercy to the oppressed, that there may perhaps be a lengthening of your prosperity. 📖

Showing mercy to the oppressed is presented here in association with “practicing righteousness” as an important part of repentance and getting rid of sin, which are themselves fundamental aspects of righteousness. Note that being a king, Nebuchadnezzar’s wickedness was most likely largely expressed in oppressing many of his subjects – and Daniel may well have had this in view.

Matt 19:21 Jesus said to him, “If you would be perfect, go, sell what you possess and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me.” 📖

Jesus is not saying that selling possessions and giving to the poor is all one has to do to be perfect, but the rich young ruler had rigorously kept the commandments that Jesus had mentioned (cf. vv. 18-19) and Jesus recognized that this was the key thing he still needed to do to be perfect or righteous.

Matt 25:37-40 Then the righteous will answer him, saying, ‘Lord, when did we see you hungry and feed you, or thirsty and give you drink?’ ³⁸*And when did we see you a stranger and welcome you, or naked and clothe you?’* ³⁹*And when did we see you sick or in prison and visit you?’* ⁴⁰*And the King will answer them, ‘Truly, I say to you, as you did it to one of the least of these my brothers,^k you did it to me.’* 📖

^k Or brothers and sisters

Meeting the needs of “these my brothers” (v. 40) is correlated here with being identified as “righteous” (vv. 37, 46). Note that “these my brothers” probably refers primarily to Christians, here obviously ones who had been in need.

✚ Jesus linked salvation with Zacchaeus’ generosity:

Luke 19:8-9 And Zacchaeus stood and said to the Lord, “Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor. And if I have defrauded anyone of anything, I restore it fourfold.” ⁹And Jesus said to him, “Today salvation has come to this house, since he also is a son of Abraham.” 📖

Jesus’ statement (v. 9) appears to have been in response to Zacchaeus’ promised actions (v. 8). Jesus may have meant that salvation came because of Zacchaeus’ repentance (shown by his promised actions) and his positive response to Jesus (v. 6) – which showed him to be a son of Abraham in a spiritual sense. Alternatively Jesus’ point may have been that Zacchaeus’ promised actions were a sign that salvation had come to him.

Defending and providing for the needy bring one blessing . . .

Prov 22:9 Whoever has a bountiful^l eye will be blessed, for he shares his bread with the poor. 📖

The term “bountiful eye” here denotes a generous person (cf. GNT, NASB, NCV, NIV, NKJV, NLT, NRSV).

Jer 22:16 He judged the cause of the poor and needy; then it was well. Is not this to know me? declares the LORD. 📖

Luke 6:38 ... give, and it will be given to you. Good measure, pressed down, shaken together, running over, will be put into your lap. For with the measure you use it will be measured back to you. 📖

Jesus quite possibly has giving to the poor primarily in view. This teaching is at least applicable to it.

Acts 20:35 In all things I have shown you that by working hard in this way we must help the weak and remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he himself said, 'It is more blessed to give than to receive.'

2Cor 9:6 The point is this: whoever sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and whoever sows bountifully^m will also reap bountifully.

^mGreek with blessings; twice in this verse

Note that this is from a passage (cf. chs 8-9) where Paul is speaking of the Corinthians contributing to the needs of the poor in Jerusalem (cf. v. 14 ↓).

2Cor 9:13-14 By their approval of this service, theyⁿ will glorify God because of your submission flowing from your confession of the gospel of Christ, and the generosity of your contribution for them and for all others, ¹⁴while they long for you and pray for you, because of the surpassing grace of God upon you.

ⁿ Or you

Those who give to needy Christians will be blessed by their prayers.

Deut 24:19 When you reap your harvest in your field and forget a sheaf in the field, you shall not go back to get it. It shall be for the sojourner, the fatherless, and the widow, that the LORD your God may bless you in all the work of your hands.

Deut 14:28-29 At the end of every three years you shall bring out all the tithe of your produce in the same year and lay it up within your towns. ²⁹And the Levite, because he has no portion or inheritance with you, and the sojourner, the fatherless, and the widow, who are within your towns, shall come and eat and be filled, that the LORD your God may bless you in all the work of your hands that you do.

Particularly in light of v. 19 above, the blessing spoken of in v. 29b appears to be reward for providing for the needy (v. 29a), in conjunction with tithing (v. 28).

... but giving to the needy must be done in an appropriate manner

Deut 15:10 You shall give to him [a poor man] freely, and your heart shall not be grudging when you give to him, because for this the LORD your God will bless you in all your work and in all that you undertake.

Matt 6:1-4 Beware of practicing your righteousness before other people in order to be seen by them, for then you will have no reward from your Father who is in heaven. ²Thus, when you give to the needy, sound no trumpet before you, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may be praised by others. Truly, I say to you, they have received their reward. ³But when you give to the needy, do not let your left hand know what your right hand is doing, ⁴so that your giving may be in secret. And your Father who sees in secret will reward you.

In v. 3 Jesus figuratively emphasizes the requirement to give to the needy inconspicuously.

1Cor 13:3 If I give away all I have, and if I deliver up my body to be burned,^o but have not love, I gain nothing.

^o Some manuscripts deliver up my body [to death] that I may boast

To give to the needy without love suggests doing so grudgingly and unwillingly. As with all giving to God, it is important that we give to the needy in an appropriate manner (cf. Give in a way that is acceptable to God, p. 1373; Give willingly, p. 1374).

Blessings include one's own needs being met . . .

Prov 28:27 Whoever gives to the poor will not want, but he who hides his eyes will get many a curse.

Ps 41:1-3 Blessed is the one who considers the poor!^p In the day of trouble the LORD delivers him; ²the LORD protects him and keeps him alive; he is called blessed in the land; you do not give him up to the will of his enemies. ³The LORD sustains him on his sickbed; in his illness you restore him to full health.^q

Isa 58:8-11 Then shall your light break forth like the dawn, and your healing shall spring up speedily; your righteousness shall go before you; the glory of the LORD shall be your rear guard. ⁹Then you shall call, and the LORD will answer; you shall cry, and he will say, 'Here I am.' If you take away the yoke from your midst, the pointing of the finger, and speaking wickedness, ¹⁰if you pour yourself out for the hungry and satisfy the desire of the afflicted, then shall your light rise in the darkness and your gloom be as the noonday. ¹¹And the LORD will guide you continually and satisfy your desire in scorched places and make your bones strong; and you shall be like a watered garden, like a spring of water, whose waters do not fail. 📖

In vv. 8 and 10, “light” signifies well-being or salvation. The latter half of v. 8 speaks of being protected “on every side” (GNT). The “glory of the LORD” (v. 8) most likely alludes to the pillar of cloud and fire that symbolized God’s presence with the Israelites in their journey through the desert.

2Cor 9:7-8 Each one must give as he has decided in his heart, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver. ⁸And God is able to make all grace abound to you, so that having all sufficiency^r in all things at all times, you may abound in every good work. 📖

^r Or all contentment

Those who give to the needy will be blessed by God with all that they need – both for themselves and for “every good work”, such as further giving to others.

2Cor 8:14 ...your abundance at the present time should supply their need, so that their abundance may supply your need, that there may be fairness. 📖

This points to the equality that should exist in the church body through whoever having plenty at a particular time supplying the needs of those who do not. As such, if those who give to the needy amongst the church body later themselves become needy, their needs will or should in turn be met by others in the body.

... There will also be reward in the afterlife

Luke 12:33 Sell your possessions, and give to the needy. Provide yourselves with moneybags that do not grow old, with a treasure in the heavens that does not fail, where no thief approaches and no moth destroys. 📖

Luke 18:22 When Jesus heard this, he said to him, “One thing you still lack. Sell all that you have and distribute to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me.” 📖

1Tim 6:18-19 They are to do good, to be rich in good works, to be generous and ready to share, ¹⁹thus storing up treasure for themselves as a good foundation for the future, so that they may take hold of that which is truly life. 📖

Generosity towards the poor – and sharing with them – is probably what Paul is referring to in v. 18b. In v. 19, “that which is truly life” probably has the future eternal life primarily in view, though it may encompass the abundant spiritual life that Christians have now.

Luke 14:12-14 He said also to the man who had invited him, “When you give a dinner or a banquet, do not invite your friends or your brothers^s or your relatives or rich neighbors, lest they also invite you in return and you be repaid. ¹³But when you give a feast, invite the poor, the crippled, the lame, the blind, ¹⁴*and you will be blessed, because they cannot repay you. For you will be repaid at the resurrection of the just.”* 📖

^s Or your brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated “brothers”) refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to brothers or to brothers and sisters

Matt 25:31-40, 46 “When the Son of Man comes in his glory, and all the angels with him, then he will sit on his glorious throne. ³²Before him will be gathered all the nations, and he will separate people one from another as a shepherd separates the sheep from the goats. ³³And he will place the sheep on his right, but the goats on the left. ³⁴Then the King will say to those on his right, ‘Come, you who are blessed by my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world. ³⁵For I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me drink, I was a stranger and you welcomed me, ³⁶I was naked and you clothed me, I was sick and you visited me, I was in prison and you came to me.’ ³⁷Then the righteous will answer him, saying, ‘Lord, when did we see you hungry and feed you, or thirsty and give you drink? ³⁸And when did we see you a stranger and welcome you, or naked and clothe you? ³⁹And when did we see you sick or in prison and visit you?’ ⁴⁰And the King will answer them, ‘Truly, I say to you, as you did it to one of the least of these my brothers,^t you did it to me.’ 📖 ... ⁴⁶And these will go away into eternal punishment, but the righteous into eternal life.” 📖

^t Or brothers and sisters

Luke 16:1-9 He also said to the disciples, “There was a rich man who had a manager, and charges were brought to him that this man was wasting his possessions. ²And he called him and said to him, ‘What is this that I hear about you? Turn in the account of your management, for you can no longer be manager.’ ³And the manager said to himself, ‘What shall I do, since my master is taking the management away from me? I am not strong enough to dig, and I am ashamed to beg. ⁴I have decided what to do, so that when I am removed from management, people may receive me into their houses.’ ⁵So, summoning his master’s debtors one by one, he said to the first, ‘How much do you owe my master?’ ⁶He said, ‘A hundred measures^u of oil.’ He said to him, ‘Take your bill, and sit down quickly and write fifty.’ ⁷Then he said to another, 'And how much do you owe?' He said, 'A hundred measures^v of wheat.' He said to him, 'Take your bill, and write eighty.'⁸The master commended the dishonest manager for his shrewdness. For the sons of this world^w are more shrewd in dealing with their own generation than the sons of light. ⁹*And I tell you, make friends for yourselves by means of unrighteous wealth,^x so that when it fails they may receive you into the eternal dwellings.*

^u About 875 gallons

^v Between 1,000 and 1,200 bushels

^x Greek mammon, a Semitic word for money or possessions; also verse 11; rendered money in verse 13

In v. 8a the manager is commended for his shrewdness, not his dishonesty. In v. 8b Jesus remarks that the people of this world are (often at least) more shrewd "in handling their affairs" (GNT; cf. CEV) than believers. Jesus' main point is that Christians should likewise shrewdly prepare for the future, using money to benefit the needy in order to be welcomed into heaven (v. 9). (Note that v. 9a has also being interpreted to refer to using money to promote the spread of the gospel. In that case "friends" would refer to those who have accepted the gospel, rather than to the needy.)

✦ God remembers one's gifts to the poor:

Acts 10:4, 31 And he stared at him in terror and said, "What is it, Lord?" And he said to him, "Your prayers and your alms have ascended as a memorial before God. ... ³¹and said, 'Cornelius, your prayer has been heard and your alms have been remembered before God.

God will punish those who mistreat the needy

Ex 22:22-24 You shall not mistreat any widow or fatherless child. ²³*If you do mistreat them, and they cry out to me, I will surely hear their cry,* ²⁴*and my wrath will burn, and I will kill you with the sword, and your wives shall become widows and your children fatherless.*

Deut 27:19 'Cursed be anyone who perverts the justice due to the sojourner, the fatherless, and the widow.' And all the people shall say, 'Amen.'

Job 34:26-28 He strikes them for their wickedness in a place for all to see, ²⁷*because they turned aside from following him and had no regard for any of his ways,* ²⁸*so that they caused the cry of the poor to come to him, and he heard the cry of the afflicted—*

Prov 22:22-23 Do not rob the poor, because he is poor, or crush the afflicted at the gate, ²³*for the LORD will plead their cause and rob of life those who rob them.*

Prov 23:10-11 Do not move an ancient landmark or enter the fields of the fatherless, ¹¹*for their Redeemer is strong; he will plead their cause against you.*

Isa 3:14-15 The LORD will enter into judgment with the elders and princes of his people: "It is you who have devoured^y the vineyard, the spoil of the poor is in your houses. ¹⁵*What do you mean by crushing my people, by grinding the face of the poor?" declares the Lord GOD of hosts.*

^y Or grazed over; compare Exodus 22:5

Isa 10:1-4 Woe to those who decree iniquitous decrees, and the writers who keep writing oppression, ²*to turn aside the needy from justice and to rob the poor of my people of their right, that widows may be their spoil, and that they may make the fatherless their prey!* ³*What will you do on the day of punishment, in the ruin that will come from afar? To whom will you flee for help, and where will you leave your wealth?* ⁴*Nothing remains but to crouch among the prisoners or fall among the slain. For all this his anger has not turned away, and his hand is stretched out still.*

Ezek 22:29, 31 The people of the land have practiced extortion and committed robbery. They have oppressed the poor and needy, and have extorted from the sojourner without justice. ... ³¹*Therefore I have poured out my indignation upon them. I have consumed them with the fire of my wrath. I have returned their way upon their heads, declares the Lord GOD.*

Amos 2:6-7 Thus says the LORD: "For three transgressions of Israel, and for four, I will not revoke the punishment, because they sell the righteous for silver, and the needy for a pair of sandals— ⁷*those who trample the head of the poor into the dust of the earth and turn aside the way of the afflicted;* a man and his father go in to the same girl, so that my holy name is profaned; ...

"For three transgressions of Israel, and for four" is a poetic device emphasizing the multiple crimes of Israel (cf. AMP, CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV, NLT).

Amos 4:1-2 Hear this word, you cows of Bashan, who are on the mountain of Samaria, who oppress the poor, who crush the needy, who say to your husbands, 'Bring, that we may drink!' ²*The Lord GOD has sworn by his holiness that, behold,* the days are coming upon you, when they shall take you away with hooks, even the last of you with fishhooks.

Verse 2 speaks of being taken away into exile.

Amos 8:4-10 Hear this, you who trample on the needy and bring the poor of the land to an end, ⁵saying, “When will the new moon be over, that we may sell grain? And the Sabbath, that we may offer wheat for sale, that we may make the ephah small and the shekel^z great and deal deceitfully with false balances, ⁶that we may buy the poor for silver and the needy for a pair of sandals and sell the chaff of the wheat?” ⁷The LORD has sworn by the pride of Jacob: “Surely I will never forget any of their deeds. ⁸Shall not the land tremble on this account, and everyone mourn who dwells in it, and all of it rise like the Nile, and be tossed about and sink again, like the Nile of Egypt?” ⁹“And on that day,” declares the Lord God, “I will make the sun go down at noon and darken the earth in broad daylight. ¹⁰I will turn your feasts into mourning and all your songs into lamentation; I will bring sackcloth on every waist and baldness on every head; I will make it like the mourning for an only son and the end of it like a bitter day.”

^z An ephah was about 3/5 bushel or 22 liters; a shekel was about 2/5 ounce or 11 grams

Note that “baldness on every head” (v. 10) is a reference to people shaving their heads in sorrow.

Mark 12:38-40 And in his teaching he said, “Beware of the scribes, who like to walk around in long robes and like greetings in the marketplaces ³⁹and have the best seats in the synagogues and the places of honor at feasts, ⁴⁰who devour widows’ houses and for a pretense make long prayers. They will receive the greater condemnation.”

God will punish those who ignore the needy

Prov 24:11-12 Rescue those who are being taken away to death; hold back those who are stumbling to the slaughter. ¹²*If you say, “Behold, we did not know this,” does not he who weighs the heart perceive it? Does not he who keeps watch over your soul know it, and will he not repay man according to his work?*

The rhetorical questions imply that the excuse preceding them was either a lie and/or indicative of ignoring signs of injustice.

Isa 1:23-25 Your princes are rebels and companions of thieves. Everyone loves a bribe and runs after gifts. They do not bring justice to the fatherless, and the widow’s cause does not come to them. ²⁴Therefore the Lord declares, the LORD of hosts, the Mighty One of Israel: “Ah, I will get relief from my enemies and avenge myself on my foes. ²⁵I will turn my hand against you and will smelt away your dross as with lye and remove all your alloy.”

Verse 23b appears to speak of authorities ignoring the plight of poor people who have been mistreated, possibly because the poor did not have the money to offer bribes (v. 23a).

Jer 5:27-29 Like a cage full of birds, their houses are full of deceit; therefore they have become great and rich; ²⁸they have grown fat and sleek. They know no bounds in deeds of evil; they judge not with justice the cause of the fatherless, to make it prosper, and they do not defend the rights of the needy. ²⁹*Shall I not punish them for these things? declares the LORD, and shall I not avenge myself on a nation such as this?*

Ezek 16:49-50 Behold, this was the guilt of your sister Sodom: she and her daughters had pride, excess of food, and prosperous ease, but did not aid the poor and needy. ⁵⁰They were haughty and did an abomination before me. So I removed them, when I saw it.

Presumably “when I saw it” is inclusive of the sin mentioned in v. 49 as well as that in v. 50a.

Matt 25:41-46 “Then he [Jesus Christ] will say to those on his left, ‘Depart from me, you cursed, into the eternal fire prepared for the devil and his angels. ⁴²For I was hungry and you gave me no food, I was thirsty and you gave me no drink, ⁴³I was a stranger and you did not welcome me, naked and you did not clothe me, sick and in prison and you did not visit me.’ ⁴⁴Then they also will answer, saying, ‘Lord, when did we see you hungry or thirsty or a stranger or naked or sick or in prison, and did not minister to you?’ ⁴⁵Then he will answer them, saying, ‘Truly, I say to you, as you did not do it to one of the least of these, you did not do it to me.’ ⁴⁶*And these will go away into eternal punishment, but the righteous into eternal life.*”

Luke 16:19-26 *There was a rich man who was clothed in purple and fine linen and who feasted sumptuously every day. ²⁰And at his gate was laid a poor man named Lazarus, covered with sores, ²¹who desired to be fed with what fell from the rich man’s table. Moreover, even the dogs came and licked his sores. ²²The poor man died and was carried by the angels to Abraham’s side.^a *The rich man also died and was buried, ²³and in Hades, being in torment, he lifted up his eyes and saw Abraham far off and Lazarus at his side. ²⁴And he called out, ‘Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus to dip the end of his finger in water and cool my tongue, for I am in anguish in this flame.’ ²⁵But Abraham said, ‘Child, remember that you in your lifetime received your good things, and Lazarus in like manner bad things; but now he is comforted here, and you are in anguish. ²⁶And besides all this, between us and you a great chasm has been fixed, in order that those who would pass from here to you may not be able, and none may cross from there to us.'

^a Greek bosom; also verse 23

The rich man went to hell not just simply because he had received good things, while Lazarus had received bad things (v. 25), but primarily because he did not help Lazarus.

✦ Those who ignore the needy will themselves be ignored:

Prov 21:13 Whoever closes his ear to the cry of the poor will himself call out and not be answered.

e) OT Structured Provisions for the Needy

Although some of the OT structured provisions for the needy may not be readily applicable in modern societies, they nevertheless provide principles and concepts that are relevant to all societies.

Subsections

- The providing of produce for the needy
- The prohibiting of taking interest or profit from the poor
- The canceling of fellow Israelites' debts every seven years
- The release of Israelite servants every seven years
- The year of jubilee
- The right of redemption for Israelite servants and of ancestral land

The providing of produce for the needy

Lev 19:9-10 When you reap the harvest of your land, you shall not reap your field right up to its edge, neither shall you gather the gleanings after your harvest. ¹⁰And you shall not strip your vineyard bare, neither shall you gather the fallen grapes of your vineyard. You shall leave them for the poor and for the sojourner: I am the LORD your God.

The "gleanings" (v. 9b) were the parts of the grain that had fallen to the ground and been left behind during the harvest.

Deut 26:12-13 When you have finished paying all the tithe of your produce in the third year, which is the year of tithing, giving it to the Levite, the sojourner, the fatherless, and the widow, so that they may eat within your towns and be filled, ¹³then you shall say before the LORD your God, 'I have removed the sacred portion out of my house, and moreover, I have given it to the Levite, the sojourner, the fatherless, and the widow, according to all your commandment that you have commanded me. I have not transgressed any of your commandments, nor have I forgotten them.

Ex 23:10-11 For six years you shall sow your land and gather in its yield, ¹¹but the seventh year you shall let it rest and lie fallow, that the poor of your people may eat; and what they leave the beasts of the field may eat. You shall do likewise with your vineyard, and with your olive orchard.

Every seventh year was to be a Sabbath year, for the benefit of the poor and the wild animals – and of the land itself (cf. Lev 25:1-5 ↓).

✦ The Sabbath year would allow the land to rest:

Lev 25:1-5 The LORD spoke to Moses on Mount Sinai, saying, ²"Speak to the people of Israel and say to them, When you come into the land that I give you, the land shall keep a Sabbath to the LORD. ³For six years you shall sow your field, and for six years you shall prune your vineyard and gather in its fruits, ⁴but in the seventh year there shall be a Sabbath of solemn rest for the land, a Sabbath to the LORD. You shall not sow your field or prune your vineyard. ⁵*You shall not reap what grows of itself in your harvest, or gather the grapes of your undressed vine. It shall be a year of solemn rest for the land.*

This provision allowed the land to rejuvenate itself.

The prohibiting of taking interest or profit from the poor

Ex 22:25 If you lend money to any of my people with you who is poor, you shall not be like a moneylender to him, and you shall not exact interest from him.

Lev 25:35-37 If your brother becomes poor and cannot maintain himself with you, you shall support him as though he were a stranger and a sojourner, and he shall live with you. ³⁶Take no interest from him or profit, but fear your God, that your brother may live beside you. ³⁷You shall not lend him your money at interest, nor give him your food for profit.

Prov 28:8 Whoever multiplies his wealth by interest and profit^b gathers it for him who is generous to the poor.

^b That is, profit that comes from charging interest to the poor

The text notes in this and the following two verses from Ezekiel indicate that taking interest or profit from the poor in particular is in view, as per the context here.

Ezek 18:17 ... withholds his hand from iniquity,^c takes no interest or profit, obeys my rules, and walks in my statutes; he shall not die for his father's iniquity; he shall surely live.

^c Septuagint; Hebrew from the poor

Ezek 22:12 In you they take bribes to shed blood; you take interest and profit^d and make gain of your neighbors by extortion; but me you have forgotten, declares the Lord GOD.

^d That is, profit that comes from charging interest to the poor (compare Leviticus 25:36)

Psa 15:5 ... who does not put out his money at interest and does not take a bribe against the innocent. He who does these things shall never be moved.

Private loans to people in need may be primarily in view, as opposed to business loans.

✚ The Israelites were not to charge fellow Israelites any interest:

Deut 23:19-20 You shall not charge interest on loans to your brother, interest on money, interest on food, interest on anything that is lent for interest. ²⁰You may charge a foreigner interest, but you may not charge your brother interest, that the LORD your God may bless you in all that you undertake in the land that you are entering to take possession of it.

Note that Nehemiah condemned the practice of charging fellow Jews interest for profit: "You are exacting interest, each from his brother. ... The thing that you are doing is not good. ... Let us abandon this exacting of interest." (cf. Neh 5:7-11)

The canceling of fellow Israelites' debts every seven years

Deut 15:1-3 At the end of every seven years you shall grant a release. ²And this is the manner of the release: every creditor shall release what he has lent to his neighbor. He shall not exact it of his neighbor, his brother, because the LORD's release has been proclaimed. ³Of a foreigner you may exact it, but whatever of yours is with your brother your hand shall release.

The provision for canceling debts of a fellow Israelite was one way for the well-off Israelites to assist needy fellow Israelites.

Deut 15:9 Take care lest there be an unworthy thought in your heart and you say, 'The seventh year, the year of release is near,' and your eye look grudgingly^e on your poor brother, and you give him nothing, and he cry to the LORD against you, and you be guilty of sin.

^e Or be evil; also verse 10

Deut 31:10 And Moses commanded them, "At the end of every seven years, at the set time in the year of release, at the Feast of Booths, ...

As with 15:9 immediately above, "the year of release" refers to release from debts (cf. AMP, CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV).

Neh 10:31 And if the peoples of the land bring in goods or any grain on the Sabbath day to sell, we will not buy from them on the Sabbath or on a holy day. And we will forego the crops of the seventh year and the exaction of every debt.

Ex 21:2-6 When you buy a Hebrew slave, he shall serve six years, and in the seventh he shall go out free, for nothing. ³If he comes in single, he shall go out single; if he comes in married, then his wife shall go out with him. ⁴If his master gives him a wife and she bears him sons or daughters, the wife and her children shall be her master's, and he shall go out alone. ⁵But if the slave plainly says, 'I love my master, my wife, and my children; I will not go out free,' ⁶then his master shall bring him to God, and he shall bring him to the door or the doorpost. And his master shall bore his ear through with an awl, and he shall be his slave forever.

Deut 15:12-15, 18 If your brother, a Hebrew man or a Hebrew woman, is sold^f to you, he shall serve you six years, and in the seventh year you shall let him go free from you. ¹³And when you let him go free from you, you shall not let him go empty-handed. ¹⁴You shall furnish him liberally out of your flock, out of your threshing floor, and out of your winepress. As the LORD your God has blessed you, you shall give to him. ¹⁵You shall remember that you were a slave in the land of Egypt, and the LORD your God redeemed you; therefore I command you this today. ^f ... ¹⁸It shall not seem hard to you when you let him go free from you, for at half the cost of a hired servant he has served you six years. So the LORD your God will bless you in all that you do. ^g

^f Or sells himself

The Israelites were to set free servants who were fellow Hebrews partly at least because of and in recognition of what God had done for them (v. 15).

Jer 34:13-14a “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: I myself made a covenant with your fathers when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage, saying, ‘At the end of seven years each of you must set free the fellow Hebrew who has been sold to you and has served you six years; you must set him free from your service.’ ^g

- Lev 25:50-52 ↕; Lev 25:23-28 ↕; Lev 25:29-34 ↕

The year of jubilee occurred every fifty years. It was a year of liberty (Lev 25:10 ↓) – “the year of liberty” (cf. Ezek 46:17 ↓). In it, any Hebrew in bondage was to be set free (cf. Lev 25:39-41, 54-55 ↓). Additionally, any property that a poor person had sold and that had not been bought back was to be returned (Lev 25:28 ↓; Lev 25:31, 33 ↕). As such, all were free to and even obliged to return to their family property (cf. Lev 25:10 ↓; Lev 25:13, 28 ↓; v. 41).

Lev 25:8-12 You shall count seven weeks^h of years, seven times seven years, so that the time of the seven weeks of years shall give you forty-nine years. ⁹Then you shall sound the loud trumpet on the tenth day of the seventh month. On the Day of Atonement you shall sound the trumpet throughout all your land. ¹⁰And you shall consecrate the fiftieth year, and proclaim liberty throughout the land to all its inhabitants. It shall be a jubilee for you, when each of you shall return to his property and each of you shall return to his clan. ¹¹That fiftieth year shall be a jubilee for you; in it you shall neither sow nor reap what grows of itself nor gather the grapes from the undressed vines. ¹²For it is a jubilee. It shall be holy to you. You may eat the produce of the field.ⁱ ^g

^h Or Sabbaths

ⁱ Or countryside

Note that the last statement appears to speak of eating “only what grows on its own” (CEV; cf. GNT, NIV, NLT) – presumably in addition to what had been harvested prior to the commencement of the year of jubilee.

Lev 25:13-16, 28 *In this year of jubilee each of you shall return to his property. ¹⁴And if you make a sale to your neighbor or buy from your neighbor, you shall not wrong one another. ¹⁵You shall pay your neighbor according to the number of years after the jubilee, and he shall sell to you according to the number of years for crops. ¹⁶If the years are many, you shall increase the price, and if the years are few, you shall reduce the price, for it is the number of the crops that he is selling to you. ^g ... ²⁸But if he has not sufficient means to recover it [property sold], then what he sold shall remain in the hand of the buyer until the year of jubilee. In the jubilee it shall be released, and he shall return to his property. ^g*

Verses 14-16 speak of property transactions in between years of jubilee. Verse 15b speaks of selling property based on the number of years left for harvesting crops before the next year of jubilee.

Lev 25:39-41, 54-55 *If your brother becomes poor beside you and sells himself to you, you shall not make him serve as a slave: ⁴⁰he shall be with you as a hired servant and as a sojourner. He shall serve with you until the year of the jubilee. ⁴¹Then he shall go out from you, he and his children with him, and go back to his own clan and return to the possession of his fathers. ^g ... ⁵⁴And if he is not redeemed by these means, then *he and his children with him shall be released in the year of jubilee. ⁵⁵For it is to me that the people of Israel are servants.^j They are my servants whom I brought out of the land of Egypt: I am the LORD your God. ^g

^j Or slaves

Note that it is not clear how these instructions correlated with the directive to release Hebrew servants every seven years (as per the previous subsection).

Ezek 46:16-17 Thus says the Lord GOD: If the prince makes a gift to any of his sons as his inheritance, it shall belong to his sons. It is their property by inheritance. ¹⁷But if he makes a gift out of his inheritance to one of his servants, it shall be his to the year of liberty. Then it shall revert to the prince; surely it is his inheritance—it shall belong to his sons.

The term “the year of liberty” refers to the year of jubilee.

✦ An allusion to the year of jubilee in the Messiah’s mission:

Isa 61:1-2 The Spirit of the Lord GOD is upon me, because the LORD has anointed me to bring good news to the poor;^k he has sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, *to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to those who are bound;*¹ to proclaim the year of the LORD’s favor, and the day of vengeance of our God; to comfort all who mourn; ...

^k Or afflicted

¹ Or the opening [of the eyes] to those who are blind; Septuagint and recovery of sight to the blind

In applying this passage to himself (cf. Luke 4:18-19), Jesus Christ spoke of spiritual release.

Lev 25:47-52 If a stranger or sojourner with you becomes rich, and your brother beside him becomes poor and sells himself to the stranger or sojourner with you or to a member of the stranger’s clan, ⁴⁸*then after he is sold he may be redeemed. One of his brothers may redeem him,* ⁴⁹*or his uncle or his cousin may redeem him, or a close relative from his clan may redeem him. Or if he grows rich he may redeem himself.* ⁵⁰*He shall calculate with his buyer from the year when he sold himself to him until the year of jubilee, and the price of his sale shall vary with the number of years. The time he was with his owner shall be rated as the time of a hired servant.* ⁵¹*If there are still many years left, he shall pay proportionately for his redemption some of his sale price.* ⁵²*If there remain but a few years until the year of jubilee, he shall calculate and pay for his redemption in proportion to his years of service.*

Lev 25:23-28 The land shall not be sold in perpetuity, for the land is mine. For you are strangers and sojourners with me. ²⁴*And in all the country you possess, you shall allow a redemption of the land.* ²⁵*If your brother becomes poor and sells part of his property, then his nearest redeemer shall come and redeem what his brother has sold.* ²⁶*If a man has no one to redeem it and then himself becomes prosperous and finds sufficient means to redeem it,* ²⁷*let him calculate the years* since he sold it and pay back the balance to the man to whom he sold it, and then return to his property. ²⁸But if he has not sufficient means to recover it, then what he sold shall remain in the hand of the buyer until the year of jubilee. In the jubilee it shall be released, and he shall return to his property.

In working out the price for redeeming the land one was to calculate the value for the years since it was sold (v. 27), presumably based largely on the value of the harvests for those years. One was then to subtract this from the original price and pay the balance to the person to whom it was sold (v. 27). Note that the original price would have been based on the number of years and harvests before the next Year of Jubilee (cf. v. 15 ).

Lev 25:29-34 If a man sells a dwelling house in a walled city, he may redeem it within a year of its sale. For a full year he shall have the right of redemption. ³⁰If it is not redeemed within a full year, then the house in the walled city shall belong in perpetuity to the buyer, throughout his generations; it shall not be released in the jubilee. ³¹*But the houses of the villages that have no wall around them shall be classified with the fields of the land. They may be redeemed, and they shall be released in the jubilee.* ³²*As for the cities of the Levites, the Levites may redeem at any time the houses in the cities they possess.* ³³*And if one of the Levites exercises his right of redemption, then the house that was sold in a city they possess shall be released in the jubilee. For the houses in the cities of the Levites are their possession among the people of Israel.* ³⁴But the fields of pastureland belonging to their cities may not be sold, for that is their possession forever.

The Hebrew in v. 33 is somewhat difficult. The thrust of the verse appears to be that any houses redeemable by the Levites will revert back to them in the jubilee.

✦ Boaz’s act as a redeemer in redeeming his relative Naomi’s land – taking her daughter-in-law Ruth as his wife:

Ruth 4:3-6, 9-10 Then he [Boaz] said to the redeemer, “Naomi, who has come back from the country of Moab, is selling the parcel of land that belonged to our relative Elimelech. ⁴*So I thought I would tell you of it and say, ‘Buy it in the presence of those sitting here and in the presence of the elders of my people.’ If you will redeem it, redeem it. But if you^m will not, tell me, that I may know, for there is no one besides you to redeem it, and I come after you.” And he said, “I will redeem it.” ⁵Then Boaz said, “The day you buy the field from the hand of Naomi, you also acquire Ruthⁿ the Moabite, the widow of the dead, in order to perpetuate the name of the dead in his inheritance.” ⁶Then the redeemer said, “I cannot redeem it for* myself, lest I impair my own inheritance. Take my right of redemption yourself, for I cannot redeem it.  ...⁹Then Boaz said to the elders and all the people, “You are witnesses this day that I have bought from the hand of Naomi all that belonged to Elimelech and all that belonged to Chilion and to Mahlon. ¹⁰Also Ruth the Moabite, the widow of Mahlon, I have bought to be my wife, to perpetuate the name of the dead in his inheritance, that the name of the dead may not be cut off from among his brothers and from the gate of his native place. You are witnesses this day.”

^m Hebrew he

ⁿ Masoretic Text you also buy it from Ruth

Verse 3 says that Naomi, Ruth’s mother-in-law, was selling the family land. This presumably was because she had become so poor. A redeemer (v. 6) had a responsibility to care for any needy amongst their extended family. The closest male relative was the primary redeemer, who also had the prime responsibility to marry a widow. Boaz qualified as a redeemer, but there was another who was more closely related to Ruth’s dead husband, Mahlon. Before buying and so redeeming Naomi’s property and marrying Ruth, Boaz was obliged to firstly give the primary redeemer the opportunity to exercise his legal right. The man chose not to, as doing so would endanger the inheritance of his own estate (v. 6).

II. Being True

In order to do what is right in our relationships with others, we must be true – both faithful and truthful. It is important to remember that faithfulness and truth – with the trust that they generate – are absolutely essential for our relationships with others to work, for so many aspects of our relationships are dependent on them. Accordingly we must avoid deceitfulness and associated dishonest practices. Bear in mind that deceitfulness is arguably the prime characteristic of Satan and evil.

Be faithful . . .

Prov 3:3 Let not steadfast love and faithfulness forsake you; bind them around your neck; write them on the tablet of your heart.

Prov 12:22 Lying lips are an abomination to the LORD, but those who act faithfully are his delight.

In light of the first clause, the second one seems to primarily have in view keeping one's word/promises (cf. GNT, NCV, NLT).

Matt 23:23 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you tithe mint and dill and cumin, and have neglected the weightier matters of the law: justice and mercy and faithfulness. These you ought to have done, without neglecting the others.

Gal 5:22 But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, ...

The Holy Spirit engenders faithfulness in believers. As such faithfulness is something that we should strive for. Note that like most of the other "fruit" listed, faithfulness here seems to primarily concern faithfulness to other people.

1Tim 3:11 Their wives likewise must^a be dignified, not slanderers, but sober-minded, faithful in all things.

^a Or Wives, likewise, must, or Women, likewise, must

Titus 2:9-10 Slaves^b are to be submissive to their own masters in everything; they are to be well-pleasing, not argumentative, ¹⁰*not pilfering, but showing all good faith*, so that in everything they may adorn the doctrine of God our Savior.

^b Or servants; Greek bondservants

Mal 2:10, 13-16 Have we not all one Father? Has not one God created us? Why then are we faithless to one another, profaning the covenant of our fathers?  ... ¹³And this second thing you do. You cover the LORD's altar with tears, with weeping and groaning because he no longer regards the offering or accepts it with favor from your hand. ¹⁴But you say, "Why does he not?" Because the LORD was witness between you and the wife of your youth, to whom you have been faithless, though she is your companion and your wife by covenant. ¹⁵Did he not make them one, with a portion of the Spirit in their union?^c And what was the one God^d seeking?^e Godly offspring. So guard yourselves^f in your spirit, and let none of you be faithless to the wife of your youth. ¹⁶"For the man who does not love his wife but divorces her,^g says the LORD, the God of Israel, covers^h his garment with violence, says the LORD of hosts. So guard yourselves in your spirit, and do not be faithless."

^d Hebrew the one

^e Or And not one has done this who has a portion of the Spirit. And what was that one seeking?

^g Hebrew who hates and divorces

^h Probable meaning (compare Septuagint and Deuteronomy 24:1-4); or “The LORD, the God of Israel, says that he hates divorce, and him who covers”

Verse 10 speaks generally of the people’s faithless and treacherous dealing with each other, whereas 14-16 speak of breaking faith with one’s wife. (For comment on v. 15, see 1699 – under Avoid divorce – it is contrary to God’s purposes, p. 1699.)

Prov 20:6 Many a man proclaims his own steadfast love, but a faithful man who can find? 📖

Despite many people’s claims to be faithful or “loyal” (GNT, NCV, NLT), truly faithful people are not so common.

Luke 16:10 One who is faithful in a very little is also faithful in much, and one who is dishonest in a very little is also dishonest in much. 📖

... Examples of faithfulness

Josh 2:14 And the men said to her, “Our life for yours even to death! If you do not tell this business of ours, then when the LORD gives us the land we will deal kindly and faithfully with you.” 📖

In Genesis 47:29, similarly Jacob asks Joseph to “deal kindly and truly with me”.

Neh 7:2 I gave my brother Hanani and Hananiah the governor of the castle charge over Jerusalem, for he was a more faithful and God-fearing man than many. 📖

Dan 6:4 Then the presidents and the satraps sought to find a ground for complaint against Daniel with regard to the kingdom, but they could find no ground for complaint or any fault, because he was faithful, and no error or fault was found in him. 📖

1Pet 5:12 By Silvanus, a faithful brother as I regard him, I have written briefly to you, exhorting and declaring that this is the true grace of God. Stand firm in it. 📖

3Jn 1:5 Beloved, it is a faithful thing you do in all your efforts for these brothers, strangers as they are, ... 📖

The phrase “a faithful thing” may be referring to faithfulness to the “brothers”, but it may well primarily be speaking of faithfulness to the Lord by helping fellow disciples, his people. Alternatively, John may in fact not be differentiating between the two. The same could be said of “faithful” above in 1 Peter 5:12. Regarding faithfulness to God, see a) Be Faithful to God, p. 1782.

Be trustworthy and reliable

Ex 18:21 Moreover, look for able men from all the people, men who fear God, who are trustworthy and hate a bribe, and place such men over the people as chiefs of thousands, of hundreds, of fifties, and of tens. 📖

1Cor 4:2 Moreover, it is required of stewards that they be found trustworthy. 📖

1Cor 7:25 Now concerningⁱ the betrothed,^j I have no command from the Lord, but I give my judgment as one who by the Lord’s mercy is trustworthy. 📖

ⁱ The expression Now concerning introduces a reply to a question in the Corinthians’ letter; see 7:1

^j Greek virgins

Paul recognized that his trustworthiness ultimately was due to the Lord. He may have in view Jesus Christ’s intervention in his life on the road to Damascus.

2Tim 2:2 ... and what you have heard from me in the presence of many witnesses entrust to faithful men who will be able to teach others also. 📖

This indicates that faithful people are worthy of trust – i.e. they are trustworthy.

Prov 11:13 Whoever goes about slandering reveals secrets, but he who is trustworthy in spirit keeps a thing covered. 📖

Neh 13:13 And I appointed as treasurers over the storehouses Shelemiah the priest, Zadok the scribe, and Pedaiah of the Levites, and as their assistant Hanan the son of Zaccur, son of Mattaniah, for they were considered reliable, and their duty was to distribute to their brothers. 📖

Isa 8:2 And I will get reliable witnesses, Uriah the priest and Zechariah the son of Jeberechiah, to attest for me. 📖

God is actually the speaker here. This points to the need to be reliable or trustworthy in things such as giving a proper account of something when required, on behalf of God or others.

‡ Keep your promises:

Neh 5:12-13 Then they said, “We will restore these and require nothing from them. We will do as you say.” And I called the priests and made them swear to do as they had

May the LORD do so to me and more also if anything but death parts me from you.”

Ruth’s promise to stand by her bereaved mother-in-law is a superlative expression of loyalty and commitment – and often referred to as an example of such.

2Sam 15:19-21 Then the king said to Ittai the Gittite, “Why do you also go with us? Go back and stay with the king, for you are a foreigner and also an exile from your home. ²⁰You came only yesterday, and shall I today make you wander about with us, since I go I know not where? Go back and take your brothers with you, and may the LORD show^m steadfast love and faithfulness to you.” ²¹But Ittai answered the king, “As the LORD lives, and as my lord the king lives, wherever my lord the king shall be, whether for death or for life, there also will your servant be.”

It is debatable as to exactly what moved Elisha to stay with Elijah till he was taken by God (cf. v. 11), but quite possibly his love of and faithfulness to Elijah – whom he served (cf. 1Ki 19:21) – were at least part of the reason (cf. v. 12).

. . . Do not desert others

Prov 27:10 Do not forsake your friend and your father’s friend, and do not go to your brother’s house in the day of your calamity. Better is a neighbor who is near than a brother who is far away.

Do not “desert” (CEV, NIV) – “abandon” (NLT) – or renounce a friend.

Josh 22:3 You have not forsaken your brothers these many days, down to this day, but have been careful to keep the charge of the LORD your God.

2Sam 20:2 So all the men of Israel withdrew from David and followed Sheba the son of Bichri. But the men of Judah followed their king steadfastly from the Jordan to Jerusalem.

This and the following passages contain examples of people sadly deserting others in need.

Matt 26:31-34, 56 Then Jesus said to them, “You will all fall away because of me this night. For it is written, ‘I will strike the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock will be scattered.’ ³²But after I am raised up, I will go before you to Galilee.” ³³Peter answered him, “Though they all fall away because of you, I will never fall away.” ³⁴Jesus said to him, “Truly, I tell you, this very night, before the rooster crows, you will deny me three times.” ... ⁵⁶But all this has taken place that the Scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled.” Then all the disciples left him and fled.

2Tim 1:15 You are aware that all who are in Asia turned away from me, among whom are Phygelus and Hermogenes.

On a number of occasions Paul suffered the discouraging experience of being deserted. As well this and the occurrences referred to below in 4:10, 16, he was deserted by: John Mark (cf. Acts 15:38); and some members of the church in Galatia (cf. Gal 1:6).

2Tim 4:10, 16 For Demas, in love with this present world, has deserted me and gone to Thessalonica. Crescens has gone to Galatia,ⁿ Titus to Dalmatia.  ... ¹⁶*At my first defense no one came to stand by me, but all deserted me. May it not be charged against them!*

When they told David, “It was the men of Jabesh-gilead who buried Saul,”* ⁵*David sent messengers to the men of Jabesh-gilead and said to them, “May you be blessed by the LORD, because you showed this loyalty to Saul your lord and buried him.”* ⁶*Now may the LORD show steadfast love and faithfulness to you. And I will do good to you because you have done this thing.*

Do not betray others

1Chr 12:17 David went out to meet them and said to them, “If you have come to me in friendship to help me, my heart will be joined to you; but if to betray me to my adversaries, although there is no wrong in my hands, then may the God of our fathers see and rebuke you.”

Job 17:5 He who informs against his friends to get a share of their property— the eyes of his children will fail.

If one betrays his friend for reward, such will be the consequences that even his children will “suffer for it” (GNT, NIRV).

Isa 24:16b Woe is me! For the traitors have betrayed, with betrayal the traitors have betrayed.

Matt 26:24, 47-50 *The Son of Man goes as it is written of him, but woe to that man by whom the Son of Man is betrayed! ‡ Do not betray another person's confidence:

Prov 25:9-10 Argue your case with your neighbor himself, and do not reveal another's secret, ¹⁰*lest he who hears you bring shame upon you, and your ill repute have no end.* 📖

Results of faithfulness

Prov 3:3-4 Let not steadfast love and faithfulness forsake you; bind them around your neck; write them on the tablet of your heart. ⁴*So you will find favor and good success^s in the sight of God and man.* 📖

^s Or repute

The coupling of "love" and "faithfulness" is common in the OT, often used in speaking of God's character. In a person, they form a basis for a proper relationship both with God and with people, as reflected in v. 4.

Prov 28:20 A faithful man will abound with blessings, but whoever hastens to be rich will not go unpunished. 📖

Psa 101:6 I will look with favor on the faithful in the land, that they may dwell with me; he who walks in the way that is blameless shall minister to me. 📖

Note that David is speaking, as king. This points to the value of faithful people to others, and that being faithful is also beneficial to oneself (cf. Prov 28:20 †).

Prov 13:17 A wicked messenger falls into trouble, but a faithful envoy brings healing. 📖

A faithful envoy brings "healing" in that they are likely to bring peace (cf. GNT) between the two parties involved, healing any rifts.

Prov 25:13 Like the cold of snow in the time of harvest is a faithful messenger to those who send him; he refreshes the soul of his masters. 📖

Consequences of unfaithfulness

Note that unfaithfulness to God, as opposed to people, may be primarily in view in a number of the following references.

Prov 11:3, 6 The integrity of the upright guides them, but the crookedness of the treacherous destroys them. 📖 ... ⁶The righteousness of the upright delivers them, but the treacherous are taken captive by their lust. 📖

Prov 13:15 Good sense wins favor, but the way of the treacherous is their ruin.^t 📖

^t Probable reading (compare Septuagint, Syriac, Vulgate); Hebrew is rugged, or is an enduring rut

Prov 21:18 The wicked is a ransom for the righteous, and the traitor for the upright. 📖

This appears to be a somewhat metaphorical generalization of contrasting outcomes of wickedness – as is exhibited by traitors – and righteousness.

Prov 22:12 The eyes of the LORD keep watch over knowledge, but he overthrows the words of the traitor. 📖

Rev 21:8 But as for the cowardly, the faithless, the detestable, as for murderers, the sexually immoral, sorcerers, idolaters, and all liars, their portion will be in the lake that burns with fire and sulfur, which is the second death. 📖

The "faithless" may mean the "untrustworthy" (NASB text note), hence the verse's inclusion here. Alternatively it may be speaking of the "unbelieving" (NASB).

‡ The treacherous are detrimental to those who rely upon them:

Prov 25:19 Trusting in a treacherous man in time of trouble is like a bad tooth or a foot that slips. 📖

Note: Insights on friendship . . .

Prov 17:17 A friend loves at all times, and a brother is born for adversity. 📖

Here "friend" and "brother" are paralleled. A friend faithfully always shows love, even in testing times.

Prov 18:24 A man of many companions may come to ruin, but there is a friend who sticks closer than a brother. 📖

Having many companions or so-called "friends" is not necessarily a good thing. If they are of bad character or unreliable they can lead one to ruin. In contrast a real friend will stick closer than a brother, even in difficult times.

Prov 27:6, 9 Faithful are the wounds of a friend; profuse are the kisses of an enemy. 📖 ... ⁹Oil and perfume make the heart glad, and the sweetness of a friend comes from his earnest counsel.^u 📖

^u Or and so does the sweetness of a friend that comes from his earnest counsel

Verse 6 is saying that reproaches from a friend are faithful as they are intended for one's own good – in contrast to an enemy's supposedly friendly advances. The Hebrew in the second part of v. 9 is not clear (cf. CEV text note, GNT text note). Here the ESV rendering commends the sincere advice that a friend gives.

Eccl 4:9-12 Two are better than one, because they have a good reward for their toil. ¹⁰For if they fall, one will lift up his fellow. But woe to him who is alone when he falls and has not another to lift him up! ¹¹Again, if two lie together, they keep warm, but how can one keep warm alone? ¹²And though a man might prevail against one who is alone, two will withstand him—a threefold cord is not quickly broken.

This is readily applicable to friendship, and may even have it primarily in view. Verse 9 appears to be making the point that two can work more effectively than one (cf. GNT, NCV, NLT). The final clause (v. 12b) appears to imply that three friends or companions “are even better” (NLT) than two, forming a grouping of quite some strength.

John 15:13 Greater love has no one than this, that someone lay down his life for his friends.

Job 2:11, 13 Now when Job’s three friends heard of all this evil that had come upon him, they came each from his own place, Eliphaz the Temanite, Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite. They made an appointment together to come to show him sympathy and comfort him.  ... ¹³And they sat with him on the ground seven days and seven nights, and no one spoke a word to him, for they saw that his suffering was very great.

This illustrates that one should sympathize with and comfort friends (v. 11b), when they are facing adversity. Moreover v. 13 appears to exemplify that we should empathize with them.

Job 6:14 He who withholds^v kindness from a friend forsakes the fear of the Almighty.

^v Syriac, Vulgate (compare Targum); the meaning of the Hebrew word is uncertain

This and the following verses from Acts reflect that one ought to address a friend’s needs.

Acts 24:23 Then he gave orders to the centurion that he should be kept in custody but have some liberty, and that none of his friends should be prevented from attending to his needs.

Acts 27:3 The next day we put in at Sidon. And Julius treated Paul kindly and gave him leave to go to his friends and be cared for.

... Jonathan and David’s close friendship

1Sam 18:1, 3-4 As soon as he had finished speaking to Saul, the soul of Jonathan was knit to the soul of David, and Jonathan loved him as his own soul.  ... ³Then Jonathan made a covenant with David, because he loved him as his own soul. ⁴And Jonathan stripped himself of the robe that was on him and gave it to David, and his armor, and even his sword and his bow and his belt.

Jonathan’s covenant with David was one of loyalty and friendship – as illustrated in the following passages. Jonathan’s actions in v. 4 may have been simply a ratifying of this covenant, but some commentators interpret them to also signify the passing of the royal line from his own family to David’s.

1Sam 20:4 Then Jonathan said to David, “Whatever you say, I will do for you.”

Jonathan made this promise to David in regard to saving his life (cf. vv. 1-3).

1Sam 20:13-17 [Jonathan:] But should it please my father to do you harm, the LORD do so to Jonathan and more also if I do not disclose it to you and send you away, that you may go in safety. May the LORD be with you, as he has been with my father. ¹⁴If I am still alive, show me the steadfast love of the LORD, that I may not die; ¹⁵and do not cut off^w your steadfast love from my house forever, when the LORD cuts off every one of the enemies of David from the face of the earth.” ¹⁶And Jonathan made a covenant with the house of David, saying, “May^x the LORD take vengeance on David’s enemies.” ¹⁷And Jonathan made David swear again by his love for him, for he loved him as he loved his own soul.

^w Or but if I die, do not cut off

^x Septuagint earth, 16let not the name of Jonathan be cut off from the house of David. And may Jonathan’s statement in v. 16 reaffirmed his commitment to David, even in the face of his own father’s hostility towards David (v. 13).

1Sam 20:41-42 And as soon as the boy had gone, David rose from beside the stone heap^y and fell on his face to the ground and bowed three times. And they kissed one another and wept with one another, David weeping the most. ⁴²Then Jonathan said to David, “Go in peace, because we have sworn both of us in the name of the LORD, saying, “The LORD shall be between me and you, and between my offspring and your offspring, forever.”” And he rose and departed, and Jonathan went into the city.^z

^y Septuagint; Hebrew from beside the south

^z This sentence is 21:1 in Hebrew

The two friends wept knowing that they would see little of each other for at least the near future, due to the hostility of King Saul (Jonathan's father) towards David. In v. 42, "The LORD shall be between me and you ..." speaks of God watching as a witness to their covenant, to ensure that it is kept.

1Sam 23:16, 18 And Jonathan, Saul's son, rose and went to David at Horesh, and strengthened his hand in God. ...¹⁸And the two of them made a covenant before the LORD. David remained at Horesh, and Jonathan went home.

The covenant (v. 18) may have been a renewal of the earlier one (cf. 1Sam 18:3 ↑) – as appears to be the case in 20:16-17 above – or simply a new one. If it was a new one, presumably it likewise reflected their friendship and commitment to each other.

2Sam 1:26 [David:] I am distressed for you, my brother Jonathan; very pleasant have you been to me; your love to me was extraordinary, surpassing the love of women.

2Sam 9:7-8 And David said to him, "Do not fear, for I will show you kindness for the sake of your father Jonathan, and I will restore to you all the land of Saul your father, and you shall eat at my table always."⁸And he paid homage and said, "What is your servant, that you should show regard for a dead dog such as I?"

Mephibosheth was clearly taken aback (v. 8) at the extent of David's kindness, resulting from David's loyalty to Jonathan, Mephibosheth's father.

Be truthful . . .

Ps 51:6 Behold, you delight in truth in the inward being, and you teach me wisdom in the secret heart.

Jer 4:1-2 "If you return, O Israel, declares the LORD, to me you should return. If you remove your detestable things from my presence, and do not waver, ²and if you swear, 'As the LORD lives,' in truth, in justice, and in righteousness, then nations shall bless themselves in him, and in him shall they glory."

Jer 5:1-3a Run to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem, look and take note! Search her squares to see if you can find a man, one who does justice and seeks truth, that I may pardon her. ²Though they say, "As the LORD lives," yet they swear falsely. ³*O LORD, do not your eyes look for truth?*

Zec 8:19 Thus says the LORD of hosts: The fast of the fourth month and the fast of the fifth and the fast of the seventh and the fast of the tenth shall be to the house of Judah seasons of joy and gladness and cheerful feasts. Therefore love truth and peace.

1Cor 13:6 ... it [love] does not rejoice at wrongdoing, but rejoices with the truth.

Being truthful is acting in accordance with love.

Eph 5:8b-9 Walk as children of light ⁹(for the fruit of light is found in all that is good and right and true), ...

Living as children of light produces what is "good and right and true". The term "true" is inclusive of "truth" (GNT, NASB, NCV, NIV, NKJV; cf. CEV).

Eph 6:14 Stand therefore, having fastened on the belt of truth, and having put on the breastplate of righteousness, ...

Truth is a key element in standing firm against evil, without which one will succumb. (Note that "truth" does refer here to truthfulness rather than in particular to God's word or the gospel.)

. . . Speak the truth

Rom 9:1 I am speaking the truth in Christ—I am not lying; my conscience bears me witness in the Holy Spirit—

Note that in v. 15, “speaking the truth” may simply mean “speak truthfully”, but “truth” could more specifically be referring to the gospel, in contrast to heretical teaching (cf. v. 14).

Zec 8:16 These are the things that you shall do: Speak the truth to one another; render in your gates judgments that are true and make for peace; ...

Prov 8:7 ... for my mouth will utter truth; wickedness is an abomination to my lips.

Ps 15:1-2 O LORD, who shall sojourn in your tent? Who shall dwell on your holy hill? ²He who walks blamelessly and does what is right and speaks truth in his heart; ...

The last clause appears to be referring to speaking the truth from one’s heart (cf. NCV, NIV, NLT, NRSV).

Mark 5:30, 33 And Jesus, perceiving in himself that power had gone out from him, immediately turned about in the crowd and said, “Who touched my garments?”  ... ³³But the woman, knowing what had happened to her, came in fear and trembling and fell down before him and told him the whole truth.

2Cor 7:14b But just as everything we said to you was true, so also our boasting before Titus has proved true.

2Cor 6:11 We have spoken freely to you,^a Corinthians; our heart is wide open.

^a Greek Our mouth is open to you

Paul not only spoke truthfully but also frankly to the Corinthians.

John 1:19-20 And this is the testimony of John, when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem to ask him, “Who are you?” ²⁰*He confessed, and did not deny, but confessed, “I am not the Christ.”*

Prov 12:19 Truthful lips endure forever, but a lying tongue is but for a moment.

Verse 19 possibly means that those who speak the truth will endure, in contrast to those who lie. However it is usually interpreted to mean that truth itself will endure forever, but a lie is soon found out (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NLT).

✦ Speak what is right:

Prov 16:13 Righteous lips are the delight of a king, and he loves him who speaks what is right.

Be honest

Note that the other subsections in this section also pertain to this theme of being honest.

Luke 8:15 As for that in the good soil, they are those who, hearing the word, hold it fast in an honest and good heart, and bear fruit with patience.

Eph 4:28 Let the thief no longer steal, but rather let him labor, doing honest work with his own hands, so that he may have something to share with anyone in need.

Gen 42:11 We are all sons of one man. We are honest men. Your servants have never been spies.

1Sam 29:6 Then Achish called David and said to him, “As the LORD lives, you have been honest, and to me it seems right that you should march out and in with me in the campaign. For I have found nothing wrong in you from the day of your coming to me to this day. Nevertheless, the lords do not approve of you.

2Ki 12:15 And they did not ask an accounting from the men into whose hand they delivered the money to pay out to the workmen, for they dealt honestly.

2Ki 22:7 But no accounting shall be asked from them for the money that is delivered into their hand, for they deal honestly.

Prov 12:17 Whoever speaks^b the truth gives honest evidence, but a false witness utters deceit.

^b Hebrew breathes out

Prov 24:26 Whoever gives an honest answer kisses the lips.

An honest answer is like a kiss on the lips for such reasons as: it is “pleasing” (NCV™); respectful (cf. NLT); and “a sign of true friendship” (CEV, GNT).

Be sincere

1Cor 5:8 Let us therefore celebrate the festival, not with the old leaven, the leaven of malice and evil, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

The “festival” quite possibly is a reference to celebrating the sacrifice of “Christ, our Passover lamb” (v. 7), alluding to the OT festival of the Feast of Unleavened Bread with which the offering of a Passover lamb is linked. Alternatively or additionally it may be a reference to the Christian life being a joyful life or “festival” in the light of Christ’s sacrifice and its implications. One should participate in such things with “sincerity and truth.”

2Cor 1:12 For our boast is this, the testimony of our conscience, that we behaved in the world with simplicity^c and godly sincerity, not by earthly wisdom but by the grace of God, and supremely so toward you.

^c Some manuscripts holiness

2Cor 2:17 For we are not, like so many, peddlers of God’s word, but as men of sincerity, as commissioned by God, in the sight of God we speak in Christ.

Paul’s awareness of his need to speak with sincerity was heightened by: the fact that he was commissioned by God; his consciousness of God’s witness (as per his reference to speaking “in the sight of God”); and his being “in Christ”.

2Cor 11:3 But I am afraid that as the serpent deceived Eve by his cunning, your thoughts will be led astray from a sincere and pure devotion to Christ.

James 3:17 But the wisdom from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, open to reason, full of mercy and good fruits, impartial and sincere.

Have integrity . . .

Integrity involves consistently holding to strong moral principles, including acting honestly and justly.

1Ki 9:4 And as for you, if you will walk before me, as David your father walked, with integrity of heart and uprightness, doing according to all that I have commanded you, and keeping my statutes and my rules, ...

Ps 101:2b I will walk with integrity of heart within my house; ...

Job 2:3-10 And the LORD said to Satan, “Have you considered my servant Job, that there is none like him on the earth, a blameless and upright man, who fears God and turns away from evil? He still holds fast his integrity, although you incited me against him to destroy him without reason.”⁴ Then Satan answered the LORD and said, “Skin for skin! All that a man has he will give for his life. ⁵But stretch out your hand and touch his bone and his flesh, and he will curse you to your face.”⁶ And the LORD said to Satan, “Behold, he is in your hand; only spare his life.”⁷ So Satan went out from the presence of the LORD and struck Job with loathsome sores from the sole of his foot to the crown of his head. ⁸And he took a piece of broken pottery with which to scrape himself while he sat in the ashes. ⁹*Then his wife said to him, "Do you still hold fast your integrity? Curse God and die."* ¹⁰*But he said to her, "You speak as one of the foolish women would speak. Shall we receive good from God, and shall we not receive evil?"* ^h*In all this Job did not sin with his lips.*

^h Or disaster; also verse 11

Just as he had done earlier (v. 3b; cf. 1:20-22) Job maintained his integrity by remaining true to God (v. 10), despite the temptation to do otherwise amidst great hardship (vv. 7-9).

Job 31:6 (Let me be weighed in a just balance, and let God know my integrity!)

Ps 7:8 The LORD judges the peoples; judge me, O LORD, according to my righteousness and according to the integrity that is in me.

David appeals to God to judge and deal with him in accordance with his righteousness and integrity (cf. Ps 26:1, 11 ↓), and so to repay him by delivering him from wicked enemies. Note the association here of integrity with righteousness.

Ps 26:1, 11 Vindicate me, O LORD, for I have walked in my integrity, and I have trusted in the LORD without wavering. ... ¹¹*But as for me, I shall walk in my integrity*; redeem me, and be gracious to me.

Titus 2:7 Show yourself in all respects to be a model of good works, and in your teaching show integrity, dignity, ...

1Sam 12:3-4 Here I am; testify against me before the LORD and before his anointed. Whose ox have I taken? Or whose donkey have I taken? Or whom have I defrauded? Whom have I oppressed? Or from whose hand have I taken a bribe to blind my eyes with it? Testify against meⁱ and I will restore it to you. ⁴*They said, "You have not defrauded us or oppressed us or taken anything from any man's hand."*

ⁱ Septuagint; Hebrew lacks Testify against me

Although "integrity" is not specifically mentioned in this and the following two references (2Sam 18:12; 2Ki 5:15-16), they are excellent examples of it.

2Sam 18:12 But the man said to Joab, "Even if I felt in my hand the weight of a thousand pieces of silver, I would not reach out my hand against the king's son, for in our hearing the king commanded you and Abishai and Ittai, 'For my sake protect the young man Absalom.'"

2Ki 5:15-16 Then he returned to the man of God, he and all his company, and he came and stood before him. And he said, "Behold, I know that there is no God in all the earth but in Israel; so accept now a present from your servant." ¹⁶*But he said, "As the LORD lives, before whom I stand, I will receive none."* And he urged him to take it, but he refused.

Elisha refused to accept remuneration for performing his work as a prophet of God, administering God's power. To have done so would not have been dishonest, but to have profited financially from God's power would have called his integrity into question. Elisha's action of great integrity would have spoken volumes to a foreigner such as Naaman, who was not familiar with God's ways.

Matt 22:16 And they sent their disciples to him, along with the Herodians, saying, "Teacher, we know that you are true and teach the way of God truthfully, and you do not care about anyone's opinion, for you are not swayed by appearances."

^j Greek for you do not look at people's faces

Despite their motivation, these men correctly attest to aspects of Jesus' integrity.

... Integrity brings security and other blessings

Ps 25:21 May integrity and uprightness preserve me, for I wait for you.

David effectively asks God to protect him through his integrity and uprightness.

Ps 41:12 But you have upheld me because of my integrity, and set me in your presence forever.

Prov 2:7 ... he stores up sound wisdom for the upright; he is a shield to those who walk in integrity, ...

Prov 2:21 For the upright will inhabit the land, and those with integrity will remain in it, ...

Prov 10:9 Whoever walks in integrity walks securely, but he who makes his ways crooked will be found out.

Prov 11:3 The integrity of the upright guides them, but the crookedness of the treacherous destroys them.

Prov 20:7 The righteous who walks in his integrity— blessed are his children after him!

Prov 28:18 Whoever walks in integrity will be delivered, but he who is crooked in his ways will suddenly fall.

Job 4:6 Is not your fear of God^k your confidence, and the integrity of your ways your hope?

^k Hebrew lacks of God

Gen 20:1-7 From there Abraham journeyed toward the territory of the Negeb and lived between Kadesh and Shur; and he sojourned in Gerar. ²And Abraham said of Sarah his wife, “She is my sister.” And Abimelech king of Gerar sent and took Sarah. ³But God came to Abimelech in a dream by night and said to him, “Behold, you are a dead man because of the woman whom you have taken, for she is a man’s wife.” ⁴Now Abimelech had not approached her. So he said, “Lord, will you kill an innocent people? ⁵Did he not himself say to me, ‘She is my sister’? And she herself said, ‘He is my brother.’ In the integrity of my heart and the innocence of my hands I have done this.” ⁶Then God said to him in the dream, “Yes, I know that you have done this in the integrity of your heart, and it was I who kept you from sinning against me. Therefore I did not let you touch her. ⁷Now then, return the man’s wife, for he is a prophet, so that he will pray for you, and you shall live. But if you do not return her, know that you shall surely die, you and all who are yours.”

Abimelech had acted with integrity and so could claim innocence (v. 5). At least in part because he had done so, God kept him from unwittingly doing any wrong (v. 6) – enabling him to avoid God’s judgment (v. 7).

Do not deceive

1Pet 2:1 So put away all malice and all deceit and hypocrisy and envy and all slander.

Ps 34:13 Keep your tongue from evil and your lips from speaking deceit.

Prov 24:28 Be not a witness against your neighbor without cause, and do not deceive with your lips.

Job 27:4 ... my lips will not speak falsehood, and my tongue will not utter deceit.

Ps 5:6 You destroy those who speak lies; the LORD abhors the bloodthirsty and deceitful man.

Ps 32:2 Blessed is the man against whom the LORD counts no iniquity, and in whose spirit there is no deceit.

Ps 101:7 No one who practices deceit shall dwell in my house; no one who utters lies shall continue before my eyes.

Here David is speaking, as king.

2Cor 4:2 But we have renounced disgraceful, underhanded ways. We refuse to practice cunning or to tamper with God’s word, but by the open statement of the truth we would commend ourselves to everyone’s conscience in the sight of God.

1Thes 2:5 For we never came with words of flattery,¹ as you know, nor with a pretext for greed—God is witness.

Paul did not deceitfully try to cover up greed.

1Pet 2:21-22 For to this you have been called, because Christ also suffered for you, leaving you an example, so that you might follow in his steps. ²²He committed no sin, neither was deceit found in his mouth.

Verse 2 appears to be given as part of Christ’s example in suffering, which we are to follow (v. 21).

1Pet 3:10 For “Whoever desires to love life and see good days, let him keep his tongue from evil and his lips from speaking deceit; ...”

Prov 15:4 A gentle^m tongue is a tree of life, but perverseness in it breaks the spirit.

^mOr healing

The second clause may well have deceit primarily in view (cf. CEV, NCV, NIV, NLT). The reference to “the spirit” appears to refer to other people’s spirits, primarily those who are victims of such perverseness.

✦ Righteous people hate anything that is false:

Prov 13:5 The righteous hates falsehood, but the wicked brings shameⁿ and disgrace.

Note that in addition to the verses actually cross-referenced above, lying appears to be primarily in view in a number of the verses in the previous subsection.

Lev 19:11 You shall not steal; you shall not deal falsely; you shall not lie to one another.

Col 3:9-10 Do not lie to one another, seeing that you have put off the old self^o with its practices ¹⁰and have put on the new self, which is being renewed in knowledge after the image of its creator.

Prov 30:8 Remove far from me falsehood and lying; give me neither poverty nor riches; feed me with the food that is needful for me, ...

The first clause appears to primarily be a request for God to keep him (Agur) from lying and practicing any falsehood (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NLT).

Mal 2:6 True instruction^p was in his mouth, and no wrong was found on his lips. He walked with me in peace and uprightness, and he turned many from iniquity.

1Tim 2:7 For this I was appointed a preacher and an apostle (I am telling the truth, I am not lying), a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and truth.

Prov 26:28 A lying tongue hates its victims, and a flattering mouth works ruin.

To lie to someone, particularly for an objective that is to the other person’s detriment, reflects an element of hatred or disdain for them.

Prov 12:22 Lying lips are an abomination to the LORD, but those who act faithfully are his delight.

Isa 59:12-15 For our transgressions are multiplied before you, and our sins testify against us; for our transgressions are with us, and we know our iniquities: ¹³transgressing, and denying the LORD, and turning back from following our God, speaking oppression and revolt, conceiving and uttering from the heart lying words. ¹⁴Justice is turned back, and righteousness stands far away; for truth has stumbled in the public squares, and uprightness cannot enter. ¹⁵*Truth is lacking*, and he who departs from evil makes himself a prey. The LORD saw it, and it displeased him^q that there was no justice.

^q Hebrew and it was evil in his eyes

Here Isaiah laments the people’s rebellion against God, in particular the prevalence of lies and the corresponding lack of truth.

1Tim 3:8 Deacons likewise must be dignified, not double-tongued,^r not addicted to much wine, not greedy for dishonest gain.

^r Or devious in speech

Being “double-tongued” or “devious in speech” (text note) is suggestive of lying (cf. CEV, NCV).

Prov 14:5, 25 A faithful witness does not lie, but a false witness breathes out lies. ... ²⁵A truthful witness saves lives, but one who breathes out lies is deceitful.

Prov 25:18 A man who bears false witness against his neighbor is like a war club, or a sword, or a sharp arrow.

✦ We should testify when appropriate:

Lev 5:1 If anyone sins in that he hears a public adjuration to testify, and though he is a witness, whether he has seen or come to know the matter, yet does not speak, he shall bear his iniquity; ...

Do not use flattery

Flattery is deceitful (cf. Ps 12:2-3 ↓; Rom 16:18 ↓) and insincere. It is generally used to mislead others for one’s own advantage.

1Thes 2:5 For we never came with words of flattery,^s as you know, nor with a pretext for greed—God is witness.

^s Or with a flattering speech

Ps 12:2-3 Everyone utters lies to his neighbor; with flattering lips and a double heart they speak. ³May the LORD cut off all flattering lips, the tongue that makes great boasts, ...

Rom 16:18 For such persons do not serve our Lord Christ, but their own appetites,^t and by smooth talk and flattery they deceive the hearts of the naive.

^t Greek their own belly

Prov 26:28 A lying tongue hates its victims, and a flattering mouth works ruin.

The “ruin” could be that of the person doing the flattering (cf. Prov 29:5 ↓) or of those who are the objects of the flattering. The context suggests that the latter is more likely (cf. CEV, NCV).

Prov 29:5 A man who flatters his neighbor spreads a net for his feet.

Prov 28:23 Whoever rebukes a man will afterward find more favor than he who flatters with his tongue.

Do not plot evil schemes

Zec 7:10 ... do not oppress the widow, the fatherless, the sojourner, or the poor, and let none of you devise evil against another in your heart.

Zec 8:17 ... do not devise evil in your hearts against one another, and love no false oath, for all these things I hate, declares the LORD.

Prov 6:16-18 There are six things that the LORD hates, seven that are an abomination to him: ¹⁷haughty eyes, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood, ^{18a}a heart that devises wicked plans, feet that make haste to run to evil, ...

Mic 2:1 Woe to those who devise wickedness and work evil on their beds! When the morning dawns, they perform it, because it is in the power of their hand.

The reference is to plotting evil.

Ps 38:12 Those who seek my life lay their snares; those who seek my hurt speak of ruin and meditate treachery all day long.

Ps 52:2 Your tongue plots destruction, like a sharp razor, you worker of deceit.

Plotting evil schemes is characterized by deception (cf. Prov 12:20 ↓).

Prov 6:12-15 A worthless person, a wicked man, goes about with crooked speech, ¹³winks with his eyes, signals^u with his feet, points with his finger, ¹⁴with perverted heart devises evil, continually sowing discord; ¹⁵therefore calamity will come upon him suddenly; in a moment he will be broken beyond healing.

When done intentionally, this form of hypocrisy is clearly deceitful. When it is not done intentionally (which is often the case) it is still a kind of falseness and therefore wrong.

Matt 7:3-5 Why do you see the speck that is in your brother's eye, but do not notice the log that is in your own eye? ⁴Or how can you say to your brother, 'Let me take the speck out of your eye,' when there is the log in your own eye? ⁵You hypocrite, first take the log out of your own eye, and then you will see clearly to take the speck out of your brother's eye. 📖

Self-righteously pointing out a small fault in someone else and proposing to fix it, while overlooking a worse fault in oneself – particularly a similar fault – is rank hypocrisy.

Matt 23:2-3 The scribes and the Pharisees sit on Moses' seat, ³so practice and observe whatever they tell you—but not what they do. For they preach, but do not practice. 📖

The phrase “sit on Moses’ seat” (v. 2) refers to the Pharisees’ authority to preach the law.

Matt 23:13, 15 *But woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you shut the kingdom of heaven in people's faces. ^w Greek Gehenna; also verse 33

The hypocrisy of the teachers of the law and Pharisees in v. 13 is that as religious leaders they professed to show others the way to God's truth, but their active opposition to Jesus hindered others from entering God's kingdom. Similarly v. 15 points out that they went to great lengths to supposedly win a person to their Judaism, but in doing so they in fact turned them further from God's way, presumably largely through their regulations and their opposition to Jesus.

Matt 23:29-30, 34 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you build the tombs of the prophets and decorate the monuments of the righteous, ³⁰saying, 'If we had lived in the days of our fathers, we would not have taken part with them in shedding the blood of the prophets.' . . . ³⁴Therefore I send you prophets and wise men and scribes, some of whom you will kill and crucify, and some you will flog in your synagogues and persecute from town to town, . . . 📖

In v. 34 Jesus prophesies that the Jewish religious leaders would kill and persecute messengers of God's kingdom (following Jesus' ascension) – magnifying the hypocrisy of their acts spoken of in vv. 29-30.

Luke 13:13-16 And he laid his hands on her, and immediately she was made straight, and she glorified God. ¹⁴But the ruler of the synagogue, indignant because Jesus had healed on the Sabbath, said to the people, "There are six days in which work ought to be done. Come on those days and be healed, and not on the Sabbath day." ¹⁵Then the Lord answered him, "You hypocrites! Does not each of you on the Sabbath untie his ox or his donkey from the manger and lead it away to water it? ¹⁶And ought not this woman, a daughter of Abraham whom Satan bound for eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the Sabbath day?" 📖

Acts 23:3 Then Paul said to him, "God is going to strike you, you whitewashed wall! Are you sitting to judge me according to the law, and yet contrary to the law you order me to be struck?" 📖

The term “whitewashed wall” alludes to hypocrisy, spoken of in the subsequent rhetorical question.

Rom 2:19-24 . . . and if you are sure that you yourself are a guide to the blind, a light to those who are in darkness, ²⁰an instructor of the foolish, a teacher of children, having in the law the embodiment of knowledge and truth— ²¹*you then who teach others, do you not teach yourself? *not commit adultery, do you commit adultery? You who abhor idols, do you rob temples?*²³*You who boast in the law dishonor God by breaking the law.* ²⁴*For, as it is written, "The name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles because of you."* ☞

In v. 24 Paul affirms that many of his fellow Jews did in fact hypocritically act in ways that were inconsistent with what they preached. Regarding the phrase "rob temples" (v. 22), Paul may have in mind Jewish leaders making use for themselves of things that had been consecrated to God (cf. AMP). Some think Paul is speaking of actually robbing pagan temples (cf. CEV, NLT).

Eccl 7:21-22 Do not take to heart all the things that people say, lest you hear your servant cursing you. ²²*Your heart knows that many times you yourself have cursed others.* ☞

We should not pay too much attention to or be overly concerned about people speaking against us, for it would be hypocritical to get agitated as we would have done the same thing ourselves.

Matt 6:2, 5, 16 Thus, when you give to the needy, sound no trumpet before you, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may be praised by others. Truly, I say to you, they have received their reward. ☞ ...⁵*And when you pray, you must not be like the hypocrites. For they love to stand and pray in the synagogues and at the street corners, that they may be seen by others.* Truly, I say to you, they have received their reward. ☞ ...¹⁶*And when you fast, do not look gloomy like the hypocrites, for they disfigure their faces that their fasting may be seen by others.* Truly, I say to you, they have received their reward. ☞

The Greek word translated "hypocrite" was used of a stage actor. Here it is applied to those who falsely portrayed themselves as religious. Doing for show what are otherwise godly things, in order to be honored and gain prestige, is in fact ungodly – the opposite of the impression one has sought to portray. As such, doing so is hypocritical.

Matt 23:5-7 They do all their deeds to be seen by others. For they make their phylacteries broad and their fringes long, ⁶*and they love the place of honor at feasts and the best seats in the synagogues* ⁷*and greetings in the marketplaces and being called rabbi* by others.* ☞

* Rabbi means my teacher, or my master; also verse 8

Wide phylacteries (boxes containing Scripture verses, worn on the forehead) and long tassels would have been conspicuous signs of supposed piety, keeping with the teachers of the law and the Pharisees' hypocritical aspirations of being recognized as such (vv. 6-7).

Matt 23:23-28 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you tithe mint and dill and cumin, and have neglected the weightier matters of the law: justice and mercy and faithfulness. These you ought to have done, without neglecting the others. ²⁴*You blind guides, straining out a gnat and swallowing a camel!* ²⁵*Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you clean the outside of the cup and the plate, but inside they are full of greed and self-indulgence.* ²⁶*You blind Pharisee! First clean the inside of the cup and the plate, that the outside also may be clean.* ²⁷*Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you are like whitewashed tombs, which outwardly appear beautiful, but within are full of dead people's bones and all uncleanness.* ²⁸*So you also outwardly appear righteous to others, but within you are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness.* ☞

In v. 23 Jesus is speaking against the hypocritical practice of supposedly abiding by the law in strictly adhering to external, peripheral regulations of the law, while ignoring the more important matters central to the spirit of the law. In v. 24 Jesus figuratively emphasizes that the religious leaders were missing or ignoring the important points of the law. Note that Jesus was not necessarily saying that they were doing such things for show, but this probably was the case with him subsequently condemning them (vv. 25-28) for hypocritically giving the outward appearance of being pious, while inwardly being full of wickedness.

Mark 12:40 ... [The teachers of the law] who devour widows' houses and for a pretense make long prayers. They will receive the greater condemnation. ☞

In addition to here and the occurrences of "Woe" in Matthew 23 (cf. Matt 23:23-28 ↑; Matt 23:13, 15 ↑; Matt 23:29 ↑), punishment of the hypocrites is also referred to in Matthew 24:51, which says the hypocrites will be where there is "weeping and gnashing of teeth."

Luke 12:1-2 In the meantime, when so many thousands of the people had gathered together that they were trampling one another, he began to say to his disciples first, "Beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy." ²*Nothing is covered up that will not be revealed, or hidden that will not be known.* ☞

In v. 1b, Jesus is warning his disciples to guard against being fooled by and/or following the hypocritical ways of the Pharisees. In this context v. 2 appears to be saying that everything concealed by hypocritical practices will be made known.

2Cor 5:12 We are not commending ourselves to you again but giving you cause to boast about us, so that you may be able to answer those who boast about outward appearance and not about what is in the heart.

The second half of this verse may be implying that Paul's opponents focused on making themselves appear to be virtuous, rather than actually trying to be so – a hypocritical practice. Alternatively it may be referring to their attitude to their ministry, taking pride in external credentials such as “a spectacular ministry” (NLT). If the latter is correct, then it is debatable as to whether this verse is applicable to this subsection.

Gal 2:12-14 For before certain men came from James, he was eating with the Gentiles; but when they came he drew back and separated himself, fearing the circumcision party. ¹³*And the rest of the Jews acted hypocritically along with him, so that even Barnabas was led astray by their hypocrisy.* ¹⁴*But when I saw that their conduct was not in step with the truth of the gospel, I said to Cephas before them all, “If you, though a Jew, live like a Gentile and not like a Jew, how can you force the Gentiles to live like Jews?”*

Peter hypocritically changed his behavior for the sake of appearances in front of the newly arrived Jews (v. 12). In addition, what he did was not consistent with the gospel that he preached (v. 14) – so he was also guilty of not practicing what he preached and thus acted hypocritically in a second respect (as per the previous subsection). Note that what he did was particularly serious as it implied that living as a Gentile was not good enough for a believer, and so pressured Gentiles to follow Jewish customs (v. 14).

✦ Outward signs are useless by themselves:

Rom 2:28-29 For no one is a Jew who is merely one outwardly, nor is circumcision outward and physical. ²⁹*But a Jew is one inwardly, and circumcision is a matter of the heart, by the Spirit, not by the letter.* His praise is not from man but from God.

What Paul says regarding being a Jew is applicable also to truly being one of God's people. Outward signs or appearances do not make a person one of God's people. What is critical is one's inward condition, having a heart that has been transformed by the Holy Spirit, not by the “letter” (the law) which cannot transform a person inwardly as the Spirit can.

Prov 14:17, 22 A man of quick temper acts foolishly, and a man of evil devices is hated.  ... ²²*Do they not go astray who devise evil? Those who devise good meet^y steadfast love and faithfulness.*

^y Or show

The “man of evil devices” (v. 17) is one of “wicked plots and plans” (AMP) – a “schemer” (NRSV; cf. NLT). In v. 22, to “go astray” means to either make a “mistake” (CEV, GNT; NRSV) or to be “ruined” (NCV™; cf. NLT).

Prov 17:20 A man of crooked heart does not discover good, and one with a dishonest tongue falls into calamity.

The final clause is saying that “poor people are better off than liars” (cf. GNT; CEV, NCV, NIV, NLT).

Prov 21:28 A false witness will perish, but the word of a man who hears will endure.

Prov 26:18-19 Like a madman who throws firebrands, arrows, and death ¹⁹*is the man who deceives his neighbor and says, “I am only joking!”*

This may be referring to someone acting in jest, rather than to someone wickedly deceiving another and then trying to excuse their actions by falsely claiming to have been joking. In either case, one is playing with fire.

Prov 29:5 A man who flatters his neighbor spreads a net for his feet.

Isa 5:18 Woe to those who draw iniquity with cords of falsehood, who draw sin as with cart ropes, ...

The expression “draw iniquity with cords of falsehood” may well be meaning that deceit fosters and supports sin (cf. CEV). “Woe” speaks of ill consequences.

Isa 59:4, 9 No one enters suit justly; no one goes to law honestly; they rely on empty pleas, they speak lies, they conceive mischief and give birth to iniquity. ... ⁹*Therefore justice is far from us, and righteousness does not overtake us; we hope for light, and behold, darkness, and for brightness, but we walk in gloom.*

Job 32:21-22 I will not show partiality to any man or use flattery toward any person. ²²*For I do not know how to flatter, else my Maker would soon take me away.*

Ps 5:6 You destroy those who speak lies; the LORD abhors the bloodthirsty and deceitful man.

Ps 119:118 You spurn all who go astray from your statutes, for their cunning is in vain.

Notably this makes the point that particularly in light of God's rejection, deceitfully scheming is ultimately futile.

Ps 52:3-5 You [a wicked man] love evil more than good, and lying more than speaking what is right. Selah ⁴*You love all words that devour, O deceitful tongue.* ⁵*But God will break you down forever; he will snatch and tear you from your tent; he will uproot you from the land of the living.* Selah

Deceit is evil (v. 3) and harmful to others (v. 4) – hence God's judgment (v. 5).

Isa 28:15, 17 Because you have said, "We have made a covenant with death, and with Sheol we have an agreement, when the overwhelming whip passes through it will not come to us, for we have made lies our refuge, and in falsehood we have taken shelter"; ... ¹⁷*And I will make justice the line, and righteousness the plumb line; and hail will sweep away the refuge of lies, and waters will overwhelm the shelter.*"

God's justice will sweep away whatever protection one may have hoped to secure by lying and falsehood.

Isa 29:20-21 For the ruthless shall come to nothing and the scoffer cease, and all who watch to do evil shall be cut off, ²¹*who by a word make a man out to be an offender, and lay a snare for him who reproves in the gate, and with an empty plea turn aside him who is in the right.*

Verse 21 has largely in view false testimony in court.

Jer 9:6-9 Heaping oppression upon oppression, and deceit upon deceit, they refuse to know me, declares the LORD. ⁷*Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts: "Behold, I will refine them and test them, for what else can I do, because of my people?"* ⁸*Their tongue is a deadly arrow; it speaks deceitfully; with his mouth each speaks peace to his neighbor, but in his heart he plans an ambush for him.* ⁹*Shall I not punish them for these things? declares the LORD, and shall I not avenge myself on a nation such as this?*

Mic 6:12-13 Your^b rich men are full of violence; your inhabitants speak lies, and their tongue is deceitful in their mouth. ¹³*Therefore I strike you with a grievous blow, making you desolate because of your sins.*

Rev 21:8 But as for the cowardly, the faithless, the detestable, as for murderers, the sexually immoral, sorcerers, idolaters, and all liars, their portion will be in the lake that burns with fire and sulfur, which is the second death.

Rev 21:27 But nothing unclean will ever enter it, nor anyone who does what is detestable or false, but only those who are written in the Lamb's book of life.

People who practice falsehood will not enter the new Jerusalem of the afterlife (cf. Rev 22:15 ↓). Instead they will face eternal damnation.

Rev 22:15 Outside are the dogs and sorcerers and the sexually immoral and murderers and idolaters, and everyone who loves and practices falsehood.

‡ God will judge those who hypocritically judge others:

Rom 2:1-3 Therefore you have no excuse, O man, every one of you who judges. For in passing judgment on another you condemn yourself, because you, the judge, practice the very same things. ²We know that the judgment of God rightly falls on those who practice such things. ³Do you suppose, O man—you who judge those who practice such things and yet do them yourself—that you will escape the judgment of God?

d) Dishonest Gain

Note that because much of what can be described as “dishonest gain” involves deceitfulness, a good portion of this section is also relevant to the previous section, Deceitfulness.

Subsections

- Do not pursue dishonest gain
- Do not steal
- Do not defraud
- Do not practice extortion
- Do not accept bribes
- Ill-gotten gain does not last
- Ill-gotten gain has ill consequences

Do not pursue dishonest gain

1Tim 3:8 Deacons likewise must be dignified, not double-tongued,^c not addicted to much wine, not greedy for dishonest gain.

^c Or devious in speech

Prov 10:2 Treasures gained by wickedness do not profit, but righteousness delivers from death.

Ill-gotten gain will ultimately prove to be of no value.

Prov 16:8 Better is a little with righteousness than great revenues with injustice.

It is better to have a little that has been earned honestly than to have “a large income gained dishonestly” (GNT).

Prov 28:16 A ruler who lacks understanding is a cruel oppressor, but he who hates unjust gain will prolong his days.

1Sam 8:3 Yet his sons did not walk in his ways but turned aside after gain. They took bribes and perverted justice.

Ezek 28:18 By the multitude of your iniquities, in the unrighteousness of your trade you profaned your sanctuaries; so I brought fire out from your midst; it consumed you, and I turned you to ashes on the earth in the sight of all who saw you.

This is from a lament concerning the king of Tyre; as such the reference to “sanctuaries” does not include God’s sanctuary. But the verse still reflects that dishonest trade is dishonoring to those who do it and that which is associated with them – and so should not be done.

‡ Pay people what you owe them:

Rom 13:7-8 Pay to all what is owed to them: taxes to whom taxes are owed, revenue to whom revenue is owed, respect to whom respect is owed, honor to whom honor is owed. ⁸*Owe no one anything*, except to love each other, for the one who loves another has fulfilled the law.

Do not steal

Ex 20:15 You shall not steal.

Isa 61:8 For I the LORD love justice; I hate robbery and wrong;^d I will faithfully give them their recompense, and I will make an everlasting covenant with them.

^d Or robbery with a burnt offering

Ezek 18:7 ... [A righteous man] does not oppress anyone, but restores to the debtor his pledge, commits no robbery, gives his bread to the hungry and covers the naked with a garment, ...

Eph 4:28 Let the thief no longer steal, but rather let him labor, doing honest work with his own hands, so that he may have something to share with anyone in need.

Titus 2:9-10 Slaves^e are to be submissive to their own masters in everything; they are to be well-pleasing, not argumentative, ¹⁰*not pilfering, but showing all good faith*, so that in everything they may adorn the doctrine of God our Savior.

^e Or servants; Greek bondservants

Deut 23:24-25 If you go into your neighbor's vineyard, you may eat your fill of grapes, as many as you wish, but you shall not put any in your bag. ²⁵If you go into your neighbor's standing grain, you may pluck the ears with your hand, but you shall not put a sickle to your neighbor's standing grain.

The Israelites were allowed to eat food from a neighbor's property to satisfy their hunger, but taking any away was not permitted, presumably considered stealing. Note that the latter part of v. 25 appears to be speaking of harvesting grain so as to take it away (cf. CEV).

Prov 6:30-31 People do not despise a thief if he steals to satisfy his appetite when he is hungry, ³¹*but if he is caught, he will pay sevenfold; he will give all the goods of his house*.

Even stealing out of desperation (as opposed to greed) is wrong and has a price.

Prov 29:24 The partner of a thief hates his own life; he hears the curse, but discloses nothing.

This is speaking of a thief's accomplice either: himself being under oath in court to tell the truth and implicating himself by saying nothing; or not speaking up on hearing a public charge for anyone knowing about an incident to testify, for which he would be held responsible (cf. Lev 5:1).

‡ If God's people were to steal, it would profane God:

Prov 30:8-9 Remove far from me falsehood and lying; give me neither poverty nor riches; feed me with the food that is needful for me, ⁹lest I be full and deny you and say, "Who is the LORD?" or lest I be poor and steal and profane the name of my God.

Do not defraud

Lev 19:11 You shall not steal; you shall not deal falsely; you shall not lie to one another.

Mark 10:19 You know the commandments: 'Do not murder, Do not commit adultery, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Do not defraud, Honor your father and mother.'

Lev 25:14 And if you make a sale to your neighbor or buy from your neighbor, you shall not wrong one another.

The last clause speaks of cheating (cf. CEV, NCV, NRSV).

Lev 19:35-36 You shall do no wrong in judgment, in measures of length or weight or quantity. ³⁶*You shall have just balances, just weights, a just ephah, and a just hin*:^f I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt.

^f An ephah was about 3/5 bushel or 22 liters; a hin was about 4 quarts or 3.5 liters

Deut 25:13-16 You shall not have in your bag two kinds of weights, a large and a small. ¹⁴*You shall not have in your house two kinds of measures, a large and a small*. ¹⁵*A full and fair^g weight you shall have, a full and fair measure you shall have*, that your days may be long in the land that the LORD your God is giving you. ¹⁶*For all who do such things, all who act dishonestly, are an abomination to the LORD your God*.

^g Or just, or righteous; twice in this verse

Deut 19:14 You shall not move your neighbor's landmark, which the men of old have set, in the inheritance that you will hold in the land that the LORD your God is giving you to possess.

This is speaking of fraudulently increasing the size of one's land.

Ps 37:21 The wicked borrows but does not pay back, but the righteous is generous and gives; ...

To borrow without intending to repay is to attempt to defraud.

Prov 16:11 A just balance and scales are the LORD's; all the weights in the bag are his work.

Honest measures in business transactions reflect God's righteousness; in a sense they are of him.

Amos 8:5-6 ... saying, "When will the new moon be over, that we may sell grain? And the Sabbath, that we may offer wheat for sale, that we may make the ephah small and the shekel^h great and deal deceitfully with false balances, ⁶that we may buy the poor for silver and the needy for a pair of sandals and sell the chaff of the wheat?"

^h An ephah was about 3/5 bushel or 22 liters; a shekel was about 2/5 ounce or 11 grams

The last clause refers to the spoiled and worthless parts of the wheat being underhandedly sold as part of the good wheat.

1Cor 6:8-10 But you yourselves wrong and defraud—even your own brothers!ⁱ ⁹Or do you not know that the unrighteous^j will not inherit the kingdom of God? Do not be deceived: neither the sexually immoral, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor men who practice homosexuality,^k ¹⁰nor thieves, nor the greedy, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor swindlers will inherit the kingdom of God.

ⁱ Or brothers and sisters

^j Or wrongdoers

^k The two Greek terms translated by this phrase refer to the passive and active partners in consensual homosexual acts

✦ Making restitution for dishonestly obtaining property:

Lev 6:2-5 If anyone sins and commits a breach of faith against the LORD by deceiving his neighbor in a matter of deposit or security, or through robbery, or if he has oppressed his neighbor ³or has found something lost and lied about it, swearing falsely—in any of all the things that people do and sin thereby— ⁴if he has sinned and has realized his guilt and will restore what he took by robbery or what he got by oppression or the deposit that was committed to him or the lost thing that he found ⁵or anything about which he has sworn falsely, he shall restore it in full and shall add a fifth to it, and give it to him to whom it belongs on the day he realizes his guilt.

Do not practice extortion

Regarding the inclusion of this topic in Dishonest Gain, although extortion is not necessarily dishonest in the sense of being deceitful, it is unscrupulous and so can be described as “dishonest” in a general sense.

Ps 62:10 Put no trust in extortion; set no vain hopes on robbery; if riches increase, set not your heart on them.

Ezek 18:18 As for his father, because he practiced extortion, robbed his brother, and did what is not good among his people, behold, he shall die for his iniquity.

Ezek 22:12, 29-31 In you they take bribes to shed blood; you take interest and profit¹ and make gain of your neighbors by extortion; but me you have forgotten, declares the Lord GOD.  ... ²⁹The people of the land have practiced extortion and committed robbery. They have oppressed the poor and needy, and have extorted from the sojourner without justice. ³⁰And I sought for a man among them who should build up the wall and stand in the breach before me for the land, that I should not destroy it, but I found none. ³¹Therefore I have poured out my indignation upon them. I have consumed them with the fire of my wrath. I have returned their way upon their heads, declares the Lord GOD.

¹ That is, profit that comes from charging interest to the poor (compare Leviticus 25:36)

Luke 3:12-14 Tax collectors also came to be baptized and said to him, “Teacher, what shall we do?” ¹³And he said to them, “Collect no more than you are authorized to do.” ¹⁴Soldiers also asked him, “And we, what shall we do?” And he said to them, “Do not extort money from anyone by threats or by false accusation, and be content with your wages.”

In v. 13 John the Baptist censures a common practice of tax collectors that was for their own gain – a practice which was effectively extortion.

Luke 18:11 The Pharisee, standing by himself, prayed^m thus: ‘God, I thank you that I am not like other men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even like this tax collector.’

^m Or standing, prayed to himself

The fact that the Pharisee – even though self-righteous – lists extortioners first of those he would condemn, underlines its sinfulness.

Isa 33:15-16 He who walks righteously and speaks uprightly, who despises the gain of oppressions, who shakes his hands, lest they hold a bribe, who stops his ears from hearing of bloodshed and shuts his eyes from looking on evil, ¹⁶he will dwell on the heights; his place of defense will be the fortresses of rocks; his bread will be given him; his water will be sure.

Ps 15:5 ... who does not put out his money at interest and does not take a bribe against the innocent. He who does these things shall never be moved.

Prov 15:27 Whoever is greedy for unjust gain troubles his own household, but he who hates bribes will live.

Prov 29:4 By justice a king builds up the land, but he who exacts giftsⁿ tears it down.

ⁿ Or who taxes heavily

Ecc 7:7 Surely oppression drives the wise into madness, and a bribe corrupts the heart.

Isa 1:23-24 Your princes are rebels and companions of thieves. Everyone loves a bribe and runs after gifts. They do not bring justice to the fatherless, and the widow's cause does not come to them. ²⁴*Therefore the Lord declares, the LORD of hosts, the Mighty One of Israel: "Ah, I will get relief from my enemies and avenge myself on my foes.*

✦ Bribes are accepted in secret by the wicked to pervert justice:

Prov 17:23 The wicked accepts a bribe in secret^o to pervert the ways of justice.

^o Hebrew a bribe from the bosom

Ill-gotten gain does not last

In its wisdom literature (e.g. Job and Proverbs) the Bible contains many statements that are wise insights or observations about life. Such statements are general truths, rather than necessarily always being the case without any exceptions. The following verses contain examples of such statements, as do many other verses in this chapter.

Prov 13:11 Wealth gained hastily^p will dwindle, but whoever gathers little by little will increase it.

^p Or by fraud

As per the alternative rendering in the text note, ill-gotten gain may be in view (cf. CEV, NASB, NIV, NKJV).

Prov 15:6 In the house of the righteous there is much treasure, but trouble befalls the income of the wicked.

This appears to mean that trouble comes to the income itself, i.e. it will be lost (cf. CEV, GNT). However it could instead mean that the income of the wicked brings them trouble (cf. AMP, NASB, NCV, NIV, NLT), as per the theme of the following subsection.

Prov 21:6 The getting of treasures by a lying tongue is a fleeting vapor and a snare of death.^q

^q Some Hebrew manuscripts, Septuagint, Latin; most Hebrew manuscripts vapor for those who seek death

Prov 22:16 Whoever oppresses the poor to increase his own wealth, or gives to the rich, will only come to poverty.

Prov 28:8 Whoever multiplies his wealth by interest and profit^r gathers it for him who is generous to the poor.

^r That is, profit that comes from charging interest to the poor

Jer 17:11 Like the partridge that gathers a brood that she did not hatch, so is he who gets riches but not by justice; in the midst of his days they will leave him, and at his end he will be a fool.

Job 20:15, 17-21, 26 He swallows down riches and vomits them up again; God casts them out of his belly. ... ¹⁷*He will not look upon the rivers, the streams flowing with honey and curds.* ¹⁸*He will give back the fruit of his toil and will not swallow it down; from the profit of his trading he will get no enjoyment.* ¹⁹*For he has crushed and abandoned the poor; he has seized a house that he did not build.* ²⁰*"Because he knew no contentment in his belly, he will not let anything in which he delights escape him.* ²¹*There was nothing left after he had eaten; therefore his prosperity will not endure.* ... ²⁶*Utter darkness is laid up for his treasures; a fire not fanned will devour him; what is left in his tent will be consumed.*

Job 27:16-17, 19 Though he heap up silver like dust, and pile up clothing like clay, ¹⁷*he may pile it up, but the righteous will wear it, and the innocent will divide the silver.* ... ¹⁹*He goes to bed rich, but will do so no more; he opens his eyes, and his wealth is gone.*

Note that the earlier subsections in this section on, Dishonest Gain, include other verses which also speak of ill consequences of unjust gain.

Prov 1:18-19 ... but these men lie in wait for their own blood; they set an ambush for their own lives. ¹⁹*Such are the ways of everyone who is greedy for unjust gain; it takes away the life of its possessors.*

Job 15:34 For the company of the godless is barren, and fire consumes the tents of bribery.

Prov 20:17 Bread gained by deceit is sweet to a man, but afterward his mouth will be full of gravel. 𐀀

Isa 57:17 Because of the iniquity of his unjust gain I was angry, I struck him; I hid my face and was angry, but he went on backsliding in the way of his own heart. 𐀀

Jer 8:10 Therefore I will give their wives to others and their fields to conquerors, because from the least to the greatest everyone is greedy for unjust gain; from prophet to priest, everyone deals falsely. 𐀀

Jer 22:17-19 But you have eyes and heart only for your dishonest gain, for shedding innocent blood, and for practicing oppression and violence.”¹⁸Therefore thus says the LORD concerning Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah: “They shall not lament for him, saying, ‘Ah, my brother!’ or ‘Ah, sister!’ They shall not lament for him, saying, ‘Ah, lord!’ or ‘Ah, his majesty!’¹⁹With the burial of a donkey he shall be buried, dragged and dumped beyond the gates of Jerusalem.” 𐀀

Note that all this is spoken of in regard to Jehoiakim (v. 18).

Ezek 18:10-13 If he fathers a son who is violent, a shedder of blood, who does any of these things¹¹(though he himself did none of these things), who even eats upon the mountains, defiles his neighbor’s wife,¹²oppresses the poor and needy, commits robbery, does not restore the pledge, lifts up his eyes to the idols, commits abomination,¹³lends at interest, and takes profit; shall he then live? He shall not live. He has done all these abominations; he shall surely die; his blood shall be upon himself. 𐀀

Ezek 28:18 By the multitude of your iniquities, in the unrighteousness of your trade you profaned your sanctuaries; so I brought fire out from your midst; it consumed you, and I turned you to ashes on the earth in the sight of all who saw you. 𐀀

Mic 2:2-3 They covet fields and seize them, and houses, and take them away; they oppress a man and his house, a man and his inheritance.³Therefore thus says the LORD: behold, against this family I am devising disaster;^s from which you cannot remove your necks, and you shall not walk haughtily, for it will be a time of disaster. 𐀀

^s The same Hebrew word can mean evil or disaster, depending on the context

Mic 6:10-11, 13 Can I forget any longer the treasures^t of wickedness in the house of the wicked, and the scant measure that is accused?¹¹Shall I acquit the man with wicked scales and with a bag of deceitful weights? 𐀀 ...¹³Therefore I strike you with a grievous blow, making you desolate because of your sins. 𐀀

^t Or Are there still treasures

Hab 2:6-7, 9 Shall not all these take up their taunt against him, with scoffing and riddles for him, and say, “Woe to him who heaps up what is not his own—for how long?— and loads himself with pledges!”⁷Will not your debtors suddenly arise, and those awake who will make you tremble? Then you will be spoil for them. 𐀀 ...⁹“Woe to him who gets evil gain for his house, to set his nest on high, to be safe from the reach of harm!” 𐀀

In v. 6, while “pledges” could be taken as a guarantee of repayment, this was not to be done calculatingly and unmercifully. In v. 7 “debtors” may be referring to those who had been among the victims of plundering Babylon, in view here.

1Cor 6:10 ... nor thieves, nor the greedy, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor swindlers will inherit the kingdom of God. 𐀀

e) Addendum: Oaths

The swearing of an oath has two main usages: to affirm the truthfulness of a statement; and to confirm the sincerity and binding nature of a pledge or agreement. The OT law stipulated that it was to be done in God’s name – as opposed to that of a false god – appealing to or invoking God as a witness to the integrity of what was said. It cannot be done falsely – or lightly (cf. Lev 5:4) – and cannot be broken (cf. Num 30:2; Josh 9:3-21).

Deut 6:13 It is the LORD your God you shall fear. Him you shall serve and by his name you shall swear.

Jer 12:16 And it shall come to pass, if they will diligently learn the ways of my people, to swear by my name, 'As the LORD lives,' even as they taught my people to swear by Baal, then they shall be built up in the midst of my people.

Lev 19:12 You shall not swear by my name falsely, and so profane the name of your God: I am the LORD.

Zec 5:1-4 Again I lifted my eyes and saw, and behold, a flying scroll! ²And he said to me, "What do you see?" I answered, "I see a flying scroll. Its length is twenty cubits, and its width ten cubits."³ Then he said to me, "This is the curse that goes out over the face of the whole land. For everyone who steals shall be cleaned out according to what is on one side, and everyone who swears falsely^v shall be cleaned out according to what is on the other side. ⁴I will send it out, declares the LORD of hosts, and it shall enter the house of the thief, and the house of him who swears falsely by my name. And it shall remain in his house and consume it, both timber and stones."

^u A cubit was about 18 inches or 45 centimeters

^v Hebrew lacks falsely (supplied from verse 4)

A number of commentators consider that the references to stealing and swearing falsely may be symbolic of the whole law. In support of this, the "curse" may allude to the curse or curses for breaking the first covenant (cf. Deut 27:15-26; 28:15-19), which was based on the law. The phrase "cleaned out" (v. 3) refers to being banished from the people of God.

Ps 24:3-4 Who shall ascend the hill of the LORD? And who shall stand in his holy place? ⁴He who has clean hands and a pure heart, who does not lift up his soul to what is false and does not swear deceitfully.

‡ Oaths should be kept even when it is costly to do so:

Ps 15:4-5 ... in whose eyes a vile person is despised, but who honors those who fear the LORD; who swears to his own hurt and does not change; ⁵who does not put out his money at interest and does not take a bribe against the innocent. He who does these things shall never be moved.

Swearing oaths to assert the truthfulness of a statement

Ex 22:10-11 If a man gives to his neighbor a donkey or an ox or a sheep or any beast to keep safe, and it dies or is injured or is driven away, without anyone seeing it, ¹¹*an oath by the LORD shall be between them both to see whether or not he has put his hand to his neighbor's property. The owner shall accept the oath*, and he shall not make restitution.

1Ki 8:31-32 If a man sins against his neighbor and is made to take an oath and comes and swears his oath before your altar in this house, ³²then hear in heaven and act and judge your servants, condemning the guilty by bringing his conduct on his own head, and vindicating the righteous by rewarding him according to his righteousness.

"If a man sins against his neighbor" (v. 31) probably has in view the situation where a person is "accused of wronging another" (GNT; cf. CEV). If an accused person claimed to be innocent, they were to swear an oath attesting to their innocence (cf. Ex 2:10-11). If they were in fact guilty they would then face God's judgment (v. 32).

Matt 26:63-64a But Jesus remained silent. And the high priest said to him, "I adjure you by the living God, tell us if you are the Christ, the Son of God." ⁶⁴*Jesus said to him, "You have said so.*"

Here the high priest invokes a legally imposed oath, which by law Jesus had to answer.

Rom 9:1 I am speaking the truth in Christ—I am not lying; my conscience bears me witness in the Holy Spirit—

Paul is asserting his truthfulness by what is in effect an oath. He aligns the integrity of what he says with his relationship with Christ and with the Holy Spirit, associating both of them with the truthfulness of what he says.

2Cor 1:18 As surely as God is faithful, our word to you has not been Yes and No.

By linking the truth of his words with the certainty of God being faithful, Paul to all intents and purposes swears an oath based on God's faithfulness if not his name.

2Cor 1:23 But I call God to witness against me—it was to spare you that I refrained from coming again to Corinth.

This and the following four verse extracts are further examples of Paul asserting the truthfulness of what he says by what is effectively an oath. In each of these instances he in a sense invokes or declares God as a witness to the truth of his words.

2Cor 11:31 The God and Father of the Lord Jesus, he who is blessed forever, knows that I am not lying. 📖

Gal 1:20 (In what I am writing to you, before God, I do not lie!) 📖

Phil 1:8 For God is my witness, how I yearn for you all with the affection of Christ Jesus. 📖

1Thes 2:5, 10 For we never came with words of flattery,^w as you know, nor with a pretext for greed—God is witness. 📖 ...¹⁰You are witnesses, and God also, how holy and righteous and blameless was our conduct toward you believers. 📖

^w Or with a flattering speech

Rev 10:5-6 And the angel whom I saw standing on the sea and on the land raised his right hand to heaven ⁶and swore by him who lives forever and ever, who created heaven and what is in it, the earth and what is in it, and the sea and what is in it, that there would be no more delay, ... 📖

The angel swears either to assert the truthfulness of his statement (as per the theme of this subsection) or to confirm what he says as a promise or pledge (as per the theme of the following subsection).

✦ Peter's dishonest swearing in denying Jesus:

Matt 26:73-74 After a little while the bystanders came up and said to Peter, "Certainly you too are one of them, for your accent betrays you." ⁷⁴Then he began to invoke a curse on himself and to swear, "I do not know the man." And immediately the rooster crowed. 📖

Swearing an oath to confirm a pledge . . .

Num 30:2-5 If a man vows a vow to the LORD, or swears an oath to bind himself by a pledge, he shall not break his word. He shall do according to all that proceeds out of his mouth. ³If a woman vows a vow to the LORD and binds herself by a pledge, while within her father's house in her youth, ⁴and her father hears of her vow and of her pledge by which she has bound herself and says nothing to her, then all her vows shall stand, and every pledge by which she has bound herself shall stand. ⁵But if her father opposes her on the day that he hears of it, no vow of hers, no pledge by which she has bound herself shall stand. And the LORD will forgive her, because her father opposed her. 📖

Note that the subsequent verses (cf. vv. 6-15) give regulations regarding vows made by a wife.

Lev 5:4 ... or if anyone utters with his lips a rash oath to do evil or to do good, any sort of rash oath that people swear, and it is hidden from him, when he comes to know it, and he realizes his guilt in any of these; ... 📖

Here Moses indicates that thoughtlessly swearing an oath to do something is wrong (cf. CEV, GNT, NLT). Doing so is dishonoring to God in whose name the oath is made, for it is using his name thoughtlessly and the oath is also more likely to be an oath one is unable to keep.

Gen 24:3, 9 ... that I may make you swear by the LORD, the God of heaven and God of the earth, that you will not take a wife for my son from the daughters of the Canaanites, among whom I dwell, 📖 ... ⁹So the servant put his hand under the thigh of Abraham his master and swore to him concerning this matter. 📖

Gen 26:28-31 They said, "We see plainly that the LORD has been with you. So we said, let there be a sworn pact between us, between you and us, and let us make a covenant with you, ²⁹that you will do us no harm, just as we have not touched you and have done to you nothing but good and have sent you away in peace. You are now the blessed of the LORD." ³⁰So he made them a feast, and they ate and drank. ³¹In the morning they rose early and exchanged oaths. And Isaac sent them on their way, and they departed from him in peace. 📖

Josh 9:15-21 And Joshua made peace with them and made a covenant with them, to let them live, and the leaders of the congregation swore to them. ¹⁶At the end of three days after they had made a covenant with them, they heard that they were their neighbors and that they lived among them. ¹⁷And the people of Israel set out and reached their cities on the third day. Now their cities were Gibeon, Chephirah, Beeroth, and Kiriath-jearim. ¹⁸But the people of Israel did not attack them, because the leaders of the congregation had sworn to them by the LORD, the God of Israel. Then all the congregation murmured against the leaders. ¹⁹But all the leaders said to all the congregation, "We have sworn to them by the LORD, the God of Israel, and now we may not touch them. ²⁰This we will do to them: let them live, lest wrath be upon us, because of the oath that we swore to them." ²¹And the leaders said to them, "Let them live." So they became cutters of wood and drawers of water for all the congregation, just as the leaders had said of them. 📖

2Ki 11:4 But in the seventh year Jehoiada sent and brought the captains of the Carites and of the guards, and had them come to him in the house of the LORD. And he made a covenant with them and put them under oath in the house of the LORD, and he showed them the king's son.

The oath was probably to confirm a pledge to keep the aforementioned covenant. Alternatively, possibly it was an oath pledging allegiance to the king's son who was soon to be crowned, although this appears to be less likely as these men only saw him afterwards.

Jer 38:16 Then King Zedekiah swore secretly to Jeremiah, "As the LORD lives, who made our souls, I will not put you to death or deliver you into the hand of these men who seek your life."

Heb 6:13-18 For when God made a promise to Abraham, since he had no one greater by whom to swear, he swore by himself, ¹⁴saying, "Surely I will bless you and multiply you." ¹⁵And thus Abraham,^x having patiently waited, obtained the promise. ¹⁶For people swear by something greater than themselves, and in all their disputes an oath is final for confirmation. ¹⁷So when God desired to show more convincingly to the heirs of the promise the unchangeable character of his purpose, he guaranteed it with an oath, ¹⁸so that by two unchangeable things, in which it is impossible for God to lie, we who have fled for refuge might have strong encouragement to hold fast to the hope set before us.

^x Greek he

... Such oaths are barred by NT teaching

Note that the following instructions prohibiting the swearing of oaths to confirm a pledge, obviously do not apply to God (cf. Heb 6:13-18

Matt 5:33-37 Again you have heard that it was said to those of old, 'You shall not swear falsely, but shall perform to the Lord what you have sworn.'³⁴ But I say to you, Do not take an oath at all, either by heaven, for it is the throne of God,³⁵ or by the earth, for it is his footstool, or by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King. ³⁶And do not take an oath by your head, for you cannot make one hair white or black. ³⁷Let what you say be simply 'Yes' or 'No'; anything more than this comes from evil.^y

^y Or the evil one

This and the following references appear to have in view the use of oaths for confirming the binding nature of a pledge (as per the previous subsection) – rather than that of affirming the truth of a statement, which Paul appears to use a number of times as shown earlier in Swearing oaths to assert the truthfulness of a statement. A number of commentators think that the background to this teaching was the dishonorable practice of distinguishing between oaths that could be broken and those that could not, apparently depending on what one swore by in making the oath (cf. Matt 23:16-22

As a result oaths were often made with no real commitment or even as a means to deceive. Possibly in response to this abuse of such oaths associated with pledges, Jesus taught that one should not swear them at all (v. 34a), but instead simply state one's intention (v. 37). In vv. 34-36 Jesus seems to be undermining distinctions between oaths that swear directly by God's name and those that swear by other things, his point being that such things have a connection with God and so swearing by them indirectly involves him (cf. Matt 23:21-22

A further reason not to make such oaths is that unforeseen circumstances can prevent a person from fulfilling them, which would be dishonoring to God.

James 5:12 But above all, my brothers, do not swear, either by heaven or by earth or by any other oath, but let your "yes" be yes and your "no" be no, so that you may not fall under condemnation.

‡ Condemnation of the practice of discounting certain types of oaths:

Matt 23:16-22 Woe to you, blind guides, who say, 'If anyone swears by the temple, it is nothing, but if anyone swears by the gold of the temple, he is bound by his oath.'¹⁷ You blind fools! For which is greater, the gold or the temple that has made the gold sacred? ¹⁸And you say, 'If anyone swears by the altar, it is nothing, but if anyone swears by the gift that is on the altar, he is bound by his oath.'¹⁹ You blind men! For which is greater, the gift or the altar that makes the gift sacred? ²⁰So whoever swears by the altar swears by it and by everything on it. ²¹And whoever swears by the temple swears by it and by him who dwells in it. ²²And whoever swears by heaven swears by the throne of God and by him who sits upon it.

The teachers of the law and the Pharisees were not only wrong to discount certain types of oaths, but their reasoning as to which were less binding was irrational. For the ones they considered less binding should if in anything have been the more binding.

Note: References to God's or Jesus Christ's presence and approval regarding a matter 1Sam 23:18 And the two of them made a covenant before the LORD. David remained at Horesh, and Jonathan went home.

Doing something intentionally “before” God (cf. 2Sam 5:3 ↓) in effect is a claim to have and/or points to God’s endorsement of what is being done.

2Sam 5:3 So all the elders of Israel came to the king at Hebron, and King David made a covenant with them at Hebron before the LORD, and they anointed David king over Israel.

2Cor 2:10 Anyone whom you forgive, I also forgive. Indeed, what I have forgiven, if I have forgiven anything, has been for your sake in the presence of Christ, ...

In conjunction with Christ’s witness, Paul appears to imply that he had acted “with the approval” (AMP) of Christ, even “with Christ’s authority” (NLT). Similar comment can be made regarding the following verses in this subsection.

1Tim 5:21 In the presence of God and of Christ Jesus and of the elect angels I charge you to keep these rules without prejudging, doing nothing from partiality.

2Tim 4:1-2 I charge you in the presence of God and of Christ Jesus, who is to judge the living and the dead, and by his appearing and his kingdom: ²preach the word; be ready in season and out of season; reprove, rebuke, and exhort, with complete patience and teaching.

I. Being Wise

Wisdom is one of the attributes most highly valued in the Bible. Thankfully the Bible says much about how we can gain wisdom. The Bible also contains very astute advice on other topics associated with wisdom, notably speaking – a key medium that we use in relating to others.

a) Prologue: The Precedence of Godly Wisdom

Note that the term “godly wisdom” is used in this section to denote the wisdom which the Bible advocates, wisdom which is based on the Bible’s teachings.

Subsections

- Worldly wisdom is flawed and inferior to the wisdom of God
- Worldly wisdom and knowledge are ultimately futile, even detrimental

Godly wisdom is superior to anything else

Job 28:15-19 It cannot be bought for gold, and silver cannot be weighed as its price. ¹⁶It cannot be valued in the gold of Ophir, in precious onyx or sapphire. ¹⁷Gold and glass cannot equal it, nor can it be exchanged for jewels of fine gold. ¹⁸No mention shall be made of coral or of crystal; the price of wisdom is above pearls. ¹⁹The topaz of Ethiopia cannot equal it, nor can it be valued in pure gold. 📖

Prov 3:13-15 Blessed is the one who finds wisdom, and the one who gets understanding, ¹⁴for the gain from her is better than gain from silver and her profit better than gold. ¹⁵She is more precious than jewels, and nothing you desire can compare with her. 📖

Prov 8:10-11 [Wisdom:] Take my instruction instead of silver, and knowledge rather than choice gold, ¹¹for wisdom is better than jewels, and all that you may desire cannot compare with her. 📖

The speaker is wisdom personified.

Prov 16:16 How much better to get wisdom than gold! To get understanding is to be chosen rather than silver. 📖

Ecc 2:13 Then I saw that there is more gain in wisdom than in folly, as there is more gain in light than in darkness. 📖

Ecc 9:16, 18 But I say that wisdom is better than might, though the poor man’s wisdom is despised and his words are not heard. 📖 ... ¹⁸Wisdom is better than weapons of war, but one sinner destroys much good. 📖

Prov 8:22-31 [Wisdom:] “The LORD possessed^a me at the beginning of his work,^b the first of his acts of old. ²³Ages ago I was set up, at the first, before the beginning of the earth. ²⁴When there were no depths I was brought forth, when there were no springs abounding with water. ²⁵Before the mountains had been shaped, before the hills, I was brought forth, ²⁶before he had made the earth with its fields, or the first of the dust of the world. ²⁷When he established the heavens, I was there; when he drew a circle on the face of the deep, ²⁸when he made firm the skies above, when he established^c the fountains of the deep, ²⁹when he assigned to the sea its limit, so that the waters might not transgress his command, when he marked out the foundations of the earth, ³⁰then I was beside him, like a master workman, and I was daily his^d delight, rejoicing before him always, ³¹rejoicing in his inhabited world and delighting in the children of man. 📖

^a Or fathered; Septuagint created

^b Hebrew way

^c The meaning of the Hebrew is uncertain

^d Or daily filled with

Wisdom’s primacy is shown by it being the first of God’s works, playing a role in the creation of everything else. The portrayal of Wisdom’s role in creation is highlighted by it being described as “like a master workman” at God’s side (v. 30) – rejoicing and delighting in all that was created (vv. 30b-31).

⚡ People do not know wisdom’s worth:

Job 28:13 Man does not know its worth, and it is not found in the land of the living. 📖

Worldly wisdom is flawed and inferior to the wisdom of God

- Note: Human judgment is typically superficial and inadequate, p. 1553
- The gospel is not dependent on us and our presentation of it – but on the Holy Spirit and God's power, p. 1770

Worldly wisdom is flawed and inferior to the wisdom of God – to both the wisdom of God himself and the wisdom that God gives to his people.

Ecc 7:23-24 All this I have tested by wisdom. I said, "I will be wise," but it was far from me. ²⁴That which has been is far off, and deep, very deep; who can find it out?

The phrase "it was far from me" (v. 23) refers either to the writer's vain attempt to fathom the matters discussed in the preceding verses or to his desire to be wise; v. 24 suggests the former is the case. The thrust of these verses appears to be that there is much that worldly wisdom cannot understand.

Jer 8:9 The wise men shall be put to shame; they shall be dismayed and taken; behold, they have rejected the word of the LORD, so what wisdom is in them?

Worldly wisdom which rejects God's law is not good or true wisdom. It is an inferior "wisdom", if indeed it can be called that.

1Cor 1:20-21, 25 Where is the one who is wise? Where is the scribe? Where is the debater of this age? Has not God made foolish the wisdom of the world? ²¹For since, in the wisdom of God, the world did not know God through wisdom, it pleased God through the folly of what we preach to save those who believe.  ... ²⁵For the foolishness of God is wiser than men, and the weakness of God is stronger than men.

The first three rhetorical questions in v. 20 allude to the worldly wisdom of such people floundering due to God in his wisdom making worldly wisdom actually foolish (v. 20b) and being useless as a means of knowing God or being saved (v. 21). Such limited and flawed worldly wisdom contrasts with the effectiveness of what appears to it to be the foolishness of God (vv. 21b, 25a) – which is in fact a product of his superior wisdom.

1Cor 2:6-8 Yet among the mature we do impart wisdom, although it is not a wisdom of this age or of the rulers of this age, who are doomed to pass away. ⁷But we impart a secret and hidden wisdom of God, which God decreed before the ages for our glory. ⁸None of the rulers of this age understood this, for if they had, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory.

Verse 6 associates godly wisdom with spiritual maturity and contrasts it to the wisdom of the world, implying the latter to be inferior and doomed to come to nothing. God's "secret wisdom" (v. 7) is primarily the gospel; verse 8 implies that the wisdom of this age has failed to understand it, illustrating that worldly wisdom is flawed and inferior.

1Cor 2:12-16 Now we have received not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit who is from God, that we might understand the things freely given us by God. ¹³And we impart this in words not taught by human wisdom but taught by the Spirit, interpreting spiritual truths to those who are spiritual.^e ¹⁴The natural person does not accept the things of the Spirit of God, for they are folly to him, and he is not able to understand them because they are spiritually discerned. ¹⁵The spiritual person judges all things, but is himself to be judged by no one. ¹⁶For who has understood the mind of the Lord so as to instruct him?" But we have the mind of Christ.

^e Or interpreting spiritual truths in spiritual language, or comparing spiritual things with spiritual

This contrasts the spiritual wisdom that the Holy Spirit brings with inferior worldly wisdom. In contrast to the spiritual understanding of those who have the Holy Spirit (vv. 12-13), without the Spirit of God one with worldly wisdom is not able to understand and accept the things that come from the Spirit (v. 14). Neither is such a person qualified to make judgments about spiritual things, such as judgments about those who have the Spirit (vv. 15-16). Note that the quotation at the beginning of v. 16 serves to highlight the inability of those who do not know the mind of God to ascertain spiritual truths. In contrast, believers have the mind of Christ (v. 16b), having the Holy Spirit (cf. v. 12).

1Cor 3:18-20 *Let no one deceive himself. If anyone among you thinks that he is wise in this age, let him become a fool that he may become wise. ¹⁹For the wisdom of this world is folly with God. For it is written, "He catches the wise in their craftiness," ²⁰and again, "The Lord knows the thoughts of the wise, that they are futile." *

In saying that one should become a "fool" (v. 18), Paul means that one needs to forgo aspiring to the flawed wisdom of this world and recognize the shortcomings of one's understanding – in effect see oneself as a "fool" – in order to be open to true, godly wisdom.

Col 2:8 See to it that no one takes you captive by philosophy and empty deceit, according to human tradition, according to the elemental spirits^f of the world, and not according to Christ.

^f Or elementary principles; also verse 20

Paul likely has false teaching in view here, in particular one based on some supposed “philosophy”. As such he is unlikely here to be equating philosophy in general with worldly wisdom. However the “philosophy” he speaks of here is an example of worldly wisdom, it being based on “human tradition” and “the elemental spirits of the world”. The fact that it is flawed is underlined by it being associated with “empty deceit”. All of this makes it inferior to Christ, and the message of him.

† Act by God’s grace rather than by worldly wisdom:

2Cor 1:12 For our boast is this, the testimony of our conscience, that we behaved in the world with simplicity[‡] and godly sincerity, not by earthly wisdom but by the grace of God, and supremely so toward you.

[‡] Some manuscripts holiness

The fact that Paul acted according to God’s grace rather than worldly wisdom reflects that the latter is flawed or at least limited – and that it is inferior to that which is of God.

Worldly wisdom and knowledge are ultimately futile, even detrimental

1Cor 3:20 ... and again, “The Lord knows the thoughts of the wise, that they are futile.”

The quotation is from Psalms 94:11 – “... the LORD—knows the thoughts of man, that they are but a breath.”

Eccl 1:16-18 I said in my heart, “I have acquired great wisdom, surpassing all who were over Jerusalem before me, and my heart has had great experience of wisdom and knowledge.” ¹⁷*And I applied my heart to know wisdom and to know madness and folly. I perceived that this also is but a striving after wind.* ¹⁸*For in much wisdom is much vexation, and he who increases knowledge increases sorrow.*

The expression “striving after wind” (v. 17) here refers to the meaninglessness of wisdom (cf. v. 14; Eccl 2:15 ↓; Eccl 2:21 ↓). Verse 18 may well be speaking of greater worldly wisdom and knowledge bringing a greater awareness of problems, and this in turn leading to exasperation and sorrow. Some commentators think it is instead pointing to the frustration, on gaining substantial knowledge, of realizing how much one does not know.

Eccl 2:14-16 The wise person has his eyes in his head, but the fool walks in darkness. And yet I perceived that the same event happens to all of them. ¹⁵*Then I said in my heart, “What happens to the fool will happen to me also. Why then have I been so very wise?” And I said in my heart that this also is vanity.* ¹⁶*For of the wise as of the fool there is no enduring remembrance, seeing that in the days to come all will have been long forgotten. How the wise dies just like the fool!*

Eccl 2:20-21 So I turned about and gave my heart up to despair over all the toil of my labors under the sun, ²¹*because sometimes a person who has toiled with wisdom and knowledge and skill must leave everything to be enjoyed by someone who did not toil for it. This also is vanity and a great evil.*

Eccl 7:16 Be not overly righteous, and do not make yourself too wise. Why should you destroy yourself?

Here “too wise” may be referring to a preoccupation with wisdom, with an over-reliance on it. Alternatively, pretentiously aspiring to be wise, or acting as if one is wise, may be in view (cf. AMP, CEV, NIV). Such things are destructive.

Eccl 12:11-12 The words of the wise are like goads, and like nails firmly fixed are the collected sayings; they are given by one Shepherd. ¹²*My son, beware of anything beyond these. Of making many books there is no end, and much study is a weariness of the flesh.*

Godly wisdom is spoken of in v. 11. Verse 12 appears to be a warning against seeking wisdom which is additional to that given by God, the “Shepherd” (v. 11). Pursuing such worldly wisdom and knowledge through the limitless number of books is a wearisome exercise.

Isa 47:10-11 You felt secure in your wickedness, you said, “No one sees me”; your wisdom and your knowledge led you astray, and you said in your heart, “I am, and there is no one besides me.” ¹¹*But evil shall come upon you, which you will not know how to charm away; disaster shall fall upon you, for which you will not be able to atone; and ruin shall come upon you suddenly, of which you know nothing.*

Despite their wisdom and knowledge (v. 10), a disaster would come upon them that they would “not know” how to repel, one which they “know nothing” about (v. 11).

Rom 1:21-23 For although they knew God, they did not honor him as God or give thanks to him, but they became futile in their thinking, and their foolish hearts were darkened.

²²*Claiming to be wise, they became fools,* ²³*and exchanged the glory of the immortal God for images resembling mortal man and birds and animals and creeping things.*

The claim to be wise (v. 22) may have had some substance, but clearly this was a wisdom apart from God (vv. 21, 23) – i.e. worldly wisdom. As such it produced futile thinking and foolishness (v. 21b-22), manifested in foolish actions (v. 23) that would prove very detrimental (cf. vv. 24-32).

1Cor 8:1-2 Now concerning^h food offered to idols: we know that “all of us possess knowledge.” This “knowledge” puffs up, but love builds up. ²*If anyone imagines that he knows something, he does not yet know as he ought to know.*

^h The expression Now concerning introduces a reply to a question in the Corinthians’ letter; see 7:1

✦ The price paid for the knowledge of good and evil:

Gen 2:16-17 And the LORD God commanded the man, saying, “You may surely eat of every tree of the garden, ¹⁷*but of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil you shall not eat, for in the day that you eatⁱ of it you shall surely die.”*

ⁱ Or when you eat

A number of commentators understand the reason for this prohibition (v. 17a) was that the acquisition of such knowledge would lead to independence from God, with people trusting in their own limited knowledge and wisdom of what is and is not good. This could not have been more detrimental (v. 17b). As such God would not allow people to live forever (cf. 3:22-24).

So get godly wisdom and be wise . . .

Prov 4:5, 7 Get wisdom; get insight; do not forget, and do not turn away from the words of my mouth. ...⁷The beginning of wisdom is this: Get wisdom, and whatever you get, get insight.

Verse 7 may be emphasizing the need to get wisdom. The first phrase has also been interpreted as speaking of the primacy of wisdom (cf. GNT, NASB text note, NCV, NIV, NKJV, NLT); hence the need to get it.

Prov 7:4 Say to wisdom, “You are my sister,” and call insight your intimate friend, ...

This is an exhortation to make wisdom an intimate part of oneself.

Prov 17:24 The discerning sets his face toward wisdom, but the eyes of a fool are on the ends of the earth.

Prov 19:8 Whoever gets sense loves his own soul; he who keeps understanding will discover good.

To obtain sense/wisdom is a favor (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV) or an act of love (cf. NLT, NRSV) towards oneself.

Prov 23:23 Buy truth, and do not sell it; buy wisdom, instruction, and understanding.

The use of “buy” is not literal; it suggests that we should do what we can to get wisdom and truth. Note that this verse implies that truth is an important aspect of wisdom.

Dan 10:12 Then he said to me, “Fear not, Daniel, for from the first day that you set your heart to understand and humbled yourself before your God, your words have been heard, and I have come because of your words.

Prov 27:11 Be wise, my son, and make my heart glad, that I may answer him who reproaches me.

Matt 10:16 Behold, I am sending you out as sheep in the midst of wolves, so be wise as serpents and innocent as doves.

Eph 5:15 Look carefully then how you walk, not as unwise but as wise, ...

Col 4:5 Walk in wisdom toward outsiders, making the best use of the time.

Paul exhorts his readers to be wise in the way they act towards non-Christians.

. . . Seek out wisdom and knowledge

Prov 2:3-5 ... yes, if you call out for insight and raise your voice for understanding, ⁴*if you seek it like silver and search for it as for hidden treasures,* ⁵*then you will understand the fear of the LORD and find the knowledge of God.*

Verse 3 expresses the great fervor with which one should seek wisdom, a fervor likened in v. 4 to that with which one seeks treasure.

Prov 8:17 [Wisdom:] I love those who love me, and those who seek me diligently find me.

Prov 8:34 [Wisdom:] Blessed is the one who listens to me, watching daily at my gates, waiting beside my doors.

The terms “watching” and “waiting” reflect a readiness to seek wisdom out, to learn from her.

Prov 15:14 The heart of him who has understanding seeks knowledge, but the mouths of fools feed on folly.

Prov 18:15 An intelligent heart acquires knowledge, and the ear of the wise seeks knowledge.

✦ Wisdom is pleasure to one who has understanding:

Prov 10:23 Doing wrong is like a joke to a fool, but wisdom is pleasure to a man of understanding.

Fearing God is the beginning of wisdom

Fearing God is the beginning of wisdom as it leads one to base one's thinking and life on God and his teachings or commands – the source of true wisdom for life. For fear of God moves one to obey God's commands and do what is right, thus manifesting wisdom (cf. Obeying God's commands brings wisdom . . ., p. 1638 and . . . Those who have wisdom and understanding keep God's law, p. 1639.)

Ps 111:10 The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom; all those who practice it have a good understanding. His praise endures forever!

Prov 9:10 The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom, and the knowledge of the Holy One is insight.

Note that in conjunction with fear of God leading to wisdom, knowledge of God brings insight.

Prov 1:7 The fear of the LORD is the beginning of knowledge; fools despise wisdom and instruction.

Prov 15:33 The fear of the LORD is instruction in wisdom, and humility comes before honor.

Prov 31:26, 30 She opens her mouth with wisdom, and the teaching of kindness is on her tongue.  ... ³⁰Charm is deceitful, and beauty is vain, but a woman who fears the LORD is to be praised.

A woman who fears the LORD (v. 30) speaks with wisdom (v. 26).

Isa 33:5-6 The LORD is exalted, for he dwells on high; he will fill Zion with justice and righteousness, ⁶and he will be the stability of your times, abundance of salvation, wisdom, and knowledge; the fear of the LORD is Zion's treasure.

ⁱ Hebrew his

The meaning of the Hebrew of the last phrase is unclear. However, the thrust of the latter part of the verse may well be that the fear of the LORD is essential for access to the "abundance of salvation, wisdom, and knowledge" that he provides (cf. NIV, NLT).

Job 28:28 And he said to man, 'Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom, and to turn away from evil is understanding.'

Ps 2:10-11 Now therefore, O kings, be wise; be warned, O rulers of the earth. ¹¹Serve the LORD with fear, and rejoice with trembling.

This associates serving God with fear (v. 11) with being wise (v. 10).

Ps 25:12 Who is the man who fears the LORD? Him will he instruct in the way that he should choose.

The one who fears God will be enabled to wisely choose the best paths or options in life.

Prov 2:5 ... then you will understand the fear of the LORD and find the knowledge of God.

This links coming to fear God with finding "the knowledge of God" – likely the knowledge that comes from God (cf. v. 6).

Mic 6:9 The voice of the LORD cries to the city— and it is sound wisdom to fear your name: “Hear of the rod and of him who appointed it!”^k

^k The meaning of the Hebrew is uncertain

Fearing God is the beginning of wisdom and (as shown in this verse) the converse is also true: it is wise to fear God.

✦ The wise are mindful of God – heeding the things he has done and considering his steadfast love:

Ps 107:43 Whoever is wise, let him attend to these things; let them consider the steadfast love of the LORD.

Ask God for wisdom . . .

James 1:5 If any of you lacks wisdom, let him ask God, who gives generously to all without reproach, and it will be given him.

2Chr 1:10-12 Give me now wisdom and knowledge to go out and come in before this people, for who can govern this people of yours, which is so great?” ¹¹God answered Solomon, “Because this was in your heart, and you have not asked possessions, wealth, honor, or the life of those who hate you, and have not even asked long life, but have asked wisdom and knowledge for yourself that you may govern my people over whom I have made you king, ¹²*wisdom and knowledge are granted to you.* I will also give you riches, possessions, and honor, such as none of the kings had who were before you, and none after you shall have the like.”

Ps 119:34, 66, 144 Give me understanding, that I may keep your law and observe it with my whole heart.  ... ⁶⁶*Teach me good judgment and knowledge, for I believe in your commandments.*  ... ¹⁴⁴Your testimonies are righteous forever; give me understanding that I may live.

Ps 90:12 So teach us to number our days that we may get a heart of wisdom.

Understanding how short our lives are, leads to wisdom – compelling us to wisely use our limited time.

Prov 2:3 ... yes, if you call out for insight and raise your voice for understanding, ...

The writer may be speaking metaphorically here, but even so the verse is still applicable to asking God for wisdom.

Eph 1:16-17 I do not cease to give thanks for you, remembering you in my prayers, ¹⁷*that the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give you a spirit of wisdom and of revelation in the knowledge of him, ...*

Here and in Colossians 1:9 below the request is for wisdom for others rather than for oneself, though still indicative of the fact that one can and should ask God for wisdom.

Col 1:9 And so, from the day we heard, we have not ceased to pray for you, asking that you may be filled with the knowledge of his will in all spiritual wisdom and understanding, ...

. . . For it is God who gives wisdom

Ecc 12:11 The words of the wise are like goads, and like nails firmly fixed are the collected sayings; they are given by one Shepherd.

This indicates that the wisdom of the wise is given them by God, the “Shepherd”.

Dan 2:20-23 Daniel answered and said: “Blessed be the name of God forever and ever, to whom belong wisdom and might. ²¹*He changes times and seasons; he removes kings and sets up kings; he gives wisdom to the wise and knowledge to those who have understanding; ²²he reveals deep and hidden things; he knows what is in the darkness, and the light dwells with him.* ²³*To you, O God of my fathers, I give thanks and praise, for you have given me wisdom and might, and have now made known to me what we asked of you, for you have made known to us the king’s matter.”*

^p The meaning of the Hebrew is uncertain

Note that there is irony here as although he makes a valid point, the speaker Zophar shows in the passage from which these verses are taken that he himself also needed God's enlightenment.

Job 32:8-9 But it is the spirit in man, the breath of the Almighty, that makes him understand.^q It is not the old^q who are wise, nor the aged who understand what is right.

^q Hebrew many [in years]

Verse 8 may be saying that it is a person's spirit – which is breathed into them by God – that gives them understanding. Alternatively "spirit" may be referring to the Holy Spirit (cf. CEV, GNT, NLT), indicating that understanding comes through the Holy Spirit. In either case the verse points to God as ultimately being the source of understanding.

Job 35:10-11 But none says, 'Where is God my Maker, who gives songs in the night,¹¹who teaches us more than the beasts of the earth and makes us wiser than the birds of the heavens?'

Note that in the subsequent chapter Elihu asks concerning God: "... who is a teacher like him?" (36:22b)

✦ The way to wisdom is known only by God:

Job 28:12-14, 20-27 But *where shall wisdom be found? And where is the place of understanding?*¹³*Man does not know its worth, and it is not found in the land of the living.*¹⁴*The deep says, 'It is not in me,' and the sea says, 'It is not with me.'*  ...²⁰*"From where, then, does wisdom come? And where is the place of understanding?"*²¹*It is hidden from the eyes of all* *living and concealed from the birds of the air.*²²*Abaddon and Death say, 'We have heard a rumor of it with our ears.'²³"God understands the way to it, and he knows its place.*²⁴*For he looks to the ends of the earth and sees everything under the heavens.*²⁵*When he gave to the wind its weight and apportioned the waters by measure,*²⁶*when he made a decree for the rain and a way for the lightning of the thunder,*²⁷*then he saw it and declared it; he established it, and searched it out.*

"Man does not know its worth" (v. 13) can also be translated, "Mortals do not know the way to it" (NRSV; cf. CEV, GNT, NLT). Verse 27 may well be implying that God knows the way to wisdom because he was the one who established it.

Ps 37:30-31 *The mouth of the righteous utters wisdom, and his tongue speaks justice.*³¹*The law of his God is in his heart; his steps do not slip.*

The righteous are those who hold to God's law (v. 31), and they are wise (v. 30) as the following subsection implies. Thus this associates obeying God's law and having wisdom.

Matt 7:24 [Jesus:] "Everyone then who hears these words of mine and does them will be like a wise man who built his house on the rock.

... Those who have wisdom and understanding keep God's law

1Chr 22:12 Only, may the LORD grant you discretion and understanding, that when he gives you charge over Israel you may keep the law of the LORD your God.

Neh 10:28-29 The rest of the people, the priests, the Levites, the gatekeepers, the singers, the temple servants, and all who have separated themselves from the peoples of the lands to the Law of God, their wives, their sons, their daughters, all who have knowledge and understanding, ²⁹join with their brothers, their nobles, and enter into a curse and an oath to walk in God's Law that was given by Moses the servant of God, and to observe and do all the commandments of the LORD our Lord and his rules and his statutes.

Ps 119:34 Give me understanding, that I may keep your law and observe it with my whole heart.

Prov 28:7 The one who keeps the law is a son with understanding, but a companion of gluttons shames his father.

Here "law" most likely refers to God's OT law.

Col 1:9-10 And so, from the day we heard, we have not ceased to pray for you, asking that you may be filled with the knowledge of his will in all spiritual wisdom and understanding, ¹⁰so as to walk in a manner worthy of the Lord, fully pleasing to him, bearing fruit in every good work and increasing in the knowledge of God.

In conjunction with keeping God's law, those have wisdom and understanding please Jesus Christ and do good works. Verse 9 teaches that spiritual wisdom and understanding brings knowledge of God's will. Verse 10 then implies that having such wisdom and understanding leads to a life of doing what is good and pleasing to the Lord, in which one grows further "in the knowledge of God".

Prov 1:1-3 The proverbs of Solomon, son of David, king of Israel: ²To know wisdom and instruction, to understand words of insight, ³to receive instruction in wise dealing, in righteousness, justice, and equity; ...

This associates gaining wisdom and understanding (v. 2) with living in accordance with "righteousness, justice, and equity" (v. 3b).

Prov 2:7 ... he stores up sound wisdom for the upright; he is a shield to those who walk in integrity, ...

Prov 4:11 I have taught you the way of wisdom; I have led you in the paths of uprightness.

This correlates wisdom with uprightness.

Prov 15:21 Folly is a joy to him who lacks sense, but a man of understanding walks straight ahead.

To walk "straight ahead" is to do what is right (cf. GNT, NCV).

Prov 23:15-16, 19 My son, if your heart is wise, my heart too will be glad. ¹⁶My inmost being^s will exult when your lips speak what is right. ... ¹⁹Hear, my son, and be wise, and direct your heart in the way.

^s Hebrew My kidneys

In v. 19, "the way" is "the way [of the Lord]" (AMP). Being wise involves both speaking (v. 16) and doing (v. 19) what is right.

Eccl 10:2 A wise man's heart inclines him to the right, but a fool's heart to the left.

The wise are naturally inclined to do what is right – in contrast to fools who tend towards doing what is wrong or evil (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NlrV, NLT).

Luke 1:17 ... and he will go before him in the spirit and power of Elijah, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just, to make ready for the Lord a people prepared.

James 3:13-17 Who is wise and understanding among you? By his good conduct let him show his works in the meekness of wisdom. ¹⁴But if you have bitter jealousy and selfish ambition in your hearts, do not boast and be false to the truth. ¹⁵This is not the wisdom that comes down from above, but is earthly, unspiritual, demonic. ¹⁶For where jealousy and selfish ambition exist, there will be disorder and every vile practice. ¹⁷But the wisdom from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, open to reason, full of mercy and good fruits, impartial and sincere.

True wisdom – that which comes from God (v. 17a) – is demonstrated by a life of doing what is good (v. 13). As such it is characterized by humility (v. 13b) and the righteous traits listed in v. 17, all of which pertain to doing good towards others. In contrast earthly “wisdom” is typified by unspiritual qualities (vv. 14-15) which manifest themselves in evil deeds (v. 16); such things are shunned by true wisdom.

Job 28:28 And he said to man, ‘Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom, and to turn away from evil is understanding.’

Prov 14:16 One who is wise is cautious^t and turns away from evil, but a fool is reckless and careless.

c) Wisdom through Others

Note that the verses in this section speak – largely at least – of wisdom being acquired through godly people. Such wisdom is ultimately from God.

Pay attention to instruction . . .

Prov 1:1-6 The proverbs of Solomon, son of David, king of Israel: ²To know wisdom and instruction, to understand words of insight, ³to receive instruction in wise dealing, in righteousness, justice, and equity; ⁴to give prudence to the simple, knowledge and discretion to the youth— ⁵Let the wise hear and increase in learning, and the one who understands obtain guidance, ⁶to understand a proverb and a saying, the words of the wise and their riddles.

Solomon is traditionally understood to be the main source for the material making up the book of Proverbs. These opening verses of Proverbs indicate that paying attention to the proverbs or teachings of wise people such as him, leads to wisdom.

Prov 2:1-2, 9-10 My son, if you receive my words and treasure up my commandments with you, ²making your ear attentive to wisdom and inclining your heart to understanding; ... ⁹Then you will understand righteousness and justice and equity, every good path; ¹⁰for wisdom will come into your heart, and knowledge will be pleasant to your soul; ...

Note that the final clause (v. 10b) speaks of one finding knowledge pleasing.

Prov 4:1-2 Hear, O sons, a father's instruction, and be attentive, that you may gain^u insight, ²for I give you good precepts; do not forsake my teaching.

^u Hebrew know

Prov 5:1-2 My son, be attentive to my wisdom; incline your ear to my understanding, ²that you may keep discretion, and your lips may guard knowledge.

The last clause speaks of keeping or having knowledge, with which to speak.

Prov 8:33 Hear instruction and be wise, and do not neglect it.

Prov 19:20 Listen to advice and accept instruction, that you may gain wisdom in the future.

Prov 22:17-21 Incline your ear, and hear the words of the wise, and apply your heart to my knowledge, ¹⁸for it will be pleasant

if you keep them within you, if all of them are ready on your lips. ¹⁹That your trust may be in the LORD, I have made them known to you today, even to you. ²⁰*Have I not written for you thirty sayings of counsel and knowledge,* ²¹*to make you know what is right and true, that you may give a true answer to those who sent you?*

The speaker implies that his teaching will impart wisdom and knowledge. Verses 18b and 21 speak of the usefulness of wisdom and knowledge.

Prov 23:12, 19 Apply your heart to instruction and your ear to words of knowledge. ... ¹⁹*Hear, my son, and be wise, and direct your heart in the way.*

“Hear” and “be wise” (v. 19) probably are together an exhortation to listen carefully to instruction – the “words of the wise” (Prov 22:17 ↑) – and so become wise (cf. Prov 8:33 ↑).

Job 33:33 If not, listen to me; be silent, and I will teach you wisdom.

Job 8:8-10 For inquire, please, of bygone ages, and consider what the fathers have searched out. ⁹For we are but of yesterday and know nothing, for our days on earth are a shadow. ¹⁰*Will they not teach you and tell you and utter words out of their understanding?*

One can infer from this that such instruction – the teachings of godly learned people from the past – will give one wisdom and knowledge.

Prov 15:5, 32 A fool despises his father’s instruction, but whoever heeds reproof is prudent. ... ³²*Whoever ignores instruction despises himself, but he who listens to reproof gains intelligence.*

Prov 19:27 Cease to hear instruction, my son, and you will stray from the words of knowledge.

... Wise people listen to and learn from instruction

✦ Keep hold of instruction for she is your life:

Prov 4:13 Keep hold of instruction; do not let go; guard her, for she is your life.

Listen to advice – which is important for making plans

Prov 19:20 Listen to advice and accept instruction, that you may gain wisdom in the future.

Prov 13:10 By insolence comes nothing but strife, but with those who take advice is wisdom.

Prov 12:15 The way of a fool is right in his own eyes, but a wise man listens to advice.

Eccl 4:13 Better was a poor and wise youth than an old and foolish king who no longer knew how to take advice.

This implies that it is wise to be prepared to accept advice.

Prov 11:14 Where there is no guidance, a people falls, but in an abundance of counselors there is safety.

When planning any strategy, having and listening to sound advisors is critical to success – as the following verses also indicate. As such these verses demonstrate that listening to advice is important for acting wisely.

Prov 15:22 Without counsel plans fail, but with many advisers they succeed.

Prov 20:18 Plans are established by counsel; by wise guidance wage war.

Accept reproof

See also:

- Parents should discipline their children, p. 1707

Note that “reproof” involves criticism and even blame and/or discipline. It is akin to “rebuke” (cf. Prov 17:10 ↓).

Prov 1:23 [Wisdom:] If you turn at my reproof,^w behold, I will pour out my spirit to you; I will make my words known to you.

^w Or Will you turn away at my reproof?

One receives wisdom by responding to Wisdom's reproof – i.e. changing one's attitudes or behavior in response to wise reproof or exhortations. The reference is most readily applicable to warnings from Scripture that one should take to heart, but is also applicable to reproof from wise people or any source of wisdom.

Prov 9:8 Do not reprove a scoffer, or he will hate you; reprove a wise man, and he will love you.

This implies that wise people value reproof – which is partly at least because reproof enhances one's wisdom.

Prov 12:1 Whoever loves discipline loves knowledge, but he who hates reproof is stupid.

Prov 15:5, 31-32 A fool despises his father's instruction, but whoever heeds reproof is prudent.  ... ³¹*The ear that listens to life-giving reproof will dwell among the wise.* ³²*Whoever ignores instruction despises himself, but he who listens to reproof gains intelligence.*

Heeding reproof brings wisdom (vv. 31-32b) and, as such, in itself shows wisdom (v. 5b). Note that "life-giving" (v. 31) means "beneficial to life", rather than necessarily saving from imminent death (cf. ZBC).

Prov 19:25 Strike a scoffer, and the simple will learn prudence; reprove a man of understanding, and he will gain knowledge.

Prov 29:15 The rod and reproof give wisdom, but a child left to himself brings shame to his mother.

Prov 17:10 A rebuke goes deeper into a man of understanding than a hundred blows into a fool.

Although not specifically saying that accepting rebuke leads to wisdom, this does at least associate accepting rebuke with wisdom.

Additional insights on accepting reproof and discipline

- Note: Instructions and insights on giving rebuke, p. 1646

Ps 141:5a Let a righteous man strike me—it is a kindness; let him rebuke me—it is oil for my head; let my head not refuse it.

Rebuke or discipline from a righteous person is motivated by kindness, for the betterment of the receiver. The expression

"it is oil for my head" speaks of rebuke as a blessing (cf. Prov 25:12 ↓), possibly meaning that rebuke is refreshing (cf. CEV, NLT).

Prov 25:12 Like a gold ring or an ornament of gold is a wise reprover to a listening ear.

Prov 27:6 Faithful are the wounds of a friend; profuse are the kisses of an enemy.

Emotional wounds resulting from a friend's rebuke can be trusted to have been inflicted with one's benefit in view.

Ecc 7:5 It is better for a man to hear the rebuke of the wise than to hear the song of fools.

The "song of fools" possibly refers to praise from fools (cf. GNT, NCV, NLT).

Prov 6:23 For the commandment is a lamp and the teaching a light, and the reproofs of discipline are the way of life, ...

This and the verses below speak of specific blessing of accepting reproof and discipline.

Prov 13:18 Poverty and disgrace come to him who ignores instruction, but whoever heeds reproof is honored.

Prov 20:30 Blows that wound cleanse away evil; strokes make clean the innermost parts.

Discipline cleanses one of evil. Such cleansing is associated with and vital for wisdom.

Heb 12:11 For the moment all discipline seems painful rather than pleasant, but later it yields the peaceful fruit of righteousness to those who have been trained by it.

Outcomes of ignoring reproof and discipline

Prov 1:24-26, 29-31 [Wisdom:] Because I have called and you refused to listen, have stretched out my hand and no one has heeded, ²⁵because you have ignored all my counsel and would have none of my reproof, ²⁶*I also will laugh at your calamity; I will mock when terror strikes you,*  ... ²⁹Because they hated knowledge and did not choose the fear of the LORD, ³⁰would have none of my counsel and despised all my reproof, ³¹*therefore they shall eat the fruit of their way, and have their fill of their own devices.*

Prov 5:11-14 ... and at the end of your life you groan, when your flesh and body are consumed, ¹²*and you say, "How I hated discipline, and my heart despised reproof!"* ¹³*I did not listen to the voice of my teachers or incline my ear to my instructors.*

¹⁴*I am at the brink of utter ruin in the assembled congregation.*

Prov 5:23 He dies for lack of discipline, and because of his great folly he is led astray.

Prov 10:17 Whoever heeds instruction is on the path to life, but he who rejects reproof leads others astray.

Prov 15:10 There is severe discipline for him who forsakes the way; whoever hates reproof will die.

Prov 29:1 He who is often reproofed, yet stiffens his neck, will suddenly be broken beyond healing.

✦ Ignoring instruction leads to poverty and disgrace:

Prov 13:18 Poverty and disgrace come to him who ignores instruction, but whoever heeds reproof is honored.

Further advice and insights on gaining wisdom

Prov 11:2 When pride comes, then comes disgrace, but with the humble is wisdom.

This implies that “with humility comes wisdom” (NIV®, NLT).

Prov 13:20 Whoever walks with the wise becomes wise, but the companion of fools will suffer harm.

Prov 14:29 Whoever is slow to anger has great understanding, but he who has a hasty temper exalts folly.

Understanding leads to such self-control. Conversely, it can be argued, learning self-control increases ones understanding/wisdom.

Prov 27:17 Iron sharpens iron, and one man sharpens another.^x

^x Hebrew sharpens the face of another

As one piece of iron can be used to sharpen another, so through discussion and debate with another, one can sharpen one’s mind.

Prov 6:6 Go to the ant, O sluggard; consider her ways, and be wise.

A lazy person can learn much from the diligent ways of an ant – and so grow in wisdom.

Prov 10:14 The wise lay up knowledge, but the mouth of a fool brings ruin near.

The first clause probably means that wise people accumulate knowledge, which suggests that doing so helps enable one to become wise or wiser. However, particularly in light of the remainder of the verse, note that some interpret it as meaning the wise “don’t tell everything they know” (NCV™).

Prov 14:7 Leave the presence of a fool, for there you do not meet words of knowledge.

✦ One grows wiser with age and experience:

Job 12:12 Wisdom is with the aged, and understanding in length of days.

Be quick to listen and slow to speak

James 1:19 Know this, my beloved brothers: let every person be quick to hear, slow to speak, slow to anger; ...

Prov 18:13 If one gives an answer before he hears, it is his folly and shame.

Job 32:11-12 Behold, I waited for your words, I listened for your wise sayings, while you searched out what to say. ¹²I gave you my attention, and, behold, there was none among you who refuted Job or who answered his words.

Prov 29:20 Do you see a man who is hasty in his words? There is more hope for a fool than for him.

Prov 18:2 A fool takes no pleasure in understanding, but only in expressing his opinion.

Instead of spending time improving their understanding by listening to others, fools would much rather give their own opinions on a matter. Note that the second part of the verse suggests that listening to others is probably in view in the first part.

Prov 12:23 A prudent man conceals knowledge, but the heart of fools proclaims folly.

This contrasts a wise person who avoids making a show of his or her knowledge (cf. NLT), with a fool who “blurts out” (NIV®) foolish things, making a show of his or her lack of knowledge. It illustrates that one should take care in choosing when to speak, as a wise person does.

Ecl 3:1, 7 For everything there is a season, and a time for every matter under heaven:  ... ⁷a time to tear, and a time to sew; a time to keep silence, and a time to speak; ...

Sometimes one should be silent, while other times the right thing is to speak. In view of this, rather than hastily speaking out, one should first discern if it is appropriate.

‡ Do not be quick to speak before God:

Ecl 5:2 [‡] Be not rash with your mouth, nor let your heart be hasty to utter a word before God, for God is in heaven and you are on earth. Therefore let your words be few.

[‡] Ch 5:1 in Hebrew

Note that the reference here appears to be primarily to making rash vows.

Be careful when speaking

Prov 13:3 Whoever guards his mouth preserves his life; he who opens wide his lips comes to ruin.

The phrase “guards his mouth” (cf. Prov 21:23 ↓) is referring to being careful in what one says (cf. GNT, NCV), or having control over one’s tongue (cf. NLT). The phrase “opens wide his lips” appears to refer to speaking a lot and carelessly.

Prov 21:23 Whoever keeps his mouth and his tongue keeps himself out of trouble.

This speaks of guarding or watching over one’s words (cf. AMP, CEV, NASB, NIV, NKJV, NRSV), being careful about what one says (cf. GNT, NCV).

Prov 15:28 The heart of the righteous ponders how to answer, but the mouth of the wicked pours out evil things.

Prov 16:23 The heart of the wise makes his speech judicious and adds persuasiveness to his lips.

A wise person’s “mind” (NLT; cf. NCV) enables their speech to be well-judged and calculated. It reflects that wise people “think before they speak” (GNT).

Prov 12:18 There is one whose rash words are like sword thrusts, but the tongue of the wise brings healing.

Careless words can greatly harm others – as well as ourselves (cf. Prov 13:3 †; Prov 21:23 †).

James 1:26 If anyone thinks he is religious and does not bridle his tongue but deceives his heart, this person’s religion is worthless.

One should keep control over when, what and how one speaks.

James 2:12 So speak and so act as those who are to be judged under the law of liberty.

The “law of liberty” may be referring specifically to the law of love (cf. 1:25). In any case, the “law” Christians are under gives freedom from both rigorous regulations and sin. As such they are freer to please God, and so judgment by it will demand a higher standard of speech and actions. This points to the need to be careful when speaking.

‡ We should be able to support what we say by our actions:

2Cor 10:10-11 For they say, “His letters are weighty and strong, but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech of no account.” ¹¹Let such a person understand that what we say by letter when absent, we do when present.

Use few words – in contrast to fools

Prov 17:27 Whoever restrains his words has knowledge, and he who has a cool spirit is a man of understanding.

Ecl 6:11 The more words, the more vanity, and what is the advantage to man?

Ecc 5:3 For a dream comes with much business, and a fool's voice with many words.

Ecc 10:14 A fool multiplies words, though no man knows what is to be, and who can tell him what will be after him?

Prov 15:2 The tongue of the wise commends knowledge, but the mouths of fools pour out folly.
Fools "pour out foolish words" (NirV®).

Prov 10:8 The wise of heart will receive commandments, but a babbling fool will come to ruin.

✦ Even a fool is considered wise if he keeps quiet:

Prov 17:28 Even a fool who keeps silent is considered wise; when he closes his lips, he is deemed intelligent.

Speak gently

2Tim 2:24-25 And the Lord's servant^z must not be quarrelsome but kind to everyone, able to teach, patiently enduring evil,²⁵ correcting his opponents with gentleness. God may perhaps grant them repentance leading to a knowledge of the truth, ...

^z Greek bondservant

1Pet 3:15 ... but in your hearts honor Christ the Lord as holy, always being prepared to make a defense to anyone who asks you for a reason for the hope that is in you; yet do it with gentleness and respect, ...

2Cor 10:1 I, Paul, myself entreat you, by the meekness and gentleness of Christ—I who am humble when face to face with you, but bold toward you when I am away!—

Generally at least, we should exhort others in a manner reflective of "the meekness and gentleness" that characterized Jesus Christ, as Paul seeks to do here.

Prov 15:1 A soft answer turns away wrath, but a harsh word stirs up anger.

Prov 15:4 A gentle^a tongue is a tree of life, but perverseness in it breaks the spirit.

^a Or healing

Prov 25:15 With patience a ruler may be persuaded, and a soft tongue will break a bone.

Along with patience, "soft" or gentle speech makes one more able to persuade others.

✦ The wise use quiet words, in contrast to fools:

Ecc 9:17 The words of the wise heard in quiet are better than the shouting of a ruler among fools.

This suggests that the wise typically use quiet words. The implication is that it is generally more effective to speak quietly than loudly (cf. Prov 15:1 ↑; Prov 25:15 ↑).

Speak graciously

Prov 16:24 Gracious words are like a honeycomb, sweetness to the soul and health to the body.

Like a honeycomb (v. 24), gracious words are enjoyable ("sweetness to the soul") and are good for one's well-being ("health to the body").

Prov 22:11 He who loves purity of heart, and whose speech is gracious, will have the king as his friend.

Ecc 10:12 The words of a wise man's mouth win him favor,^b but the lips of a fool consume him.

^b Or are gracious

The alternative rendering in the text note indicates that the first clause may be teaching that the words of a wise man's mouth are gracious (cf. AMP, NASB, NIV, NKJV).

Col 4:6 Let your speech always be gracious, seasoned with salt, so that you may know how you ought to answer each person.

Note that the expression "seasoned with salt" most likely means either interesting (CEV, GNT) or pure.

Ps 45:2 You are the most handsome of the sons of men; grace is poured upon your lips; therefore God has blessed you forever.

This is from a messianic psalm. As such, the Messiah is portrayed to be gracious in speech (cf. Luke 4:22 ↓) – something which his followers should aspire to emulate.

Luke 4:22 And all spoke well of him and marveled at the gracious words that were coming from his mouth. And they said, "Is not this Joseph's son?"

Eph 4:15 Rather, speaking the truth in love, we are to grow up in every way into him who is the head, into Christ, ...

Speaking in love complements and encourages gracious speech.

‡ Sweetness of speech increases persuasiveness:

Prov 16:21 The wise of heart is called discerning, and sweetness of speech increases persuasiveness. 📖

Do not sin in what you say

Ps 34:13 Keep your tongue from evil and your lips from speaking deceit. 📖

Ps 39:1 I said, “I will guard my ways, that I may not sin with my tongue; I will guard my mouth with a muzzle, so long as the wicked are in my presence.” 📖

In enduring a time of suffering, David was determined not to say anything that might be sinful or unwise – particularly in the presence of the wicked.

Prov 4:24 Put away from you crooked speech, and put devious talk far from you. 📖

Eph 4:29 Let no corrupting talk come out of your mouths, but only such as is good for building up, as fits the occasion, that it may give grace to those who hear. 📖

Eph 5:4 Let there be no filthiness nor foolish talk nor crude joking, which are out of place, but instead let there be thanksgiving. 📖

Col 3:8 But now you must put them all away: anger, wrath, malice, slander, and obscene talk from your mouth. 📖

Ecl 5:6 Let not your mouth lead you^c into sin, and do not say before the messenger^d that it was a mistake. Why should God be angry at your voice and destroy the work of your hands? 📖

^c Hebrew your flesh

^d Or angel

The “sin” spoken of here is primarily that of not keeping a vow to God. To make a vow rashly and then not be able to keep it is sinful.

‡ Ask God to help you not to sin in what you say:

Ps 141:3 Set a guard, O LORD, over my mouth; keep watch over the door of my lips! 📖

Similarly in 19:14 David asks God for help to speak what pleases God: “Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in your sight, O LORD, my rock and my redeemer.”

Col 3:16 Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly, teaching and admonishing one another in all wisdom, singing psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, with thankfulness in your hearts to God. 📖

This appears to refer to Scripture having a role in the giving of rebuke (cf. 2Tim 3:16 ↓).

2Tim 3:16 All Scripture is breathed out by God and profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, and for training in righteousness, ... 📖

2Tim 4:2 ... preach the word; be ready in season and out of season; reprove, rebuke, and exhort, with complete patience and teaching. 📖

1Tim 5:1 Do not rebuke an older man but encourage him as you would a father, younger men as brothers, ... 📖

Prov 9:7-8 Whoever corrects a scoffer gets himself abuse, and he who reproves a wicked man incurs injury. ⁸Do not reprove a scoffer, or he will hate you; reprove a wise man, and he will love you. 📖

Prov 26:4-5 Answer not a fool according to his folly, lest you be like him yourself. ⁵Answer a fool according to his folly, lest he be wise in his own eyes. 📖

Here the writer makes a deliberate contradiction in regard to answering a fool “according to his folly”. In v. 4, “according to his folly” means in a manner which is in accordance with his foolish ways – i.e. “stooping to his level”. In contrast, in v. 5 it would seem to mean in accordance with or in a way that is appropriate to his foolish action. Perhaps the writer is also conveying the thought that one should be wary in correcting a fool.

Prov 27:5 Better is open rebuke than hidden love.

Open rebuke is better than love that is shut off. The implication here may well be that one who truly loves another will openly rebuke them (cf. CEV) if the need arises.

Prov 28:23 Whoever rebukes a man will afterward find more favor than he who flatters with his tongue.

✦ Rather than hate someone, reason frankly with them:

Lev 19:17 You shall not hate your brother in your heart, but you shall reason frankly with your neighbor, lest you incur sin because of him.

The last clause may mean that if our neighbor has done something wrong and we do not take them to task about it, then we also bare some responsibility. Alternatively, in the light of the first statement in the verse, it may mean that if our neighbor has done something that induces us to be hateful, we should rebuke them rather than hate them in our hearts, which would cause us also to be guilty of sin.

The righteous speak wisely . . .

See also:

Ps 37:30 The mouth of the righteous utters wisdom, and his tongue speaks justice.

Prov 10:31-32 The mouth of the righteous brings forth wisdom, but the perverse tongue will be cut off. ³²The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable, but the mouth of the wicked, what is perverse.

Prov 31:26 She opens her mouth with wisdom, and the teaching of kindness is on her tongue.

This speaks of a righteous wife, being one who is "excellent" (v. 10) and who "fears the LORD" (v. 30).

Prov 10:11, 21 The mouth of the righteous is a fountain of life, but the mouth of the wicked conceals violence.  ... ²¹The lips of the righteous feed many, but fools die for lack of sense.

These and the following verses refer to the speech of the righteous bringing great blessings. This evidences the wisdom of the words of the righteous.

Prov 11:11 By the blessing of the upright a city is exalted, but by the mouth of the wicked it is overthrown.

In contrast to the "mouth of the wicked", the "blessing of the upright" quite possibly refers to the upright praying for or verbally blessing a city (cf. GNT, NCV, NLT). Alternatively it may be speaking more generally of the blessing or benefits which upright people bring to a city (cf. AMP, CEV), which in no small part is through what they say.

Prov 12:6 The words of the wicked lie in wait for blood, but the mouth of the upright delivers them.

. . . One's words are determined by the "heart"

In the following verses, "heart" signifies one's conscious inner-self, encompassing one's emotions, thoughts and will. Words that are wise and good come from a "heart" that is good/righteous and wise. Conversely, foolish and evil words come from a "heart" that has such characteristics.

Matt 12:34-37 You brood of vipers! How can you speak good, when you are evil? For out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaks. ³⁵The good person out of his good treasure brings forth good, and the evil person out of his evil treasure brings forth evil. ³⁶I tell you, on the day of judgment people will give account for every careless word they speak, ³⁷for by your words you will be justified, and by your words you will be condemned.

A person's words are determined by their hearts (vv. 34-35), and so their words reveal their hearts. As such their words are a key aspect of the evidence that will be used to acquit or condemn them on judgment day (vv. 36-37).

Matt 15:18-19 But what comes out of the mouth proceeds from the heart, and this defiles a person. ¹⁹*For out of the heart come evil thoughts, murder, adultery, sexual immorality, theft, false witness, slander.*

It is our hearts that determine what we say and also what we do (v. 19), which in turn can “defile” us (NLT) – making us spiritually “unclean” (v. 18). In v. 19, “evil thoughts” are listed first presumably as one’s thoughts are closely associated with one’s heart. In a sense they are the link between the heart and its manifestations – one’s deeds and words (cf. v. 19b).

Prov 12:23 A prudent man conceals knowledge, but the heart of fools proclaims folly.

Prov 15:28 The heart of the righteous ponders how to answer, but the mouth of the wicked pours out evil things.

Prov 16:23 The heart of the wise makes his speech judicious and adds persuasiveness to his lips.

Job 33:3 My words declare the uprightness of my heart, and what my lips know they speak sincerely.

In the first clause Elihu may be meaning that his words evidenced the uprightness of his heart – for that is from where they came (cf. NASB, NCV, NIV, NKJV).

Job 15:12-13 Why does your heart carry you away, and why do your eyes flash, ¹³that you turn your spirit against God and bring such words out of your mouth?

While he does make a valid point regarding one’s heart influencing one’s words, bear in mind that Eliphaz’s assessment of Job’s heart was flawed. Note that on a similar theme, in v. 5 Eliphaz says: “... your iniquity teaches your mouth ...”

‡ Good and bad cannot come from the same source:

James 3:9-12 With it [the tongue] we bless our Lord and Father, and with it we curse people who are made in the likeness of God. ¹⁰*From the same mouth come blessing and cursing. My brothers,^e these things ought not to be so.* ¹¹*Does a spring pour forth from the same opening both fresh and salt water? ¹²Can a fig tree, my brothers, bear olives, or a* grapevine produce figs? Neither can a salt pond yield fresh water.

^e Or brothers and sisters; also verse 12

With the use of “tongue”, James is not referring ultimately to the tongue itself, but to the heart that manifests itself in the words of the tongue. Verses 11-12 are indicating that blessing of God and cursing of others, “who are made in the likeness of God” (v. 9), cannot come from the same source – with the apparent implication that if we curse others, we cannot truly bless God.

Wise speech is of great value

Prov 20:15 There is gold and abundance of costly stones, but the lips of knowledge are a precious jewel.

Prov 25:11 A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in a setting of silver.

This may be speaking of the beauty as well as the great value of appropriately spoken words.

Prov 15:23 To make an apt answer is a joy to a man, and a word in season, how good it is!

‡ The speech of the righteous is of great value:

Prov 10:20 The tongue of the righteous is choice silver; the heart of the wicked is of little worth.

The speech of the wise imparts wisdom and knowledge

Ecc 12:9-10 Besides being wise, the Preacher also taught the people knowledge, weighing and studying and arranging many proverbs with great care. ¹⁰The Preacher sought to find words of delight, and uprightly he wrote words of truth.

Verse 10 further supports the earlier assertion that the wise teacher imparted knowledge, by indicating that he wrote truth.

Ps 49:1-3 Hear this, all peoples! Give ear, all inhabitants of the world, ²both low and high, rich and poor together! ³*My mouth shall speak wisdom; the meditation of my heart shall be understanding.*

The context suggests that the wise speaker will teach wisdom, with understanding for his listeners coming from his thoughts (cf. NIV, NKJV).

Prov 13:20 Whoever walks with the wise becomes wise, but the companion of fools will suffer harm. 📖

The speech of the wise is obviously a major reason as to why keeping company with the wise leads to wisdom.

Prov 15:2, 7 The tongue of the wise commends knowledge, but the mouths of fools pour out folly. ... ⁷The lips of the wise spread knowledge; not so the hearts of fools.^f 📖

^f Or the hearts of fools are not steadfast

Verse 2a appears to be saying that the wise make knowledge “attractive” (GNT) or “acceptable” (NASB).

Prov 25:12 Like a gold ring or an ornament of gold is a wise reproof to a listening ear. 📖

Reproof from a wise person is so valuable largely because of the wisdom it imparts.

Ecc 9:17 The words of the wise heard in quiet are better than the shouting of a ruler among fools. 📖

Presumably the writer has in mind that the words of the wise impart wisdom.

Prov 12:18 There is one whose rash words are like sword thrusts, but the tongue of the wise brings healing. 📖

This is applicable to such things as emotional healing and healing of relationships.

Prov 13:14 The teaching of the wise is a fountain of life, that one may turn away from the snares of death. 📖

Prov 18:4 The words of a man’s mouth are deep waters; the fountain of wisdom is a bubbling brook. 📖

The thought may be that like a bubbling brook, a wise person’s words are “refreshing” (NLT; cf. GNT).

Prov 29:8 Scoffers set a city aflame, but the wise turn away wrath. 📖

Presumably it is the words of the wise that are in view. The words of the wise “turn away wrath” both from themselves and others.

Ecc 12:11 The words of the wise are like goads, and like nails firmly fixed are the collected sayings; they are given by one Shepherd. 📖

Goads are used to prod and guide cattle. As such the first simile probably means either that the words of the wise spur people to action (cf. NLT), or that the words of the wise guide people in taking sound paths. The simile likening their sayings to “nails firmly fixed”, is probably pointing to the stability and security they provide for those who act in accordance with them.

Isa 50:4a The Lord GOD has given me the tongue of those who are taught, that I may know how to sustain with a word him who is weary. 📖

1Ki 10:2-3, 8, 24 She came to Jerusalem with a very great retinue, with camels bearing spices and very much gold and precious stones. And when she came to Solomon, she told him all that was on her mind. ³*And Solomon answered all her questions; there was nothing hidden from the king that he could not explain to her.* 📖 ... ⁸*Happy are your men! Happy are your servants, who continually stand before you and hear your wisdom!* 📖 ... ²⁴*And the whole earth sought the presence of Solomon to hear his wisdom, which God had put into his mind.* 📖

Solomon’s wisdom enabled him to give explanations (v. 3) – of which presumably some solved problems – and brought great happiness to those who heard his wisdom, as the Queen of Sheba asserts (v. 8). Verse 24 emphatically illustrates the desire people have to hear sound wisdom, presumably largely due to its benefits.

Prov 18:20 From the fruit of a man’s mouth his stomach is satisfied; he is satisfied by the yield of his lips. 📖

This probably means either that one’s words bring the fulfillment of one’s needs, or that one’s words can bring fulfillment or satisfaction to one’s inner self “as food satisfies the stomach” (NLT).

Prov 15:1 A soft answer turns away wrath, but a harsh word stirs up anger. 📖

Prov 15:4 A gentle^g tongue is a tree of life, but perverseness in it breaks the spirit. 📖

^g Or healing

Prov 25:11 A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in a setting of silver.

Prov 25:15 With patience a ruler may be persuaded, and a soft tongue will break a bone.

Along with patience, tactfulness increases the persuasiveness of one's speech, breaking down "strong opposition" (NLT, cf. GNT).

Eph 4:29 Let no corrupting talk come out of your mouths, but only such as is good for building up, as fits the occasion, that it may give grace to those who hear.

Our words can build others up, benefiting those who hear.

Prov 18:21 Death and life are in the power of the tongue, and those who love it will eat its fruits.

The tongue has the power to enrich life (or guard it; cf. Prov 13:3 ) – or to ruin it. The second part of the verse appears to caution against indulging in the use of the tongue (cf. AMP) or possibly exploiting its use for one's own interests – both of which bring one harmful repercussions.

James 3:2-8 For we all stumble in many ways. And if anyone does not stumble in what he says, he is a perfect man, able also to bridle his whole body. ³If we put bits into the mouths of horses so that they obey us, we guide their whole bodies as well. ⁴Look at the ships also: though they are so large and are driven by strong winds, they are guided by a very small rudder wherever the will of the pilot directs. ⁵So also the tongue is a small member, yet it boasts of great things. How great a forest is set ablaze by such a small fire! ⁶And the tongue is a fire, a world of unrighteousness. The tongue is set among our members, staining the whole body, setting on fire the entire course of life,^h and set on fire by hell.ⁱ ⁷For every kind of beast and bird, of reptile and sea creature, can be tamed and has been tamed by mankind,⁸ but no human being can tame the tongue. It is a restless evil, full of deadly poison.

ⁱ Greek Gehenna

The tongue has great influence over the whole body (vv. 2-6). If one can control it, one can keep their whole body in check (v. 2) – but it cannot actually be tamed (vv. 7-8). In saying that the tongue is "set on fire by hell" (v. 6), James appears to allude to its evil disposition having Satanic origins – which ultimately is true of all evil.

Job 19:2 How long will you torment me and break me in pieces with words?

Prov 11:9, 11 With his mouth the godless man would destroy his neighbor, but by knowledge the righteous are delivered.  ... ¹¹By the blessing of the upright a city is exalted, but by the mouth of the wicked it is overthrown.

Prov 12:13 An evil man is ensnared by the transgression of his lips, but the righteous escapes from trouble.

One's tongue can bring harm to oneself through evil words – and also by rash words (cf. Prov 13:3 .

Prov 12:18 There is one whose rash words are like sword thrusts, but the tongue of the wise brings healing.

A person's tongue can harm others through thoughtless or inappropriate words (v. 18a; cf. Job 19:2 ) – as well as by words of evil intent (as shown elsewhere in this subsection).

Prov 13:3 Whoever guards his mouth preserves his life; he who opens wide his lips comes to ruin.

The second clause appears to speak of hasty speech (cf. GNT, NCV, NIV, NLT), but talking too much could instead be in view (cf. CEV).

Prov 16:27 A worthless man plots evil, and his speech^j is like a scorching fire.

^j Hebrew what is on his lips

✦ The tongues of the wicked are like sharp swords:

Ps 57:4 My soul is in the midst of lions; I lie down amid fiery beasts— the children of man, whose teeth are spears and arrows, whose tongues are sharp swords.

The tongues of the wicked are also compared to swords elsewhere in Psalms (55:21; 59:7; 64:3). Similar portrayals of the tongues of the wicked are: "Your tongue plots destruction, like a sharp razor" (Ps 52:2); "They make their tongue sharp as a serpent's" (Ps 140:3); and "Their tongue is a deadly arrow" (Jer 9:8).

Acts 24:25 And as he reasoned about righteousness and self-control and the coming judgment, Felix was alarmed and said, "Go away for the present. When I get an opportunity I will summon you." 📖

The listing of self-control in this context highlights its importance.

1Cor 9:25 Every athlete exercises self-control in all things. They do it to receive a perishable wreath, but we an imperishable. 📖

Prov 16:32 Whoever is slow to anger is better than the mighty, and he who rules his spirit than he who takes a city. 📖

Prov 25:28 A man without self-control is like a city broken into and left without walls. 📖

Just as a city with broken down walls is exposed to attack, one who lack lacks self-control is exposed to trouble.

. . . Self-control comes from God and wisdom

2Tim 1:7 ... for God gave us a spirit not of fear but of power and love and self-control. 📖

Some think "spirit" here may be referring to the Holy Spirit (cf. GNT, CEV). Often this is thought to not be the case, but even so, it is through the Holy Spirit that God gives us self-discipline or "self-control" (CEV, NCV; cf. Gal 5:22-23 ↓) – along with power and love.

Titus 2:11-12 For the grace of God has appeared, bringing salvation for all people, ¹²training us to renounce ungodliness and worldly passions, and to live self-controlled, upright, and godly lives in the present age, ... 📖

Gal 5:22-23 But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, ²³gentleness, self-control; against such things there is no law.

Prov 17:27 Whoever restrains his words has knowledge, and he who has a cool spirit is a man of understanding.

Having "a cool spirit" refers to being even-tempered.

Prov 29:11 A fool gives full vent to his spirit, but a wise man quietly holds it back.

2Pet 1:4-6 ... by which he has granted to us his precious and very great promises, so that through them you may become partakers of the divine nature, having escaped from the corruption that is in the world because of sinful desire. ⁵For this very reason, make every effort to supplement your faith with virtue,^o and virtue with knowledge, ⁶and knowledge with self-control, and self-control with steadfastness, and steadfastness with godliness, ...

^o Or excellence; twice in this verse

This suggests that knowledge, similar to wisdom, contributes to self-control (which in turn contributes to perseverance).

‡ Lack of discipline is associated with foolishness:

Prov 5:23 He dies for lack of discipline, and because of his great folly he is led astray.

Here "lack of discipline" may refer to "lack of self-control" (CEV, NLT; cf. GNT, NCV) – i.e. lack of self-discipline – making it pertinent to this subsection. Alternatively it may refer to "lack of instruction" (NASB, NKJV). Both lead to "great folly" and its consequences. Note that foolishness is also associated with lack of self-control above in 29:11.

Prov 25:8 ... do not hastily bring into court, for^q what will you do in the end, when your neighbor puts you to shame?

^q Hebrew or else

Prov 29:20 Do you see a man who is hasty in his words? There is more hope for a fool than for him.

Ecc 5:2 ^r Be not rash with your mouth, nor let your heart be hasty to utter a word before God, for God is in heaven and you are on earth. Therefore let your words be few.

^r Ch 5:1 in Hebrew

As noted earlier, the reference here appears to be primarily to making hasty vows to God.

1Tim 5:22 Do not be hasty in the laying on of hands, nor take part in the sins of others; keep yourself pure.

The first part of this statement is warning against hastily ordaining church elders.

‡ Act calmly:

Ecc 10:4 If the anger of the ruler rises against you, do not leave your place, for calmness^s will lay great offenses to rest.

^s Hebrew healing

This appears to say that if a superior is angry with you, you should not resign from your position. For staying calm and acting coolly can overcome great mistakes.

We should do what we can now, as well as we can, for in the grave there will be no such opportunities.

Acts 20:35 In all things I have shown you that by working hard in this way we must help the weak and remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he himself said, 'It is more blessed to give than to receive.'

Eph 4:28 Let the thief no longer steal, but rather let him labor, doing honest work with his own hands, so that he may have something to share with anyone in need.

The reference to working with one's "own hands" (cf. 1Thes 4:11) is to working oneself rather than living off others. Probably working hard is in view (cf. CEV).

1Thes 4:11-12 ... and to aspire to live quietly, and to mind your own affairs, and to work with your hands, as we instructed you, ¹²*so that you may walk properly before outsiders and be dependent on no one.*

2Thes 3:8-9 ... nor did we eat anyone's bread without paying for it, but with toil and labor we worked night and day, that we might not be a burden to any of you. ⁹It was not because we do not have that right, but to give you in ourselves an example to imitate.

Titus 3:14 And let our people learn to devote themselves to good works, so as to help cases of urgent need, and not be unfruitful.

Prov 31:13-19 She [an excellent wife] seeks wool and flax, and works with willing hands. ¹⁴*She is like the ships of the merchant; she brings her food from afar.* ¹⁵*She rises while it is yet night and provides food for her household and portions for her maidens.* ¹⁶*She considers a field and buys it; with the fruit of her hands she plants a vineyard.* ¹⁷*She dresses herself^u with strength and makes her arms strong.* ¹⁸*She perceives that her merchandise is profitable. Prov 10:4 A slack hand causes poverty, but the hand of the diligent makes rich.

To be "diligent" (cf. Prov 12:24 ↓; Prov 13:4 ↓) means to be industrious, or persistent in accomplishing a task.

Prov 12:24 The hand of the diligent will rule, while the slothful will be put to forced labor.

Prov 13:4 The soul of the sluggard craves and gets nothing, while the soul of the diligent is richly supplied.

Prov 6:6-8 Go to the ant, O sluggard; consider her ways, and be wise. ⁷Without having any chief, officer, or ruler, ⁸*she prepares her bread in summer and gathers her food in harvest.*

The ant is a great example of producing adequate provisions. Note that similarly 30:25 says, "... the ants are a people not strong, yet they provide their food in the summer; ..."

Prov 10:5 He who gathers in summer is a prudent son, but he who sleeps in harvest is a son who brings shame.

Prov 24:27 Prepare your work outside; get everything ready for yourself in the field, and after that build your house.

Do the essential and urgent things first – including that which is essential for producing provisions; leave till afterwards matters that can wait. Note that the first clause (like the second) is speaking of outside work, the main source of provisions in the ancient world.

Prov 28:19 Whoever works his land will have plenty of bread, but he who follows worthless pursuits will have plenty of poverty.

Prov 27:23-27 Know well the condition of your flocks, and give attention to your herds, ²⁴*for riches do not last forever; and does a crown endure to all generations?* ²⁵*When the grass is gone and the new growth appears and the vegetation of the mountains is gathered,* ²⁶*the lambs will provide your clothing, and the goats the price of a field.* ²⁷*There will be enough goats' milk for your food, for the food of your household and maintenance for your girls.*

Verses 23-24 are saying that one should ensure that the things which provide basic necessities are secure (v. 23), for there is no guarantee that wealth and power will last (v. 24). Note that this speaks of ensuring adequate provisions for clothing, as well as for food.

Eccl 11:6 In the morning sow your seed, and at evening withhold not your hand, for you do not know which will prosper, this or that, or whether both alike will be good.

This suggests that we should have more than one source of provision, so as "not to put all our eggs in the one basket".

Gen 41:33-36 Now therefore let Pharaoh select a discerning and wise man, and set him over the land of Egypt. ³⁴*Let Pharaoh proceed to appoint overseers over the land and take one-fifth of the produce of the land^v of Egypt during the seven plentiful years.* ³⁵*And let them gather all the food of these good years that are coming and store up grain under the authority of Pharaoh for food in the cities, and let them keep it.* ³⁶*That food shall be a reserve for the land against the seven years of famine that are to occur in the land of Egypt, so that the land may not perish through the famine.*

^x Greek eat their own bread

1Tim 5:13 Besides that, they learn to be idlers, going about from house to house, and not only idlers, but also gossips and busybodies, saying what they should not.

This indicates that being idle can lead to becoming a gossip and a busybody (cf. 2Thes 3:11). In regard to being a busybody, note that 1 Peter 4:15 denounces meddling – “But let none of you suffer as a murderer or a thief or an evildoer or as a meddler.”

Heb 6:11-12 And we desire each one of you to show the same earnestness to have the full assurance of hope until the end, ¹²so that you may not be sluggish, but imitators of those who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

Here the term “sluggish” would appear to encompass laziness (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV).

Prov 31:27 She looks well to the ways of her household and does not eat the bread of idleness.

Prov 26:13-16 The sluggard says, “There is a lion in the road! There is a lion in the streets!” ¹⁴As a door turns on its hinges, so does a sluggard on his bed. ¹⁵The sluggard buries his hand in the dish; it wears him out to bring it back to his mouth. ¹⁶The sluggard is wiser in his own eyes than seven men who can answer sensibly.

This passage provides a number of insights on lazy people. Verse 13 appears to imply that such people tend to make excuses to avoid work (cf. 22:13).

. . . Idleness leads to poverty and associated troubles

Prov 10:4 A slack hand causes poverty, but the hand of the diligent makes rich.

Prov 20:13 Love not sleep, lest you come to poverty; open your eyes, and you will have plenty of bread.

Prov 6:9-11 How long will you lie there, O sluggard? When will you arise from your sleep? ¹⁰A little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to rest, ¹¹and poverty will come upon you like a robber, and want like an armed man.

Prov 14:23 In all toil there is profit, but mere talk tends only to poverty.

Ecll 4:5 The fool folds his hands and eats his own flesh.

The expression “folds his hands” is indicative of not wanting to work (cf. NLT, NIV). The last phrase speaks of such an attitude resulting in self-destruction.

Prov 20:4 The sluggard does not plow in the autumn; he will seek at harvest and have nothing.

Prov 19:15 Slothfulness casts into a deep sleep, and an idle person will suffer hunger.

“Slothfulness” means “laziness”. The term “deep sleep” appears to portray the debilitating effects of laziness when it pervades a person’s consciousness.

Prov 13:4 The soul of the sluggard craves and gets nothing, while the soul of the diligent is richly supplied.

Prov 21:25 The desire of the sluggard kills him, for his hands refuse to labor.

Here “desire” may refer to desire for sleep (cf. NCV) or an easy life – and thus an unwillingness to work – resulting in ruin. Alternatively, the meaning may be that lazy people’s incessant desires for things will metaphorically kill them because they will not work so as to be able to satisfy or quell such desires.

Prov 12:24 The hand of the diligent will rule, while the slothful will be put to forced labor.

The thought may be that not having the initiative to provide for themselves, the slothful will be forced to subject themselves to labor under someone else's authority.

Prov 15:19 The way of a sluggard is like a hedge of thorns, but the path of the upright is a level highway.

The path of a lazy person is beset with problems. In fact practically every aspect of his life is affected (cf. Ecll 10:18 ↓).

Ecll 10:18 Through sloth the roof sinks in, and through indolence the house leaks.

Prov 10:26 Like vinegar to the teeth and smoke to the eyes, so is the sluggard to those who send him.

Lazy people not only cause problems for themselves, but they are also disdainful to their employers.

✦ Being slack in one's work is destructive:

Prov 18:9 Whoever is slack in his work is a brother to him who destroys.

Enjoy life and so be joyful

Ecll 2:24-25 There is nothing better for a person than that he should eat and drink and find enjoyment^y in his toil. This also, I saw, is from the hand of God, ²⁵for apart from him^z who can eat or who can have enjoyment?

^y Or and make his soul see good

^z Some Hebrew manuscripts, Septuagint, Syriac; most Hebrew manuscripts apart from me

Ecll 3:12-13, 22 I perceived that there is nothing better for them than to be joyful and to do good as long as they live; ¹³also that everyone should eat and drink and take pleasure in all his toil—this is God's gift to man.  ... ²²*So I saw that there is nothing better than that a man should rejoice in his work, for that is his lot.* Who can bring him to see what will be after him?

Due to the uncertainty and apparent meaningless of life – discussed in many parts of Ecclesiastes – the writer proposes that the best thing to do is to aspire to be joyful and enjoy life, and to do good.

Ecll 8:15 And I commend joy, for man has no good thing under the sun but to eat and drink and be joyful, for this will go with him in his toil through the days of his life that God has given him under the sun.

The second half of the verse points to being joyful as beneficial for us amidst our toil.

Ecll 9:7-9 Go, eat your bread with joy, and drink your wine with a merry heart, for God has already approved what you do. ⁸Let your garments be always white. Let not oil be lacking on your head. ⁹Enjoy life with the wife whom you love, all the days of your vain life that he has given you under the sun, because that is your portion in life and in your toil at which you toil under the sun.

In v. 7, “for God has already approved what you do” possibly means that God approves doing the aforementioned things (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NLT). Alternatively it may mean that having such things is indicative that God approves of one's deeds, so therefore one should enjoy these things. A further possibility is that it has in view being alive rather than dead (cf. vv. 2-6). The main thrust of the passage is that one should enjoy life for as many days as one can, in what appears – at least at times – to be a meaningless life.

Ecll 11:8-10 So if a person lives many years, let him rejoice in them all; but let him remember that the days of darkness will be many. All that comes is vanity. ⁹Rejoice, O young man, in your youth, and let your heart cheer you in the days of your youth. Walk in the ways of your heart and the sight of your eyes. But know that for all these things God will bring you into judgment. ¹⁰Remove vexation from your heart, and put away pain^a from your body, for youth and the dawn of life are vanity.

^a Or evil

The “days of darkness” (v. 8) quite possibly refers to being dead (cf. GNT, NCV). Another possibility is troubled times, such as the trials associated with old age and failing health. Verse 9 advocates following “your heart's desire” (GNT; cf. CEV, NCV), but doing so governed by the consciousness of God's coming judgment. Verse 10 is usually taken to mean that we should not worry, and so forget about any physical troubles (or perhaps any perceived future physical troubles), for youth is so short lived (cf. CEV, GNT, NASB) – i.e. we should enjoy it while we can. Alternatively v. 10a may be speaking of getting rid of anything that might harm our minds or bodies.

Prov 15:13, 15 A glad heart makes a cheerful face, but by sorrow of heart the spirit is crushed.  ... ¹⁵*All the days of the afflicted are evil, but the cheerful of heart has a continual feast.*

Prov 17:22 A joyful heart is good medicine, but a crushed spirit dries up the bones.

Prov 15:30 The light of the eyes rejoices the heart, and good news refreshes^b the bones.

^b Hebrew makes fat

Most likely the first clause means: “The light in the eyes [of him whose heart is joyful]” (AMP) brings joy to the hearts of others (cf. CEV, GNT).

✦ The sad lot of a man who does not enjoy what he has:

Eccl 6:3-6 If a man fathers a hundred children and lives many years, so that the days of his years are many, but his soul is not satisfied with life’s good things, and he also has no burial, I say that a stillborn child is better off than he. ⁴For it comes in vanity and goes in darkness, and in darkness its name is covered. ⁵Moreover, it has not seen the sun or known anything, yet it finds rest rather than he. ⁶Even though he should live a thousand years twice over, yet enjoy^c no good—do not all go to the one place?

^c Or see

Part of the reasoning here as to why a stillborn child is better off than such a man appears to be that it will end up in the same place (the grave) without having failed the opportunity to enjoy life’s good things nor having experienced discontentment.

II. Antitheses of Wisdom and Knowledge

Foolishness and spiritual ignorance are the antitheses of godly wisdom and knowledge. Moreover, foolishness and spiritual ignorance are very closely related to ungodliness; for ungodliness is the prime cause of them and further ungodliness results from them. Foolishness and spiritual ignorance with their consequences, stand in stark contrast to wisdom and her blessings.

Fools spurn and lack both wisdom and knowledge

Prov 1:7 The fear of the LORD is the beginning of knowledge; fools despise wisdom and instruction.

Prov 1:22, 29-31 [Wisdom:] “How long, O simple ones, will you love being simple? How long will scoffers delight in their scoffing and fools hate knowledge?  ... ²⁹Because they hated knowledge and did not choose the fear of the LORD, ³⁰would have none of my counsel and despised all my reproof, ³¹therefore they shall eat the fruit of their way, and have their fill of their own devices.

The speaker is Wisdom personified. Along with hating knowledge (v. 22b, 29), fools spurn Wisdom’s counsel and reproof (v. 30; Prov 12:1 ↓).

Prov 12:1 Whoever loves discipline loves knowledge, but he who hates reproof is stupid.

Fools hate and spurn reproof and instruction (cf. Prov 15:5 ↓). Correspondingly, they have no regard for and so lack the wisdom that they bring.

Prov 15:5 A fool despises his father’s instruction, but whoever heeds reproof is prudent.

Prov 18:2 A fool takes no pleasure in understanding, but only in expressing his opinion.

Prov 23:9 Do not speak in the hearing of a fool, for he will despise the good sense of your words.

Prov 9:13 The woman Folly is loud; she is seductive^a and knows nothing.

^a Or full of simpleness

“Folly” here is personified. Amongst other things, it lacks knowledge.

Prov 14:7 Leave the presence of a fool, for there you do not meet words of knowledge.

Prov 15:7 The lips of the wise spread knowledge; not so the hearts of fools.^b

^b Or the hearts of fools are not steadfast

In contrast to the wise, fools lack knowledge.

Prov 17:16 Why should a fool have money in his hand to buy wisdom when he has no sense?

The thought may be that there is little point in a fool trying to obtain wisdom when he has no sense to make use of it.

Prov 24:7 Wisdom is too high for a fool; in the gate he does not open his mouth.

The “gate” is the city gate where a city’s people, in particular the leaders, met to conduct and so discuss business.

Ps 14:1a The fool says in his heart, “There is no God.”

Jer 4:22 “For my people are foolish; they know me not; they are stupid children; they have no understanding. They are ‘wise’—in doing evil! But how to do good they know not.”

This points to the fact that in conjunction with not knowing God, his people did not understand him – "...they do not know and understand Me." (AMP)

Ps 94:6-8 They kill the widow and the sojourner, and murder the fatherless; ⁷and they say, "The LORD does not see; the God of Jacob does not perceive." ⁸Understand, O dullest of the people! Fools, when will you be wise?

Jer 5:21-22 Hear this, O foolish and senseless people, who have eyes, but see not, who have ears, but hear not. ²²Do you not fear me? declares the LORD. Do you not tremble before me? I placed the sand as the boundary for the sea, a perpetual barrier that it cannot pass; though the waves toss, they cannot prevail; though they roar, they cannot pass over it.

The two rhetorical questions (v. 22a) indicate that the people should indeed fear and tremble before God. But in their foolishness the people failed to comprehend and/or take to heart God and his power/deeds.

Jer 5:4 Then I said, "These are only the poor; they have no sense; for they do not know the way of the LORD, the justice of their God."

Eph 5:15-17 Look carefully then how you walk, not as unwise but as wise, ¹⁶making the best use of the time, because the days are evil. ¹⁷Therefore do not be foolish, but understand what the will of the Lord is.

Note that in implying that such questions are foolish, Paul may have in view a lack of belief underlying them, rather than primarily a lack of perception.

Gal 3:1-3 O foolish Galatians! Who has bewitched you? It was before your eyes that Jesus Christ was publicly portrayed as crucified. ²Let me ask you only this: Did you receive the Spirit by works of the law or by hearing with faith? ³Are you so foolish? Having begun by the Spirit, are you now being perfected by^c the flesh?

The foolish Galatians sought perfection through their efforts to obey the law, rather than by faith, even though they should have known better.

Job 2:9-10 Then his wife said to him, "Do you still hold fast your integrity? Curse God and die." ¹⁰But he said to her, "You speak as one of the foolish women would speak. Shall we receive good from God, and shall we not receive evil?"^d In all this Job did not sin with his lips.

Deut 32:5-6 They have dealt corruptly with him; they are no longer his children because they are blemished; they are a crooked and twisted generation. ⁶Do you thus repay the LORD, you foolish and senseless people? Is not he your father, who created you, who made you and established you?

1Sam 13:13 And Samuel said to Saul, "You have done foolishly. You have not kept the command of the LORD your God, with which he commanded you. For then the LORD would have established your kingdom over Israel forever.

Jer 10:8, 21 They are both stupid and foolish; the instruction of idols is but wood! ... ²¹For the shepherds are stupid and do not inquire of the LORD; therefore they have not prospered, and all their flock is scattered.

Having idols (v. 8) or other gods is both foolish and acting contrary to God – as also in a sense is not inquiring of God (v. 21). Note that the precise meaning of the Hebrew in v. 8b is not clear (cf. NRSV text note), although it is definitely speaking of having idols.

Matt 7:26 And everyone who hears these words of mine and does not do them will be like a foolish man who built his house on the sand.

This implies that foolishness involves acting apart from Jesus' teachings.

Rom 1:21-22 For although they knew God, they did not honor him as God or give thanks to him, but they became futile in their thinking, and their foolish hearts were darkened. ²²Claiming to be wise, they became fools, ...

2Tim 3:8-9 Just as Jannes and Jambres opposed Moses, so these men also oppose the truth, men corrupted in mind and disqualified regarding the faith. ⁹But they will not get very far, for their folly will be plain to all, as was that of those two men.

Opposing the truth (v. 8) is obviously acting contrary to God, and is "folly" (v. 9).

2Chr 16:7, 9 At that time Hanani the seer came to Asa king of Judah and said to him, "Because you relied on the king of Syria, and did not rely on the LORD your God, the army of the king of Syria has escaped you. ... ⁹For the eyes of the LORD run to and fro throughout the whole earth, to give strong support to those whose heart is blameless toward him. You have done foolishly in this, for from now on you will have wars."

Foolishness encompasses sin

Num 12:11 And Aaron said to Moses, "Oh, my lord, do not punish us^e because we have done foolishly and have sinned."

^e Hebrew do not lay sin upon us

1Sam 26:21 Then Saul said, "I have sinned. Return, my son David, for I will no more do you harm, because my life was precious in your eyes this day. Behold, I have acted foolishly, and have made a great mistake."

1Chr 21:8 And David said to God, "I have sinned greatly in that I have done this thing. But now, please take away the iniquity of your servant, for I have acted very foolishly."

Ps 107:17 Some were fools through their sinful ways, and because of their iniquities suffered affliction; ...

This verse illustrates that even if people are not fools to begin with, sinful ways result in them becoming fools (cf. Ps 36:3 ↓; Eccl 7:7 ↓; Rom 1:21-22).

Prov 5:22-23 The iniquities of the wicked ensnare him, and he is held fast in the cords of his sin. ²³He dies for lack of discipline, and because of his great folly he is led astray.

Prov 14:9 Fools mock at the guilt offering, but the upright enjoy acceptance.^f

^f Hebrew but among the upright is acceptance

Just as committing sin is foolish, so is scoffing at making amends for it (cf. Hos 13:12-13 ↓).

Hos 13:12-13 The iniquity of Ephraim is bound up; his sin is kept in store. ¹³*The pangs of childbirth come for him, but he is an unwise son, for at the right time he does not present himself at the opening of the womb.*

This portrays Israel's foolishness – being "without wisdom" – in failing to repent of its sin despite grave warning signs.

‡ Devising foolishness is sin:

Prov 24:9 The devising^g of folly is sin, and the scoffer is an abomination to mankind.

^g Or scheming

Ps 36:3 The words of his mouth are trouble and deceit; he has ceased to act wisely and do good.

A person who acts wickedly as such – causing trouble and using deceit – has "ceased to act wisely", and so has become foolish.

Ps 73:6-7 Therefore pride is their necklace; violence covers them as a garment. ⁷Their eyes swell out through fatness; their hearts overflow with follies.

The minds of the wicked overflow with foolish schemes and acts.

Prov 10:23 Doing wrong is like a joke to a fool, but wisdom is pleasure to a man of understanding.

This reflects that a fool is more than happy to do wrong.

Prov 13:19 A desire fulfilled is sweet to the soul, but to turn away from evil is an abomination to fools.

Prov 19:1 Better is a poor person who walks in his integrity than one who is crooked in speech and is a fool.

The second part of the verse appears to refer to dishonesty (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NLT), suggesting that dishonesty is foolish.

Eccl 7:7 Surely oppression drives the wise into madness, and a bribe corrupts the heart.

Oppressing others “turns a wise man into a fool” (NIV®).

Eccl 7:25 I turned my heart to know and to search out and to seek wisdom and the scheme of things, and to know the wickedness of folly and the foolishness that is madness.

Jer 4:22 “For my people are foolish; they know me not; they are stupid children; they have no understanding. They are ‘wise’—in doing evil! But how to do good they know not.”

Jer 17:11 Like the partridge that gathers a brood that she did not hatch, so is he who gets riches but not by justice; in the midst of his days they will leave him, and at his end he will be a fool.

Those who do such evil will prove to be fools (cf. CEV, NCV, NIV, NRSV).

Titus 3:3 For we ourselves were once foolish, disobedient, led astray, slaves to various passions and pleasures, passing our days in malice and envy, hated by others and hating one another.

Possibly “foolish” heads this list as it characterizes all such wrong doing.

Eccl 5:1 ^h Guard your steps when you go to the house of God. To draw near to listen is better than to offer the sacrifice of fools, for they do not know that they are doing evil.

^h Ch 4:17 in Hebrew

In addition to their inclination to do evil, fools typically are “too ignorant to know that they are doing evil” (AMP).

✦ Foolishness classified as evil:

Mark 7:21-23 For from within, out of the heart of man, come evil thoughts, sexual immorality, theft, murder, adultery, ²²coveting, wickedness, deceit, sensuality, envy, slander, pride, foolishness. ²³All these evil things come from within, and they defile a person.

As suggested by the assertion that foolishness encompasses doing evil, foolishness is evil.

Prov 1:32 For the simple are killed by their turning away, and the complacency of fools destroys them; ...

Prov 9:13 The woman Folly is loud; she is seductiveⁱ and knows nothing.

ⁱ Or full of simpleness

Fools are typically “loud and brash” (NLT).

Prov 12:15 The way of a fool is right in his own eyes, but a wise man listens to advice.

Fools think they know best (cf. CEV); as such they are disinclined to take advice.

Prov 15:14, 21 The heart of him who has understanding seeks knowledge, but the mouths of fools feed on folly. ... ²¹Folly is a joy to him who lacks sense, but a man of understanding walks straight ahead.

Fools feed on or “are hungry for” (CEV, cf. NCV) foolishness (v. 14) – it is a joy to them (v. 21).

Prov 16:22 Good sense is a fountain of life to him who has it, but the instruction of fools is folly.

The last clause appears to mean that it is pointless to instruct fools. As such it shows that fools cannot or will not learn from instruction.

Prov 26:6-11 Whoever sends a message by the hand of a fool cuts off his own feet and drinks violence. ⁷Like a lame man's legs, which hang useless, is a proverb in the mouth of fools.

⁸Like one who binds the stone in the sling is one who gives honor to a fool. ⁹Like a thorn that goes up into the hand of a drunkard is a proverb in the mouth of fools. ¹⁰Like an archer who wounds everyone is one who hires a passing fool or drunkard. ¹¹Like a dog that returns to his vomit is a fool who repeats his folly.

^j Or hires a fool or passersby

This passage illustrates that fools are: of no use, bringing harm (vv. 6, 10); dense, undermining the value of anything they might say (vv. 7, 9); unworthy of honor (v. 8); and do not learn from their mistakes (v. 11).

Prov 27:22 Crush a fool in a mortar with a pestle along with crushed grain, yet his folly will not depart from him.

Discipline does not rid a fool of his foolishness.

Ecc 7:9 Be not quick in your spirit to become angry, for anger lodges in the bosom of fools.

Anger is a notable characteristic of fools, as is reflected in Being quick-tempered is foolish and ungodly, cross-referenced above.

Results of foolishness . . .

Ps 38:5-6 My wounds stink and fester because of my foolishness, ⁶I am utterly bowed down and prostrate; all the day I go about mourning.

Prov 3:35 The wise will inherit honor, but fools get^k disgrace.

^k The meaning of the Hebrew word is uncertain

Prov 11:29 Whoever troubles his own household will inherit the wind, and the fool will be servant to the wise of heart.

Prov 14:3 By the mouth of a fool comes a rod for his back,¹ but the lips of the wise will preserve them.

Prov 14:8, 24 The wisdom of the prudent is to discern his way, but the folly of fools is deceiving. ... ²⁴The crown of the wise is their wealth, but the folly of fools brings folly.

Verse 8b most likely means that fools are deceived by their folly (cf. CEV, GNT, NLT; 5:23). Verse 24b means that foolishness begets more foolishness (cf. CEV, NCV).

Prov 17:21, 25 He who sires a fool gets himself sorrow, and the father of a fool has no joy. ... ²⁵A foolish son is a grief to his father and bitterness to her who bore him.

Prov 18:6 A fool's lips walk into a fight, and his mouth invites a beating.

Ecc 2:14a The wise person has his eyes in his head, but the fool walks in darkness.

A fool effectively lives in darkness – unaware of what way he ought to choose and of what obstacles are in his path.

Ecc 10:1 Dead flies make the perfumer's ointment give off a stench; so a little folly outweighs wisdom and honor.

Ecc 10:15 The toil of a fool wearies him, for he does not know the way to the city.

The latter part of the verse may have been a saying of the time. Possibly it means that a fool cannot find his way home (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV) – implying that he cannot effectively accomplish even the most basic of tasks (cf. NLT).

. . . Ultimately, foolishness results in ruin – even death

^mOr are gracious

The "folly" and "madness" (v. 13) of a fool's words destroy him (v. 12).

Matt 7:26-27 And everyone who hears these words of mine and does not do them will be like a foolish man who built his house on the sand. ²⁷And the rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat against that house, and it fell, and great was the fall of it.

This typifies a life of foolishness, as the simile suggests. A life lived apart from Jesus' instructions does not have the foundation to stand in troubled times. Some see this teaching as primarily looking to the ultimate storm, or test – God's judgment day.

1Tim 6:9 But those who desire to be rich fall into temptation, into a snare, into many senseless and harmful desires that plunge people into ruin and destruction.

Job 5:2-5 Surely vexation kills the fool, and jealousy slays the simple. ³*I have seen the fool taking root, but suddenly I cursed his dwelling.* ⁴*His children are far from safety; they are crushed in the gate, and there is no one to deliver them.* ⁵*The hungry eat his harvest, and he takes it even out of thorns,ⁿ and the thirsty pant^o after his^p wealth.*

^o Aquila, Symmachus, Syriac, Vulgate; Hebrew could be read as and the snare pants

^p Hebrew their

Verse 3b possibly means Eliphaz pronounced that the fool's home was cursed, rather than initiating the curse himself.

Prov 1:32 For the simple are killed by their turning away, and the complacency of fools destroys them; ...

The phrase "turning away" likely refers to turning away from wisdom.

Prov 5:23 He dies for lack of discipline, and because of his great folly he is led astray.

Prov 9:16-18 [Folly:] "Whoever is simple, let him turn in here!" And to him who lacks sense she says, ¹⁷"Stolen water is sweet, and bread eaten in secret is pleasant." ¹⁸*But he does not know that the dead^q are there, that her guests are in the depths of Sheol.*

Those who respond to Folly's beckoning (v. 16) enter into death (v. 18), spiritual if not also physical.

Prov 10:21 The lips of the righteous feed many, but fools die for lack of sense.

Prov 21:16 One who wanders from the way of good sense will rest in the assembly of the dead.

Ecc 7:17 Be not overly wicked, neither be a fool. Why should you die before your time?

Being quick-tempered is foolish and ungodly

See also:

- Avoid anger, p. 1565

Ecc 7:9 Be not quick in your spirit to become angry, for anger lodges in the bosom of fools.

Prov 12:16 The vexation of a fool is known at once, but the prudent ignores an insult.

A fool immediately shows their anger (cf. AMP, NASB, NKJV, NRSV) or annoyance (cf. GNT, NIV) – i.e. they are "quick-tempered" (NLT).

Prov 14:17 A man of quick temper acts foolishly, and a man of evil devices is hated.

Prov 14:29 Whoever is slow to anger has great understanding, but he who has a hasty temper exalts folly. 📖

Prov 29:11 A fool gives full vent to his spirit, but a wise man quietly holds it back. 📖

Prov 15:18 A hot-tempered man stirs up strife, but he who is slow to anger quiets contention. 📖

This reflects that being quick-tempered is ungodly – as does also Titus 1:7 below.

Titus 1:7 For an overseer,^r as God's steward, must be above reproach. He must not be arrogant or quick-tempered or a drunkard or violent or greedy for gain, ... 📖

^r Or bishop; Greek episkopos

Indulging in pleasure is foolish and pointless . . .

See also:

- b) Further Warnings about Riches, p. 1913

Titus 3:3 For we ourselves were once foolish, disobedient, led astray, slaves to various passions and pleasures, passing our days in malice and envy, hated by others and hating one another. 📖

This appears to associate being foolish with being enslaved to "various passions and pleasures".

Ecc 2:1-2, 10-11 I said in my heart, "Come now, I will test you with pleasure; enjoy yourself." But behold, this also was vanity. ²*I said of laughter, "It is mad," and of pleasure, "What use is it?"* 📖 ... ¹⁰*And whatever my eyes desired I did not keep from them. I kept my heart from no pleasure, for my heart found pleasure in all my toil, and this was my reward for all my toil.* ¹¹*Then I considered all that my hands had done and the toil I had expended in doing it, and behold, all was vanity and a striving after wind, and there was nothing to be gained under the sun.* 📖

In v. 1 the writer's thought is addressed to himself. He has in view trying out pleasure or having fun (cf. CEV, NCV). The reference to "laughter" (v. 2) is probably to pursuing laughter, making it a prime goal. The latter part of v. 10 may well mean that he found pleasure in his work because he thought it would be rewarded with the pleasures he sought (cf. GNT, NCV), but instead it proved to be pointless (v. 11). Alternatively, it may simply be making the point that he did at least find pleasure in his work.

Ecc 7:2-6 It is better to go to the house of mourning than to go to the house of feasting, for this is the end of all mankind, and the living will lay it to heart. ³*Sorrow is better than laughter, for by sadness of face the heart is made glad.* ⁴*The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning, but the heart of fools is in the house of mirth.* ⁵*It is better for a man to hear the rebuke of the wise than to hear the song of fools.* ⁶*For as the crackling of thorns under a pot, so is the laughter of the fools; this also is vanity.* 📖

The thrust of verses 2-4 is that mourning and sorrow are better than frivolity and pleasure, because we grow wiser and benefit through experiences of them – in contrast to enjoying the latter pair. In fact indulging in pleasure is typical of fools (v. 4). With the references to "mourning" in the adjacent verses, v. 3 could well be meaning that by mourning or grieving one's heart is "made better and gains gladness" (AMP). The clause "hear the song of fools" (v. 5) may be referring to enjoying the pleasures of fools, although in light of the first part of the verse it could instead be speaking of accepting the praise of fools. Verse 6 portrays the laughter of fools as meaningless and unfulfilling, being like thorns used in a fire which make a lot of noise but do not provide sustained heat.

Prov 21:17 Whoever loves pleasure will be a poor man; he who loves wine and oil will not be rich. 📖

Prov 14:13 Even in laughter the heart may ache, and the end of joy may be grief. 📖

This appears to warn against relying on laughter or joy. More precisely the meaning could be that laughter may only be able to conceal a heavy heart, the latter still remaining once the laughter ends (cf. NLT). As such this portrays laughter to be ineffectual in itself.

. . . and indulging in pleasure is ungodly

See also:

- Titus 3:3 ↑

The following references generally do not explicitly say that indulging in pleasure is ungodly, but they do illustrate or imply that this is the case.

Luke 6:25b "Woe to you who laugh now, for you shall mourn and weep. 📖

This appears to be referring to those whose focus and goal is their own happiness, who seek after the amusements and pleasures of this life, with little or no regard for spiritual matters. The latter part of the statement appears to largely have punishment in the afterlife in view – underlining the ungodliness of the aforementioned lifestyle.

Luke 8:14 And as for what fell among the thorns, they are those who hear, but as they go on their way they are choked by the cares and riches and pleasures of life, and their fruit does not mature.

Pleasure can choke our responsiveness to God's word (cf. v. 11) as pleasure can involve practices that either: are opposed to God's word; or crowd out God's word, leaving little or no room for it in our lives.

1Tim 5:6 ... but she who is self-indulgent is dead even while she lives.

One who is "self-indulgent" (cf. James 5:5 ↓) effectively "lives for pleasure" (NIV®, NRSV cf. AMP, GNT, NASB, NKJV, NLT). Such people are "spiritually dead" (NLT).

2Tim 3:4 ... treacherous, reckless, swollen with conceit, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God, ...

This reflects that we cannot be both lovers of pleasure and lovers of God.

Titus 2:11-12 For the grace of God has appeared, bringing salvation for all people, ¹²training us to renounce ungodliness and worldly passions, and to live self-controlled, upright, and godly lives in the present age, ...

The "worldly passions" – associated with "ungodliness" – are largely equivalent to "sinful pleasures" (NLT).

Heb 11:24-25 By faith Moses, when he was grown up, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter, ²⁵choosing rather to be mistreated with the people of God than to enjoy the fleeting pleasures of sin.

James 4:3 You ask and do not receive, because you ask wrongly, to spend it on your passions.

James 5:5 You have lived on the earth in luxury and in self-indulgence. You have fattened your hearts in a day of slaughter.

The second sentence likens the people in question to cattle fattening themselves even on the day of their slaughter, making themselves even more suitable for slaughter. Likewise by such self-indulgence, these people "fatten" or increase their guilt in the face of impending judgment.

2Pet 2:13 ... suffering wrong as the wage for their wrongdoing. They count it pleasure to revel in the daytime. They are blots and blemishes, reveling in their deceptions, while they feast with you.

^s Some manuscripts love feasts

Rev 18:3, 7 For all nations have drunk^t the wine of the passion of her sexual immorality, and the kings of the earth have committed immorality with her, and the merchants of the earth have grown rich from the power of her luxurious living."  ... ⁷*As she glorified herself and lived in luxury, so give her a like measure of torment and mourning*, since in her heart she says, 'I sit as a queen, I am no widow, and mourning I shall never see.'

^t Some manuscripts fallen by

Note that the reference is to "Babylon the Great" – which most likely symbolizes ungodly world authority, in general or a particular source of it (cf. The guilt and consequent judgment of "Babylon the Great", p. 695).

Drunkenness and gluttony are unwise, causing one trouble . . .

Prov 20:1 Wine is a mocker, strong drink a brawler, and whoever is led astray by it is not wise.

^u Or will not become wise

"Wine is a mocker" is often understood to mean that wine has a tendency to cause a person to become a mocker. But it has also been interpreted to mean that wine mocks a person – i.e. makes a fool of them, as reflected in the latter part of the verse.

Hos 4:10-11 They shall eat, but not be satisfied; they shall play the whore, but not multiply, because they have forsaken the LORD to cherish ¹¹whoredom, wine, and new wine, which take away the understanding.

Prov 21:20 Precious treasure and oil are in a wise man's dwelling, but a foolish man devours it.

The last clause is suggestive of or at least encompasses gluttony – characteristic of a foolish man in contrast to a wise man.

Prov 23:19-21 Hear, my son, and be wise, and direct your heart in the way. ²⁰Be not among drunkards^v or among gluttonous eaters of meat, ²¹for the drunkard and the glutton will come to poverty, and slumber will clothe them with rags.

^v Hebrew those who drink too much wine

Prov 28:7 The one who keeps the law is a son with understanding, but a companion of gluttons shames his father.

The contrast with a son "with understanding" emphasizes that gluttons are unwise.

Prov 23:29-35 Who has woe? Who has sorrow? Who has strife? Who has complaining? Who has wounds without cause? Who has redness of eyes? ³⁰*Those who tarry long over wine; those who go to try mixed wine.* ³¹*Do not look at wine when it is red, when it sparkles in the cup and goes down smoothly.* ³²*In the end it bites like a serpent and stings like an adder.* ³³*Your eyes will see strange things, and your heart utter perverse things.* ³⁴*You will be like one who lies down in the midst of the sea, like one who lies on the top of a mast.* ^{w 35}"They struck me," you will say, "but I was not hurt; they beat me, but I did not feel it. When shall I awake? I must have another drink."

^x Hebrew lacks you will say

Verse 34-35 portray the hung-over state of a drunkard – sick, even injured (but yet to feel plain) and wanting more drink.

Isa 5:11, 22 Woe to those who rise early in the morning, that they may run after strong drink, who tarry late into the evening as wine inflames them!  ... ²²*Woe to those who are heroes at drinking wine, and valiant men in mixing strong drink, ...*

Prov 23:1-2 When you sit down to eat with a ruler, observe carefully what^y is before you, ²and put a knife to your throat if you are given to appetite.

^y Or who

Verse 2 figuratively warns against gluttony, having in view consequences of indulging one's appetite in the presence of authority.

Prov 25:16 If you have found honey, eat only enough for you, lest you have your fill of it and vomit it.

Deut 21:18-21 If a man has a stubborn and rebellious son who will not obey the voice of his father or the voice of his mother, and, though they discipline him, will not listen to them, ¹⁹then his father and his mother shall take hold of him and bring him out to the elders of his city at the gate of the place where he lives, ²⁰and they shall say to the elders of his city, 'This our son is stubborn and rebellious; he will not obey our voice; he is a glutton and a drunkard.' ²¹*Then all the men of the city shall stone him to death with stones.* So you shall purge the evil from your midst, and all Israel shall hear, and fear.

Prov 26:10 Like an archer who wounds everyone is one who hires a passing fool or drunkard. ^z

^z Or hires a fool or passersby

Arguably this associates drunkenness with foolishness. It also points to the trouble that drunkenness brings not only to others but also to oneself, as it reflects that drunkards find it hard to obtain employment with employers rightly being adverse to hiring them.

... Drunkenness should be avoided, particularly as it leads to ungodliness

^a Or bishop; Greek episkopos; a similar term occurs in verse 1

^b Or a man of one woman; also verse 12

^c Or devious in speech

Church leaders should exemplify godly characteristics; as such they should not be inclined to drinking excessively. Note that being "sober-minded" (v. 2) would appear to involve being "sober" (GNT).

Titus 2:3a Older women likewise are to be reverent in behavior, not slanderers or slaves to much wine.

Prov 31:4-5 It is not for kings, O Lemuel, it is not for kings to drink wine, or for rulers to take strong drink, ⁵*lest they drink and forget what has been decreed and pervert the rights of all the afflicted.*

Eph 5:18 And do not get drunk with wine, for that is debauchery, but be filled with the Spirit, ...

Drunkenness goes "hand in hand" with debauchery.

Luke 21:34 But watch yourselves lest your hearts be weighed down with dissipation and drunkenness and cares of this life, and that day come upon you suddenly like a trap.

The word "dissipation" entails excessive indulgence. Such things as dissipation and drunkenness deter people from living godly lives, in preparedness for Jesus Christ's return.

Phil 3:18-19 For many, of whom I have often told you and now tell you even with tears, walk as enemies of the cross of Christ. ¹⁹Their end is destruction, their god is their belly, and they glory in their shame, with minds set on earthly things.

The clause “their god is their belly” suggests that their stomach was their top priority. As such it would indicate that gluttony, like drunkenness, promotes ungodliness. But note that the reference may be more general, with “stomach” possibly being used as a metaphor for “their bodily desires” (GNT, cf. NCV), rather than simply referring to their appetite for food.

‡ Drunkards will not inherit the kingdom of God:

1Cor 6:10 ... nor thieves, nor the greedy, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor swindlers will inherit the kingdom of God.

Luke 11:39-40 And the Lord said to him, “Now you Pharisees cleanse the outside of the cup and of the dish, but inside you are full of greed and wickedness. ⁴⁰You fools! Did not he who made the outside make the inside also?”

The Pharisees foolishly ensured that they gave the outward appearance of being pious, while inwardly being full of wickedness. Such action is obviously foolish when one considers that God also made the inner person (v. 40b) and so knows and is concerned about our inward state too.

Prov 6:32 He who commits adultery lacks sense; he who does it destroys himself.

Prov 10:18 The one who conceals hatred has lying lips, and whoever utters slander is a fool.

Prov 11:12 Whoever belittles his neighbor lacks sense, but a man of understanding remains silent.

Prov 15:20 A wise son makes a glad father, but a foolish man despises his mother.

Ecc 5:1, 4 ^d Guard your steps when you go to the house of God. To draw near to listen is better than to offer the sacrifice of fools, for they do not know that they are doing evil. ... ⁴*When you vow a vow to God, do not delay paying it, for he has no pleasure in fools.* Pay what you vow.

^d Ch 4:17 in Hebrew

Hasty vows (v. 1) and unfulfilled vows (v. 4) – with the former tending to lead to the latter – are of fools.

Luke 12:20-21 But God said to him, ‘Fool! This night your soul is required of you, and the things you have prepared, whose will they be?’ ²¹*So is the one who lays up treasure for himself and is not rich toward God.*

‡ It is foolish to not be prepared for Jesus Christ’s return:

Matt 25:1-13 Then the kingdom of heaven will be like ten virgins who took their lamps^e and went to meet the bridegroom.^f ²Five of them were foolish, and five were wise. ³For when the foolish took their lamps, they took no oil with them, ⁴but the wise took flasks of oil with their lamps. ⁵As the bridegroom was delayed, they all became drowsy and slept. ⁶But at midnight there was a cry, ‘Here is the bridegroom! Come out to meet him.’ ⁷Then all those virgins rose and trimmed their lamps. ⁸And the foolish said to the wise, ‘Give us some of your oil, for our lamps are going out.’ ⁹But the wise answered, saying, ‘Since there will not be enough for us and for you, go rather to the dealers and buy for yourselves.’ ¹⁰And while they were going to buy, the bridegroom came, and those who were ready went in with him to the marriage feast, and the door was shut. ¹¹Afterward the other virgins came also, saying, ‘Lord, lord, open to us.’ ¹²But he answered, ‘Truly, I say to you, I do not know you.’ ¹³Watch therefore, for you know neither the day nor the hour.

Further practices typical of fools

See also:

- Use few words – in contrast to fools, p. 1644

Note that the foolish practices discussed in this and the following subsections are arguably not all overtly ungodly – in contrast to the practices discussed previously.

Prov 14:15 The simple believes everything, but the prudent gives thought to his steps.

Prov 14:16 One who is wise is cautious^g and turns away from evil, but a fool is reckless and careless.

^g Or fears [the LORD]

Prov 17:24 The discerning sets his face toward wisdom, but the eyes of a fool are on the ends of the earth.

This appears to be speaking of fantasizing or possibly a lack of focus.

Prov 22:3 The prudent sees danger and hides himself, but the simple go on and suffer for it.

Prov 26:11 Like a dog that returns to his vomit is a fool who repeats his folly.

Ecc 4:13 Better was a poor and wise youth than an old and foolish king who no longer knew how to take advice.

Ecc 10:3 Even when the fool walks on the road, he lacks sense, and he says to everyone that he is a fool.

This verse and Proverbs 13:16 below indicate that a fool reveals his foolishness all too easily.

Prov 13:16 In everything the prudent acts with knowledge, but a fool flaunts his folly.

A fool displays his folly.

Unwise practices comparable to foolishness

See also:

- . . . Seeing yourself as wise is associated with foolishness, p. 1889

Prov 18:1 Whoever isolates himself seeks his own desire; he breaks out against all sound judgment.

Prov 26:4 Answer not a fool according to his folly, lest you be like him yourself.

As noted earlier, the phrase “according to his folly” means in a manner which is in accordance with his foolish ways – i.e. “stooping to his level”.

Prov 29:20 Do you see a man who is hasty in his words? There is more hope for a fool than for him.

Prov 30:32 If you have been foolish, exalting yourself, or if you have been devising evil, put your hand on your mouth.

Prov 26:18-19 Like a madman who throws firebrands, arrows, and death ¹⁹is the man who deceives his neighbor and says, “I am only joking!”

Ecc 7:10 Say not, “Why were the former days better than these?” For it is not from wisdom that you ask this.

It is not wise to long for the past or idealize it in comparison to the present. Such an attitude tends to overlook past difficulties and rouse negativity, even leading to pessimism in one’s present circumstances.

2Cor 10:12 Not that we dare to classify or compare ourselves with some of those who are commending themselves. But when they measure themselves by one another and compare themselves with one another, they are without understanding.

It is not wise to compare ourselves with others and then take pride in how we may measure up against them.

✦ Paul’s boasting “as a fool”:

2Cor 11:16-17, 21b-23 I repeat, let no one think me foolish. But even if you do, accept me as a fool, so that I too may boast a little. ¹⁷What I am saying with this boastful confidence, I say not with the Lord’s authority but as a fool.  ... ²¹ ... But whatever anyone else dares to boast of—I am speaking as a fool—I also dare to boast of that. ²²Are they Hebrews? So am I. Are they Israelites? So am I. Are they offspring of Abraham? So am I. ²³Are they servants of Christ? I am a better one—I am talking like a madman—with far greater labors, far more imprisonments, with countless beatings, and often near death.

Paul felt compelled to boast – which he acknowledges is a foolish thing to do (cf. Prov 30:32 †; 2Cor 10:12 †) – to prove his credentials as an apostle.

Note: Warnings against putting up security for another’s debt

Prov 17:18 One who lacks sense gives a pledge and puts up security in the presence of his neighbor.

Prov 11:15 Whoever puts up security for a stranger will surely suffer harm, but he who hates striking hands in pledge is secure.

In this context “striking hands in pledge” signifies agreeing to put up security for another.

Prov 22:26-27 Be not one of those who give pledges, who put up security for debts. ²⁷If you have nothing with which to pay, why should your bed be taken from under you?

Note that this is of “the words of the wise” (cf. v. 17).

Prov 20:16 Take a man’s garment when he has put up security for a stranger, and hold it in pledge when he puts up security for foreigners.^h

^h Or for an adulteress (compare 27:13)

Putting up security is particularly foolish when done for someone relatively unknown. One would need to be held responsible particularly in such instances (as could be done by the taking of one’s garment).

‡ If you have put up security for someone, plea to be released:

Prov 6:1-5 My son, if you have put up security for your neighbor, have given your pledge for a stranger, ²if you are snared in the words of your mouth, caught in the words of your mouth, ³then do this, my son, and save yourself, for you have come into the hand of your neighbor: go, hasten,ⁱ and plead urgently with your neighbor. ⁴Give your eyes no sleep and your eyelids no slumber; ⁵save yourself like a gazelle from the hand of the hunter,^j like a bird from the hand of the fowler.

ⁱ Or humble yourself

^j Hebrew lacks of the hunter

Note that if the “neighbor” of v. 3 is the one of v. 1, then v. 3 is saying to approach the person for whom you have put up the security – as opposed to approaching the creditor.

Jer 9:6 Heaping oppression upon oppression, and deceit upon deceit, they refuse to know me, declares the LORD.

This implies that due to their sinfulness such people are unwilling to know God – they “do not know and understand” God (AMP).

Ezek 12:2 Son of man, you dwell in the midst of a rebellious house, who have eyes to see, but see not, who have ears to hear, but hear not, for they are a rebellious house.

In their rebellion against God the people were not receptive to his spiritual truth. This would of course promote spiritual ignorance.

John 3:19-20 And this is the judgment: the light has come into the world, and people loved the darkness rather than the light because their works were evil. ²⁰For everyone who does wicked things hates the light and does not come to the light, lest his works should be exposed.

Due to people’s evil deeds, they spurn the spiritual light that is Jesus Christ and his truth. For this light exposes their deeds for what they really are – evil.

John 8:43-44, 47 Why do you not understand what I say? It is because you cannot bear to hear my word. ⁴⁴You are of your father the devil, and your will is to do your father’s desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, and has nothing to do with the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks out of his own character, for he is a liar and the father of lies.  ... ⁴⁷Whoever is of God hears the words of God. The reason why you do not hear them is that you are not of God.

Satan is characterized by deceit (v. 44). Those who are of him (v. 44a) and so “not of God” (v. 47b) are deceived by him and cannot understand or accept the words of God (vv. 43, 47).

Rom 1:18-22 For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who by their unrighteousness suppress the truth. ¹⁹For what can be known about God is plain to them, because God has shown it to them. ²⁰For his invisible attributes, namely, his eternal power and divine nature, have been clearly perceived, ever since the creation of the world, in the things that have been made. So they are without excuse. ²¹For although they knew God, they did not honor him as God or give thanks to him, but they became futile in their thinking, and their foolish hearts were darkened. ²²*Claiming to be wise, they became fools, ...*

The “truth” (v. 18) is the truth about God revealed to all through the testimony of creation (vv. 19-21a). By wickedness and ungodliness, such people “suppress” the truth – or push it away (cf. NLT). Verses 21-22 further demonstrate that ungodliness, with its disregard of God, leads to spiritual darkness and foolishness.

2Pet 1:9 For whoever lacks these qualities is so nearsighted that he is blind, having forgotten that he was cleansed from his former sins.

Not possessing the godly qualities listed earlier in vv. 5-7 is a key cause of spiritual blindness, and so spiritual ignorance. Note that this appears to refer to spiritually immature church members, people who are in danger of falling away.

Psa 73:21-22 When my soul was embittered, when I was pricked in heart, ²²I was brutish and ignorant; I was like a beast toward you.

The psalmist’s “brutish and ignorant” (v. 22) state was brought on – in part at least – by his lapsing into sinful bitterness (v. 21a).

Spiritual ignorance and lack of perception is caused partly by the ungodly being closed-minded . . .

Job 21:14 They say to God, ‘Depart from us! We do not desire the knowledge of your ways.

Wicked people typically choose to not know the ways in which God wants people to live.

Isa 30:9-10 For they are a rebellious people, lying children, children unwilling to hear the instruction of the LORD; ¹⁰who say to the seers, “Do not see,” and to the prophets, “Do not prophesy to us what is right; speak to us smooth things, prophesy illusions, ...

In their sinfulness and unwillingness to listen to God’s messages (v. 9) – i.e. closed mindedness to God’s word – the people opted for pleasant illusions (v. 10). Rather than spiritual truth, they opted for nonsense; hence their spiritual ignorance.

Isa 42:18-20 Hear, you deaf, and look, you blind, that you may see! ¹⁹Who is blind but my servant, or deaf as my messenger whom I send? Who is blind as my dedicated one,^k or blind as the servant of the LORD? ²⁰He sees many things, but does not observe them; his ears are open, but he does not hear.

^k Or as the one at peace with me

This passage is portraying Israel – who was supposed to be God’s servant and messenger to the nations – as being blind and deaf (vv. 18-19) to what God did and said, not willing to pay any attention (v. 20). Note that the meaning of the phrase translated here as “my dedicated one” (v. 19) is debatable, with different meanings being given in other translations (cf. NASB, NCV, NKJV, NLT).

Isa 48:8 You have never heard, you have never known, from of old your ear has not been opened. For I knew that you would surely deal treacherously, and that from before birth you were called a rebel.

Note that as is the case here, sin and ungodliness (discussed in the previous subsection) are often associated with closed minds (cf. Isa 30:9-10 ; 2Tim 4:3-4). They stimulate or at least work together with closed minds (“your ear has not been opened”) to cause lack of spiritual perception and ignorance.

Jer 6:10 To whom shall I speak and give warning, that they may hear? Behold, their ears are uncircumcised, they cannot listen; behold, the word of the LORD is to them an object of scorn; they take no pleasure in it.

The people scorned God’s word, closing their ears to it and so cutting themselves off from it and its spiritual truth.

Matt 13:18-19 Hear then the parable of the sower: ¹⁹When anyone hears the word of the kingdom and does not understand it, the evil one comes and snatches away what has been sown in his heart. This is what was sown along the path.

The “path” appears to depict those who are hardened against spiritual truth (cf. comment on Mark 6:52), causing them to not understand and absorb the message. This in turn allows Satan to remove any “seeds” of spiritual truth.

Mark 6:51-52 And he got into the boat with them, and the wind ceased. And they were utterly astounded, ⁵²for they did not understand about the loaves, but their hearts were hardened.

The clause “their hearts were hardened” (v. 52) means that “their minds were closed” (CEV, NCV). People of whom this is true do not understand or believe primarily because they are not open to spiritual truth; they are either not ready to or do not want to believe.

Mark 8:17-21 And Jesus, aware of this, said to them, “Why are you discussing the fact that you have no bread? Do you not yet perceive or understand? Are your hearts hardened? ¹⁸*Having eyes do you not see, and having ears do you not hear? And do you not remember?* ¹⁹When I broke the five loaves for the five thousand, how many baskets full of broken pieces did you take up?” They said to him, “Twelve.” ²⁰“And the seven for the four thousand, how many baskets full of broken pieces did you take up?” And they said to him, “Seven.” ²¹And he said to them, “Do you not yet understand?”

2Cor 3:14-16 But their minds were hardened. For to this day, when they read the old covenant, that same veil remains unlifted, because only through Christ is it taken away. ¹⁵Yes, to this day whenever Moses is read a veil lies over their hearts. ¹⁶But when one¹ turns to the Lord, the veil is removed.

Eph 4:17-18 Now this I say and testify in the Lord, that you must no longer walk as the Gentiles do, in the futility of their minds. ¹⁸*They are darkened in their understanding, alienated from the life of God because of the ignorance that is in them, due to their hardness of heart.*

2Tim 4:3-4 For the time is coming when people will not endure sound^m teaching, but having itching ears they will accumulate for themselves teachers to suit their own passions, ⁴*and will turn away from listening to the truth and wander off into myths.*

^mOr healthy

To suit their own sinful passions, people refuse to accept sound teaching. Their passions and closed mindedness lead them to turn to “myths” and false teachings. As such they are ignorant and misinformed about spiritual things.

Luke 16:29-31 But Abraham said, ‘They have Moses and the Prophets; let them hear them.’ ³⁰And he said, ‘No, father Abraham, but if someone goes to them from the dead, they will repent.’ ³¹He said to him, ‘If they do not hear Moses and the Prophets, neither will they be convinced if someone should rise from the dead.’

Verse 31 indicates that for those whose minds are closed to God’s word, not even the testimony of someone raised from the dead will convince them of spiritual realities – as Jesus Christ’s resurrection was to show.

Isaiah was to pronounce God’s judicial blinding and hardening of the people (vv. 9-10a), making certain the judgment God had ordained (vv. 11-12). For such had been the people’s rebellion, that God chose to ensure that the people would not seek to avoid the judgment (v. 10b).

Isa 29:9-12 Astonish yourselves^q and be astonished; blind yourselves and be blind! Be drunk, but not with wine; stagger, but not with strong drink! ¹⁰*For the LORD has poured out upon you a spirit of deep sleep, and has closed your eyes (the prophets), and covered your heads (the seers).* ¹¹*And the vision of all this has become to you like the words of a book that is sealed. When men give it to one who can read, saying, “Read this,” he says, “I cannot, for it is sealed.”* ¹²*And when they give the book to one who cannot read, saying, “Read this,” he says, “I cannot read.”*

^q Or Linger awhile

This appears to portray the people’s spiritual blindness (vv. 9-10) and inability to access God’s word (vv. 11-12) as a judgment from God, due to the people’s sinfulness (cf. ch. 28) – not least of which was their disdain of his word (cf. 28:12, 22).

Matt 13:10-15 Then the disciples came and said to him, "Why do you speak to them in parables?" ¹¹*And he answered them, "To you it has been given to know the secrets of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it has not been given.* ¹²*For to the one who has, more will be given, and he will have an abundance, but from the one who has not, even what he has will be taken away.* ¹³*This is why I speak to them in parables, because seeing they do not see, and hearing they do not hear, nor do they understand.* ¹⁴*Indeed, in their case the prophecy of Isaiah is fulfilled that says: "You will indeed hear but never understand, and you will indeed see but never perceive.* ¹⁵*For this people's heart has grown dull, and with their ears they can barely hear, and their eyes they have closed, lest they should see with their eyes and hear with their ears and understand with their heart and turn, and I would heal them.'* ☞

Verse 12b most likely means that whoever is not open to God's spiritual truth (v. 15a), even what little spiritual insight they have will be taken from them. Jesus achieved this in part at least through the use of parables to deny such people easy access to spiritual truth (vv. 10, 13-14). In conjunction with this, the reference to the prophecy of Isaiah (vv. 14-15; cf. Isa 6:9-10 ↑) may be pointing out that by hardening their hearts against God's spiritual truth (v. 15), the people themselves lost what little spiritual sensitivity and insight they did have (v. 14).

John 9:39 Jesus said, "For judgment I came into this world, that those who do not see may see, and those who see may become blind." ☞

In conjunction with their pride over their knowledge of the Scriptures and their self-righteousness, the Jewish religious leaders considered themselves to be spiritually perceptive. Through this they had actually become ungodly. The clause "those who see may become blind" probably means that such people who considered themselves spiritually perceptive, would be blinded to the fuller revelation of truth that Jesus brought – including the light he shed on OT Scripture. Thus, through his mission Jesus Christ caused them to become spiritually blind – effectively as an act of judgment (v. 39a). Note that "those who do not see may see" speaks of those who acknowledge their spiritual blindness and lack of knowledge, being open to and/or being given spiritual sight.

Rom 11:7-10, 25 What then? Israel failed to obtain what it was seeking. The elect obtained it, but the rest were hardened, ⁸*as it is written, "God gave them a spirit of stupor, eyes that would not see and ears that would not hear, down to this very day."* ⁹*And David says, "Let their table become a snare and a trap, a stumbling block and a retribution for them; ¹⁰let their eyes be darkened so that they cannot see, and bend their backs forever."* ☞ ... ²⁵*Lest you be wise in your* own sight, I want you to understand this mystery, brothers:^r a partial hardening has come upon Israel, until the fullness of the Gentiles has come in. ☞

^r Or brothers and sisters

In vv. 7-8 Paul speaks of Israel's spiritual deafness and blindness as given them by God; he also appears to be pointing to this in v. 25. This judgment was in part at least because of their stubbornness in trying to obtain righteousness by works (v. 7; cf. 9:30-10:3) in association with their unbelief (cf. v. 20; 10:16, 21).

✦ God deludes those who refuse to accept the truth:

2Thes 2:9-11 The coming of the lawless one is by the activity of Satan with all power and false signs and wonders, ¹⁰and with all wicked deception for those who are perishing, because they refused to love the truth and so be saved. ¹¹*Therefore God sends them a strong delusion, so that they may believe what is false, ...* ☞

The end-time deception of the antichrist is primarily in view here (cf. vv. 9-10a).

Thus, the ungodly lack spiritual sense and knowledge . . .

"Their witnesses" (v. 9) are those who would give witness on behalf of idols – "Those who would speak up for them" (NIV®).

Matt 16:1-4 And the Pharisees and Sadducees came, and to test him they asked him to show them a sign from heaven. ²He answered them, "When it is evening, you say, 'It will be fair weather, for the sky is red.' ³And in the morning, 'It will be stormy today, for the sky is red and threatening.' You know how to interpret the appearance of the sky, but you cannot interpret the signs of the times. ⁴*An evil and adulterous generation seeks for a sign, but no sign will be given to it except the sign of Jonah.*" So he left them and departed. 📖

^u Some manuscripts omit the following words to the end of verse 3

The Pharisees and Sadducees' request for a miracle evidenced their spiritually adulterous state (v. 4a); they were intent on testing Jesus so as to try to discredit him. Jesus pointed out that there had already been significant signs – presumably meaning signs apparent in his public ministry, including previous miracles. But these "evil and adulterous" leaders had failed to recognize the spiritual significance of these signs (v. 3b), evidencing a lack of spiritual perception. Note that Jesus' refusal to give them a miraculous sign on demand is quite possibly indicative of both his recognition of their refusal to believe no matter what they witnessed, and his own refusal to "play their games" and submit to their demands. Regarding the phrase "the sign of Jonah" (v. 4), it is generally understood to refer to Jesus' coming death and resurrection, when he would be dead for three days (or parts thereof), emulating Jonah being inside the fish for three days and nights (cf. Jonah 1:17).

Titus 1:15 To the pure, all things are pure, but to the defiled and unbelieving, nothing is pure; but both their minds and their consciences are defiled. 📖

Paul has in view false teachers propagating ascetic rules about food and purification. By effectively asserting that nothing was pure, these ungodly people showed their lack of spiritual sense.

John 12:35 So Jesus said to them, "The light is among you for a little while longer. Walk while you have the light, lest darkness overtake you. The one who walks in the darkness does not know where he is going." 📖

One who spurns Jesus' light "walks in the darkness" and so "does not know where he is going."

Matt 6:23 ... but if your eye is bad, your whole body will be full of darkness. If then the light in you is darkness, how great is the darkness! 📖

If one's spiritual sight or perception is bad (as is the case with the ungodly) then one's whole person is full of or enveloped in spiritual darkness. The second sentence may be meaning that if that which a person has for their light is actually darkness, then the darkness within them is indeed great.

‡ In their natural selves, people are not spiritually perceptive:

Rom 6:18-19 ...and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. ¹⁹*I am speaking in human terms, because of your natural limitations.* For just as you once presented your members as slaves to impurity and to lawlessness leading to more lawlessness, so now present your members as slaves to righteousness leading to sanctification. ☞

In v. 19a Paul appears to apologize for using a less than perfect analogy in describing believers as “slaves” to righteousness (vv. 18, 19b). The need to do so was because his readers were weak in their sinful nature, lacking spiritual perception and needing a somewhat stark illustration to ensure that they grasped his point.

Spiritual ignorance results in further sin and ungodliness

See also:

- 1Tim 1:13 ↴
- Note: Not knowing God leads to sin and evil, p. 1212

While sin and ungodliness are the prime cause/s of spiritual ignorance (as discussed earlier), spiritual ignorance in turn leads to further sin and ungodliness.

Isa 45:20b They have no knowledge who carry about their wooden idols, and keep on praying to a god that cannot save. ☞

Acts 3:15, 17 ... and you killed the Author of life, whom God raised from the dead. To this we are witnesses. ☞ ... ¹⁷“And now, brothers, I know that you acted in ignorance, as did also your rulers. ☞

Eph 4:17-19 Now this I say and testify in the Lord, that you must no longer walk as the Gentiles do, in the futility of their minds. ¹⁸*They are darkened in their understanding, alienated from the life of God because of the ignorance that is in them, due to their hardness of heart.* ¹⁹*They have become callous and have given themselves up to sensuality, greedy to practice every kind of impurity.* ☞

The Gentiles’ “futility of ... mind” (v. 17), “darkened ... understanding” and “ignorance” (v. 18) was behind them being “alienated from the life of God” (v. 18) and becoming callous and indulging in sinfulness (v. 19).

1Pet 1:14 As obedient children, do not be conformed to the passions of your former ignorance, ... ☞

John 8:37 I know that you are offspring of Abraham; yet you seek to kill me because my word finds no place in you. ☞

In having no room for Jesus’ word, the Jewish leaders showed their lack of spiritual perception and their spiritual ignorance. In part due to this lack of spiritual sense, they sought to get rid of Jesus as his words and claims undermined them.

Spiritual ignorance and lack of spiritual perception result in unbelief

John 8:44-46 You are of your father the devil, and your will is to do your father’s desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, and has nothing to do with the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks out of his own character, for he is a liar and the father of lies. ⁴⁵*But because I tell the truth, you do not believe me.* ⁴⁶Which one of you convicts me of sin? If I tell the truth, why do you not believe me? ☞

The Jews spoken to here belonged to the devil (cf. v. 47), who has “no truth in him” and is “the father of lies” (v. 44). As such, spiritual truth was alien to them – indicative of their ignorance. Thus they could not believe the truth that Jesus taught (vv. 45-46).

John 12:37-40 Though he had done so many signs before them, they still did not believe in him, ³⁸*so that the word spoken by the prophet Isaiah might be fulfilled: “Lord, who has believed what he heard from us, and to whom has the arm of the Lord been revealed?”* ³⁹*Therefore they could not believe. For again Isaiah said,* ⁴⁰*“He has blinded their eyes and hardened their heart, lest they see with their eyes, and understand with their heart, and turn, and I would heal them.”* ☞

Verses 39-40 speak of God’s judicial blinding of many of the Jews and their subsequent lack of spiritual perception as causing their unbelief (vv. 37-38).

Rom 11:20, 25 That is true. They were broken off because of their unbelief, but you stand fast through faith. So do not become proud, but fear. ☞ ... ²⁵Lest you be wise in your own sight, I want you to understand this mystery, brothers: ^v a partial hardening has come upon Israel, until the fullness of the Gentiles has come in. ☞

‡ Or brothers and sisters

Arguably Israel’s “hardening” (v. 25) – and thus lack of spiritual perception – was the cause of “their unbelief” (v. 20); it at least reinforced it.

2Cor 4:3-4 And even if our gospel is veiled, it is veiled only to those who are perishing. ⁴In their case the god of this world has blinded the minds of the unbelievers, to keep them from seeing the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God. ☞

This may well be meaning that “unbelievers” (v. 4a) do not believe because of their spiritual blindness (cf. GNT) – the theme of this subsection. Alternatively it may be saying that those who are already “unbelievers” are then blinded by Satan – “to keep them from seeing the light of the gospel”, ensuring that they remain unbelievers. Note that Satan is spoken of here as the prime agent of this blindness, whereas John 12:39-40 above and . . . God and Jesus Christ may even judicially blind ungodly people, p. 1670, speak of God judicially blinding or reinforcing such blindness.

1Tim 1:13 ... though formerly I was a blasphemer, persecutor, and insolent opponent. But I received mercy because I had acted ignorantly in unbelief, ... ☞

This suggests that ignorance comes from unbelief, the reverse of the theme of this subsection. It reflects that ignorance and unbelief go “hand in hand”, with one exacerbating the other – much like ignorance and sin.

✦ Ignorance can lead to misconceived and ill-fated efforts to obtain righteousness:

Rom 10:2-3 For I bear them witness that they have a zeal for God, but not according to knowledge. ³For, being ignorant of the righteousness of God, and seeking to establish their own, they did not submit to God's righteousness. ☞

Spiritual ignorance and lack of spiritual understanding culminate in dire consequences

Hos 4:6, 14 My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge; because you have rejected knowledge, I reject you from being a priest to me. And since you have forgotten the law of your God, I also will forget your children. ☞ ... ¹⁴I will not punish your daughters when they play the whore, nor your brides when they commit adultery; for the men themselves go aside with prostitutes and sacrifice with cult prostitutes, and a people without understanding shall come to ruin. ☞

Prov 14:12 There is a way that seems right to a man, but its end is the way to death.^w ☞

^w Hebrew ways of death

Lack of spiritual perception can leave one open to taking paths in life that lead to death. Here “death” appears to be applicable to both premature physical death and spiritual death.

Isa 5:13 Therefore my people go into exile for lack of knowledge;^x their honored men go hungry,^y and their multitude is parched with thirst. ☞

^x Or without their knowledge

^y Or die of hunger

Isa 27:10-11 For the fortified city is solitary, a habitation deserted and forsaken, like the wilderness; there the calf grazes; there it lies down and strips its branches. ¹¹When its boughs are dry, they are broken; women come and make a fire of them. For this is a people without discernment; therefore he who made them will not have compassion on them; he who formed them will show them no favor. ☞

Verses 10-11a portray desolation, due to God's judgment and withholding of his compassion and favor (v. 11b). These things were the result of the people being “without discernment” (v. 11b) and acting accordingly.

Rom 1:28 And since they did not see fit to acknowledge God, God gave them up to a debased mind to do what ought not to be done. ☞

Even though the people in view had known God (cf. v. 21), the fact that they did not see acknowledgment of him as a fitting thing to do is indicative of spiritual ignorance. The expression “gave them up” (cf. vv. 24, 26) appears to indicate that God not only turned them over to their sinful ways, but also to the consequences that such behaviour naturally brings (cf. v. 27).

2Thes 1:7b-8 ... when the Lord Jesus is revealed from heaven with his mighty angels ⁸in flaming fire, inflicting vengeance on those who do not know God and on those who do not obey the gospel of our Lord Jesus. ☞

d) Spiritual Ignorance (II): Knowledge Lacked

The assertions contained in the subheadings in this section are typically true of ungodly people. Having said this, not all ungodly people and unbelievers are totally ignorant of all the things mentioned here. For example many are aware of aspects of the Bible's teaching about God's judgment, and some consider it to be at least a possibility.

Job 18:21 Surely such are the dwellings of the unrighteous, such is the place of him who knows not God. 📖

Jer 9:6 Heaping oppression upon oppression, and deceit upon deceit, they refuse to know me, declares the LORD. 📖

Isa 1:2-3 Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth; for the LORD has spoken: "Children^a have I reared and brought up, but they have rebelled against me. ³*The ox knows its owner, and the donkey its master's crib, but Israel does not know, my people do not understand.*" 📖

^a Or Sons; also verse 4

Wayward Israel did not know God (cf. NCV) – their master, the one who cared for them.

John 1:10 He was in the world, and the world was made through him, yet the world did not know him. 📖

When Jesus came largely people did not recognize him as the Messiah – they "did not know him".

John 8:19, 55 They said to him therefore, "Where is your Father?" Jesus answered, "You know neither me nor my Father. If you knew me, you would know my Father also." 📖 ... ⁵⁵*But you have not known him. I know him. If I were to say that I do not know him, I would be a liar like you, but I do know him and I keep his word.* 📖

The ungodliness of the Jews was exhibited by their rejection of Jesus (cf. vv. 48, 52-53, 57, 59) and his description of them as liars (v. 55). As such, they did not know God or him.

John 14:17 ... even the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it neither sees him nor knows him. You know him, for he dwells with you and will be in you. 📖

John 17:25 O righteous Father, even though the world does not know you, I know you, and these know that you have sent me. 📖

Acts 17:23 For as I passed along and observed the objects of your worship, I found also an altar with this inscription, 'To the unknown god.' What therefore you worship as unknown, this I proclaim to you. 📖

In their spiritual ignorance and ungodliness, the Athenians in fact worshipped numerous gods. Here Paul uses their altar to "the unknown god" to highlight the fact that they did not know the true God.

1Cor 1:21 For since, in the wisdom of God, the world did not know God through wisdom, it pleased God through the folly of what we preach to save those who believe. 📖

Job 21:15 What is the Almighty, that we should serve him? And what profit do we get if we pray to him? 📖

In not knowing God, along with failing to serve him, people do not know critical things about him – as illustrated in the following verses (cf. Matt 2:29 ↓).

Mic 4:12 But they do not know the thoughts of the LORD; they do not understand his plan, that he has gathered them as sheaves to the threshing floor. 📖

Isa 29:16 You turn things upside down! Shall the potter be regarded as the clay, that the thing made should say of its maker, "He did not make me"; or the thing formed say of him who formed it, "He has no understanding"?

In their sinful ignorance, many of Israel's leaders very much underestimated God's sovereignty, power and understanding.

Ps 14:1 The fool says in his heart, "There is no God." They are corrupt, they do abominable deeds, there is none who does good.

Further to not knowing God, sinful fools even deny that there is a God.

✦ Not knowing God, the ungodly do not recognize God's people:

1Jn 3:1 See what kind of love the Father has given to us, that we should be called children of God; and so we are. The reason why the world does not know us is that it did not know him.

Note that "not know him" could refer to Jesus Christ rather than to God.

The ungodly do not comprehend God's word

Matt 22:29 But Jesus answered them, "You are wrong, because you know neither the Scriptures nor the power of God.

Here Jesus is addressing the Sadducees, who were – to some extent at least – ignorant of the Scriptures, not understanding them (cf. NASB).

John 5:39-40 You search the Scriptures because you think that in them you have eternal life; and it is they that bear witness about me, ⁴⁰*yet you refuse to come to me that you may have life.*

Although they diligently studied the Scriptures, the Jewish leaders – who had in fact become in many ways ungodly – did not comprehend that the Scriptures spoke about Jesus, the way to life.

Acts 13:27 For those who live in Jerusalem and their rulers, because they did not recognize him nor understand the utterances of the prophets, which are read every Sabbath, fulfilled them by condemning him.

The people and their rulers were oblivious to the fact that by condemning Jesus they actually fulfilled the Scriptures that were read to them every week.

2Cor 3:14-16 But their minds were hardened. For to this day, when they read the old covenant, that same veil remains unlifted, because only through Christ is it taken away. ¹⁵*Yes, to this day whenever Moses is read a veil lies over their hearts.* ¹⁶*But when one^b turns to the Lord, the veil is removed.*

^b Greek he

When listening to the old covenant being read, the people's minds and hearts were "covered" so that they could not see the significance of the old covenant, with its transitory nature probably being one aspect that Paul had foremost in mind.

✦ Some parts of God's word are hard to understand, which ignorant people distort:

2Pet 3:16 ... as he [Paul] does in all his letters when he speaks in them of these matters. There are some things in them that are hard to understand, which the ignorant and unstable twist to their own destruction, as they do the other Scriptures.

The ungodly do not know how God wants them to live . . .

Ps 95:10 For forty years I loathed that generation and said, "They are a people who go astray in their heart, and they have not known my ways."

Job 21:14 They say to God, 'Depart from us! We do not desire the knowledge of your ways.

Jer 8:7 Even the stork in the heavens knows her times, and the turtledove, swallow, and crane^c keep the time of their coming, but my people know not the rules^d of the LORD.

^c The meaning of the Hebrew word is uncertain

^d Or just decrees

Hos 4:6 My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge; because you have rejected knowledge, I reject you from being a priest to me. And since you have forgotten the law of your God, I also will forget your children.

The ungodly people and priests were ignorant of God's law and hence his will for how they should live. This was in part at least due to the priests willfully rejecting such knowledge and ignoring God's law, and thus failing to teach it to the people.

Jer 4:22b They are 'wise'—in doing evil! But how to do good they know not.

This and the following verses refer to aspects of how God wants people to live that the ungodly do not know nor understand.

Amos 3:10 "They do not know how to do right," declares the LORD, "those who store up violence and robbery in their strongholds."

Prov 28:5 Evil men do not understand justice, but those who seek the LORD understand it completely.

... and they do not know or understand many other spiritual truths

Luke 19:42-44 ... saying, "Would that you, even you, had known on this day the things that make for peace! But now they are hidden from your eyes. ⁴³For the days will come upon you, when your enemies will set up a barricade around you and surround you and hem you in on every side ⁴⁴and tear you down to the ground, you and your children within you. And they will not leave one stone upon another in you, because you did not know the time of your visitation."

The time of their "visitation" (v. 44b) was the time of God's intervention, providing salvation and the opportunity for peace (v. 42).

John 10:2, 6 But he who enters by the door is the shepherd of the sheep. ... ⁶*This figure of speech Jesus used with them, but they did not understand what he was saying to them.*

The people did not understand the spiritual truth illustrated by Jesus Christ's allegory of the Good Shepherd (cf. vv. 1-5). Note that Jesus thus expounded this teaching (cf. vv. 7-18), but many still could not see the spiritual truth behind it (cf. vv. 19-20).

Rom 10:3 For, being ignorant of the righteousness of God, and seeking to establish their own, they did not submit to God's righteousness.

1Cor 2:7-8 But we impart a secret and hidden wisdom of God, which God decreed before the ages for our glory. ⁸*None of the rulers of this age understood this, for if they had, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory.*

The "secret and hidden wisdom of God" (v. 7) appears to refer to God's plan of salvation through Jesus Christ.

1Cor 2:14 The natural person does not accept the things of the Spirit of God, for they are folly to him, and he is not able to understand them because they are spiritually discerned.

This is most likely speaking primarily of spiritual "truths" (NCV™, NLT).

2Tim 3:6-7 For among them are those who creep into households and capture weak women, burdened with sins and led astray by various passions, ⁷always learning and never able to arrive at a knowledge of the truth.

Those spoken of were keen to learn and they apparently found attractive whatever new ideas – notably heresies – that they came across. But they could not acknowledge the truth.

2Pet 3:5 For they deliberately overlook this fact, that the heavens existed long ago, and the earth was formed out of water and through water by the word of God, ...

This appears to be an example of ungodly people deliberately choosing to ignore spiritual truth.

✦ Failure to interpret "the signs of the times":

Matt 16:3 And in the morning, 'It will be stormy today, for the sky is red and threatening.' You know how to interpret the appearance of the sky, but you cannot interpret the signs of the times.

The "signs of the times" most likely refers to signs that marked Jesus as the Messiah and possibly also the coming of God's kingdom. Most of these were fulfillment of prophecies of which the Jews would have been quite aware as they waited for the promised Messiah.

The ungodly are ignorant of and deceived about their sin

Ps 36:1-2 Transgression speaks to the wicked deep in his heart;^e there is no fear of God before his eyes. ²For he flatters himself in his own eyes that his iniquity cannot be found out and hated.

^e Some Hebrew manuscripts, Syriac, Jerome (compare Septuagint); most Hebrew manuscripts in my heart

Verse 2 may mean that the wicked flatter themselves and so do not see their sin (cf. CEV, NCV, NIV, NLT) – hence the inclusion of these verses here. Alternatively it may mean that they flatter themselves in telling themselves that their sin will not be found out (cf. GNT) – which would mean that these verses would be better placed below in The ungodly are skeptical of God knowing their deeds and of his judgment . . .

Prov 30:12 There are those who are clean in their own eyes but are not washed of their filth.

Prov 30:20 This is the way of an adulteress: she eats and wipes her mouth and says, “I have done no wrong.”

Jer 2:34-35 Also on your skirts is found the lifeblood of the guiltless poor; you did not find them breaking in. Yet in spite of all these things ³⁵you say, ‘I am innocent; surely his anger has turned from me.’ Behold, I will bring you to judgment for saying, ‘I have not sinned.’

1Jn 1:8, 10 If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us.  ... ¹⁰If we say we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

Those without the truth (v. 8b) and God’s word (v. 10b) are typically deceived about and/or unaware of their sin – or at least the extent of it.

The ungodly are misguided about their standing with God and Jesus Christ

Isa 58:2-4 Yet they seek me daily and delight to know my ways, as if they were a nation that did righteousness and did not forsake the judgment of their God; they ask of me righteous judgments; they delight to draw near to God. ³Why have we fasted, and you see it not? Why have we humbled ourselves, and you take no knowledge of it?’ Behold, in the day of your fast you seek your own pleasure,^f and oppress all your workers. ⁴Behold, you fast only to quarrel and to fight and to hit with a wicked fist. Fasting like yours this day will not make your voice to be heard on high.

Jer 7:9-11 Will you steal, murder, commit adultery, swear falsely, make offerings to Baal, and go after other gods that you have not known, ¹⁰and then come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and say, ‘We are delivered!’—only to go on doing all these abominations? ¹¹Has this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, I myself have seen it, declares the LORD.

Mic 3:11 Its heads give judgment for a bribe; its priests teach for a price; its prophets practice divination for money; yet they lean on the LORD and say, “Is not the LORD in the midst of us? No disaster shall come upon us.”

Matt 7:21-23 Not everyone who says to me, ‘Lord, Lord,’ will enter the kingdom of heaven, but the one who does the will of my Father who is in heaven. ²²On that day many will say to me, ‘Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name, and cast out demons in your name, and do many mighty works in your name?’ ²³And then will I declare to them, ‘I never knew you; depart from me, you workers of lawlessness.’

Luke 13:25-27 When once the master of the house has risen and shut the door, and you begin to stand outside and to knock at the door, saying, ‘Lord, open to us,’ then he will answer you, ‘I do not know where you come from.’ ²⁶Then you will begin to say, ‘We ate and drank in your presence, and you taught in our streets.’ ²⁷But he will say, ‘I tell you, I do not know where you come from. Depart from me, all you workers of evil!’

The owner of the house depicts Jesus (cf. Matt 7:22), rejecting the ungodly at the last judgment.

John 8:39-42, 47 They answered him, “Abraham is our father.” Jesus said to them, “If you were Abraham’s children, you would be doing the works Abraham did, ⁴⁰but now you seek to kill me, a man who has told you the truth that I heard from God. This is not what Abraham did. ⁴¹You are doing the works your father did.” They said to him, “We were not born of sexual immorality. We have one Father—even God.” ⁴²Jesus said to them, “If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me.  ... ⁴⁷Whoever is of God hears the words of God. The reason why you do not hear them is that you are not of God.”

Rom 2:17-21 But if you call yourself a Jew and rely on the law and boast in God ¹⁸and know his will and approve what is excellent, because you are instructed from the law; ¹⁹and if you are sure that you yourself are a guide to the blind, a light to those who are in darkness, ²⁰an instructor of the foolish, a teacher of children, having in the law the embodiment of knowledge and truth— ²¹you then who teach others, do you not teach yourself? While you preach against stealing, do you steal?

The phrase “boast in God” (v. 17) speaks of boasting of their relationship to God (cf. NCV, NIV, NLT, NRSV). Like the Jews in view here, anyone who hypocritically breaks God’s law (v. 21) and yet relies on it and their heritage for a sound relationship with God (vv. 17-20) is in fact ignorant of their true standing with God.

✦ The Laodiceans’ ignorance of their poor spiritual condition:

Rev 3:17 For you say, I am rich, I have prospered, and I need nothing, not realizing that you are wretched, pitiable, poor, blind, and naked.

The Laodiceans boasted in their material prosperity, but were ignorant of their poor spiritual condition.

The ungodly are skeptical of God knowing their deeds and of his judgment

Ps 10:6, 11, 13 He [the wicked man] says in his heart, “I shall not be moved; throughout all generations I shall not meet adversity.”  ... ¹¹*He says in his heart, “God has forgotten, he has hidden his face, he will never see it.”*  ... ¹³*Why does the wicked renounce God and say in his heart, “You will not call to account?”*

Ps 94:6-7 They kill the widow and the sojourner, and murder the fatherless; ⁷and they say, “The LORD does not see; the God of Jacob does not perceive.”

Isa 29:15 Ah, you who hide deep from the LORD your counsel, whose deeds are in the dark, and who say, “Who sees us? Who knows us?”

The Hebrew translated here as “Ah” is sometimes translated as “Woe” (AMP, NASB, NIV, NKJV). It points with a sense of alarm to coming grave trouble and misery. Here it signals the judgment that awaits the people in view.

Jer 5:12 They [false prophets] have spoken falsely of the LORD and have said, ‘He will do nothing; no disaster will come upon us, nor shall we see sword or famine.’

Hos 7:2 But they do not consider that I remember all their evil. Now their deeds surround them; they are before my face.

2Pet 3:3-7 ... knowing this first of all, that scoffers will come in the last days with scoffing, following their own sinful desires. ⁴They will say, “Where is the promise of his coming? For ever since the fathers fell asleep, all things are continuing as they were from the beginning of creation.” ⁵For they deliberately overlook this fact, that the heavens existed long ago, and the earth was formed out of water and through water by the word of God, ⁶and that by means of these the world that then existed was deluged with water and perished. ⁷But by the same word the heavens and earth that now exist are stored up for fire, being kept until the day of judgment and destruction of the ungodly.

In the light of vv. 5-6, Peter may be presenting the scoffing at the prophesied “coming” of Jesus Christ (vv. 3-4) as being inclusive of the subsequent judgment (v. 7) – i.e. Peter may well be speaking of people scoffing at both the teaching of Jesus Christ’s return and the day of judgment.

Note that the last statement in v. 19 may be speaking of the rest of the people also suffering as a result of such a person.

Deut 32:28-29 For they are a nation void of counsel, and there is no understanding in them. ²⁹*If they were wise, they would understand this; they would discern their latter end!*

What a desolation she has become, a lair for wild beasts! Everyone who passes by her hisses and shakes his fist.

✦ Even the significance of God's punishment can elude the ungodly:

Isa 42:25 So he poured on him the heat of his anger and the might of battle; it set him on fire all around, but he did not understand; it burned him up, but he did not take it to heart.

The hard-hearted people did not grasp the significance and implications of God's punishment of them.

Understanding and insight . . .

See also:

- Deut 32:29

Understanding and discernment (the topic of the following subsection) are key components of wisdom. As such, having wisdom means that one possesses these characteristics, which are great blessings.

Prov 1:1-2 The proverbs of Solomon, son of David, king of Israel: ²To know wisdom and instruction, to understand words of insight, ...

Prov 2:9-11 Then you will understand righteousness and justice and equity, every good path; ¹⁰for wisdom will come into your heart, and knowledge will be pleasant to your soul; ¹¹discretion will watch over you, understanding will guard you, ...

Prov 3:13 Blessed is the one who finds wisdom, and the one who gets understanding, ...

Prov 8:14 [Wisdom:] I have counsel and sound wisdom; I have insight; I have strength.

The speaker here is Wisdom personified (cf. Prov 9:4-6 ↓). Those who respond to Wisdom gain the attributes associated with her.

Prov 9:1, 4-6 *Wisdom has built her house; she has hewn her seven pillars. ...⁴“Whoever is simple, let him turn in here!” To him who lacks sense she [Wisdom] says,⁵“Come, eat of my bread and drink of the wine I have mixed.* ⁶*Leave your simple ways,ⁱ and live, and walk in the way of insight.”*

ⁱ Or Leave the company of the simple

Note that v. 1 speaks figuratively of Wisdom providing a sound or complete structure – with “seven” symbolizing completeness – within which one can successfully live one’s life (v. 6). For therein is insight for anyone who lacks sense (v. 4).

Prov 10:13 On the lips of him who has understanding, wisdom is found, but a rod is for the back of him who lacks sense.

Prov 14:33 Wisdom rests in the heart of a man of understanding, but it makes itself known even in the midst of fools.^j

^j Or Wisdom rests quietly in the heart of a man of understanding, but makes itself known in the midst of fools

Dan 12:10 Many shall purify themselves and make themselves white and be refined, but the wicked shall act wickedly. And none of the wicked shall understand, but those who are wise shall understand.

Note that the reference is to the end times (cf. vv. 1, 7), involving both purification of many of God’s people (through trials) and continuing wickedness.

Hos 14:9 Whoever is wise, let him understand these things; whoever is discerning, let him know them; for the ways of the LORD are right, and the upright walk in them, but transgressors stumble in them.

The second part of the verse is saying that the ways of the LORD for his people to live are right; the righteous follow them, but the rebellious stumble into trouble as a result of not obeying them. The earlier phrase “these things” probably refers to the preceding teachings and prophecies, but could also refer to the second part of the verse – which is somewhat of a conclusion to the book. The wise understand such things and act accordingly.

Est 1:13 Then the king said to the wise men who knew the times (for this was the king’s procedure toward all who were versed in law and judgment, ...

These wise men “understood the times” (NASB, NIV, NKJV).

... and discernment

Prov 16:21 The wise of heart is called discerning, and sweetness of speech increases persuasiveness.

Prov 14:8 The wisdom of the prudent is to discern his way, but the folly of fools is deceiving.

The prudent are wise in that they can discern the best way ahead, i.e. “what to do” (GNT, NCV).

Gen 41:33, 39 Now therefore let Pharaoh select a discerning and wise man, and set him over the land of Egypt. ...³⁹Then Pharaoh said to Joseph, “Since God has shown you all this, there is none so discerning and wise as you are.

Deut 32:29 If they were wise, they would understand this; they would discern their latter end!

1Ki 3:12b [God, to Solomon] Behold, I give you a wise and discerning mind, so that none like you has been before you and none like you shall arise after you.

1Cor 1:19 For it is written, “I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and the discernment of the discerning I will thwart.”

Despite its negative context, this still associates wisdom with discernment.

‡ With wisdom one can give good advice:

Prov 8:14a I have counsel and sound wisdom ...

Prudence and discretion

Prov 1:1-4 The proverbs of Solomon, son of David, king of Israel: ²*To know wisdom and instruction*, to understand words of insight, ³*to receive instruction in wise dealing*, in righteousness, justice, and equity; ⁴*to give prudence to the simple, knowledge and discretion to the youth—*

Prov 2:10-11 ... for wisdom will come into your heart, and knowledge will be pleasant to your soul; ¹¹*discretion will watch over you*, understanding will guard you, ...

Prov 3:21 My son, do not lose sight of these— keep sound wisdom and discretion, ...

Prov 5:1-2 My son, be attentive to my wisdom; incline your ear to my understanding, ²that you may keep discretion, and your lips may guard knowledge.

Prov 8:5 [Wisdom:] O simple ones, learn prudence; O fools, learn sense.

Prov 8:12 I, wisdom, dwell with prudence, and I find knowledge and discretion.

2Chr 2:12 Hiram also said, “Blessed be the LORD God of Israel, who made heaven and earth, who has given King David a wise son, who has discretion and understanding, who will build a temple for the LORD and a royal palace for himself.”

Dan 2:13-14 So the decree went out, and the wise men were about to be killed; and they sought Daniel and his companions, to kill them. ¹⁴Then Daniel replied with prudence and discretion to Arioch, the captain of the king’s guard, who had gone out to kill the wise men of Babylon.

Daniel, as one of the wise men, spoke with prudence and discretion.

A wise person knows the right time and the right way for all that is to be done. Note that the preceding verses speak of knowledge as in knowing about things, whereas this and the following verses speak of knowing or discerning the best course of action. As such these later verses are also pertinent to the preceding subsection regarding discernment.

‡ Wise people “have eyes in their head”:

Eccl 2:14a The wise person has his eyes in his head, but the fool walks in darkness.

The expression “has eyes in his head” suggests foresight as well as, more generally, knowledge and understanding.

Prov 8:6-9, 15, 20 [Wisdom:] Hear, for I will speak noble things, and from my lips will come what is right, ⁷for my mouth will utter truth; wickedness is an abomination to my lips. ⁸All the words of my mouth are righteous; there is nothing twisted or crooked in them. ⁹They are all straight to him who understands, and right to those who find knowledge. ... ¹⁵By me kings reign, and rulers decree what is just; ... ²⁰I walk in the way of righteousness, in the paths of justice, ...

One who is wise, in accordance with Wisdom, speaks and does what is righteous and just.

Prov 15:21 Folly is a joy to him who lacks sense, but a man of understanding walks straight ahead.

Walking “straight ahead” means doing “what is right” (GNT, NCV).

Prov 24:23 These also are sayings of the wise. Partiality in judging is not good.

Those who are wise abide by such “sayings of the wise” – avoiding such unjust things as bias in judging.

1Ki 3:9, 28 Give your servant therefore an understanding mind to govern your people, that I may discern between good and evil, for who is able to govern this your great people?
... ²⁸And all Israel heard of the judgment that the king had rendered, and they stood in awe of the king, because they perceived that the wisdom of God was in him to do justice.

1Ki 10:8-9 Happy are your men! Happy are your servants, who continually stand before you and hear your wisdom! ⁹Blessed be the LORD your God, who has delighted in you and set you on the throne of Israel! Because the LORD loved Israel forever, he has made you king, that you may execute justice and righteousness.

The Queen of Sheba appears to associate executing “justice and righteousness” (v. 9) with wisdom (v. 8).

Adhering to “sound wisdom and discernment” (v. 21) leads to the blessings listed here.

Prov 11:9 With his mouth the godless man would destroy his neighbor, but by knowledge the righteous are delivered.

Prov 14:3 By the mouth of a fool comes a rod for his back,^p but the lips of the wise will preserve them.

Prov 22:3, 12 The prudent sees danger and hides himself, but the simple go on and suffer for it. ... ¹²*The eyes of the LORD keep watch over knowledge, but he overthrows the words of the traitor.*

Some interpret v. 12a as saying that God watches over those (cf. CEV) who have knowledge; as such it is pertinent to this subsection. Alternatively it may be meaning that God vindicates the truth (cf. GNT).

Prov 28:26 Whoever trusts in his own mind is a fool, but he who walks in wisdom will be delivered.

Ecc 7:12 For the protection of wisdom is like the protection of money, and the advantage of knowledge is that wisdom preserves the life of him who has it.

This appears to portray wisdom as providing more effective or more complete protection than money, probably alluding to aspects of life in which money cannot protect one.

Prov 4:11-12 I have taught you the way of wisdom; I have led you in the paths of uprightness. ¹²*When you walk, your step will not be hampered, and if you run, you will not stumble.*

Living in the way of wisdom helps to make the path of one’s life relatively free of obstacles and pitfalls, with v. 12 implying that nothing will “hold you back; you will not be overwhelmed” (NCV™).

Prov 3:17 Her ways are ways of pleasantness, and all her paths are peace.

Living in accordance with wisdom brings one peace and safety (cf. GNT, NCV).

Verses 16, 18 speak of Wisdom personified. The metaphor “tree of life” (v. 18) – probably alluding to the tree of life in the Garden of Eden – portrays wisdom as a source of a full and enduring life. The other references to “life” in this subsection likewise have this in view.

Prov 4:10-11, 13, 20-22 Hear, my son, and accept my words, that the years of your life may be many. ¹¹*I have taught you the way of wisdom; I have led you in the paths of uprightness.*  ... ¹³*Keep hold of instruction; do not let go; guard her, for she is your life.*  ... ²⁰*My son, be attentive to my words; incline your ear to my sayings.* ²¹*Let them not escape from your sight; keep them within your heart.* ²²*For they are life to those who find them, and healing to all their^a flesh.*

Prov 13:14 The teaching of the wise is a fountain of life, that one may turn away from the snares of death.

Prov 16:22 Good sense is a fountain of life to him who has it, but the instruction of fools is folly.

Prov 15:24 The path of life leads upward for the prudent, that he may turn away from Sheol beneath.

The wise walk the “path of life” – a path that leads upward to life (cf. CEV, GNT), as opposed to downwards to the grave.

✦ Wisdom gives one sound hope for the future:

Prov 24:14 Know that wisdom is such to your soul; if you find it, there will be a future, and your hope will not be cut off.

Ecc 7:19 Wisdom gives strength to the wise man more than ten rulers who are in a city.

Prov 21:22 A wise man scales the city of the mighty and brings down the stronghold in which they trust.

Prov 30:24-28 Four things on earth are small, but they are exceedingly wise: ²⁵the ants are a people not strong, yet they provide their food in the summer; ²⁶the rock badgers are a people not mighty, yet they make their homes in the cliffs; ²⁷the locusts have no king, yet all of them march in rank; ²⁸the lizard you can take in your hands, yet it is in kings' palaces.

Wisdom enables small creatures to succeed in accomplishing or doing things seemingly beyond their strength or ability. The same can be said about wise people.

Ecc 9:14-16, 18 There was a little city with few men in it, and a great king came against it and besieged it, building great siegeworks against it. ¹⁵*But there was found in it a poor, wise man, and he by his wisdom delivered the city.* Yet no one remembered that poor man. ¹⁶*But I say that wisdom is better than might, though the poor man's wisdom is despised and his words are not heard.*  ... ¹⁸*Wisdom is better than weapons of war, but one sinner destroys much good.*

Wisdom is more powerful than military might (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV).

Ecc 10:10 If the iron is blunt, and one does not sharpen the edge, he must use more strength, but wisdom helps one to succeed. ^r

^r Or wisdom is an advantage for success

Prov 16:14, 23 A king's wrath is a messenger of death, and a wise man will appease it.  ... ²³*The heart of the wise makes his speech judicious and adds persuasiveness to his lips.*

Prov 20:5 The purpose in a man's heart is like deep water, but a man of understanding will draw it out.

A person's purposes are like deep waters in that they are hard to fathom or discern, even to the person themselves. But a wise counselor can successfully draw them out.

Dan 2:14 Then Daniel replied with prudence and discretion to Arioch, the captain of the king's guard, who had gone out to kill the wise men of Babylon.

Daniel's wise response enabled him to persuade Arioch to not immediately put him and the other wise men to death, and so allowed him the opportunity to save himself and the others – which he did with God's help (cf. vv. 17-49).

Acts 6:10 But they could not withstand the wisdom and the Spirit with which he was speaking.

Wisdom in speech successfully counteracts one's adversaries.

Prov 24:3-4 By wisdom a house is built, and by understanding it is established; ⁴by knowledge the rooms are filled with all precious and pleasant riches.

The "house" may be a literal house, or it may symbolize a family or possibly an individual's life. Note that somewhat similarly 14:1 says, "The wisest of women builds her house, but folly with her own hands tears it down."

Ezek 28:4 ...by your wisdom and your understanding you have made wealth for yourself, and have gathered gold and silver into your treasuries; ...

The King of Tyre is being addressed. Note that in the end his wisdom was of no use as his wealth caused him to become proud (cf. v. 5) and so led to his downfall.

Prov 17:2 A servant who deals wisely will rule over a son who acts shamefully and will share the inheritance as one of the brothers.

Prov 4:8-9 Prize her [Wisdom] highly, and she will exalt you; she will honor you if you embrace her. ⁹*She will place on your head a graceful garland; she will bestow on you a beautiful crown.*

A "garland" is a wreath, signifying honor. As such v. 9 speaks of wisdom bringing those who possess her, a spiritual beauty in conjunction with honor.

Prov 12:8 A man is commended according to his good sense, but one of twisted mind is despised.

‡ The value of a good name:

Prov 22:1 A good name is to be chosen rather than great riches, and favor is better than silver or gold.

Similarly Ecclesiastes 7:1a says, "A good name is better than precious ointment ..."

Further blessings of wisdom

Prov 3:17 Her ways are ways of pleasantness, and all her paths are peace.

Living in accordance with wisdom makes life pleasant – and produces peace.

Prov 8:17, 32, 34-35 [Wisdom:] I love those who love me, and those who seek me diligently find me.  ... ³²*And now, O sons, listen to me: blessed are those who keep my ways.*  ... ³⁴*Blessed is the one who listens to me, watching daily at my gates, waiting beside my doors.* ³⁵*For whoever finds me finds life and obtains favor from the LORD, ...*

Verse 17a implies that Wisdom embraces those who love her, bringing or bestowing all her benefits on them.

Prov 9:12 If you are wise, you are wise for yourself; if you scoff, you alone will bear it.

The first clause suggests that wise people are rewarded by their wisdom (cf. GNT, NCV, NIV, NLT).

Prov 13:15 Good sense wins favor, but the way of the treacherous is their ruin.^t

^t Probable reading (compare Septuagint, Syriac, Vulgate); Hebrew is rugged, or is an enduring rut

Favor or respect (cf. GNT, NLT) from people is in view here, rather than “favor from the LORD” (Prov 8:35 ↑).

Prov 14:35 A servant who deals wisely has the king’s favor, but his wrath falls on one who acts shamefully.

Prov 15:20 A wise son makes a glad father, but a foolish man despises his mother.

The assertion that children who are wise bring joy to their parents is also mentioned elsewhere in Proverbs (cf. 23:15-16, 24-25; 27:11; 29:3). See also . . . and children can bring their parents much joy, p. 1715.

Prov 19:8 Whoever gets sense loves his own soul; he who keeps understanding will discover good.

The first clause indicates that wisdom is good for one’s soul.

Prov 19:11 Good sense makes one slow to anger, and it is his glory to overlook an offense.

Prov 22:17-19 Incline your ear, and hear the words of the wise, and apply your heart to my knowledge,¹⁸ for it will be pleasant if you keep them within you, if all of them are ready on your lips. ¹⁹That your trust may be in the LORD, I have made them known to you today, even to you.

Further to the benefit mentioned in v. 18, it can be inferred from v. 19 that wisdom leads to trusting in God.

Prov 24:13-14 My son, eat honey, for it is good, and the drippings of the honeycomb are sweet to your taste. ¹⁴Know that wisdom is such to your soul; if you find it, there will be a future, and your hope will not be cut off.

Just as honey was/is considered good for one’s body and is sweet to one’s taste (v. 13), wisdom is both good for and pleasant to one’s soul (v. 14).

Ecc 7:11 Wisdom is good with an inheritance, an advantage to those who see the sun.

Note that “those who see the sun” refers to living people.

Ecc 8:1 Who is like the wise? And who knows the interpretation of a thing? A man’s wisdom makes his face shine, and the hardness of his face is changed.

The last sentence appears to indicate that wisdom brings cheerfulness and lightens an otherwise hard or dour demeanor. Note that there are variations on this interpretation.

Dan 12:3 And those who are wise shall shine like the brightness of the sky above;^u and those who turn many to righteousness, like the stars forever and ever.

^u Hebrew the expanse; compare Genesis 1:6-8

The clause “shine like the brightness of the sky above” – as with “like the stars forever and ever” – most likely refers to the glorification of God’s people in the afterlife.

James 3:13 Who is wise and understanding among you? By his good conduct let him show his works in the meekness of wisdom.

Wisdom brings meekness.

‡ Those who are wise win souls:

Prov 11:30 The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life, and whoever captures souls is wise.

Note that there is doubt over the Hebrew text of the clause in question (cf. GNT, NRSV).

1Cor 7:1-2, 8-9 Now concerning the matters about which you wrote: "It is good for a man not to have sexual relations with a woman." ²But because of the temptation to sexual immorality, each man should have his own wife and each woman her own husband.  ... ⁸*To the unmarried and the widows I say that it is good for them to remain single as I am.* ⁹*But if they cannot exercise self-control, they should marry. For it is better to marry than to burn with passion.*

In v. 2 Paul apparently is referring to extensive sexual sin that was prevalent in Corinth at the time. He raises this immorality as a reason to have one's own spouse, to satisfy one's sexual desires (cf. vv. 3-5) and so to help avoid the immorality. In v. 8, Paul may have in mind staying single so as to be devoted to God's kingdom (cf. v. 7 ↴; vv. 32-35 ↴) and/or for one's own sake (cf. vv. 26-28 ↴; 39-40 ↴). Regarding Paul's advice in v. 9, obviously people should marry someone whom they are also compatible with, rather than simply someone for whom they "burn with passion".

1Cor 7:25-28 Now concerning^a the betrothed,^b I have no command from the Lord, but I give my judgment as one who by the Lord's mercy is trustworthy. ²⁶*I think that in view of the present^c distress it is good for a person to remain as he is.* ²⁷*Are you bound to a wife? Do not seek to be free. Are you free from a wife? Do not seek a wife.* ²⁸But if you do marry, you have not sinned, and if a betrothed woman^d marries, she has not sinned. Yet those who marry will have worldly troubles, and I would spare you that.

^a The expression Now concerning introduces a reply to a question in the Corinthians' letter; see 7:1

^b Greek virgins

^c Or impending

^d Greek virgin; also verse 34

The "present distress" (v. 26) may have been a time of harsh persecution or a general social upheaval – both of which could bring "troubles" (v. 28) to couples in particular. The subsequent verses (vv. 27-28) may then contain Paul's advice and comments regarding such a time, rather than teaching that is as pertinent to all situations. Alternatively, the "present distress" has been taken to refer to the continual antagonism of the world against Christians and even to allude to the end of the age (cf. vv. 29-31).

1Cor 7:36-38 If anyone thinks that he is not behaving properly toward his betrothed,^e if his^f passions are strong, and it has to be, let him do as he wishes: let them marry—it is no sin. ³⁷*But whoever is firmly established in his heart, being under no necessity but having his desire under control, and has determined this in his heart, to keep her as his betrothed, he will do well.* ³⁸*So then he who marries his betrothed does well, and he who refrains from marriage will do even better.*

^e Greek virgin; also verses 37, 38

^f Or her

In v. 36, "not behaving properly toward his betrothed" possibly refers to a situation where "she is getting along in years" and it may well seem unfair to not marry her. Alternatively it may be speaking of a man having trouble controlling his passions (cf. v. 9 ↑), which may well be in view with the expression "having his desire under control" (v. 37).

1Cor 7:39-40 A wife is bound to her husband as long as he lives. But if her husband dies, she is free to be married to whom she wishes, only in the Lord. ⁴⁰*Yet in my judgment she is happier if she remains as she is.* And I think that I too have the Spirit of God.

Paul's judgment that a widow would be happier if she did not remarry appears to correlate with his opinion regarding others who are single getting married (cf. v. 8 ↑; v. 28b ↑; v. 32 ↓).

1Tim 5:11-14 But refuse to enroll younger widows, for *when their passions draw them away from Christ, they desire to marry*¹² and so incur condemnation for having abandoned their former faith.¹³ Besides that, they learn to be idlers, going about from house to house, and not only idlers, but also gossips and busybodies, saying what they should not.¹⁴ So I would have younger widows marry, bear children, manage their households, and give the adversary no occasion for slander.

The phrase "their former faith" (v. 12) may well refer to a pledge (cf. AMP, CEV, GNT, NASB, NCV, NIV, NLT, NRSV), most likely some pledge of dedication to Christ apparently taken by widows on being enrolled on a list (v. 11) of widows cared for by the church. To marry afterwards would render them guilty of breaking such a pledge (v. 12). Considering their sensual passions (v. 11) and the idleness that was often the lot of young widows in Paul's day (v. 13), Paul thought it best for younger widows to remarry.

... Forsaking marriage for God and Jesus Christ

Matt 19:3-12 And Pharisees came up to him and tested him by asking, "Is it lawful to divorce one's wife for any cause?"⁴ He answered, "Have you not read that he who created them from the beginning made them male and female,⁵ and said, 'Therefore a man shall leave his father and his mother and hold fast to his wife, and the two shall become one flesh'?⁶ So they are no longer two but one flesh. What therefore God has joined together, let not man separate."⁷ They said to him, "Why then did Moses command one to give a certificate of divorce and to send her away?"⁸ He said to them, "Because of your hardness of heart Moses allowed you to divorce your wives, but from the beginning it was not so."⁹ And I say to you: whoever divorces his wife, except for sexual immorality, and marries another, commits adultery."¹⁰ The disciples said to him, "If such is the case of a man with his wife, it is better not to marry."¹¹ But he said to them, "Not everyone can receive this saying, but only those to whom it is given."¹² For there are eunuchs who have been so from birth, and there are eunuchs who have been made eunuchs by men, and there are eunuchs who have made themselves eunuchs for the sake of the kingdom of heaven. Let the one who is able to receive this receive it."

⁸ Some manuscripts add and whoever marries a divorced woman commits adultery; other manuscripts except for sexual immorality, makes her commit adultery, and whoever marries a divorced woman commits adultery

In v. 11 "this saying" refers either to Jesus' teaching in vv. 6-9 or to the disciples' statement in v. 10 (the position a good number of commentators take). If the former view is correct, then v. 11 and the final statement in v. 12 are most likely referring to accepting the teaching about marrying with the firm intention to stay as one and not to divorce (vv. 6-9). If the latter view is correct, then these statements are probably referring to accepting the teaching about not marrying (vv. 10, 12) – primarily that those who are able to forgo marriage for the sake of being wholly committed to God's kingdom should do so.

1Cor 7:7 I wish that all were as I myself am. But each has his own gift from God, one of one kind and one of another.

Paul appears to be meaning that he wishes that all believers were unmarried like him (cf. v. 8 ↑) – for the sake of being devoted to God – with the gift to contentedly remain so. In saying this he acknowledges that believers have different gifts. Such a gift to contentedly remain unmarried is often referred to as "the gift of celibacy".

1Cor 7:32-35 I want you to be free from anxieties. The unmarried man is anxious about the things of the Lord, how to please the Lord.³³ But the married man is anxious about worldly things, how to please his wife,³⁴ and his interests are divided. And the unmarried or betrothed woman is anxious about the things of the Lord, how to be holy in body and spirit. But the married woman is anxious about worldly things, how to please her husband.³⁵ I say this for your own benefit, not to lay any restraint upon you, but to promote good order and to secure your undivided devotion to the Lord.

Do not marry outside of God's people – particularly as it can result in being led astray

2Cor 6:14-15 Do not be unequally yoked with unbelievers. For what partnership has righteousness with lawlessness? Or what fellowship has light with darkness?¹⁵ What accord has Christ with Belial?^h Or what portion does a believer share with an unbeliever?

^h Greek Beliar

Although very applicable to marriage (as per their inclusion here), bear in mind that the context shows that these verses are not actually referring specifically to marriage. Note that "Belial" is a term for Satan.

1Cor 7:39 A wife is bound to her husband as long as he lives. But if her husband dies, she is free to be married to whom she wishes, only in the Lord.

The phrase “only in the Lord” indicates that she should only marry a Christian (cf. AMP, CEV, GNT, NIV).

Deut 7:3-4 You shall not intermarry with them, giving your daughters to their sons or taking their daughters for your sons, ⁴for they would turn away your sons from following me, to serve other gods. Then the anger of the LORD would be kindled against you, and he would destroy you quickly.

Such warnings to Israel regarding intermarriage with pagan nations are at least to some extent applicable to believers marrying outside of God’s people, i.e. marrying a non-believer. For in doing so one runs the risk of compromising one’s devotion to God.

Ex 34:13-16 You shall tear down their altars and break their pillars and cut down their Asherim ¹⁴(for you shall worship no other god, for the LORD, whose name is Jealous, is a jealous God), ¹⁵lest you make a covenant with the inhabitants of the land, and when they whore after their gods and sacrifice to their gods and you are invited, you eat of his sacrifice, ¹⁶and you take of their daughters for your sons, and their daughters whore after their gods and make your sons whore after their gods.

Verse 16 suggests that inevitability intermarriage would lead to the Israelites worshiping the gods of such peoples, as some of the following references illustrate.

1Ki 11:1-6 Now King Solomon loved many foreign women, along with the daughter of Pharaoh: Moabite, Ammonite, Edomite, Sidonian, and Hittite women, ²from the nations concerning which the LORD had said to the people of Israel, “You shall not enter into marriage with them, neither shall they with you, for surely they will turn away your heart after their gods.” Solomon clung to these in love. ³He had 700 wives, princesses, and 300 concubines. And his wives turned away his heart. ⁴For when Solomon was old his wives turned away his heart after other gods, and his heart was not wholly true to the LORD his God, as was the heart of David his father. ⁵For Solomon went after Ashtoreth the goddess of the Sidonians, and after Milcom the abomination of the Ammonites. ⁶So Solomon did what was evil in the sight of the LORD and did not wholly follow the LORD, as David his father had done.

Ezra 9:1-2 After these things had been done, the officials approached me and said, “The people of Israel and the priests and the Levites have not separated themselves from the peoples of the lands with their abominations, from the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Jebusites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites. ²*For they have taken some of their daughters to be wives for themselves and for their sons, so that the holy raceⁱ has mixed itself with the peoples of the lands. And in this faithlessness the hand of the officials and chief men has been foremost.*”

Ezra 10:2, 11 And Shecaniah the son of Jehiel, of the sons of Elam, addressed Ezra: “We have broken faith with our God and have married foreign women from the peoples of the land, but even now there is hope for Israel in spite of this.” ... ¹¹*Now then make confession to the LORD, the God of your fathers and do his will. Separate yourselves from the peoples of the land and from the foreign wives.”*

Such was the need to keep the holy people (cf. Ezra 9:2 ↑) pure from corruptive foreign influences, Ezra told those who had intermarried with foreigners to separate themselves from their foreigners wives. In the light of 1 Corinthians 7:12-16, such a command would appear to be not necessarily applicable to believers who have married unbelievers – at least not where the believer married prior to coming to faith.

Neh 13:26-27 Did not Solomon king of Israel sin on account of such women? Among the many nations there was no king like him, and he was beloved by his God, and God made him king over all Israel. Nevertheless, foreign women made even him to sin. ²⁷Shall we then listen to you and do all this great evil and act treacherously against our God by marrying foreign women?

1Cor 7:2 But because of the temptation to sexual immorality, each man should have his own wife and each woman her own husband.

One can deduce from this that each man and woman should have only one spouse.

It can be inferred from these direct prohibitions against polygamy for leaders (cf. Titus 1:6 ↓), that it is wrong for all believers. The verses are from passages specifying what is required of leaders, which basically contain things that are relevant to all believers, things in which leaders are to be exemplary.

Titus 1:6 ... if anyone is above reproach, the husband of one wife,^l and his children are believers and not open to the charge of debauchery or insubordination.

^l Or a man of one woman

‡ The prohibition against kings taking many wives:

Deut 17:17 And he shall not acquire many wives for himself, lest his heart turn away, nor shall he acquire for himself excessive silver and gold.

This probably has primarily in view the problem of kings marrying foreign princesses, usually for political reasons, who would introduce their idols and false gods – tending to lead the king astray (as seen in the previous subsection).

Remarriage and adultery

The following verses teach that remarriage after divorce is adulterous, apart from where marital unfaithfulness is concerned (though some would debate this) and presumably also where a former spouse has died. (1 Corinthians 7:15 may indicate a further exception; see the comment on it below.) Such teaching applies to both one who divorces their spouse and one who is divorced by their spouse – and also for one who marries a divorced person (cf. Matt 5:32 ↓). Mark 10:11-12 indicates that the teaching applies to both male and females. Note that there is some debate as to what the term “sexual immorality” (Matt 5:32 ↓; Matt 19:9 ↓) precisely refers in this context. It quite likely includes adultery and may encompass some other sexual sins.

Matt 5:32 But I say to you that everyone who divorces his wife, except on the ground of sexual immorality, makes her commit adultery, and whoever marries a divorced woman commits adultery.

The assertion that a man who divorces his wife actually “makes her commit adultery”, may have in view the need and inevitability of remarriage for a woman in ancient times in order to have a means of provision.

Matt 19:9 And I say to you: whoever divorces his wife, except for sexual immorality, and marries another, commits adultery.”^m

^mSome manuscripts add and whoever marries a divorced woman commits adultery; other manuscripts except for sexual immorality, makes her commit adultery, and whoever marries a divorced woman commits adultery

Mark 10:11-12 And he said to them, “Whoever divorces his wife and marries another commits adultery against her, ¹²and if she divorces her husband and marries another, she commits adultery.”

Rom 7:2-3 For a married woman is bound by law to her husband while he lives, but if her husband dies she is released from the law of marriage.ⁿ ³Accordingly, she will be called an adulteress if she lives with another man while her husband is alive. But if her husband dies, she is free from that law, and if she marries another man she is not an adulteress.

ⁿ Greek law concerning the husband

1Cor 7:10-13, 15 To the married I give this charge (not I, but the Lord): the wife should not separate from her husband ¹¹(but if she does, she should remain unmarried or else be reconciled to her husband), and the husband should not divorce his wife. ¹²To the rest I say (I, not the Lord) that if any brother has a wife who is an unbeliever, and she consents to live with him, he should not divorce her. ¹³If any woman has a husband who is an unbeliever, and he consents to live with her, she should not divorce him.  ... ¹⁵But if the unbelieving partner separates, let it be so. In such cases the brother or sister is not enslaved. God has called you^o to peace.

^o Some manuscripts us

The phrase “not enslaved” (v. 15) may only mean that the believing spouse is not under any obligation to continue living with their unbelieving spouse. Some commentators go further saying that it means they are no longer bound to the marriage covenant, and so are free to marry again. As such, to do so would not be adultery. See also the comment on 1Cor 7:10-15 in Avoid divorce – it is contrary to God’s purposes, p. 1699.

‡ The OT law on remarrying a former spouse who had been remarried in the meantime:

Deut 24:1-4 When a man takes a wife and marries her, if then she finds no favor in his eyes because he has found some indecency in her, and he writes her a certificate of divorce and puts it in her hand and sends her out of his house, and she departs out of his house, ²and if she goes and becomes another man's wife,³ and the latter man hates her and writes her a certificate of divorce and puts it in her hand and sends her out of his house, or if the latter man dies, who took her to be his wife,⁴ then her former husband, who sent her away, may not take her again to be his wife, after she has been defiled, for that is an abomination before the LORD. And you shall not bring sin upon the land that the LORD your God is giving you for an inheritance.

This law may have had in view that remarrying a former spouse, who had since been remarried, would technically be adultery. It also underlined the seriousness of divorce. Note that Jesus' teaching above in Matthew 19:9 has in view a question relating to the term "some indecency" (v. 1), quite possibly correlating it with "marital unfaithfulness" (although in OT times presumably this did not include adultery, for which the consequence was death). Jesus indicates that Moses was not permitting people to freely divorce and remarry; divorce was only permissible under certain circumstances. See comments on Matthew 19:3-8 in Avoid divorce – it is contrary to God's purposes, p. 1699.

Note: Finding a good wife is a great blessing – a gift from God . . .

Prov 31:10-21, 25-31 ^p An excellent wife who can find? She is far more precious than jewels. ¹¹*The heart of her husband trusts in her, and he will have no lack of gain.* ¹²*She does him good, and not harm, all the days of her life.* ¹³*She seeks wool and flax, and works with willing hands.* ¹⁴*She is like the ships of the merchant; she brings her food from afar.* ¹⁵*She rises while it is yet night and provides food for her household and portions for her maidens.* ¹⁶*She considers a field and buys it; with the fruit of her hands she plants a vineyard.* ¹⁷*She dresses herself^a with strength and makes her arms strong.* ¹⁸*She perceives that her merchandise is profitable. ^p Verses 10-31 are an acrostic poem, each verse beginning with the successive letters of the Hebrew alphabet

^q Hebrew She girds her loins

^r Or in double thickness

Note that vv. 28-31 indicate that a husband (and children) of a noble wife should praise her – one aspect of the reward she richly deserves (v. 31a).

Prov 12:4a An excellent wife is the crown of her husband ...

Prov 18:22 He who finds a wife finds a good thing and obtains favor from the LORD.

A good or noble wife is in view here. Such a wife is a "treasure" (CEV, NLT), and indicative of the LORD's "favor" – which implies that a good wife is "a gift from the LORD" (CEV).

Prov 19:14 House and wealth are inherited from fathers, but a prudent wife is from the LORD.

The contrast of a prudent wife with houses and wealth – as being from God in comparison to simply being inherited from parents – implies that such a wife is a great blessing like houses and wealth, but much more so.

Gen 2:18-22 Then the LORD God said, "It is not good that the man should be alone; I will make him a helper fit for^s him." ¹⁹Now out of the ground the LORD God had formed^t every beast of the field and every bird of the heavens and brought them to the man to see what he would call them. And whatever the man called every living creature, that was its name. ²⁰The man gave names to all livestock and to the birds of the heavens and to every beast of the field. But for Adam^u there was not found a helper fit for him. ²¹So the LORD God caused a deep sleep to fall upon the man, and while he slept took one of his ribs and closed up its place with flesh. ²²And the rib that the LORD God had taken from the man he made^v into a woman and brought her to the man.

Woman is a "helper fit for him" (vv. 18, 20) – and vice versa. This phrase is indicative of why a good spouse is a great blessing. The passage of course tells unequivocally of the first wife being from God.

... but a quarrelsome or ungodly wife is troublesome

Prov 21:9, 19 It is better to live in a corner of the housetop than in a house shared with a quarrelsome wife. ... ¹⁹*It is better to live in a desert land than with a quarrelsome and fretful woman.*

Prov 12:4 An excellent wife is the crown of her husband, but she who brings shame is like rotteness in his bones.

Prov 14:1 The wisest of women builds her house, but folly with her own hands tears it down.

The phrase "her own hands" refers to the hands of "folly". In view of the first half of the verse, the second half alludes to a foolish woman bringing disaster on her household (cf. AMP, CEV, NASB, NCV, NIV, NKJV, NLT, NRSV).

† Urged on by his wife, Ahab committed great evil – and was punished accordingly:

1Ki 21:20-21, 25-26 Ahab said to Elijah, "Have you found me, O my enemy?" He answered, "I have found you, because you have sold yourself to do what is evil in the sight of the LORD. ²¹Behold, I will bring disaster upon you. I will utterly burn you up, and will cut off from Ahab every male, bond or free, in Israel. ... ²⁵(There was none who sold himself to do what was evil in the sight of the LORD like Ahab, whom Jezebel his wife incited. ²⁶He acted very abominably in going after idols, as the Amorites had done, whom the LORD cast out before the people of Israel.)

Ahab's ungodly wife Jezebel had encouraged him in committing evil (v. 25). Ahab's evil acts brought God's judgment on him (vv. 20-21) and on Jezebel (cf. v. 23) for her part in it.

A husband and wife should be as one, which involves sexual union

Gen 2:22-24 And the rib that the LORD God had taken from the man he made^x into a woman and brought her to the man. ²³Then the man said, "This at last is bone of my bones and flesh of my flesh; she shall be called Woman, because she was taken out of Man."^y ²⁴Therefore a man shall leave his father and his mother and hold fast to his wife, and they shall become one flesh.

^x Hebrew built

^y The Hebrew words for woman (ishshah) and man (ish) sound alike

Just as originally the man and the woman were of the one flesh (vv. 22-23), so a husband and wife will be united as "one flesh" (v. 24). The term "one flesh" appears to encompass a oneness in spirit, and is signified and expressed through sexual bonding. The use of the term also implies a lifelong, monogamous relationship.

Matt 19:4-6 He answered, "Have you not read that he who created them from the beginning made them male and female, ⁵and said, "Therefore a man shall leave his father and his mother and hold fast to his wife, and the two shall become one flesh"?⁶So they are no longer two but one flesh. What therefore God has joined together, let not man separate."

Jesus uses the two quotations (vv. 4-5) – from Genesis 1:27 and 2:24 – to show that God created male and female to be "one" (v. 6). This oneness is seen in that the man should "hold fast to his wife" (v. 5) and by them being "one flesh" (v. 5) and "joined together" (v. 6).

Eph 5:31-32 *“Therefore a man shall leave his father and mother and hold fast to his wife, and the two shall become one flesh.”*³²*This mystery is profound, and I am saying that it refers to Christ and the church.*

Particularly given the context (cf. vv. 25, 28-30, 33), one can infer from vv. 31-32 that the oneness of the union of a husband and wife should reflect the exemplary oneness of the union of Christ and his church.

Mal 2:15 Did he not make them one, with a portion of the Spirit in their union?^z And what was the one God^a seeking?^b Godly offspring. So guard yourselves^c in your spirit, and let none of you be faithless to the wife of your youth.

^z Hebrew in it

^a Hebrew the one

^b Or And not one has done this who has a portion of the Spirit. And what was that one seeking?

^c Or So take care; also verse 16

As reflected by the text notes, this verse is difficult to translate. Spouses from amongst God’s people are primarily in view here. The first part of the verse may imply that God has made such a couple one both in flesh and spirit (cf. NCV, GNT). As one with his wife, the final statement concludes that a husband should remain faithful to her. Note that although “Godly offspring” is usually understood to be referring to children produced by such a union of husband and wife, it may in fact refer to the union itself as being an “offspring” of God (cf. text note), he having produced this union.

1Cor 7:3-5 *The husband should give to his wife her conjugal rights, and likewise the wife to her husband.*⁴*For the wife does not have authority over her own body, but the husband does. Likewise the husband does not have authority over his own body, but the wife does.*⁵*Do not deprive one another, except perhaps by agreement for a limited time, that you may devote yourselves to prayer; but then come together again, so that Satan may not tempt you because of your lack of self-control.*

That each spouse has authority over their spouse’s body rather than their own (v. 4) engenders oneness in the marital union. Note that the expression “come together” (v. 5b) may well allude to the oneness that sexual intercourse brings.

Husbands should love their wives

Note that Titus 2:4 in the following subsection points out that women are likewise to love their husbands.

Eph 5:25, 28-30, 33 Husbands, love your wives, as Christ loved the church and gave himself up for her, ...²⁸*In the same way husbands should love their wives as their own* *bodies. He who loves his wife loves himself.*²⁹*For no one ever hated his own flesh, but nourishes and cherishes it, just as Christ does the church,*³⁰*because we are members of his body.*

...³³*However, let each one of you love his wife as himself, and let the wife see that she respects her husband.*

The directive for husbands to love their wives “as Christ loved the church and gave himself up for her” (v. 25) is both daunting and inspirational. It calls for a love that is ever persistent and is all surpassing, even to the point of sacrificing one’s life. The corresponding directive for husbands to love their wives “as their own bodies” (v. 28) is reflective of them having become one, with the wife being in a sense part of her husband’s body (and vice versa) – just as the church is part of Christ’s body, and so is cared for by him (v. 29).

Col 3:19 Husbands, love your wives, and do not be harsh with them.

Eccl 9:9 Enjoy life with the wife whom you love, all the days of your vain life that he has given you under the sun, because that is your portion in life and in your toil at which you toil under the sun.

Note the instruction to enjoy life with one’s wife.

Hos 3:1 And the LORD said to me, “Go again, love a woman who is loved by another man and is an adulteress, even as the LORD loves the children of Israel, though they turn to other gods and love cakes of raisins.”

During Hosea’s ministry, God uses Hosea’s relationship with his unfaithful wife to illustrate aspects of his own relationship with Israel, his unfaithful people. It is in this context that he directs Hosea to show love to his unfaithful wife again; the command is not mandatory for all such situations. However the stipulation to love his wife “even as the LORD loves the children of Israel” (cf. Eph 5:25) does give an exemplary standard for all husbands to aspire to.

Gen 24:67 Then Isaac brought her into the tent of Sarah his mother and took Rebekah, and she became his wife, and he loved her. So Isaac was comforted after his mother’s death.

1Sam 1:5 But to Hannah he gave a double portion, because he loved her, though the LORD had closed her womb.^d

^d Syriac; the meaning of the Hebrew is uncertain.

Septuagint And, although he loved Hannah, he would give Hannah only one portion, because the LORD had closed her womb

‡ Husbands should be understanding and show honor to their wives:

1Pet 3:7 Likewise, husbands, live with your wives in an understanding way, showing honor to the woman as the weaker vessel, since they are heirs with you^e of the grace of life, so that your prayers may not be hindered. 📖

^e Some manuscripts since you are joint heirs

Similarly Ephesians 5:33b above says, “let the wife see that she respects her husband”.

Wives should submit to their husbands

Eph 5:22-24 Wives, submit to your own husbands, as to the Lord. ²³*For the husband is the head of the wife even as Christ is the head of the church, his body, and is himself its Savior.* ²⁴*Now as the church submits to Christ, so also wives should submit in everything to their husbands.* 📖

Such submission should be voluntary and willing. The corresponding authority of the husband is not about control and should only be practiced in a Christ-like manner and in love, which should characterize all he does in relating to his wife.

Col 3:18 Wives, submit to your husbands, as is fitting in the Lord. 📖

Titus 2:4-5 ... and so train the young women to love their husbands and children, ⁵to be self-controlled, pure, working at home, kind, and submissive to their own husbands, that the word of God may not be reviled. 📖

1Pet 3:1-2, 5-6 Likewise, wives, be subject to your own husbands, so that even if some do not obey the word, they may be won without a word by the conduct of their wives, ²when they see your respectful and pure conduct. 📖 ... ⁵*For this is how the holy women who hoped in God used to adorn themselves, by submitting to their own husbands, ⁶as Sarah obeyed Abraham, calling him lord. And you are her children, if you do good and do not fear anything that is frightening.* 📖

In v. 2 “respectful” may refer to respect for God (cf. CEV, NCV, NIRV), rather than for husbands, though the latter alternative is not unsupported (cf. AMP). In v. 6 the final sentence may well be referring to wives submitting to their husbands, which would then be what is primarily in view with the phrase “do good”. As such the last clause would probably refer to wives not fearing their husbands (cf. NLT), turning from any fear that might deter them from doing good. Regarding “this is how” (v. 5a), see the comment on 1Pet 3:3-5 under Do not dress lavishly for outward appearances, p. 1893.

Gen 3:16 To the woman he said, “I will surely multiply your pain in childbearing; in pain you shall bring forth children. Your desire shall be for^f your husband, and he shall rule over you.” 📖

^f Or against

This verse contains the consequences of the original sin for the woman. Thus her husband’s rule or authority over her is the consequence of sin – and so presumably is also her corresponding required submission. The clause, “he shall rule over you,” possibly entails a degree of anguish under the husband’s rule – which is consistent with it being a consequence of sin. Note that, “Your desire shall be for your husband,” likely refers to the woman’s attraction or devotion to her husband, but some interpret it to mean a desire to usurp or breakout of the husband’s leadership (cf. NLT text note).

‡ The authority of the man, accompanied by mutual dependence:

1Cor 11:3, 7-12 But I want you to understand that the head of every man is Christ, the head of a wife^g is her husband, and the head of Christ is God. 📖 ... ⁷For a man ought not to cover his head, since he is the image and glory of God, but woman is the glory of man. ⁸*For man was not made from woman, but woman from man.* ⁹*Neither was man created for woman, but woman for man.* ¹⁰*That is why a wife ought to have a symbol of authority on her head, because of the angels.*^h ¹¹*Nevertheless, in the Lord woman is not independent of man nor man of woman;* ¹²*for as woman was made from man, so man is now born of woman.* And all things are from God. 📖

^g Greek gunē. This term may refer to a woman or a wife, depending on the context

^h Or messengers, that is, people sent to observe and report

The phrase “woman is the glory of man” (v. 7) is interpreted in a variety of ways. In the light of the subsequent two verses, it may well be referring to woman originally coming “from man” (v. 8), and being created “for man” (v. 9). The “symbol of authority on her head” (v. 10) refers to a head covering worn in public worship (cf. vv. 4-7); it was to signify a woman being “under her husband’s authority” (GNT). Note that there are varying interpretations regarding the reference to “the angels” (v. 10). It may be speaking of their presence and witness to our actions as further reason to ensure that our actions are proper.

^k The two Greek terms translated by this phrase refer to the passive and active partners in consensual homosexual acts

. . . Warnings against being enticed by an adulteress – which leads to ruin

The following references do not speak a lot about exactly how being enticed by an adulteress leads to one’s ruin. Such reasons would include: a husband’s revenge (cf. Prov 6:34-35 ↓), blackmail, shame (cf. Job 31:11 ↓; Prov 6:33 ↓), loss of reputation, the breakdown of one’s own marriage and family relationships, and particularly punishment from God (cf. Job 31:11-12 ↓). Any of these could directly cause or contribute to the ruin and associated unsavory results spoken of below.

Job 31:9-12 If my heart has been enticed toward a woman, and I have lain in wait at my neighbor’s door, ¹⁰then let my wife grind for another, and let others bow down on her. ¹¹For that would be a heinous crime; that would be an iniquity to be punished by the judges; ¹²for that would be a fire that consumes as far as Abaddon, and it would burn to the root all my increase.

Particularly in view of the subsequent clause, “woman” (v. 9a) probably refers to an adulteress – the wife of a neighbor (v. 9b). “Abaddon” (v. 12) may have God’s judgment and a final destruction in view.

Prov 2:16-19 So [by wisdom] you will be delivered from the forbidden^l woman, from the adulteress^m with her smooth words, ¹⁷*who forsakes the companion of her youth and forgets the covenant of her God;* ¹⁸*for her house sinks down to death, and her paths to the departed;*ⁿ ¹⁹*none who go to her come back, nor do they regain the paths of life.*

^p Hebrew palate

^q Hebrew lay hold of

Verse 5 may be referring to the consequences for anyone who commits adultery with the adulteress (cf. CEV, NLT), but it could also be describing her own fate (cf. NCV); it is applicable to both. Note that “death” and “Sheol” (v. 5) may well be metaphors for a ruined life or spiritual death – as is the case elsewhere in this subsection. Verse 6 shows the ignorance of an adulteress to the depravity of her ways, a concept apparent in 30:20 – “This is the way of an adulteress: she eats and wipes her mouth and says, “I have done no wrong.” In view of v. 10, v. 9 may be speaking of giving to others the best of what one’s strength and years have produced. Alternatively it may refer to being subject to another, such as a vengeful husband or a blackmailer.

Prov 5:20-21 Why should you be intoxicated, my son, with a forbidden woman and embrace the bosom of an adulteress?^r ²¹For a man’s ways are before the eyes of the LORD, and he ponders^s all his paths.

Prov 6:25-29, 32-35 Do not desire her beauty in your heart, and do not let her capture you with her eyelashes; ²⁶for the price of a prostitute is only a loaf of bread,^t but a married woman^u hunts down a precious life. ²⁷Can a man carry fire next to his chest and his clothes not be burned? ²⁸Or can one walk on hot coals and his feet not be scorched? ²⁹So is he who goes in to his neighbor’s wife; none who touches her will go unpunished. ... ³²He who commits adultery lacks sense; he who does it destroys himself. ³³He will get wounds and dishonor, and his disgrace will not be wiped away. ³⁴For jealousy makes a man furious, and he will not spare when he takes revenge. ³⁵He will accept no compensation; he will refuse though you multiply gifts.

^v Probable reading (compare Septuagint, Vulgate, Syriac); Hebrew as an anklet for the discipline of a fool

Verses 21-23 speak of an adulteress seducing “a young man lacking sense” (v. 7).

Prov 22:14 The mouth of forbidden^w women is a deep pit; he with whom the LORD is angry will fall into it.

^w Hebrew strange

This verse suggests either: that the seductive words of an adulteress along with the horrid results of adultery can be used by God as punishment for ungodly persons; or that one who is under God’s wrath is left vulnerable to such consequences (cf. Ecc 7:26 ↓), with possibly an adulterer being primarily in view.

Prov 23:26-28 My son, give me your heart, and let your eyes observe^x my ways. ²⁷For a prostitute is a deep pit; an adulteress^y is a narrow well. ²⁸She lies in wait like a robber and increases the traitors among mankind.

^y Hebrew a foreign woman

Ecc 7:26 And I find something more bitter than death: the woman whose heart is snares and nets, and whose hands are fetters. He who pleases God escapes her, but the sinner is taken by her.

This does not refer specifically to an adulteress, but an adulteress may well be primarily in view. What the verse says is certainly very much applicable to one.

⚡ Lust is a form of adultery:

Matt 5:27-28 You have heard that it was said, ‘You shall not commit adultery.’ ²⁸But I say to you that everyone who looks at a woman with lustful intent has already committed adultery with her in his heart.

Avoid divorce – it is contrary to God’s purposes

Mal 2:13-16 And this second thing you do. You cover the LORD’s altar with tears, with weeping and groaning because he no longer regards the offering or accepts it with favor from your hand. ¹⁴But you say, “Why does he not?” Because the LORD was witness between you and the wife of your youth, to whom you have been faithless, though she is your companion and your wife by covenant. ¹⁵Did he not make them one, with a portion of the Spirit in their union?^z And what was the one God^a seeking?^b Godly offspring. So guard yourselves^c in your spirit, and let none of you be faithless to the wife of your youth. ¹⁶“For the man who does not love his wife but divorces her,^d says the LORD, the God of Israel, covers^e his garment with violence, says the LORD of hosts. ^a Hebrew the one

^b Or And not one has done this who has a portion of the Spirit. And what was that one seeking?

^c Or So take care; also verse 16

^d Hebrew who hates and divorces

^e Probable meaning (compare Septuagint and Deuteronomy 24:1-4); or “The LORD, the God of Israel, says that he hates divorce, and him who covers

The expression “covers his garment with violence” (v. 16) appears to figuratively emphasize the wrongfulness of divorce, equating it with defiling oneself with violence. Note that v. 14 refers the “covenant” of marriage; it may also be referred to as a covenant in Proverbs 2:17 and Ezekiel 16:8. (See also the comment on v. 15 above in A husband and wife should be as one, which involves sexual union, p. 1695.)

Matt 19:3-8 And Pharisees came up to him and tested him by asking, “Is it lawful to divorce one’s wife for any cause?”⁴ He answered, “Have you not read that he who created them from the beginning made them male and female,⁵ and said, “Therefore a man shall leave his father and his mother and hold fast to his wife, and the two shall become one flesh”?⁶ So they are no longer two but one flesh. What therefore God has joined together, let not man separate.”⁷ They said to him, “Why then did Moses command one to give a certificate of divorce and to send her away?”⁸ He said to them, “Because of your hardness of heart Moses allowed you to divorce your wives, but from the beginning it was not so.”

The implication of the two OT quotations (vv. 4-5), as made clear in v. 6, is that God has purposed that husband and wife be one – which divorce is contrary to. Moses permitted divorce because of people’s “hard-hearted wickedness” (NLT), with their innate unwillingness or incapacity to embrace his teaching (cf. GNT, NCV). But the permitting of divorce was not part of God’s original purpose (cf. CEV, NLT), and as such falls well short of what is ideal.

1Cor 7:10-15 To the married I give this charge (not I, but the Lord): *the wife should not separate from her husband*¹¹ (but if she does, she should remain unmarried or else be reconciled to her husband), and the husband should not divorce his wife.

¹²To the rest I say (I, not the Lord) that *if any brother has a wife who is an unbeliever, and she consents to live with him, he should not divorce her.*¹³ *If any woman has a husband who is an unbeliever, and he consents to live with her, she should not divorce him.*¹⁴ For the unbelieving husband is made holy because of his wife, and the unbelieving wife is made holy because of her husband. Otherwise your children would be unclean, but as it is, they are holy. ¹⁵*But if the unbelieving partner separates, let it be so. In such cases the brother or sister is not enslaved. God has called you^f to peace.*

^f Some manuscripts us

In v.10, “not I, but the Lord” indicates an instruction given by Jesus Christ; whereas “I, not the Lord” (v. 12) introduces an instruction of Paul’s own – which is still authoritative. In v. 11, “but if she does” indicates that separation – and perhaps divorce – is permissible, although against God’s higher purposes (vv. 10, 11b). Regarding v. 14, most commentators think it does not mean that the unbelieving spouse is purified or saved through the believing spouse – although the GNT does say that such a spouse “is made acceptable to God”. It may be teaching that because the unbeliever is one in body with a spouse who is in Christ, they are sanctified in a “positional” sense, in a union that is set apart for God. Children of such a union are likewise holy. Note that this verse should not be taken as condoning marrying non-believers; the context suggests that Paul primarily has in view the situation where the believing spouse has become a believer after having already been married.

c) Spouses (II): Romantic Love

The vast majority of verses in this section are taken from Song of Songs, which traditionally was considered an allegory for the relationship of Christ and his bride, the Church – or of God and Israel. Modern commentators more often interpret it as simply portraying the relationship between two lovers – possibly King Solomon and one of his wives (cf. 1:1) – which is the interpretation applied here. A number of commentators view sections of the book as encompassing: the courtship (1:2-3:5); the wedding (3:6-5:1); and the marriage (5:2-8:4). The exact meanings of many of its verses are disputed.

The marvel of love

Prov 30:18-19 Three things are too wonderful for me; four I do not understand: ¹⁹the way of an eagle in the sky, the way of a serpent on a rock, the way of a ship on the high seas, and the way of a man with a virgin.

The “way of a man with a virgin” (v. 19) is the climax of this list of amazing things that were beyond the writer’s comprehension. It appears to refer to courtship and “the way a man and a woman fall in love” (NCV™; cf. CEV, GNT).

Song 4:10 How beautiful is your love, my sister, my bride! How much better is your love than wine, and the fragrance of your oils than any spice!

Love is truly beautiful.

Song 8:6-7 Set me as a seal upon your heart, as a seal upon your arm, for love is strong as death, jealousy^g is fierce as the grave.^h Its flashes are flashes of fire, the very flame of the LORD.⁷ Many waters cannot quench love, neither can floods drown it. If a man offered for love all the wealth of his house, heⁱ would be utterly despised.

^g 8:6 Or ardor

^h 8:6 Hebrew as Sheol

ⁱ 8:7 Or it

The metaphor “the very flame of the LORD” (v. 6b) indicates that the aforementioned love between spouses and jealousy for the relationship come from God. Verse 7b indicates that love cannot be bought. It points to love’s incalculable worth and shows that it is beyond the realm of riches.

✦ A loving spouse can bring contentment:

Song 8:10 I was a wall, and my breasts were like towers; then I was in his eyes as one who finds^j peace.

^j Or brings out

This speaks of the peace and contentment (cf. GNT, NIV, NLT) that a loving physical relationship can bring.

Prov 5:15-19 Drink water from your own cistern, flowing water from your own well. ¹⁶Should your springs be scattered abroad, streams of water in the streets? ¹⁷Let them be for yourself alone, and not for strangers with you. ¹⁸Let your fountain be blessed, and rejoice in the wife of your youth, ¹⁹a lovely deer, a graceful doe. Let her breasts fill you at all times with delight; be intoxicated^l always in her love.

^l Hebrew be led astray; also verse 20

There are different interpretations of the imagery in verses 16-17, but it is clear that their basic thrust is that one should enjoy sexual relationships exclusively with one’s spouse. This also appears to be the main thought behind the rest of the passage.

Song 4:12 A garden locked is my sister, my bride, a spring locked, a fountain sealed.

One’s sensual delights should be sealed exclusively for one’s spouse.

Further insights on love

Song 2:7 I adjure you,^m O daughters of Jerusalem, by the gazelles or the does of the field, that you not stir up or awaken love until it pleases.

^m 2:7 That is, I put you on oath; so throughout the Song

One should not try to stimulate or forcibly ignite love; such love is at best superficial and not true love. Love is spontaneous and instinctive; it comes when “it pleases” (AMP, NKJV) – when “it is ready” (CEV, NCV, NRSV).

Song 5:1a I came to my garden, my sister, my bride, I gathered my myrrh with my spice, I ate my honeycomb with my honey, I drank my wine with my milk.

The designation “sister” (cf. v. 2; Song 4:12 ↑; Song 4:9 ↓) for one’s bride or lover apparently was not uncommon in such literature. It appears to be indicative of a close, binding relationship and to express a fondness that goes beyond sexual desire. These are key aspects of spouses’ love.

Song 5:16 His mouthⁿ is most sweet, and he is altogether desirable. This is my beloved and this is my friend, O daughters of Jerusalem.

ⁿ 5:16 Hebrew palate

This reflects the fact that friendship is an important aspect of romantic love.

Song 5:2-6 I slept, but my heart was awake. A sound! My beloved is knocking. “Open to me, my sister, my love, my dove, my perfect one, for my head is wet with dew, my locks with the drops of the night.” ³*I had put off my garment; how could I put it on? I had bathed my feet; how could I soil them?* ⁴My beloved put his hand to the latch, and my heart was thrilled within me. ⁵I arose to open to my beloved, and my hands dripped with myrrh, my fingers with liquid myrrh, on the handles of the bolt. ⁶*I opened to my beloved, but my beloved had turned and gone. My soul failed me when he spoke. I sought him, but found him not; I called him, but he gave no answer.*

This may be showing how love can be thwarted by selfishness (v. 3) and perhaps hesitancy – with the lover having left (v. 6), apparently after his efforts to seek his beloved (vv. 2, 4a) had seemingly been to no avail.

Examples and declarations of love

Song 2:4-5 He brought me to the banqueting house,^o and his banner over me was love. ⁵*Sustain me with raisins; refresh me with apples, for I am sick with love.*

^o 2:4 Hebrew the house of wine

The clause “his banner over me was love” (v. 4b) is commonly understood to be referring to the man unequivocally showing his love for his beloved, even amongst others (v. 4a). Possibly it may simply be emphasizing the prominence of love in his relationship with and attitude to her. The “raisins” and “apples” (v. 5) may well be references by the beloved to the delights of her lover’s love. Note that the final phrase of v. 5 is echoed in 5:8 – “tell him I am sick with love.”

Song 3:4a Scarcely had I passed them when I found him whom my soul loves.

Song 4:9 You have captivated my heart, my sister, my bride; you have captivated my heart with one glance of your eyes, with one jewel of your necklace.

Song 5:2a I slept, but my heart was awake.

Adoration of lover’s beauty

As shown in a number of the passages in this and the following subsections in particular, Song of Songs contains beautiful but also sensual poetry, but is never crude. The sensual parts are often comprised of imagery, notably imagery involving sensuous aspects of nature.

Song 1:16a Behold, you are beautiful, my beloved, truly delightful.

Song 2:2-3a As a lily among brambles, so is my love among the young women. ³As an apple tree among the trees of the forest, so is my beloved among the young men.

The man speaks in v. 2 and the woman in v. 3. Each speaks of their lover standing out amongst the other young women and young men (cf. Song 5:10 ↓).

Song 4:13-15 Your shoots are an orchard of pomegranates with all choicest fruits, henna with nard, ¹⁴nard and saffron, calamus and cinnamon, with all trees of frankincense, myrrh and aloes, with all choice spices— ¹⁵a garden fountain, a well of living water, and flowing streams from Lebanon.

Here the husband or man poetically uses aspects of nature to describe his lover’s beauty and delights (as per the comment at the start of this subsection).

Song 5:10-16 My beloved is radiant and ruddy, distinguished among ten thousand. ¹¹His head is the finest gold; his locks are wavy, black as a raven. ¹²His eyes are like doves beside streams of water, bathed in milk, sitting beside a full pool.^p ¹³His cheeks are like beds of spices, mounds of sweet-smelling herbs. His lips are lilies, dripping liquid myrrh. ¹⁴His arms are rods of gold, set with jewels. His body is polished ivory,^q bedecked with sapphires.^r ¹⁵His legs are alabaster columns, set on bases of gold. His appearance is like Lebanon, choice as the cedars.

¹⁶His mouth^s is most sweet, and he is altogether desirable. This is my beloved and this is my friend, O daughters of Jerusalem.

Song 3:4 Scarcely had I passed them when I found him whom my soul loves. I held him, and would not let him go until I had brought him into my mother's house, and into the chamber of her who conceived me.

This is preceded by the woman speaking of searching for her lover (cf. vv. 1-3), apparently in a dream. The reference here to taking him back to her mother's house before letting go of him, possibly to consummate their love, is probably reflecting her concern of not being able to find him again.

Song 4:6 Until the day breathes and the shadows flee, I will go away to the mountain of myrrh and the hill of frankincense.

The phrases "mountain of myrrh" and "hill of incense" are quite likely metaphors for the wife with her pleasures (cf. Song 5:1a ↓).

Song 4:11 Your lips drip nectar, my bride; honey and milk are under your tongue; the fragrance of your garments is like the fragrance of Lebanon.

d) Parents' Duties to Children (I): Love and Care

Subsections

- Parents should love their children
- Parents should have compassion on their children
- Parents should care for their children
- Parents should provide for their children
- Parents should pray for their children
- Note: Points on relating to children in general

Parents should love their children

Titus 2:4 ... and so train the young women to love their husbands and children, ...

Prov 13:24 Whoever spares the rod hates his son, but he who loves him is diligent to discipline him.^a

^a Or who loves him disciplines him early

It can be inferred from this that one ought to love one's son.

Gen 44:20b His brother is dead, and he alone is left of his mother's children, and his father loves him.

2Sam 13:37-39 But Absalom fled and went to Talmai the son of Ammihud, king of Geshur. And David mourned for his son day after day. ³⁸So Absalom fled and went to Geshur, and was there three years. ³⁹And the spirit of the king^b longed to go out^c to Absalom, because he was comforted about Amnon, since he was dead.

^b Dead Sea Scroll, Septuagint; Hebrew David

^c Compare Vulgate ceased to go out

David's love for his sons is reflected by his mourning of the death of Amnon (v. 37) and his longing to see Absalom. (Absalom had earlier killed Amnon in an act of vengeance.) David would later also mourn Absalom's death – 'And the king was deeply moved and went up to the chamber over the gate and wept. And as he went, he said, "O my son Absalom, my son, my son Absalom! Would I had died instead of you, O Absalom, my son, my son!"' (18:33)

Mal 4:5-6 "Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet before the great and awesome day of the LORD comes. ⁶And he will turn the hearts of fathers to their children and the hearts of children to their fathers, lest I come and strike the land with a decree of utter destruction."^d

^d The Hebrew term rendered decree of utter destruction refers to things devoted (or set apart) to the Lord (or by the Lord) for destruction

This is indicative of the fact that it is God's will that parents and children should love each other. This prophecy was at least partially fulfilled in John the Baptist's ministry (cf. Luke 1:17), prior to Jesus Christ's first coming. Some think it will have a more complete fulfillment prior to Jesus Christ's return – which will indeed be a "great and awesome day of the LORD". The reconciliation or renewed love amongst families appears to be reflective of – and to occur in conjunction with – the reconciliation of the people with God in the ministry of such a prophet.

Parents should have compassion on their children

Ps 103:13 As a father shows compassion to his children, so the LORD shows compassion to those who fear him.

Isa 49:15 Can a woman forget her nursing child, that she should have no compassion on the son of her womb? Even these may forget, yet I will not forget you.

This implies that it is the normal and right thing for a mother to not forget her children and to have compassion on them.

Luke 15:20 And he arose and came to his father. But while he was still a long way off, his father saw him and felt compassion, and ran and embraced him and kissed him.

1Ki 3:24-27 And the king said, "Bring me a sword." So a sword was brought before the king. ²⁵And the king said, "Divide the living child in two, and give half to the one and half to the other." ²⁶*Then the woman whose son was alive said to the king, because her heart yearned for her son, "Oh, my lord, give her the living child, and by no means put him to death."* But the other said, "He shall be neither mine nor yours; divide him." ²⁷Then the king answered and said, "Give the living child to the first woman, and by no means put him to death; she is his mother."

The phrase "heart yearned for" (v. 26a) is indicative of "compassion" (NIV®, NKJV, NRSV).

Parents should care for their children

Note that the following two subsections elaborate on this theme.

Deut 1:31 ... and in the wilderness, where you have seen how the LORD your God carried you, as a man carries his son, all the way that you went until you came to this place.

The simile speaks of a father carrying a son in need of support.

Isa 66:13 As one whom his mother comforts, so I will comfort you; you shall be comforted in Jerusalem.

1Thes 2:7 But we were gentle^e among you, like a nursing mother taking care of her own children.

^e Some manuscripts infants

Note the reference to gentleness, which should characterize parental care.

Mark 7:26 Now the woman was a Gentile, a Syrophenician by birth. And she begged him to cast the demon out of her daughter.

The woman cared for her daughter by bringing her to Jesus to have him cure her.

Heb 11:23 By faith Moses, when he was born, was hidden for three months by his parents, because they saw that the child was beautiful, and they were not afraid of the king's edict.

Moses' parents defied the king's edict that all newborn Hebrew males must be killed, hiding Moses instead.

Prov 31:27 She looks well to the ways of her household and does not eat the bread of idleness.

This speaks of a mother watching over the affairs of her household (cf. NCV, NIV, NKJV, NLT), taking care of them (cf. CEV, GNT).

Parents should exhort and encourage their children:

1Thes 2:11-12 For you know how, like a father with his children, ¹²we exhorted each one of you and encouraged you and charged you to walk in a manner worthy of God, who calls you into his own kingdom and glory.

Parents should provide for their children

Prov 31:13-15, 21 She seeks wool and flax, and works with willing hands. ¹⁴She is like the ships of the merchant; she brings her food from afar. ¹⁵She rises while it is yet night and provides food for her household and portions for her maidens. ... ²¹She is not afraid of snow for her household, for all her household are clothed in scarlet.^f

^f Or in double thickness

Verses 13-14 may well be referring to – or at least be inclusive of – such an “excellent wife” (v. 10) providing clothing and food for her family, in accordance with vv. 15, 21. The reference to being “clothed in scarlet” (v. 21) appears to refer to quality, warm clothing (cf. text note, CEV, GNT, NCV, Nlrv, NLT).

Matt 7:9-11 Or which one of you, if his son asks him for bread, will give him a stone? ¹⁰Or if he asks for a fish, will give him a serpent? ¹¹If you then, who are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father who is in heaven give good things to those who ask him!

This implies that parents are to “give good gifts” (v. 11a) such as food (vv. 9-10) to their children, providing for them.

2Cor 12:14 Here for the third time I am ready to come to you. And I will not be a burden, for I seek not what is yours but you. For children are not obligated to save up for their parents, but parents for their children.

1Sam 2:19 And his mother used to make for him a little robe and take it to him each year when she went up with her husband to offer the yearly sacrifice.

Job 42:15 And in all the land there were no women so beautiful as Job’s daughters. And their father gave them an inheritance among their brothers.

Prov 13:22 A good man leaves an inheritance to his children’s children, but the sinner’s wealth is laid up for the righteous.

Parents should pray for their children

Gen 17:18 And Abraham said to God, “Oh that Ishmael might live before you!”

2Sam 12:16 David therefore sought God on behalf of the child. And David fasted and went in and lay all night on the ground.

1Chr 29:19 [David:] Grant to Solomon my son a whole heart that he may keep your commandments, your testimonies, and your statutes, performing all, and that he may build the palace for which I have made provision.

Similarly in 22:12 David blesses Solomon with what is effectively a prayer: “Only, may the LORD grant you discretion and understanding, that when he gives you charge over Israel you may keep the law of the LORD your God.”

Mark 5:22-23 Then came one of the rulers of the synagogue, Jairus by name, and seeing him, he fell at his feet ²³and implored him earnestly, saying, “My little daughter is at the point of death. Come and lay your hands on her, so that she may be made well and live.”

Here and in John 4:47, 49 below the parents make requests of Jesus on behalf of their children. As such they are effectively examples of parents praying for their children.

John 4:47, 49 When this man heard that Jesus had come from Judea to Galilee, he went to him and asked him to come down and heal his son, for he was at the point of death. ... ⁴⁹The official said to him, “Sir, come down before my child dies.”

† Job’s spiritual care of his children:

Job 1:4-5 His sons used to go and hold a feast in the house of each one on his day, and they would send and invite their three sisters to eat and drink with them. ⁵And when the days of the feast had run their course, Job would send and consecrate them, and he would rise early in the morning and offer burnt offerings according to the number of them all. For Job said, “It may be that my children have sinned, and cursed^g God in their hearts.” Thus Job did continually.

^g The Hebrew word ble is used euphemistically for curse in 1:5, 11; 2:5, 9

Note: Points on relating to children in general

Matt 18:5-6, 10 Whoever receives one such child in my name receives me, ⁶but whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in me to sin,^h it would be better for him to have a great millstone fastened around his neck and to be drowned in the depth of the sea. ... ¹⁰“See that you do not despise one of these little ones. For I tell you that in heaven their angels always see the face of my Father who is in heaven.ⁱ

^h Greek causes . . . to stumble; also verses 8, 9

ⁱ Some manuscripts add verse 11: For the Son of Man came to save the lost

A number of commentators consider that Jesus is speaking figuratively in using terms like “child” and “little ones”, referring to believers who should “become like children”, humbling themselves (vv. 3-4; cf. Mark 10:15 ↓). But even so, much of this teaching is still quite applicable to young children. For further comment on v. 5, see Note: What one does for another Christian, one does for Jesus Christ, p. 1339.

Mark 10:13-16 And they were bringing children to him that he might touch them, and the disciples rebuked them. ¹⁴But when Jesus saw it, he was indignant and said to them, “Let the children come to me; do not hinder them, for to such belongs the kingdom of God. ¹⁵Truly, I say to you, whoever does not receive the kingdom of God like a child shall not enter it.” ¹⁶And he took them in his arms and blessed them, laying his hands on them. ☞

Jesus’ contrasting reaction sets an example of respect, care and acceptance of little children.

Parents should raise their children to live as God wants

Eph 6:4 Fathers, do not provoke your children to anger, but bring them up in the discipline and instruction of the Lord. ☞

Gen 18:19 For I have chosen^j him, that he may command his children and his household after him to keep the way of the LORD by doing righteousness and justice, so that the LORD may bring to Abraham what he has promised him. ☞

Deut 11:18-19 You shall therefore lay up these words of mine in your heart and in your soul, and you shall bind them as a sign on your hand, and they shall be as frontlets between your eyes. ¹⁹*You shall teach them to your children, talking of them when you are sitting in your house, and when you are walking by the way, and when you lie down, and when you rise.* ☞

Deut 32:46 ... he said to them, “Take to heart all the words by which I am warning you today, that you may command them to your children, that they may be careful to do all the words of this law. ☞

Prov 22:6 Train up a child in the way he should go; even when he is old he will not depart from it. ☞

Prov 31:1 The words of King Lemuel. An oracle that his mother taught him: ... ☞

This begins a passage of godly teaching from the king’s mother to her son (cf. vv. 2-9). It exemplifies that parents should teach their children to live as God wants.

Prov 31:26 She opens her mouth with wisdom, and the teaching of kindness is on her tongue. ☞

The children of the “excellent wife” (v. 10) are no doubt among the recipients of her instruction. The fact that she speaks with wisdom and gives “the teaching of kindness”, implies that the instruction is consistent with and inclusive of the ways of God.

Josh 24:15 And if it is evil in your eyes to serve the LORD, choose this day whom you will serve, whether the gods your fathers served in the region beyond the River, or the gods of the Amorites in whose land you dwell. But as for me and my house, we will serve the LORD. ☞

Joshua’s determination that he and his household would serve God is indicative of him raising his children to live as God wanted – and exemplary.

Parents should discipline their children

Prov 13:24 Whoever spares the rod hates his son, but he who loves him is diligent to discipline him.^k

^k Or who loves him disciplines him early

Prov 19:18 Discipline your son, for there is hope; do not set your heart on putting him to death.

Here “death” (cf. Prov 23:14 ↓) is probably either hyperbole for a ruined life or referring to premature death – both of which result from foolishness or wickedness, which are in turn often the products of a lack of discipline. Contrastingly, discipline gives hope for a child’s future.

Prov 22:15 Folly is bound up in the heart of a child, but the rod of discipline drives it far from him.

Prov 23:13-14 Do not withhold discipline from a child; if you strike him with a rod, he will not die. ¹⁴If you strike him with the rod, you will save his soul from Sheol.

Verse 13b means that “spanking won’t kill them.” (GNT)

Prov 29:15, 17 The rod and reproof give wisdom, but a child left to himself brings shame to his mother.  ... ¹⁷Discipline your son, and he will give you rest; he will give delight to your heart.

Heb 12:7-9 It is for discipline that you have to endure. God is treating you as sons. For what son is there whom his father does not discipline?⁸If you are left without discipline, in which all have participated, then you are illegitimate children and not sons. ⁹Besides this, we have had earthly fathers who disciplined us and we respected them. Shall we not much more be subject to the Father of spirits and live?

Prov 3:12 ... for the LORD reproves him whom he loves, as a father the son in whom he delights.

1Tim 3:4, 12 He [a church overseer] must manage his own household well, with all dignity keeping his children submissive,  ... ¹²Let deacons each be the husband of one wife, managing their children and their own households well.

Children’s obedience and respect (v. 4), along with other aspects of managing one’s children (vv. 4, 12), require discipline.

‡ Parents must not provoke their children:

Col 3:21 Fathers, do not provoke your children, lest they become discouraged.

Fathers (and mothers) can provoke their children in a number of ways, but most likely Paul had in mind matters related to excessive or unfair discipline. (A similar point is made in Ephesians 6:4, in the previous subsection.)

Parents should teach their children about God and his deeds, inspiring them to obey God’s laws . . .

Isa 38:19 The living, the living, he thanks you, as I do this day; the father makes known to the children your faithfulness.

Ps 44:1-3 O God, we have heard with our ears, our fathers have told us, what deeds you performed in their days, in the days of old: ²you with your own hand drove out the nations, but them you planted; you afflicted the peoples, but them you set free; ³for not by their own sword did they win the land, nor did their own arm save them, but your right hand and your arm, and the light of your face, for you delighted in them.

Note that the expression “the light of your face” (v. 3b) speaks of God’s presence with and care for his people.

Ex 12:25-27 And when you come to the land that the LORD will give you, as he has promised, you shall keep this service. ²⁶And when your children say to you, ‘What do you mean by this service?’ ²⁷you shall say, ‘It is the sacrifice of the LORD’s Passover, for he passed over the houses of the people of Israel in Egypt, when he struck the Egyptians but spared our houses.’” And the people bowed their heads and worshiped.

Observing the Passover service/ceremony would promote the teaching to Israelite children – and their remembrance – of the awesome things that God did in delivering the people from Egypt.

Deut 4:9-14 Only take care, and keep your soul diligently, lest you forget the things that your eyes have seen, and lest they depart from your heart all the days of your life. Make them known to your children and your children’s children— ¹⁰how on the day that you stood before the LORD your God at Horeb, the LORD said to me, ‘Gather the people to me, that I may let them hear my words, so that they may learn to fear me all the days that they live on the earth, and that they may teach their children so.’ ¹¹And you came near and stood at the foot of the mountain, while the mountain burned with fire to the heart of heaven, wrapped in darkness, cloud, and gloom. ¹²Then the LORD spoke to you out of the midst of the fire. You heard the sound of words, but saw no form; there was only a voice. ¹³And he declared to you his covenant, which he commanded you to perform, that is, the Ten Commandments,¹ and he wrote them on two tablets of stone. ¹⁴And the LORD commanded me at that time to teach you statutes and rules, that you might do them in the land that you are going over to possess.

Presumably that which Moses wanted the Israelites to teach to their children and their children's children (v. 9) included that which he spoke of in the following verses (vv. 10-14): God's awesome revelation of himself, with his subsequent declaration of his commands for his people to obey. Probably one implication is that by parents teaching their children how awesome God is, the children would be moved to obey the commands of God taught to them (cf. Ps 78:2-7 ↓).

Ps 78:2-7 I will open my mouth in a parable; I will utter dark sayings from of old, ³*things that we have heard and known, that our fathers have told us.* ⁴*We will not hide them from their children, but tell to the coming generation the glorious deeds of the LORD, and his might, and the wonders that he has done.* ⁵*He established a testimony in Jacob and appointed a law in Israel, which he commanded our fathers to teach to their children,* ⁶*that the next generation might know them, the children yet unborn, and arise and tell them to their children,* ⁷*so that they should set their hope in God and not forget the works of God, but keep his commandments; ...*

This speaks of parents telling their children of God's deeds and power (vv. 2-4) and subsequently of his commands (vv. 5-6). Verse 7 then concludes that in light of God's wonderful deeds for them, the children would set their hope in God and obey his commands.

Deut 6:20-25 When your son asks you in time to come, 'What is the meaning of the testimonies and the statutes and the rules that the LORD our God has commanded you?' ²¹*then you shall say to your son, 'We were Pharaoh's slaves in Egypt. And the LORD brought us out of Egypt with a mighty hand.* ²²*And the LORD showed signs and wonders, great and grievous, against Egypt and against Pharaoh and all his household, before our eyes.* ²³*And he brought us out from there, that he might bring us in and give us the land that he swore to give to our fathers.* ²⁴*And the LORD commanded us to do all these statutes, to fear the LORD our God, for our good always, that he might preserve us alive, as we are this day.* ²⁵*And it will be righteousness for us, if we are careful to do all this commandment before the LORD our God, as he has commanded us.'*

Moses' words here are very much applicable to believers today. Christian parents should explain the significance of God's commands (v. 20) and so why they should be kept. In doing so they should explain what God has done for his people in redeeming them through Jesus Christ, with the associated blessings – paralleling the Israelite's deliverance from Egypt and the latter blessing of the promised land (vv. 21-23). In conjunction with this, parents should emphasize that having been redeemed and blessed as such by God, his people ought to do as he says (v. 24a), in part for their own good (v. 24b) and for their righteousness (v. 25). (In regard to their righteousness, Christians should obey to appropriate their righteousness rather than to try to earn it like the Israelites were to do.)

... Parents should promote faith in their children

See also:

▪ Ps 78:7 ↑

Note that the previous topic – regarding teaching children about God and what he has done – is obviously an important part of promoting faith in children, as is illustrated there in Psalms 78:2-7.

2Tim 1:5 I am reminded of your sincere faith, a faith that dwelt first in your grandmother Lois and your mother Eunice and now, I am sure, dwells in you as well.

Timothy's grandmother and mother – with their strong faith – undoubtedly played a role in the development of Timothy's faith (cf. 2Tim 3:14-15 ↓).

2Tim 3:14-15 But as for you, continue in what you have learned and have firmly believed, knowing from whom^m you learned it ¹⁵*and how from childhood you have been acquainted with the sacred writings, which are able to make you wise for salvation through faith in Christ Jesus.*

^mThe Greek for whom is plural

Particularly in the light of the reference to Timothy having known the Scriptures "from childhood" (v. 15), those "from whom you learned it" (v. 14) would be inclusive of – and probably primarily speaking of – Timothy's grandmother Lois and his mother Eunice (cf. 2Tim 1:5 ↑). By likewise teaching children the Scriptures, parents work towards making them "wise for salvation through faith in Christ Jesus" (v. 15).

Titus 1:6 ... if anyone is above reproach, the husband of one wife,ⁿ and his children are believers and not open to the charge of debauchery or insubordination.

ⁿ Or a man of one woman

The role of the parent in the children coming to faith is implicit in this reference.

Prov 22:17-19 Incline your ear, and hear the words of the wise, and apply your heart to my knowledge, ¹⁸for it will be pleasant if you keep them within you, if all of them are ready on your lips. ¹⁹*That your trust may be in the LORD, I have made them known to you today, even to you.*

This was not necessarily spoken by a parent, but obviously is quite applicable to the role of parents in teaching their children godly wisdom so that they may trust in God.

✦ Parents should teach their children to reverently fear God:

Ps 34:11 Come, O children, listen to me; I will teach you the fear of the LORD.

Most likely “children” refers to young listeners or the people generally, rather than David’s actual children – but as with Proverbs 22:19 above, the verse is very much applicable to teaching one’s own children.

Note: Godly parents bring great blessing to their children

Deut 12:28 Be careful to obey all these words that I command you, that it may go well with you and with your children after you forever, when you do what is good and right in the sight of the LORD your God.

Ps 37:25-26 I have been young, and now am old, yet I have not seen the righteous forsaken or his children begging for bread. ²⁶*He is ever lending generously, and his children become a blessing.*

Further to being blessed themselves, in being provided for (v. 25), children of godly parents themselves become a blessing (v. 26). However, note that the last clause has been translated to say that the children are blessed (cf. AMP, NIV, NKJV).

Ps 102:28 The children of your servants shall dwell secure; their offspring shall be established before you.

The second part of the verse may primarily be speaking of being established in a right relationship with God and/or being secure under his care (cf. GNT, NIV) in this relationship.

Ps 103:17-18 But the steadfast love of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting on those who fear him, and his righteousness to children’s children, ¹⁸*to those who keep his covenant and remember to do his commandments.*

Verse 17 speaks of God’s righteousness – including his “goodness” (GNT, NCV) – manifesting itself along with his love amongst future generations of those who fear and obey him.

Ps 112:2 His offspring will be mighty in the land; the generation of the upright will be blessed.

Prov 20:7 The righteous who walks in his integrity— blessed are his children after him!

Jer 32:39 I will give them one heart and one way, that they may fear me forever, for their own good and the good of their children after them.

Prov 3:33 The LORD’s curse is on the house of the wicked, but he blesses the dwelling of the righteous.

Similarly 14:11 says, “The house of the wicked will be destroyed, but the tent of the upright will flourish.” Children are encompassed in such promises.

Prov 17:6 Grandchildren are the crown of the aged, and the glory of children is their fathers.

This suggests that godly parents bring glory to their children – or at least that they give their children reason to glory, exulting in and taking pride in their parents.

✦ The sanctifying effects of a believer on their spouse and children:

1Cor 7:14 For the unbelieving husband is made holy because of his wife, and the unbelieving wife is made holy because of her husband. Otherwise your children would be unclean, but as it is, they are holy.

For comment on this verse, see 1Cor 7:10-15 – under Avoid divorce – it is contrary to God’s purposes, p. 1699.

Ex 20:12 Honor your father and your mother, that your days may be long in the land that the LORD your God is giving you.

Lev 19:3 Every one of you shall revere his mother and his father, and you shall keep my Sabbaths: I am the LORD your God.

Eph 6:2-3 “Honor your father and mother” (this is the first commandment with a promise), ³“that it may go well with you and that you may live long in the land.”

1Ki 2:19 So Bathsheba went to King Solomon to speak to him on behalf of Adonijah. And the king rose to meet her and bowed down to her. Then he sat on his throne and had a seat brought for the king’s mother, and she sat on his right.

Bathsheba was King Solomon’s mother.

Prov 31:28 Her children rise up and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praises her: ...

The reference is to an “excellent wife” (v. 10). In this context “call her blessed” implies that her children praise her.

. . . Children should not dishonor or mistreat their parents

Ex 21:15, 17 Whoever strikes his father or his mother shall be put to death. ... ¹⁷*“Whoever curses^o his father or his mother shall be put to death.*

^o Or dishonors; Septuagint reviles

Prov 15:20 A wise son makes a glad father, but a foolish man despises his mother.

Prov 19:26 He who does violence to his father and chases away his mother is a son who brings shame and reproach.

Prov 20:20 If one curses his father or his mother, his lamp will be put out in utter darkness.

The imagery refers to such a person’s life ending like a lamp going out in the dark.

Prov 30:11 There are those^p who curse their fathers and do not bless their mothers.

^p Hebrew There is a generation; also verses 12, 13, 14

The context (cf. 12-14) underlines that this is wicked behavior.

Prov 30:17 The eye that mocks a father and scorns to obey a mother will be picked out by the ravens of the valley and eaten by the vultures.

Verse 17 figuratively speaks of the harsh outcomes of mocking and disobeying one’s parents.

Likewise, all older people should be treated with respect

Lev 19:32 You shall stand up before the gray head and honor the face of an old man, and you shall fear your God: I am the LORD.

This verse appears to link showing honor and respect for old people, with reverence for God (cf. NLT).

Job 32:4, 6 Now Elihu had waited to speak to Job because they were older than he. ... ⁶*And Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite answered and said: “I am young in years, and you are aged; therefore I was timid and afraid to declare my opinion to you.*

1Tim 5:1-2 Do not rebuke an older man but encourage him as you would a father, younger men as brothers, ²*older women as mothers*, younger women as sisters, in all purity.

1Pet 5:5 Likewise, you who are younger, be subject to the elders. Clothe yourselves, all of you, with humility toward one another, for “God opposes the proud but gives grace to the humble.”

‡ Lament of elders not being shown respect:

Lam 5:12 Princes are hung up by their hands; no respect is shown to the elders.

Job speaks of enduring such disrespect from younger men in Job 30:1a – “But now they laugh at me, men who are younger than I ...”

Children are to obey their parents

Eph 6:1 Children, obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right.

Children are to obey their parents “in the Lord”, in their life in Jesus Christ. For this is right, being the Lord’s will for children (cf. Col 3:20 ↓).

Col 3:20 Children, obey your parents in everything, for this pleases the Lord.

Gen 28:7 ... and that Jacob had obeyed his father and his mother and gone to Paddan-aram.

Gen 47:30 ... but let me lie with my fathers. Carry me out of Egypt and bury me in their burying place.” He answered, “I will do as you have said.”

In the second part of the verse, Joseph promises his elderly father, Jacob, that he will adhere to his instructions.

Est 2:20 Esther had not made known her kindred or her people, as Mordecai had commanded her, for Esther obeyed Mordecai just as when she was brought up by him.

Mordecai was actually Esther’s cousin; he had been her guardian who brought her up. As such it was appropriate for her to obey him as if he was her father.

Luke 2:51 And he went down with them and came to Nazareth and was submissive to them. And his mother treasured up all these things in her heart.

This speaks of Jesus being obedient to his parents.

1Tim 3:4 He must manage his own household well, with all dignity keeping his children submissive, ...

Just as parents should seek to keep their children submissive, children should be submissive and so obedient.

Deut 21:18-21 If a man has a stubborn and rebellious son who will not obey the voice of his father or the voice of his mother, and, though they discipline him, will not listen to them, ¹⁹then his father and his mother shall take hold of him and bring him out to the elders of his city at the gate of the place where he lives, ²⁰and they shall say to the elders of his city, “This our son is stubborn and rebellious; he will not obey our voice; he is a glutton and a drunkard.” ²¹Then all the men of the city shall stone him to death with stones. So you shall purge the evil from your midst, and all Israel shall hear, and fear.

The NT does not advocate the death penalty, but this reference highlights the gravity of such disobedience.

Rom 1:29-30 They were filled with all manner of unrighteousness, evil, covetousness, malice. They are full of envy, murder, strife, deceit, maliciousness. They are gossips, ³⁰slanderers, haters of God, insolent, haughty, boastful, inventors of evil, disobedient to parents, ...

The inclusion of disobedience to parents amongst such lists of wicked deeds or characteristics (cf. 2Tim 3:2 ↓), underscores the sinfulness of it.

2Tim 3:2 For people will be lovers of self, lovers of money, proud, arrogant, abusive, disobedient to their parents, ungrateful, unholy, ...

Prov 30:17 The eye that mocks a father and scorns to obey a mother will be picked out by the ravens of the valley and eaten by the vultures.

Children should heed their parents’ teaching – which brings great benefits

Prov 1:8-9 Hear, my son, your father’s instruction, and forsake not your mother’s teaching, ⁹for they are a graceful garland for your head and pendants for your neck.

A “garland” (v. 9) is a wreath worn on one’s head. Verse 9 is speaking figuratively of blessings of following a parent’s teaching – appearing to point to such things as a more agreeable character (cf. GNT) and honor (cf. NLT).

Prov 3:1-2 My son, do not forget my teaching, but let your heart keep my commandments, ²for length of days and years of life and peace they will add to you.

Prov 4:1-5, 10-11, 20-22 Hear, O sons, a father’s instruction, and be attentive, that you may gain⁴ insight, ²for I give you good precepts; do not forsake my teaching. ³When I was a son with my father, tender, the only one in the sight of my mother, ⁴he taught me and said to me, “Let your heart hold fast my words; keep my commandments, and live. ⁵Get wisdom; get insight; do not forget, and do not turn away from the words of my mouth. ... ¹⁰Hear, my son, and accept my words, that the years of your life may be many. ¹¹I have taught you the way of wisdom; I have led you in the paths of uprightness. ... ²⁰My son, be attentive to my words; incline your ear to my sayings. ²¹Let them not escape from your sight;

keep them within your heart. ²²For they are life to those who find them, and healing to all their^r flesh.

The last clause in v. 22 speaks of good health.

Prov 6:20-23 My son, keep your father's commandment, and forsake not your mother's teaching. ²¹Bind them on your heart always; tie them around your neck. ²²When you walk, they^s will lead you; when you lie down, they will watch over you; and when you awake, they will talk with you. ²³For the commandment is a lamp and the teaching a light, and the reproofs of discipline are the way of life, ...

^s Hebrew it; three times in this verse

In v. 22, "they will watch over you" speaks of the security or protection (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NLT) that living by such teaching provides.

Prov 13:1 A wise son hears his father's instruction, but a scoffer does not listen to rebuke.

Prov 23:22 Listen to your father who gave you life, and do not despise your mother when she is old.

Here "do not despise your mother" encompasses heeding what she says, in keeping with the preceding instruction.

Prov 23:26 My son, give me your heart, and let your eyes observe^t my ways.

^t Or delight in

In saying "give me your heart", the father calls on the son to listen closely and receptively to his teachings and to wholeheartedly keep to his ways.

‡ Heed a parent's reproof:

Prov 15:5 A fool despises his father's instruction, but whoever heeds reproof is prudent.

Note that 6:23 above refers to "the reproofs of discipline" leading to life, with the context suggesting that parental discipline is primarily in view.

And many such things you do.”

^v Or an offering

The action spoken of in v. 11 avoided – in part at least – one’s responsibility to help one’s parents. As such it violated the spirit of the laws stated in v. 10 – and so was condemned outright by Jesus.

Gen 14:12, 14-16 They also took Lot, the son of Abram’s brother, who was dwelling in Sodom, and his possessions, and went their way. ...¹⁴ When Abram heard that his kinsman had been taken captive, he led forth his trained men, born in his house, 318 of them, and went in pursuit as far as Dan.¹⁵ And he divided his forces against them by night, he and his servants, and defeated them and pursued them to Hobah, north of Damascus.¹⁶ Then he brought back all the possessions, and also brought back his kinsman Lot with his possessions, and the women and the people.

Gen 44:32-33 For your servant became a pledge of safety for the boy to my father, saying, ‘If I do not bring him back to you, then I shall bear the blame before my father all my life.’³³ Now therefore, please let your servant remain instead of the boy as a servant to my lord, and let the boy go back with his brothers.

Judah was prepared to sacrifice his own freedom to secure that of his younger brother Benjamin.

Gen 50:21 So do not fear; I will provide for you and your little ones.” Thus he comforted them and spoke kindly to them.

After his father Jacob’s death, Joseph’s brothers were afraid he would take revenge on them for selling him as a slave (cf. vv. 15-20). But instead Joseph promised to provide for his brothers and their families.

Lev 25:25 If your brother becomes poor and sells part of his property, then his nearest redeemer shall come and redeem what his brother has sold.

A “redeemer” (cf. Ruth 4:13-15 ↓) was a close relative. They had a responsibility to care for any needy amongst their extended family. Note that here “brother” refers to a fellow Israelite, not an actual brother.

Josh 1:14-15 Your wives, your little ones, and your livestock shall remain in the land that Moses gave you beyond the Jordan, but all the men of valor among you shall pass over armed before your brothers and shall help them,¹⁵ until the LORD gives rest to your brothers as he has to you, and they also take possession of the land that the LORD your God is giving them. Then you shall return to the land of your possession and shall possess it, the land that Moses the servant of the LORD gave you beyond the Jordan toward the sunrise.

We have a responsibility to care for all people, but verses such as this arguably illustrate that we have a particular responsibility to: relatives; “brothers” and sisters amongst God’s people; and even compatriots.

Ruth 2:11-12 But Boaz answered her, “All that you have done for your mother-in-law since the death of your husband has been fully told to me, and how you left your father and mother and your native land and came to a people that you did not know before.¹² The LORD repay you for what you have done, and a full reward be given you by the LORD, the God of Israel, under whose wings you have come to take refuge!”

Ruth’s decision to leave her own father and mother to help her destitute mother-in-law Naomi, may have been because Naomi was in greater need and/or possibly in the culture of the day it was understood that she had married into Naomi’s family and as such her loyalties primarily lay there.

Ruth 4:13-15 So Boaz took Ruth, and she became his wife. And he went in to her, and the LORD gave her conception, and she bore a son.¹⁴ Then the women said to Naomi, “Blessed be the LORD, who has not left you this day without a redeemer, and may his name be renowned in Israel!¹⁵ He shall be to you a restorer of life and a nourisher of your old age, for your daughter-in-law who loves you, who is more to you than seven sons, has given birth to him.”

The redeemer referred to here is the newly born boy (v. 13) who was related closely to Naomi through Ruth.

Absalom took in his sister Tamar after she had been devastatingly violated and dishonored (cf. vv. 1-22).

Est 2:7 He was bringing up Hadassah, that is Esther, the daughter of his uncle, for she had neither father nor mother. The young woman had a beautiful figure and was lovely to look at, and when her father and her mother died, Mordecai took her as his own daughter.

^w Or sons

^x Or They shall not be put to shame when they speak with their enemies in the gate

In the last statement "the gate" most likely refers to the city gate, the place where court cases were held (cf. GNT, NIV, NLT). Having many sons would help ensure that one would not be treated unjustly.

Ps 128:3 Your wife will be like a fruitful vine within your house; your children will be like olive shoots around your table.

The verse speaks of those who fear the LORD (cf. v. 1), in effect saying that they will be blessed with sons who are "vigorous and healthy" (NLT). The "olive shoots" simile probably alludes to the productivity and blessing that such sons bring to parents.

Prov 17:6 Grandchildren are the crown of the aged, and the glory of children is their fathers.

Grandchildren are their grandparent's "crowning glory" (NLT).

1Chr 25:5 All these were the sons of Heman the king's seer, according to the promise of God to exalt him, for God had given Heman fourteen sons and three daughters.

Having many children was seen as prestigious.

1Chr 26:5 Ammiel the sixth, Issachar the seventh, Peullethai the eighth, for God blessed him.

God had blessed Obed-Edom with eight sons (cf. vv. 2-4).

. . . and children can bring their parents much joy

Prov 23:15-16, 24-25 My son, if your heart is wise, my heart too will be glad. ¹⁶My inmost being^y will exult when your lips speak what is right. ... ²⁴The father of the righteous will greatly rejoice; he who fathers a wise son will be glad in him. ²⁵Let your father and mother be glad; let her who bore you rejoice.

^y Hebrew My kidneys

Prov 27:11 Be wise, my son, and make my heart glad, that I may answer him who reproaches me.

The reasoning behind this may be that a child who is wise reflects very well on his or her parents, notably their own wisdom, making clear that any "reproach" shown towards them is quite inappropriate.

Prov 29:3, 17 He who loves wisdom makes his father glad, but a companion of prostitutes squanders his wealth. ... ¹⁷Discipline your son, and he will give you rest; he will give delight to your heart.

Luke 1:13-15, 57-58 But the angel said to him, "Do not be afraid, Zechariah, for your prayer has been heard, and your wife Elizabeth will bear you a son, and you shall call his name John. ¹⁴And you will have joy and gladness, and many will rejoice at his birth, ¹⁵for he will be great before the Lord. And he must not drink wine or strong drink, and he will be filled with the Holy Spirit, even from his mother's womb. ... ⁵⁷Now the time came for Elizabeth to give birth, and she bore a son. ⁵⁸And her neighbors and relatives heard that the Lord had shown great mercy to her, and they rejoiced with her.

John 16:21 When a woman is giving birth, she has sorrow because her hour has come, but when she has delivered the baby, she no longer remembers the anguish, for joy that a human being has been born into the world.

‡ A foolish son brings sorrow to his parents:

Prov 17:21, 25 He who sires a fool gets himself sorrow, and the father of a fool has no joy. ... ²⁵A foolish son is a grief to his father and bitterness to her who bore him.

In the same vein, Proverbs 19:13 says, "A foolish son is his father's ruin..."

II. Civil Relationships

In addition to relationships with family members, the Bible looks at other relationships which have a marked effect on our lives. In doing so, it gives wise and challenging teaching regarding relationships between citizens and governing authorities, and between employees and employers.

a) Citizens' Duties to Authorities

Subsections

- Citizens should submit to and obey the governing authorities . . .
- . . . For the authorities have been established by God and they will punish wrongdoers
- Citizens should defy any command that conflicts with God's will
- Citizens should honor authorities
- Citizens should pray for authorities

Citizens should submit to and obey the governing authorities . . .

Titus 3:1 Remind them to be submissive to rulers and authorities, to be obedient, to be ready for every good work, ...

As with the command "to be submissive", the command "to be obedient" is also given in regard to "rulers and authorities".

Deut 17:9-11 And you shall come to the Levitical priests and to the judge who is in office in those days, and you shall consult them, and they shall declare to you the decision. ¹⁰Then you shall do according to what they declare to you from that place that the LORD will choose. And you shall be careful to do according to all that they direct you. ¹¹According to the instructions that they give you, and according to the decision which they pronounce to you, you shall do. You shall not turn aside from the verdict that they declare to you, either to the right hand or to the left.

1Chr 29:23-24 Then Solomon sat on the throne of the LORD as king in place of David his father. And he prospered, and all Israel obeyed him. ²⁴*All the leaders and the mighty men, and also all the sons of King David, pledged their allegiance to King Solomon.*

2Chr 8:15 And they did not turn aside from what the king had commanded the priests and Levites concerning any matter and concerning the treasuries.

Prov 10:8 The wise of heart will receive commandments, but a babbling fool will come to ruin.

This is probably not referring specifically to commands from governing authorities, but would be inclusive of them.

Prov 28:7 The one who keeps the law is a son with understanding, but a companion of gluttons shames his father.

The phrase "the law" is probably referring primarily to God's law, but obviously the reference to keeping the law is also applicable to keeping the civil law, in obedience to governing authorities.

1Sam 24:8 Afterward David also arose and went out of the cave, and called after Saul, "My lord the king!" And when Saul looked behind him, David bowed with his face to the earth and paid homage.

David's actions exemplified his submission to Saul as King.

2Sam 9:11a Then Ziba said to the king, "According to all that my lord the king commands his servant, so will your servant do."

Matt 23:2-3 The scribes and the Pharisees sit on Moses' seat, ³so practice and observe whatever they tell you—but not what they do. For they preach, but do not practice.

The clause "sit on Moses' seat" refers to the Pharisees' position in interpreting and advocating the Mosaic laws.

Rom 13:7 Pay to all what is owed to them: taxes to whom taxes are owed, revenue to whom revenue is owed, respect to whom respect is owed, honor to whom honor is owed.

In conjunction with obeying governing authorities, citizens should pay their taxes (cf. Matt 22:17-21 ↓; Rom 13:6 ↓). Here "revenue" refers to forms of taxes such as duties on goods (cf. NLT).

Matt 22:17-21 Tell us, then, what you think. Is it lawful to pay taxes to Caesar, or not? ¹⁸But Jesus, aware of their malice, said, "Why put me to the test, you hypocrites? ¹⁹Show me the coin for the tax." And they brought him a denarius.^a ²⁰And

Jesus said to them, “Whose likeness and inscription is this?”²¹They said, “Caesar’s.” Then he said to them, “Therefore render to Caesar the things that are Caesar’s, and to God the things that are God’s.”

^a A denarius was a day’s wage for a laborer

Acts 25:8 Paul argued in his defense, “Neither against the law of the Jews, nor against the temple, nor against Caesar have I committed any offense.”

. . . For the authorities have been established by God and they will punish wrongdoers

Rom 13:1-6 Let every person be subject to the governing authorities. For there is no authority except from God, and those that exist have been instituted by God. ²Therefore whoever resists the authorities resists what God has appointed, and those who resist will incur judgment. ³For rulers are not a terror to good conduct, but to bad. Would you have no fear of the one who is in authority? Then do what is good, and you will receive his approval, ⁴for he is God’s servant for your good. But if you do wrong, be afraid, for he does not bear the sword in vain. For he is the servant of God, an avenger who carries out God’s wrath on the wrongdoer. ⁵Therefore one must be in subjection, not only to avoid God’s wrath but also for the sake of conscience. ⁶For because of this you also pay taxes, for the authorities are ministers of God, attending to this very thing.

1Pet 2:13-14 Be subject for the Lord’s sake to every human institution,^b whether it be to the emperor^c as supreme, ¹⁴or to governors as sent by him to punish those who do evil and to praise those who do good.

^b Or every institution ordained for people

^c Or king; also verse 17

In saying one should be subject “for the Lord’s sake” (v. 13), quite possibly Peter has in view that God is the one who has instituted the authorities and also that submitting as such to civil authority reflects honorably on the Lord. It also avoids needless opposition to Christians.

Prov 24:21-22 My son, fear the LORD and the king, and do not join with those who do otherwise, ²²for disaster will arise suddenly from them, and who knows the ruin that will come from them both?

Ecc 8:2, 5 I say:^d Keep the king’s command, because of God’s oath to him.^e ... ⁵Whoever keeps a command will know no evil thing, and the wise heart will know the proper time and the just way.

^d Hebrew lacks say

^e Or because of your oath to God

“God’s oath to him” is probably an oath of loyalty made in God’s name to the king (cf. text note), as was often taken on a king’s coronation.

Citizens should defy any command that conflicts with God’s will

Ex 1:15-17 Then the king of Egypt said to the Hebrew midwives, one of whom was named Shiphrah and the other Puah, ¹⁶“When you serve as midwife to the Hebrew women and see them on the birthstool, if it is a son, you shall kill him, but if it is a daughter, she shall live.”¹⁷But the midwives feared God and did not do as the king of Egypt commanded them, but let the male children live.

Dan 3:4-6, 16-18, 28 And the herald proclaimed aloud, “You are commanded, O peoples, nations, and languages, ⁵that when you hear the sound of the horn, pipe, lyre, trigon, harp, bagpipe, and every kind of music, you are to fall down and worship the golden image that King Nebuchadnezzar has set up. ⁶And whoever does not fall down and worship shall immediately be cast into a burning fiery furnace.” ... ¹⁶Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego answered and said to the king, “O Nebuchadnezzar, we have no need to answer you in this matter. ¹⁷If this be so, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace, and he will deliver us out of your hand, O king.^f ¹⁸But if not, be it known to you, O king, that we will not serve your gods or worship the golden image that you have set up.” ... ²⁸Nebuchadnezzar answered and said, “Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, who has sent his angel and delivered his servants, who trusted in him, and set aside^g the king’s command, and yielded up their bodies rather than serve and worship any god except their own God.

^f Or If our God whom we serve is able to deliver us, he will deliver us from the burning fiery furnace and out of your hand, O king.

^g Aramaic and changed

Dan 6:5-10 Then these men said, “We shall not find any ground for complaint against this Daniel unless we find it in connection with the law of his God.”⁶Then these presidents and satraps came by agreement^h to the king and said to him, “O King Darius, live forever! ⁷All the presidents of the kingdom, the prefects and the satraps, the counselors and the governors are agreed that the king should establish an ordinance and enforce an injunction, that whoever makes petition to any god or man for thirty days, except to you, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions. ⁸Now, O king, establish the injunction and sign the document, so that it cannot be changed, according to the law of the Medes and the Persians, which cannot be revoked.” ⁹*Therefore King Darius signed the document and injunction.* ¹⁰*When Daniel knew that the document had been signed, he went to his house where he had windows in his upper chamber open toward Jerusalem. He got down on his knees three times a day and prayed and gave thanks before his God, as he had done previously.*

^h Or came thronging; also verses 11, 15

Acts 4:18-20 So they called them and charged them not to speak or teach at all in the name of Jesus. ¹⁹*But Peter and John answered them, “Whether it is right in the sight of God to listen to you rather than to God, you must judge, ²⁰for we cannot but speak of what we have seen and heard.”*

The command in v. 18 was given by the Jewish authorities – the Jewish rulers, elders and teachers of the law (v. 5). It is a similar group involved in the following passages from Acts 5, it consisting of the high priest, his associates and the Sanhedrin, the full assembly of the elders of Israel (5:21).

Acts 5:27-29 And when they had brought them, they set them before the council. And the high priest questioned them, ²⁸saying, “We strictly charged you not to teach in this name, yet here you have filled Jerusalem with your teaching, and you intend to bring this man’s blood upon us.” ²⁹*But Peter and the apostles answered, “We must obey God rather than men.*

Acts 5:40, 42 ... and when they had called in the apostles, they beat them and charged them not to speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go. ... ⁴²*And every day, in the temple and from house to house, they did not cease teaching and preaching Jesus as the Christ.*

Citizens should honor authorities

1Pet 2:17 Honor everyone. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the emperor.

Rom 13:7 Pay to all what is owed to them: taxes to whom taxes are owed, revenue to whom revenue is owed, respect to whom respect is owed, honor to whom honor is owed.

The context shows that Paul had governing authorities primarily in view here (cf. vv. 1-6).

Ex 22:28 You shall not revile God, nor curse a ruler of your people.

Cursing authorities – as with insulting and speaking evil of them (cf. Acts 23:2-5 ↓) – is doing the opposite of honoring them, and is prohibited in Scripture.

Acts 23:2-5 And the high priest Ananias commanded those who stood by him to strike him on the mouth. ³Then Paul said to him, “God is going to strike you, you whitewashed wall! Are you sitting to judge me according to the law, and yet contrary to the law you order me to be struck?” ⁴Those who stood by said, “Would you revile God’s high priest?” ⁵*And Paul said, “I did not know, brothers, that he was the high priest, for it is written, ‘You shall not speak evil of a ruler of your people.’”*

Although what Paul said in v. 3 was true enough, he effectively withdrew it on learning that he was speaking to the high priest, not wanting to speak “evil” of and so dishonor the leading authority amongst his people.

Citizens should pray for authorities

1Tim 2:1-2 First of all, then, I urge that supplications, prayers, intercessions, and thanksgivings be made for all people, ²for kings and all who are in high positions, that we may lead a peaceful and quiet life, godly and dignified in every way.

Ezra 6:10 ... that they may offer pleasing sacrifices to the God of heaven and pray for the life of the king and his sons.

Note that this is actually from the decree of King Darius for the rebuilding of the temple at Jerusalem. Here he expresses the hope that one outcome of its rebuilding would be prayer for him and his sons – a hope that is in harmony with biblical teaching.

Ps 61:6-7 Prolong the life of the king; may his years endure to all generations! ⁷May he be enthroned forever before God; appoint steadfast love and faithfulness to watch over him!

Parts of this prayer are not eminently applicable to governing authorities in general – in fact the prayer has been seen as messianic. Nevertheless these verses illustrate the concept of praying for authorities. The same applies to 72:15 below, with Psalm 72 also considered to be messianic.

Ps 72:1-2, 15 Give the king your justice, O God, and your righteousness to the royal son! ²May he judge your people with righteousness, and your poor with justice! ... ¹⁵Long may he live; may gold of Sheba be given to him! May prayer be made for him continually, and blessings invoked for him all the day!

Psalm 72 is not only an example of prayer for the king; it also includes a request or hope that other people pray for him (v. 15).

1Ki 1:37 As the LORD has been with my lord the king, even so may he be with Solomon, and make his throne greater than the throne of my lord King David.

This blessing was in effect a prayer.

✚ In exile the Jews were to pray for the city of their captors:

Jer 29:7 But seek the welfare of the city where I have sent you into exile, and pray to the LORD on its behalf, for in its welfare you will find your welfare.

- Authorities should rule as servants of God
- Authorities should rule wisely . . .
- . . . Authorities need to be wise
- Note: Further traits that should characterize authorities

Governing authorities should act and rule according to God's law and ways

Governing authorities should act according to God's law and ways, both in how they conduct themselves and in their rule over their people.

Deut 17:16-20 *Only he must not acquire many horses for himself or cause the people to return to Egypt in order to acquire many horses, since the LORD has said to you, 'You shall never return that way again.'*¹⁷*And he shall not acquire many wives for himself, lest his heart turn away, nor shall he acquire* *for himself excessive silver and gold.*¹⁸*And when he sits on the throne of his kingdom, he shall write for himself in a book a copy of this law, approved by¹ the Levitical priests.*¹⁹*And it shall be with him, and he shall read in it all the days of his life, that he may learn to fear the LORD his God by keeping all the words of this law and these statutes, and doing them,*²⁰*that his heart may not be lifted up above his brothers, and that he may not turn aside from the commandment, either to the right hand or to the left, so that he may continue long in his kingdom, he and his children, in Israel.*

Note that the prohibition in v. 16a may have in view military might leading to self-reliance rather than reliance on God.

Josh 1:6-8 *Be strong and courageous, for you shall cause this people to inherit the land that I swore to their fathers to give them.*⁷*Only be strong and very courageous, being careful to do according to all the law that Moses my servant commanded you. Do not turn from it to the right hand or to the left, that you may have good success¹ wherever you go.*⁸*This Book of the Law shall not depart from your mouth, but you shall meditate on it day and night, so that you may be careful to do according to all that is written in it.* For then you will make your way prosperous, and then you will have good success.

¹ Or may act wisely

These instructions are given to Joshua, leader of Israel (v. 6).

1Ki 2:1-3 *When David's time to die drew near, he commanded Solomon his son, saying,²'I am about to go the way of all the earth. Be strong, and show yourself a man,*³*and keep the charge of the LORD your God, walking in his ways and keeping his statutes, his commandments, his rules, and his testimonies, as it is written in the Law of Moses, that you may prosper in all that you do and wherever you turn, ...*

2Ki 18:3 And he did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, according to all that David his father had done.

This is speaking of Hezekiah, as king of Judah.

2Ki 23:24 Moreover, Josiah put away the mediums and the necromancers and the household gods and the idols and all the abominations that were seen in the land of Judah and in Jerusalem, that he might establish the words of the law that were written in the book that Hilkiah the priest found in the house of the LORD.

1Chr 22:12 Only, may the LORD grant you discretion and understanding, that when he gives you charge over Israel you may keep the law of the LORD your God.

2Chr 19:8 Moreover, in Jerusalem Jehoshaphat appointed certain Levites and priests and heads of families of Israel, to give judgment for the LORD and to decide disputed cases. They had their seat at Jerusalem.

Jehoshaphat, the king of Judah, appointed authorities under him to make judgments according to God's law (cf. GNT, NCV, NIV, NLT) amongst the people.

2Chr 30:12 The hand of God was also on Judah to give them one heart to do what the king and the princes commanded by the word of the LORD.

✦ King Josiah led the people to follow God:

2Chr 34:33 And Josiah took away all the abominations from all the territory that belonged to the people of Israel and made all who were present in Israel serve the LORD their God. All his days they did not turn away from following the LORD, the God of their fathers.

Note that 19:4 says that Jehoshaphat likewise influenced his people to follow God – "... he went out again among the people, from Beersheba to the hill country of Ephraim, and brought them back to the LORD, the God of their fathers."

- Willingness to serve [required characteristics of church leaders], p. 1477

Rom 13:3-4 For rulers are not a terror to good conduct, but to bad. Would you have no fear of the one who is in authority? Then do what is good, and you will receive his approval, ⁴for he is God's servant for your good. But if you do wrong, be afraid, for he does not bear the sword in vain. For he is the servant of God, an avenger who carries out God's wrath on the wrongdoer.

Ps 2:10-11 Now therefore, O kings, be wise; be warned, O rulers of the earth. ¹¹*Serve the LORD with fear*, and rejoice with trembling.

2Chr 9:8 Blessed be the LORD your God, who has delighted in you and set you on his throne as king for the LORD your God! Because your God loved Israel and would establish them forever, he has made you king over them, that you may execute justice and righteousness.

Israel's kings were to rule on God's behalf, as implied by the reference to being placed "on his throne" as king "for" God.

This points to the fact that they were to rule as God's servants (cf. Rom 13:4 ).

✦ Authorities should also rule as servants of their people:

1Ki 12:6-7 Then King Rehoboam took counsel with the old men, who had stood before Solomon his father while he was yet alive, saying, "How do you advise me to answer this people?" ⁷And they said to him, "If you will be a servant to this people today and serve them, and speak good words to them when you answer them, then they will be your servants forever."

Authorities should rule wisely . . .

The speaker is Wisdom personified (cf. v. 12). Authorities should rule by wisdom.

Jer 3:15 And I will give you shepherds after my own heart, who will feed you with knowledge and understanding.

The reference to "knowledge and understanding" speaks of how the "shepherds" (i.e. leaders) should "feed" (i.e. rule or care for) the people.

Ps 78:72 With upright heart he shepherded them and guided them with his skillful hand.

Acts 24:2 And when he had been summoned, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying: "Since through you we enjoy much peace, and since by your foresight, most excellent Felix, reforms are being made for this nation, ...

1Ki 3:22-28 But the other woman said, "No, the living child is mine, and the dead child is yours." The first said, "No, the dead child is yours, and the living child is mine." Thus they spoke before the king. ²³Then the king said, "The one says,

‘This is my son that is alive, and your son is dead’; and the other says, ‘No; but your son is dead, and my son is the living one.’” ²⁴And the king said, “Bring me a sword.” So a sword was brought before the king. ²⁵And the king said, “Divide the living child in two, and give half to the one and half to the other.” ²⁶Then the woman whose son was alive said to the king, because her heart yearned for her son, “Oh, my lord, give her the living child, and by no means put him to death.” But the other said, “He shall be neither mine nor yours; divide him.” ²⁷Then the king answered and said, “Give the living child to the first woman, and by no means put him to death; she is his mother.” ²⁸And all Israel heard of the judgment that the king had rendered, and they stood in awe of the king, because they perceived that the wisdom of God was in him to do justice.

Ps 105:22 ... to bind^m his princes at his pleasure and to teach his elders wisdom.

^mSeptuagint, Syriac, Jerome instruct

This is speaking of Joseph teaching other Egyptian authorities to be wise.

Prov 25:2-3 It is the glory of God to conceal things, but the glory of kings is to search things out. ³As the heavens for height, and the earth for depth, so the heart of kings is unsearchable.

These verses appear to point to the wisdom that rulers should have – in searching out matters (v. 2) – including those in which they are required to make a ruling – and in having hearts or minds superior to that of the general populace (v. 3; cf. CEV, GNT).

Prov 28:2 When a land transgresses, it has many rulers, but with a man of understanding and knowledge, its stability will long continue.

The reference to “a man of understanding and knowledge” speaks of a ruler.

Eccl 4:13 Better was a poor and wise youth than an old and foolish king who no longer knew how to take advice.

↳ Bemoaning of foolish and unqualified authorities:

Eccl 10:5-7, 16-17 There is an evil that I have seen under the sun, as it were an error proceeding from the ruler: ⁶folly is set in many high places, and the rich sit in a low place. ⁷I have seen slaves on horses, and princes walking on the ground like slaves.  ... ¹⁶Woe to you, O land, when your king is a child, and your princes feast in the morning! ¹⁷Happy are you, O land, when your king is the son of the nobility, and your princes feast at the proper time, for strength, and not for drunkenness!

In v. 6 the rich are spoken of as “gifted people” (NCV™) who have proven their capability (cf. NLT). The writer bemoans them being given positions of relatively little influence, while fools are given high positions. In v. 7 the writer appears to speak of unqualified people having positions of influence – as in v. 16a – at the expense of more qualified and suitable people.

Note: Further traits that should characterize authorities

Prov 20:28 Steadfast love and faithfulness preserve the king, and by steadfast love his throne is upheld.

“Steadfast love and faithfulness” (cf. Isa 16:5 ↓) probably are used here as qualities that should characterize a king’s rule – qualities which keep him safe as well as benefit his subjects. But note that they could instead, or additionally, refer to God’s love and faithfulness (cf. Isa 16:5 ↓).

Isa 16:5 ... then a throne will be established in steadfast love, and on it will sit in faithfulness in the tent of David one who judges and seeks justice and is swift to do righteousness.

This speaks of the ideal king – the Messiah. The reference to love and perhaps also the reference to faithfulness may refer to God’s love and faithfulness in establishing the Messiah’s reign. However they have also been interpreted as referring to characteristics of the Messiah in his ideal reign (cf. GNT, Nlrv) – particularly the reference to faithfulness (cf. CEV, NCV, NLT). As such the verse would be pertinent to the theme of this subsection.

Josh 1:6, 9 Be strong and courageous, for you shall cause this people to inherit the land that I swore to their fathers to give them.  ... ⁹Have I not commanded you? Be strong and courageous. Do not be frightened, and do not be dismayed, for the LORD your God is with you wherever you go.

1Ki 2:1-2 When David’s time to die drew near, he commanded Solomon his son, saying, ²“I am about to go the way of all the earth. Be strong, and show yourself a man, ...

Rom 12:8 ... the one who exhorts, in his exhortation; the one who contributes, in generosity; the one who leads,ⁿ with zeal; the one who does acts of mercy, with cheerfulness.

ⁿ Or gives aid

This verse is referring to leadership in the church. But it is very relevant to all authorities, who ought to lead with zeal.

and the needy, and saves the lives of the needy. ¹⁴*From oppression and violence he redeems their life, and precious is their blood in his sight.*

Psalm 72 is largely a prayer for a Davidic king. As noted earlier, it was seen as messianic. Extracts such as this one reflect how a king should ideally rule.

Prov 31:8-9 Open your mouth for the mute, for the rights of all who are destitute.^s ⁹*Open your mouth, judge righteously, defend the rights of the poor and needy.*

^s Hebrew are sons of passing away

These instructions are from an oracle taught to a King Lemuel by his mother (cf. v. 1; vv. 4-5 ↓).

Jer 22:2-3, 15-16 ... and say, 'Hear the word of the LORD, O king of Judah, who sits on the throne of David, you, and your servants, and your people who enter these gates. ³Thus says the LORD: Do justice and righteousness, and deliver from the hand of the oppressor him who has been robbed. And do no wrong or violence to the resident alien, the fatherless, and the widow, nor shed innocent blood in this place.  ... ¹⁵Do you think you are a king because you compete in cedar? Did not your father eat and drink and do justice and righteousness? Then it was well with him. ¹⁶*He judged the cause of the poor and needy; then it was well.* Is not this to know me? declares the LORD.

Note that in conjunction with defending the needy, v. 3b points out that authorities should "do no wrong or violence" to them.

Dan 4:27 Therefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable to you: break off your sins by practicing righteousness, and your iniquities by showing mercy to the oppressed, that there may perhaps be a lengthening of your prosperity.

Est 10:3 For Mordecai the Jew was second in rank to King Ahasuerus, and he was great among the Jews and popular with the multitude of his brothers, for he sought the welfare of his people and spoke peace to all his people.

As aliens in exile, Jewish people were often needy. For as foreigners they were vulnerable and often faced injustice.

Prov 29:14 If a king faithfully judges the poor, his throne will be established forever.

‡ Authorities should "shepherd" their people:

2Sam 5:2 In times past, when Saul was king over us, it was you who led out and brought in Israel. And the LORD said to you, 'You shall be shepherd of my people Israel, and you shall be prince over Israel.'

Rulers should shepherd their people (cf. Ps 78:72 ↑; Ezek 34:2-4) taking care of them, notably the needy.

Authorities should not rule unjustly . . .

Deut 1:17 You shall not be partial in judgment. You shall hear the small and the great alike. You shall not be intimidated by anyone, for the judgment is God's. And the case that is too hard for you, you shall bring to me, and I will hear it. ☞

^u Compare Vulgate; Hebrew took from them with food and wine afterward

^v A shekel was about 2/5 ounce or 11 grams

In some of their actions at least, the earlier governors had been unfair if not unjust.

. . . Unjust rule brings God's judgment

Isa 10:1-3 Woe to those who decree iniquitous decrees, and the writers who keep writing oppression, ²to turn aside the needy from justice and to rob the poor of my people of their right, that widows may be their spoil, and that they may make the fatherless their prey! ³What will you do on the day of punishment, in the ruin that will come from afar? To whom will you flee for help, and where will you leave your wealth? ☞

Verse 3 speaks ominously of God's judgment – as does the use of "Woe" (v. 1; Jer 22:13 ↓).

Jer 22:13 Woe to him who builds his house by unrighteousness, and his upper rooms by injustice, who makes his neighbor serve him for nothing and does not give him his wages, ... ☞

Ezek 34:2-4, 9-10 Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel; prophesy, and say to them, even to the shepherds, Thus says the Lord GOD: Ah, shepherds of Israel who have been feeding yourselves! No longer shall the shepherds feed themselves. I will rescue my sheep from their mouths, that they may not be food for them. ☞

The Hebrew translated here as "Ah" is sometimes translated as "Woe" (AMP, NASB, NIV, NKJV). It points with a sense of alarm to coming grave trouble and misery. Here it signals the judgment that awaits the rulers in view. In v. 10, "I will require my sheep at their hand" speaks of God holding the shepherds accountable for the state of the sheep and their treatment of them.

Mic 3:9-12 Hear this, you heads of the house of Jacob and rulers of the house of Israel, who detest justice and make crooked all that is straight, ¹⁰who build Zion with blood and Jerusalem with iniquity. ¹¹Its heads give judgment for a bribe; its priests teach for a price; its prophets practice divination for money; yet they lean on the LORD and say, "Is not the LORD in the midst of us? No disaster shall come upon us."¹² Therefore because of you Zion shall be plowed as a field; Jerusalem shall become a heap of ruins, and the mountain of the house a wooded height.

Mic 7:3-4 Their hands are on what is evil, to do it well; the prince and the judge ask for a bribe, and the great man utters the evil desire of his soul; thus they weave it together. ⁴The best of them is like a brier, the most upright of them a thorn hedge. The day of your watchmen, of your punishment, has come; now their confusion is at hand.

"The day of your watchmen" (v. 4) refers to the day that the prophets warned them about – "the day God visits you" (NIV®) with his judgment.

Various insights on unjust rule

Prov 17:7 Fine speech is not becoming to a fool; still less is false speech to a prince.

Prov 28:3 A poor man who oppresses the poor is a beating rain that leaves no food.

"A poor man" is often taken as referring to a ruler (cf. GNT, NCV, NIV, NRSV), possibly one that was or had previously been poor himself (cf. CEV).

Prov 28:12 When the righteous triumph, there is great glory, but when the wicked rise, people hide themselves.

Prov 28:15-16 Like a roaring lion or a charging bear is a wicked ruler over a poor people. ¹⁶A ruler who lacks understanding is a cruel oppressor, but he who hates unjust gain will prolong his days.

Verse 15 illustrates the viciousness and destructiveness of a wicked ruler.

Prov 29:2 When the righteous increase, the people rejoice, but when the wicked rule, the people groan.

Prov 29:12 If a ruler listens to falsehood, all his officials will be wicked.

If a ruler listens to falsehood – particularly if he does so knowingly – then wickedness and corruption will be encouraged and thrive.

Eccl 5:8 If you see in a province the oppression of the poor and the violation of justice and righteousness, do not be amazed at the matter, for the high official is watched by a higher, and there are yet higher ones over them.

This appears to be speaking of oppression often being aggravated by corrupt officials higher up the chain of command than the one directly in charge of a particular district suffering oppression.

d) Servants and Masters

A number of verses in this section refer to slaves rather than servants. Generally the teaching regarding one of them is also very much applicable to the other. Also note that some of the verses speak of relationships between servants or slaves and governing authorities, particularly kings. As such they speak of relationships between citizens and authorities, and so are also pertinent to the preceding sections.

Servants should obey, submit to and respect their masters

Eph 6:5-6 Slaves,^w obey your earthly masters^x with fear and trembling, with a sincere heart, as you would Christ, ⁶not by the way of eye-service, as people-pleasers, but as servants^y of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart, ...

^w Or servants; Greek bondservants; similarly verse 8

^x Or your masters according to the flesh

^y Or slaves; Greek bondservants

The reference to "fear and trembling" (v. 5) does not entail terror, but presumably would involve mindfulness of the consequences of disobedience and negligence. Such "fear and trembling" mirrors that which believers have for the Lord as "servants of Christ" (v. 6). The reference to doing God's will (v. 6b) has in this context obeying earthly masters primarily in view.

Col 3:22 Slaves,^z obey in everything those who are your earthly masters,^a not by way of eye-service, as people-pleasers, but with sincerity of heart, fearing the Lord.

^z Or Servants; Greek Bondservants

^a Or your masters according to the flesh

Matt 8:9 For I too am a man under authority, with soldiers under me. And I say to one, 'Go,' and he goes, and to another, 'Come,' and he comes, and to my servant,^b 'Do this,' and he does it.

^b Greek bondservant

As soldiers obey their commanders, so servants should obey their masters.

2Sam 15:15 And the king's servants said to the king, "Behold, your servants are ready to do whatever my lord the king decides."

Gen 16:9 The angel of the LORD said to her, "Return to your mistress and submit to her."

Titus 2:9 Slaves^c are to be submissive to their own masters in everything; they are to be well-pleasing, not argumentative, ...

^c Or servants; Greek bondservants

1Pet 2:18-21 Servants, be subject to your masters with all respect, not only to the good and gentle but also to the unjust. ¹⁹For this is a gracious thing, when, mindful of God, one endures sorrows while suffering unjustly. ²⁰For what credit is it if, when you sin and are beaten for it, you endure? But if when you do good and suffer for it you endure, this is a gracious thing in the sight of God. ²¹For to this you have been called, because Christ also suffered for you, leaving you an example, so that you might follow in his steps.

The phrase "mindful of God" (v. 19) refers to being mindful of such things his will (cf. GNT), his witness and his repentment.

1Tim 6:1-2 Let all who are under a yoke as slaves^d regard their own masters as worthy of all honor, so that the name of God and the teaching may not be reviled. ²Those who have believing masters must not be disrespectful on the ground that they are brothers; rather they must serve all the better since those who benefit by their good service are believers and beloved. Teach and urge these things.

Regard one's master as "worthy of all honor" (cf. Mal 1:6 ↓) is indicative of respect (cf. v. 2) – as is reverent fear of them (cf. Eph 6:5 ↑; Mal 1:6 ↓)

Mal 1:6 A son honors his father, and a servant his master. If then I am a father, where is my honor? And if I am a master, where is my fear? says the LORD of hosts to you, O priests, who despise my name. But you say, 'How have we despised your name?'

God's people, his servants, had failed to show him due respect as their master. Implicit in this verse is the requirement for servants to honor and respect their masters.

✚ Servants should pray about their work and for their masters:

Gen 24:12 And he said, "O LORD, God of my master Abraham, please grant me success today and show steadfast love to my master Abraham."

Servants should be faithful

Prov 25:13 Like the cold of snow in the time of harvest is a faithful messenger to those who send him; he refreshes the soul of his masters.

Titus 2:9-10 Slaves^e are to be submissive to their own masters in everything; they are to be well-pleasing, not argumentative, ¹⁰not pilfering, but showing all good faith, so that in everything they may adorn the doctrine of God our Savior.

^e Or servants; Greek bondservants

1Cor 4:1-2 This is how one should regard us, as servants of Christ and stewards of the mysteries of God. ²Moreover, it is required of stewards that they be found trustworthy.

Paul speaks here as a servant of Christ but in v. 2 he makes a statement that is very much pertinent to all servants or stewards: they should be trustworthy – and so "faithful" (AMP, CEV, GNT, NIV, NKJV, NLT) – in what they have been entrusted with (cf. Matt 25:20-21 ↓). The following passages from Matthew likewise are speaking primarily of servants of Christ, but again they are very much pertinent to all servants.

Matt 24:45-46 Who then is the faithful and wise servant,^f whom his master has set over his household, to give them their food at the proper time? ⁴⁶Blessed is that servant whom his master will find so doing when he comes.

^f Greek bondservant; also verses 46, 48, 50

Matt 25:20-21 And he who had received the five talents came forward, bringing five talents more, saying, 'Master, you delivered to me five talents; here I have made five talents more.' ²¹His master said to him, 'Well done, good and faithful servant.^g You have been faithful over a little; I will set you over much. Enter into the joy of your master.'

^g Greek bondservant; also verses 23, 26, 30

Ps 101:6 [David:] I will look with favor on the faithful in the land, that they may dwell with me; he who walks in the way that is blameless shall minister to me.

David appears to be saying that only the faithful and blameless would accompany and minister to him – or serve him (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV, NKJV, NLT). Note that rather than accompanying him or being in his close company (cf. CEV, GNT), “dwell with me” could be referring simply to living in his land (cf. AMP, NCV).

Gen 24:33 Then food was set before him to eat. But he said, “I will not eat until I have said what I have to say.” He said, “Speak on.”

The faithfulness of Abraham’s servant is illustrated by him insisting on putting his work for his master ahead of his own needs – i.e. insisting on carrying out Abraham’s instructions before allowing himself to eat. Note that this and the following verses contain examples of servants acting faithfully.

Gen 39:4, 6a So Joseph found favor in his sight and attended him, and he made him overseer of his house and put him in charge of all that he had.  ... “So he left all that he had in Joseph’s charge, and because of him he had no concern about anything but the food he ate.”

Joseph was trusted with taking care of all his master owned – which he faithfully did.

1Sam 14:7 And his armor-bearer said to him, “Do all that is in your heart. Do as you wish.”^h Behold, I am with you heart and soul.”

^h Septuagint Do all that your mind inclines to

2Sam 15:21 But Ittai answered the king, “As the LORD lives, and as my lord the king lives, wherever my lord the king shall be, whether for death or for life, there also will your servant be.”

2Ki 5:2-3 Now the Syrians on one of their raids had carried off a little girl from the land of Israel, and she worked in the service of Naaman’s wife. ³*She said to her mistress, “Would that my lord were with the prophet who is in Samaria! He would cure him of his leprosy.”*

The young servant girl showed her faithfulness in making a suggestion in her master’s best interests, doing so in spite of the fact that she had been taken captive from her homeland by her master’s army.

✦ The complete devotion of the “three mighty men” to David:

1Chr 11:17-19 And David said longingly, “Oh that someone would give me water to drink from the well of Bethlehem that is by the gate!” ¹⁸*Then the three mighty men broke through the camp of the Philistines and drew water out of the well of Bethlehem that was by the gate and took it and brought it to David.* But David would not drink it. He poured it out to the LORD ¹⁹and said, “Far be it from me before my God that I should do this. Shall I drink the lifeblood of these men? For at the risk of their lives they brought it.” Therefore he would not drink it. These things did the three mighty men.

The “three mighty men” were totally devoted to David, their master. They risked their lives for him, which David acknowledges by not drinking the water, correlating it with their lifeblood (v. 19a), and making it an offering to God (v. 18b).

Good service is rewarded

See also:

▪ Matt 25:20-21

Good service is often rewarded by earthly masters – by promotion (cf. 1Ki 1:28 ) , material reward (cf. Prov 17:2 ) or honor (cf. Prov 27:18 ) . All good service will be rewarded by Jesus Christ (cf. Col 3:23-24  ; Matt 25:20-21 ).

1Ki 11:28 The man Jeroboam was very able, and when Solomon saw that the young man was industrious he gave him charge over all the forced labor of the house of Joseph.

As well as illustrating that good service is often rewarded by masters, one can infer from this that employees should do their work as well as they can (cf. Col 3:23 ).

Prov 14:35 A servant who deals wisely has the king’s favor, but his wrath falls on one who acts shamefully.

Prov 17:2 A servant who deals wisely will rule over a son who acts shamefully and will share the inheritance as one of the brothers.

Prov 27:18 Whoever tends a fig tree will eat its fruit, and he who guards his master will be honored.

The first part of the verse illustrates the truth of the second part.

Col 3:23-24 Whatever you do, work heartily, as for the Lord and not for men, ²⁴knowing that from the Lord you will receive the inheritance as your reward. You are serving the Lord Christ.

As service to earthly masters is doing God's will (cf. Eph 6:6), such service is ultimately to God or Christ (vv. 23-24).

✦ Servants should be humble, not expecting reward:

Luke 17:7-10 "Will any one of you who has a servantⁱ plowing or keeping sheep say to him when he has come in from the field, 'Come at once and recline at table'? ⁸Will he not rather say to him, 'Prepare supper for me, and dress properly,^j and serve me while I eat and drink, and afterward you will eat and drink'? ⁹Does he thank the servant because he did what was commanded? ¹⁰So you also, when you have done all that you were commanded, say, 'We are unworthy servants;^k we have only done what was our duty.'"

ⁱ Greek bondservant; also verse 9

^j Greek gird yourself

^k Greek bondservants

As with servants of Christ, all servants should be humble and meek, not carrying out their duties in the hope of reward.

Masters must treat servants justly

Lev 25:43 You shall not rule over him ruthlessly but shall fear your God.

Deut 24:14 You shall not oppress a hired servant who is poor and needy, whether he is one of your brothers or one of the sojourners who are in your land within your towns.

Eph 6:9 Masters, do the same to them, and stop your threatening, knowing that he who is both their Master^l and yours is in heaven, and that there is no partiality with him.

^l Greek Lord

The command to "do the same to them" appears to refer to acting towards slaves/servants in ways consistent with God's will (cf. v. 6). It may also possibly allude to Christian masters themselves being slaves of the Lord (cf. v. 7; Col 4:1 ↓) – and acting in a way consistent with this.

Col 4:1 Masters, treat your slaves^m justly and fairly, knowing that you also have a Master in heaven.

^mOr servants; Greek bondservants

Deut 5:14 ... but the seventh day is a Sabbath to the LORD your God. On it you shall not do any work, you or your son or your daughter or your male servant or your female servant, or your ox or your donkey or any of your livestock, or the sojourner who is within your gates, that your male servant and your female servant may rest as well as you.

It can be inferred from this that masters have a duty to provide their servants with adequate rest – and to allow them to fulfill their obligations to God.

Job 31:13-15 If I have rejected the cause of my manservant or my maidservant, when they brought a complaint against me, ¹⁴what then shall I do when God rises up? When he makes inquiry, what shall I answer him? ¹⁵Did not he who made me in the womb make him? And did not one fashion us in the womb?

Verse 15 points to the equality in God's sight of both masters and servants. Following vv. 13-14 it reinforces the concept of accountability for unjust treatment of servants.

Isa 58:3-4 *'Why have we fasted, and you see it not? Why have we humbled ourselves, and you take no knowledge of it?' Behold, in the day of your fast you seek your own pleasure,ⁿ and oppress all your workers. ⁴Behold, you fast only to quarrel and to fight and to hit with a wicked fist. Fasting like yours this day will not make your voice to be heard on high. *

ⁿ Or pursue your own business

Exploiting one's workers (v. 3b) seriously affects one's relationship with God (vv. 3a, 4).

Masters should pay servants their wages

Deut 24:15 You shall give him his wages on the same day, before the sun sets (for he is poor and counts on it), lest he cry against you to the LORD, and you be guilty of sin.

Lev 19:13b The wages of a hired servant shall not remain with you all night until the morning.

Matt 20:1-4, 8-9 For the kingdom of heaven is like a master of a house who went out early in the morning to hire laborers for his vineyard. ²After agreeing with the laborers for a denarius^o a day, he sent them into his vineyard. ³And going out about the third hour he saw others standing idle in the marketplace, ⁴and to them he said, 'You go into the vineyard too, and whatever is right I will give you.'  ... ⁸And when evening came, the owner of the vineyard said to his foreman, 'Call the laborers and pay them their wages, beginning with the last, up to the first.' ⁹And when those hired about the eleventh hour came, each of them received a denarius.

° A denarius was a day's wage for a laborer
Masters should pay their servants a fair wage – "whatever is right" (v. 4).

Luke 10:7a And remain in the same house, eating and drinking what they provide, for the laborer deserves his wages. 📖

Here Jesus makes reference to laborers on the occasion of sending out seventy two of his followers to further God's kingdom. The fact that laborers deserve their wages (cf. Rom 4:4 ↓) highlights that masters should pay servants their due wages.

Rom 4:4 Now to the one who works, his wages are not counted as a gift but as his due. 📖

Jer 22:13 Woe to him who builds his house by unrighteousness, and his upper rooms by injustice, who makes his neighbor serve him for nothing and does not give him his wages, ... 📖

Mal 3:5 Then I will draw near to you for judgment. I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, against the adulterers, against those who swear falsely, against those who oppress the hired worker in his wages, the widow and the fatherless, against those who thrust aside the sojourner, and do not fear me, says the LORD of hosts. 📖

James 5:4 Behold, the wages of the laborers who mowed your fields, which you kept back by fraud, are crying out against you, and the cries of the harvesters have reached the ears of the Lord of hosts. 📖

Note: Miscellaneous instructions and insights regarding slaves

The Bible speaks more of how God's people should act in their relationships within the institution of slavery than it does of condemning it. However, the Bible does stipulate protections for slaves (as illustrated below) and condemns slave trading (cf. 1Tim 1:9-10 ↓; Rev 18:10-13 ↓). Also bear in mind that under the Roman system, a "slave" or a "bondservant" (translations of the Greek word doulos) was much better off than what we typically think of as a slave. As well as being treated with a level of dignity akin to that of the child who was the family heir (cf. Gal 4:1 ↓), they were usually paid and could buy their freedom.

Lev 25:42 For they are my servants,^p whom I brought out of the land of Egypt; they shall not be sold as slaves. 📖

^p Hebrew slaves

Deut 23:15 You shall not give up to his master a slave who has escaped from his master to you. 📖

Slaves escaping from foreign countries seeking refuge in Israel are probably in view here (cf. CEV; v. 16).

Jer 34:13-17 Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: I myself made a covenant with your fathers when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage, saying, ¹⁴'At the end of seven years each of you must set free the fellow Hebrew who has been sold to you and has served you six years; you must set him free from your service.' But your fathers did not listen to me or incline their ears to me. ¹⁵You recently repented and did what was right in my eyes by proclaiming liberty, each to his neighbor, and you made a covenant before me in the house that is called by my name, ¹⁶but then you turned around and profaned my name when each of you took back his male and female slaves, whom you had set free according to their desire, and you brought them into subjection to be your slaves. ¹⁷'Therefore, thus says the LORD: You have not obeyed me by proclaiming liberty, every one to his brother and to his neighbor; behold, I proclaim to you liberty to the sword, to pestilence, and to famine, declares the LORD. I will make you a horror to all the kingdoms of the earth. 📖

Verse 14 tells of an important limitation put on slavery by the OT law. By not keeping this law and, worse still, breaking the covenant they had made to do so (vv. 15-16), the people evoked God's judgment (v. 17).

1Cor 7:21-23 Were you a slave^a when called? Do not be concerned about it. (But if you can gain your freedom, avail yourself of the opportunity.) ²²For he who was called in the Lord as a slave is a freedman of the Lord. Likewise he who was free when called is a slave of Christ. ²³You were bought with a price; do not become slaves of men. 📖

^a Greek bondservant; also twice in verse 22 and once in verse 23 (plural)

Note that v. 22 is saying that slaves should not be troubled by their lack of freedom (v. 21) because as Christians they are free in a more significant sense – free from sin and Satan's bondage; by the same token, those who are free, like all believers, are slaves of Christ.

1Tim 1:9-10 ... understanding this, that the law is not laid down for the just but for the lawless and disobedient, for the ungodly and sinners, for the unholy and profane, for those who strike their fathers and mothers, for murderers, ¹⁰the sexually immoral, men who practice homosexuality, enslavers,^r liars, perjurers, and whatever else is contrary to sound^s doctrine, ... 📖

The condemnatory general descriptions of the ungodly in v. 9 apply to all of the subsequent particular types of sinners, including “enslavers” (v. 10a). Along with all the other sins listed, slave trading (cf. text note) is contrary to sound Christian doctrine (v. 10b).

Rev 18:10-13 They will stand far off, in fear of her torment, and say, “Alas! Alas! You great city, you mighty city, Babylon! For in a single hour your judgment has come.” ¹¹*And the merchants of the earth weep and mourn for her, since no one buys their cargo anymore,* ¹²*cargo of gold, silver, jewels, pearls, fine linen, purple cloth, silk, scarlet cloth, all kinds of scented wood, all kinds of articles of ivory, all kinds of articles of costly wood, bronze, iron and marble,* ¹³*cinnamon,*

I. Instructions

The theme of spreading the gospel, or message about Jesus Christ, pervades the New Testament and should be also one of the main focuses of our lives. This section largely looks at what we need to say and do, in advancing the spread of the gospel.

a) Tell People the Gospel

Subsections

- Tell people the gospel message . . .
- . . . Tell people the gospel about Jesus Christ
- Tell all people, everywhere
- Continue to tell people the gospel despite suffering for doing so
- Do not be ashamed of the gospel, even despite suffering for it
- Try to persuade people to believe and respond to the gospel

Tell people the gospel message . . .

Luke 3:18 So with many other exhortations he preached good news to the people.

John the Baptist preached the good news, basically the gospel or aspects of it.

Acts 5:20 “Go and stand in the temple and speak to the people all the words of this Life.”

One of the key aspects of the gospel message is the new life that God has provided, a life that is spiritual and eternal.

Acts 20:24 But I do not account my life of any value nor as precious to myself, if only I may finish my course and the ministry that I received from the Lord Jesus, to testify to the gospel of the grace of God.

Although here Paul is talking about his own special commission to preach the gospel, it is applicable to all Christians, who are called to tell others the gospel. Note that God’s grace is a further key aspect of the gospel message – as is reconciliation with God (cf. 2Cor 5:18-19 ↓).

2Cor 5:18-19 All this is from God, who through Christ reconciled us to himself and gave us the ministry of reconciliation; ¹⁹*that is, in Christ God was reconciling^a the world to himself, not counting their trespasses against them, and entrusting to us the message of reconciliation.*

^a Or God was in Christ, reconciling

Phil 2:16 ... holding fast to the word of life, so that in the day of Christ I may be proud that I did not run in vain or labor in vain.

The Greek translated here as “holding fast” can alternatively be understood as meaning “hold out” (cf. GNT, NCV, NIV). As such Paul would be speaking of telling others the gospel message – “the word of life”.

1Pet 3:15 ... but in your hearts honor Christ the Lord as holy, always being prepared to make a defense to anyone who asks you for a reason for the hope that is in you; yet do it with gentleness and respect, ...

When asked or questioned by others about the gospel we should be ready to tell them about it, giving “a logical defense ... to account for the hope” (AMP) and belief that we have.

Paul served God in spreading the gospel “about his Son” (CEV, GNT, NCV, NLT).

Rom 16:25 Now to him who is able to strengthen you according to my gospel and the preaching of Jesus Christ, according to the revelation of the mystery that was kept secret for long ages ...

Paul speaks here of proclaiming “the Good News ... about Jesus Christ” (GNT).

2Cor 1:19 For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, whom we proclaimed among you, Silvanus and Timothy and I, was not Yes and No, but in him it is always Yes.

Gal 1:15-16 But when he who had set me apart before I was born,^c and who called me by his grace,¹⁶ was pleased to reveal his Son to^d me, in order that I might preach him among the Gentiles, I did not immediately consult with anyone;^e ...

Eph 3:8-9 To me, though I am the very least of all the saints, this grace was given, to preach to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ, and to bring to light for everyone what is the plan of the mystery hidden for ages in^f God who created all things, ...

^f Or by

In regard to the gospel being described as a “mystery” (cf. Rom 16:25 ↑; Col 4:3 ↓), see The gospel reveals God's hidden mystery concerning Jesus Christ, p. 1761.

Col 4:3 At the same time, pray also for us, that God may open to us a door for the word, to declare the mystery of Christ, on account of which I am in prison—

Phil 1:15-18a Some indeed preach Christ from envy and rivalry, but others from good will. ¹⁶The latter do it out of love, knowing that I am put here for the defense of the gospel. ¹⁷The former proclaim Christ out of rivalry, not sincerely but thinking to afflict me in my imprisonment. ¹⁸What then? Only that in every way, whether in pretense or in truth, Christ is proclaimed, and in that I rejoice.

This correlates preaching or defending the gospel (v. 16b) with preaching Christ (v. 15, 17, 18a), indicative of the fact that to tell others the gospel is to tell others about Jesus Christ. Note that in v. 18, Paul indicates that he is not unduly concerned about some people preaching Christ out of insincere motives, for the main thing is that Christ is proclaimed.

1Thes 3:2 ... and we sent Timothy, our brother and God's coworker^g in the gospel of Christ, to establish and exhort you in your faith, ...

^g Some manuscripts servant

Timothy helped spread the gospel of Christ.

Rev 19:10 Then I fell down at his feet to worship him, but he said to me, “You must not do that! I am a fellow servant^h with you and your brothers who hold to the testimony of Jesus. Worship God.” For the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.

^h Greek fellow bondservant

The phrase “the testimony of Jesus” may be speaking of or referring to testifying about Jesus (cf. CEV, NCV, NLT), although it could more generally mean “the truth that Jesus revealed” (GNT). Note that the final sentence quite possibly means that holding to or proclaiming this testimony is the essence of prophecy (cf. AMP), for in the message about Jesus Christ are the fundamentals of God's will, in regard to both the present and the future.

John 1:31 I myself did not know him, but for this purpose I came baptizing with water, that he might be revealed to Israel.

Like John, we are to reveal Jesus Christ.

✚ Tell relatives and friends about Jesus:

John 1:41, 45-46 He first found his own brother Simon and said to him, “We have found the Messiah” (which means Christ). ... ⁴⁵Philip found Nathanael and said to him, “We have found him of whom Moses in the Law and also the prophets wrote, Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph.” ⁴⁶Nathanael said to him, “Can anything good come out of Nazareth?” Philip said to him, “Come and see.”

Note that these are examples of “one to one” evangelism, with individuals telling a relative (v. 41) or a friend (v. 45) about Jesus.

Tell all people, everywhere

Mark 16:15, 20 And he said to them, “Go into all the world and proclaim the gospel to the whole creation. ... ²⁰And they went out and preached everywhere, while the Lord worked with them and confirmed the message by accompanying signs.

The phrase “the whole creation” (v. 15) is used to refer to “everyone, everywhere” (NLT; cf. CEV).

Luke 24:47 ... and that repentance and forgiveness of sins should be proclaimed in his name to all nations, beginning from Jerusalem.

Acts 1:8 But you will receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you, and you will be my witnesses in Jerusalem and in all Judea and Samaria, and to the end of the earth.

Acts 13:47 For so the Lord has commanded us, saying, “I have made you a light for the Gentiles, that you may bring salvation to the ends of the earth.”

Believers are to be a spiritual “light”, taking the message of God’s salvation “to the ends of the earth”.

Acts 22:15 ... for you will be a witness for him to everyone of what you have seen and heard.

Rom 1:14-15 I am under obligation both to Greeks and to barbarians,^k both to the wise and to the foolish. ¹⁵*So I am eager to preach the gospel to you also who are in Rome*.

^k That is, non-Greeks

Here Paul shows his eagerness to carry out the command that Jesus Christ had given to him to testify in Rome: “Take courage, for as you have testified to the facts about me in Jerusalem, so you must testify also in Rome.” (Acts 23:11b)

Rom 15:19-21 ... by the power of signs and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God—so that from Jerusalem and all the way around to Illyricum I have fulfilled the ministry of the gospel of Christ; ²⁰*and thus I make it my ambition to preach the gospel, not where Christ has already been named*, lest I build on someone else’s foundation, ²¹*but as it is written*,

“Those who have never been told of him will see, and those who have never heard will understand.”

2Cor 10:15-16 We do not boast beyond limit in the labors of others. But our hope is that as your faith increases, our area of influence among you may be greatly enlarged, ¹⁶*so that we may preach the gospel in lands beyond you*, without boasting of work already done in another’s area of influence.

1Thes 1:8 For not only has the word of the Lord sounded forth from you in Macedonia and Achaia, but your faith in God has gone forth everywhere, so that we need not say anything.

The city of Thessalonica was on a key transport route and was also a busy seaport. Because of this and their vibrant proclamation of the gospel message, the Thessalonians’ faith – and presumably the message that their faith was based on – became known “everywhere”.

Matt 22:9 Go therefore to the main roads and invite to the wedding feast as many as you find.

This is from a parable of Jesus, applicable to believers being directed by God or Jesus Christ to go to all places and invite “as many as you find” into God’s kingdom.

✚ Jesus’ command to “make disciples of all nations”:

Matt 28:19-20 Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in¹ the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, ²⁰teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you. And behold, I am with you always, to the end of the age.

Matt 10:23 When they persecute you in one town, flee to the next, for truly, I say to you, you will not have gone through all the towns of Israel before the Son of Man comes.

The spreading of the gospel is largely in view – in particular in “through all the towns of Israel”. Note that there are a number of interpretations of the latter part of this verse, including ones that consider “the Son of Man comes” to refer to something other than Jesus Christ’s second coming – such as Christ coming in judgment on the Jews, possibly in the destruction of Jerusalem in A.D. 70. Another possibility is that the verse has the church's mission to the world ultimately in view, rather than simply the towns of Israel.

Luke 21:12-13 But before all this they will lay their hands on you and persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues and prisons, and you will be brought before kings and governors for my name's sake. ¹³This will be your opportunity to bear witness.

This illustrates that being persecuted for one's faith and spreading the gospel can actually lead to further opportunities to witness (cf. Acts 1:19 ↓; Acts 14:5-7 ↓). Note that "all this" refers to signs of the end of the age (cf. vv. 8-11).

Acts 5:18-21a ... they arrested the apostles and put them in the public prison. ¹⁹But during the night an angel of the Lord opened the prison doors and brought them out, and said, ²⁰"Go and stand in the temple and speak to the people all the words of this Life." ²¹And when they heard this, they entered the temple at daybreak and began to teach.

Acts 5:40-42 ... and when they had called in the apostles, they beat them and charged them not to speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go. ⁴¹Then they left the presence of the council, rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer dishonor for the name. ⁴²And every day, in the temple and from house to house, they did not cease teaching and preaching Jesus as the Christ.

Acts 11:19 Now those who were scattered because of the persecution that arose over Stephen traveled as far as Phoenicia and Cyprus and Antioch, speaking the word to no one except Jews.

Note that the Jews were the first to be given the opportunity to respond to the gospel.

Acts 14:5-7 When an attempt was made by both Gentiles and Jews, with their rulers, to mistreat them and to stone them, ⁶they learned of it and fled to Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and to the surrounding country, ⁷and there they continued to preach the gospel.

Acts 20:22-24 And now, behold, I am going to Jerusalem, constrained by^m the Spirit, not knowing what will happen to me there, ²³except that the Holy Spirit testifies to me in every city that imprisonment and afflictions await me. ²⁴But I do not account my life of any value nor as precious to myself, if only I may finish my course and the ministry that I received from the Lord Jesus, to testify to the gospel of the grace of God.

1Thes 2:2 But though we had already suffered and been shamefully treated at Philippi, as you know, we had boldness in our God to declare to you the gospel of God in the midst of much conflict.

2Tim 2:8-10 Remember Jesus Christ, risen from the dead, the offspring of David, as preached in my gospel, ⁹for which I am suffering, bound with chains as a criminal. But the word of God is not bound! ¹⁰Therefore I endure everything for the sake of the elect, that they also may obtain the salvation that is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory.

Verse 10 suggests that Paul continued to work for the advancement of the gospel despite suffering for it.

2Cor 4:8-11, 15 We are afflicted in every way, but not crushed; perplexed, but not driven to despair; ⁹persecuted, but not forsaken; struck down, but not destroyed; ¹⁰always carrying in the body the death of Jesus, so that the life of Jesus may also be manifested in our bodies. ¹¹For we who live are always being given over to death for Jesus' sake, so that the life of Jesus also may be manifested in our mortal flesh.  ... ¹⁵For it is all for your sake, so that as grace extends to more and more people it may increase thanksgiving, to the glory of God.

In his work of proclaiming the gospel (cf. vv. 1-7), Paul endured much hardship and persecution (vv. 8-11). But for the benefit of others he continued his work, encouraged by the effect of God's grace and the glory it brought to God (v. 15). For comment on vv. 10-11, see 2Cor 4:8-11 – under ... and share Jesus Christ's sufferings, p. 2009.

Rev 12:11 And they have conquered him by the blood of the Lamb and by the word of their testimony, for they loved not their lives even unto death.

These followers of the Lamb, Jesus Christ, were prepared to testify about him even if it meant death (cf. Rev 6:9 ↓).

✦ Some people lose their lives for testifying to the gospel:

- . . . Spread the gospel boldly with God's help, p. 1749

Note that most of the passages below contain powerful reasons as to why believers should not be ashamed of the gospel and of testifying to it.

Rom 1:16 For I am not ashamed of the gospel, for it is the power of God for salvation to everyone who believes, to the Jew first and also to the Greek. 📖

2Tim 1:6-8, 11-12 For this reason I remind you to fan into flame the gift of God, which is in you through the laying on of my hands, ⁷for God gave us a spirit not of fear but of power and love and self-control. ⁸Therefore do not be ashamed of the testimony about our Lord, nor of me his prisoner, but share in suffering for the gospel by the power of God, 📖 ... ¹¹for which I was appointed a preacher and apostle and teacher, ¹²which is why I suffer as I do. But I am not ashamed, for I know whom I have believed, and I am convinced that he is able to guard until that Day what has been entrusted to me. ⁿ 📖

ⁿ Or what I have entrusted to him; Greek my deposit

1Pet 4:16-17 Yet if anyone suffers as a Christian, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorify God in that name. ¹⁷For it is time for judgment to begin at the household of God; and if it begins with us, what will be the outcome for those who do not obey the gospel of God? 📖

Suffering for spreading the gospel is a major part of the referred-to suffering (v. 16) that Christians face.

2Tim 1:16 May the Lord grant mercy to the household of Onesiphorus, for he often refreshed me and was not ashamed of my chains, ... 📖

In conjunction with not being ashamed of the gospel, we should not be ashamed of other Christians and any punishment being given to them because of their faithfulness to the gospel (cf. 2Tim 1:8 ↑). We should likewise not be discouraged by this – “So I ask you not to lose heart over what I am suffering for you, which is your glory.” (Eph 3:13)

Ps 119:46-47 I will also speak of your testimonies before kings and shall not be put to shame, ⁴⁷for I find my delight in your commandments, which I love. 📖

The last phrase of v. 46 is sometimes rendered as: “will not be ashamed” (GNT, NCV, NLT). Particularly in view of this, the passage is readily applicable to believers not being shamed or ashamed of the gospel and of testifying to it.

✦ Keep a clear conscience so that opponents will be ashamed of their slander:

1Pet 3:15-16 ... but in your hearts honor Christ the Lord as holy, always being prepared to make a defense to anyone who asks you for a reason for the hope that is in you; yet do it with gentleness and respect, ¹⁶having a good conscience, so that, when you are slandered, those who revile your good behavior in Christ may be put to shame. 📖

Sharing the gospel is referred to in v. 15b. Note that similar to v. 16 – but in a different context – Paul tells Titus in his teaching ministry to use “... sound speech that cannot be condemned, so that an opponent may be put to shame, having nothing evil to say about us.” (Titus 2:8)

Try to persuade people to believe and respond to the gospel

2Cor 5:9-11, 20 So whether we are at home or away, we make it our aim to please him. ¹⁰For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, so that each one may receive what is due for what he has done in the body, whether good or evil. ¹¹Therefore, knowing the fear of the Lord, we persuade others. But what we are is known to God, and I hope it is known also to your conscience. 📖 ... ²⁰Therefore, we are ambassadors for Christ, God making his appeal through us. We implore you on behalf of Christ, be reconciled to God. 📖

In v. 11 Paul has at least partly in view his need to please Jesus Christ (v. 9), as like all people he will face Christ’s judgment of what he has done (v. 10). As such his healthy fear of Christ motivated him to please Christ by trying to persuade people to respond to the gospel. Knowing that “we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ” should motivate us to try to persuade people to respond also for their own sake.

Acts 17:2-4 And Paul went in, as was his custom, and on three Sabbath days he reasoned with them from the Scriptures, ³explaining and proving that it was necessary for the Christ to suffer and to rise from the dead, and saying, “This Jesus, whom I proclaim to you, is the Christ.” ⁴And some of them were persuaded and joined Paul and Silas, as did a great many of the devout Greeks and not a few of the leading women. 📖

Acts 18:4 And he reasoned in the synagogue every Sabbath, and tried to persuade Jews and Greeks. 📖

Acts 19:8 And he entered the synagogue and for three months spoke boldly, reasoning and persuading them about the kingdom of God. 📖

Acts 26:28-29 And Agrippa said to Paul, “In a short time would you persuade me to be a Christian?”^o ²⁹*And Paul said, “Whether short or long, I would to God that not only you but also all who hear me this day might become such as I am—except for these chains.”* 📖

^o Or In a short time you would persuade me to act like a Christian!

Acts 28:23-24 When they had appointed a day for him, they came to him at his lodging in greater numbers. From morning till evening he expounded to them, testifying to the kingdom of God and trying to convince them about Jesus both from the Law of Moses and from the Prophets. ²⁴*And some were convinced by what he said, but others disbelieved.* 📖

Acts 2:36, 40-41 Let all the house of Israel therefore know for certain that God has made him both Lord and Christ, this Jesus whom you crucified. 📖 ... ⁴⁰*And with many other words he bore witness and continued to exhort them, saying, “Save yourselves from this crooked generation.”* ⁴¹*So those who received his word were baptized, and there were added that day about three thousand souls.* 📖

Although not explicitly referring to trying to “persuade” or “convince” people to believe and respond to the gospel, this and the following passages provide examples of or references to it.

Acts 17:17 So he reasoned in the synagogue with the Jews and the devout persons, and in the marketplace every day with those who happened to be there. 📖

John 19:35 He who saw it has borne witness—his testimony is true, and he knows that he is telling the truth—that you also may believe. 📖

Acts 26:17-18 ... delivering you from your people and from the Gentiles—to whom I am sending you ¹⁸*to open their eyes, so that they may turn from darkness to light and from the power of Satan to God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins and a place among those who are sanctified by faith in me.* 📖

Rom 16:25-26 Now to him who is able to strengthen you according to my gospel and the preaching of Jesus Christ, according to the revelation of the mystery that was kept secret for long ages ²⁶*but has now been disclosed and through the prophetic writings has been made known to all nations, according to the command of the eternal God, to bring about the obedience of faith—* 📖

One can infer from this that the aim of proclaiming the gospel of Jesus Christ (v. 25) is that we might bring people to believe and obey (v. 26).

2Cor 10:5 We destroy arguments and every lofty opinion raised against the knowledge of God, and take every thought captive to obey Christ, ... 📖

In line with the first half of the verse, the second part indicates that in spreading the gospel we should aim to bring people with their “every thought” into obedience to Christ.

✦ Jesus’ disciples were to be fishers of men:

Matt 4:19 And he said to them, “Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men.” 📖

Acts 2:36 Let all the house of Israel therefore know for certain that God has made him both Lord and Christ, this Jesus whom you crucified.

Acts 5:42 And every day, in the temple and from house to house, they did not cease teaching and preaching Jesus as the Christ.

Acts 18:5 When Silas and Timothy arrived from Macedonia, Paul was occupied with the word, testifying to the Jews that the Christ was Jesus.

John 1:32-34 And John bore witness: "I saw the Spirit descend from heaven like a dove, and it remained on him. ³³I myself did not know him, but he who sent me to baptize with water said to me, 'He on whom you see the Spirit descend and remain, this is he who baptizes with the Holy Spirit.' ³⁴And I have seen and have borne witness that this is the Son of God."

John's assertion that Jesus "is he who baptizes with the Holy Spirit" (v. 33) appears in part to point to Jesus being the Son of God (v. 34) – the climax of John's testimony to what he had seen (v. 32) and the implications.

Acts 9:20 And immediately he proclaimed Jesus in the synagogues, saying, "He is the Son of God."

Rom 1:1-4 Paul, a servant^p of Christ Jesus, called to be an apostle, set apart for the gospel of God, ²which he promised beforehand through his prophets in the holy Scriptures, ³concerning his Son, who was descended from David^q according to the flesh ⁴and was declared to be the Son of God in power according to the Spirit of holiness by his resurrection from the dead, Jesus Christ our Lord, ...

^p Or slave; Greek bondservant

^q Or who came from the offspring of David

Important parts of "the gospel of God ... concerning his Son" (vv. 1b, 3a) are spoken of in vv. 3-4. As such they are things which believers ought to bear in mind as they explain who Jesus Christ is. The reference to Jesus being a descendant of David has at least partly in view him being the Christ or Messiah, from the line of David.

. . . Further key things about who Jesus Christ is Luke 2:11, 17-18 For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, who is Christ the Lord. ... ¹⁷And when they saw it, they made known the saying that had been told them concerning this child. ¹⁸And all who heard it wondered at what the shepherds told them.

The shepherds spread the word of what the angel had told them about who Jesus Christ is – with the angel's message basically being that Jesus Christ was Savior and Lord (v.11).

2Cor 4:5 For what we proclaim is not ourselves, but Jesus Christ as Lord, with ourselves as your servants^r for Jesus' sake.

^r Greek bondservants

1Jn 4:14 And we have seen and testify that the Father has sent his Son to be the Savior of the world.

Acts 10:42 And he commanded us to preach to the people and to testify that he is the one appointed by God to be judge of the living and the dead.

Rom 2:15-16 They show that the work of the law is written on their hearts, while their conscience also bears witness, and their conflicting thoughts accuse or even excuse them ¹⁶on that day when, according to my gospel, God judges the secrets of men by Christ Jesus.

As per Acts 10:42 immediately above, this illustrates that one aspect of the gospel message is that Jesus Christ is the one through whom God will judge all people.

‡ John the Baptist testified to Jesus' surpassing greatness and pre-existence:

John 1:15 (John bore witness about him, and cried out, "This was he of whom I said, 'He who comes after me ranks before me, because he was before me.'")

In Jewish thought, an older person was considered greater than one younger than themselves. Although John the Baptist had been born prior to Jesus, John claimed Jesus was greater than him because Jesus had existed before him. As such John points to the fact that Jesus surpasses all people in greatness.

Jesus Christ's person and deeds – as witnessed and testified to by NT believers

- Jesus Christ's words and knowledge [give reason to believe in him], p. 1044

Although we are obviously not firsthand witnesses of Jesus' person (or being) and his deeds, we can still follow the example of NT believers in testifying to what we know about these things, explaining them to non-believers.

John 1:14 And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we have seen his glory, glory as of the only Son from the Father, full of grace and truth.

In saying that they had “seen his glory” (v. 14b), John probably means that he and others had seen Jesus' glory exhibited in his life through such things as his miracles, his transfiguration (cf. 2Pet 1:16-18 ↓), and his death and resurrection. The final phrase is probably implying that God's grace and truth came through Jesus Christ.

1Jn 1:1-2 That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we looked upon and have touched with our hands, concerning the word of life—²the life was made manifest, and we have seen it, and testify to it and proclaim to you the eternal life, which was with the Father and was made manifest to us—

“That which was from the beginning” (v. 1a) and the references to the “life” – including “the word of life” (v. 1b) and “the eternal life” (v. 2b) – all refer to Jesus Christ. Here John is primarily speaking of Jesus Christ as having appeared – in a tangible, human form. In doing so he makes reference to Jesus Christ's eternal existence, even alluding to him being the source of eternal life.

2Pet 1:16-18 For we did not follow cleverly devised myths when we made known to you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but we were eyewitnesses of his majesty. ¹⁷For when he received honor and glory from God the Father, and the voice was borne to him by the Majestic Glory, “This is my beloved Son,^s with whom I am well pleased,” ¹⁸we ourselves heard this very voice borne from heaven, for we were with him on the holy mountain.

^s Or my Son, my (or the) Beloved

Peter is speaking of James, John and himself being “eyewitnesses” of Christ's transfiguration (cf. Matt 17:1-9), in which Christ was visibly glorified.

John 4:39 Many Samaritans from that town believed in him because of the woman's testimony, “He told me all that I ever did.”

This and the following verses speak of testifying to things that Jesus did.

Acts 2:22 Men of Israel, hear these words: Jesus of Nazareth, a man attested to you by God with mighty works and wonders and signs that God did through him in your midst, as you yourselves know—

Here Peter testifies to God testifying to Jesus in Jesus' deeds.

Acts 10:39a And we are witnesses of all that he did both in the country of the Jews and in Jerusalem.

John 20:30-31 Now Jesus did many other signs in the presence of the disciples, which are not written in this book; ³¹but these are written so that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that by believing you may have life in his name.

John recorded Jesus' miracles as a testimony to not only what he did, but primarily to who he was.

‡ Believers also attested to what Jesus had said:

Heb 2:3 ... how shall we escape if we neglect such a great salvation? It was declared at first by the Lord, and it was attested to us by those who heard, ...

Acts 2:23-24 ... this Jesus, delivered up according to the definite plan and foreknowledge of God, you crucified and killed by the hands of lawless men. ²⁴God raised him up, loosing the pangs of death, because it was not possible for him to be held by it.

Acts 10:39b-40 They put him to death by hanging him on a tree, ⁴⁰but God raised him on the third day and made him to appear, ...

Peter is witnessing (cf. v. 39a ↑) to Gentiles.

Acts 13:26-30 Brothers, sons of the family of Abraham, and those among you who fear God, to us has been sent the message of this salvation. ²⁷For those who live in Jerusalem and their rulers, because they did not recognize him nor understand the utterances of the prophets, which are read every Sabbath, fulfilled them by condemning him. ²⁸And though they found in him no guilt worthy of death, they asked Pilate to have him executed. ²⁹And when they had carried out all that was written of him, they took him down from the tree and laid him in a tomb. ³⁰But God raised him from the dead, ...

This exemplifies that Jesus Christ's death and resurrection (vv. 27b-30) are key aspects of "the message of this salvation" (v. 26).

1Cor 1:23 ... but we preach Christ crucified, a stumbling block to Jews and folly to Gentiles, ...

Paul and his associates preached that Christ was crucified.

1Cor 2:1-2 And I, when I came to you, brothers,^t did not come proclaiming to you the testimony^u of God with lofty speech or wisdom. ²For I decided to know nothing among you except Jesus Christ and him crucified.

John 19:33-37 But when they came to Jesus and saw that he was already dead, they did not break his legs. ³⁴But one of the soldiers pierced his side with a spear, and at once there came out blood and water. ³⁵He who saw it has borne witness—his testimony is true, and he knows that he is telling the truth—that you also may believe. ³⁶For these things took place that the Scripture might be fulfilled: "Not one of his bones will be broken." ³⁷And again another Scripture says, "They will look on him whom they have pierced."

Verses 36-37 explain the significance of what John testified to in vv. 33-35 – i.e. it was a fulfillment of Scripture that was understood to be messianic, thus indicative of Jesus being the Messiah.

Luke 24:33-35 And they rose that same hour and returned to Jerusalem. And they found the eleven and those who were with them gathered together, ³⁴saying, "The Lord has risen indeed, and has appeared to Simon!" ³⁵Then they told what had happened on the road, and how he was known to them in the breaking of the bread.

John 20:18 Mary Magdalene went and announced to the disciples, "I have seen the Lord"—and that he had said these things to her.

Acts 2:32 This Jesus God raised up, and of that we all are witnesses.

Acts 4:33 And with great power the apostles were giving their testimony to the resurrection of the Lord Jesus, and great grace was upon them all.

Acts 5:30-32 The God of our fathers raised Jesus, whom you killed by hanging him on a tree. ³¹God exalted him at his right hand as Leader and Savior, to give repentance to Israel and forgiveness of sins. ³²And we are witnesses to these things, and so is the Holy Spirit, whom God has given to those who obey him.

In conjunction with their testimony of God raising Jesus from death (v. 30), Peter and the other apostles here also testify to God's exaltation of Jesus as "Leader and Savior" (v. 31). They were witnesses to this (v. 32a) in that they witnessed his ascension and both his teachings about this and the confirmation of his teachings by the wonders that had taken place following his exaltation.

Acts 10:40-41 ... but God raised him on the third day and made him to appear, ⁴¹not not to all the people but to us who had been chosen by God as witnesses, who ate and drank with him after he rose from the dead.

Here Peter is in effect testifying to a large gathering of Gentiles about what he had witnessed.

Acts 13:30-31 But God raised him from the dead, ³¹and for many days he appeared to those who had come up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem, who are now his witnesses to the people.

1Pet 5:1 So I exhort the elders among you, as a fellow elder and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, as well as a partaker in the glory that is going to be revealed: ...

✦ Jesus' exhortation to his disciples to witness:

Luke 24:46-48 ... and said to them, "Thus it is written, that the Christ should suffer and on the third day rise from the dead, ⁴⁷and that repentance and forgiveness of sins should be proclaimed in his name to all nations, beginning from Jerusalem. ⁴⁸*You are witnesses of these things.*

Jesus' statement in v. 48 implies not only that the disciples did witness these things, but that they were to witness to others about these things.

The outcomes of Jesus Christ's death and resurrection

See also:

- Luke 24:46-47 ; Acts 5:30-31
- 13. Salvation through Jesus Christ, p. 587

Note that the passages cross-referenced above (that are in the previous subsection) both indicate that an outcome of Jesus Christ's death and resurrection is that people can now repent and be forgiven.

2Cor 5:18-19, 21 All this is from God, who through Christ reconciled us to himself and gave us the ministry of reconciliation; ¹⁹that is, in Christ God was reconciling^w the world to himself, not counting their trespasses against them, and entrusting to us the message of reconciliation.  ... ²¹*For our sake he made him to be sin who knew no sin, so that in him we might become the righteousness of God.*

^w Or God was in Christ, reconciling

We are to tell others of how people can be reconciled to God, through Jesus Christ's death and resurrection. In v. 21, "become the righteousness of God" means either: to be made "right with God" (NCV™, NLT) or to "share the righteousness of God" (GNT). In any case, each alternative entails the other and they are both outcomes of God having Jesus take on our sins for us (v. 21a) in his death.

Acts 10:36, 43 As for the word that he sent to Israel, preaching good news of peace through Jesus Christ (he is Lord of all),  ... ⁴³*To him all the prophets bear witness that everyone who believes in him receives forgiveness of sins through his name.*

Acts 13:32-33, 37-39 And we bring you the good news that what God promised to the fathers, ³³this he has fulfilled to us their children by raising Jesus, as also it is written in the second Psalm, "You are my Son, today I have begotten you."  ... ³⁷but he whom God raised up did not see corruption. ³⁸*Let it be known to you therefore, brothers, that through this man forgiveness of sins is proclaimed to you, ³⁹and by him everyone who believes is freed^x from everything from which you could not be freed by the law of Moses.*

^x Greek justified; twice in this verse

In v. 32, "what God promised to the fathers" refers to messianic promises, fulfilled by God in raising Jesus (v. 33a). In v. 38, "Let it be known to you therefore" appears to indicate that forgiveness (v. 38) and freedom from sin (v. 39) are based on or confirmed by Jesus' resurrection (v. 37), it being affirmation that he was the promised Messiah (cf. vv. 30-36) who was to effect such things.

Acts 4:1-2 And as they were speaking to the people, the priests and the captain of the temple and the Sadducees came upon them, ²greatly annoyed because they were teaching the people and proclaiming in Jesus the resurrection from the dead.

Jesus Christ's own resurrection makes possible "resurrection from the dead" (cf. Acts 17:18b ). Our resurrection is based on Jesus' resurrection – in conjunction with his death and its significance – and confirmed by it. The raising of believers to eternal life is primarily in view.

Acts 17:18 Some of the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers also conversed with him. And some said, "What does this babblers wish to say?" Others said, "He seems to be a preacher of foreign divinities"—because he was preaching Jesus and the resurrection.

Note that "the resurrection" may be speaking of the resurrection of the dead, i.e. the resurrection of people (cf. CEV); hence the verse's inclusion here. However it may be referring instead to Jesus' own resurrection (cf. NCV, NIRV, NLT).

Acts 26:22-23 To this day I have had the help that comes from God, and so I stand here testifying both to small and great, saying nothing but what the prophets and Moses said would come to pass: ²³that the Christ must suffer and that, by being the first to rise from the dead, he would proclaim light both to our people and to the Gentiles.

As a result of Jesus' resurrection, people have been given the "light of salvation" (GNT). This involves the promise of their own resurrection, as alluded to in v. 23 by the reference to Jesus Christ being "the first" to rise from the dead.

✦ Tell of the unsearchable riches of Christ:

Eph 3:8 To me, though I am the very least of all the saints, this grace was given, to preach to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ, ...

Paul preached to the Gentiles about "the endless treasures available to them in Christ" (NLT; cf. CEV, NIV).

Matt 24:14 And this gospel of the kingdom will be proclaimed throughout the whole world as a testimony to all nations, and then the end will come.

Acts 8:12 But when they believed Philip as he preached good news about the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women.

Note that this mentions telling others about both the kingdom of God and Jesus Christ (cf. Acts 28:23, 30-31 ↓), reflecting the fact that they are interrelated.

Acts 19:8 And he entered the synagogue and for three months spoke boldly, reasoning and persuading them about the kingdom of God.

Acts 28:23, 30-31 When they had appointed a day for him, they came to him at his lodging in greater numbers. Ps 9:1 I will give thanks to the LORD with my whole heart; I will recount all of your wonderful deeds.

When God is praised in the Psalms it is usually in a public context, at the temple, with the psalmist telling others about God and what he has done. Often it includes a call to others to join in and acknowledge God's attributes and deeds. As such there are parallels and applications to NT evangelism.

Ps 68:34 Ascribe power to God, whose majesty is over Israel, and whose power is in the skies.

The first clause may well suggest that we should proclaim God's power to others (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV, NLT).

Ps 71:15-16 My mouth will tell of your righteous acts, of your deeds of salvation all the day, for their number is past my knowledge. ¹⁶*With the mighty deeds of the Lord GOD I will come; I will remind them of your righteousness, yours alone.*

Ps 96:2-3 Sing to the LORD, bless his name; tell of his salvation from day to day. ³*Declare his glory among the nations, his marvelous works among all the peoples!*

This illustrates that we should proclaim God's salvation, glory and marvelous deeds to all people and nations – as is also clearly reflected in the following OT passages.

Ps 105:1-2 Oh give thanks to the LORD; call upon his name; make known his deeds among the peoples! ²Sing to him, sing praises to him; tell of all his wondrous works!

Ps 145:4-6, 11-12 One generation shall commend your works to another, and shall declare your mighty acts. ⁵On the glorious splendor of your majesty, and on your wondrous works, I will meditate. ⁶*They shall speak of the might of your awesome deeds, and I will declare your greatness.* ¹¹*They shall speak of the glory of your kingdom and tell of your power,* ¹²*to make known to the children of man your^z mighty deeds, and the glorious splendor of your kingdom.*

^z Hebrew his; also next line

Isa 12:4-5 And you will say in that day: “Give thanks to the LORD, call upon his name, make known his deeds among the peoples, proclaim that his name is exalted. ⁵“Sing praises to the LORD, for he has done gloriously; let this be made known^a in all the earth.”

^a Or this is made known

Proclaiming that “his name is exalted” (v. 4b), is akin to proclaiming that God is “great” (CEV, GNT) or “glorious” (NCV™).

Isa 66:19b And from them I will send survivors to the nations, to Tarshish, Pul, and Lud, who draw the bow, to Tubal and Javan, to the coastlands far away, that have not heard my fame or seen my glory. And they shall declare my glory among the nations.

Acts 2:11b ... we hear them telling in our own tongues the mighty works of God.

Here Jews “from every nation” are referring to the believers telling, in various languages, of mighty things God has done.

Acts 17:23-27 For as I passed along and observed the objects of your worship, I found also an altar with this inscription, “To the unknown god.” What therefore you worship as unknown, this I proclaim to you. ²⁴*The God who made the world and everything in it, being Lord of heaven and earth, does not live in temples made by man,^b ²⁵nor is he served by human hands, as though he needed anything, since he himself gives to all mankind life and breath and everything.* ²⁶*And he made from one man every nation of mankind to live on all the face of the earth, having determined allotted periods and the boundaries of their dwelling place, ²⁷that they should seek God, in the hope that they might feel their way toward him and find him. Yet he is actually not far from each one of us, ...*

^b Greek made by hands

... including what God has done for you

Ps 66:16 Come and hear, all you who fear God, and I will tell what he has done for my soul.

Dan 4:2 It has seemed good to me to show the signs and wonders that the Most High God has done for me.

Here Nebuchadnezzar begins his testimony to what God had done for him.

Ps 18:48b-49 ... yes, you exalted me above those who rose against me; you rescued me from the man of violence. ⁴⁹*For this I will praise you, O LORD, among the nations, and sing to your name.*

Ps 71:24 And my tongue will talk of your righteous help all the day long, for they have been put to shame and disappointed who sought to do me hurt.

Ps 102:18-20 Let this be recorded for a generation to come, so that a people yet to be created may praise the LORD: ¹⁹that he looked down from his holy height; from heaven the LORD looked at the earth, ²⁰to hear the groans of the prisoners, to set free those who were doomed to die, ...

The psalmist has his own anticipated deliverance partially in view.

Ps 118:17 I shall not die, but I shall live, and recount the deeds of the LORD.

To “recount” something involves giving an account of it to another or others.

Isa 63:7 I will recount the steadfast love of the LORD, the praises of the LORD, according to all that the LORD has granted us, and the great goodness to the house of Israel that he has granted them according to his compassion, according to the abundance of his steadfast love.

Jer 51:10 The LORD has brought about our vindication; come, let us declare in Zion the work of the LORD our God.

This prophecy tells of former exiles in Babylon declaring what God had done for them in securing their release.

Luke 8:39 “Return to your home, and declare how much God has done for you.” And he went away, proclaiming throughout the whole city how much Jesus had done for him.

1Pet 2:9 But you are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people for his own possession, that you may proclaim the excellencies of him who called you out of darkness into his marvelous light.

This indicates that one of the prime reasons why God has chosen us to belong to him – making us a priesthood and a holy people – is for us to proclaim his praises to other people (cf. CEV, GNT, NLT), including what he has done for us.

✦ The formerly blind man's testimony of what Jesus had done for him:

John 9:15, 25 So the Pharisees again asked him how he had received his sight. And he said to them, "He put mud on my eyes, and I washed, and I see." ... ²⁵He answered, "Whether he is a sinner I do not know. One thing I do know, that though I was blind, now I see."

What else you have seen and heard (of God and Jesus Christ)

Acts 22:14-15 And he said, "The God of our fathers appointed you to know his will, to see the Righteous One and to hear a voice from his mouth; ¹⁵*for you will be a witness for him to everyone of what you have seen and heard.*"

1Jn 1:1-3 That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we looked upon and have touched with our hands, concerning the word of life— ²the life was made manifest, and we have seen it, and testify to it and proclaim to you the eternal life, which was with the Father and was made manifest to us— ³that which we have seen and heard we proclaim also to you, so that you too may have fellowship with us; and indeed our fellowship is with the Father and with his Son Jesus Christ.

Acts 4:18-20 So they called them and charged them not to speak or teach at all in the name of Jesus. ¹⁹But Peter and John answered them, "Whether it is right in the sight of God to listen to you rather than to God, you must judge, ²⁰*for we cannot but speak of what we have seen and heard.*"

Acts 26:16 But rise and stand upon your feet, for I have appeared to you for this purpose, to appoint you as a servant and witness to the things in which you have seen me and to those in which I will appear to you, ...

John 3:11 Truly, truly, I say to you, we speak of what we know, and bear witness to what we have seen, but you^c do not receive our testimony.

^c The Greek for you is plural here; also four times in verse 12

Jesus is speaking here. His use of "we" shows that what he says is inclusive of his disciples. His words are applicable to all believers.

John 15:27 And you also will bear witness, because you have been with me from the beginning.

Having been with Jesus "from the beginning", the disciples had been witness to much of Jesus' earthly ministry, seeing what he had done and hearing his teachings. As such they were to testify of such things.

John 21:24-25 This is the disciple who is bearing witness about these things, and who has written these things, and we know that his testimony is true. ²⁵*Now there are also many other things that Jesus did.* Were every one of them to be written, I suppose that the world itself could not contain the books that would be written.

The "things" (v. 24) that John testified to and wrote down in his gospel, presumably were: events of Jesus' life; things he taught; and in particular things that he did (v. 25; cf. 20:30-31).

How people should respond

See also:

- I. Getting Right with God, p. 1026

Note that faith and repentance are the two main responses spoken of.

Mark 1:15 ... and saying, "The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand; repent and believe in the gospel."

Acts 20:20-21 ... how I did not shrink from declaring to you anything that was profitable, and teaching you in public and from house to house, ²¹*testifying both to Jews and to Greeks of repentance toward God and of faith in our Lord Jesus Christ.*

Acts 26:20 ... but declared first to those in Damascus, then in Jerusalem and throughout all the region of Judea, and also to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turn to God, performing deeds in keeping with their repentance.

Acts 2:37-38 Now when they heard this they were cut to the heart, and said to Peter and the rest of the apostles, "Brothers, what shall we do?" ³⁸*And Peter said to them, "Repent and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins, and you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit.*"

Acts 24:24-25 After some days Felix came with his wife Drusilla, who was Jewish, and he sent for Paul and heard him speak about faith in Christ Jesus. ²⁵*And as he reasoned about* righteousness and self-control and the coming judgment, Felix was alarmed and said, “Go away for the present. When I get an opportunity I will summon you.”

This appears to indicate that Paul was saying that people need to respond with faith in Jesus Christ (v. 24b) and with repentant lives as characterized by righteousness and self-control (v. 25a) – the importance of which is underscored by “the coming judgment,” (v. 25a), a further aspect of the gospel, supplementary to the basic gospel message.

Rom 10:8-9 But what does it say? “The word is near you, in your mouth and in your heart” (that is, the word of faith that we proclaim); ⁹*because, if you confess with your mouth that Jesus is Lord and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved.*

Rom 16:25-26 Now to him who is able to strengthen you according to my gospel and the preaching of Jesus Christ, according to the revelation of the mystery that was kept secret for long ages ²⁶but has now been disclosed and through the prophetic writings has been made known to all nations, according to the command of the eternal God, to bring about the obedience of faith—

2Cor 5:20 Therefore, we are ambassadors for Christ, God making his appeal through us. We implore you on behalf of Christ, be reconciled to God.

People must reconcile themselves to God, which as indicated above is done primarily through faith and repentance.

✦ Hearing the gospel is useless without faith:

Heb 4:2 For good news came to us just as to them, but the message they heard did not benefit them, because they were not united by faith with those who listened.^d

^d Some manuscripts it did not meet with faith in the hearers

This points to the assertion that hearing the gospel is of no use if one does not respond to it in faith.

Present the gospel accurately and plainly

See also:

- The teaching needs to be correct . . ., p. 1515

Acts 18:25 He had been instructed in the way of the Lord. And being fervent in spirit,^e he spoke and taught accurately the things concerning Jesus, though he knew only the baptism of John.

^e Or in the Spirit

2Cor 4:2 But we have renounced disgraceful, underhanded ways. We refuse to practice cunning or to tamper with God’s word, but by the open statement of the truth we would commend ourselves to everyone’s conscience in the sight of God.

In the second part of the verse, Paul speaks of how by openly stating the truth he sought to enable everyone to sense his sincerity.

Col 4:3-4 At the same time, pray also for us, that God may open to us a door for the word, to declare the mystery of Christ, on account of which I am in prison— ⁴*that I may make it clear, which is how I ought to speak.*

✦ Verify that your account of the gospel is correct:

Gal 2:2 I went up because of a revelation and set before them (though privately before those who seemed influential) the gospel that I proclaim among the Gentiles, in order to make sure I was not running or had not run in vain.

Paul checked his version of the gospel with the church leaders in case his preaching was incorrect – and so “in vain”.

The manner in which to present the gospel message

See also:

- 1Thes 1:4-5 ↓

Col 4:6 Let your speech always be gracious, seasoned with salt, so that you may know how you ought to answer each person.

The expression “seasoned with salt” most likely means either interesting (CEV, GNT) or pure.

1Pet 3:15 ... but in your hearts honor Christ the Lord as holy, always being prepared to make a defense to anyone who asks you for a reason for the hope that is in you; yet do it with gentleness and respect, ...

Acts 18:25 He had been instructed in the way of the Lord. And being fervent in spirit,^f he spoke and taught accurately the things concerning Jesus, though he knew only the baptism of John.

^f Or in the Spirit

The phrase “fervent in spirit” appears to refer to Apollos’s great “enthusiasm” (GNT, NLT, NRSV) and/or “excitement” (CEV, NCV) in spreading the gospel. Such enthusiasm makes the gospel message more interesting and attractive. Note that it supplements spreading the gospel with a “deep conviction” (1Thes 1:5 ↓) of its truth.

1Thes 2:3-5 For our appeal does not spring from error or impurity or any attempt to deceive,⁴ but just as we have been approved by God to be entrusted with the gospel, so we speak, not to please man, but to please God who tests our hearts.⁵ For we never came with words of flattery,^g as you know, nor with a pretext for greed—God is witness.

^g Or with a flattering speech

Much of this points to the need to be sincere in spreading the gospel (cf. 2Cor 4:2 ↑).

Spread the gospel by the Holy Spirit

In spreading the gospel, we need to rely on the Holy Spirit – who brings God’s power (cf. 1Cor 2:5 ↓; 1Thes 1:5a ↓). In doing so we need to be alert to the Holy Spirit’s promptings and guidance.

1Pet 1:12 It was revealed to them that they were serving not themselves but you, in the things that have now been announced to you through those who preached the good news to you by the Holy Spirit sent from heaven, things into which angels long to look.

1Cor 2:4-5 ... and my speech and my message were not in plausible words of wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power,⁵ that your faith might not rest in the wisdom of men but in the power of God.

In v. 4 Paul acknowledges the Spirit’s power being behind the effectiveness of his preaching. While he does not expressly say that he looked to the Holy Spirit’s help in his preaching, his acknowledgement points to this as likely being the case. The same can be said of 1 Thessalonians 1:4-5 below.

1Thes 1:4-5 For we know, brothers^h loved by God, that he has chosen you, ⁵*because our gospel came to you not only in word, but also in power and in the Holy Spirit and with full conviction. You know what kind of men we proved to be among you for your sake.*

^h Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated “brothers”) refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God’s family, the church

✦ Filled with the Holy Spirit, John the Baptist would bring many of his people back to God:

Luke 1:15-16 ... for he will be great before the Lord. And he must not drink wine or strong drink, and he will be filled with the Holy Spirit, even from his mother’s womb. ¹⁶*And he will turn many of the children of Israel to the Lord their God, ...*

Spread the gospel boldly . . .

Matt 10:26-28 So have no fear of them, for nothing is covered that will not be revealed, or hidden that will not be known. ²⁷*What I tell you in the dark, say in the light, and what you hear whispered, proclaim on the housetops.* ²⁸*And do not fear those who kill the body but cannot kill the soul.* Rather fear him who can destroy both soul and body in hell.ⁱ

ⁱ Greek Gehenna

The disciples were not to be afraid of those who would hate and persecute them (cf. vv. 21-23). Rather they were to fearlessly declare publicly what Jesus had told them in private, fearing instead “him who can destroy both soul and body in hell” (v. 28b). Regarding v. 26b, in speaking of the inevitability of hidden things being made known, in this context Jesus appears most likely to be referring to the revelation and proclamation of the gospel – which the disciples were to help facilitate.

Acts 4:12-13, 18-20 [Peter:] And there is salvation in no one else, for there is no other name under heaven given among men by which we must be saved. ¹³*Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and perceived that they were uneducated, common men, they were astonished. And they recognized that they had been with Jesus.*  ... ¹⁸*So they called them and charged them not to speak or teach at all in the name of Jesus.* ¹⁹*But Peter and John answered them, “Whether it is right in the sight of God to listen to you rather than to God, you must judge,* ²⁰*for we cannot but speak of what we have seen and heard.”*

In v. 12, Peter courageously declares the gospel before the antagonistic rulers, elders and teachers of the law (cf. vv. 5-11). Peter’s and John’s bold determination to continue preaching the gospel publicly despite the authorities’ continued opposition (vv. 18-20) is further illustrated and expressed immediately below in 5:27-29.

Acts 5:27-29 And when they had brought them, they set them before the council. And the high priest questioned them, ²⁸saying, “We strictly charged you not to teach in this name, yet here you have filled Jerusalem with your teaching, and you intend to bring this man’s blood upon us.” ²⁹*But Peter and the apostles answered, “We must obey God rather than men.*

Acts 9:27-28 But Barnabas took him and brought him to the apostles and declared to them how on the road he had seen the Lord, who spoke to him, and how at Damascus he had preached boldly in the name of Jesus. ²⁸*So he went in and out among them at Jerusalem, preaching boldly in the name of the Lord.*

Acts 19:8 And he entered the synagogue and for three months spoke boldly, reasoning and persuading them about the kingdom of God.

Acts 23:11 The following night the Lord stood by him and said, “Take courage, for as you have testified to the facts about me in Jerusalem, so you must testify also in Rome.”

Acts 28:30-31 He lived there two whole years at his own expense,^j and welcomed all who came to him, ³¹*proclaiming the kingdom of God and teaching about the Lord Jesus Christ with all boldness and without hindrance.*

^j Or in his own hired dwelling

Phil 1:14 And most of the brothers, having become confident in the Lord by my imprisonment, are much more bold to speak the word^k without fear.

^k Some manuscripts add of God

Phil 1:27-28 Only let your manner of life be worthy^l of the gospel of Christ, so that whether I come and see you or am absent, I may hear of you that you are standing firm in one spirit, with one mind striving side by side for the faith of the gospel, ²⁸*and not frightened in anything by your opponents.* This is a clear sign to them of their destruction, but of your salvation, and that from God.

^l Greek Only behave as citizens worthy

In v. 27, “striving side by side for the faith of the gospel” refers to the struggle to spread – and possibly also to guard – the body of truth of which the gospel consists.

In spreading the gospel boldly, we should seek God’s help through prayer prior to telling others the gospel, and rely on God’s help while we are telling them.

1Thes 2:2 But though we had already suffered and been shamefully treated at Philippi, as you know, we had boldness in our God to declare to you the gospel of God in the midst of much conflict. 📖

Acts 4:29-31 And now, Lord, look upon their threats and grant to your servants^m to continue to speak your word with all boldness, ³⁰while you stretch out your hand to heal, and signs and wonders are performed through the name of your holy servant Jesus.” ³¹And when they had prayed, the place in which they were gathered together was shaken, and they were all filled with the Holy Spirit and continued to speak the word of God with boldness. 📖

^mGreek bondservants

Acts 14:3 So they remained for a long time, speaking boldly for the Lord, who bore witness to the word of his grace, granting signs and wonders to be done by their hands. 📖

Acts 18:9-11 And the Lord said to Paul one night in a vision, “Do not be afraid, but go on speaking and do not be silent, ¹⁰for I am with you, and no one will attack you to harm you, for I have many in this city who are my people.” ¹¹And he stayed a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them. 📖

Undoubtedly Paul would have continued to teach the word of God (v. 11), without fear (v. 9), in reliance on God’s promised help (v. 10).

Eph 6:18b-20 To that end keep alert with all perseverance, making supplication for all the saints, ¹⁹and also for me, that words may be given to me in opening my mouth boldly to proclaim the mystery of the gospel, ²⁰for which I am an ambassador in chains, that I may declare it boldly, as I ought to speak. 📖

In his request to the Ephesians to pray for him in his work, Paul showed that he looked to God’s help in order to boldly proclaim the gospel.

✦ In difficult circumstances, Jesus Christ strengthened Paul so that he could proclaim the gospel:

2Tim 4:16-17 At my first [court] defense no one came to stand by me, but all deserted me. May it not be charged against them! ¹⁷But the Lord stood by me and strengthened me, so that through me the message might be fully proclaimed and all the Gentiles might hear it. So I was rescued from the lion’s mouth. 📖

Work hard at spreading the gospel message

1Cor 15:10-11 But by the grace of God I am what I am, and his grace toward me was not in vain. On the contrary, I worked harder than any of them, though it was not I, but the grace of God that is with me. ¹¹Whether then it was I or they, so we preach and so you believed. 📖

With the reference to his preaching (v. 11), Paul presumably has his work in spreading the gospel primarily in mind when speaking of his hard work (v. 10b).

Col 1:28-29 Him we proclaim, warning everyone and teaching everyone with all wisdom, that we may present everyone mature in Christ. ²⁹*For this I toil, struggling with all his energy that he powerfully works within me.* 📖

Here Paul is probably referring to his evangelistic work in spreading the gospel as well as to his pastoral work amongst Christians.

Phil 2:22 But you know Timothy’s^a proven worth, how as a son^o with a father he has served with me in the gospel. 📖

^a Greek his

^o Greek child

The fact that Timothy worked hard in furthering the gospel is suggested by him being said to have “served” in the work, a term which some commentators suggest could be taken as meaning slaved or labored – “toiled with me zealously” (AMP). The simile “as a son with a father” may also in part speak of Timothy’s dedication to the work.

Phil 4:3 Yes, I ask you also, true companion,^p help these women, who have labored side by side with me in the gospel together with Clement and the rest of my fellow workers, whose names are in the book of life. 📖

^p Or loyal Syzygus; Greek true yokefellow

These women had “worked hard” (GNT, NLT) in spreading the gospel.

1Thes 2:9 For you remember, brothers, our labor and toil: we worked night and day, that we might not be a burden to any of you, while we proclaimed to you the gospel of God. 📖

Here Paul appears to be referring primarily at least to working hard to support himself (cf. Acts 18:2-4) while preaching the gospel to the Thessalonians. We often need to work hard not only in actually telling others the message, but in enabling ourselves to be in a position to do so.

1Tim 4:9-10 The saying is trustworthy and deserving of full acceptance. ¹⁰*For to this end we toil and strive,^a because we have our hope set on the living God, who is the Savior of all people, especially of those who believe.* 📖

^q Some manuscripts and suffer reproach

Spreading the gospel of God's salvation for all people appears to be largely in view as that for which Paul and his associates would "toil and strive".

✦ Paul served with his spirit in preaching the gospel:

Rom 1:9 For God is my witness, whom I serve with my spirit in the gospel of his Son, that without ceasing I mention you ...

This implies that Paul served wholeheartedly (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV, NLT) in spreading the gospel.

Further notes on spreading the gospel message

Matt 7:6 Do not give dogs what is holy, and do not throw your pearls before pigs, lest they trample them underfoot and turn to attack you. ☰

There is no point trying to give things that are "holy" (GNT, NCV, NLT) or of God (cf. CEV) to people who cannot – or will not – appreciate or understand them. While one needs to be very careful in applying this to telling (or not telling) the gospel message to someone, there certainly are times when doing so would obviously be of no benefit, even detrimental.

Matt 10:16-17 Behold, I am sending you out as sheep in the midst of wolves, so be wise as serpents and innocent as doves. ¹⁷*Beware of men, for they will deliver you over to courts and flog you in their synagogues, ...* ☰

In sending his disciples out into a hostile world to preach the kingdom, Jesus warned them in v. 16 to be wise (cf. Col 4:5 ↓) and pure, the latter possibly referring to their methods as well as their general behavior.

Col 4:5 Walk in wisdom toward outsiders, making the best use of the time. ☰

Acts 18:28 ...for he powerfully refuted the Jews in public, showing by the Scriptures that the Christ was Jesus. ☰

This points to the importance of the Scriptures for spreading the gospel.

2Cor 4:1 Therefore, having this ministry by the mercy of God,^r we do not lose heart. ☰

^r Greek as we have received mercy

Paul draws encouragement from the fact that he had been given his ministry by God in his mercy – in spite of Paul's past. In doing so, Paul does not lose heart in his work of spreading the gospel (v. 1b). We likewise should bear in mind God's mercy to us as we spread God's word, so not to become disheartened.

Phil 1:7, 16 It is right for me to feel this way about you all, because I hold you in my heart, for you are all partakers with me of grace,^s both in my imprisonment and in the defense and confirmation of the gospel. ☰ ... ¹⁶The latter do it out of love, knowing that I am put here for the defense of the gospel. ☰

^s Or you all have fellowship with me in grace

This points to the fact that in spreading the gospel we must be prepared to defend the credibility of the gospel message (cf. 1Pet 3:15 ↓).

1Pet 3:15 ... but in your hearts honor Christ the Lord as holy, always being prepared to make a defense to anyone who asks you for a reason for the hope that is in you; yet do it with gentleness and respect, ... ☰

✦ Jesus' instructions to the disciples regarding staying at a home, when taking the gospel to a town:

Matt 10:11-13 And whatever town or village you enter, find out who is worthy in it and stay there until you depart. ¹²*As you enter the house, greet it.* ¹³*And if the house is worthy, let your peace come upon it, but if it is not worthy, let your peace return to you.* ☰

The references to "greet" (v. 12) and "peace" (v. 13) appear to have in view the middle-eastern customary greeting of peace ("Peace be to this house!" – Luke 10:5). Here it possibly alludes to, or is inclusive of, peace from that which sin causes (cf. AMP). A home being "worthy" (v. 13a) is most likely a reference to the occupants accepting the disciples' message; rejection of their message would of course usually result in them being unwelcome. On encountering rejection they were to rescind their greeting or blessing of peace (v. 13b).

1Cor 9:18 What then is my reward? That in my preaching I may present the gospel free of charge, so as not to make full use of my right in the gospel. 📖

Paul considered the “satisfaction” (NLT) or “privilege” (GNT) of preaching the gospel free of charge as being a reward in itself.

Acts 20:33-34 I coveted no one’s silver or gold or apparel. ³⁴You yourselves know that these hands ministered to my necessities and to those who were with me. 📖

2Cor 11:7, 9 Or did I commit a sin in humbling myself so that you might be exalted, because I preached God’s gospel to you free of charge? 📖 ... ⁹And when I was with you and was in need, I did not burden anyone, for the brothers who came from Macedonia supplied my need. So I refrained and will refrain from burdening you in any way. 📖

Paul obtained support from other churches rather than from the people he was preaching the gospel to.

2Cor 12:14-18 Here for the third time I am ready to come to you. And I will not be a burden, for I seek not what is yours but you. For children are not obligated to save up for their parents, but parents for their children. ¹⁵*I will most gladly spend and be spent for your souls. If I love you more, am I to be loved less?* ¹⁶But granting that I myself did not burden you, I was crafty, you say, and got the better of you by deceit. ¹⁷*Did I take advantage of you through any of those whom I sent to you?* ¹⁸I urged Titus to go, and sent the brother with him. *Did Titus take advantage of you? In v. 14b Paul indicated that he saw himself as a parent in the faith to the Corinthians; as such he did not think it appropriate for them to have to support him.

2Ki 5:14-16, 19-20, 26-27 So he [Naaman] went down and dipped himself seven times in the Jordan, according to the word of the man of God, and his flesh was restored like the flesh of a little child, and he was clean. ¹⁵Then he returned to the man of God, he and all his company, and he came and stood before him. And he said, “Behold, I know that there is no God in all the earth but in Israel; so accept now a present from your servant.” ¹⁶But he said, “As the LORD lives, before whom I stand, I will receive none.” And he urged him to take it, but he refused. 📖 ... ¹⁹He said to him, “Go in peace.” But when Naaman had gone from him a short distance, ²⁰Gehazi, the servant of Elisha the man of God, said, “See, my master has spared this Naaman the Syrian, in not accepting from his hand what he brought. As the LORD lives, I will run after him and get something from him.” 📖 ... ²⁶But he [Elisha] said to him, “Did not my heart go when the man turned from his chariot to meet you? Was it a time to accept money and garments, olive orchards and vineyards, sheep and oxen, male servants and female servants?” ²⁷Therefore the leprosy of Naaman shall cling to you and to your descendants forever.” So he went out from his presence a leper, like snow. 📖

Matt 9:37-38 Then he said to his disciples, “The harvest is plentiful, but the laborers are few; ³⁸therefore pray earnestly to the Lord of the harvest to send out laborers into his harvest.” ☞

Ask God to enable and move more people to commit themselves and their time to reaching others with the gospel.

Acts 4:29-31 And now, Lord, look upon their threats and grant to your servants^v to continue to speak your word with all boldness, ³⁰while you stretch out your hand to heal, and signs and wonders are performed through the name of your holy servant Jesus.³¹ And when they had prayed, the place in which they were gathered together was shaken, and they were all filled with the Holy Spirit and continued to speak the word of God with boldness. ☞

^v Greek bondservants

Here the believers pray for their own efforts to proclaim the gospel. Similarly in 6:4 below, the disciples own efforts would have been at least partially in view. The remaining passages largely concern prayer for others spreading the word.

Acts 6:4 But we will devote ourselves to prayer and to the ministry of the word. ☞

The prayer that the disciples determined to give more attention to, would have at least in part concerned the “ministry of the word”. This would have involved spreading the gospel, as well as teaching believers.

Acts 13:2-3 While they were worshiping the Lord and fasting, the Holy Spirit said, “Set apart for me Barnabas and Saul for the work to which I have called them.” ³Then after fasting and praying they laid their hands on them and sent them off. ☞

Presumably the prayer was focused on Barnabas and Saul and the work ahead of them (v. 2) in proclaiming the gospel.

Eph 6:18b-20 To that end keep alert with all perseverance, making supplication for all the saints, ¹⁹and also for me, that words may be given to me in opening my mouth boldly to proclaim the mystery of the gospel, ²⁰for which I am an ambassador in chains, that I may declare it boldly, as I ought to speak. ☞

Col 4:3-4 At the same time, pray also for us, that God may open to us a door for the word, to declare the mystery of Christ, on account of which I am in prison— ⁴that I may make it clear, which is how I ought to speak. ☞

2Thes 3:1-2 Finally, brothers,^w pray for us, that the word of the Lord may speed ahead and be honored,^x as happened among you, ²and that we may be delivered from wicked and evil men. For not all have faith. ☞

^y Or Let your name be kept holy, or Let your name be treated with reverence

^z Or Let your kingdom come, let your will be done

“Your kingdom come” (v. 10) appears primarily to be a request for the full manifestation of the kingdom (cf. CEV, NLT). But some commentators interpret it to also refer to the further extension of the kingdom in its present form – in which the spreading of the gospel obviously is a vital part.

Pray for the salvation of unbelievers

Acts 26:28-29 And Agrippa said to Paul, “In a short time would you persuade me to be a Christian?”^a ²⁹And Paul said, “Whether short or long, I would to God that not only you but also all who hear me this day might become such as I am— except for these chains.” ☞

^a Or In a short time you would persuade me to act like a Christian!

“I would to God” is indicative of a prayerful wish (cf. CEV, NASB; Rom 10:1 ↓), comparable to a prayer – “I pray to God” (NCV™, NLT, NRSV; cf. GNT, NIV).

Rom 10:1 Brothers,^b my heart’s desire and prayer to God for them is that they may be saved. ☞

1Tim 2:1-4 First of all, then, I urge that supplications, prayers, intercessions, and thanksgivings be made for all people, ²for kings and all who are in high positions, that we may lead a peaceful and quiet life, godly and dignified in every way. ³This is good, and it is pleasing in the sight of God our Savior, ⁴who desires all people to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth. ☞

Verses 3-4 suggest that our prayers for other people (v. 1) should include prayer for their salvation.

Rather than insist on your own rights, act in the interests of others for the sake of the gospel

1Cor 9:12-15, 18 If others share this rightful claim on you, do not we even more? Nevertheless, we have not made use of this right, but we endure anything rather than put an obstacle in the way of the gospel of Christ. ¹³Do you not know that those who are employed in the temple service get their food from the temple, and those who serve at the altar share in the sacrificial offerings? ¹⁴In the same way, the Lord commanded that those who proclaim the gospel should get their living by the gospel. ¹⁵*But I have made no use of any of these rights, nor am I writing these things to secure any such provision.* For I would rather die than have anyone deprive me of my ground for boasting. ¶ ... ¹⁸What then is my reward? That in my preaching I may present the gospel free of charge, so as not to make full use of my right in the gospel. ¶

Paul forsook his right of being supported in his work of spreading the gospel, enduring “anything rather than put an obstacle in the way of the gospel of Christ” (v. 12). In v. 13, to illustrate that he has this right, Paul is referring to the OT law’s stipulations that those who work in the temple have the right to take from certain offerings for their own food.

1Cor 9:19-23 For though I am free from all, I have made myself a servant to all, that I might win more of them. ²⁰*To the Jews I became as a Jew, in order to win Jews. To those under the law I became as one under the law (though not being myself under the law) that I might win those under the law.* ²¹*To those outside the law I became as one outside the law (not being outside the law of God but under the law of Christ) that I might win those outside the law.* ²²*To the weak I became weak, that I might win the weak. I have become all things to all people, that by all means I might save some.* ²³*I do it all for the sake of the gospel, that I may share with them in its blessings.* ¶

Further to foregoing his rights regarding being supported (cf. vv. 12-15, 18 ↑), in vv. 19-22 Paul tells of how he was even prepared to make himself a slave to others and to take measures so that they could identify with him (cf. Gal 4:12 – “I also have become as you are”). He would “fit in with them” (NLT) and “find common ground” (NLT). All this he would do for the sake of the gospel (v. 23). Note that in v. 22 Paul is speaking of forgoing freedoms that he had in Christ for the sake of Christians with weak consciences.

1Cor 10:33 ... just as I try to please everyone in everything I do, not seeking my own advantage, but that of many, that they may be saved. ¶

Note that here – and possibly in other references in this and previous subsections – the sanctification of believers is as much in view as the saving of non-believers.

1Thes 1:5 ... because our gospel came to you not only in word, but also in power and in the Holy Spirit and with full conviction. You know what kind of men we proved to be among you for your sake. ¶

When bringing the gospel to the Thessalonians (v. 5a), Paul (and his associates) lived among them in a way that was for their good (v. 5b; cf. 1Thes 2:6-9 ↓).

1Thes 2:6-9 Nor did we seek glory from people, whether from you or from others, though we could have made demands as apostles of Christ. ⁷*But we were gentle^c among you, like a nursing mother taking care of her own children.* ⁸*So, being affectionately desirous of you, we were ready to share with you not only the gospel of God but also our own selves, because you had become very dear to us.* ⁹*For you remember, brothers, our labor and toil: we worked night and day, that we might not be a burden to any of you, while we proclaimed to you the gospel of God.* ¶

^c Some manuscripts infants

In addition to foregoing their rights so as not to be a burden to the Thessalonians (vv. 6-7, 9), such was their love for them that Paul and his co-workers even shared their lives with them (v. 8). This would have involved further expending of themselves.

✦ Jesus’ example of forgoing his right so as not to cause offense:

Matt 17:24-27 When they came to Capernaum, the collectors of the two-drachma tax went up to Peter and said, “Does your teacher not pay the tax?” ²⁵He said, “Yes.” And when he came into the house, Jesus spoke to him first, saying, “What do you think, Simon? From whom do kings of the earth take toll or tax? From their sons or from others?” ²⁶And when he said, “From others,” Jesus said to him, “Then the sons are free. ²⁷*However, not to give offense to them, go to the sea and cast a hook and take the first fish that comes up, and when you open its mouth you will find a shekel.*^d Take that and give it to them for me and for yourself.” ¶

^d Greek stater, a silver coin worth four drachmas or approximately one shekel

In vv. 25-26 Jesus points out that the sons of the kingdom, of God’s family, have the right to not have to pay such taxes – they are in a sense above or apart from such things. But then in v. 27 he shows that believers should forgo such rights so as to not unnecessarily cause offence to others.

Live and act in a way that is consistent with the gospel

Living and acting in a way that is consistent with the gospel involves following biblical teachings regarding how we should live, which accompany and complement the teachings of the basic gospel message.

1Cor 4:17 That is why I sent^e you Timothy, my beloved and faithful child in the Lord, to remind you of my ways in Christ,^f as I teach them everywhere in every church.

^e Or am sending

^f Some manuscripts add Jesus

Paul effectively claims that his way of life, that he lived in Christ, was what he taught – i.e. his actions were in agreement with his teachings (cf. CEV, NIV).

2Cor 9:13 By their approval of this service, they^g will glorify God because of your submission flowing from your confession of the gospel of Christ, and the generosity of your contribution for them and for all others, ...

^g Or you

The Corinthians – at least in the matter being discussed – submitted in obedience to the gospel.

2Cor 13:8 For we cannot do anything against the truth, but only for the truth.

There are a number of ideas as to precisely what Paul means here. Quite possibly he is saying he would not or could not do anything that is incompatible or contradictory to the gospel and its moral implications. (cf. NBC)

Eph 4:1 I therefore, a prisoner for the Lord, urge you to walk in a manner worthy of the calling to which you have been called, ...

Phil 1:27 Only let your manner of life be worthy^h of the gospel of Christ, so that whether I come and see you or am absent, I may hear of you that you are standing firm in one spirit, with one mind striving side by side for the faith of the gospel, ...

^h Greek Only behave as citizens worthy

Living a life “worthy of the gospel” is an important aspect of “striving ... for the faith of the gospel”.

1Thes 2:9-10 For you remember, brothers, our labor and toil: we worked night and day, that we might not be a burden to any of you, while we proclaimed to you the gospel of God. ¹⁰*You are witnesses, and God also, how holy and righteous and blameless was our conduct toward you believers.*

The “holy and righteous and blameless” conduct of Paul and those ministering with him (v. 10), showed that they lived in a way that was consistent with and worthy of the gospel that they preached (v. 9).

3Jn 1:12 Demetrius has received a good testimony from everyone, and from the truth itself. We also add our testimony, and you know that our testimony is true.

John indicates that Demetrius’ life is shown in a good light by the gospel (as well as by the testimony of others). His conduct was in accordance with “the true message that he teaches” (CEV).

✦ Our actions should not contradict any particular aspects of the gospel message:

Gal 2:14 But when I saw that their conduct was not in step with the truth of the gospel, I said to Cephas before them all, “If you, though a Jew, live like a Gentile and not like a Jew, how can you force the Gentiles to live like Jews?”

Here Paul rightly rebukes Peter for not acting in a way that is consistent with the gospel message (cf. vv. 11-14). Peter’s actions had implied that Gentiles needed to follow Jewish regulations, contrary to the gospel’s teaching that Christians have been freed from the OT law.

In acting consistently with the gospel, you and the faith will not be discredited . . .

See also:

- Phil 1:27
- Glorify and honor God and Jesus Christ by how you live . . ., p. 1240

The following verses show that it is essential that our lives be consistent with our faith so as not to discredit ourselves and things related to our faith – including our ministry, God’s word, God’s name and other believers.

2Cor 6:3 We put no obstacle in anyone’s way, so that no fault may be found with our ministry, ...

Paul asserts that he and companions did nothing that would discredit their ministry and so be an obstacle to anyone’s response.

2Cor 8:20-21 We take this course so that no one should blame us about this generous gift that is being administered by us, ²¹for we aim at what is honorable not only in the Lord's sight but also in the sight of man.

Paul realized that it was critical for his ministry that his actions not only be right but that they also be seen to be so (v. 21), in order to avoid any blame or criticism (v. 20).

1Tim 5:13-14 Besides that, they learn to be idlers, going about from house to house, and not only idlers, but also gossips and busybodies, saying what they should not. ¹⁴So I would have younger widows marry, bear children, manage their households, and give the adversary no occasion for slander.

In a society where presumably there was minimal opportunity for women to be employed, Paul addresses his concerns regarding the prospect of idleness resulting in the whole church and the gospel being slandered.

1Tim 6:1 Let all who are under a yoke as slavesⁱ regard their own masters as worthy of all honor, so that the name of God and the teaching may not be reviled.

ⁱ Greek bondservants

Titus 2:4-5, 7-8 ... and so train the young women to love their husbands and children, ⁵to be self-controlled, pure, working at home, kind, and submissive to their own husbands, that the word of God may not be reviled. ... ⁷*Show yourself in all respects to be a model of good works, and in your teaching show integrity, dignity, ⁸and sound speech that cannot be condemned, so that an opponent may be put to shame, having nothing evil to say about us.*

1Pet 2:15 For this is the will of God, that by doing good you should put to silence the ignorance of foolish people.

The "ignorance of foolish people" refers to or at least encompasses "foolish accusations" (NLT) against believers.

1Pet 3:14b-16 Have no fear of them, nor be troubled, ¹⁵but in your hearts honor Christ the Lord as holy, always being prepared to make a defense to anyone who asks you for a reason for the hope that is in you; yet do it with gentleness and respect, ¹⁶*having a good conscience, so that, when you are slandered, those who revile your good behavior in Christ may be put to shame.*

2Pet 2:2 And many will follow their sensuality, and because of them the way of truth will be blasphemed.

Peter here refers to the godless practices of false teachers corrupting others in the church, leading to the gospel being maligned.

Neh 5:9 So I said, "The thing that you are doing is not good. Ought you not to walk in the fear of our God to prevent the taunts of the nations our enemies?"

... You will have credibility, attracting people to the gospel

2Cor 6:4-7 ... but as servants of God we commend ourselves in every way: by great endurance, in afflictions, hardships, calamities, ⁵beatings, imprisonments, riots, labors, sleepless nights, hunger; ⁶by purity, knowledge, patience, kindness, the Holy Spirit, genuine love; ⁷by truthful speech, and the power of God; with the weapons of righteousness for the right hand and for the left; ...

Rather than discrediting their ministry (cf. v. 3), Paul claims that everything he and his companions did – persevering in hardship (vv. 4b-5) and acting in godly ways (vv. 6-7) – had shown them to be true servants of God (v. 4a).

1Thes 4:11-12 ... and to aspire to live quietly, and to mind your own affairs, and to work with your hands, as we instructed you, ¹²so that you may walk properly before outsiders and be dependent on no one.

In v. 11 Paul urges the Thessalonians to live quietly and peacefully, to mind their own business and to earn their own living (cf. GNT). A key goal of this was so that their behavior be seen to be proper by outsiders (v. 12), earning their respect (cf. AMP, CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV, NLT) and so having credibility.

Titus 2:9-10 Slavesⁱ are to be submissive to their own masters in everything; they are to be well-pleasing, not argumentative, ¹⁰not pilfering, but showing all good faith, so that in everything they may adorn the doctrine of God our Savior.

ⁱ Or servants; Greek bondservants

The last clause implies that such behavior (vv. 9-10a) makes the gospel "attractive" (NCV™, NIV®, NLT).

1Pet 2:12 Keep your conduct among the Gentiles honorable, so that when they speak against you as evildoers, they may see your good deeds and glorify God on the day of visitation.

Living honorable lives with "good deeds" will not only give believers credibility in the eyes of non-Christians, eventually it will be cause for them to glorify God "on the day of visitation". This last phrase is probably a reference to judgment day (cf. NLT, NRSV) or Christ's return (cf. NCV). However, some think it may refer to God granting salvation to such people, thereby implying that the good deeds of Christians can be a factor in the conversion of opponents (cf. Titus 2:9-10 ; 1Pet 3:1-2).

1Pet 3:1-2 Likewise, wives, be subject to your own husbands, so that even if some do not obey the word, they may be won without a word by the conduct of their wives, ²when they see your respectful and pure conduct.

2Tim 3:14-15 But as for you, continue in what you have learned and have firmly believed, knowing from whom^k you learned it ¹⁵and how from childhood you have been acquainted with the sacred writings, which are able to make you wise for salvation through faith in Christ Jesus.

^k The Greek for whom is plural

Particularly in view of v. 15, those “from whom you learned it” (v. 14) appears to be a reference to Timothy’s mother and grandmother (cf. 1:5) – and possibly also to Paul himself. The character and lives of these people who had taught Timothy had been a significant factor in him accepting their teaching, as reflected by Paul’s appeal to this in encouraging Timothy to continue in his faith.

✦ The unity of believers promotes belief in others:

John 17:20-23 I do not ask for these only, but also for those who will believe in me through their word, ²¹*that they may all be one, just as you, Father, are in me, and I in you, that they also may be in us, so that the world may believe that you have sent me.* ²²*The glory that you have given me I have given to them, that they may be one even as we are one,* ²³*I in them and you in me, that they may become perfectly one, so that the world may know that you sent me and loved them even as you loved me.*

The phrase “be in us” (v. 21b) is correlated with the unity of believers (cf. CEV, NCV), as is suggested by the surrounding statements and by some ancient authorities having “be one in us” (cf. NRSV text note).

Support others spreading the gospel . . .

3Jn 1:7-8 For they have gone out for the sake of the name, accepting nothing from the Gentiles. ⁸*Therefore we ought to support people like these, that we may be fellow workers for the truth.*

1Cor 9:14, 18 In the same way, the Lord commanded that those who proclaim the gospel should get their living by the gospel.  ... ¹⁸*What then is my reward? That in my preaching I may present the gospel free of charge, so as not to make full use of my right in the gospel.*

In the last clause in v. 18 Paul refers to his right to support in his work of preaching the gospel. As such, in accordance with the Lord’s command (v. 14), v. 18 suggests that while spreading the gospel should not be done for profit, others still have the responsibility to support preachers.

2Cor 11:7-9 Or did I commit a sin in humbling myself so that you might be exalted, because I preached God’s gospel to you free of charge? ⁸*I robbed other churches by accepting support from them in order to serve you.* ⁹*And when I was with you and was in need, I did not burden anyone, for the brothers who came from Macedonia supplied my need.* So I refrained and will refrain from burdening you in any way.

Various churches supported Paul in his work of preaching the gospel, allowing him to preach it free of charge.

Phil 2:25 I have thought it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus my brother and fellow worker and fellow soldier, and your messenger and minister to my need, . . .

Epaphroditus was sent by the Philippians to bring their gifts of aid to Paul (cf. Phil 4:18 ↓) and apparently also to assist him in other ways in his work of spreading the gospel.

Phil 4:14-19 Yet it was kind of you to share^l my trouble. ¹⁵*And you Philippians yourselves know that in the beginning of the gospel, when I left Macedonia, no church entered into partnership with me in giving and receiving, except you only.* ¹⁶*Even in Thessalonica you sent me help for my needs once and again.* ¹⁷*Not that I seek the gift, but I seek the fruit that increases to your credit.* ¹⁸*I have received full payment, and more. I am well supplied, having received from Epaphroditus the gifts you sent, a fragrant offering, a sacrifice acceptable and pleasing to God.* ¹⁹*And my God will supply every need of yours according to his riches in glory in Christ Jesus.*

^l Or have fellowship in

^m Or I seek the profit that accrues to your account

In v. 15, “giving and receiving” refers to what might be termed “transactions” between the Philippians and Paul. They gave him aid (vv. 16, 18) and in return spiritual blessings were credited to their account (v. 17; cf. v. 19).

... Give hospitality and aid to visiting preachers and workers

Rom 15:24 I hope to see you in passing as I go to Spain, and to be helped on my journey there by you, once I have enjoyed your company for a while.

Rom 16:2 ... that you may welcome her in the Lord in a way worthy of the saints, and help her in whatever she may need from you, for she has been a patron of many and of myself as well.

1Cor 16:5-6 I will visit you after passing through Macedonia, for I intend to pass through Macedonia, ⁶and perhaps I will stay with you or even spend the winter, so that you may help me on my journey, wherever I go.

Philem 1:22 At the same time, prepare a guest room for me, for I am hoping that through your prayers I will be graciously given to you.

Titus 3:13 Do your best to speed Zenas the lawyer and Apollos on their way; see that they lack nothing.

3Jn 1:5-6 Beloved, it is a faithful thing you do in all your efforts for these brothers, strangers as they are, ⁶who testified to your love before the church. You will do well to send them on their journey in a manner worthy of God.

Acts 16:15 And after she was baptized, and her household as well, she urged us, saying, "If you have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come to my house and stay." And she prevailed upon us.

Acts 21:8, 10 On the next day we departed and came to Caesarea, and we entered the house of Philip the evangelist, who was one of the seven, and stayed with him.  ... ¹⁰While we were staying for many days, a prophet named Agabus came down from Judea.

Philip, himself an evangelist, gave hospitality to Paul and his associates.

Luke 10:7-8, 38 And remain in the same house, eating and drinking what they provide, for the laborer deserves his wages. Do not go from house to house. ⁸Whenever you enter a town and they receive you, eat what is set before you.  ... ³⁸Now as they went on their way, Jesus^a entered a village. And a woman named Martha welcomed him into her house.

^a Greek he

The instructions given in vv. 7-8 to the itinerant workers themselves, obviously imply that such hospitality should be given to them, as Martha later exemplifies (v. 38). Note that the exhortations to stay in the one house (v. 7) may be admonishing against looking for a better offer.

2Ki 4:8-10 One day Elisha went on to Shunem, where a wealthy woman lived, who urged him to eat some food. So whenever he passed that way, he would turn in there to eat food. ⁹And she said to her husband, "Behold now, I know that this is a holy man of God who is continually passing our way. ¹⁰*Let us make a small room on the roof with walls and put there for him a bed, a table, a chair, and a lamp, so that whenever he comes to us, he can go in there.*"

† Some implications and results of receiving gospel workers (and other people of God):

Matt 10:40-42 "Whoever receives you receives me, and whoever receives me receives him who sent me. ⁴¹The one who receives a prophet because he is a prophet will receive a prophet's reward, and the one who receives a righteous person because he is a righteous person will receive a righteous person's reward. ⁴²And whoever gives one of these little ones even a cup of cold water because he is a disciple, truly, I say to you, he will by no means lose his reward."

Note that other implications and results of receiving – or welcoming and assisting – itinerant workers are given above in 3 John 1:8 and in Philippians 4:14-19 in the previous subsection.

Note: Guard the gospel message

We are to guard the gospel message from being distorted. As such we need to guard: our own understanding and version of the gospel (which is partially in view in the references below from 1 and 2 Timothy and also Galatians 2:3); and the gospel message from being distorted by others (which is what is largely in view in the other references).

1Tim 6:20-21 O Timothy, guard the deposit entrusted to you. Avoid the irreverent babble and contradictions of what is falsely called "knowledge," ²¹for by professing it some have swerved from the faith. Grace be with you. ^o

^o The Greek for you is plural

The phrase "the deposit entrusted to you" is referring to the gospel (as is "the good deposit" in 2 Timothy 1:14 immediately below). In v. 20b, Paul urges Timothy to turn away from matters that would corrupt his message.

2Tim 1:13-14 Follow the pattern of the sound^p words that you have heard from me, in the faith and love that are in Christ Jesus. ¹⁴*By the Holy Spirit who dwells within us, guard the good deposit entrusted to you.* 📖

Gal 2:1-5 Then after fourteen years I went up again to Jerusalem with Barnabas, taking Titus along with me. ²I went up because of a revelation and set before them (though privately before those who seemed influential) the gospel that I proclaim among the Gentiles, in order to make sure I was not running or had not run in vain. ³But even Titus, who was with me, was not forced to be circumcised, though he was a Greek. ⁴Yet because of false brothers secretly brought in—who slipped in to spy out our freedom that we have in Christ Jesus, so that they might bring us into slavery— ⁵*to them we did not yield in submission even for a moment, so that the truth of the gospel might be preserved for you.* 📖

As commented earlier, in v. 2 Paul tells of how he checked his version of the gospel with the church leaders in case his preaching was incorrect – and so “in vain”. In v. 5 Paul speaks of how he fought to maintain “the truth of the gospel” against corruption by supposed believers, who advocated circumcision and adherence to the law (vv. 3-4), apparently wanting to tie these in with the gospel message.

Jude 1:3-4 Beloved, although I was very eager to write to you about our common salvation, I found it necessary to write appealing to you to contend for the faith that was once for all delivered to the saints. ⁴For certain people have crept in unnoticed who long ago were designated for this condemnation, ungodly people, who pervert the grace of our God into sensuality and deny our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ. 📖

Here “the faith” refers to the “sum of Christian belief” (AMP) – notably the gospel message, “the Good News” (GNT).

Gal 1:6-9 I am astonished that you are so quickly deserting him who called you in the grace of Christ and are turning to a different gospel— ⁷*not that there is another one, but there are some who trouble you and want to distort the gospel of Christ.* ⁸*But even if we or an angel from heaven should preach to you a gospel contrary to the one we preached to you, let him be accursed.* ⁹*As we have said before, so now I say again: If anyone is preaching to you a gospel contrary to the one you received, let him be accursed.* 📖

Here Paul vehemently speaks out for the gospel message – defending or guarding it – condemning the teaching of a distorted adaptation of the gospel.

This section provides insights on the gospel message itself and on why it is so critical that we tell others the gospel. It also teaches us that in all our efforts to do so, we must bear in mind that the effectiveness of the message comes from God – and that people’s responses to it are in his hands, not ours.

The gospel is not made up by men – it is true

Gal 1:11-12 For I would have you know, brothers, that the gospel that was preached by me is not man’s gospel.^a ¹²*For I did not receive it from any man, nor was I taught it, but I received it through a revelation of Jesus Christ.* 📖

^a Greek not according to man

Note that in line with this, in v. 1 Paul points out that he was “not from men nor through man, but through Jesus Christ and God the Father”.

1Thes 2:2-3, 13 But though we had already suffered and been shamefully treated at Philippi, as you know, we had boldness in our God to declare to you the gospel of God in the midst of much conflict. ³*For our appeal does not spring from error or impurity or any attempt to deceive,* 📖 ... ¹³And we also thank God constantly^b for this, that when you received the word of God, which you heard from us, you accepted it not as the word of men but as what it really is, the word of God, which is at work in you believers. 📖

^b Or without ceasing

The reference to the gospel as “the gospel of God” (v. 2) and “the word of God” (v. 13) asserts that it is not made up by men – and so that it is true, not false in any way (v. 3).

2Pet 1:16 For we did not follow cleverly devised myths when we made known to you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but we were eyewitnesses of his majesty. 📖

Heb 2:3-4 ... how shall we escape if we neglect such a great salvation? It was declared at first by the Lord, and it was attested to us by those who heard, ⁴*while God also bore witness by signs and wonders and various miracles and by gifts of the Holy Spirit distributed according to his will.* 📖

The gospel message of salvation was first announced by Jesus Christ, and a number who had heard him confirmed what he had said to others (cf. Luke 1:1-4 ↓) – including to the writer of Hebrews. In saying that they “attested” to it, the writer appears to mean that they attested or confirmed that it was what Jesus had said and so that it was “real and genuine” (AMP). This was also affirmed by the signs that had accompanied it (v. 4).

Luke 1:1-4 Inasmuch as many have undertaken to compile a narrative of the things that have been accomplished among us, ²*just as those who from the beginning were eyewitnesses and ministers of the word have delivered them to us,* ³*it seemed good to me also, having followed all things closely for some time past, to write an orderly account for you, most excellent Theophilus,* ⁴*that you may have certainty concerning the things you have been taught.* 📖

Although Luke does not specifically say that he used the eyewitness accounts concerning “the word” (v. 2), the gospel message, this is implied. Luke’s Gospel and other such accounts (v. 1) were based largely on what eyewitnesses had passed on – along with careful investigation (v. 3a) – thus adding to the certainty of what they contain (v. 4).

John 19:35 He who saw it has borne witness—his testimony is true, and he knows that he is telling the truth—that you also may believe. 📖

John 21:24 This is the disciple who is bearing witness about these things, and who has written these things, and we know that his testimony is true.

The last clause speaks of John himself along with others, possibly including his readers, affirming “that his testimony is true” (cf. John 19:35 ↑).

Acts 26:22-26 To this day I have had the help that comes from God, and so I stand here testifying both to small and great, saying nothing but what the prophets and Moses said would come to pass: ²³that the Christ must suffer and that, by being the first to rise from the dead, he would proclaim light both to our people and to the Gentiles. ²⁴And as he was saying these things in his defense, Festus said with a loud voice, “Paul, you are out of your mind; your great learning is driving you out of your mind.” ²⁵But Paul said, “I am not out of my mind, most excellent Festus, but I am speaking true and rational words. ²⁶*For the king knows about these things, and to him I speak boldly. For I am persuaded that none of these things has escaped his notice, for this has not been done in a corner.*

The gospel message was not made up by Jesus and/or his followers, for it says “nothing but what the prophets and Moses said would come to pass” (v. 22b; cf. Rom 16:25-26 ↓). Also, it is both “true and rational” (v. 25). Verse 26 makes a further important point attesting to the truth of the gospel. The events it is based on were widely known, familiar to the king, as they did not take place in some obscure setting. Similarly, in Acts 2:22 Peter points out to a crowd that Jesus’ deeds were widely known, referring to his “mighty works and wonders and signs that God did through him in your midst, as you yourselves know.”

Eph 1:13 In him you also, when you heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation, and believed in him, were sealed with the promised Holy Spirit, ...

The phrase “the word of truth” of course affirms the truth of the gospel. It is also used in reference to the gospel in: Colossians 1:5 (“the word of truth, the gospel”); 2Tim 2:15 (“a worker ... rightly handling the word of truth”); and James 1:18 (“he brought us forth by the word of truth”).

1Jn 2:21 I write to you, not because you do not know the truth, but because you know it, and because no lie is of the truth.

The “truth” here is basically a reference to the gospel.

The gospel reveals God’s hidden mystery concerning Jesus Christ

Rom 16:25-26 Now to him who is able to strengthen you according to my gospel and the preaching of Jesus Christ, according to the revelation of the mystery that was kept secret for long ages ²⁶but has now been disclosed and through the prophetic writings has been made known to all nations, according to the command of the eternal God, to bring about the obedience of faith—

The term “the prophetic writings” (v. 26) appears to refer to the writings of the OT prophets. As such this passage speaks of the role of the prophets’ writings in the revelation of the gospel, the previously hidden mystery about Jesus Christ. Previous obscure aspects of their writings have now become clear because of: Jesus Christ’s fulfillment of them; his teachings; and the revelation given to the apostles both during and after Christ’s ministry. As such, the prophets’ writings help reveal and affirm the gospel message.

Eph 1:7-10 In him we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of our trespasses, according to the riches of his grace, ⁸which he lavished upon us, in all wisdom and insight ⁹making known^c to us the mystery of his will, according to his purpose, which he set forth in Christ ¹⁰as a plan for the fullness of time, to unite all things in him, things in heaven and things on earth.

^c Or he lavished upon us in all wisdom and insight, making known . . .

Paul has the gospel in view as the means by which God has made known to us the mystery of his will that he would fulfill through Jesus Christ.

Eph 3:3-11 ... how the mystery was made known to me by revelation, as I have written briefly. ⁴When you read this, you can perceive my insight into the mystery of Christ, ⁵which was not made known to the sons of men in other generations as it has now been revealed to his holy apostles and prophets by the Spirit. ⁶*This mystery is^d that the Gentiles are fellow heirs, members of the same body, and partakers of the promise in Christ Jesus through the gospel.* ⁷*Of this gospel I was made a minister* according to the gift of God’s grace, which was given me by the working of his power. ⁸To me, though I am the very least of all the saints, this grace was given, to preach to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ, ⁹and to bring to light for everyone what is the plan of the mystery hidden for ages in^e God who created all things, ¹⁰so that through the church the manifold wisdom of God might now be made known to the rulers and authorities in the heavenly places.

¹¹This was according to the eternal purpose that he has realized in Christ Jesus our Lord, ...

^d The words This mystery is are inferred from verse 4

^e Or by

Verse 10 indicates that the aspect of the gospel mystery concerning the union of the Gentiles with Israel in the one body of the church (v. 6), had even been hidden from the heavenly powers (cf. 1Pet 1:12 ↓).

Col 1:25-27 ... of which I became a minister according to the stewardship from God that was given to me for you, to make the word of God fully known, ²⁶the mystery hidden for ages and generations but now revealed to his saints. ²⁷To them God chose to make known how great among the Gentiles are the riches of the glory of this mystery, which is Christ in you, the hope of glory.

Col 2:2-3 ... that their hearts may be encouraged, being knit together in love, to reach all the riches of full assurance of understanding and the knowledge of God's mystery, which is Christ, ³in whom are hidden all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.

All the treasures of divine wisdom and spiritual knowledge are stored up in Christ – and now made accessible through the gospel which reveals God's mystery about him.

1Cor 2:1, 7-10 And I, when I came to you, brothers,^f did not come proclaiming to you the testimony^g of God with lofty speech or wisdom. ... ⁷*But we impart a secret and hidden wisdom of God, which God decreed before the ages for our glory. ⁸None of the rulers of this age understood this, for if they had, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory. ⁹But, as it is written, "What no eye has seen, nor ear heard, nor the heart of man imagined, what God has prepared for those who love him"— ¹⁰these things God has revealed to us through the Spirit. For the Spirit searches everything, even the depths of God.*

^f Or brothers and sisters

^g Some manuscripts mystery (or secret)

The "testimony of God" (v. 1) and "a secret and hidden wisdom of God" which Paul spoke to others of (v. 7), both probably refer to God's "mystery" (v. 1 text note), the gospel. This mystery concerns the crucified Christ (v. 8) and involves matters previously not perceived by humankind (vv. 8-9) all of which is revealed to people by the Holy Spirit (v. 10, cf. Eph 3:5 ↑; 1Pet 1:10-12 ↓).

At his appointed time God revealed the previously hidden gospel message – concerning the promise of eternal life (v. 2) in Christ – through the preaching of Paul, and others (cf. 1Pet 1:10-12 ↓).

1Pet 1:10-12 Concerning this salvation, the prophets who prophesied about the grace that was to be yours searched and inquired carefully, ¹¹inquiring what person or time the Spirit of Christ in them was indicating when he predicted the sufferings of Christ and the subsequent glories. ¹²It was revealed to them that they were serving not themselves but you, in the things that have now been announced to you through those who preached the good news to you by the Holy Spirit sent from heaven, things into which angels long to look.

The prophets were given a limited revelation of the salvation that would come through the sufferings of Jesus Christ (vv. 10-11); as such it was a hidden mystery of God. Now through the preaching of the gospel, by the Holy Spirit, it has been fully revealed (v. 12). The final statement of v. 12 highlights the mystery that surrounds or surrounded what the gospel reveals.

‡ This mystery of "godliness" – based on Jesus Christ – is great:

1Tim 3:16 Great indeed, we confess, is the mystery of godliness: He^j was manifested in the flesh, vindicated^k by the Spirit,^l seen by angels, proclaimed among the nations, believed on in the world, taken up in glory.

^j Greek Who; some manuscripts God; others Which

^k Or justified

^l Or vindicated in spirit

The term translated here as "godliness" is also translated as "our religion" (CEV, GNT, NRSV) and similarly "our faith" (NLT). It appears to speak of the mystery that produces godliness. The remainder of the verse suggests that this is the gospel message about Jesus Christ and what he accomplished in his mission, which produces godliness as its significance is applied to one's life.

The gospel is of God's grace

The gospel message about Jesus Christ is founded on and manifests God's grace – as is reflected by the following verses.

Acts 20:24 But I do not account my life of any value nor as precious to myself, if only I may finish my course and the ministry that I received from the Lord Jesus, to testify to the gospel of the grace of God. 📖

Acts 20:32 And now I commend you to God and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up and to give you the inheritance among all those who are sanctified. 📖

Col 1:5b-6 Of this you have heard before in the word of the truth, the gospel, ⁶which has come to you, as indeed in the whole world it is bearing fruit and growing—as it also does among you, since the day you heard it and understood the grace of God in truth, ... 📖

Acts 14:3 So they remained for a long time, speaking boldly for the Lord, who bore witness to the word of his grace, granting signs and wonders to be done by their hands. 📖

Here “the Lord” probably is Jesus Christ. The gospel illustrates both God’s and Jesus Christ’s grace (cf. Rom 5:15). God’s grace is seen in him providing a way of salvation for undeserving humankind at the cost of his only Son. Jesus Christ’s grace is seen in him willingly foregoing his glory for a time and enduring great suffering for undeserving humankind.

2Cor 4:15 For it is all for your sake, so that as grace extends to more and more people it may increase thanksgiving, to the glory of God. 📖

With his reference to God’s grace, Paul may be referring to the gospel message being based on it and telling of it – as is the case elsewhere in this subsection. Alternatively, or additionally, he may have primarily in view God in his grace bringing people to believe in the message.

Eph 3:1-3 For this reason I, Paul, a prisoner for Christ Jesus on behalf of you Gentiles— ²assuming that you have heard of the stewardship of God’s grace that was given to me for you, ³how the mystery was made known to me by revelation, as I have written briefly. 📖

There is some doubt as to how “grace” is used in v. 2. Amongst the possibilities are that it refers to God’s grace: in commissioning Paul for this work; in making known the mystery of Christ to Paul (cf. v. 3); in the message itself; and in imparting the message to the Ephesians or the Gentiles in general. If the third possibility is the case, the verse would clearly indicate that the gospel is of God’s grace. The other possibilities also reflect this, to varying degrees.

The gospel is good news

Note that the Greek word translated as “gospel” basically means “good news”.

Luke 2:10 And the angel said to them, “Fear not, for behold, I bring you good news of great joy that will be for all the people. 📖

Luke 3:18 So with many other exhortations he preached good news to the people. 📖

Luke 8:1a Soon afterward he went on through cities and villages, proclaiming and bringing the good news of the kingdom of God. 📖

Acts 8:35 Then Philip opened his mouth, and beginning with this Scripture he told him the good news about Jesus. 📖

Acts 8:12 But when they believed Philip as he preached good news about the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women. 📖

Acts 10:36 As for the word that he sent to Israel, preaching good news of peace through Jesus Christ (he is Lord of all), ... 📖

Acts 13:32-33 And we bring you the good news that what God promised to the fathers, ³³*this he has fulfilled to us their children by raising Jesus*, as also it is written in the second Psalm, “‘You are my Son, today I have begotten you.’” 📖

In v. 32, “what God promised to the fathers” refers to messianic promises, fulfilled by God in raising Jesus (v. 33a).

Acts 14:15 Men, why are you doing these things? We also are men, of like nature with you, and we bring you good news, that you should turn from these vain things to a living God, who made the heaven and the earth and the sea and all that is in them. 📖

Rom 10:15 And how are they to preach unless they are sent? As it is written, “How beautiful are the feet of those who preach the good news!” 📖

1Pet 1:25 ... but the word of the Lord remains forever.” And this word is the good news that was preached to you. 📖

Mark 1:14-15 Now after John was arrested, Jesus came into Galilee, proclaiming the gospel of God, ¹⁵and saying, “The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand; repent and believe in the gospel.” 📖

That the terms “gospel” and “good news” are interchangeable is suggested by other translations at times rendering the Greek for “gospel” as “good news” (AMP, CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV, NLT, NRSV).

✦ The gospel is “treasure”:

2Cor 4:7 But we have this treasure in jars of clay, to show that the surpassing power belongs to God and not to us.

Here Paul likens the message of the gospel being entrusted to him in his human frailty, to treasure being placed in jars of clay. Speaking of the gospel as “treasure” reflects that further to it being good news, it is a wonderful, glorious message.

The message of Jesus Christ is a stumbling block for many people

The gospel’s message of Jesus Christ – with his death and resurrection – is a “stumbling block” for many people. They do not believe it and so, figuratively speaking, on the path to God’s salvation they stumble and fall over Christ – and so fail to obtain salvation and life.

1Pet 2:7-8 So the honor is for you who believe, but for those who do not believe, “The stone that the builders rejected has become the cornerstone,”^m and “A stone of stumbling, and a rock of offense.” They stumble because they disobey the word, as they were destined to do.

^mGreek the head of the corner

Verse 7 speaks of Jesus Christ as the “stone” that was rejected but which has become the cornerstone of God’s kingdom. Those who reject Christ “stumble” (v. 8) because they do not believe and obey the message.

Matt 21:44 And the one who falls on this stone will be broken to pieces; and when it falls on anyone, it will crush him.”ⁿ

ⁿ Some manuscripts omit verse 44

This is possibly referring to a Jewish saying of the time, indicating that like a pot that falls on a stone or one on which a stone falls, so everyone who rejects Jesus the “stone” will be doomed (cf. NSB).

1Cor 1:23 ... but we preach Christ crucified, a stumbling block to Jews and folly to Gentiles, ...

The gospel of Christ is a stumbling block to Jews, being incompatible with their way of trying to gain righteousness through obedience to the law. It is also a stumbling block to Gentiles, with many seeing it as foolishness.

Luke 2:34-35 And Simeon blessed them and said to Mary his mother, “Behold, this child is appointed for the fall and rising of many in Israel, and for a sign that is opposed ³⁵(and a sword will pierce through your own soul also), so that thoughts from many hearts may be revealed.”

Simeon’s prophetic word, on being presented with the infant Jesus, was indicative of Jesus Christ becoming a “stumbling block” for many people. Note that “rising” appears to refer to the salvation of the lowly.

✦ The message of the cross is offensive to some people:

Gal 5:11 But if I, brothers,^o still preach^p circumcision, why am I still being persecuted? In that case the offense of the cross has been removed.

^o Or brothers and sisters; also verse 13

^p Greek proclaim

Circumcision signifies one’s adherence to the OT law as the way to righteousness. As the message centered on Jesus Christ’s death on the cross conflicts with this, it causes offense (cf. 1Pet 2:8 ↑) to those who follow the way of the OT law. The message is also offensive to other people for other reasons.

- 1Cor 9:16-17

In most of the references in this and the following subsection, Paul speaks of his commission and responsibility to tell others the gospel. He had a special commission to preach the gospel, and so perhaps a greater responsibility than most Christians. But the principle of being entrusted with the gospel and the associated task of telling it to others – with the corresponding responsibility – is applicable to all Christians.

Gal 2:7 On the contrary, when they saw that I had been entrusted with the gospel to the uncircumcised, just as Peter had been entrusted with the gospel to the circumcised ...

1Thes 2:4 ... but just as we have been approved by God to be entrusted with the gospel, so we speak, not to please man, but to please God who tests our hearts.

1Tim 1:11 ... in accordance with the gospel of the glory of the blessed God with which I have been entrusted.

1Tim 6:20 O Timothy, guard the deposit entrusted to you. Avoid the irreverent babble and contradictions of what is falsely called "knowledge,"

The reference is to the gospel, as in 2 Timothy 1:14 below. Thus in these two references Paul refers to Timothy being entrusted with the gospel. Note that this involves guarding the correctness of its content as well as spreading it to others.

2Tim 1:14 By the Holy Spirit who dwells within us, guard the good deposit entrusted to you.

Titus 1:3 ... and at the proper time manifested in his word through the preaching with which I have been entrusted by the command of God our Savior; ...

1Cor 4:1 This is how one should regard us, as servants of Christ and stewards of the mysteries of God.

As "stewards" of the mysteries of God, Paul and his co-workers were trustees (cf. AMP) of the gospel.

. . . We are responsible for telling others

Rom 1:14-15 I am under obligation both to Greeks and to barbarians,^t both to the wise and to the foolish. ¹⁵*So I am eager to preach the gospel to you also who are in Rome.*

^t That is, non-Greeks

Like Paul, believers have an obligation or responsibility to tell all people – people of all nations and levels of understanding (v. 14).

1Cor 9:16-17 For if I preach the gospel, that gives me no ground for boasting. For necessity is laid upon me. Woe to me if I do not preach the gospel! ¹⁷For if I do this of my own will, I have a reward, but if not of my own will, I am still entrusted with a stewardship.

In v. 17 Paul appears to be saying that if it were that he preached voluntarily he would be rewarded; but as it is, he is simply doing what he has been entrusted to do (cf. GNT, NLT). Paul understood that he had no choice; he had to preach the gospel, the task that had been committed to him.

1Cor 4:2 Moreover, it is required of stewards that they be found trustworthy.

Paul is speaking of being entrusted with the gospel (cf. v. 1 ).

Acts 18:5-6 When Silas and Timothy arrived from Macedonia, Paul was occupied with the word, testifying to the Jews that the Christ was Jesus. ⁶And when they opposed and reviled him, he shook out his garments and said to them, “Your blood be on your own heads! I am innocent. From now on I will go to the Gentiles.”

In saying that he was innocent of the blood of the people he had preached the gospel to – here and in Acts 20:25-27 below – Paul indicates that he had a solemn responsibility to do so.

Acts 20:25-27 And now, behold, I know that none of you among whom I have gone about proclaiming the kingdom will see my face again. ²⁶Therefore I testify to you this day that I am innocent of the blood of all of you, ²⁷*for I did not shrink from declaring to you the whole counsel of God.*

✦ Ezekiel's accountability for warning his fellow Israelites:

Ezek 3:17-21 “Son of man, I have made you a watchman for the house of Israel. Whenever you hear a word from my mouth, you shall give them warning from me. ¹⁸*If I say to the wicked, ‘You shall surely die,’ and you give him no warning, nor speak to warn the wicked from his wicked way, in order to save his life, that wicked person shall die for^a his iniquity, but his blood I will require at your hand.* ¹⁹*But if you warn the wicked, and he does not turn from his wickedness, or from his wicked way, he shall die for his iniquity, but you will have delivered your soul.* ²⁰Again, if a righteous person turns from his righteousness and commits injustice, and I lay a stumbling block before him, he shall die. Because you have not warned him, he shall die for his sin, and his righteous deeds that he has done shall not be remembered, but his blood I will require at your hand. ²¹*But if you warn the righteous person not to sin, and he does not sin, he shall surely live, because he took warning, and you will have delivered your soul.”*

^u Or in; also verses 19, 20

Note that a “watchman” (v. 17) was one who watched out for danger, to give warnings of it.

Through believers spreading the gospel message others come to believe . . .

Rom 10:17 So faith comes from hearing, and hearing through the word of Christ.

Faith or belief comes from hearing the message, the message of the gospel of Christ.

John 17:20 I do not ask for these only, but also for those who will believe in me through their word, ...

Acts 4:1-2, 4 And as they were speaking to the people, the priests and the captain of the temple and the Sadducees came upon them, ²greatly annoyed because they were teaching the people and proclaiming in Jesus the resurrection from the dead.  ... ⁴*But many of those who had heard the word believed,* and the number of the men came to about five thousand.

Acts 8:12 But when they believed Philip as he preached good news about the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women.

Acts 11:20-21 But there were some of them, men of Cyprus and Cyrene, who on coming to Antioch spoke to the Hellenists^v also, preaching the Lord Jesus. ²¹*And the hand of the Lord was with them, and a great number who believed turned to the Lord.*

^v Or Greeks (that is, Greek-speaking non-Jews)

Acts 14:1, 21 Now at Iconium they entered together into the Jewish synagogue and spoke in such a way that a great number of both Jews and Greeks believed.  ... ²¹*When they had preached the gospel to that city [Derbe] and had made many disciples,* they returned to Lystra and to Iconium and to Antioch, ...

Acts 15:7 And after there had been much debate, Peter stood up and said to them, “Brothers, you know that in the early days God made a choice among you, that by my mouth the Gentiles should hear the word of the gospel and believe.”

Acts 18:8b And many of the Corinthians hearing Paul believed and were baptized.

Acts 28:24 And some were convinced by what he said, but others disbelieved.

1Cor 15:1, 11 Now I would remind you, brothers,^w of the gospel I preached to you, which you received, in which you stand, ...¹¹Whether then it was I or they, so we preach and so you believed.

^w Or brothers and sisters; also verses 6, 31, 50, 58

1Thes 2:13 And we also thank God constantly^x for this, that when you received the word of God, which you heard from us, you accepted it not as the word of men but as what it really is, the word of God, which is at work in you believers.

^x Or without ceasing

2Thes 1:10 ... when he comes on that day to be glorified in his saints, and to be marveled at among all who have believed, because our testimony to you was believed.

John 1:6-7 There was a man sent from God, whose name was John. ⁷*He came as a witness, to bear witness about the light, that all might believe through him.*

John the Baptist came as a witness to testify to the light of Jesus Christ, so that “all” people could believe in Jesus Christ.

John 19:34-35 But one of the soldiers pierced his side with a spear, and at once there came out blood and water. ³⁵*He who saw it has borne witness—his testimony is true, and he knows that he is telling the truth—that you also may believe.*

... and there are many ready to respond to the gospel – but they need someone to tell them

Matt 9:36-38 When he saw the crowds, he had compassion for them, because they were harassed and helpless, like sheep without a shepherd. ³⁷Then he said to his disciples, “The harvest is plentiful, but the laborers are few; ³⁸therefore pray earnestly to the Lord of the harvest to send out laborers into his harvest.”

There are many ready to respond to the gospel – to be “harvested”. But more workers are needed to proclaim the gospel to them.

John 4:35-36 Do you not say, “There are yet four months, then comes the harvest”? Look, I tell you, lift up your eyes, and see that the fields are white for harvest. ³⁶*Already the one who reaps is receiving wages and gathering fruit for eternal life, so that sower and reaper may rejoice together.*

In v. 36 Jesus appears to not be just simply making an observation that there are those now reaping, but also implying that those who are able should join in the harvesting. The ripe harvest needs harvesters now.

Rom 10:14 How then will they call on him in whom they have not believed? And how are they to believe in him of whom they have never heard? ^y And how are they to hear without someone preaching?

^y Or him whom they have never heard

Rom 15:20-21 ... and thus I make it my ambition to preach the gospel, not where Christ has already been named, lest I build on someone else’s foundation, ²¹*but as it is written, “Those who have never been told of him will see, and those who have never heard will understand.”*

Paul implies that in him preaching the gospel to those who had not previously known of Christ, a number of them would see and understand.

Acts 8:30-31, 35-36 So Philip ran to him and heard him reading Isaiah the prophet and asked, “Do you understand what you are reading?” ³¹*And he said, “How can I, unless someone guides me?”* And he invited Philip to come up and sit with him. ... ³⁵*Then Philip opened his mouth, and beginning with this Scripture he told him the good news about Jesus.* ³⁶*And as they were going along the road they came to some water, and the eunuch said, “See, here is water! What prevents me from being baptized?”*

^z Some manuscripts add all or most of verse 37: And Philip said, “If you believe with all your heart, you may.” And he replied, “I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.”

The eunuch responded to the gospel – once it had been explained to him.

The fact that those who hear and respond to the gospel receive salvation and life (cf. the following subsection), underlines the vital need to spread the gospel.

Mark 16:15-16 And he said to them, “Go into all the world and proclaim the gospel to the whole creation. ¹⁶Whoever believes and is baptized will be saved, but whoever does not believe will be condemned. 📖

Acts 11:13-14 And he told us how he had seen the angel stand in his house and say, ‘Send to Joppa and bring Simon who is called Peter; ¹⁴he will declare to you a message by which you will be saved, you and all your household.’ 📖

Acts 13:26 Brothers, sons of the family of Abraham, and those among you who fear God, to us has been sent the message of this salvation. 📖

Acts 16:17 She followed Paul and us, crying out, “These men are servants^a of the Most High God, who proclaim to you the way of salvation.” 📖

^a Greek bondservants

Rom 1:16 For I am not ashamed of the gospel, for it is the power of God for salvation to everyone who believes, to the Jew first and also to the Greek. 📖

1Cor 15:1-2 Now I would remind you, brothers,^b of the gospel I preached to you, which you received, in which you stand, ²and by which you are being saved, if you hold fast to the word I preached to you—unless you believed in vain. 📖

^b Or brothers and sisters; also verses 6, 31, 50, 58

2Cor 2:15 For we are the aroma of Christ to God among those who are being saved and among those who are perishing, ... 📖

Paul and his associates were “the aroma of Christ” in spreading the gospel of Christ amongst those who were being saved by it.

Eph 1:13-14 In him you also, when you heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation, and believed in him, were sealed with the promised Holy Spirit, ¹⁴who is the guarantee^c of our inheritance until we acquire possession of it,^d to the praise of his glory. 📖

^c Or down payment

Note the blessings associated with salvation for those who respond – i.e. the Holy Spirit and the inheritance of the afterlife.

2Thes 2:13-14 But we ought always to give thanks to God for you, brothers beloved by the Lord, because God chose you as the firstfruits^e to be saved, through sanctification by the Spirit and belief in the truth. ¹⁴To this he called you through our gospel, so that you may obtain the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. 📖

Acts 5:20 “Go and stand in the temple and speak to the people all the words of this Life.” 📖

The gospel message – “the words of this Life” – tells of spiritual life that can be gained through Jesus Christ.

2Cor 2:16 ... to one a fragrance from death to death, to the other a fragrance from life to life. Who is sufficient^f for these things? 📖

^f Or competent

As “the aroma of Christ” (v. 15 ⬆) Paul and his associates signified death to those who rejected their message, but life to those who believed – “the aroma of life leading to life” (NKJV; cf. GNT, NCV).

Phil 2:16 ... holding fast to the word of life, so that in the day of Christ I may be proud that I did not run in vain or labor in vain. 📖

The phrase “the word of life” implies that the gospel brings life – spiritual and eternal.

2Tim 1:9-10 ... who saved us and called us to^g a holy calling, not because of our works but because of his own purpose and grace, which he gave us in Christ Jesus before the ages began,^h ¹⁰and which now has been manifested through the appearing of our Savior Christ Jesus, who abolished death and brought life and immortality to light through the gospel, ...

^g Or with

^h Greek before times eternal

1Pet 4:6 For this is why the gospel was preached even to those who are dead, that though judged in the flesh the way people are, they might live in the spirit the way God does.

There are various interpretations of the first clause. One possibility, given the context, is that it refers to Christians who had received the gospel but had since died. Despite there being various interpretations, as a whole the verse does clearly indicate that those who respond to the gospel will live spiritually.

Further blessings that spreading the gospel brings to those who respond

See also:

- e Belief in Jesus Christ \(III\): Outcomes, p. 1049

Note that the following blessings are associated with the blessings discussed in the previous two subsections – i.e. salvation and life.

Acts 26:17-18 ... delivering you from your people and from the Gentiles—to whom I am sending you ¹⁸to open their eyes, so that they may turn from darkness to light and from the power of Satan to God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins and a place among those who are sanctified by faith in me.

Rom 15:15-16 But on some points I have written to you very boldly by way of reminder, because of the grace given me by God ¹⁶to be a minister of Christ Jesus to the Gentiles in the priestly service of the gospel of God, so that the offering of the Gentiles may be acceptable, sanctified by the Holy Spirit.

Eph 3:6 This mystery is ⁱ that the Gentiles are fellow heirs, members of the same body, and partakers of the promise in Christ Jesus through the gospel.

ⁱ The words This mystery is are inferred from verse 4

What the “promise in Christ Jesus” (v. 6) refers to is not specified, but it probably relates to an aspect of salvation given in Jesus Christ. Possibly it may encompass, or at least be applicable to, all the blessings promised to those who are in Jesus Christ – “through the gospel”.

Eph 6:15 ... and, as shoes for your feet, having put on the readiness given by the gospel of peace.

The gospel is called “the gospel of peace” as it brings reconciliation and peace with God for those who respond.

Col 1:5b-6 Of this you have heard before in the word of the truth, the gospel, ⁶which has come to you, as indeed in the whole world it is bearing fruit and growing—as it also does among you, since the day you heard it and understood the grace of God in truth, ...

The phrase “bearing fruit” may primarily refer to the gospel being productive, with people responding to it. Alternatively or additionally it may suggest that for those who hear, understand and accept it, the gospel is “bringing blessings” (GNT, NCV) and so is “changing lives” (NLT) – as it had been doing among the Colossians.

2Thes 2:14 To this he called you through our gospel, so that you may obtain the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Heb 4:1-3 Therefore, while the promise of entering his rest still stands, let us fear lest any of you should seem to have failed to reach it. ²For good news came to us just as to them, but the message they heard did not benefit them, because they were not united by faith with those who listened. ³For we who have believed enter that rest, as he has said, “As I swore in my wrath, “They shall not enter my rest,” although his works were finished from the foundation of the world.

^j Some manuscripts it did not meet with faith in the hearers

Those who believe the gospel – and persevere in their belief – will enter into the rest God has promised. For further comment see . . . There will be no more sorrow, p. 743.

The gospel is the power and wisdom of God to save – though it may seem foolish to the world

Rom 1:16 For I am not ashamed of the gospel, for it is the power of God for salvation to everyone who believes, to the Jew first and also to the Greek.

1Cor 1:18, 21-25, 30 For the word of the cross is folly to those who are perishing, but to us who are being saved it is the power of God.  ... ²¹For since, in the wisdom of God, the world did not know God through wisdom, it pleased God through the folly of what we preach to save those who believe. ²²For Jews demand signs and Greeks seek wisdom, ²³but we preach Christ crucified, a stumbling block to Jews and folly to Gentiles, ²⁴but to those who are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ the power of God and the wisdom of God. ²⁵For the foolishness of God is wiser than men, and the weakness of God is stronger than men.  ... ³⁰And because of him^k you are in Christ Jesus, who became to us wisdom from God, righteousness and sanctification and redemption, ...

^k Greek And from him

Verse 24 is implying that Christ, or the gospel about him, is “the power of God and the wisdom of God” to save “those who are called”. Verse 25 is saying that the apparent “foolishness” and “weakness” of God – particularly that shown in the gospel – is in fact greater than worldly wisdom and strength, for, Paul implies, it is by this “foolishness” and “weakness” of God that we are saved. Verse 30 has a similar thought to v. 24. It is saying that God’s wisdom is shown in Christ, as it is by what God has done through him that we are enabled to have “righteousness and sanctification and redemption” – and so be saved.

1Cor 2:6-8, 14 Yet among the mature we do impart wisdom, although it is not a wisdom of this age or of the rulers of this age, who are doomed to pass away. ⁷But we impart a secret and hidden wisdom of God, which God decreed before the ages for our glory. ⁸None of the rulers of this age understood this, for if they had, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory.  ... ¹⁴The natural person does not accept the things of the Spirit of God, for they are folly to him, and he is not able to understand them because they are spiritually discerned.

The gospel message is of God’s wisdom, not the wisdom of the world (v. 6). God has determined that this wisdom would bring us glory (v. 7), presumably referring to the glorification in the afterlife (cf. AMP, NIV); as such he saves us through his wisdom. Because this wisdom is not worldly wisdom, the world does not understand it (vv. 8, 14b) or accept it, seeing it as foolish (v. 14a).

The gospel is not dependent on us and our presentation of it – but on the Holy Spirit and God's power

We are always to present the gospel appropriately, to the best of our ability. But in doing so we need to bear in mind that the gospel’s effectiveness is not dependent on us and our presentation of it – but on the Holy Spirit and God’s power.

1Cor 2:1-5, 13 And I, when I came to you, brothers,¹ did not come proclaiming to you the testimony^m of God with lofty speech or wisdom. ²For I decided to know nothing among you except Jesus Christ and him crucified. ³And I was with you in weakness and in fear and much trembling, ⁴and my speech and my message were not in plausible words of wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power, ⁵that your faith might not rest in the wisdom of men but in the power of God.  ... ¹³And we impart this in words not taught by human wisdom but taught by the Spirit, interpreting spiritual truths to those who are spiritual.ⁿ

^m Some manuscripts mystery (or secret)

ⁿ Or interpreting spiritual truths in spiritual language, or comparing spiritual things with spiritual

In vv. 1-2, Paul indicates that he did not try to employ great wisdom in conveying the gospel message (v. 1), but simply focused on the basic message, of Jesus Christ and his death (v. 2). In conjunction with this, his message and preaching was based on the Holy Spirit and God's power (vv. 3-4), working through him and in the minds of his listeners.

1Thes 1:4-5a For we know, brothers^o loved by God, that he has chosen you, ⁵because our gospel came to you not only in word, but also in power and in the Holy Spirit and with full conviction.

^o Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated "brothers") refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God's family, the church

This alludes to the effectiveness of the gospel amongst the Thessalonians. In v. 5a Paul indicates that this was because his message of the gospel was not simply words, but empowered with God's power and the Holy Spirit.

2Cor 4:7 But we have this treasure in jars of clay, to show that the surpassing power belongs to God and not to us.

Believers are like jars of clay, holding the treasure of the gospel. The weakness of their humanity and their often-unimpressive appearance serve to show that the "surpassing power" accompanying the message – moving people to respond – is of God and not of themselves.

1Cor 1:17 For Christ did not send me to baptize but to preach the gospel, and not with words of eloquent wisdom, lest the cross of Christ be emptied of its power.

Using words which are based on human wisdom, rather than speaking in reliance on God, impedes the power and effectiveness of the gospel message. Trying to persuade people primarily with human wisdom is ultimately not going to realize their salvation, despite any apparent initial success.

Acts 10:44 While Peter was still saying these things, the Holy Spirit fell on all who heard the word.

This may be meaning that the Holy Spirit brought these people to faith – pointing to the crucial role of the Holy Spirit in the gospel's effectiveness. Hence the verse's inclusion here. However, it may instead be meaning that those "who heard the word" believed it and then subsequently received the Holy Spirit.

Acts 11:20-23 But there were some of them, men of Cyprus and Cyrene, who on coming to Antioch spoke to the Hellenists^p also, preaching the Lord Jesus. ²¹*And the hand of the Lord was with them, and a great number who believed turned to the Lord.* ²²The report of this came to the ears of the church in Jerusalem, and they sent Barnabas to Antioch. ²³*When he came and saw the grace of God, he was glad, and he exhorted them all to remain faithful to the Lord with steadfast purpose, ...*

^p Or Greeks (that is, Greek-speaking non-Jews)

The great response to the message is not attributed to how it was presented, but to the "the hand of the Lord" being with the evangelists (v. 21) and "the grace of God" (v. 23). As such this illustrates that the gospel is not dependent on human wisdom and power, but on God's and Jesus Christ's power.

The Holy Spirit witnesses about Jesus Christ to people, fostering belief

See also:

- The Holy Spirit testifies to Jesus Christ being the Son of God, p. 116

The Holy Spirit witnesses to non-believers about the reality of Jesus Christ and the truth of the gospel message. He does this often through believers as they tell others the gospel. This work of the Holy Spirit is crucial to the effectiveness of the gospel's proclamation. The Holy Spirit also witnesses/testifies to believers as well as non-believers, regarding spiritual truths about Jesus Christ.

John 15:26-27 But when the Helper comes, whom I will send to you from the Father, the Spirit of truth, who proceeds from the Father, he will bear witness about me. ²⁷And you also will bear witness, because you have been with me from the beginning.

Particularly with v. 27 speaking of the disciples also witnessing about Jesus Christ, v. 26b is arguably primarily speaking of the Holy Spirit witnessing to non-believers. Taken with v. 27a, it is suggestive of the Holy Spirit working in conjunction with believers in witnessing (cf. Acts 5:32 ↓). An alternative interpretation is that v. 26b is referring to the Holy Spirit witnessing to the disciples about Jesus (cf. CEV, NCV, NLT), who were in turn to witness themselves (v. 27).

John 16:8-11 And when he comes, he will convict the world concerning sin and righteousness and judgment: ⁹*concerning sin, because they do not believe in me;* ¹⁰*concerning righteousness, because I go to the Father, and you will see me no longer;* ¹¹*concerning judgment, because the ruler of this world is judged.*

This speaks of the Holy Spirit convicting or convincing people that they are wrong about matters largely regarding Jesus Christ, thus in a real sense witnessing about him. Verse 9 speaks of the world either: languishing in its guilt of sin by not believing in the only one who can provide it with forgiveness; or being guilty of sin in not believing in Jesus Christ. Verse 10 quite possibly is speaking of the world's guilt in lacking righteousness, which is only obtainable through Jesus Christ as affirmed or consummated by his ascension. Alternatively some claim it has in view Jesus Christ's own righteousness, with it having been not acknowledged by the world but validated by his ascension. Verse 1 may be speaking of the world's guilt in the face of impending judgment, as affirmed by the judgment and condemnation of its prince, Satan. Alternatively the "judgment" (v. 11) may more precisely be the judgment of Satan – which in turn points to judgment subsequently befalling his subjects. The Holy Spirit convicts and convinces people of the reality of these things.

Acts 5:30-32 The God of our fathers raised Jesus, whom you killed by hanging him on a tree. ³¹God exalted him at his right hand as Leader and Savior, to give repentance to Israel and forgiveness of sins. ³²And we are witnesses to these things, and so is the Holy Spirit, whom God has given to those who obey him.

1Jn 5:5-8 Who is it that overcomes the world except the one who believes that Jesus is the Son of God? ⁶*This is he who came by water and blood—Jesus Christ; not by the water only but by the water and the blood. And the Spirit is the one who testifies, because the Spirit is the truth.* ⁷*For there are three that testify: ⁸the Spirit and the water and the blood; and these three agree.*

This speaks of the Holy Spirit testifying to the man Jesus – the truly human person who was baptized and crucified – being the Son of God. For more detailed comments on this passage see The Holy Spirit testifies to Jesus Christ being the Son of God, p. 116.

1Cor 12:3 Therefore I want you to understand that no one speaking in the Spirit of God ever says "Jesus is accursed!" and no one can say "Jesus is Lord" except in the Holy Spirit.

No one can acknowledge Jesus Christ as Lord except by the Holy Spirit (cf. 1Jn 4:2 ↓), with his enlightenment and conviction about Jesus Christ.

1Jn 4:2 By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, ...

Here "spirit" refers to a spirit influencing a person to either acknowledge Jesus Christ or not – indicative of whether the spirit is the Holy Spirit or an evil one. As such it speaks of the Holy Spirit witnessing to one about Jesus Christ.

Heb 10:12-18 But when Christ⁹ had offered for all time a single sacrifice for sins, he sat down at the right hand of God, ¹³waiting from that time until his enemies should be made a footstool for his feet. ¹⁴For by a single offering he has perfected for all time those who are being sanctified. ¹⁵*And the Holy Spirit also bears witness to us; for after saying,* ¹⁶*"This is the covenant that I will make with them after those days, declares the Lord: I will put my laws on their hearts, and write them on their minds,"* ¹⁷then he adds, "I will remember their sins and their lawless deeds no more." ¹⁸Where there is forgiveness of these, there is no longer any offering for sin.

⁹ Greek this one

This passage attributes the OT quotation (vv. 16-17) to the Holy Spirit, indicating that by it the Holy Spirit testifies to the significance of Jesus Christ's sacrifice (vv. 14-15), elaborated on in v. 18.

Acts 14:3 So they remained for a long time, speaking boldly for the Lord, who bore witness to the word of his grace, granting signs and wonders to be done by their hands.

Heb 2:3-4 ... how shall we escape if we neglect such a great salvation? It was declared at first by the Lord, and it was attested to us by those who heard, ⁴*while God also bore witness by signs and wonders and various miracles and by gifts of the Holy Spirit distributed according to his will.*

Note that the distribution of "gifts of the Holy Spirit" (v. 4b) – which include gifts to heal and to perform miracles – was further testimony or confirmation by God of the validity of the gospel message.

Matt 10:7-8 And proclaim as you go, saying, ‘The kingdom of heaven is at hand.’ ⁸Heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse lepers,^r cast out demons. You received without paying; give without pay.

^r Leprosy was a term for several skin diseases; see Leviticus 13

The message that the kingdom of heaven “has come near” (NRSV) – or “has come” or “is coming soon” (cf. NLT text note) – would be confirmed by the miraculous signs that would accompany the message (cf. Luke 9:6 ↓).

Luke 9:6 And they departed and went through the villages, preaching the gospel and healing everywhere.

Acts 4:29-30 And now, Lord, look upon their threats and grant to your servants^s to continue to speak your word with all boldness, ³⁰while you stretch out your hand to heal, and signs and wonders are performed through the name of your holy servant Jesus.

As with the verses from Matthew and Luke immediately above, reference is made to proclaiming God’s word (v. 29) and then to performing accompanying miraculous signs (v. 30), suggesting that the former would be confirmed by the latter.

Acts 8:6-7 And the crowds with one accord paid attention to what was being said by Philip when they heard him and saw the signs that he did. ⁷For unclean spirits, crying out with a loud voice, came out of many who had them, and many who were paralyzed or lame were healed.

. . . Miracles lead people to believe the message and turn to God

Rom 15:18-19 For I will not venture to speak of anything except what Christ has accomplished through me to bring the Gentiles to obedience—by word and deed, ¹⁹by the power of signs and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God—so that from Jerusalem and all the way around to Illyricum I have fulfilled the ministry of the gospel of Christ; ...

The reference in the last clause to him having “fulfilled the ministry of the gospel of Christ” clearly indicates that earlier Paul is speaking of leading the Gentiles to obey the gospel of God by what he had said in proclaiming the gospel and by the accompanying miracles.

Acts 9:32-35, 40-42 Now as Peter went here and there among them all, he came down also to the saints who lived at Lydda. ³³There he found a man named Aeneas, bedridden for eight years, who was paralyzed. ³⁴And Peter said to him, “Aeneas, Jesus Christ heals you; rise and make your bed.” And immediately he rose. ³⁵And all the residents of Lydda and Sharon saw him, and they turned to the Lord.  ... ⁴⁰But Peter put them all outside, and knelt down and prayed; and turning to the body he said, “Tabitha, arise.” And she opened her eyes, and when she saw Peter she sat up. ⁴¹And he gave her his hand and raised her up. Then calling the saints and widows, he presented her alive. ⁴²And it became known throughout all Joppa, and many believed in the Lord.

Although not specifically stated, undoubtedly spreading the gospel was Peter’s main focus as he traveled about the country (v. 32). Thus such miracles done in the name of Jesus Christ (v. 34), the subject of Peter’s message, compelled many people to believe in and turn to the Lord (vv. 35, 42).

Acts 13:8-12 But Elymas the magician (for that is the meaning of his name) opposed them, seeking to turn the proconsul away from the faith. ⁹But Saul, who was also called Paul, filled with the Holy Spirit, looked intently at him ¹⁰and said, “You son of the devil, you enemy of all righteousness, full of all deceit and villainy, will you not stop making crooked the straight paths of the Lord? ¹¹And now, behold, the hand of the Lord is upon you, and you will be blind and unable to see the sun for a time.” Immediately mist and darkness fell upon him, and he went about seeking people to lead him by the hand. ¹²Then the proconsul believed, when he saw what had occurred, for he was astonished at the teaching of the Lord.

Seeing the miraculous sign performed by Paul, done in association with Paul’s teaching, led the proconsul to believe (v. 12).

Acts 16:25-30 About midnight Paul and Silas were praying and singing hymns to God, and the prisoners were listening to them, ²⁶and suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken. And immediately all the doors were opened, and everyone’s bonds were unfastened. ²⁷When the jailer woke and saw that the prison doors were open, he drew his sword and was about to kill himself, supposing that the prisoners had escaped. ²⁸But Paul cried with a loud voice, “Do not harm yourself, for we are all here.” ²⁹And the jailer^t called for lights and rushed in, and trembling with fear he fell down before Paul and Silas. ³⁰Then he brought them out and said, “Sirs, what must I do to be saved?”

^t Greek he

Unlike the previous references, the earthquake (and its effects) was not a sign or miracle performed through believers. However it appears to be an awesome wonder performed by God to vindicate his workers and their message – leading a person to respond (v. 30).

Ex 4:29-31 Then Moses and Aaron went and gathered together all the elders of the people of Israel. ³⁰*Aaron spoke all the words that the LORD had spoken to Moses and did the signs in the sight of the people.* ³¹*And the people believed; and when they heard that the LORD had visited the people of Israel and that he had seen their affliction, they bowed their heads and worshiped.* 📖

Obviously this and the following reference are not speaking of the gospel, but they are excellent examples of miracles validating the word of God's messengers and leading people to believe their message.

1Ki 17:22-24 And the LORD listened to the voice of Elijah. And the life of the child came into him again, and he revived. ²³And Elijah took the child and brought him down from the upper chamber into the house and delivered him to his mother. And Elijah said, "See, your son lives." ²⁴*And the woman said to Elijah, "Now I know that you are a man of God, and that the word of the LORD in your mouth is truth."* 📖

✦ Paul's testimony about Christ was confirmed in the Corinthians:

1Cor 1:4-7 I give thanks to my God always for you because of the grace of God that was given you in Christ Jesus, ⁵*that in every way you were enriched in him in all speech and all knowledge—* ⁶*even as the testimony about Christ was confirmed among you—* ⁷*so that you are not lacking in any spiritual gift, as you wait for the revealing of our Lord Jesus Christ, ...* 📖

The Corinthians had been "enriched in him in all speech and all knowledge" (v. 5) – which probably refers in particular to the spiritual gifts from God (v. 7). The bestowal and manifestation of spiritual gifts are in essence miracles. As such they confirmed in the Corinthians Paul's testimony about Christ (cf. Heb 2:3b-4 ↑).

Believers are to be light for the world

See also:

- . . . Insights on living in darkness and living in God's light and truth, p. 1863

Christians are to be light for the world, showing the way of God by their character and actions, and by spreading the gospel.

Matt 5:14-16 You are the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot be hidden. ¹⁵*Nor do people light a lamp and put it under a basket, but on a stand, and it gives light to all in the house.* ¹⁶*In the same way, let your light shine before others, so that they may see your good works and give glory to your Father who is in heaven.* 📖

Luke 8:16-18 "No one after lighting a lamp covers it with a jar or puts it under a bed, but puts it on a stand, so that those who enter may see the light. ¹⁷*For nothing is hidden that will not be made manifest, nor is anything secret that will not be known and come to light.* ¹⁸*Take care then how you hear, for to the one who has, more will be given, and from the one who has not, even what he thinks that he has will be taken away."* 📖

One common interpretation of vv. 16-17 is that Jesus is saying that just as one who lights a lamp puts it on a stand to give light to others (cf. Matt 5:15 ↑), the disciples were to make known Jesus' teachings, giving "light" to others (v. 16). For all of this "light" that was previously hidden or concealed is to be made known (v. 17). A somewhat different interpretation is that in view of v. 18 Jesus is meaning that: just as a lamp is not covered but instead gives light to others (v. 16), so those whose take Jesus' teaching to heart will inevitably bring a manifestation of his spiritual light to others (v. 17).

John 5:35 He was a burning and shining lamp, and you were willing to rejoice for a while in his light. 📖

Jesus is speaking of John the Baptist.

Acts 13:47 For so the Lord has commanded us, saying, “I have made you a light for the Gentiles, that you may bring salvation to the ends of the earth.” 📖

Phil 2:14-16 Do all things without grumbling or questioning, ¹⁵that you may be blameless and innocent, children of God without blemish in the midst of a crooked and twisted generation, among whom you shine as lights in the world, ¹⁶*holding fast to the word of life,* so that in the day of Christ I may be proud that I did not run in vain or labor in vain. 📖

Rom 2:19 ... and if you are sure that you yourself are a guide to the blind, a light to those who are in darkness, ... 📖

This is part of a warning or admonishment for Jews who considered themselves with their teaching to be a light for others – but whose actions found them wanting. Nevertheless, it is indicative that God’s people should be “a light to those who are in darkness”.

Eph 5:8-9 ... for at one time you were darkness, but now you are light in the Lord. Walk as children of light ⁹*(for the fruit of light is found in all that is good and right and true),* ... 📖

As “children of light” (v. 8) God’s people should produce “every kind of” (GNT, NCV; cf. AMP) goodness, righteousness and truth. In saying this, Paul may have had in mind that living as such is enlightening to others who are still in spiritual darkness (cf. vv. 13-16).

✦ We are also to be “the salt of the earth”:

Matt 5:13 You are the salt of the earth, but if salt has lost its taste, how shall its saltiness be restored? It is no longer good for anything except to be thrown out and trampled under people’s feet. 📖

As a result of this illustration, various uses of salt have been applied to believers. These include: adding flavor and fullness to people’s lives; acting as a preservative of society; creating a thirst for matters of the kingdom; and aiding spiritual healing.

Insights regarding spreading the gospel

- l. General [God’s plans for his people], p. 956
- c) God and the Gospel’s Effectiveness, p. 1770

John 4:36-38 Already the one who reaps is receiving wages and gathering fruit for eternal life, so that sower and reaper may rejoice together. ³⁷*For here the saying holds true, ‘One sows and another reaps.’* ³⁸*I sent you to reap that for which you did not labor. Others have labored, and you have entered into their labor.* 📖

Here Jesus refers to the disciples harvesting souls for eternal life. “Others” (v. 38) may refer to the prophets including John the Baptist and possibly Jesus himself. These others had done the preparatory work for the kingdom and the gospel, and the time was now right – and still is today – to harvest the benefits of their work. Jesus’ words may also enunciate a principle which is often seen with the spread of the gospel: some people sow or tell the message, often without any apparent response – while later others, following on from this previous work, lead many to respond.

Rom 10:15 And how are they to preach unless they are sent? As it is written, “How beautiful are the feet of those who preach the good news!” 📖

Here Paul applies part of Isaiah 52:7 to the spreading of the gospel. One implication of this application is that spreading the good news is a beautiful thing to do.

2Cor 2:14-16 But thanks be to God, who in Christ always leads us in triumphal procession, and through us spreads the fragrance of the knowledge of him everywhere. ¹⁵*For we are the aroma of Christ to God among those who are being saved and among those who are perishing,* ¹⁶*to one a fragrance from death to death, to the other a fragrance from life to life. Who is sufficient^a for these things?* 📖

^a Or competent

The “triumphal procession” (v. 14) alludes to Roman triumphs, where a victorious general would lead his soldiers and captives in a parade, accompanied by the fragrance of incenses. Similarly, God triumphantly leads believers in Christ, and through them spreads the fragrance of the message of Christ (v. 14). By spreading the gospel they are pleasing to God as the aroma of Christ (v. 15), an allusion to burnt offerings which were “a pleasing aroma to the LORD” (Lev 1:9 et al.). Also by spreading the gospel, they signify either death or life to people (v. 16) – depending on each hearer’s response. This passage ends with Paul implying what an awesome task spreading the gospel is, by asking who is “capable of such a task?” (GNT) The suggestion is that no one is in themselves, with Paul saying soon afterwards that his competency comes from God (cf. 3:5-6).

2Cor 4:13-14 Since we have the same spirit of faith according to what has been written, "I believed, and so I spoke," we also believe, and so we also speak, ¹⁴knowing that he who raised the Lord Jesus will raise us also with Jesus and bring us with you into his presence.

Paul's faith and belief in God – including his confidence that God would raise himself and others from death (v. 14) – motivated Paul to pursue his work of telling others the gospel. Note that Paul's strong faith may also be evident as motivating him to spread the gospel in 1 Thessalonians 1:5, where Paul refers to how he told the gospel "with full conviction".

1Thes 1:4-5 For we know, brothers^v loved by God, that he has chosen you, ⁵because our gospel came to you not only in word, but also in power and in the Holy Spirit and with full conviction. You know what kind of men we proved to be among you for your sake.

^v Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated "brothers") refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God's family, the church

Eph 3:7 Of this gospel I was made a minister according to the gift of God's grace, which was given me by the working of his power.

This points out that it is only by grace that believers have the privilege of being ministers of the gospel message.

Those who spread the gospel will be blessed

Mark 8:35 For whoever would save his life^w will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake and the gospel's will save it.

^wThe same Greek word can mean either soul or life, depending on the context; twice in this verse and once in verse 36 and once in verse 37

The phrase "loses his life" probably does not refer specifically to dying physically – although that is encompassed – but rather to no longer living one's life for oneself (cf. v. 34). Those who effectively forgo their lives, living primarily for Jesus Christ and the gospel, will save their lives for eternity.

John 4:36 Already the one who reaps is receiving wages and gathering fruit for eternal life, so that sower and reaper may rejoice together.

The phrase "receiving wages" may be a general reference to blessings given to those who reap souls for eternal life, blessings shared in by those who sow. Alternatively it could refer in particular to: the subsequently mentioned harvesting ("gathering fruit for eternal life") itself as a reward; and/or the harvesting rewarding him and the sower with the joy referred to later in the verse.

1Cor 9:23 I do it all for the sake of the gospel, that I may share with them in its blessings.

Philem 1:6 ... and I pray that the sharing of your faith may become effective for the full knowledge of every good thing that is in us for the sake of Christ.^x

^x Or for Christ's service

If the phrase "the sharing of your faith" is speaking of sharing the gospel with non-believers (cf. NIV), then this verse indicates that doing so hones our understanding of all the blessings we have in Christ and leads us into a deeper experience of many of them. For further comment on the meaning of "the sharing of your faith", see Further reasons, p. 1059.

Dan 12:3 And those who are wise shall shine like the brightness of the sky above;^y and those who turn many to righteousness, like the stars forever and ever.

^y Hebrew the expanse; compare Genesis 1:6-8

Although spreading the gospel is not being specifically referred to here, it is comparable to leading others to righteousness, and so the promise of such everlasting glory is applicable.

Whoever who wins souls is wise:

Prov 11:30 The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life, and whoever captures souls is wise.

This is speaking more of leading others "to do what is right" (NIV®; cf. CEV, NCV) rather than "winning souls" with the gospel message; in fact the Hebrew itself is not clear, and some translations give a very different rendering. Nevertheless, with the sense given here in the ESV and by some other translations, it can be applied to the spreading of the gospel (cf. AMP).

The gospel has spread far and wide

Acts 11:19-20 Now those who were scattered because of the persecution that arose over Stephen traveled as far as Phoenicia and Cyprus and Antioch, speaking the word to no one except Jews. ²⁰*But there were some of them, men of Cyprus and Cyrene, who on coming to Antioch spoke to the Hellenists^z also, preaching the Lord Jesus.*

^z Or Greeks (that is, Greek-speaking non-Jews)

Acts 12:24 But the word of God increased and multiplied.

The phrase “increased and multiplied” refers to the notable spread of the gospel (cf. AMP, CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV, NLT).

Acts 13:49 And the word of the Lord was spreading throughout the whole region.

Acts 19:9-10 But when some became stubborn and continued in unbelief, speaking evil of the Way before the congregation, he withdrew from them and took the disciples with him, reasoning daily in the hall of Tyrannus.^a ¹⁰This continued for two years, so that all the residents of Asia heard the word of the Lord, both Jews and Greeks.

^a Some manuscripts add from the fifth hour to the tenth (that is, from 11 A.M. to 4 P.M.)

Acts 19:20 So the word of the Lord continued to increase and prevail mightily.

The use of “increase” likely refers to the spread and increasing influence of the gospel. The phrase “prevail mightily” would appear to refer to the gospel overcoming forces – human and spiritual – that opposed it as it spread.

Rom 10:18 But I ask, have they not heard? Indeed they have, for “Their voice has gone out to all the earth, and their words to the ends of the world.”

The quotation from Psalm 19:4, originally referring to the heavens and the skies, is applied to those spreading the gospel. It is used here to illustrate that the Jewish people had indeed heard the gospel.

2Cor 4:15 For it is all for your sake, so that as grace extends to more and more people it may increase thanksgiving, to the glory of God.

Col 1:5b-6 Of this you have heard before in the word of the truth, the gospel, ⁶*which has come to you, as indeed in the whole world it is bearing fruit and growing*—as it also does among you, since the day you heard it and understood the grace of God in truth, ...

The “whole world” is either hyperbole or referring to the world Paul knew, in which the gospel was spreading throughout. However today, two thousand years later, the phrase is very much applicable in a literal sense.

Col 1:23 ... if indeed you continue in the faith, stable and steadfast, not shifting from the hope of the gospel that you heard, which has been proclaimed in all creation^b under heaven, and of which I, Paul, became a minister.

^b Or to every creature

The phrase “all creation under heaven” would appear to be hyperbole, but indicative of the great spread of the gospel.

1Tim 3:16 Great indeed, we confess, is the mystery of godliness: He^c was manifested in the flesh, vindicated^d by the Spirit,^e seen by angels, proclaimed among the nations, believed on in the world, taken up in glory.

^c Greek Who; some manuscripts God; others Which

^d Or justified

^e Or vindicated in spirit

The gospel will be preached to all nations before the end

Matt 24:14 And this gospel of the kingdom will be proclaimed throughout the whole world as a testimony to all nations, and then the end will come.

Mark 13:10 And the gospel must first be proclaimed to all nations.

Note that this is from the parallel passage in Mark to that which Matthew 24:14 above comes, in which Jesus speaks of the signs or events that will precede the end of the age.

Matt 28:19-20 Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in^f the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, ²⁰*teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you. And behold, I am with you always, to the end of the age.*

^f Or into

This indicates that believers are to “make disciples of all nations” (v. 19), teaching them to obey all Jesus taught (v. 20a). It suggests that this will occur – or at least that they are expected to accomplish this – before “the end of the age” (v. 20b).

Luke 3:6 ... and all flesh shall see the salvation of God.

Quite possibly this is saying that God’s message of salvation will be made known to all peoples/nations.

Acts 1:7-8 He said to them, “It is not for you to know times or seasons that the Father has fixed by his own authority. ⁸But you will receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you, and you will be my witnesses in Jerusalem and in all Judea and Samaria, and to the end of the earth.”

Believers are not to be concerned about the times and dates of events of the end of the age (v. 7; cf. v. 6). They should instead concern themselves with their witness to all nations – “to the ends of the earth” (v. 8) – which is to be undertaken in the lead up to the events of the end.

Rev 14:6-7 Then I saw another angel flying directly overhead, with an eternal gospel to proclaim to those who dwell on earth, to every nation and tribe and language and people. ⁷And he said with a loud voice, “Fear God and give him glory, because the hour of his judgment has come, and worship him who made heaven and earth, the sea and the springs of water.”

The gospel message proclaimed here offers hope of being spared from God’s judgment (v. 7) – the final judgment and/or judgments preceding the end of the age. As such these verses reflect that the gospel will be proclaimed to all nations (v. 6) before the end.

✚ God’s glory proclaimed among the nations in the end times:

Isa 66:19 ... and I will set a sign among them. And from them I will send survivors to the nations, to Tarshish, Pul, and Lud, who draw the bow, to Tubal and Javan, to the coastlands far away, that have not heard my fame or seen my glory. And they shall declare my glory among the nations.

A number of commentators think that “survivors” refers to a remnant of faithful Jews who survive God’s judgment in the end times (cf. vv. 15-18), although arguably survivors from the Gentile nations are in view.

The New Testament contains numerous warnings and exhortations to be faithful to God and to hold to the Christian faith. It is every Christian's constant challenge to do so. We need to stand firm, until the end – while ever watching for Jesus Christ's return and the fulfillment of our hope.

Be faithful to God and Jesus Christ

1Ki 2:4 ... that the LORD may establish his word that he spoke concerning me, saying, 'If your sons pay close attention to their way, to walk before me in faithfulness with all their heart and with all their soul, you shall not lack^a a man on the throne of Israel.'

^a Hebrew there shall not be cut off for you

1Ki 8:61 Let your heart therefore be wholly true to the LORD our God, walking in his statutes and keeping his commandments, as at this day.

1Ki 15:14 But the high places were not taken away. Nevertheless, the heart of Asa was wholly true to the LORD all his days.

2Ki 20:3a [Hezekiah:] "Now, O LORD, please remember how I have walked before you in faithfulness and with a whole heart, and have done what is good in your sight."

Neh 9:8 You found his [Abraham's] heart faithful before you, and made with him the covenant to give to his offspring the land of the Canaanite, the Hittite, the Amorite, the Perizzite, the Jebusite, and the Girgashite. And you have kept your promise, for you are righteous.

Acts 11:23 When he came and saw the grace of God, he was glad, and he exhorted them all to remain faithful to the Lord with steadfast purpose, ...

1Cor 4:17 That is why I sent^b you Timothy, my beloved and faithful child in the Lord, to remind you of my ways in Christ,^c as I teach them everywhere in every church.

^b Or am sending

^c Some manuscripts add Jesus

We are to be faithful in living a life in accordance with being in the Lord (cf. Eph 1:1 ↓), doing what pleases him.

Eph 1:1 Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus by the will of God, To the saints who are in Ephesus, and are faithful^d in Christ Jesus: ...

^d Some manuscripts saints who are also faithful (omitting in Ephesus)

3Jn 1:3 For I rejoiced greatly when the brothers^e came and testified to your truth, as indeed you are walking in the truth.

^e Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated "brothers") refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God's family, the church; also verses 5, 10

The phrase "your truth" refers to their integrity and "faithfulness to the truth" (NIV®, NRSV; cf. GNT), as per their life of "walking in the truth".

✚ God's faithful people are still accountable to him:

Ps 50:4-5 He calls to the heavens above and to the earth, that he may judge his people: ⁵*"Gather to me my faithful ones, who made a covenant with me by sacrifice!"*

God judged his people according to his covenant with them, reflected in this psalm by his implied criticism and exhortations to the people in general (cf. vv. 7-15); and his stinging attack and threat of destruction to the wicked amongst them (cf. vv. 16-23).

Hold fast to God and his ways

To “hold fast” to God essentially means to be faithful or remain true to him.

Deut 10:20 You shall fear the LORD your God. You shall serve him and hold fast to him, and by his name you shall swear.

Deut 11:22-23 For if you will be careful to do all this commandment that I command you to do, loving the LORD your God, walking in all his ways, and holding fast to him, ²³then the LORD will drive out all these nations before you, and you will dispossess nations greater and mightier than yourselves.

Deut 30:20 ... loving the LORD your God, obeying his voice and holding fast to him, for he is your life and length of days, that you may dwell in the land that the LORD swore to your fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, to give them.

Josh 23:8 ... but you shall cling to the LORD your God just as you have done to this day.

2Ki 18:6 For he held fast to the LORD. He did not depart from following him, but kept the commandments that the LORD commanded Moses.

Psa 119:31 I cling to your testimonies, O LORD; let me not be put to shame!

Job 17:9 Yet the righteous holds to his way, and he who has clean hands grows stronger and stronger.

The ways of the righteous are God’s ways. As such the righteous hold to God’s ways.

Serve God and Jesus Christ faithfully . . .

Josh 24:14 Now therefore fear the LORD and serve him in sincerity and in faithfulness. Put away the gods that your fathers served beyond the River and in Egypt, and serve the LORD.

1Sam 12:24 Only fear the LORD and serve him faithfully with all your heart. For consider what great things he has done for you.

Matt 24:45 Who then is the faithful and wise servant,^f whom his master has set over his household, to give them their food at the proper time?

^f Greek bondservant; also verses 46, 48, 50

1Cor 4:1-2 This is how one should regard us, as servants of Christ and stewards of the mysteries of God. ²Moreover, it is required of stewards that they be found trustworthy.

Paul realized that in serving Christ he was required to be found trustworthy – “prove faithful” (NIV®) – in handling that of which he had been made a steward or trustee (cf. AMP), which was the mysteries of the gospel of God.

1Tim 1:12 I thank him who has given me strength, Christ Jesus our Lord, because he judged me faithful, appointing me to his service, ...

1Sam 2:35 And I will raise up for myself a faithful priest, who shall do according to what is in my heart and in my mind. And I will build him a sure house, and he shall go in and out before my anointed forever.

1Pet 4:10 As each has received a gift, use it to serve one another, as good stewards of God’s varied grace: ...

We should be “faithful stewards” (AMP), “faithfully administering” (NIV®) whatever gift that God in his grace has given us for serving him and others.

2Chr 29:11 My sons, do not now be negligent, for the LORD has chosen you to stand in his presence, to minister to him and to be his ministers and make offerings to him.

To serve God faithfully we must not be negligent.

. . . Examples of faithful service

2Chr 31:12, 15, 18 And they faithfully brought in the contributions, the tithes, and the dedicated things. The chief officer in charge of them was Conaniah the Levite, with Shimei his brother as second, ... ¹⁵Eden, Miniamin, Jeshua, Shemaiah, Amariah, and Shecaniah were faithfully assisting him in the cities of the priests, to distribute the portions to their brothers, old and young alike, by divisions, ... ¹⁸They were enrolled with all their little children, their wives, their sons, and their daughters, the whole assembly, for they were faithful in keeping themselves holy.

Verse 12 appears to be speaking of the priests (cf. NCV) and/or Levites faithfully handling what the people had earlier given (cf. vv. 5-8). Verse 18b indicates that the priests were also faithful in preparing themselves or keeping themselves ready (cf. NCV) for the work.

2Chr 31:20 Thus Hezekiah did throughout all Judah, and he did what was good and right and faithful before the LORD his God.

Hezekiah's faithful service is mentioned again at the start of the following chapter – "After these things and these acts of faithfulness ..." (32:1a).

2Chr 34:12a And the men did the work faithfully.

The reference is to work in repairing the temple.

Eph 6:21 So that you also may know how I am and what I am doing, Tychicus the beloved brother and faithful minister in the Lord will tell you everything.

Col 1:7 ... just as you learned it from Epaphras our beloved fellow servant.^g He is a faithful minister of Christ on your^h behalf ...

^g Greek fellow bondservant

^h Some manuscripts our

Heb 3:1-2, 5 Therefore, holy brothers,¹ you who share in a heavenly calling, consider Jesus, the apostle and high priest of our confession, ²who was faithful to him who appointed him, just as Moses also was faithful in all God's^j house.  ...
⁵*Now Moses was faithful in all God's house as a servant, to testify to the things that were to be spoken later, ...*

¹ Or brothers and sisters; also verse 12

^j Greek his; also verses 5, 6

3Jn 1:5 Beloved, it is a faithful thing you do in all your efforts for these brothers, strangers as they are, ...

The phrase "a faithful thing" is most likely speaking of faithfulness to the Lord, although it could be referring to faithfulness to the "brothers" (which in itself is ultimately faithfulness to the Lord).

1Ki 22:13-14 And the messenger who went to summon Micaiah said to him, "Behold, the words of the prophets with one accord are favorable to the king. Let your word be like the word of one of them, and speak favorably."¹⁴*But Micaiah said, "As the LORD lives, what the LORD says to me, that I will speak."*

The prophet Micaiah was put under pressure to conform (v. 13), which would have required him to make up a false prophecy. Instead he resolved to faithfully only say what God told him (v. 14).

Jer 17:15-16 Behold, they say to me, "Where is the word of the LORD? Let it come!"¹⁶*I have not run away from being your shepherd, nor have I desired the day of sickness. You know what came out of my lips; it was before your face.*

Despite the difficulties he faced from the people (v. 15), Jeremiah did not try to escape being God's shepherd to his people (v. 16) – nor did he long for the day of God's judgment and their despair.

Ezek 44:15 But the Levitical priests, the sons of Zadok, who kept the charge of my sanctuary when the people of Israel went astray from me, shall come near to me to minister to me. And they shall stand before me to offer me the fat and the blood, declares the Lord GOD.

✦ Balaam's stated intention to do and say only what God wanted:

Num 22:18, 38 But Balaam answered and said to the servants of Balak, "Though Balak were to give me his house full of silver and gold, I could not go beyond the command of the LORD my God to do less or more.  ...³⁸*Balaam said to Balak, "Behold, I have come to you! Have I now any power of my own to speak anything? The word that God puts in my mouth, that must I speak."*

Do not be unfaithful to God by not keeping his commands

Ps 119:158 I look at the faithless with disgust, because they do not keep your commands.

Ps 78:8-10, 36-37 ... and that they should not be like their fathers, a stubborn and rebellious generation, a generation whose heart was not steadfast, whose spirit was not faithful to God. ⁹*The Ephraimites, armed with^k the bow, turned back on the day of battle.* ¹⁰*They did not keep God's covenant, but refused to walk according to his law.*  ...³⁶*But they flattered him with their mouths; they lied to him with their tongues.* ³⁷*Their heart was not steadfast toward him; they were not faithful to his covenant.*

^k Hebrew armed and shooting

1Chr 10:13 So Saul died for his breach of faith. He broke faith with the LORD in that he did not keep the command of the LORD, and also consulted a medium, seeking guidance.

Hos 6:7 But like Adam they transgressed the covenant; there they dealt faithlessly with me.

Israel broke their covenant with God by acting contrary to God's commands (cf. vv. 8-10). As such they were unfaithful to God.

Num 5:5-6 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, “Speak to the people of Israel, When a man or woman commits any of the sins that people commit by breaking faith with the LORD, and that person realizes his guilt, ...

To commit sin obviously involves breaking God's commands; in doing so one is “breaking faith with” God, being unfaithful to him.

1Ki 15:3 And he walked in all the sins that his father did before him, and his heart was not wholly true to the LORD his God, as the heart of David his father.

Ezra 10:2 And Shecaniah the son of Jehiel, of the sons of Elam, addressed Ezra: “We have broken faith with our God and have married foreign women from the peoples of the land, but even now there is hope for Israel in spite of this.

Isa 1:21 How the faithful city has become a whore,¹ she who was full of justice! Righteousness lodged in her, but now murderers.

Do not forsake God

- Do not have other “gods” or idols, p. 1822

To forsake means to “abandon” or to “turn away from”.

2Chr 29:6 For our fathers have been unfaithful and have done what was evil in the sight of the LORD our God. They have forsaken him and have turned away their faces from the habitation of the LORD and turned their backs.

This verse correlates forsaking God with being unfaithful to him. Note that the next few verses speak of not forsaking God, while the remainder contain examples of people who did forsake God.

Josh 24:16 Then the people answered, “Far be it from us that we should forsake the LORD to serve other gods, ...

2Chr 13:10a But as for us, the LORD is our God, and we have not forsaken him.

Ps 18:21 For I have kept the ways of the LORD, and have not wickedly departed from my God.

Heb 3:12 Take care, brothers, lest there be in any of you an evil, unbelieving heart, leading you to fall away from the living God.

Deut 32:15 But Jeshurun grew fat, and kicked; you grew fat, stout, and sleek; then he forsook God who made him and scoffed at the Rock of his salvation.

Judg 10:10 And the people of Israel cried out to the LORD, saying, “We have sinned against you, because we have forsaken our God and have served the Baals.”

Isa 1:4 Ah, sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity, offspring of evildoers, children who deal corruptly! They have forsaken the LORD, they have despised the Holy One of Israel, they are utterly estranged.

Rev 2:4 But I have this against you, that you have abandoned the love you had at first.

The love they had at first is most likely referring to their initial love for God or Jesus Christ (cf. GNT), but could also be inclusive of love for each other (cf. NLT).

‡ Do not be false to God by trusting or worshipping other things:

Job 31:24-28 If I have made gold my trust or called fine gold my confidence, ²⁵if I have rejoiced because my wealth was abundant or because my hand had found much, ²⁶if I have looked at the sun^m when it shone, or the moon moving in splendor, ²⁷and my heart has been secretly enticed, and my mouth has kissed my hand, ²⁸this also would be an iniquity to be punished by the judges, for I would have been false to God above.

God and Jesus Christ protect and bless those who are faithful to them

Ps 31:23 Love the LORD, all you his saints! The LORD preserves the faithful but abundantly repays the one who acts in pride.

Isa 26:1-2 In that day this song will be sung in the land of Judah: “We have a strong city; he sets up salvation as walls and bulwarks. ²Open the gates, that the righteous nation that keeps faith may enter in.

God protects and saves those who keep faith.

Ezek 18:9 ... walks in my statutes, and keeps my rules by acting faithfully—he is righteous; he shall surely live, declares the Lord GOD.

In conjunction with protecting those who are faithful to him, God decrees that they will live – an OT theme with strong spiritual parallels in the NT. Note that the following verses speak of God and Jesus Christ blessing those who are faithful to them.

1Ki 3:6 And Solomon said, “You have shown great and steadfast love to your servant David my father, because he walked before you in faithfulness, in righteousness, and in uprightness of heart toward you. And you have kept for him this great and steadfast love and have given him a son to sit on his throne this day.”

1Sam 26:23 The LORD rewards every man for his righteousness and his faithfulness, for the LORD gave you into my hand today, and I would not put out my hand against the LORD’s anointed.

Neh 9:8 You found his heart faithful before you, and made with him the covenant to give to his offspring the land of the Canaanite, the Hittite, the Amorite, the Perizzite, the Jebusite, and the Girgashite. And you have kept your promise, for you are righteous.

Matt 24:45-47 Who then is the faithful and wise servant,ⁿ whom his master has set over his household, to give them their food at the proper time? ⁴⁶Blessed is that servant whom his master will find so doing when he comes. ⁴⁷Truly, I say to you, he will set him over all his possessions.

ⁿ Greek bondservant; also verses 46, 48, 50

This and 25:21 below speak of the blessings – in particular authority – granted to faithful servants of Jesus Christ on his return.

Matt 25:21 His master said to him, ‘Well done, good and faithful servant.^o You have been faithful over a little; I will set you over much. Enter into the joy of your master.’

^o Greek bondservant; also verses 23, 26, 30

Rev 17:14 They will make war on the Lamb, and the Lamb will conquer them, for he is Lord of lords and King of kings, and those with him are called and chosen and faithful.

This appears to anticipate Jesus Christ’s second coming and his final victory (cf. Rev 19:11-21). Thus it would then appear to indicate that he will be accompanied by his faithful followers, who will then share in his triumph.

Prov 14:14 The backslider in heart will be filled with the fruit of his ways, and a good man will be filled with the fruit of his ways.

The phrase “backslider in heart” has in view faithlessness to God (cf. AMP, NASB, NKJV, NLT). The verse may not be meaning that God punishes them, but rather that they reap the natural consequences of their ways.

Jer 5:10-11 Go up through her vine rows and destroy, but make not a full end; strip away her branches, for they are not the LORD’s. ¹¹*For the house of Israel and the house of Judah have been utterly treacherous to me, declares the LORD.*

Ezek 15:8 And I will make the land desolate, because they have acted faithlessly, declares the Lord GOD.

Ezek 39:23 And the nations shall know that the house of Israel went into captivity for their iniquity, because they dealt so treacherously with me that I hid my face from them and gave them into the hand of their adversaries, and they all fell by the sword.

1 Chronicles 28:9b makes a similar point: “If you seek him, he will be found by you, but if you forsake him, he will cast you off forever.”

Ensure you remember God

Deut 6:10-12 And when the LORD your God brings you into the land that he swore to your fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, to give you—with great and good cities that you did not build, ¹¹and houses full of all good things that you did not fill, and cisterns that you did not dig, and vineyards and olive trees that you did not plant—and when you eat and are full, ¹²then take care lest you forget the LORD, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery.

Deut 8:11-14, 17-18 *Take care lest you forget the LORD your God by not keeping his commandments and his rules and his statutes, which I command you today, ¹²lest, when you have eaten and are full and have built good houses and live in them, ¹³and when your herds and flocks multiply and your silver and gold is multiplied and all that you have is multiplied, ¹⁴then your heart be lifted up, and you forget the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery,  ... ¹⁷Beware lest you say in your heart, ‘My power and the might of my hand have gotten me this wealth.’ ¹⁸You shall remember the LORD your God, for it is he who gives you power to get wealth, that he may confirm his covenant that he swore to your fathers, as it is this day. *

Ps 63:6 ... when I remember you upon my bed, and meditate on you in the watches of the night; ...

Ecc 12:1 *Remember also your Creator in the days of your youth, before the evil days come and the years draw near of which you will say, “I have no pleasure in them”; ... *

One should remember God before the troubles of old age come (cf. vv. 2-5) and before death (cf. vv. 6-7). Continuing to remember him before such times enables one to be prepared for them – as well as to be productive for him during the best of one’s years.

Deut 4:9-13 *Only take care, and keep your soul diligently, lest you forget the things that your eyes have seen, and lest they depart from your heart all the days of your life. Make them known to your children and your children’s children—¹⁰how on the day that you stood before the LORD your God at Horeb, the LORD said to me, ‘Gather the people to me, that I may let them hear my words, so that they may learn to fear me all the days that they live on the earth, and that they may teach their children so.’ ¹¹And you came near and stood at the foot of the mountain, while the mountain burned with fire to the heart of heaven, wrapped in darkness, cloud, and gloom. ¹²Then the LORD spoke to you out of the midst of the fire. You heard the sound of words, but saw no form; there was only a voice. ¹³And he declared to you his covenant, which he commanded you to perform, that is, the Ten Commandments,⁹ and he wrote them on two tablets of stone. *

⁹ Hebrew words

The people were to remember the manifestation of God they had witnessed (vv. 10-11) – including the fact that they saw no form (v. 12b) – and also the commandments that he gave (v. 13; cf. v. 10b).

Jer 2:32 *Can a virgin forget her ornaments, or a bride her attire? Yet my people have forgotten me days without number. *

Note that the final phrase appears to speak of God’s people having forgotten him for more days than could be counted (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NirV, NLT).

Jer 18:13-15 *Therefore thus says the LORD: Ask among the nations, Who has heard the like of this? The virgin Israel has done a very horrible thing. ¹⁴Does the snow of Lebanon leave the crags of Sirion?^r Do the mountain waters run dry,^s the cold flowing streams? ¹⁵But my people have forgotten me; they make offerings to false gods; they made them stumble in their ways, in the ancient roads, and to walk into side roads, not the highway, ... *

^r Hebrew of the field

^s Hebrew Are foreign waters plucked up

That Israel could forget God was: unparalleled (v. 13a); a “very horrible thing” (v. 13b); and both unnatural and extraordinary (v. 14).

This speaks of blessings from God that his people have experienced and continued to experience.

Isa 46:8-10 *Remember this and stand firm, recall it to mind, you transgressors, ⁹remember the former things of old; for I am God, and there is no other; I am God, and there is none like me, ¹⁰declaring the end from the beginning and from ancient times things not yet done, saying, ‘My counsel shall stand, and I will accomplish all my purpose,’ *

We must remember the things God has done – including the fact that he makes known things of the future, things by which he accomplishes his purposes (v. 10). Accordingly we should remember that he alone is God (v. 9).

Mic 6:5 O my people, remember what Balak king of Moab devised, and what Balaam the son of Beor answered him, and what happened from Shittim to Gilgal, that you may know the saving acts of the LORD.

Here the people are exhorted to remember the saving acts that God had done for them: by causing Balaam to bless Israel rather than curse her as Balak had wanted; and in their journey from Shittim to Gilgal, which featured the miraculous crossing of the Jordan River in which God stopped its waters from flowing.

Ex 13:3-10, 14-16 Then Moses said to the people, “Remember this day in which you came out from Egypt, out of the house of slavery, for by a strong hand the LORD brought you out from this place. No leavened bread shall be eaten. ⁴Today, in the month of Abib, you are going out. ⁵And when the LORD brings you into the land of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Amorites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites, which he swore to your fathers to give you, a land flowing with milk and honey, you shall keep this service in this month. ⁶Seven days you shall eat unleavened bread, and on the seventh day there shall be a feast to the LORD. ⁷Unleavened bread shall be eaten for seven days; no leavened bread shall be seen with you, and no leaven shall be seen with you in all your territory. ⁸You shall tell your son on that day, ‘It is because of what the LORD did for me when I came out of Egypt.’ ⁹And it shall be to you as a sign on your hand and as a memorial between your eyes, that the law of the LORD may be in your mouth. For with a strong hand the LORD has brought you out of Egypt. ¹⁰You shall therefore keep this statute at its appointed time from year to year.  ... ¹⁴And when in time to come your son asks you, ‘What does this mean?’ you shall say to him, ‘By a strong hand the LORD brought us out of Egypt, from the house of slavery. ¹⁵For when Pharaoh stubbornly refused to let us go, the LORD killed all the firstborn in the land of Egypt, both the firstborn of man and the firstborn of animals. Therefore I sacrifice to the LORD all the males that first open the womb, but all the firstborn of my sons I redeem.’ ¹⁶It shall be as a mark on your hand or frontlets between your eyes, for by a strong hand the LORD brought us out of Egypt.”

Such observances and practices were to ensure that the Israelites would not forget what God had done for them in delivering them out of Egypt. Likewise memorials such as mentioned in Joshua 4:4-7 below also served to remind the people of what God had done for them.

Josh 4:4-7 Then Joshua called the twelve men from the people of Israel, whom he had appointed, a man from each tribe. ⁵And Joshua said to them, “Pass on before the ark of the LORD your God into the midst of the Jordan, and take up each of you a stone upon his shoulder, according to the number of the tribes of the people of Israel, ⁶that this may be a sign among you. When your children ask in time to come, ‘What do those stones mean to you?’ ⁷then you shall tell them that the waters of the Jordan were cut off before the ark of the covenant of the LORD. When it passed over the Jordan, the waters of the Jordan were cut off. So these stones shall be to the people of Israel a memorial forever.”

Neh 9:17a They refused to obey and were not mindful of the wonders that you performed among them, but they stiffened their neck and appointed a leader to return to their slavery in Egypt.

Failure to remember what God has done is effectively condemned here and in the verses below.

Ps 78:42-43 They did not remember his power^t or the day when he redeemed them from the foe, ⁴³when he performed his signs in Egypt and his marvels in the fields of Zoan.

Ps 106:7 Our fathers, when they were in Egypt, did not consider your wondrous works; they did not remember the abundance of your steadfast love, but rebelled by the sea, at the Red Sea.

The tassels were simple, constant reminders to remember and obey God’s commands. As well as being visual reminders (v. 39), the wearer may have also been aware of their movement as he or she walked along.

Note that in v. 93b the psalmist appears to be speaking of the strength and meaning he found in God's word during his affliction.

Prov 3:1 My son, do not forget my teaching, but let your heart keep my commandments, ...

Here and in 4:5 below the godly teacher exhorts his son not to forget his instructions, instructions which are in accordance with God's laws.

Prov 4:5 Get wisdom; get insight; do not forget, and do not turn away from the words of my mouth.

James 1:23-25 For if anyone is a hearer of the word and not a doer, he is like a man who looks intently at his natural face in a mirror. ²⁴For he looks at himself and goes away and at once forgets what he was like. ²⁵But the one who looks into the perfect law, the law of liberty, and perseveres, being no hearer who forgets but a doer who acts, he will be blessed in his doing.

2Pet 3:2 ... that you should remember the predictions of the holy prophets and the commandment of the Lord and Savior through your apostles, ...

The "command of the Lord and Savior" probably refers to Jesus' teachings as a whole, although some commentators think that the command to love one another may be primarily in view.

Persistently meditate on God's word and commands . . .

Josh 1:8 This Book of the Law shall not depart from your mouth, but you shall meditate on it day and night, so that you may be careful to do according to all that is written in it. For then you will make your way prosperous, and then you will have good success.

It is my meditation all the day.  ... ¹⁴⁸My eyes are awake before the watches of the night, that I may meditate on your promise.

^x Or all the just decrees

In v. 13, "declare" may have in view reciting God's laws (cf. GNT, NLT), in conjunction with meditating on them – hence the verse's inclusion. However, declaring them to others is arguably more likely in view. In v. 15, "your ways" are "the paths of life marked out by Your law" (AMP).

2Tim 2:7 Think over what I say, for the Lord will give you understanding in everything.

Paul's letters are a part of God's word. Thus this amounts to a direction to think carefully about God's word. This is an important aspect of meditating on it.

God's commands are to be on the hearts of his people (v. 6). As such his people should take steps to keep his commands in their thoughts (vv. 7-9). The instructions in vv. 8-9 were probably figuratively underlining the need to keep the God's commands in one's thoughts (cf. Prov 7:1-3 My son, keep my words and treasure up my commandments with you; ²keep my commandments and live; keep my teaching as the apple of your eye; ³bind them on your fingers; write them on the tablet of your heart.

Jer 15:16 Your words were found, and I ate them, and your words became to me a joy and the delight of my heart, for I am called by your name, O LORD, God of hosts.

In saying that he “ate” God's words, Jeremiah indicates that he absorbed them, one result of which was that they became a joy and his heart's delight.

Col 3:16 Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly, teaching and admonishing one another in all wisdom, singing psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, with thankfulness in your hearts to God.

Like the psalms, presumably the hymns and spiritual songs contained extracts from or reflections on God's word. The thought then behind the exhortation to sing “psalms and hymns and spiritual songs” may be – in part at least – that this was a further way of ensuring that God's word dwelt within them.

✦ God's promise to put his law in the hearts of his people:

Jer 31:33 But this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, declares the LORD: I will put my law within them, and I will write it on their hearts. And I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

Note: Forgetting God has dreadful consequences

Deut 8:19 And if you forget the LORD your God and go after other gods and serve them and worship them, I solemnly warn you today that you shall surely perish.

Deut 32:18-19 You were unmindful of the Rock that bore^y you, and you forgot the God who gave you birth. ¹⁹“The LORD saw it and spurned them, because of the provocation of his sons and his daughters.

^y Or fathered

Verse 19 probably has primarily in view the unfaithfulness and idolatry mentioned in the preceding verses (cf. vv. 15-17). Forgetting God went hand in hand with this betrayal and so was part of the reason for the consequences.

Job 8:11-13 Can papyrus grow where there is no marsh? Can reeds flourish where there is no water? ¹²While yet in flower and not cut down, they wither before any other plant. ¹³Such are the paths of all who forget God; the hope of the godless shall perish.

Ps 9:17 The wicked shall return to Sheol, all the nations that forget God.

Ps 50:22 Mark this, then, you who forget God, lest I tear you apart, and there be none to deliver! 📖

The implication is that God will destroy those who forget him.

Ps 106:13-15, 20-23 But they soon forgot his works; they did not wait for his counsel. ¹⁴But they had a wanton craving in the wilderness, and put God to the test in the desert; ¹⁵he gave them what they asked, but sent a wasting disease among them. 📖 ... ²⁰They exchanged the glory of God for the image of an ox that eats grass. ²¹*They forgot God, their Savior, who had done great things in Egypt,* ²²*wondrous works in the land of Ham, and awesome deeds by the Red Sea.* ²³*Therefore he said he would destroy them—* had not Moses, his chosen one, stood in the breach before him, to turn away his wrath from destroying them. 📖

Forgetting God results in rebellion (vv. 13-15, 20-22) – which brings fearful consequences (vv. 15, 23).

Isa 17:10-11 For you have forgotten the God of your salvation and have not remembered the Rock of your refuge; therefore, though you plant pleasant plants and sow the vine-branch of a stranger, ¹¹though you make them grow^z on the day that you plant them, and make them blossom in the morning that you sow, yet the harvest will flee away^a in a day of grief and incurable pain. 📖

^z Or though you carefully fence them

^a Or will be a heap

Isa 51:12-13 I, I am he who comforts you; who are you that you are afraid of man who dies, of the son of man who is made like grass, ¹³and have forgotten the LORD, your Maker, who stretched out the heavens and laid the foundations of the earth, and you fear continually all the day because of the wrath of the oppressor, when he sets himself to destroy? And where is the wrath of the oppressor? 📖

One consequence of forgetting God is living in fear of one's enemies.

Jer 3:21 A voice on the bare heights is heard, the weeping and pleading of Israel's sons because they have perverted their way; they have forgotten the LORD their God. 📖

Quite probably "the weeping and pleading" of the people has in view their anguish amidst suffering dreadful judgment for forgetting God and sinning.

Jer 18:15-17 But my people have forgotten me; they make offerings to false gods; they made them stumble in their ways, in the ancient roads, and to walk into side roads, not the highway, ¹⁶making their land a horror, a thing to be hissed at forever. Everyone who passes by it is horrified and shakes his head. ¹⁷*Like the east wind I will scatter them before the enemy. I will show them my back, not my face, in the day of their calamity.* 📖

Forgetting God is here associated with idolatry and subsequent ungodly ways (v. 15), leading to God's punishment (vv. 16-17).

Ezek 23:35 Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: Because you have forgotten me and cast me behind your back, you yourself must bear the consequences of your lewdness and whoring. 📖

Hos 13:6-8 ... but when they had grazed,^b they became full, they were filled, and their heart was lifted up; therefore they forgot me. ⁷*So I am to them like a lion; like a leopard I will lurk beside the way.* ⁸*I will fall upon them like a bear robbed of her cubs; I will tear open their breast, and there I will devour them like a lion, as a wild beast would rip them open.* 📖

^b Hebrew according to their pasture

‡ Do not forget past sins and the consequences faced:

Deut 9:7-8 Remember and do not forget how you provoked the LORD your God to wrath in the wilderness. From the day you came out of the land of Egypt until you came to this place, you have been rebellious against the LORD. ⁸*Even at Horeb you provoked the LORD to wrath, and the LORD was so angry with you that he was ready to destroy you.* 📖

The body of Christian beliefs is often referred to as “the faith” – e.g. “preaching the faith” (Gal 1:23), “the faith that was once for all entrusted to the saints” (Jude 1:3), and as in a number of the following verses.

Acts 14:21-22 When they had preached the gospel to that city and had made many disciples, they returned to Lystra and to Iconium and to Antioch, ²²strengthening the souls of the disciples, encouraging them to continue in the faith, and saying that through many tribulations we must enter the kingdom of God. 📖

Col 1:22-23 ... he has now reconciled in his body of flesh by his death, in order to present you holy and blameless and above reproach before him, ²³if indeed you continue in the faith, stable and steadfast, not shifting from the hope of the gospel that you heard, which has been proclaimed in all creation^c under heaven, and of which I, Paul, became a minister. 📖

^c Or to every creature

1Tim 2:15 Yet she will be saved through childbearing—if they continue in faith and love and holiness, with self-control. 📖

Continuing in the faith of course involves continuing to have faith – believing in the truths of the faith, along with trusting God.

1Tim 3:9 They must hold the mystery of the faith with a clear conscience. 📖

2Tim 3:14 But as for you, continue in what you have learned and have firmly believed, knowing from whom^d you learned it ... 📖

^d The Greek for whom is plural

2Tim 4:7 I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. 📖

Titus 1:13 This testimony is true. Therefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith, ... 📖

The last clause possibly refers to being “strong in the faith” (NCV™, NLT), although it may instead refer to having a sound understanding of the faith (cf. AMP, Nlrv). The first meaning would be the more relevant one to this subsection.

Heb 3:6, 14 ... but Christ is faithful over God’s house as a son. And we are his house if indeed we hold fast our confidence and our boasting in our hope.^e 📖 ... ¹⁴For we have come to share in Christ, if indeed we hold our original confidence firm to the end. 📖

^e Some manuscripts insert firm to the end

Continuing in the faith involves holding to our confidence in and our hope of the realization of the aspects of the faith that concern the future (cf. Heb 10:23, 35 ↓).

Heb 4:14 Since then we have a great high priest who has passed through the heavens, Jesus, the Son of God, let us hold fast our confession. 📖

Heb 10:23, 35 Let us hold fast the confession of our hope without wavering, for he who promised is faithful. 📖 ... ³⁵Therefore do not throw away your confidence, which has a great reward. 📖

Rev 2:25 Only hold fast what you have until I come. 📖

The expression “what you have” encompasses – or at least is applicable to – such things as the truths of the faith (cf. CEV), personal faith and faithfulness to Christ (cf. NCV).

Gal 5:1 For freedom Christ has set us free; stand firm therefore, and do not submit again to a yoke of slavery. 📖

Paul is speaking of standing firm against incorrect teaching – here the propagation of living under the OT law.

Eph 6:11, 13-18 Put on the whole armor of God, that you may be able to stand against the schemes of the devil. 📖 ...

¹³Therefore take up the whole armor of God, that you may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand firm. ¹⁴Stand therefore, having fastened on the belt of truth, and having put on the breastplate of righteousness, ¹⁵and, as shoes for your feet, having put on the readiness given by the gospel of peace. ¹⁶In all circumstances take up the shield of faith, with which you can extinguish all the flaming darts of the evil one; ¹⁷and take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God, ¹⁸praying at all times in the Spirit, with all prayer and supplication. To that end keep alert with all perseverance, making supplication for all the saints, ...

Phil 1:27-28 Only let your manner of life be worthy^f of the gospel of Christ, so that whether I come and see you or am absent, I may hear of you that you are standing firm in one spirit, with one mind striving side by side for the faith of the gospel, ²⁸and not frightened in anything by your opponents. This is a clear sign to them of their destruction, but of your salvation, and that from God.

^f Greek Only behave as citizens worthy

The Philippians stood firm together “in united spirit and purpose” (AMP), for the faith (v. 27b) and against their opponents (v. 28).

Phil 4:1 Therefore, my brothers,^g whom I love and long for, my joy and crown, stand firm thus in the Lord, my beloved.

^g Or brothers and sisters; also verses 8, 21

Note that in saying “stand firm thus in the Lord”, Paul appears to be referring to the teaching of the preceding verses, including his instructions: to “walk according to the example you have in us” (3:17); and to be focused on Jesus Christ’s return and all that it entails (cf. 3:20-21).

1Pet 5:9 Resist him [Satan], firm in your faith, knowing that the same kinds of suffering are being experienced by your brotherhood throughout the world.

1Pet 5:12 By Silvanus, a faithful brother as I regard him, I have written briefly to you, exhorting and declaring that this is the true grace of God. Stand firm in it.

✦ We should stand in the gospel:

1Cor 15:1 Now I would remind you, brothers,^h of the gospel I preached to you, which you received, in which you stand, ...

^h Or brothers and sisters; also verses 6, 31, 50, 58

We should take our stand firmly believing and in accordance with the truths of the gospel message.

Hold to Christian teaching, abiding in it . . .

In the following verses, references to holding to Christian teaching generally refer to believing Christian truths and/or to following practical Christian instructions. (The latter is largely in view in the following subsection.)

Luke 8:15 As for that in the good soil, they are those who, hearing the word, hold it fast in an honest and good heart, and bear fruit with patience.

1Cor 15:2 ... and by which you are being saved, if you hold fast to the word I preached to you—unless you believed in vain.

Phil 2:16 ... holding fast to the word of life, so that in the day of Christ I may be proud that I did not run in vain or labor in vain.

2Thes 2:15 So then, brothers, stand firm and hold to the traditions that you were taught by us, either by our spoken word or by our letter.

1Tim 3:9 They must hold the mystery of the faith with a clear conscience.

2Tim 3:14-15 But as for you, continue in what you have learned and have firmly believed, knowing from whomⁱ you learned it ¹⁵and how from childhood you have been acquainted with the sacred writings, which are able to make you wise for salvation through faith in Christ Jesus.

ⁱ The Greek for whom is plural

This implies that what Timothy had “learned and ... firmly believed” (v. 14a) was taught to him by reliable teachers (v. 14b) and based largely on the Scriptures (v. 15). As such, Paul encourages him to continue to believe or hold to these truths (v. 14a).

Titus 1:9 He must hold firm to the trustworthy word as taught, so that he may be able to give instruction in sound doctrine and also to rebuke those who contradict it.

^j Or healthy; also verse 13

Rev 19:10 Then I fell down at his feet to worship him, but he said to me, “You must not do that! I am a fellow servant^k with you and your brothers who hold to the testimony of Jesus. Worship God.” For the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.

^k Greek fellow bondservant

The “testimony of Jesus” may well refer to that which can be learned from Jesus through not only his teaching, but also his life and death; hence the verse’s inclusion here. However, it could possibly instead be speaking of testifying about Jesus (cf. CEV, NCV, NLT). Note that the final statement quite possibly means that holding to or proclaiming this testimony is the essence of prophecy. “For the substance (essence) of the truth revealed by Jesus is the spirit of all prophecy... the inspiration of all inspired preaching and interpretation of the divine will and purpose...” (AMP)

Prov 23:23 Buy truth, and do not sell it; buy wisdom, instruction, and understanding.

Get God’s truth and keep it, holding to it.

John 8:31 So Jesus said to the Jews who had believed in him, “If you abide in my word, you are truly my disciples, ...

To “abide in” Jesus’ word (cf. 2Jn 1:9 ↓) – or to have it abide in us (cf. John 15:7 ↓; 1Jn 2:24 ↓) – involves reflecting on it and applying it in our lives, and persisting in doing this.

John 15:7 If you abide in me, and my words abide in you, ask whatever you wish, and it will be done for you.

1Jn 2:24 Let what you heard from the beginning abide in you. If what you heard from the beginning abides in you, then you too will abide in the Son and in the Father.

2Jn 1:9 Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son.

Phil 2:12 Therefore, my beloved, as you have always obeyed, so now, not only as in my presence but much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling, ...

Paul exhorts the Philippians, in line with their persistent obedience to his teaching, to continue to “work out” their salvation. There are different interpretations of what Paul means by this. Arguably it refers to bringing one’s salvation to completion (cf. GNT, NCV), doing what is required to attain or accept – not earn – salvation, living lives reflecting one’s redeemed state.

Phil 3:16 Only let us hold true to what we have attained.

Paul exhorts his readers to keep living according to either the truth that they had already grasped (cf. GNT, NCV, NLT) or the standard of Christian living that they had already achieved (cf. CEV, NASB, NKJV).

Phil 4:9 What you have learned and received and heard and seen in me—practice these things, and the God of peace will be with you.

1Tim 4:16 Keep a close watch on yourself and on the teaching. Persist in this, for by so doing you will save both yourself and your hearers.

Paul urges Timothy to both continue to teach and to live by that which is in accordance with correct Christian doctrine (cf. v. 6).

James 1:25 But the one who looks into the perfect law, the law of liberty, and perseveres, being no hearer who forgets but a doer who acts, he will be blessed in his doing.

The “law of liberty” (cf. 2:12) refers to God’s word (cf. vv. 22-24) – seemingly including the OT moral law as interpreted by NT teaching. This “law” that Christians are to live by gives freedom from both rigorous regulations and sin – which means that they are in fact freer to please God.

3Jn 1:3 For I rejoiced greatly when the brothers¹ came and testified to your truth, as indeed you are walking in the truth.

¹ Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated “brothers”) refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God’s family, the church; also verses 5, 10

Rev 3:3 Remember, then, what you received and heard. Keep it, and repent. If you will not wake up, I will come like a thief, and you will not know at what hour I will come against you.

Paul was keen that the Philippians “progress... in the faith”.

Jude 1:20 But you, beloved, building yourselves up in your most holy faith and praying in the Holy Spirit, ...

As in Philippians 1:25 above, “faith” again refers to the Christian faith, the teachings that Christians believe and live in accordance with – rather than to an individual’s trust in God.

Phil 1:9 And it is my prayer that your love may abound more and more, with knowledge and all discernment, ...

A key aspect of increasing in love is a corresponding growth in knowledge of matters of the faith – and also discernment or insight. Such love is more effective in whatever it seeks to achieve.

Col 1:10 ... so as to walk in a manner worthy of the Lord, fully pleasing to him, bearing fruit in every good work and increasing in the knowledge of God. ...

The final phrase quite likely speaks of growing or increasing in knowledge about God, quite possibly encompassing coming to know him better (cf. CEV, Nlrv, NLT). But note that some commentators interpret Paul to be speaking of “the knowledge of God” as the sphere in which we grow, or the means by which we grow.

1Pet 2:2 Like newborn infants, long for the pure spiritual milk, that by it you may grow up into salvation— ...

The term “pure spiritual milk” here probably denotes God’s word or truth. Below in 1 Corinthians 3:1-2 and Hebrews 5:12-13 the figure of “milk” is used to depict very basic truths of the faith that the readers should have progressed beyond, having been Christians for some time. In line with this, the final clause may well speak of growing “in respect to” (NASB) or “into the fullness of” (NLT) salvation, maturing in the faith. Alternatively, it has been interpreted to speak of securing (not earning) salvation, being saved (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV).

1Cor 3:1-2 But I, brothers,^m could not address you as spiritual people, but as people of the flesh, as infants in Christ. ²I fed you with milk, not solid food, for you were not ready for it. And even now you are not yet ready, ...

^mOr brothers and sisters

In this and in the following references the readers are rebuked for their lack of growth in their knowledge of the faith. Here Paul rebukes them in part for their lack of progress in the moral aspects of the faith, which had hampered their growth in knowledge of the faith.

Heb 5:11-14 About this we have much to say, and it is hard to explain, since you have become dull of hearing. ¹²For though by this time you ought to be teachers, you need someone to teach you again the basic principles of the oracles of God. You need milk, not solid food, ¹³for everyone who lives on milk is unskilled in the word of righteousness, since he is a child. ¹⁴But solid food is for the mature, for those who have their powers of discernment trained by constant practice to distinguish good from evil. ...

Heb 6:1-2 Therefore let us leave the elementary doctrine of Christ and go on to maturity, not laying again a foundation of repentance from dead works and of faith toward God, ²and of instruction about washings,ⁿ the laying on of hands, the resurrection of the dead, and eternal judgment. ...

ⁿ Or baptisms (that is, cleansing rites)

Note that this follows on directly from 5:11-14 immediately above.

✚ Be spiritually mature in your thinking:

1Cor 14:20 Brothers, do not be children in your thinking. Be infants in evil, but in your thinking be mature. ...

Note that Paul says this in the context of speaking of using the gift of tongues wisely (vv. 1-25).

Here "faith" refers to an individual's faith or trust in God.

1Tim 4:15 Practice these things, immerse yourself in them,^p so that all may see your progress. 📖

^p Greek be in them

James 1:2-4 Count it all joy, my brothers,^q when you meet trials of various kinds, ³for you know that the testing of your faith produces steadfastness. ⁴And let steadfastness have its full effect, that you may be perfect and complete, lacking in nothing. 📖

^q Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated "brothers") refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God's family, the church; also verses 16, 19

Believers must look upon trials as opportunities to grow in their Christian life through being steadfast (vv. 2-3), leading to them becoming "perfect and complete" (v. 4).

2Pet 1:5-8 For this very reason, make every effort to supplement your faith with virtue,^r and virtue with knowledge, ⁶and knowledge with self-control, and self-control with steadfastness, and steadfastness with godliness, ⁷and godliness with brotherly affection, and brotherly affection with love. ⁸For if these qualities^s are yours and are increasing, they keep you from being ineffective or unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. 📖

2Pet 3:18 But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. To him be the glory both now and to the day of eternity. Amen. 📖

^t Or brothers and sisters; also verses 10, 13

A key part of growing in our Christian lives is increasingly doing the things that please God, doing them "more and more" (vv. 1, 10).

... and produce spiritual "fruit"

In the following references the term "fruit" is often understood to refer to personal spiritual characteristics produced in a believer (cf. Gal 5:22-23 ↓) as they grow spiritually. However bear in mind that in some of the references, the produce of one's work for the kingdom may instead be in view.

Luke 8:15 As for that in the good soil, they are those who, hearing the word, hold it fast in an honest and good heart, and bear fruit with patience. 📖

John 15:8, 16 By this my Father is glorified, that you bear much fruit and so prove to be my disciples. 📖 ... ¹⁶You did not choose me, but I chose you and appointed you that you should go and bear fruit and that your fruit should abide, so that whatever you ask the Father in my name, he may give it to you. 📖

Rom 7:4 Likewise, my brothers, you also have died to the law through the body of Christ, so that you may belong to another, to him who has been raised from the dead, in order that we may bear fruit for God. 📖

Eph 5:8-9 ... for at one time you were darkness, but now you are light in the Lord. Walk as children of light ⁹(for the fruit of light is found in all that is good and right and true), ... 📖

Phil 1:10-11 ... so that you may approve what is excellent, and so be pure and blameless for the day of Christ, ¹¹filled with the fruit of righteousness that comes through Jesus Christ, to the glory and praise of God. 📖

Spiritual "fruit" is produced through Jesus Christ.

Matt 13:23 As for what was sown on good soil, this is the one who hears the word and understands it. He indeed bears fruit and yields, in one case a hundredfold, in another sixty, and in another thirty. 📖

Matt 7:17-19 So, every healthy tree bears good fruit, but the diseased tree bears bad fruit. ¹⁸A healthy tree cannot bear bad fruit, nor can a diseased tree bear good fruit. ¹⁹Every tree that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire. 📖

John 15:2 Every branch in me that does not bear fruit he takes away, and every branch that does bear fruit he prunes, that it may bear more fruit. 📖

Luke 13:6-9 And he told this parable: "A man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard, and he came seeking fruit on it and found none. ⁷And he said to the vinedresser, 'Look, for three years now I have come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and I find none. Cut it down. Why should it use up the ground?' ⁸And he answered him, 'Sir, let it alone this year also, until I dig around it and put on manure. ⁹Then if it should bear fruit next year, well and good; but if not, you can cut it down.'" 📖

The fig tree represents the Jewish nation. It as a whole had failed to produce fruit, including a positive response to Jesus. So it faced being cut out of its relationship with God, no longer using up the soil (possibly a reference to God's love or grace). The scenario is applicable as a warning to anyone who professes to be one of God's people.

✦ The "fruit" of the Holy Spirit:

Gal 5:22-23 But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, ²³gentleness, self-control; against such things there is no law. 📖

These characteristics are described as "fruit of the Spirit" because their source and means of growth is the Holy Spirit. The implication is that our lives should produce such "fruit".

Rev 2:25 Only hold fast what you have until I come. 📖

James 5:8 You also, be patient. Establish your hearts, for the coming of the Lord is at hand. 📖

We are to "strengthen and confirm" (AMP) our hearts, with the Lord's return in view.

Matt 24:12-13 And because lawlessness will be increased, the love of many will grow cold. ¹³But the one who endures to the end will be saved. 📖

In v. 12 "love" probably refers to either love in Christ for others, or love for God. Enduring (v. 13) involves persisting in such love.

✦ Exhortation to stand firm in the face of enemy attack:

2Chr 20:17 You will not need to fight in this battle. Stand firm, hold your position, and see the salvation of the LORD on your behalf, O Judah and Jerusalem. Do not be afraid and do not be dismayed. Tomorrow go out against them, and the LORD will be with you. 📖

Similarly Exodus 14:13 says, "Stand firm and you will see the deliverance the LORD will bring you today." See also Ephesians 6:11, 13-18.

Persist and be diligent so that you will receive the reward . . .

Matt 10:22 ... and you will be hated by all for my name's sake. But the one who endures to the end will be saved. 📖

This speaks of the salvation (cf. 1Tim 4:16 ↓) that is fundamental to the believer's reward.

Rom 2:6-7 He will render to each one according to his works: 7to those who by patience in well-doing seek for glory and honor and immortality, he will give eternal life; ... 📖

1Tim 4:16 Keep a close watch on yourself and on the teaching. Persist in this, for by so doing you will save both yourself and your hearers. 📖

Heb 4:11 Let us therefore strive to enter that rest, so that no one may fall by the same sort of disobedience. 📖

Here "rest" may well be referring to the reward of rest in the afterlife – the reason for its inclusion here. But note that some think it refers to rest from trying to gain salvation by works.

Heb 6:11-12 And we desire each one of you to show the same earnestness to have the full assurance of hope until the end, 12so that you may not be sluggish, but imitators of those who through faith and patience inherit the promises. 📖

Heb 10:35-36 Therefore do not throw away your confidence, which has a great reward. 36For you have need of endurance, so that when you have done the will of God you may receive what is promised. 📖

2Pet 1:10-11 Therefore, brothers,^u be all the more diligent to make your calling and election sure, for if you practice these qualities you will never fall. 11For in this way there will be richly provided for you an entrance into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. 📖

^u Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated "brothers") refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God's family, the church

2Jn 1:8 Watch yourselves, so that you may not lose what we have worked for, but may win a full reward. 📖

^v Some manuscripts you

A number of commentators consider that here John is speaking not of missing out on salvation, but of not being rewarded to the extent that one could be.

Jude 1:21 ... keep yourselves in the love of God, waiting for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ that leads to eternal life. 📖

Rev 3:11 I am coming soon. Hold fast what you have, so that no one may seize your crown. 📖

... Be like an athlete, striving for a prize

Acts 20:24 But I do not account my life of any value nor as precious to myself, if only I may finish my course and the ministry that I received from the Lord Jesus, to testify to the gospel of the grace of God. 📖

Here "course" appears to have the sense of a "race" (NIV®, NKJV).

Phil 3:10-14 ... that I may know him and the power of his resurrection, and may share his sufferings, becoming like him in his death, ¹¹that by any means possible I may attain the resurrection from the dead. ¹²*Not that I have already obtained this or am already perfect, but I press on to make it my own*, because Christ Jesus has made me his own. ¹³Brothers, I do not consider that I have made it my own. But one thing I do: forgetting what lies behind and straining forward to what lies ahead, 14I press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus. 📖

In v. 12 Paul is probably talking of pressing on to take hold of the spiritual goals he had listed in v. 10 – which he had not "already obtained" v. 12a – and also perfection (v. 12a). Possibly he also has in mind the resurrection from the dead (v. 11). The latter is certainly one aspect of the prize (v. 14) for attaining such spiritual goals.

1Tim 6:12 Fight the good fight of the faith. Take hold of the eternal life to which you were called and about which you made the good confession in the presence of many witnesses. 📖

"Fight the good fight" is understood to be an allusion to sport (cf. 2Tim 4:7-8 ↓) rather than warfare. "Take hold of the eternal life" appears to primarily have in view the consummation of the believer's eternal life in the age to come.

2Tim 4:7-8 I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. 8Henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will award to me on that Day, and not only to me but also to all who have loved his appearing. 📖

Heb 12:1-2 Therefore, since we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, let us also lay aside every weight, and sin which clings so closely, and let us run with endurance the race that is set before us, 2looking to Jesus, the founder and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is seated at the right hand of the throne of God.

The writer exhorts his readers as they run their spiritual “race” with endurance (v. 1) to look to Jesus, primarily in order to follow his example of enduring all for the joy that would follow (v. 2).

2Tim 2:5 An athlete is not crowned unless he competes according to the rules.

The implication of this illustration in the context is that God’s people must “compete” according to God’s requirements in order to receive their reward.

✦ Be purposeful and disciplined, so as to win the prize:

1Cor 9:24-27 Do you not know that in a race all the runners run, but only one receives the prize? So run that you may obtain it. ²⁵Every athlete exercises self-control in all things. They do it to receive a perishable wreath, but we an imperishable. ²⁶So I do not run aimlessly; I do not box as one beating the air. ²⁷But I discipline my body and keep it under control,^w lest after preaching to others I myself should be disqualified.

^w Greek I pummel my body and make it a slave

The clause “I discipline my body” (v. 27) depicts Paul’s strong discipline of himself, bringing his body with its desires into submission.

Heb 3:12 Take care, brothers, lest there be in any of you an evil, unbelieving heart, leading you to fall away from the living God.

This is applicable to being careful in regard to both ourselves and others.

Heb 4:1 Therefore, while the promise of entering his rest still stands, let us fear lest any of you should seem to have failed to reach it.

This is speaking of fearing so as to be careful (cf. AMP, CEV, GNT, NASB, NCV, NIV, NRSV) to not miss out on God’s eternal rest in the afterlife, by turning away from him (cf. Heb 2:1 ; Heb 3:12

2Pet 3:17 You therefore, beloved, knowing this beforehand, take care that you are not carried away with the error of lawless people and lose your own stability.

. . . Do not rebel against God

Num 14:9a Only do not rebel against the LORD.

Josh 22:29 Far be it from us that we should rebel against the LORD and turn away this day from following the LORD by building an altar for burnt offering, grain offering, or sacrifice, other than the altar of the LORD our God that stands before his tabernacle!

1Sam 12:14 If you will fear the LORD and serve him and obey his voice and not rebel against the commandment of the LORD, and if both you and the king who reigns over you will follow the LORD your God, it will be well.

1Sam 15:23a For rebellion is as the sin of divination, and presumption is as iniquity and idolatry.

Isa 50:5 The Lord GOD has opened my ear, and I was not rebellious; I turned not backward.

Ezek 2:3, 8 *And he said to me, “Son of man, I send you to the people of Israel, to nations of rebels, who have rebelled against me. They and their fathers have transgressed against me to this very day.  ... ⁸“But you, son of man, hear what I say to you. Be not rebellious like that rebellious house; open your mouth and eat what I give you.” *

Heb 3:15-16 *As it is said, “Today, if you hear his voice, do not harden your hearts as in the rebellion.” ¹⁶For who were those who heard and yet rebelled? Was it not all those who left Egypt led by Moses? *

In v. 16 the author appears to be warning his readers of the danger of falling into rebellion, pointing to the rebellion of the Exodus generation despite them having witnessed God’s miraculous deliverance.

Ps 78:40 How often they rebelled against him in the wilderness and grieved him in the desert!

This and the following verses speak in condemnatory tone of cases of God’s people rebelling against him.

Isa 59:12-13 For our transgressions are multiplied before you, and our sins testify against us; for our transgressions are with us, and we know our iniquities: ¹³*transgressing, and denying the LORD, and turning back from following our God, speaking oppression and revolt, conceiving and uttering from the heart lying words.*

Jer 5:23 But this people has a stubborn and rebellious heart; they have turned aside and gone away.

Zeph 3:1-2 Woe to her who is rebellious and defiled, the oppressing city! ²She listens to no voice; she accepts no correction. She does not trust in the LORD; she does not draw near to her God.

Some people do fall away

The question of whether a true Christian can fall away has been one of no small debate. Certainly some people who consider themselves Christians – and appear to be so – do fall away. This topic shows one of the “tensions” in Scripture. Many of the verses in this and the following subsection – with the notable exception of 1 John 2:19 – appear to support the affirmative (as do a number of the verses in the subsections above). On the other hand, God and Jesus Christ promise to keep their followers – as shown in God and Jesus Christ keep their people as their own – until the end, p. 943.

Matt 13:20-21 As for what was sown on rocky ground, this is the one who hears the word and immediately receives it with joy, ²¹*yet he has no root in himself, but endures for a while, and when tribulation or persecution arises on account of the word, immediately he falls away.*^x

^x Or stumbles

This speaks of those who receive God’s word superficially, without any real commitment to it.

Matt 24:10-12 And then many will fall away^y and betray one another and hate one another. ¹¹*And many false prophets will arise and lead many astray.* ¹²*And because lawlessness will be increased, the love of many will grow cold.*

^y Or stumble

John 6:66 After this many of his disciples turned back and no longer walked with him.

Some of those who had been following Jesus apparently found his teaching too offensive or difficult to accept. Quite possibly they did not carefully consider the metaphorical language he used on this occasion (cf. vv. 25-65), failing to grasp its true meaning.

Gal 5:4 You are severed from Christ, you who would be justified^z by the law; you have fallen away from grace.

^z Or counted righteous

Those who were the focus of Paul’s rebuke here appear to have been church members who had been misled to the point of being in grave spiritual danger, rather than having already irrevocably fallen away.

1Tim 4:1 Now the Spirit expressly says that in later times some will depart from the faith by devoting themselves to deceitful spirits and teachings of demons, ...

1Tim 5:15 For some have already strayed after Satan.

1Tim 6:20-21 O Timothy, guard the deposit entrusted to you. Avoid the irreverent babble and contradictions of what is falsely called “knowledge,” ²¹*for by professing it some have swerved from the faith.* Grace be with you.^a

^a The Greek for you is plural

2Pet 2:15 Forsaking the right way, they have gone astray. They have followed the way of Balaam, the son of Beor, who loved gain from wrongdoing, ...

‡ John spoke of people who had left the church as not having been truly of the body of believers:

1Jn 2:19 They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would have continued with us. But they went out, that it might become plain that they all are not of us.

This supports the view that those people who fall away have never in fact been truly Christians (cf. 2Pet 2:22 ↓).

Falling away brings dire consequences

John 15:6 If anyone does not abide in me he is thrown away like a branch and withers; and the branches are gathered, thrown into the fire, and burned.

Commentators differ in various aspects in their interpretations of this verse – but even so it is a clear warning against not remaining in Christ.

Rom 11:22 Note then the kindness and the severity of God: severity toward those who have fallen, but God’s kindness to you, provided you continue in his kindness. Otherwise you too will be cut off.

As with those of the nation of Israel who fell away, those who stumble (cf. v. 11) in unbelief and stop following God (cf. NCV, NlrV), will be cut off from God and the associated blessings of a relationship with him.

Heb 2:1-3a Therefore we must pay much closer attention to what we have heard, lest we drift away from it. ²*For since the message declared by angels proved to be reliable, and every transgression or disobedience received a just retribution,* ³*how shall we escape if we neglect such a great salvation?*

Heb 6:4-8 For it is impossible, in the case of those who have once been enlightened, who have tasted the heavenly gift, and have shared in the Holy Spirit, ⁵and have tasted the goodness of the word of God and the powers of the age to come, ⁶and then have fallen away, to restore them again to repentance, since they are crucifying once again the Son of God to their own harm and holding him up to contempt. ⁷For land that has drunk the rain that often falls on it, and produces a crop useful to those for whose sake it is cultivated, receives a blessing from God. ⁸But if it bears thorns and thistles, it is worthless and near to being cursed, and its end is to be burned.

In v. 4, the “heavenly gift” may refer to Jesus Christ, the subsequently mentioned Holy Spirit, or more generally “the good things of heaven” (NLT). Verse 8 depicts the fate of those who fall away, whose lives produce useless and bad things.

Heb 10:38-39 ... but my righteous one shall live by faith, and if he shrinks back, my soul has no pleasure in him. ³⁹*But we are not of those who shrink back and are destroyed, but of those who have faith and preserve their souls.*

2Pet 2:20-22 For if, after they have escaped the defilements of the world through the knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, they are again entangled in them and overcome, the last state has become worse for them than the first. ²¹*For it would have been better for them never to have known the way of righteousness than after knowing it to turn back from* the holy commandment delivered to them. ²²What the true proverb says has happened to them: “The dog returns to its own vomit, and the sow, after washing herself, returns to wallow in the mire.”

In saying that such apostates are worse off than they were originally (vv. 20-21), Peter probably has their greater accountability primarily in view, with them having in some sense known both Jesus Christ (v. 20) and “the way of righteousness” (v. 21). Verse 2 gives credence to the view that those who fall away never were genuine Christians. The two illustrations parallel such people with creatures returning to that which is reflective of what they are and have been all along.

Matt 5:13 You are the salt of the earth, but if salt has lost its taste, how shall its saltiness be restored? It is no longer good for anything except to be thrown out and trampled under people’s feet.

The “taste” or “saltiness” of salt speaks of “its strength, its quality” (AMP). If we lose such things as our spiritual fervor or our spiritual integrity, we face being thrown out of God’s kingdom and consequent destruction.

Num 14:43 For there the Amalekites and the Canaanites are facing you, and you shall fall by the sword. Because you have turned back from following the LORD, the LORD will not be with you.

Ps 125:5 But those who turn aside to their crooked ways the LORD will lead away with evildoers! Peace be upon Israel!

Ezek 33:18 When the righteous turns from his righteousness and does injustice, he shall die for it.

Zeph 1:4, 6 “I will stretch out my hand against Judah and against all the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and I will cut off from this place the remnant of Baal and the name of the idolatrous priests along with the priests,  ... ⁶those who have turned back from following the LORD, who do not seek the LORD or inquire of him.”

The people of Israel are in view in the following verses. The consequences described reflect the more physical or observable consequences of rebelling against God under the first covenant. For believers who rebel against God today under the new covenant, the consequences in this lifetime may not be as such but they are nevertheless just as serious, even more so. For they involve spiritual consequences with dire eternal repercussions.

1Cor 1:7 ... so that you are not lacking in any spiritual gift, as you wait for the revealing of our Lord Jesus Christ, ...

Phil 3:20-21 But our citizenship is in heaven, and from it we await a Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ, ²¹*who will transform our lowly body to be like his glorious body*, by the power that enables him even to subject all things to himself.

In conjunction with waiting for Jesus Christ's return (v. 20), Paul appears to be speaking of waiting for the transformation of "our lowly body" (v. 21).

1Thes 1:10 ... and to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, Jesus who delivers us from the wrath to come.

2Tim 4:8 Henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will award to me on that Day, and not only to me but also to all who have loved his appearing.

As with "righteousness" below in Galatians 5:5, the term "crown of righteousness" could refer either to being pronounced right with God or being made completely righteous (i.e. the consummation of our sanctification). Another possibility is some kind of crown bestowed as a reward for a righteous life. The phrase "have loved his appearing" is either speaking of the future reaction of Christians at the occurrence of his appearing, or is referring to setting our hearts on his appearing, longing for it (cf. NIV, NRSV).

Titus 2:13 ... waiting for our blessed hope, the appearing of the glory of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ, ...

Heb 9:28 ... so Christ, having been offered once to bear the sins of many, will appear a second time, not to deal with sin but to save those who are eagerly waiting for him.

James 5:7-8 Be patient, therefore, brothers,^e until the coming of the Lord. See how the farmer waits for the precious fruit of the earth, being patient about it, until it receives the early and the late rains. ⁸You also, be patient. Establish your hearts, for the coming of the Lord is at hand.

2Pet 3:11-12 Since all these things are thus to be dissolved, what sort of people ought you to be in lives of holiness and godliness, ¹²*waiting for and hastening the coming of the day of God*, because of which the heavens will be set on fire and dissolved, and the heavenly bodies will melt as they burn!

The phrase "hastening the coming" suggests that believers can in some sense hasten the arrival of "the day of God" – the day of Christ's return (cf. v. 4). In light of the reference to repentance of non-believers in v. 9, this may primarily refer to evangelism – notably prayer and witnessing.

Rom 8:23-25 And not only the creation, but we ourselves, who have the firstfruits of the Spirit, groan inwardly as we wait eagerly for adoption as sons, the redemption of our bodies. ²⁴For in this hope we were saved. Now hope that is seen is not hope. For who hopes for what he sees? ²⁵But if we hope for what we do not see, we wait for it with patience.

As we do not know when Jesus Christ will come, "stay awake" and be ready

See also:

▪ Jesus Christ's return will be at an unexpected time, while people are living as usual, p. 697

Instructions in the following verses to "stay awake" have in view being alert and watchful – akin to being ready.

Matt 24:42-44 Therefore, stay awake, for you do not know on what day your Lord is coming. ⁴³*But know this, that if the master of the house had known in what part of the night the thief was coming, he would have stayed awake and would not have let his house be broken into.* ⁴⁴*Therefore you also must be ready, for the Son of Man is coming at an hour you do not expect.* 📖

Mark 13:32-37 "But concerning that day or that hour, no one knows, not even the angels in heaven, nor the Son, but only the Father. ³³*Be on guard, keep awake.*^g For you do not know when the time will come. ³⁴It is like a man going on a journey, when he leaves home and puts his servants^h in charge, each with his work, and commands the doorkeeper to stay awake. ³⁵*Therefore stay awake—for you do not know when the master of the house will come, in the evening, or at midnight, or when the rooster crows,¹ or in the morning—* ³⁶*lest he come suddenly and find you asleep.* ³⁷*And what I say to you I say to all: Stay awake."* 📖

^g Some manuscripts add and pray

^h Greek bondservants

Matt 25:1-13 Then the kingdom of heaven will be like ten virgins who took their lamps^j and went to meet the bridegroom.^k Five of them were foolish, and five were wise. ³*For when the foolish took their lamps, they took no oil with them,* ⁴*but the wise took flasks of oil with their lamps.* ⁵As the bridegroom was delayed, they all became drowsy and slept. ⁶*But at midnight there was a cry, 'Here is the bridegroom! Come out to meet him.'* ⁷Then all those virgins rose and trimmed their lamps. ⁸*And the foolish said to the wise, 'Give us some of your oil, for our lamps are going out.'* ⁹*But the wise answered, saying, 'Since there will not be enough for us and for you, go rather to the dealers and buy for yourselves.'* ¹⁰*And while they were going to buy, the bridegroom came, and those who were ready went in with him to the marriage feast, and the door was shut.* ¹¹*Afterward the other virgins came also, saying, 'Lord, lord, open to us.'* ¹²*But he answered, 'Truly, I say to you, I do not know you.'* ¹³*Watch therefore, for you know neither the day nor the hour.* 📖

^j Or torches

^k Some manuscripts add and the bride

The ten virgins probably had a role similar to bridesmaids. Jesus' illustration draws a parallel between them waiting for the bridegroom and professing believers waiting for his return, to emphasize the importance of being prepared and ready. The bridegroom's reply to the foolish virgins (v. 12) implies that supposed adherents to Christianity who are not ready for Jesus Christ's return will not have truly been in a right relationship with him.

Luke 12:35-38 Stay dressed for action^l and keep your lamps burning, ³⁶*and be like men who are waiting for their master to come home from the wedding feast, so that they may open the door to him at once when he comes and knocks.* ³⁷*Blessed are those servants^m whom the master finds awake when he comes.* Truly, I say to you, he will dress himself for service and have them recline at table, and he will come and serve them. ³⁸*If he comes in the second watch, or in the third, and finds them awake, blessed are those servants!* 📖

^m Greek bondservants

The "second or third watch of the night" (v. 38) would be very late in the night, the exact time depending on whether the Roman or Jewish system of time was in view. The point is that believers should be ready at all times. (cf. NEL)

Luke 21:36 But stay awake at all times, praying that you may have strength to escape all these things that are going to take place, and to stand before the Son of Man. 📖

In order to be ready for Jesus Christ's return – to be able "to stand before" him – we need to be always "awake" and pray. The "things that are going to take place" probably are events prior to Jesus Christ's return; it may refer to traumatic events that all mankind will be exposed to or primarily persecution of Christians. (Another possibility is that the destruction of Jerusalem in A.D. 70 was foremost in view.) Here "escape" may have the sense "go safely through" (GNT), rather than meaning to avoid altogether.

Rev 16:15 (“Behold, I am coming like a thief! Blessed is the one who stays awake, keeping his garments on, that he may not go about naked and be seen exposed!”)

Jesus Christ will come unexpectedly, like a thief. So we need to be ready, prepared spiritually, so that we will not be ashamed.

✦ OT prophecy of the sudden appearance of the Lord:

Mal 3:1 Behold, I send my messenger, and he will prepare the way before me. And the Lord whom you seek will suddenly come to his temple; and the messenger of the covenant in whom you delight, behold, he is coming, says the LORD of hosts.

Malachi’s prophecy is probably referring to Jesus Christ’s second coming, and affirms how sudden it will be.

To be ready for Jesus Christ’s return, live a godly life . . .

1Tim 6:11-14 But as for you, O man of God, flee these things. Pursue righteousness, godliness, faith, love, steadfastness, gentleness. ¹²*Fight the good fight of the faith. Take hold of the eternal life to which you were called* and about which you made the good confession in the presence of many witnesses. ¹³I charge you in the presence of God, who gives life to all things, and of Christ Jesus, who in his testimony before^a Pontius Pilate made the good confession, ¹⁴*to keep the commandment unstained and free from reproach until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ, ...*

^a Or in the time of

Paul calls on Timothy to live a godly life (vv. 11-12) until Christ’s return (v. 14). Quite likely Paul mentions the latter so as to inspire Timothy to obey his instruction in order to be ready for Christ’s return (cf. 2Tim 4:1-2 ).

2Pet 3:11-14 Since all these things are thus to be dissolved, what sort of people ought you to be in lives of holiness and godliness, ¹²waiting for and hastening the coming of the day of God, because of which the heavens will be set on fire and dissolved, and the heavenly bodies will melt as they burn! ¹³But according to his promise we are waiting for new heavens and a new earth in which righteousness dwells. ¹⁴Therefore, beloved, since you are waiting for these, be diligent to be found by him without spot or blemish, and at peace.

The “day of God” (v. 12) is linked with Christ’s return (cf. v. 4). For further comment see Await Jesus Christ’s return – and for all that will follow, p. 1804.

1Pet 4:7, 13 The end of all things is at hand; therefore be self-controlled and sober-minded for the sake of your prayers.  ... ¹³*But rejoice insofar as you share Christ’s sufferings, that you may also rejoice and be glad when his glory is revealed.*

Participation in the sufferings of Christ (v. 13) goes “hand in hand” with living a godly, faithful life in him (cf. 1Jn 2:28 ). It ensures that one will not only be ready, but overjoyed on his return.

Rev 3:11 I am coming soon. Hold fast what you have, so that no one may seize your crown.

“Hold fast what you have” is an exhortation to keep “strong in your faith” (NCV™) – which of course is involved in living a godly life.

Isa 56:1 Thus says the LORD: “Keep justice, and do righteousness, for soon my salvation will come, and my deliverance be revealed.”

Though not referring specifically to Jesus Christ’s return, this OT exhortation is certainly applicable to it.

. . . and live a constructive life

Then he went away. ¹⁶*He who had received the five talents went at once and traded with them, and he made five talents more. ¹⁷So also he who had the two talents made two talents more. ¹⁸But he who had received the one talent went and dug in the ground and hid his master’s money. ¹⁹Now after a long time the master of those servants came and settled accounts with them. ²⁰And he*

You knew that I reap where I have not sown and gather where I scattered no seed?'²⁷Then you ought to have invested my money with the bankers, and at my coming I should have received what was my own with interest.²⁸So take the talent from him and give it to him who has the ten talents.²⁹For to everyone who has will more be given, and he will have an abundance. 1Cor 7:29-31 This is what I mean, brothers: *the appointed time has grown very short. From now on, let those who have wives live as though they had none,*³⁰*and those who mourn as though they were not mourning, and those who rejoice as though they were not rejoicing, and those who buy as though they had no goods,*³¹*and those who deal with the world as though they had no dealings with it. For the present form of this world is passing away.*

With the relatively short amount of time left before Christ's return (v. 29a), believers should live with the end of the age in view (v. 31b), with their actions and attitudes reflecting this fact (vv. 29b-31a). As such they will be able to lead constructive lives, not hampered or restricted by transitory things.

2Tim 4:1-2 I charge you in the presence of God and of Christ Jesus, who is to judge the living and the dead, and by his appearing and his kingdom: ²preach the word; be ready in season and out of season; reprove, rebuke, and exhort, with complete patience and teaching.

Jesus Christ's "appearing" upon which he will judge all people and establish his kingdom (v. 1), should compel one to live a faithful, constructive life (v. 2).

✦ Abide in Jesus Christ in order to be confident when he appears:

1Jn 2:28 And now, little children, abide in him, so that when he appears we may have confidence and not shrink from him in shame at his coming.

Do not live an ungodly life, leaving you unprepared for Jesus Christ's return

Matt 24:48-51 But if that wicked servant says to himself, 'My master is delayed,'⁴⁹and begins to beat his fellow servants^s and eats and drinks with drunkards,⁵⁰the master of that servant will come on a day when he does not expect him and at an hour he does not know⁵¹and will cut him in pieces and put him with the hypocrites. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

^s Greek bondservants

The punishments given to the ungodly (v. 51) and the unproductive (cf. Matt 25:28-30 ) underline their unreadiness for Christ's return. Note that this passage follows on from vv. 45-47 in the previous subsection.

Luke 21:34 But watch yourselves lest your hearts be weighed down with dissipation and drunkenness and cares of this life, and that day come upon you suddenly like a trap.

Rom 13:11-12 Besides this you know the time, that *the hour has come for you to wake from sleep. For salvation is nearer to us now than when we first believed.*¹²*The night is far gone; the day is at hand. So then let us cast off the works of darkness and put on the armor of light.*

Col 3:4-5 *When Christ who is your^t life appears, then you also will appear with him in glory.*⁵*Put to death therefore what is earthly in you:^u sexual immorality, impurity, passion, evil desire, and covetousness, which is idolatry.*

^t Some manuscripts our

^u Greek therefore your members that are on the earth

1Thes 5:4-6 But you are not in darkness, brothers, for that day to surprise you like a thief. ⁵For you are all children^v of light, children of the day. We are not of the night or of the darkness. ⁶So then let us not sleep, as others do, but let us keep awake and be sober.

^v Or sons; twice in this verse

Here “darkness” (v. 4) may refer to ungodliness (cf. Rom 13:12 ) or to ignorance (of the day of the Lord) – or both. In v. 6 Paul exhorts his readers to not be spiritually asleep, like the ungodly, but rather to be alert and self-controlled so as to not be caught off guard by the day of Christ’s return (cf. v. 4).

Titus 2:11-13 For the grace of God has appeared, bringing salvation for all people, ¹²training us to renounce ungodliness and worldly passions, and to live self-controlled, upright, and godly lives in the present age, ¹³waiting for our blessed hope, the appearing of the glory of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ, ...

Luke 17:30-33 ... so will it be on the day when the Son of Man is revealed. ³¹On that day, let the one who is on the housetop, with his goods in the house, not come down to take them away, and likewise let the one who is in the field not turn back. ³²Remember Lot’s wife. ³³Whoever seeks to preserve his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life will keep it.

These verses most likely are meaning that to be prepared for Jesus Christ’s return one needs to avoid: attachments to things of this world (vv. 31-32); and living a self-centered life rather than living for Christ (v. 33).

Do not be deceived by false claims, for Christ’s return will be only after certain events – and obvious to all

Matt 24:3-14 As he sat on the Mount of Olives, the disciples came to him privately, saying, “Tell us, when will these things be, and what will be the sign of your coming and of the close of the age?” ⁴And Jesus answered them, “See that no one leads you astray. ⁵For many will come in my name, saying, ‘I am the Christ,’ and they will lead many astray. ⁶And you will hear of wars and rumors of wars. See that you are not alarmed, for this must take place, but the end is not yet. ⁷For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom, and there will be famines and earthquakes in various places. ⁸All these are but the beginning of the birth pains. ⁹“Then they will deliver you up to tribulation and put you to death, and you will be hated by all nations for my name’s sake. ¹⁰And then many will fall away^w and betray one another and hate one another. ¹¹And many false prophets will arise and lead many astray. ¹²And because lawlessness will be increased, the love of many will grow cold. ¹³But the one who endures to the end will be saved. ¹⁴And this gospel of the kingdom will be proclaimed throughout the whole world as a testimony to all nations, and then the end will come.

^w Or stumble

In v. 8 “birth pains” denotes the time of distress which leads into – or “gives birth” to – the reign of the Messiah, following his return.

Matt 24:23-33 Then if anyone says to you, ‘Look, here is the Christ!’ or ‘There he is!’ do not believe it. ²⁴For false christs and false prophets will arise and perform great signs and wonders, so as to lead astray, if possible, even the elect. ²⁵See, I have told you beforehand. ²⁶So, if they say to you, ‘Look, he is in the wilderness,’ do not go out. If they say, ‘Look, he is in the inner rooms,’ do not believe it. ²⁷For as the lightning comes from the east and shines as far as the west, so will be the coming of the Son of Man. ²⁸Wherever the corpse is, there the vultures will gather. ²⁹Immediately after the tribulation of those days the sun will be darkened, and the moon will not give its light, and the stars will fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens will be shaken. ³⁰Then will appear in heaven the sign of the Son of Man, and then all the tribes of the earth will mourn, and they will see the Son of Man coming on the clouds of heaven with power and great glory. ³¹And he will send out his angels with a loud trumpet call, and they will gather his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other. ³²“From the fig tree learn its lesson: as soon as its branch becomes tender and puts out its leaves, you know that summer is near. ³³So also, when you see all these things, you know that he is near, at the very gates.

There are different interpretations of v. 28, but it probably is implying that just as the gathering of vultures makes obvious that there is a carcass, Jesus Christ’s return will likewise be made obvious to all. (cf. NBC) There are also different interpretations of v. 29, regarding whether the language is literal or figurative; it certainly speaks of monumental events. In v. 30, “the sign of the Son of Man” may well simply be referring to Jesus Christ himself appearing.

Luke 21:8, 11 And he said, “See that you are not led astray. For many will come in my name, saying, ‘I am he!’ and, ‘The time is at hand!' Do not go after them. ... ¹¹There will be great earthquakes, and in various places famines and pestilences. And there will be terrors and great signs from heaven.

2Thes 2:1-10 Now concerning the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and our being gathered together to him, we ask you, brothers,^x ²not to be quickly shaken in mind or alarmed, either by a spirit or a spoken word, or a letter seeming to be from us, to the effect that the day of the Lord has come. ³Let no one deceive you in any way. For that day will not come, unless the rebellion comes first, and the man of lawlessness^y is revealed, the son of destruction,^z ⁴who opposes and exalts himself against every so-called god or object of worship, so that he takes his seat in the temple of God, proclaiming himself to be God. ⁵Do you not remember that when I was still with you I told you these things? ⁶And you know what is restraining him now so that he may be revealed in his time. ⁷For the mystery of lawlessness is already at work. Only he who now restrains it will do so until he is out of the way. ⁸And then the lawless one will be revealed, whom the Lord Jesus will kill with the breath of his mouth and bring to nothing by the appearance of his coming. ⁹The coming of the lawless one is by the activity of Satan with all power and false signs and wonders, ¹⁰and with all wicked deception for those who are perishing, because they refused to love the truth and so be saved.

This "man of lawlessness" is quite likely the first beast of Revelation 13, understood by many to be a final antichrist. There are a number of theories as to who or what is "restraining him" (vv. 6-7). Possibly it is the archangel Michael.

Rev 1:7 Behold, he is coming with the clouds, and every eye will see him, even those who pierced him, and all tribes of the earth will wail^a on account of him. Even so. Amen.

II. Spiritual Warfare

See also:

- Angels, Satan and Demons, p. 163

Living as God wants necessarily means involvement in spiritual warfare. Believers are faced with challenges from spiritual adversaries and also from within themselves. Although the forces that oppose believers are formidable, the Bible gives clear instructions on how to counter any threat – through the supreme power of God.

a) The Existence of Spiritual Warfare

Subsections

- Believers are involved in conflict of a spiritual nature
- Believers have spiritual enemies, notably Satan
- Believers have human enemies, spiritually opposed to them
- Believers face internal spiritual conflict
- God and Jesus Christ aid believers in spiritual warfare, enabling them to overcome

Believers are involved in conflict of a spiritual nature

1Tim 1:18 This charge I entrust to you, Timothy, my child, in accordance with the prophecies previously made about you, that by them you may wage the good warfare, ...

Note that the phrase “by them” appears to refer to the prophecies made about Timothy, likely ones regarding his ministry. As such Paul may be speaking of Timothy drawing encouragement from these in waging “the good warfare”.

Eph 6:13 Therefore take up the whole armor of God, that you may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand firm.

Conflict with evil spiritual adversaries is in view (cf. v. 12 )

1Cor 9:7 Who serves as a soldier at his own expense? Who plants a vineyard without eating any of its fruit? Or who tends a flock without getting some of the milk?

In using these three examples or illustrations to make a point, Paul may have in mind that there are other parallels between such workers and the Christian life. As such the first rhetorical question reflects that believers serve as soldiers, in spiritual warfare.

2Cor 7:5 For even when we came into Macedonia, our bodies had no rest, but we were afflicted at every turn—fighting without and fear within.

Spiritual conflict often has a non-spiritual dimension or effect/s, as is mostly in view here and below in Philippians 1:29-30 and 1 Thessalonians 2:2 (and arguably other verses in this subsection).

Phil 1:29-30 For it has been granted to you that for the sake of Christ you should not only believe in him but also suffer for his sake,³⁰ engaged in the same conflict that you saw I had and now hear that I still have.

Col 2:8 See to it that no one takes you captive by philosophy and empty deceit, according to human tradition, according to the elemental spirits^a of the world, and not according to Christ.

^a Or elementary principles; also verse 20

1Thes 2:2 But though we had already suffered and been shamefully treated at Philippi, as you know, we had boldness in our God to declare to you the gospel of God in the midst of much conflict.

1Tim 6:12 Fight the good fight of the faith. Take hold of the eternal life to which you were called and about which you made the good confession in the presence of many witnesses.

“Fight the good fight” is more often understood to be an allusion to sport (cf. 2Tim 4:7-8) rather than warfare. Nevertheless, it is reflective of and readily applicable to the spiritual warfare that believers are involved in.

2Tim 2:3-4 Share in suffering as a good soldier of Christ Jesus. No soldier gets entangled in civilian pursuits, since his aim is to please the one who enlisted him.

Paul likens spiritual aspects of the Christian life to the life of a soldier. These aspects are endurance of hardship (v. 3) – such as persecution by enemies – and undivided devotion to the Lord’s cause (v. 4).

Believers have spiritual enemies, notably Satan

See also:

- c) Satan's Work against God's People, p. 188

Eph 6:12 For we do not wrestle against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the cosmic powers over this present darkness, against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly places.

Although believers may have human opponents, primarily and ultimately their struggle is against spiritual powers.

1Pet 5:8 Be sober-minded; be watchful. Your adversary the devil prowls around like a roaring lion, seeking someone to devour.

Rev 12:17a Then the dragon became furious with the woman and went off to make war on the rest of her offspring, on those who keep the commandments of God and hold to the testimony of Jesus.

The dragon signifies Satan. The woman (cf. vv. 1-6) may be symbolic of the church. Alternatively the woman may symbolize primarily Israel or believing Jews.

Rev 2:10 Do not fear what you are about to suffer. Behold, the devil is about to throw some of you into prison, that you may be tested, and for ten days you will have tribulation. Be faithful unto death, and I will give you the crown of life.

Matt 13:38-39 The field is the world, and the good seed is the sons of the kingdom. The weeds are the sons of the evil one,³⁹ and the enemy who sowed them is the devil. The harvest is the close of the age, and the reapers are angels.

Satan, or the devil, is spoken of in this passage primarily as the enemy of the "Son of Man" (v. 37), Jesus Christ. By implication he is also the enemy of Christ's followers.

Believers have human enemies, spiritually opposed to them

See also:

- God's people are hated, p. 1985
- God's people may face plots against them, p. 1986

Believers have human enemies who are opposed to them in regard to spiritual matters – notably in seeking to prevent the spread of the gospel and/or in seeking to impose their own opposing beliefs.

Matt 10:35-36 For I have come to set a man against his father, and a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law. ³⁶And a person's enemies will be those of his own household.

Here Jesus quotes Micah 7:6 in emphasizing that as a result of following him, Christians may face hostility even from family members.

John 15:19-20 If you were of the world, the world would love you as its own; but because you are not of the world, but I chose you out of the world, therefore the world hates you. ²⁰Remember the word that I said to you: 'A servant is not greater than his master.' If they persecuted me, they will also persecute you. If they kept my word, they will also keep yours.

The "world" (cf. James 4:4 ↓) is the flawed, ungodly world order – including ungodly people – which is under Satan's control and opposed to God. Those who are of the "world" often hate and even persecute Christians.

1Cor 16:8-9 But I will stay in Ephesus until Pentecost, ⁹for a wide door for effective work has opened to me, and there are many adversaries.

Phil 1:27-28 Only let your manner of life be worthy^b of the gospel of Christ, so that whether I come and see you or am absent, I may hear of you that you are standing firm in one spirit, with one mind striving side by side for the faith of the gospel, ²⁸and not frightened in anything by your opponents. This is a clear sign to them of their destruction, but of your salvation, and that from God.

^b Greek Only behave as citizens worthy

Heb 12:3-4 Consider him who endured from sinners such hostility against himself, so that you may not grow weary or fainthearted. ⁴*In your struggle against sin you have not yet resisted to the point of shedding your blood.*

In view of v. 3 and the reference to shedding blood (v. 4b), "sin" (v. 4a) appears to primarily be referring to sinful forces, notably physical enemies. However, the use of "sin" may also allude to believers' own internal fight against temptation and sin.

James 4:4 You adulterous people!^c Do you not know that friendship with the world is enmity with God? Therefore whoever wishes to be a friend of the world makes himself an enemy of God.

^c Greek You adulteresses!

This implies that all that is in the “world” – including those who are of it – are enemies of God and by implication of God’s people.

Ps 38:19 But my foes are vigorous, they are mighty, and many are those who hate me wrongfully.

The psalmists often speak of their enemies, some of whom it would appear were antagonistic towards them in part because of the psalmists’ relationship with God.

Believers face internal spiritual conflict

See also:

- Heb 12:4

Although opposing spiritual forces are understood to at least at times play a role in internal spiritual conflicts that believers face, these internal conflicts are in no small part due to the sinful human nature – as shown in the following verses.

Rom 7:21-23 So I find it to be a law that when I want to do right, evil lies close at hand. ²²For I delight in the law of God, in my inner being, ²³but I see in my members another law waging war against the law of my mind and making me captive to the law of sin that dwells in my members.

Even though believers desire to do what is right, they face conflict with the controlling power of sin – the “law” or controlling principle of sin (v. 23). Note, however, that there is some debate amongst commentators as to whether Paul is talking here of his Christian or his pre-Christian experience.

Gal 5:17 For the desires of the flesh are against the Spirit, and the desires of the Spirit are against the flesh, for these are opposed to each other, to keep you from doing the things you want to do.

The opposing desires of the sinful nature and the Holy Spirit, who indwells believers, produce spiritual conflict within believers. Note that the final clause is probably speaking of the influence of the sinful nature in hindering one from doing the good one wants to do – in conflict with the Holy Spirit. Alternatively, it possibly could be speaking of the Spirit helping us to not indulge the desires that we naturally want to fulfill.

Rom 8:13 For if you live according to the flesh you will die, but if by the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body, you will live.

Through the Holy Spirit believers are to keep killing off the tendencies and actions of our sinful beings.

1Pet 2:11 Beloved, I urge you as sojourners and exiles to abstain from the passions of the flesh, which wage war against your soul.

James 4:1 What causes quarrels and what causes fights among you? Is it not this, that your passions^d are at war within you?^e

^d Greek pleasures; also verse 3

^e Greek in your members

God and Jesus Christ aid believers in spiritual warfare, enabling them to overcome

Luke 10:19-20 Behold, I have given you authority to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy, and nothing shall hurt you. ²⁰Nevertheless, do not rejoice in this, that the spirits are subject to you, but rejoice that your names are written in heaven.

Here “serpents and scorpions” (v. 19) most likely is a reference to evil spirits (v. 20). The “enemy” is Satan (cf. CEV). There is disagreement among commentators as to whether this authority was only given primarily to the disciples or is more widely applicable.

Rom 8:31, 35-39 What then shall we say to these things? If God is for us, who can be^f against us?  ... ³⁵Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? Shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or danger, or sword? ³⁶As it is written, “For your sake we are being killed all the day long; we are regarded as sheep to be slaughtered.” ³⁷No, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him who loved us. ³⁸*For I am sure that neither death nor life, nor angels nor rulers, nor things present nor things to come, nor powers,* ³⁹*nor height nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord.*

^f Or who is

Verse 31b implies that if God is for us then no one can effectively oppose us. It would appear that “all these things” (v. 37) includes the aspects of spiritual warfare mentioned – such as persecution and threat of being killed (vv. 35-36) and also demonic “powers” (v. 38).

Rom 16:20 The God of peace will soon crush Satan under your feet. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

2Cor 2:14 But thanks be to God, who in Christ always leads us in triumphal procession, and through us spreads the fragrance of the knowledge of him everywhere.

The “triumphal procession” alludes to Roman triumphs, where a victorious general would lead his soldiers and captives in a parade, accompanied by the fragrance of incenses. Similarly, God triumphantly leads believers in Christ, and through them spreads the fragrance of the message of Christ.

2Tim 4:18 The Lord will rescue me from every evil deed and bring me safely into his heavenly kingdom. To him be the glory forever and ever. Amen.

The term translated here as “evil deed” is sometimes rendered “evil attack” (NIV®, NLT, NRSV; cf. AMP).

1Jn 4:4 Little children, you are from God and have overcome them, for he who is in you is greater than he who is in the world.

The reference is to overcoming false prophets or teachers.

Isa 54:15, 17 If anyone stirs up strife, it is not from me; whoever stirs up strife with you shall fall because of you. ... ¹⁷no weapon that is fashioned against you shall succeed, and you shall confute every tongue that rises against you in judgment. This is the heritage of the servants of the LORD and their vindication^g from me, declares the LORD.

^g Or righteousness

These promises are made to Jerusalem in its time of future renewal. Arguably, they are applicable at least in a spiritual sense to believers of all ages.

† God has even given believers victory over death:

1Cor 15:54-57 When the perishable puts on the imperishable, and the mortal puts on immortality, then shall come to pass the saying that is written: “Death is swallowed up in victory.” ⁵⁵“O death, where is your victory? O death, where is your sting?” ⁵⁶The sting of death is sin, and the power of sin is the law. ⁵⁷But thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

God has even given us victory over death by what he has done for us in Jesus Christ, releasing us from the law and so nullifying the power of sin with its consequences, principally death.

b) Engaging in Spiritual Warfare

Believers are to engage in spiritual warfare both in standing firm in their faith and in advancing the cause of God’s kingdom. Generally speaking, the former has a defensive sense and the latter an offensive sense.

Matt 10:16-17 Behold, I am sending you out as sheep in the midst of wolves, so be wise as serpents and innocent as doves. ¹⁷Beware of men, for they will deliver you over to courts and flog you in their synagogues, ...

Verse 16a illustrates the need to be alert to opponents (v. 17a) – as does (v. 17b). The two directives in v. 16b similarly reflect this need.

Luke 12:1 In the meantime, when so many thousands of the people had gathered together that they were trampling one another, he began to say to his disciples first, “Beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy.”

Jesus is warning his disciples to guard against being fooled by and/or falling into the hypocritical ways of the Pharisees.

Luke 12:15 And he said to them, “Take care, and be on your guard against all covetousness, for one’s life does not consist in the abundance of his possessions.”

Resist Satan

James 4:7 Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you.

1Pet 5:9 Resist him, firm in your faith, knowing that the same kinds of suffering are being experienced by your brotherhood throughout the world.

To encourage his readers to stand firm amidst sufferings he appears to associate with Satan, Peter points out that fellow believers are also undergoing such sufferings. In resisting Satan, believers should draw strength in the knowledge that they are not alone, but part of a fellowship of suffering believers.

Matt 4:10-11 Then Jesus said to him, “Be gone, Satan! For it is written, “You shall worship the Lord your God and him only shall you serve.” ¹¹*Then the devil left him, and behold, angels came and were ministering to him.*

Jesus provides an excellent example (cf. vv. 3-9) of effectively resisting Satan.

Eph 4:26-27 Be angry and do not sin; do not let the sun go down on your anger, ²⁷and give no opportunity to the devil.

Anger is not always in itself sinful, but anger should not be allowed to linger, as it makes one susceptible to Satan's schemes. In resisting Satan we should not entertain anything that might give Satan an opportunity.

1Jn 2:13 I am writing to you, fathers, because you know him who is from the beginning. I am writing to you, young men, because you have overcome the evil one. I write to you, children, because you know the Father.

The clause “you have overcome the evil one” may be referring to: primarily the believer's victory over Satan and evil through being in Jesus Christ and sharing in his victory; and/or victories in ongoing combat with Satan. The believers in question serve as encouraging examples of ones who have successfully resisted and overcome Satan.

Use spiritual weapons and armor

Eph 6:10-15 Finally, be strong in the Lord and in the strength of his might. ¹¹*Put on the whole armor of God, that you may be able to stand against the schemes of the devil.* ¹²For we do not wrestle against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the cosmic powers over this present darkness, against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly places. ¹³Therefore take up the whole armor of God, that you may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand firm. ¹⁴*Stand therefore, having fastened on the belt of truth, and having put on the breastplate of righteousness,* ¹⁵*and, as shoes for your feet, having put on the readiness given by the gospel of peace.*

In v. 15, “the readiness given by the gospel of peace” may well speak of a readiness to proclaim the gospel (cf. CEV, GNT, NRSV), a readiness produced in us by its message. The gospel produces such readiness by its wonderful good news, along with its warnings – both of which should inspire and motivate us to tell others.

2Cor 6:7 ... by truthful speech, and the power of God; with the weapons of righteousness for the right hand and for the left; ...

The term “weapons of righteousness” is often understood as a reference to the spiritual power and protection given by a life of righteousness and integrity – “right living” (NCV™, cf. CEV, GNT, NLT). However some see it as possibly referring to “weapons” associated with the righteousness believers have in God's sight (through being justified and deemed righteous). These would include other spiritual weapons spoken of in this and the following subsections. Note that although “truthful speech” is not specifically presented as such here, truth is portrayed as a spiritual weapon elsewhere (cf. Eph 6:14 ↑).

2Cor 10:3-5 For though we walk in the flesh, we are not waging war according to the flesh. ⁴*For the weapons of our warfare are not of the flesh but have divine power to destroy strongholds.* ⁵*We destroy arguments and every lofty opinion* raised against the knowledge of God, and take every thought captive to obey Christ, ...

Paul used such weapons as proclaiming the gospel, prayer and faith – weapons involving God’s divine power (v. 4; cf. 2Cor 6:7 ↑) – to demolish opposition to God. In doing so he took “captive” for Christ “every thought” (v. 5) of people, bringing their thinking in line with the gospel.

Rom 13:12 The night is far gone; the day is at hand. So then let us cast off the works of darkness and put on the armor of light.

“The night” refers to this age that is so characterized by spiritual darkness. In saying that it “is far gone”, the thought may be that it “is far spent”, running out of power – and “almost gone” (NASB, NLT; cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV). The phrase “the day” probably refers to the age to come (cf. NCV text note) – though some understand it to more specifically refer to the day of Christ’s return (cf. NIRV). As we look forward to “the day” we should arm ourselves with godly spiritual attitudes and actions that are characteristic of God’s spiritual light.

1Thes 5:8 But since we belong to the day, let us be sober, having put on the breastplate of faith and love, and for a helmet the hope of salvation.

The “hope of salvation” gives confidence and encouragement during the battle. Note that the use of “the day” is similar to that in Romans 13:12 above, but probably speaks more generally of God’s spiritual light and realm in its present form.

2Tim 1:14 By the Holy Spirit who dwells within us, guard the good deposit entrusted to you.

1Pet 4:1 Since therefore Christ suffered in the flesh,ⁱ arm yourselves with the same way of thinking, for whoever has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin, ...

ⁱ Some manuscripts add for us; some for you

Believers are to “arm” themselves with the same attitude as Jesus Christ had in the face suffering (cf. 2:19-23) – a steely resolve to do God’s will, being willing to patiently endure suffering.

1Sam 17:45 Then David said to the Philistine, “You come to me with a sword and with a spear and with a javelin, but I come to you in the name of the LORD of hosts, the God of the armies of Israel, whom you have defied.”

As opposed to simply relying on physical weapons, David had come to fight in God’s name – on God’s authority and in reliance on his power.

✦ Reference to God putting on armor and garments for battle:

Isa 59:17-18 He put on righteousness as a breastplate, and a helmet of salvation on his head; he put on garments of vengeance for clothing, and wrapped himself in zeal as a cloak. ¹⁸According to their deeds, so will he repay, wrath to his adversaries, repayment to his enemies; to the coastlands he will render repayment.

The above NT references to putting on spiritual armor may well have been inspired by v. 17.

Spiritual weapons and armor include: faith; . . .

In v. 19 “faith” appears to be referring to one’s faith in God – as reflected in most modern translations – although some commentators understand it to be speaking of “the faith”, the body of Christian truth. Note, never underestimate the importance for spiritual warfare of “a good conscience” (v. 19a).

1Pet 1:3-5 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ! According to his great mercy, he has caused us to be born again to a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, ⁴to an inheritance that is imperishable, undefiled, and unfading, kept in heaven for you, ⁵*who by God’s power are being guarded through faith* for a salvation ready to be revealed in the last time.

1Pet 5:9 Resist him, firm in your faith, knowing that the same kinds of suffering are being experienced by your brotherhood throughout the world.

Christians are to stand against Satan by faith in God.

1Jn 5:3-5 For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments. And his commandments are not burdensome. ⁴*For everyone who has been born of God overcomes the world. And this is the victory that has overcome* the world—our faith. ⁵Who is it that overcomes the world except the one who believes that Jesus is the Son of God?

To “overcome the world” means to rise above its sinful way of life. This victory is our faith (v. 4) – or won through our faith, “by means of our faith” (GNT) – which is essentially believing that Jesus is the Son of God (v. 5) and acting accordingly.

Heb 11:32-34 And what more shall I say? For time would fail me to tell of Gideon, Barak, Samson, Jephthah, of David and Samuel and the prophets— ³³who through faith conquered kingdoms, enforced justice, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions, ³⁴*quenched the power of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, were made strong out of weakness, became mighty in war, put foreign armies to flight.*

Physical engagements (cf. Ps 27:1-3 ↓) are generally, at least in a sense, a manifestation or product of spiritual warfare – and likewise should be undertaken in faith.

Rev 12:11 And they have conquered him by the blood of the Lamb and by the word of their testimony, for they loved not their lives even unto death.

This appears to be saying that the believers in question overcame Satan by their belief in and testimony to Jesus Christ’s death and its outcomes. Such an inference is applicable to all believers in their conflict with Satan.

Ps 27:1-3 The LORD is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The LORD is the stronghold^j of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? ²When evildoers assail me to eat up my flesh, my adversaries and foes, it is they who stumble and fall. ³Though an army encamp against me, my heart shall not fear; though war arise against me, yet^k I will be confident.

^j Or refuge

^k Or in this

At the prospect of facing physical enemies, David shows exemplary faith. Believers should show such faith when facing (or amidst) any conflict.

... God’s word; ...

Eph 6:17 ... and take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God, ...

The description of God’s word as “the sword of the Spirit” reflects its: power; offensive and defensive roles; spiritual nature; and importance to the work of the Holy Spirit. Note that the “helmet of salvation” may well have in view the hope of salvation (cf. 1Thes 5:8).

Heb 4:12 For the word of God is living and active, sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing to the division of soul and of spirit, of joints and of marrow, and discerning the thoughts and intentions of the heart.

This is indicative of the potency of God’s word as a spiritual weapon.

1Jn 2:14 I write to you, fathers, because you know him who is from the beginning. I write to you, young men, because you are strong, and the word of God abides in you, and you have overcome the evil one.

Although not stated directly, this may well be implying that the word of God living in these people was a significant factor in them overcoming Satan.

Matt 4:3-11 And the tempter came and said to him, “If you are the Son of God, command these stones to become loaves of bread.” ⁴*But he answered, “It is written, “Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that comes from the mouth of God.”* ⁵Then the devil took him to the holy city and set him on the pinnacle of the temple ⁶and said to him, “If you are the Son of God, throw yourself down, for it is written, “He will command his angels concerning you,’ and “On their hands they will bear you up, lest you strike your foot against a stone.” ⁷*Jesus said to him, “Again it is written, ‘You shall not put the Lord your God to the test.’”* ⁸Again, the devil took him to a very high mountain and showed him all the kingdoms of the world and their glory. ⁹And he said to him, “All these I will give you, if you will fall down and worship me.” ¹⁰*Then Jesus said to him, “Be gone, Satan! For it is written, “You shall worship the Lord your God and him only shall you serve.”* ¹¹Then the devil left him, and behold, angels came and were ministering to him.

Three times Satan tempts Jesus and each time Jesus uses God’s word to rebuff Satan. Note that Satan is himself prepared to use God’s word (v. 6), misconstruing it, in tempting people.

Ps 119:98, 110, 114 Your commandment makes me wiser than my enemies, for it is ever with me. ... ¹¹⁰*The wicked have laid a snare for me, but I do not stray from your precepts.* ... ¹¹⁴*You are my hiding place and my shield; I hope in your word.*

God’s word makes one wiser than one’s enemies (v. 98). It also enables one to escape spiritual snares that one’s enemies may set, as arguably can be inferred from v. 110. Verse 114 indicates that the fact that God is the believer’s hiding place and shield in the face of adversaries, gives good reason to base one’s hope on his word.

... and prayer

Eph 6:18 ... praying at all times in the Spirit, with all prayer and supplication. To that end keep alert with all perseverance, making supplication for all the saints, ...

In the face of evil (cf. vv. 11, 13), believers should keep on praying – not just for themselves but for “all the saints”.

Matt 6:13 And lead us not into temptation, but *deliver us from evil!*¹

¹ Or the evil one; some manuscripts add For yours is the kingdom and the power and the glory, forever. Amen

We should ask God to deliver us from all forms of evil – including Satan (cf. text note). The fact that this request is part of the “Lord’s Prayer” is indicative of the prominence such requests should have in our prayers.

Luke 22:31-32 “Simon, Simon, behold, Satan demanded to have you,^m that he might sift you like wheat, ³²but I have prayed for you that your faith may not fail. And when you have turned again, strengthen your brothers.”

^mThe Greek word for you (twice in this verse) is plural; in verse 32, all four instances are singular

Jesus’ prayers for his followers against Satan’s attacks (cf. John 17:15 ↓) illustrate that we also should pray for the spiritual protection of ourselves and other believers.

John 17:15 I do not ask that you take them out of the world, but that you *keep them from the evil one.*ⁿ

ⁿ Or from evil

Phil 4:6-7 ... do not be anxious about anything, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God. ⁷And the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus.

Prayer leads to God’s peace which will “guard” our hearts and minds.

Ps 35:1-3 Contend, O LORD, with those who contend with me; fight against those who fight against me! ²Take hold of shield and buckler and rise for my help! ³Draw the spear and javelin^o against my pursuers! Say to my soul, “I am your salvation!”

^o Or and close the way

Here and in 55:16-18 below, David’s prayers regarding physical warfare are eminently applicable to spiritual warfare. There are no doubt other such examples.

Ps 55:16-18 But I call to God, and the LORD will save me. ¹⁷Evening and morning and at noon I utter my complaint and moan, and he hears my voice. ¹⁸He redeems my soul in safety from the battle that I wage, for many are arrayed against me.

Distinguishing between the Holy Spirit and demons

See also:

- e\) Guarding against False Teachers, p. 1529

Even within the church a person operating with marked powers or abilities is not necessarily gifted by the Holy Spirit. The person may instead be possessed or under the influence of a demon (or evil spirit), empowering him or her. Thus churches need to be able to determine whether the Holy Spirit or an evil spirit is at work in such a person. Guidelines regarding how to do this are given below in 1 Corinthians 12:3 and 1 John 4:2-3, 6. However the fact that 1 Corinthians 12:10 below speaks of a spiritual gift of “distinguishing between spirits” indicates that at least at times a person with this gift is required.

1Cor 12:1-3 Now concerning^p spiritual gifts,^q brothers,^r I do not want you to be uninformed. ²You know that when you were pagans you were led astray to mute idols, however you were led. ³Therefore I want you to understand that no one speaking in the Spirit of God ever says "Jesus is accursed!" and no one can say "Jesus is Lord" except in the Holy Spirit.

^p The expression Now concerning introduces a reply to a question in the Corinthians' letter; see 7:1

^q Or spiritual persons

^r Or brothers and sisters

In the context of discussing spiritual gifts (v. 1; cf. vv. 7-11, 27-31) and with the reference in v. 2 to being influenced and led astray to worship idols, in v. 3 Paul quite likely has distinguishing between the Holy Spirit and evil spirits in view. Evil spirits will typically not allow a person to openly acknowledge Jesus Christ as Lord, instead evoking cursing of him.

1Jn 4:1-3 Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, for many false prophets have gone out into the world. ²*By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God*, ³*and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist*, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already.

Here "spirit" refers to a spirit influencing a person. Having in view a particular heresy that was facing his readers, John indicates that they could tell if the spirit in a prophet (v. 1; CEV, GNT, NLT) is the Holy Spirit or an evil one by whether or not the prophet acknowledged Jesus Christ, in particular whether they acknowledged that he had come in the flesh. To do so would be indicative of the Holy Spirit's enlightenment and conviction. Presumably this test for recognizing the Holy Spirit can be applied to other biblical truths about Jesus Christ (cf. 1Cor 12:3 ↑).

1Jn 4:6 We are from God. Whoever knows God listens to us; whoever is not from God does not listen to us. By this we know the Spirit of truth and the spirit of error.

We can infer from this that teachers who do not listen to the teachings of the apostles are not from God and are under the influence of evil spirits.

✦ The spiritual gift of being able to distinguish between spirits:

1Cor 12:7-8, 10 To each is given the manifestation of the Spirit for the common good. ⁸For to one is given through the Spirit the utterance of wisdom, and to another the utterance of knowledge according to the same Spirit,  ... ¹⁰to another the working of miracles, to another prophecy, to another the ability to distinguish between spirits, to another various kinds of tongues, to another the interpretation of tongues.

Mark 9:25-27 And when Jesus saw that a crowd came running together, he rebuked the unclean spirit, saying to it, "You mute and deaf spirit, I command you, come out of him and never enter him again." ²⁶*And after crying out and convulsing him terribly, it came out*, and the boy was like a corpse, so that most of them said, "He is dead." ²⁷But Jesus took him by the hand and lifted him up, and he arose.

Mark 16:9 Now when he rose early on the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene, from whom he had cast out seven demons.

. . . Jesus Christ gave some of his followers similar authority over demons

The following verses show that Jesus gave his disciples and the seventy-two referred to in Luke 10:17-20 authority over demons – as God similarly did with Paul (Acts 19:11-12 ↓). These verses do not imply that this authority is necessarily given to all believers.

Mark 6:7, 13 And he called the twelve and began to send them out two by two, and gave them authority over the unclean spirits. ... ¹³And they cast out many demons and anointed with oil many who were sick and healed them.

Luke 9:1 And he called the twelve together and gave them power and authority over all demons and to cure diseases, ...

Luke 10:17-20 The seventy-two returned with joy, saying, “Lord, even the demons are subject to us in your name!” ¹⁸And he said to them, “I saw Satan fall like lightning from heaven. ¹⁹Behold, I have given you authority to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy, and nothing shall hurt you. ²⁰Nevertheless, do not rejoice in this, that the spirits are subject to you, but rejoice that your names are written in heaven.”

As noted earlier, “serpents and scorpions” (v. 19) probably speaks figuratively of demons or evil spirits, referred to in vv. 17, 20. The “enemy” (v. 19) is Satan.

Acts 5:12a, 16 Now many signs and wonders were regularly done among the people by the hands of the apostles. ... ¹⁶The people also gathered from the towns around Jerusalem, bringing the sick and those afflicted with unclean spirits, and they were all healed.

Acts 8:6-7 And the crowds with one accord paid attention to what was being said by Philip when they heard him and saw the signs that he did. ⁷For unclean spirits, crying out with a loud voice, came out of many who had them, and many who were paralyzed or lame were healed.

‡ Similarly, God drove out demons through Paul:

Acts 19:11-12 And God was doing extraordinary miracles by the hands of Paul, ¹²so that even handkerchiefs or aprons that had touched his skin were carried away to the sick, and their diseases left them and the evil spirits came out of them.

Demons are driven out of people in Jesus Christ’s “name”

See also:

- Luke 10:17 ↑

To drive out demons in Jesus Christ’s “name” is usually understood to mean to do so with his authority. For a fuller explanation of what doing things “in the name of Jesus Christ” means, see . . . Do God’s work in the “name” of Jesus Christ, p. 1418.

Mark 9:38-40 John said to him, “Teacher, we saw someone casting out demons in your name,” and we tried to stop him, because he was not following us.” ³⁹But Jesus said, “Do not stop him, for no one who does a mighty work in my name will be able soon afterward to speak evil of me. ⁴⁰For the one who is not against us is for us.

‡ Some manuscripts add who does not follow us

Mark 16:17 And these signs will accompany those who believe: in my name they will cast out demons; they will speak in new tongues; ...

Acts 16:16-18 As we were going to the place of prayer, we were met by a slave girl who had a spirit of divination and brought her owners much gain by fortune-telling. ¹⁷She followed Paul and us, crying out, “These men are servants^w of the Most High God, who proclaim to you the way of salvation.” ¹⁸And this she kept doing for many days. Paul, having become greatly annoyed, turned and said to the spirit, “I command you in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her.” And it came out that very hour.

‡ Jesus Christ’s name cannot be used by just anyone as a mere formula to drive out demons:

Acts 19:13-17 Then some of the itinerant Jewish exorcists undertook to invoke the name of the Lord Jesus over those who had evil spirits, saying, “I adjure you by the Jesus whom Paul proclaims.” ¹⁴Seven sons of a Jewish high priest named Sceva were doing this. ¹⁵But the evil spirit answered them, “Jesus I know, and Paul I recognize, but who are you?” ¹⁶And the man in whom was the evil spirit leaped on them, mastered all^x of them and overpowered them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded. ¹⁷And this became known to all the residents of Ephesus, both Jews and Greeks. And fear fell upon them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was extolled.

^x Or both

This illustrates that Jesus Christ’s name cannot be used by just anyone as a mere formula or cliché to drive out demons. Although it is not specifically listed in the NT as a spiritual gift, the ability to drive out demons may be one. The Jews here attempting to drive out the demon may not even have been followers of Jesus Christ. Any previous success they may have had (cf. v. 13) would appear not to have been actually through Jesus Christ and his authority.

The Holy Spirit, faith and prayer also figure in the driving out of demons

Matt 12:28 But if it is by the Spirit of God that I cast out demons, then the kingdom of God has come upon you.

Matt 17:18-20 And Jesus rebuked the demon,^y and it^z came out of him, and the boy was healed instantly.^a ¹⁹Then the disciples came to Jesus privately and said, “Why could we not cast it out?” ²⁰He said to them, “Because of your little faith. ^c Some manuscripts add and fasting

Some commentators see Jesus’ reply as implying that the disciples had become somewhat self-reliant in the light of their past success at casting out demons, no longer relying prayerfully on God’s power. Alternatively, on face value Jesus’ reply indicates that certain kinds of demons can only be driven out by actually praying. Note that the text note points to a need for fasting along with prayer.

d) Ungodly Spiritualistic Practices

In conjunction with engaging in spiritual warfare, we are not to engage in any ungodly spiritualistic practices, which ultimately involve cooperative interaction with demons and even Satan.

Do not practice witchcraft or other occult practices

Lev 19:26 You shall not eat any flesh with the blood in it. You shall not interpret omens or tell fortunes.

Deut 18:10-12 There shall not be found among you anyone who burns his son or his daughter as an offering,^d anyone who practices divination or tells fortunes or interprets omens, or a sorcerer¹¹ or a charmer or a medium or a necromancer or one who inquires of the dead,¹² for whoever does these things is an abomination to the LORD. And because of these abominations the LORD your God is driving them out before you.

^d Hebrew makes his son or his daughter pass through the fire

Divination (v. 10) involves seeking knowledge of events that cannot be gained through normal means – future events or ones otherwise indiscernible. Sorcery (v. 10) is practicing magic, particularly through spirits; it is essentially witchcraft. A medium (v. 11) is a person who communicates with spirits on behalf of others. Similarly, a necromancer (v. 11) is one who claims to communicate with the dead, particularly in order to predict the future. Verse 12b points out that such practices were the reason why the nations of Canaan were to be driven out.

1Sam 15:23 For rebellion is as the sin of divination, and presumption is as iniquity and idolatry. Because you have rejected the word of the LORD, he has also rejected you from being king.

Isa 2:6 For you have rejected your people, the house of Jacob, because they are full of things from the east and of fortune-tellers like the Philistines, and they strike hands with the children of foreigners. 📖

The “things from the east” appear to be ones associated with magic practices (cf. GNT, NLT). Note that although not stated explicitly, both here and in the following reference (47:9, 12) God’s disapproval of the practices in question is implicit.

Isa 47:9, 12 These two things shall come to you in a moment, in one day; the loss of children and widowhood shall come upon you in full measure, in spite of your many sorceries and the great power of your enchantments. 📖 ... ¹²*Stand fast in your enchantments and your many sorceries, with which you have labored from your youth; perhaps you may be able to succeed; perhaps you may inspire terror*. 📖

Verse 12 is spoken with sarcasm.

Jer 8:2 And they shall be spread before the sun and the moon and all the host of heaven, which they have loved and served, which they have gone after, and which they have sought and worshiped. And they shall not be gathered or buried. They shall be as dung on the surface of the ground. 📖

This appears to be speaking of the practice of astrology (cf. Isa 47:13-15 ↓) – and related acts – effectively denouncing astrology.

Ezek 13:20 Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: Behold, I am against your magic bands with which you hunt the souls like birds, and I will tear them from your arms, and I will let the souls whom you hunt go free, the souls like birds. 📖

The “magic bands” – such as wristbands – were presumably given or sold to people, bringing them under the influence of the false prophetesses being addressed.

Mal 3:5 Then I will draw near to you for judgment. I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, against the adulterers, against those who swear falsely, against those who oppress the hired worker in his wages, the widow and the fatherless, against those who thrust aside the sojourner, and do not fear me, says the LORD of hosts. 📖

Acts 19:19 And a number of those who had practiced magic arts brought their books together and burned them in the sight of all. And they counted the value of them and found it came to fifty thousand pieces of silver. 📖

Gal 5:19-21 Now the works of the flesh are evident: sexual immorality, impurity, sensuality, ²⁰*idolatry, sorcery*, enmity, strife, jealousy, fits of anger, rivalries, dissensions, divisions, ²¹*envy*,^e drunkenness, orgies, and things like these. I warn you, as I warned you before, that those who do such things will not inherit the kingdom of God. 📖

^e Some manuscripts add murder

Idolatry and sorcery are mentioned together here (cf. 1Sam 15:23 ↑; Rev 21:8 ↓), suggestive that idolatry and occult practices both have a spiritual aspect. It also illustrates that the two are often linked.

Rev 21:8 But as for the cowardly, the faithless, the detestable, as for murderers, the sexually immoral, sorcerers, idolaters, and all liars, their portion will be in the lake that burns with fire and sulfur, which is the second death. 📖

✚ Related practices to avoid:

Lev 19:28 You shall not make any cuts on your body for the dead or tattoo yourselves: I am the LORD. 📖

The forbidding of tattoos – along with cutting of the body – primarily had in view the significance of this in the pagan rituals of Israel’s neighbors. Some also see the practice of tattooing as disfiguring our bodies which were made in God’s likeness and so dishonoring to God; thus they see this command as a timeless one.

Do not consult anyone who does perform occult practices

Lev 19:31 Do not turn to mediums or necromancers; do not seek them out, and so make yourselves unclean by them: I am the LORD your God. 📖

Note that looking to spirits for help – through mediums or spiritists – demonstrates a lack of trust in God and unfaithfulness to him.

Lev 20:6 If a person turns to mediums and necromancers, whoring after them, I will set my face against that person and will cut him off from among his people. 📖

Deut 18:14 ... for these nations, which you are about to dispossess, listen to fortune-tellers and to diviners. But as for you, the LORD your God has not allowed you to do this. 📖

1Chr 10:13-14 So Saul died for his breach of faith. He broke faith with the LORD in that he did not keep the command of the LORD, and also consulted a medium, seeking guidance. ¹⁴He did not seek guidance from the LORD. Therefore the LORD put him to death and turned the kingdom over to David the son of Jesse. 📖

Isa 8:19 And when they say to you, “Inquire of the mediums and the necromancers who chirp and mutter,” should not a people inquire of their God? Should they inquire of the dead on behalf of the living?

Isa 47:13-15 You are wearied with your many counsels; let them stand forth and save you, those who divide the heavens, who gaze at the stars, who at the new moons make known what shall come upon you. ¹⁴Behold, they are like stubble; the fire consumes them; they cannot deliver themselves from the power of the flame. No coal for warming oneself is this, no fire to sit before! ¹⁵Such to you are those with whom you have labored, who have done business with you from your youth; they wander about, each in his own direction; there is no one to save you.

The last statement in v. 14 appears to reinforce the uselessness of astrologers, as per the theme of the subsequent verse (v. 15). They are not like coal or fire that is useful for warming people. Rather, as the prior statements in v. 14 imply, they themselves will be consumed in the fire of God’s judgment.

Zec 10:2 For the household gods utter nonsense, and the diviners see lies; they tell false dreams and give empty consolation. Therefore the people wander like sheep; they are afflicted for lack of a shepherd.

This points to the falseness and so also the unreliability of diviners.

Do not have other “gods” or idols

Ex 20:2-6, 23 I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery. ³“You shall have no other gods before^f me. ⁴“You shall not make for yourself a carved image, or any likeness of anything that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth. ⁵You shall not bow down to them or serve them, for I the LORD your God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers on the children to the third and the fourth generation of those who hate me, ⁶but showing steadfast love to thousands^g of those who love me and keep my commandments.  ... ²³You shall not make gods of silver to be with me, nor shall you make for yourselves gods of gold.

^f Or besides

^g Or to the thousandth generation

The importance of the above verses is highlighted by the fact that they involve the first two of the Ten Commandments. Note that unlike the first commandment (v. 3), a number of commentators interpret the second (vv. 4-5) to be concerned more with how we worship, rather than just with who (or what) we worship. As God is spiritual and invisible, any visual representation of him is necessarily false – hence it is wrong to use any in worship of God (cf. Deut 4:15-18 ↓). However, it still may be that worship of other “gods” is primarily in view.

Ex 23:13, 23-24 Pay attention to all that I have said to you, and make no mention of the names of other gods, nor let it be heard on your lips.  ... ²³“When my angel goes before you and brings you to the Amorites and the Hittites and the Perizzites and the Canaanites, the Hivites and the Jebusites, and I blot them out, ²⁴you shall not bow down to their gods nor serve them, nor do as they do, but you shall utterly overthrow them and break their pillars in pieces.

2Ki 17:35 The LORD made a covenant with them and commanded them, “You shall not fear other gods or bow yourselves to them or serve them or sacrifice to them, ...

Ps 81:9 There shall be no strange god among you; you shall not bow down to a foreign god.

Ps 44:20-21 If we had forgotten the name of our God or spread out our hands to a foreign god, ²¹would not God discover this? For he knows the secrets of the heart.

Deut 4:15-18 Therefore watch yourselves very carefully. Since you saw no form on the day that the LORD spoke to you at Horeb out of the midst of the fire, ¹⁶beware lest you act corruptly by making a carved image for yourselves, in the form of any figure, the likeness of male or female, ¹⁷the likeness of any animal that is on the earth, the likeness of any winged bird that flies in the air, ¹⁸the likeness of anything that creeps on the ground, the likeness of any fish that is in the water under the earth.

Hos 14:3, 8 Assyria shall not save us; we will not ride on horses; and we will say no more, ‘Our God,’ to the work of our hands. In you the orphan finds mercy.”  ... ⁸O Ephraim, what have I to do with idols? It is I who answer and look after you.^h I am like an evergreen cypress; from me comes your fruit.

^h Hebrew him

The rhetorical question in v. 8 is in essence exhorting Israel to have nothing more to do with idols (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NLT).

1Cor 10:7, 14 Do not be idolaters as some of them were; as it is written, “The people sat down to eat and drink and rose up to play.” ... ¹⁴*Therefore, my beloved, flee from idolatry.*

1Jn 5:21 Little children, keep yourselves from idols.

✦ Do not worship any other thing:

Job 31:26-28 ... if I have looked at the sunⁱ when it shone, or the moon moving in splendor,²⁷ and my heart has been secretly enticed, and my mouth has kissed my hand,²⁸ this also would be an iniquity to be punished by the judges, for I would have been false to God above.

ⁱ Hebrew the light

The last clause of v. 27 appears to refer to offering a kiss of homage (cf. GNT, NCV, NIV).

Isa 44:12-20 The ironsmith takes a cutting tool and works it over the coals. He fashions it with hammers and works it with his strong arm. He becomes hungry, and his strength fails; he drinks no water and is faint.¹³ The carpenter stretches a line; he marks it out with a pencil.¹⁴ He shapes it with planes and marks it with a compass. He shapes it into the figure of a man, with the beauty of a man, to dwell in a house.¹⁴ He cuts down cedars, or he chooses a cypress tree or an oak and lets it grow strong among the trees of the forest. He plants a cedar and the rain nourishes it.¹⁵ Then it becomes fuel for a man. He takes a part of it and warms himself; he kindles a fire and bakes bread. Also he makes a god and worships it; he makes it an idol and falls down before it.¹⁶ Half of it he burns in the fire. Over the half he eats meat; he roasts it and is satisfied. Also he warms himself and says, “Aha, I am warm, I have seen the fire!”¹⁷ And the rest of it he makes into a god, his idol, and falls down to it and worships it. He prays to it and says, “Deliver me, for you are my god!”¹⁸ They know not, nor do they discern, for he has shut their eyes, so that they cannot see, and their hearts, so that they cannot understand.¹⁹ No one considers, nor is there knowledge or discernment to say, “Half of it I burned in the fire; I also baked bread on its coals; I roasted meat and have eaten. And shall I make the rest of it an abomination? Shall I fall down before a block of wood?”²⁰ He feeds on ashes; a deluded heart has led him astray, and he cannot deliver himself or say, “Is there not a lie in my right hand?”

Any idea that idols are real is a delusion or a lie (v. 20; Jer 10:14 ; Isa 41:29), which should be obvious in view of what they are made from (v. 19).

1Cor 8:4 Therefore, as to the eating of food offered to idols, we know that “an idol has no real existence,” and that “there is no God but one.”

Gal 4:8 Formerly, when you did not know God, you were enslaved to those that by nature are not gods.

The reference in the last clause is to supposed gods, who are in fact non-existent (CEV, NCV, NLT).

... Other "gods" and idols are useless

1Sam 12:21 And do not turn aside after empty things that cannot profit or deliver, for they are empty.

Idols are "empty" – they are "nothing" (NKJV) and so "useless" (NCV™, NIV®, NLT, NRSV).

Isa 41:22-24, 29 Let them bring them, and tell us what is to happen. Tell us the former things, what they are, that we may consider them, that we may know their outcome; or declare to us the things to come. ²³Tell us what is to come hereafter, that we may know that you are gods; do good, or do harm, that we may be dismayed and terrified.^m ²⁴Behold, you are nothing, and your work is less than nothing; an abomination is he who chooses you.  ... ²⁹Behold, they are all a delusion; their works are nothing; their metal images are empty wind.

^mOr that we may both be dismayed and see

Isa 44:9-10 All who fashion idols are nothing, and the things they delight in do not profit. Their witnesses neither see nor know, that they may be put to shame. ¹⁰Who fashions a god or casts an idol that is profitable for nothing?

Isa 46:6-7 Those who lavish gold from the purse, and weigh out silver in the scales, hire a goldsmith, and he makes it into a god; then they fall down and worship! ⁷They lift it to their shoulders, they carry it, they set it in its place, and it stands there; it cannot move from its place. If one cries to it, it does not answer or save him from his trouble.

Jer 2:11-13 Has a nation changed its gods, even though they are no gods? But my people have changed their glory for that which does not profit. ¹²Be appalled, O heavens, at this; be shocked, be utterly desolate, declares the LORD, ¹³for my people have committed two evils: they have forsaken me, the fountain of living waters, and hewed out cisterns for themselves, broken cisterns that can hold no water.

In v. 13 useless idols are compared to wells or reservoirs that are cracked and therefore useless for holding water.

Jer 10:5b, 15 Do not be afraid of them, for they cannot do evil, neither is it in them to do good."  ... ¹⁵They are worthless, a work of delusion; at the time of their punishment they shall perish.

Jer 11:12 Then the cities of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem will go and cry to the gods to whom they make offerings, but they cannot save them in the time of their trouble.

Jer 14:22 Are there any among the false gods of the nations that can bring rain? Or can the heavens give showers? Are you not he, O LORD our God? We set our hope on you, for you do all these things.

Hab 2:18-19 What profit is an idol when its maker has shaped it, a metal image, a teacher of lies? For its maker trusts in his own creation when he makes speechless idols! ¹⁹Woe to him who says to a wooden thing, Awake; to a silent stone, Arise! Can this teach? Behold, it is overlaid with gold and silver, and there is no breath at all in it.

1Ki 18:25-26 Then Elijah said to the prophets of Baal, "Choose for yourselves one bull and prepare it first, for you are many, and call upon the name of your god, but put no fire to it." ²⁶And they took the bull that was given them, and they prepared it and called upon the name of Baal from morning until noon, saying, "O Baal, answer us!" But there was no voice, and no one answered. And they limped around the altar that they had made.

Worship of idols is correlated with worship of demons

Most of the following references do not explicitly correlate worship of idols with worship of demons, but each reference makes or suggests an association between the two and appears to imply such a correlation.

1Cor 10:19-21 What do I imply then? That food offered to idols is anything, or that an idol is anything? ²⁰No, I imply that what pagans sacrifice they offer to demons and not to God. I do not want you to be participants with demons. ²¹You cannot drink the cup of the Lord and the cup of demons. You cannot partake of the table of the Lord and the table of demons.

Although idol worshipers may believe that they are offering sacrifices to an idol, they are in reality ultimately offering them to demons. As such one cannot take part in such practices and also acceptably participate in godly worship practices, such as the Lord's Supper.

Lev 17:7 So they shall no more sacrifice their sacrifices to goat demons, after whom they whore. This shall be a statute forever for them throughout their generations.

The reference to sacrificing to demons (cf. Deut 32:17 ↓) likely speaks of the people's sacrifices to idols, whom they considered to be gods but were in fact demonic.

Deut 32:16-17 They stirred him to jealousy with strange gods; with abominations they provoked him to anger. ¹⁷*They sacrificed to demons that were no gods, to gods they had never known, to new gods that had come recently, whom your fathers had never dreaded.*

The phrase “that were no gods” means that they were not real gods, with there only being one real God.

Ps 106:36-37 They served their idols, which became a snare to them. ³⁷*They sacrificed their sons and their daughters to the demons; ...*

Rev 9:20 The rest of mankind, who were not killed by these plagues, did not repent of the works of their hands nor give up worshiping demons and idols of gold and silver and bronze and stone and wood, which cannot see or hear or walk, ...

Having other “gods” and idols is very detrimental

2Chr 28:22-23 In the time of his distress he became yet more faithless to the LORD—this same King Ahaz. ²³*For he sacrificed to the gods of Damascus that had defeated him and said, “Because the gods of the kings of Syria helped them, I will sacrifice to them that they may help me.” But they were the ruin of him and of all Israel.*

2Ki 17:15 They despised his statutes and his covenant that he made with their fathers and the warnings that he gave them. They went after false idols and became false, and they followed the nations that were around them, concerning whom the LORD had commanded them that they should not do like them.

The people went after idols – things which are fallacies and futile – and became like them (cf. Ps 115:8 ↓), in effect “worthless” (CEV, GNT, NIV, NLT).

Ps 16:4 The sorrows of those who run after^a another god shall multiply; their drink offerings of blood I will not pour out or take their names on my lips.

^a Or who acquire

Ps 97:7 All worshipers of images are put to shame, who make their boast in worthless idols; worship him, all you gods!

Ps 106:36 They served their idols, which became a snare to them.

Ps 115:8 Those who make them become like them [idols]; so do all who trust in them.

People naturally tend to acquire characteristics and values associated with anyone or anything that they are devoted to. As such if people are devoted to worthless idols, they tend to acquire such things as foolishness and a corrupt morality.

Isa 42:17 They are turned back and utterly put to shame, who trust in carved idols, who say to metal images, “You are our gods.”

Isa 44:9, 11 All who fashion idols are nothing, and the things they delight in do not profit. Their witnesses neither see nor know, that they may be put to shame. ... ¹¹*Behold, all his companions shall be put to shame, and the craftsmen are only human. Let them all assemble, let them stand forth. They shall be terrified; they shall be put to shame together.*

Verse 9 is not actually asserting that the characteristics mentioned are a result of having idols, though possibly this is implied. Note that the idols’ “witnesses” refers either to those who testify to their authenticity, or to the worthlessness of those who worship them as evidencing what the idols themselves are like.

Jer 7:6 ... if you do not oppress the sojourner, the fatherless, or the widow, or shed innocent blood in this place, and if you do not go after other gods to your own harm, ...

Jer 7:18-19 The children gather wood, the fathers kindle fire, and the women knead dough, to make cakes for the queen of heaven. And they pour out drink offerings to other gods, to provoke me to anger. ¹⁹*Is it I whom they provoke? declares the LORD. Is it not themselves, to their own shame?*

Rather than spiting (cf. NASB) or “hurting” (GNT, NCV, NLT) God, the people’s sin in turning away from him to other “gods” would only hurt themselves. For it would leave them open to troubles that God would have saved them from and also to punishment from God. Note that the “queen of heaven” (v. 18) is a goddess, probably of Canaanite or Babylonian origin.

Jer 18:15 But my people have forgotten me; they make offerings to false gods; they [the false gods] made them stumble in their ways, in the ancient roads, and to walk into side roads, not the highway, ...

Ezek 22:4 You have become guilty by the blood that you have shed, and defiled by the idols that you have made, and you have brought your days near, the appointed time of^a your years has come. Therefore I have made you a reproach to the nations, and a mockery to all the countries.

^a Some Hebrew manuscripts, Septuagint, Syriac, Vulgate, Targum; most Hebrew manuscripts until Idol worship both defiled the people and brought God's judgment.

Hos 9:10b But they came to Baal-peor and consecrated themselves to the thing of shame, and became detestable like the thing they loved.

Detestable practices – even human sacrifices (cf. 13:2) – are often associated with idol worship.

Hos 13:1 When Ephraim spoke, there was trembling; he was exalted in Israel, but he incurred guilt through Baal and died.

Ephraim – signifying all the northern tribes of Israel – turned to worshipping the god Baal. And so it became guilty and “died”. The latter refers to either a spiritual death and/or the future destruction of the nation.

2Ki 17:7, 9 And this occurred because the people of Israel had sinned against the LORD their God, who had brought them up out of the land of Egypt from under the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and had feared other gods  ... ⁹And the people of Israel did secretly against the LORD their God things that were not right. They built for themselves high places in all their towns, from watchtower to fortified city.

Israel worshipped other gods despite the fact that God was “their God” who had rescued them (v. 7). Doing such things against God “that were not right” (v. 9) greatly undermined their relationship with him. Note that the “high places” (v. 9) were “pagan places of worship” (GNT; cf. NCV, NLT).

Jer 5:7 How can I pardon you? Your children have forsaken me and have sworn by those who are no gods. When I fed them to the full, they committed adultery and trooped to the houses of whores.

Verse 7a indicates that the people's adherence to other gods was at least one reason why God could not or would not forgive the people's other sins (cf. vv. 1-6). Note that the prostitution and adultery (v. 7b) were probably associated with the worship of false gods.

Ezek 14:3 Son of man, these men have taken their idols into their hearts, and set the stumbling block of their iniquity before their faces. Should I indeed let myself be consulted by them?

Jonah 2:8 Those who pay regard to vain idols forsake their hope of steadfast love.

Having other “gods” and idols culminates in God's retribution

Josh 24:20 If you forsake the LORD and serve foreign gods, then he will turn and do you harm and consume you, after having done you good.

1Ki 9:6-7 But if you turn aside from following me, you or your children, and do not keep my commandments and my statutes that I have set before you, but go and serve other gods and worship them, ⁷then I will cut off Israel from the land that I have given them, and the house that I have consecrated for my name I will cast out of my sight, and Israel will become a proverb and a byword among all peoples.

The reference to Israel becoming “a proverb and a byword” (v. 7b) means that such would their punishment be that they would be cited by other peoples as a notable example of destruction.

Jer 5:19 And when your people say, ‘Why has the LORD our God done all these things to us?’ you shall say to them, ‘As you have forsaken me and served foreign gods in your land, so you shall serve foreigners in a land that is not yours.’

Jer 44:19-22 And the women said,^q “When we made offerings to the queen of heaven and poured out drink offerings to her, was it without our husbands’ approval that we made cakes for her bearing her image and poured out drink offerings to her?”²⁰ Then Jeremiah said to all the people, men and women, all the people who had given him this answer: ²¹“As for the offerings that you offered in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem, you and your fathers, your kings and your officials, and the people of the land, did not the LORD remember them? Did it not come into his mind? ²²The LORD could no longer bear your evil deeds and the abominations that you committed. Therefore your land has become a desolation and a waste and a curse, without inhabitant, as it is this day.

^q Compare Syriac, Hebrew lacks And the women said

Ezek 5:9 And because of all your abominations I will do with you what I have never yet done, and the like of which I will never do again.

Ezek 14:7-8 For any one of the house of Israel, or of the strangers who sojourn in Israel, who separates himself from me, taking his idols into his heart and putting the stumbling block of his iniquity before his face, and yet comes to a prophet to consult me through him, I the LORD will answer him myself. ⁸And I will set my face against that man; I will make him a sign and a byword and cut him off from the midst of my people, and you shall know that I am the LORD.

Note that v. 7 suggests that to turn to idols is to effectively separate oneself from God, severing one’s relationship with him.

Ezek 44:10 But the Levites who went far from me, going astray from me after their idols when Israel went astray, shall bear their punishment.^r

^r Or iniquity; also verse 12

Hos 13:2-3 And now they sin more and more, and make for themselves metal images, idols skillfully made of their silver, all of them the work of craftsmen. It is said of them, “Those who offer human sacrifice kiss calves!” ³Therefore they shall be like the morning mist or like the dew that goes early away, like the chaff that swirls from the threshing floor or like smoke from a window.

Rev 21:8 But as for the cowardly, the faithless, the detestable, as for murderers, the sexually immoral, sorcerers, idolaters, and all liars, their portion will be in the lake that burns with fire and sulfur, which is the second death.

✚ Those who have idols are under God’s curse:

Deut 27:15 ‘Cursed be the man who makes a carved or cast metal image, an abomination to the LORD, a thing made by the hands of a craftsman, and sets it up in secret.’ And all the people shall answer and say, ‘Amen.’

Note: Other “gods” and idolatry are not restricted to physical images

Hab 1:11 Then they sweep by like the wind and go on, guilty men, whose own might is their god!

The Babylonians were “guilty of worshiping their own strength” (NCV™; cf. CEV).

Phil 3:19 Their end is destruction, their god is their belly, and they glory in their shame, with minds set on earthly things.

Here “belly” may be a metaphor for “bodily desires” (GNT, cf. NCV) – particularly in light of the following clause “they glory in their shame”. Whether or not this is the case, Paul clearly has in view a mindset focused on earthly or worldly things, making them one’s top priority, effectively one’s “god”.

Eph 5:5 For you may be sure of this, that everyone who is sexually immoral or impure, or who is covetous (that is, an idolater), has no inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God.

The description of such a person as “an idolater” probably refers primarily to being covetous (cf. GNT, NCV, NLT; Col 3:5 ↓), rather than also to the preceding adjectives. Covetous or greedy people effectively put themselves and material things in the place of God. As such they are “serving a false god” (NCV™).

Col 3:5 Put to death therefore what is earthly in you:^s sexual immorality, impurity, passion, evil desire, and covetousness, which is idolatry.

^s Greek therefore your members that are on the earth

I. Encountering Sin

Inevitably on occasions sin “leaks” into our lives, with its ill effects on ourselves and on our relationship with God. But if we address it as the Bible says to, God promises to forgive our sins and take in hand its effects.

Note that the teaching in this section is applicable to both new believers ridding themselves of their old ways and to believers returning to God after having lapsed into sin. However, the focus is more on the latter – with the former being primarily dealt with in the section b) Repentance, p. 1034.

Prelude: God’s people still sin

James 3:2 For we all stumble in many ways. And if anyone does not stumble in what he says, he is a perfect man, able also to bridle his whole body. 📖

No one is perfect.

1Jn 1:8 If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. 📖

No one’s sinful nature has been completely eradicated.

Heb 5:1-3 For every high priest chosen from among men is appointed to act on behalf of men in relation to God, to offer gifts and sacrifices for sins. ²He can deal gently with the ignorant and wayward, since he himself is beset with weakness. ³*Because of this he is obligated to offer sacrifice for his own sins* just as he does for those of the people. 📖

Even high priests are “liable to moral weakness” (AMP). The same can be said for all leaders amongst God’s people.

Rom 7:18-19 For I know that nothing good dwells in me, that is, in my flesh. For I have the desire to do what is right, but not the ability to carry it out. ¹⁹For I do not do the good I want, but the evil I do not want is what I keep on doing. 📖

Opinions differ on whether Paul is speaking here of a Christian or a pre-Christian experience.

Sin deprives God’s people of his blessings

Not all the references in this and the following subsections actually state that sin was the reason for the consequences of which they speak, but it is clear from their contexts that this is the case. Note that it is Israel’s sin that is largely in view in this and the following subsections.

Jer 5:24-25 They do not say in their hearts, ‘Let us fear the LORD our God, who gives the rain in its season, the autumn rain and the spring rain, and keeps for us the weeks appointed for the harvest.’ ²⁵*Your iniquities have turned these away, and your sins have kept good from you.* 📖

Isa 63:15 Look down from heaven and see, from your holy and beautiful^a habitation. Where are your zeal and your might? The stirring of your inner parts and your compassion are held back from me. 📖

^a Or holy and glorious

This reflects on the blessings of the people’s relationship with God before their sinful rebellion (cf. v. 10). “The stirring of your inner parts” appears to refer to God’s pity (cf. AMP) or love (cf. CEV, GNT).

Jer 16:5 For thus says the LORD: Do not enter the house of mourning, or go to lament or grieve for them, for I have taken away my peace from this people, my steadfast love and mercy, declares the LORD. 📖

Jer 17:3b-4 Your wealth and all your treasures I will give for spoil as the price of your high places for sin throughout all your territory. ⁴You shall loosen your hand from your heritage that I gave to you, and I will make you serve your enemies in a land that you do not know, for in my anger a fire is kindled that shall burn forever. 📖

Lam 4:16 The LORD himself^b has scattered them; he will regard them no more; no honor was shown to the priests, no favor to the elders. 📖

^b Hebrew The face of the LORD

The clause “he will regard them no more” suggests that God would no longer take care of them (cf. AMP, NCV, NIV, NLT).

Amos 8:11-12 “Behold, the days are coming,” declares the Lord GOD, “when I will send a famine on the land— not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the words of the LORD. ¹²*They shall wander from sea to sea, and from north to east; they shall run to and fro, to seek the word of the LORD, but they shall not find it.* 📖

Sin deprives God’s people of rest and peace

▪ Jer 16:5 ↑

Following on from the previous subsection, rest and peace are further blessings that sin deprives God’s people of. Note that the first four references speak of “rest” as being a blessing of God or from following his ways. They indicate or imply that if one does not walk in God’s ways – i.e. continues to sin – one fails to find such spiritual rest. The other references similarly speak of “rest” and “peace” being inaccessible, with their contexts indicating that sin was the reason.

Isa 28:11-12 For by people of strange lips and with a foreign tongue the LORD will speak to this people, ¹²*to whom he has said, “This is rest; give rest to the weary; and this is repose”; yet they would not hear.* 📖

Note that the “strange lips and ... a foreign tongue” (v. 11) allude to enemies and captivity – in contrast to rest and peace (v. 12).

Jer 6:16 Thus says the LORD: “Stand by the roads, and look, and ask for the ancient paths, where the good way is; and walk in it, and find rest for your souls. But they said, ‘We will not walk in it.’ 📖

Jer 50:6 My people have been lost sheep. Their shepherds have led them astray, turning them away on the mountains. From mountain to hill they have gone. They have forgotten their fold. 📖

The references to roaming and wandering over mountains allude to the sin of the people in wandering away from God – particularly to idolatry, with mountains being favored places for idol worship (cf. AMP). Their “fold” was their “resting place” (AMP, CEV, NASB, NCV, NIV, NKJV).

Heb 3:18-19 And to whom did he swear that they would not enter his rest, but to those who were disobedient? ¹⁹*So we see that they were unable to enter because of unbelief.* 📖

This is referring to the Israelites, who had been rebellious, not being able to enter Canaan – God’s place of rest.

Deut 28:65, 67 And among these nations you shall find no respite, and there shall be no resting place for the sole of your foot, but the LORD will give you there a trembling heart and failing eyes and a languishing soul. 📖 ... ⁶⁷*In the morning you shall say, ‘If only it were evening!’ and at evening you shall say, ‘If only it were morning!’ because of the dread that your heart shall feel, and the sights that your eyes shall see.* 📖

The term “a languishing soul” (v. 65) speaks of despair (cf. GNT, NLT).

Lam 1:3 Judah has gone into exile because of affliction and hard servitude; she dwells now among the nations, but finds no resting place; her pursuers have all overtaken her in the midst of her distress.^c 📖

^c Or in the narrow passes

Lam 5:5 Our pursuers are at our necks;^d we are weary; we are given no rest. 📖

^d Symmachus With a yoke on our necks

Lam 3:17 ... my soul is bereft of peace; I have forgotten what happiness^e is; ... 📖

^e Hebrew good

Jer 8:15 We looked for peace, but no good came; for a time of healing, but behold, terror. 📖

Ezek 7:25 When anguish comes, they will seek peace, but there shall be none. 📖

God punishes sin, which can mean physical suffering and emotional anguish . . .

Ps 6:1-3, 6-7 O LORD, rebuke me not in your anger, nor discipline me in your wrath. ²Be gracious to me, O LORD, for I am languishing; heal me, O LORD, for my bones are troubled. ³My soul also is greatly troubled. But you, O LORD—how long?  ... ⁶I am weary with my moaning; every night I flood my bed with tears; I drench my couch with my weeping. ⁷My eye wastes away because of grief; it grows weak because of all my foes.

In v. 1 David appears to be pleading to be spared from any further discipline, being in agony from that which he had already received (vv. 2-3, 6-7).

Ps 32:3-4 For when I kept silent, my bones wasted away through my groaning all day long. ⁴For day and night your hand was heavy upon me; my strength was dried up^f as by the heat of summer. Selah

^f Hebrew my vitality was changed

The phrase “when I kept silent” (v. 3a) refers to the psalmist’s failure to acknowledge his sin.

Ps 38:3-8, 10, 17-18 There is no soundness in my flesh because of your indignation; there is no health in my bones because of my sin. ⁴For my iniquities have gone over my head; like a heavy burden, they are too heavy for me. ⁵My wounds stink and fester because of my foolishness, ⁶I am utterly bowed down and prostrate; all the day I go about mourning. ⁷For my sides are filled with burning, and there is no soundness in my flesh. ⁸I am feeble and crushed; I groan because of the tumult of my heart.  ... ¹⁰My heart throbs; my strength fails me, and the light of my eyes—it also has gone from me.  ... ¹⁷For I am ready to fall, and my pain is ever before me. ¹⁸I confess my iniquity; I am sorry for my sin.

Ps 102:3-11 For my days pass away like smoke, and my bones burn like a furnace. ⁴My heart is struck down like grass and has withered; I forget to eat my bread. ⁵Because of my loud groaning my bones cling to my flesh. ⁶I am like a desert owl^g of the waste places; ⁷I lie awake; I am like a lonely sparrow on the housetop. ⁸All the day my enemies taunt me; those who deride me use my name for a curse. ⁹For I eat ashes like bread and mingle tears with my drink, ¹⁰because of your indignation and anger; for you have taken me up and thrown me down. ¹¹My days are like an evening shadow; I wither away like grass.

^g The precise identity of these birds is uncertain

This is considered one of the penitential psalms (as are the psalms from which the above extracts are taken) expressing sorrow and regret for sin. This is reflected by the reference in v. 10 to God’s anger, pointing to sin as being behind the psalmist’s predicament. Note that the simile in v. 6 points to the psalmist’s withered lonely state.

Isa 64:6-7 We have all become like one who is unclean, and all our righteous deeds are like a polluted garment. We all fade like a leaf, and our iniquities, like the wind, take us away. ⁷There is no one who calls upon your name, who rouses himself to take hold of you; for you have hidden your face from us, and have made us melt in^h the hand of our iniquities.

^h Masoretic Text; Septuagint, Syriac, Targum have delivered us into Jer 4:18 Your ways and your deeds have brought this upon you. This is your doom, and it is bitter; it has reached your very heart.

Lam 1:2, 4, 12-13, 15-16, 20-22 She weeps bitterly in the night, with tears on her cheeks; among all her lovers she has none to comfort her; all her friends have dealt treacherously with her; they have become her enemies.  ... ⁴The roads to Zion mourn, for none come to the festival; all her gates are desolate; her priests groan; her virgins have been afflicted,ⁱ and she herself suffers bitterly.  ... ¹²“Is it nothing to you, all you who pass by? Look and see if there is any sorrow like my sorrow, which was brought upon me, which the LORD inflicted on the day of his fierce anger. ¹³“From on high he sent fire; into my bones^j he made it descend; he spread a net for my feet; he turned me back; he has left me stunned, faint all the day long.  ... ¹⁵“The Lord rejected all my mighty men in my midst; he summoned an assembly against me to crush my young men; the Lord has trodden as in a winepress the virgin daughter of Judah. ¹⁶“For these things I weep; my eyes flow with tears; for a comforter is far from me, one to revive my spirit; my children are desolate, for the enemy has prevailed.”  ... ²⁰“Look, O LORD, for I am in distress; my stomach churns; my heart is wrung within me, because I have been very rebellious. In the street the sword bereaves; in the house it is like death. ²¹“They heard^k my groaning, yet there is no one to comfort me. Jerusalem is in view in vv. 2a, 4 and the speaker in the subsequent verses is Jerusalem personified. The “virgin daughter of Judah” (v. 15) signifies Jerusalem and her people.

Lam 5:15-17 The joy of our hearts has ceased; our dancing has been turned to mourning. ¹⁶The crown has fallen from our head; woe to us, for we have sinned! ¹⁷For this our heart has become sick, for these things our eyes have grown dim, ...

Ezek 7:16-18 And if any survivors escape, they will be on the mountains, like doves of the valleys, all of them moaning, each one over his iniquity. ¹⁷All hands are feeble, and all knees turn to water. ¹⁸They put on sackcloth, and horror covers them. Shame is on all faces, and baldness on all their heads.

The last clause refers to heads shaven in mourning.

Ezek 33:10 And you, son of man, say to the house of Israel, Thus have you said: ‘Surely our transgressions and our sins are upon us, and we rot away because of them. How then can we live?’

Deut 31:16-17 And the LORD said to Moses, “Behold, you are about to lie down with your fathers. Then this people will rise and whore after the foreign gods among them in the land that they are entering, and they will forsake me and break my covenant that I have made with them. ¹⁷Then my anger will be kindled against them in that day, and I will forsake them and hide my face from them, and they will be devoured. And many evils and troubles will come upon them, so that they will say in that day, ‘Have not these evils come upon us because our God is not among us?’

Judg 2:13-15 They abandoned the LORD and served the Baals and the Ashtaroth. ¹⁴So the anger of the LORD was kindled against Israel, and he gave them over to plunderers, who plundered them. And he sold them into the hand of their surrounding enemies, so that they could no longer withstand their enemies. ¹⁵Whenever they marched out, the hand of the LORD was against them for harm, as the LORD had warned, and as the LORD had sworn to them. And they were in terrible distress.

Ezra 9:7 From the days of our fathers to this day we have been in great guilt. And for our iniquities we, our kings, and our priests have been given into the hand of the kings of the lands, to the sword, to captivity, to plundering, and to utter shame, as it is today.

Neh 9:37 And its rich yield goes to the kings whom you have set over us because of our sins. They rule over our bodies and over our livestock as they please, and we are in great distress.

Ps 40:12 For evils have encompassed me beyond number; my iniquities have overtaken me, and I cannot see; they are more than the hairs of my head; my heart fails me.

The clause “my iniquities have overtaken me” refers to the results of David’s sins, which had overwhelmed him (cf. Lam 1:14 ↓).

Ps 107:10-12, 17 Some sat in darkness and in the shadow of death, prisoners in affliction and in irons, ¹¹for they had rebelled against the words of God, and spurned the counsel of the Most High. ¹²So he bowed their hearts down with hard labor; they fell down, with none to help. ... ¹⁷Some were fools through their sinful ways, and because of their iniquities suffered affliction; ...

Isa 59:9-12 Therefore justice is far from us, and righteousness does not overtake us; we hope for light, and behold, darkness, and for brightness, but we walk in gloom. ¹⁰We grope for the wall like the blind; we grope like those who have no eyes; we stumble at noon as in the twilight, among those in full vigor we are like dead men. ¹¹We all growl like bears; we moan and moan like doves; we hope for justice, but there is none; for salvation, but it is far from us. ¹²For our transgressions are multiplied before you, and our sins testify against us; for our transgressions are with us, and we know our iniquities: ...

The darkness referred to in v. 9 and illustrated in v. 10, refers to their grim predicament, quite possibly also inclusive of spiritual darkness.

Lam 1:5, 14 Her foes have become the head; her enemies prosper, because the LORD has afflicted her for the multitude of her transgressions; her children have gone away, captives before the foe. ... ¹⁴“My transgressions were bound^m into a yoke; by his hand they were fastened together; they were set upon my neck; he caused my strength to fail; the Lord gave me into the hands of those whom I cannot withstand.

^mThe meaning of the Hebrew is uncertain

Hos 8:7 For they sow the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind. The standing grain has no heads; it shall yield no flour; if it were to yield, strangers would devour it.

"For they sow the wind" likely refers to idolatry and possibly also to largely unrestrained sin in general. This "wind" had resulted in a "whirlwind" – God's devastating punishment.

Hos 14:1 Return, O Israel, to the LORD your God, for you have stumbled because of your iniquity.

Mic 6:13-14 Therefore I strike you with a grievous blow, making you desolate because of your sins. ¹⁴You shall eat, but not be satisfied, and there shall be hunger within you; you shall put away, but not preserve, and what you preserve I will give to the sword.

✦ God's punishment of Israel's sin is an example and warning to us:

1Cor 10:5-12 Nevertheless, with most of them God was not pleased, for they were overthrown in the wilderness. ⁶Now these things took place as examples for us, that we might not desire evil as they did. ⁷Do not be idolaters as some of them were; as it is written, "The people sat down to eat and drink and rose up to play." ⁸We must not indulge in sexual immorality as some of them did, and twenty-three thousand fell in a single day. ⁹We must not put Christ^a to the test, as some of them did and were destroyed by serpents, ¹⁰nor grumble, as some of them did and were destroyed by the Destroyer. ¹¹Now these things happened to them as an example, but they were written down for our instruction, on whom the end of the ages has come. ¹²Therefore let anyone who thinks that he stands take heed lest he fall.

Sin defiles God's people – making them spiritually unclean

See also:

- Spiritual defilement . . ., p. 372
- . . . Spiritual uncleanness, p. 372
- Note: Spiritual purity is paralleled with cleanness, and sin with uncleanness, p. 408

Ps 106:39 Thus they became unclean by their acts, and played the whore in their deeds.

Ezek 20:43 And there you shall remember your ways and all your deeds with which you have defiled yourselves, and you shall loathe yourselves for all the evils that you have committed.

Heb 12:15 See to it that no one fails to obtain the grace of God; that no "root of bitterness" springs up and causes trouble, and by it many become defiled; ...

The "root of bitterness" denotes either sinfulness itself (cf. AMP) – possibly unbelief in particular (cf. NLT) in light of the earlier reference to God's grace exhibited in the gospel – or a person (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV) who exhibits such sinfulness. Sin in the church can influence others to so sin, thus by it many can "become defiled".

Lam 1:8-9 Jerusalem sinned grievously; therefore she became filthy; all who honored her despise her, for they have seen her nakedness; she herself groans and turns her face away. ⁹Her uncleanness was in her skirts; she took no thought of her future; ^otherefore her fall is terrible; she has no comforter. "O LORD, behold my affliction, for the enemy has triumphed!"

^o Or end

"Her uncleanness was in her skirts" (v. 9a) refers to Jerusalem's uncleanness, caused by her sin (v. 8a). Note that "her nakedness" (v. 8) refers to her spiritual prostitution – possibly in conjunction with actual prostitution – and unfaithfulness to God.

Matt 15:18-20 But what comes out of the mouth proceeds from the heart, and this defiles a person. ¹⁹For out of the heart come evil thoughts, murder, adultery, sexual immorality, theft, false witness, slander. ²⁰These are what defile a person. But to eat with unwashed hands does not defile anyone.

Isa 64:5b-6 Behold, you were angry, and we sinned; in our sins we have been a long time, and shall we be saved? ^p ⁶We have all become like one who is unclean, and all our righteous deeds are like a polluted garment. We all fade like a leaf, and our iniquities, like the wind, take us away.

^p Or in your ways is continuance, that we might be saved

In saying "all our righteous deeds are like a polluted garment" (v. 6) Isaiah may be: speaking of the people's righteous acts being polluted or stained by their sin; implying that even their good acts do not meet God's standard of righteousness; or possibly using "righteous" in an ironic sense.

2Cor 7:1 Since we have these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of body^a and spirit, bringing holiness to completion in the fear of God.

^a Greek flesh

Here “every defilement” would appear to refer to all sinful influences that make unclean our body and spirit – effectively our whole being.

God turns away from those who persist in sin . . .

See also:

- Separation from God . . ., p. 373

As sin makes people spiritually unclean, God will ultimately turn away from those who persist in sin, for God in his holiness will not coexist with such uncleanness.

Mic 3:4 Then they will cry to the LORD, but he will not answer them; he will hide his face from them at that time, because they have made their deeds evil.

Isa 63:10-11 But they rebelled and grieved his Holy Spirit; therefore he turned to be their enemy, and himself fought against them. ¹¹*Then he remembered the days of old, of Moses and his people.† Where is he who brought them up out of the sea with the shepherds of his flock? Where is he who put in the midst of them his Holy Spirit, ...*

[†] Or Then his people remembered the days of old, of Moses

. . . God rejects them and thrusts them from his presence

Ps 78:58-59 For they provoked him to anger with their high places; they moved him to jealousy with their idols. ⁵⁹*When God heard, he was full of wrath, and he utterly rejected Israel*.

Jer 7:28-29 And you shall say to them, ‘This is the nation that did not obey the voice of the LORD their God, and did not accept discipline; truth has perished; it is cut off from their lips. ²⁹“Cut off your hair and cast it away; raise a lamentation on the bare heights, for the LORD has rejected and forsaken the generation of his wrath.’

Jer 14:10 Thus says the LORD concerning this people: “They have loved to wander thus; they have not restrained their feet; therefore the LORD does not accept them; now he will remember their iniquity and punish their sins.”

2Ki 17:18-23 Therefore the LORD was very angry with Israel and removed them out of his sight. None was left but the tribe of Judah only. ¹⁹Judah also did not keep the commandments of the LORD their God, but walked in the customs that Israel had introduced. ²⁰And the LORD rejected all the descendants of Israel and afflicted them and gave them into the hand of plunderers, until he had cast them out of his sight. ²¹When he had torn Israel from the house of David, they made Jeroboam the son of Nebat king. And Jeroboam drove Israel from following the LORD and made them commit great sin. ²²The people of Israel walked in all the sins that Jeroboam did. They did not depart from them, ²³until the LORD removed Israel out of his sight, as he had spoken by all his servants the prophets. So Israel was exiled from their own land to Assyria until this day.

The promised land was God’s land, particularly as his sanctuary was there (although it was in the southern kingdom of Judah rather than in the northern kingdom of Israel, which is largely in view here). By exiling the sinful people from his land, in a real sense God was removing them from his presence – removing them “out of his sight” (vv. 18, 20, 23).

Hos 9:15b, 17 Because of the wickedness of their deeds I will drive them out of my house. I will love them no more; all their princes are rebels. ... ¹⁷My God will reject them because they have not listened to him; they shall be wanderers among the nations.

Jer 7:13-15 And now, because you have done all these things, declares the LORD, and when I spoke to you persistently you did not listen, and when I called you, you did not answer, ¹⁴therefore I will do to the house that is called by my name, and in which you trust, and to the place that I gave to you and to your fathers, as I did to Shiloh. ¹⁵And I will cast you out of my sight, as I cast out all your kinsmen, all the offspring of Ephraim.

Because of the people’s wickedness and disregard for God (v. 13), God would thrust them from his presence (v. 15). This probably has primarily in view sending them into exile away from his land, but could additionally refer to the destruction of the temple that bore his name (v. 14). In bearing God’s name, the temple signified God’s presence. Its removal would thus be indicative of the people’s exclusion from God’s presence.

Lam 4:16 The LORD himself^a has scattered them; he will regard them no more; no honor was shown to the priests, no favor to the elders.

^a Hebrew The face of the LORD

This illustrates God’s rejection and expulsion of his people, a consequence of their sin.

‡ Due to sin we are not worthy to be in God’s presence:

Ezra 9:15 O LORD, the God of Israel, you are just, for we are left a remnant that has escaped, as it is today. Behold, we are before you in our guilt, for none can stand before you because of this.

Here in repentance Ezra and the people prayed before God; as such they were not intent on persisting in sin and so had not been thrust from God’s presence. But even so, because of their sin the people were not worthy to “stand” in God’s presence – which in view of Ezra’s prostrate position (cf. v. 5) may be a reference to physically standing.

Deut 29:19-20 ... one who, when he hears the words of this sworn covenant, blesses himself in his heart, saying, ‘I shall be safe, though I walk in the stubbornness of my heart.’ This will lead to the sweeping away of moist and dry alike. ²⁰The LORD will not be willing to forgive him, but rather the anger of the LORD and his jealousy will smoke against that man, and the curses written in this book will settle upon him, and the LORD will blot out his name from under heaven.

The reference is to willfully breaking the terms of the covenant God made with Israel, and thus willfully sinning. Note that v. 19b appears to be meaning that willful sin can bring consequences that also affect others (cf. CEV, GNT), but the meaning of the Hebrew is uncertain (cf. NRSV text note).

Heb 10:26-31 For if we go on sinning deliberately after receiving the knowledge of the truth, there no longer remains a sacrifice for sins, ²⁷but a fearful expectation of judgment, and a fury of fire that will consume the adversaries. ²⁸Anyone who has set aside the law of Moses dies without mercy on the evidence of two or three witnesses. ²⁹How much worse punishment, do you think, will be deserved by the one who has spurned the Son of God, and has profaned the blood of the covenant by which he was sanctified, and has outraged the Spirit of grace? ³⁰For we know him who said, "Vengeance is mine; I will repay." And again, "The Lord will judge his people." ³¹It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

To deliberately keep on sinning after having previously accepted Christ's sacrifice as payment for sin is by implication to do the things listed in v. 29. The result is that "there no longer remains a sacrifice for sins" (v. 26) and so one faces God's judgment and dreadful punishment (vv. 27, 30-31).

1Jn 3:6-10 No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. ⁷Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. ⁸Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. ⁹No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's^v seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. ¹⁰By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother.

^v Greek his

In referring to not having "either seen him or known him" (v. 6), John speaks of not having "recognized, perceived, or understood Him, or... had an experiential acquaintance with Him" (AMP). In saying that the devil "has been sinning from the beginning", v. 8 may have in view the fact that sin originated from the devil – both sin itself and human sin. Thus those who persist in sin are ultimately "of the devil", in a sense a product of him, emulating his character (cf. AMP). They follow him and in effect belong to him (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV, NLT). In v. 9, "God's seed" may well speak of God's nature (cf. AMP, GNT) with the new life that it brings (cf. CEV, NCV, NLT). Alternatively, it may denote God's word or the Holy Spirit, through which the new life comes.

1Jn 5:18 We know that everyone who has been born of God does not keep on sinning, but he who was born of God protects him, and the evil one does not touch him.

This implies that anyone who does continue in a life of sin has not been born of God (cf. 1Jn 3:9-10 ↑).

Even if sin has not led to a believer completely falling away from God, all sin hinders one from being fully devoted to God to some extent. Thus one needs to turn away from any sin and return to being completely devoted to God.

Do not be stubborn, like the Israelites were, resisting God and persisting in sin

In the following verses, references to having hard hearts and stiff necks refer to stubbornness.

Heb 3:7-9 Therefore, as the Holy Spirit says, "Today, if you hear his voice, ⁸*do not harden your hearts as in the rebellion, on the day of testing in the wilderness, ⁹where your fathers put me to the test and saw my works for forty years.*

Jer 17:23 Yet they did not listen or incline their ear, but stiffened their neck, that they might not hear and receive instruction.

Jer 18:11-12 Now, therefore, say to the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem: "Thus says the LORD, Behold, I am shaping disaster against you and devising a plan against you. Return, every one from his evil way, and amend your ways and your deeds."¹²"*But they say, 'That is in vain! 2Ki 23:4, 6-8, 10, 24 And the king commanded Hilkiah the high priest and the priests of the second order and the keepers of the threshold to bring out of the temple of the LORD all the vessels made for Baal, for Asherah, and for all the host of heaven. He burned them outside Jerusalem in the fields of the Kidron and carried their ashes to Bethel. ... ⁶And he brought out the Asherah from the house of the LORD, outside Jerusalem, to the brook Kidron, and burned it at the brook Kidron and beat it to dust and cast the dust of it upon the graves of the common people. ⁷And he broke down the houses of the male cult prostitutes who were in the house of the LORD, where the women wove hangings for the Asherah. ⁸And he brought all the priests out of the cities of Judah, and defiled the high places where the priests had made offerings, from Geba to Beersheba. And he broke down the high places of the gates that were at the entrance of the gate of Joshua the governor of the city, which were on one's left at the gate of the city. ... ¹⁰And he defiled Topheth, which is in the Valley of the Son of Hinnom, that no one might burn his son or his daughter as an offering to Molech.^a ... ²⁴Moreover, Josiah put away the mediums and the necromancers and the household gods and the idols and all the abominations that were seen in the land of Judah and in Jerusalem, that he might establish the words of the law that were written in the book that Hilkiah the priest found in the house of the LORD.

^a Hebrew might cause his son or daughter to pass through the fire for Molech Verses 8, 10 speak of Josiah desecrating the places of false worship. Note that v. 8a appears to refer to priests who had been wrongly offering sacrifices to God at local shrines instead of the temple in Jerusalem (cf. CEV, GNT, NLT).

Acts 19:18-19 Also many of those who were now believers came, confessing and divulging their practices. ¹⁹And a number of those who had practiced magic arts brought their books together and burned them in the sight of all. ^c Hebrew they

Isa 44:22 I have blotted out your transgressions like a cloud and your sins like mist; return to me, for I have redeemed you.

"I have redeemed you" appears to primarily refer to redemption from captivity, but it may encompass the aforementioned removal of sin. As their redeemer, it is obligatory of his wayward people to return to God.

Jer 3:22 "Return, O faithless sons; I will heal your faithlessness." "Behold, we come to you, for you are the LORD our God."

Lam 3:40 Let us test and examine our ways, and return to the LORD!

Hos 14:1-2 Return, O Israel, to the LORD your God, for you have stumbled because of your iniquity. ²Take with you words and return to the LORD; say to him, "Take away all iniquity; accept what is good, and we will pay with bulls the vows^d of our lips."

James 4:8 Draw near to God, and he will draw near to you. Cleanse your hands, you sinners, and purify your hearts, you double-minded.

Ps 51:13 Then I will teach transgressors your ways, and sinners will return to you.

✦ Make peace with God:

Isa 27:5 Or let them lay hold of my protection, let them make peace with me, let them make peace with me.

One aspect of returning to God is making peace with him.

Return to God with all your heart – not insincerely

1Sam 7:3 And Samuel said to all the house of Israel, "If you are returning to the LORD with all your heart, then put away the foreign gods and the Ashtaroth from among you and direct your heart to the LORD and serve him only, and he will deliver you out of the hand of the Philistines."

Deut 4:29 But from there you will seek the LORD your God and you will find him, if you search after him with all your heart and with all your soul.

1Ki 8:48 ... if they repent with all their mind and with all their heart in the land of their enemies, who carried them captive, and pray to you toward their land, which you gave to their fathers, the city that you have chosen, and the house that I have built for your name, ...

Jer 4:1-2 "If you return, O Israel, declares the LORD, to me you should return. If you remove your detestable things from my presence, and do not waver, ²and if you swear, 'As the LORD lives,' in truth, in justice, and in righteousness, then nations shall bless themselves in him, and in him shall they glory."

The opening statement (v. 1a) may be implying that if the people desire to return, then indeed that is what they should do; just speaking of it is pointless. It needs to actually be done – genuinely, as reflected in the actions subsequently mentioned (vv. 1b-2a). Verse 2a is speaking of taking oaths in God's name, either truthfully or along with also acting "in truth, in justice, and in righteousness" (cf. NLT).

Joel 2:12-13 "Yet even now," declares the LORD, "return to me with all your heart, with fasting, with weeping, and with mourning; ¹³*and rend your hearts and not your garments.*" Return to the LORD your God, for he is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and abounding in steadfast love; and he relents over disaster.

The expression "rend your hearts" (v. 13) speaks of the heartfelt sorrow and sincerity that should characterize wayward people's return to God.

Jer 3:4-5, 10 Have you not just now called to me, 'My father, you are the friend of my youth— ⁵*will he be angry forever, will he be indignant to the end?*' Behold, you have spoken, but you have done all the evil that you could."  ... ¹⁰Yet for all this her treacherous sister Judah did not return to me with her whole heart, but in pretense, declares the LORD.

Verses 4-5 demonstrate Judah's insincerity in supposedly returning to God, rendering the exercise as pointless (cf. Hos 6:1-5 ↓).

Hos 6:1-5 "Come, let us return to the LORD; for he has torn us, that he may heal us; he has struck us down, and he will bind us up. ²After two days he will revive us; on the third day he will raise us up, that we may live before him. ³Let us know; let us press on to know the LORD; his going out is sure as the dawn; he will come to us as the showers, as the spring rains that water the earth." [God:] ⁴What shall I do with you, O

Ephraim? What shall I do with you, O Judah? Your love is like a morning cloud, like the dew that goes early away.

⁵Therefore I have hewn them by the prophets; I have slain them by the words of my mouth, and my judgment goes forth as the light.

In v. 4 God exposes the people's lack of sincerity in claiming to intend to return to him (vv. 1-3). Their failure to return wholeheartedly meant that they suffered God's judgments (v. 5).

✦ Not turning from sinful deeds prevents one from returning to God:

Hos 5:4 Their deeds do not permit them to return to their God. For the spirit of whoredom is within them, and they know not the LORD.

In returning from sin to God, do what God wants

2Ki 17:13 Yet the LORD warned Israel and Judah by every prophet and every seer, saying, “Turn from your evil ways and keep my commandments and my statutes, in accordance with all the Law that I commanded your fathers, and that I sent to you by my servants the prophets.”

Ezra 10:11 Now then make confession to the LORD, the God of your fathers and do his will. Separate yourselves from the peoples of the land and from the foreign wives.

The first clause is indicative of turning from sin to God.

Neh 1:9 ...but if you return to me and keep my commandments and do them, though your outcasts are in the uttermost parts of heaven, from there I will gather them and bring them to the place that I have chosen, to make my name dwell there.

Jer 18:11b Return, every one from his evil way, and amend your ways and your deeds.

Jer 26:13 Now therefore mend your ways and your deeds, and obey the voice of the LORD your God, and the LORD will relent of the disaster that he has pronounced against you.

Dan 9:13 As it is written in the Law of Moses, all this calamity has come upon us; yet we have not entreated the favor of the LORD our God, turning from our iniquities and gaining insight by your truth.

The last clause would appear to have in view paying attention to and obeying God's law (cf. GNT, NIV).

Hos 12:6 “So you, by the help of your God, return, hold fast to love and justice, and wait continually for your God.”

Rev 3:2-3 Wake up, and strengthen what remains and is about to die, for I have not found your works complete in the sight of my God. ³*Remember, then, what you received and heard. Keep it, and repent.* If you will not wake up, I will come like a thief, and you will not know at what hour I will come against you.

2Chr 30:8 Do not now be stiff-necked as your fathers were, but yield yourselves to the LORD and come to his sanctuary, which he has consecrated forever, and serve the LORD your God, that his fierce anger may turn away from you.

Yielding to God (cf. James 4:7 ↓) and to his will, leads to doing what he wants. The latter of course involves serving him (cf. Judg 10:16 ↓).

James 4:7 Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you.

Judg 10:16 So they put away the foreign gods from among them and served the LORD, and he became impatient over the misery of Israel.

On turning from sin, the people served God – i.e. they did what he wanted.

✦ Do not return to sin:

Ps 85:8 Let me hear what God the LORD will speak, for he will speak peace to his people, to his saints; but let them not turn back to folly.

Confessing sin is acknowledging to God that we have committed a particular action that is against his will and is indeed wrong or sinful. Such honesty and openness opens us to God's forgiveness and purification – and his help.

Lev 5:5 ... when he realizes his guilt in any of these and confesses the sin he has committed, ...

This reflects that it is important to confess the particular sins we have committed, rather than merely the fact that we have sinned. Identifying particular sin engenders genuine sorrow and repentance, and enables us to be better aware of committing similar sins in the future.

2Sam 24:10 But David's heart struck him after he had numbered the people. And David said to the LORD, "I have sinned greatly in what I have done. But now, O LORD, please take away the iniquity of your servant, for I have done very foolishly."

Here David confesses to an act that was sinful in that it displayed trust in the strength of his own forces rather than in God. It also may have been indicative of pride.

1Ki 8:47 ... yet if they turn their heart in the land to which they have been carried captive, and repent and plead with you in the land of their captors, saying, 'We have sinned and have acted perversely and wickedly,' ...

Neh 1:6-7 ... let your ear be attentive and your eyes open, to hear the prayer of your servant that I now pray before you day and night for the people of Israel your servants, confessing the sins of the people of Israel, which we have sinned against you. Even I and my father's house have sinned. ⁷We have acted very corruptly against you and have not kept the commandments, the statutes, and the rules that you commanded your servant Moses.

Neh 9:2-3 And the Israelites separated themselves from all foreigners and stood and confessed their sins and the iniquities of their fathers. ³And they stood up in their place and read from the Book of the Law of the LORD their God for a quarter of the day; for another quarter of it they made confession and worshiped the LORD their God.

Note that the confession of their fathers' sins as well, may have in view God's punishment of sins affecting subsequent generations (cf. Ex 20:5).

Ps 32:5 I acknowledged my sin to you, and I did not cover my iniquity; I said, "I will confess my transgressions to the LORD," and you forgave the iniquity of my sin. Selah

Ps 51:3-5 For I know my transgressions, and my sin is ever before me. ⁴Against you, you only, have I sinned and done what is evil in your sight, so that you may be justified in your words and blameless in your judgment. ⁵Behold, I was brought forth in iniquity, and in sin did my mother conceive me.

In conjunction with confessing the sin that he had recently committed (vv. 3-4), David also acknowledges his sinful disposition before God (v. 5).

Ps 119:176 I have gone astray like a lost sheep; seek your servant, for I do not forget your commandments.

Isa 59:12-13 For our transgressions are multiplied before you, and our sins testify against us; for our transgressions are with us, and we know our iniquities: ¹³transgressing, and denying the LORD, and turning back from following our God, speaking oppression and revolt, conceiving and uttering from the heart lying words.

In saying "our sins testify against us" (v. 12a) Isaiah acknowledged the stark reality of his people's sin in God's sight.

Jer 14:20 We acknowledge our wickedness, O LORD, and the iniquity of our fathers, for we have sinned against you.

Dan 9:4-6, 20 I prayed to the LORD my God and made confession, saying, "O Lord, the great and awesome God, who keeps covenant and steadfast love with those who love him and keep his commandments, ⁵we have sinned and done wrong and acted wickedly and rebelled, turning aside from your commandments and rules. ⁶We have not listened to your servants the prophets, who spoke in your name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land. ... ²⁰While I was speaking and praying, confessing my sin and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my plea before the LORD my God for the holy hill of my God, ...

Hos 5:15 I will return again to my place, until they acknowledge their guilt and seek my face, and in their distress earnestly seek me.

✦ Confess your sins to each other:

James 5:16 Therefore, confess your sins to one another and pray for one another, that you may be healed. The prayer of a righteous person has great power as it is working.^e

^e Or The effective prayer of a righteous person has great power

That the admonition to “confess your sins to one another” is immediately followed by the command to pray for one another suggests that we should confess to other believers in order for them to pray for us, in regard to our sin and condition. Further advantages are that others can help us in being: assured of forgiveness; and accountable – in both redressing the sin (where applicable) and in facing similar temptations in the future.

Be sorrowful over your sin

- Isa 57:15
- Return to God with all your heart – not insincerely, p. 1840

Ezra 9:3-6 As soon as I heard this, I tore my garment and my cloak and pulled hair from my head and beard and sat appalled. ⁴Then all who trembled at the words of the God of Israel, because of the faithlessness of the returned exiles, gathered around me while I sat appalled until the evening sacrifice. ⁵And at the evening sacrifice I rose from my fasting, with my garment and my cloak torn, and fell upon my knees and spread out my hands to the LORD my God, ⁶saying: “O my God, I am ashamed and blush to lift my face to you, my God, for our iniquities have risen higher than our heads, and our guilt has mounted up to the heavens.”

Here Ezra expresses his intense sorrow at the unfaithfulness of his people. The tearing of clothes and pulling out of hair is an expression of intense remorse – as is the case with fasting, wearing sackcloth and the use of dust and ashes in some of the following references.

Ezra 10:1 While Ezra prayed and made confession, weeping and casting himself down before the house of God, a very great assembly of men, women, and children, gathered to him out of Israel, for the people wept bitterly.

Neh 9:1-2 Now on the twenty-fourth day of this month the people of Israel were assembled with fasting and in sackcloth, and with earth on their heads. ²And the Israelites separated themselves from all foreigners and stood and confessed their sins and the iniquities of their fathers.

Job 42:6 ... therefore I despise myself, and repent^f in dust and ashes.

^f Or and am comforted

Job sat in dust and ashes to express his deep sorrow – that he was “really sorry” (NirV®) – for what he had unjustly said about God.

Ps 51:17 The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit; a broken and contrite heart, O God, you will not despise.

To be “contrite” (cf. Isa 57:15 ) is to be deeply remorseful and repentant of sin. God wants such “sacrifices” for sin.

Isa 22:12 In that day the Lord GOD of hosts called for weeping and mourning, for baldness and wearing sackcloth; ...

Ezek 43:10-11 As for you, son of man, describe to the house of Israel the temple, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities; and they shall measure the plan. ¹¹And if they are ashamed of all that they have done, make known to them the design of the temple, its arrangement, its exits and its entrances, that is, its whole design; and make known to them as well all its statutes and its whole design and all its laws, and write it down in their sight, so that they may observe all its laws and all its statutes and carry them out.

Being ashamed of one’s sin is an integral part of being sorrowful for sin.

James 4:9 Be wretched and mourn and weep. Let your laughter be turned to mourning and your joy to gloom.

“Be wretched” means to feel very unhappy.

Matt 5:4 Blessed are those who mourn, for they shall be comforted.

The mourning referred to does not appear to be mourning in response to troubles that occur. Quite possibly it is the mourning of godly people over sin and its consequences – both their own sin and the world’s. Such people will “be comforted”, which may well have initially in view their salvation from sin through Christ’s work; it certainly encompasses the comfort God’s people will receive in the afterlife (cf. Rev 21:4).

✦ The godly grief of the Corinthians and its beneficial effects:

2Cor 7:8-11a For even if I made you grieve with my letter, I do not regret it—though I did regret it, for I see that that letter grieved you, though only for a while. ⁹As it is, I rejoice, not because you were grieved, but because you were grieved into repenting. For you felt a godly grief, so that you suffered no loss through us. ¹⁰*For godly grief produces a repentance that leads to salvation without regret*, whereas worldly grief produces death. ¹¹*For see what earnestness this godly grief has produced in you, but also what eagerness to clear yourselves, what indignation, what fear, what longing, what zeal, what punishment!*

Paul had previously written to the Corinthians admonishing them over sin. In v. 9 Paul appears to be saying that he was happy not simply because they were sorry, but because of the effects of such godly grief (vv. 9-11a). Note that the reference to “punishment” (v. 11b) appears to refer to taking action against the guilty amongst them.

Humble yourself before God over your sin – and its consequences

Luke 18:13-14 But the tax collector, standing far off, would not even lift up his eyes to heaven, but beat his breast, saying, ‘God, be merciful to me, a sinner!’ ¹⁴I tell you, this man went down to his house justified, rather than the other. For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, but the one who humbles himself will be exalted.

James 4:10 Humble yourselves before the Lord, and he will exalt you.

The call for the readers to humble themselves appears to be in part for their sin of courting “friendship with the world” (v. 4).

Lev 26:40-42 But if they confess their iniquity and the iniquity of their fathers in their treachery that they committed against me, and also in walking contrary to me, ⁴¹so that I walked contrary to them and brought them into the land of their enemies—if then their uncircumcised heart is humbled and they make amends for their iniquity, ⁴²then I will remember my covenant with Jacob, and I will remember my covenant with Isaac and my covenant with Abraham, and I will remember the land.

2Chr 12:5-8, 12 Then Shemaiah the prophet came to Rehoboam and to the princes of Judah, who had gathered at Jerusalem because of Shishak, and said to them, “Thus says the LORD, ‘You abandoned me, so I have abandoned you to the hand of Shishak.’” ⁶*Then the princes of Israel and the king humbled themselves and said, “The LORD is righteous.”* ⁷When the LORD saw that they humbled themselves, the word of the LORD came to Shemaiah: “They have humbled themselves. I will not destroy them, but I will grant them some deliverance, and my wrath shall not be poured out on Jerusalem by the hand of Shishak.” ⁸Nevertheless, they shall be servants to him, that they may know my service and the service of the kingdoms of the countries.”  ... ¹²And when he [Rehoboam] humbled himself the wrath of the LORD turned from him, so as not to make a complete destruction. Moreover, conditions were good⁹ in Judah.

⁹ Hebrew good things were found

2Chr 33:9-13 Manasseh led Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem astray, to do more evil than the nations whom the LORD destroyed before the people of Israel. ¹⁰The LORD spoke to Manasseh and to his people, but they paid no attention. ¹¹Therefore the LORD brought upon them the commanders of the army of the king of Assyria, who captured Manasseh with hooks and bound him with chains of bronze and brought him to Babylon. ¹²And when he was in distress, he entreated the favor of the LORD his God and humbled himself greatly before the God of his fathers. ¹³He prayed to him, and God was moved by his entreaty and heard his plea and brought him again to Jerusalem into his kingdom. Then Manasseh knew that the LORD was God.

2Chr 34:27 ... because your heart was tender and you humbled yourself before God when you heard his words against this place and its inhabitants, and you have humbled yourself before me and have torn your clothes and wept before me, I also have heard you, declares the LORD.

✦ God continues to abide with those who are contrite and humble:

Isa 57:15 For thus says the One who is high and lifted up, who inhabits eternity, whose name is Holy: “I dwell in the high and holy place, and also with him who is of a contrite and lowly spirit, to revive the spirit of the lowly, and to revive the heart of the contrite.”

To have a “lowly spirit” is to be humble – here quite possibly a reference to responding to one’s own sin. God continues to abide with people who are contrite and humble regarding their sin.

Ask God for forgiveness and restoration

See also:

- Ask God to forgive them and show mercy when they do sin, p. 1325

We should ask God for forgiveness of sin and, in conjunction with this, for restoration from our unclean state before him and from other consequences of sin.

2Sam 24:10 But David's heart struck him after he had numbered the people. And David said to the LORD, "I have sinned greatly in what I have done. But now, O LORD, please take away the iniquity of your servant, for I have done very foolishly."

Ps 25:7, 11, 18 Remember not the sins of my youth or my transgressions; according to your steadfast love remember me, for the sake of your goodness, O LORD! ... ¹¹*For your name's sake, O LORD, pardon my guilt, for it is great.* ... ¹⁸*Consider my affliction and my trouble, and forgive all my sins.*

In asking for deliverance and forgiveness for his people, the psalmist appeals to the sake of both: God's goodness (v. 7b), so that his character will be seen for what it is, i.e. good; and God's name (v. 11a), they being God's people and identified with him (cf. Dan 9:19 ↓).

Ps 39:8 Deliver me from all my transgressions. Do not make me the scorn of the fool!

The psalmist prays to be saved from his sin and its consequences.

Ps 41:4 As for me, I said, "O LORD, be gracious to me; heal me,^h for I have sinned against you!"

^h Hebrew my soul

Ps 51:1-2, 7-12 Have mercy on me,ⁱ O God, according to your steadfast love; according to your abundant mercy blot out my transgressions. ²Wash me thoroughly from my iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin! ... ⁷*Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean; wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow. ⁸Let me hear joy and gladness; let the bones that you have broken rejoice. ⁹Hide your face from my sins, and blot out all my iniquities. ¹⁰Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right^h spirit within me. ¹¹Cast me not away from your presence, and take not your Holy Spirit from me. ¹²Restore to me the joy of your salvation, and uphold me with a willing spirit.*

ⁱ Or Be gracious to me

^h Or steadfast

Ps 79:9 Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory of your name; deliver us, and atone for our sins, for your name's sake!

Ps 85:4-7 Restore us again, O God of our salvation, and put away your indignation toward us! ⁵Will you be angry with us forever? Will you prolong your anger to all generations? ⁶Will you not revive us again, that your people may rejoice in you? ⁷*Show us your steadfast love, O LORD, and grant us your salvation.*

Isa 64:9 Be not so terribly angry, O LORD, and remember not iniquity forever. Behold, please look, we are all your people.

The phrase "please look" appears to be a request that God would look upon them with compassion.

Lam 5:21 Restore us to yourself, O LORD, that we may be restored! Renew our days as of old—

Dan 9:19 O Lord, hear; O Lord, forgive. O Lord, pay attention and act. Delay not, for your own sake, O my God, because your city and your people are called by your name.

Hos 14:2 Take with you words and return to the LORD; say to him, "Take away all iniquity; accept what is good, and we will pay with bulls the vows^k of our lips."

^k Septuagint, Syriac pay the fruit

Note that the request to "accept what is good" may have in view the offerings referred to in the subsequent clause.

Luke 11:4 ... and forgive us our sins, for we ourselves forgive everyone who is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation.

‡ Ask for forgiveness of sins you are not aware of:

Ps 19:12 Who can discern his errors? Declare me innocent from hidden faults.

In petitioning God, express your anguish over consequences of your sin – even with fasting

See also:

- Ps 25:18 ↑
- Be sorrowful over your sin, p. 1843

Note that a number of the references in the earlier subsection Be sorrowful over your sin, contain expressions of anguish that may well be in part in regard to the prospect of consequences of sin.

Lam 2:18-19 Their heart cried to the Lord. O wall of the daughter of Zion, let tears stream down like a torrent day and night! Give yourself no rest, your eyes no respite! ¹⁹*Arise, cry out in the night, at the beginning of the night watches! Pour out your heart like water before the presence of the Lord! Lift your hands to him for the lives of your children, who faint for hunger at the head of every street."*

Lam 3:41-42 Let us lift up our hearts and hands to God in heaven: ⁴²“We have transgressed and rebelled, and you have not forgiven.”

The call to “lift up our hearts” – as well as “our hands” – calls for earnest expression of one’s anguish over sin and the consequences being endured, with God having “not forgiven.”

Dan 9:2-3 ... in the first year of his reign, I, Daniel, perceived in the books the number of years that, according to the word of the LORD to Jeremiah the prophet, must pass before the end of the desolations of Jerusalem, namely, seventy years. ³*Then I turned my face to the Lord God, seeking him by prayer and pleas for mercy with fasting and sackcloth and ashes.*

The desolation of Jerusalem (v. 2) was one of the main consequences of Judah’s persistent sin. Because of it and the length of time it would last, Daniel prays to God and in doing so expresses his anguish over it (v. 3).

Joel 1:13-14 Put on sackcloth and lament, O priests; wail, O ministers of the altar. Go in, pass the night in sackcloth, O ministers of my God! Because grain offering and drink offering are withheld from the house of your God. ¹⁴Consecrate a fast; call a solemn assembly. Gather the elders and all the inhabitants of the land to the house of the LORD your God, and cry out to the LORD.

Apparently as a consequence of the people’s sin (cf. Joel 2:12-13 ↓), an awesome plague of locusts had devastated the land, leaving neither grain nor wine even for offerings (v. 13b; cf. Joel 2:14 ↓). Thus the prophet calls on the priests – and similarly the people (cf. vv. 5-12) – to express their anguish before God (vv. 13-14a), in conjunction with crying out to God for help (v. 14b).

Joel 2:12-17 “Yet even now,” declares the LORD, “return to me with all your heart, with fasting, with weeping, and with mourning; ¹³*and rend your hearts and not your garments.*” Return to the LORD your God, for he is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and abounding in steadfast love; and he relents over disaster. ¹⁴Who knows whether he will not turn and relent, and leave a blessing behind him, a grain offering and a drink offering for the LORD your God? ¹⁵Blow the trumpet in Zion; consecrate a fast; call a solemn assembly; ¹⁶gather the people. Consecrate the congregation; assemble the elders; gather the children, even nursing infants. Let the bridegroom leave his room, and the bride her chamber. ¹⁷Between the vestibule and the altar let the priests, the ministers of the LORD, weep and say, “Spare your people, O LORD, and make not your heritage a reproach, a byword among the nations.¹ Why should they say among the peoples, ‘Where is their God?’”

¹ Or reproach, that the nations should rule over them

Jonah 3:4-8 Jonah began to go into the city, going a day’s journey. And he called out, “Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown!” ⁵And the people of Nineveh believed God. They called for a fast and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them to the least of them. ⁶The word reached^m the king of Nineveh, and he arose from his throne, removed his robe, covered himself with sackcloth, and sat in ashes. ⁷And he issued a proclamation and published through Nineveh, “By the decree of the king and his nobles: Let neither man nor beast, herd nor flock, taste anything. Let them not feed or drink water, ⁸*but let man and beast be covered with sackcloth, and let them call out mightily to God.* Let everyone turn from his evil way and from the violence that is in his hands.

^m Or had reached

Note that this speaks of the repentance and anguish of the pagan Ninevites rather than wayward people of God. Nevertheless their response is exemplary to all.

Note: Accept God’s discipline for sin

See also:

- Accept hard times from God, p. 1948

The consequences of our sin are often the product of God’s discipline. So even though we should ask God for restoration from these consequences – and even express anguish over them – we are nevertheless to also accept such discipline for sin.

Job 5:17-18 Behold, blessed is the one whom God reproves; therefore despise not the discipline of the Almighty. ¹⁸*For he wounds, but he binds up; he shatters, but his hands heal.*

Verse 18 points to the restoration that God brings for those who do not despise and so accept his discipline (v. 17).

Prov 3:11-12 My son, do not despise the LORD’s discipline or be weary of his reproof, ¹²for the LORD reproves him whom he loves, as a father the son in whom he delights.

Judg 10:15 And the people of Israel said to the LORD, “We have sinned; do to us whatever seems good to you. Only please deliver us this day.”

The people indicate their willingness to submit to whatever discipline God thought best, if only he would deliver them from the ultimate punishment of devastation at the hands of enemies.

1Sam 3:18 So Samuel told him everything and hid nothing from him. And he said, “It is the LORD. Let him do what seems good to him.”

Here Eli acknowledges God’s sovereignty – “He is the LORD” – and possibly also God’s righteousness. In conjunction with this Eli shows his submissiveness to God and acceptance of God’s discipline or punishment, horrific as it was (cf. vv. 11-14).

2Sam 15:25-26 Then the king said to Zadok, “Carry the ark of God back into the city. If I find favor in the eyes of the LORD, he will bring me back and let me see both it and his dwelling place. ²⁶But if he says, ‘I have no pleasure in you,’ behold, here I am, let him do to me what seems good to him.”

1Chr 21:8-13 And David said to God, “I have sinned greatly in that I have done this thing. But now, please take away the iniquity of your servant, for I have acted very foolishly.” ⁹And the LORD spoke to Gad, David’s seer, saying, ¹⁰“Go and say to David, ‘Thus says the LORD, Three things I offer you; choose one of them, that I may do it to you.’” ¹¹So Gad came to David and said to him, “Thus says the LORD, ‘Choose what you will: ¹²either three years of famine, or three months of devastation by your foes while the sword of your enemies overtakes you, or else three days of the sword of the LORD, pestilence on the land, with the angel of the LORD destroying throughout all the territory of Israel.’ Now decide what answer I shall return to him who sent me.” ¹³Then David said to Gad, “I am in great distress. Let me fall into the hand of the LORD, for his mercy is very great, but do not let me fall into the hand of man.”

David shows his acceptance of God’s discipline in making a choice as God had directed. He chooses one of the punishments which entail punishment direct from God’s hand, rather than “fall into the hand of man” (v. 13).

2Chr 12:5-6 Then Shemaiah the prophet came to Rehoboam and to the princes of Judah, who had gathered at Jerusalem because of Shishak, and said to them, “Thus says the LORD, ‘You abandoned me, so I have abandoned you to the hand of Shishak.’” ⁶Then the princes of Israel and the king humbled themselves and said, “The LORD is righteous.”

Ps 39:9 I am mute; I do not open my mouth, for it is you who have done it.

Here David prays to God during a time of illness, which David appears to see as discipline for sin (cf. vv. 8, 11). Note that after demonstrating here his acceptance of God’s discipline, David also asks for relief from it (cf. vv. 10, 12-13). One can accept God’s discipline while also asking to be delivered from it, being ready to accept whatever is God’s response.

Lam 3:27-30, 39 It is good for a man that he bear the yoke in his youth. ²⁸Let him sit alone in silence when it is laid on him; ²⁹let him put his mouth in the dust— there may yet be hope; ³⁰let him give his cheek to the one who strikes, and let him be filled with insults. ... ³⁹Why should a living man complain, a man, about the punishment of his sins?

The phrase “bear the yoke” (v. 27) refers to discipline and may also be speaking of willingly accepting it. “Let him sit alone in silence” (v. 28) certainly implies willing acceptance of the discipline that God “laid on him”. In v. 29, “let him put his mouth in the dust” means to bow face down on the ground as an expression of complete submission – “bow in submission” (GNT, cf. NCV). In v. 30, “let him give his cheek to the one who strikes” is another expression of submission; although “one” is probably referring to another person rather than to God, the thought being that the people should accept such ill treatment where God is using it to discipline them.

✦ Not accepting God’s correction for sin brings dire consequences:

Zeph 3:1-2, 7 Woe to her who is rebellious and defiled, the oppressing city! ²She listens to no voice; she accepts no correction. She does not trust in the LORD; she does not draw near to her God. ... ⁷I said, ‘Surely you will fear me; you will accept correction. Then your^a dwelling would not be cut off according to all that I have appointed against you.’^o But all the more they were eager to make all their deeds corrupt.

^a Hebrew her

^o Hebrew her

The implication of v. 7 is that because they would not accept correction, their dwelling would be cut off. Note that Leviticus 26:23-24 somewhat similarly speaks of how not responding to God’s discipline for sin brings dire consequences: “And if by this discipline you are not turned to me but walk contrary to me, ²⁴then I also will walk contrary to you, and I myself will strike you sevenfold for your sins.”

astray. ¹⁴*So it is not the will of my^P Father who is in heaven that one of these little ones should perish.*

^P Some manuscripts your

With v. 14 likening God's attitude to that of the shepherd, the suggestion may well be that like the shepherd in v. 12, God seeks to retrieve any of his people who wander away from him.

✦ Elijah's desire that God would turn his people back:

1Ki 18:37 Answer me, O LORD, answer me, that this people may know that you, O LORD, are God, and that you have turned their hearts back.

⁴ Or dispute

The repentant actions (vv. 16-17) were critical to God forgiving the people's sins (v. 18b).

Jer 36:3 It may be that the house of Judah will hear all the disaster that I intend to do to them, so that every one may turn from his evil way, and that I may forgive their iniquity and their sin.

Luke 18:13-14 But the tax collector, standing far off, would not even lift up his eyes to heaven, but beat his breast, saying, 'God, be merciful to me, a sinner!' ¹⁴*I tell you, this man went down to his house justified, rather than the other. For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, but the one who humbles himself will be exalted.*

... Further references to God forgiving sin

See also:

- ... and God is forgiving, p. 79

Ex 34:6-7 The LORD passed before him and proclaimed, "The LORD, the LORD, a God merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and abounding in steadfast love and faithfulness, ⁷keeping steadfast love for thousands,^r forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin, but who will by no means clear the guilty, visiting the iniquity of the fathers on the children and the children's children, to the third and the fourth generation."

^r Or to the thousandth generation

Ps 32:1-2 Blessed is the one whose transgression is forgiven, whose sin is covered. ²Blessed is the man against whom the LORD counts no iniquity, and in whose spirit there is no deceit.

Ps 65:3 When iniquities prevail against me, you atone for our transgressions.

Note that the first clause appears to be speaking either of being overcome by the results of sin or of substantial guilt for sin.

Ps 85:2-3 You forgave the iniquity of your people; you covered all their sin. Selah ³You withdrew all your wrath; you turned from your hot anger.

Ps 86:5 For you, O Lord, are good and forgiving, abounding in steadfast love to all who call upon you.

Ps 103:2-3, 11-12 Bless the LORD, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits, ³*who forgives all your iniquity*, who heals all your diseases, ... ¹¹For as high as the heavens are above the earth, so great is his steadfast love toward those who fear him; ¹²*as far as the east is from the west, so far does he remove our transgressions from us.*

Ps 130:4, 8 But with you there is forgiveness, that you may be feared. ... ⁸*And he will redeem Israel from all his iniquities.*

In regard to v. 4, without God's forgiveness the fear of God that the Bible speaks of would not be possible – it being a fear which encompasses (among other things) worship, service and even longing for God. In place of it there would only be terror.

Isa 43:25 I, I am he who blots out your transgressions for my own sake, and I will not remember your sins.

James 5:14-15 Is anyone among you sick? Let him call for the elders of the church, and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord. ¹⁵And the prayer of faith will save the one who is sick, and the Lord will raise him up. And if he has committed sins, he will be forgiven.

Presumably this assumes a preparedness to repent (as with the above references) in the person being prayed for, should sin be the issue at hand.

✦ God heals repentant people of faithlessness:

Jer 3:22 "Return, O faithless sons; I will heal your faithlessness." "Behold, we come to you, for you are the LORD our God.

This is also referred to in Hosea 14:4a in the previous subsection – "I will heal their apostasy ..."

Being merciful and compassionate, God saves us from the consequences of our sin

See also:

- ... Due to his mercy and compassion, God limits his people's punishment, p. 877

Deut 4:30-31 When you are in tribulation, and all these things come upon you in the latter days, you will return to the LORD your God and obey his voice. ³¹For the LORD your God is a merciful God. He will not leave you or destroy you or forget the covenant with your fathers that he swore to them.

In his mercy and also his faithfulness to his covenant with Israel, God would not abandon or destroy them (v. 31). The implication is that he would save them from their distress and the terrible things that beset them (v. 30a) as consequences of their sin.

Prov 28:13 Whoever conceals his transgressions will not prosper, but he who confesses and forsakes them will obtain mercy.

Rather than "not prosper", those who repent receive God's mercy. This suggests that in his mercy God saves them from the consequences of their sin.

Jer 3:12 Go, and proclaim these words toward the north, and say, “Return, faithless Israel, declares the LORD. I will not look on you in anger, for I am merciful, declares the LORD; I will not be angry forever.

God appears to tell Jeremiah to proclaim this message to the remnant in the northern state of Israel, or perhaps to those in exile, further to the north. That God would save them from the consequences of their sin, if they returned to him, is underlined shortly afterwards by a wonderful promise of restoration that appears to have a renewed Israel of the end time in view (cf. vv. 14-18).

Deut 30:2-3 ... and return to the LORD your God, you and your children, and obey his voice in all that I command you today, with all your heart and with all your soul, ³then the LORD your God will restore your fortunes and have compassion on you, and he will gather you again from all the peoples where the LORD your God has scattered you.

2Chr 30:9 For if you return to the LORD, your brothers and your children will find compassion with their captors and return to this land. For the LORD your God is gracious and merciful and will not turn away his face from you, if you return to him.

Note that God’s graciousness is associated with his mercy (cf. Joel 2:13b ↓).

Jer 31:16-20 Thus says the LORD: “Keep your voice from weeping, and your eyes from tears, for there is a reward for your work, declares the LORD, and they shall come back from the land of the enemy. ¹⁷There is hope for your future, declares the LORD, and your children shall come back to their own country. ¹⁸I have heard Ephraim grieving, ‘You have disciplined me, and I was disciplined, like an untrained calf; bring me back that I may be restored, for you are the LORD my God. ¹⁹For after I had turned away, I relented, and after I was instructed, I struck my thigh; I was ashamed, and I was confounded, because I bore the disgrace of my youth.’ ²⁰Is Ephraim my dear son? Is he my darling child? For as often as I speak against him, I do remember him still. Therefore my heart yearns for him; I will surely have mercy on him, declares the LORD.

^s Hebrew bowels

“I struck my thigh” (v. 19) appears to be an expression of remorse. Ephraim’s repentance (vv. 18-19) would lead to God’s mercy (v. 20), and her restoration (vv. 16-17) as reflected in much of the remainder of Jeremiah 31.

Joel 2:13b Return to the LORD your God, for he is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and abounding in steadfast love; and he relents over disaster.

Hos 14:1-5 Return, O Israel, to the LORD your God, for you have stumbled because of your iniquity. ²Take with you words and return to the LORD; say to him, “Take away all iniquity; accept what is good, and we will pay with bulls the vows^t of our lips. ³Assyria shall not save us; we will not ride on horses; and we will say no more, ‘Our God,’ to the work of our hands. In you the orphan finds mercy.” [God:] ⁴I will heal their apostasy; I will love them freely, for my anger has turned from them. ⁵I will be like the dew to Israel; he shall blossom like the lily; he shall take root like the trees of Lebanon; ...

^t Septuagint, Syriac pay the fruit

The reference to orphans finding mercy in God (v. 3b) appears to allude to their need for God’s help and mercy.

Luke 15:18-24 I will arise and go to my father, and I will say to him, “Father, I have sinned against heaven and before you. ¹⁹I am no longer worthy to be called your son. Treat me as one of your hired servants.” ²⁰And he arose and came to his father. But while he was still a long way off, his father saw him and felt compassion, and ran and embraced him and kissed him. ²¹And the son said to him, ‘Father, I have sinned against heaven and before you. I am no longer worthy to be called your son.’ ²²But the father said to his servants, ^v ‘Bring quickly the best robe, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet. ²³And bring the fattened calf and kill it, and let us eat and celebrate. ²⁴For this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found.’ And they began to celebrate.

^u Some manuscripts add treat me as one of your hired servants

^v Greek bondservants

This portrays God’s compassionate response to repentant sinners.

† Some consequences of David’s sin remained:

2Sam 12:9-14 Why have you despised the word of the LORD, to do what is evil in his sight? You have struck down Uriah the Hittite with the sword and have taken his wife to be your wife and have killed him with the sword of the Ammonites. ¹⁰Now therefore the sword shall never depart from your house, because you have despised me and have taken the wife of Uriah the Hittite to be your wife. ¹¹Thus says the LORD, ‘Behold, I will raise up evil against you out of your own house. And I will take your wives before your eyes and give them to your neighbor, and he shall lie with your wives in the sight of this

sun. ¹²For you did it secretly, but I will do this thing before all Israel and before the sun.” ¹³David said to Nathan, “I have sinned against the LORD.” And Nathan said to David, “The LORD also has put away your sin; you shall not die. ¹⁴Nevertheless, because by this deed you have utterly scorned the LORD,^w the child who is born to you shall die.”

^w Masoretic Text the enemies of the LORD; Dead Sea Scroll the word of the LORD

David acknowledged his sin (v. 13a) and – presumably in response – God took it away and David did not die for it (v. 13b). Nevertheless a number of consequences of his sin remained (vv. 10-12, 14) – the reasons given being that he had: in effect despised God (v. 10b); and scorned God in the sight of others (v. 14a; cf. AMP, NASB, NCV, NIV, NKJV, NLT). Regarding the second reason, Nathan may have meant that in David suffering these consequences, God’s enemies would see that such sin would not go unpunished and so would no longer be contemptuous of God due to David’s sin. As such David’s punishment would help redress this serious ill effect of his sin.

When we repent God restores our relationship with him

Lev 26:40-42 But if they confess their iniquity and the iniquity of their fathers in their treachery that they committed against me, and also in walking contrary to me, ⁴¹so that I walked contrary to them and brought them into the land of their enemies—if then their uncircumcised heart is humbled and they make amends for their iniquity, ⁴²then I will remember my covenant with Jacob, and I will remember my covenant with Isaac and my covenant with Abraham, and I will remember the land.

Note that “make amends for their iniquity” (v. 41b) appears to refer to the people paying for their sin (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV, NLT).

2Chr 30:6, 9b So couriers went throughout all Israel and Judah with letters from the king and his princes, as the king had commanded, saying, “O people of Israel, return to the LORD, the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, that he may turn again to the remnant of you who have escaped from the hand of the kings of Assyria. ... ⁹ ... For the LORD your God is gracious and merciful and will not turn away his face from you, if you return to him.”

Jer 24:7 I will give them a heart to know that I am the LORD, and they shall be my people and I will be their God, for they shall return to me with their whole heart.

God in effect promises the unfaithful people that if they returned to him wholeheartedly he would restore his relationship with them to what it should be, the crux of which is that they would be his people and he would be their God. Note that the first clause points to God not only restoring his people’s relationship with him, but enriching it.

Hos 14:2, 4, 8 Take with you words and return to the LORD; say to him, “Take away all iniquity; accept what is good, and we will pay with bulls the vows^x of our lips. ... ⁴I will heal their apostasy; I will love them freely, for my anger has turned from them. ... ⁸O Ephraim, what have I to do with idols? It is I who answer and look after you.^y I am like an evergreen cypress; from me comes your fruit.

^x Septuagint, Syriac pay the fruit

^y Hebrew him

As in v. 4, in v. 8 God is speaking of the kingdom of Israel as a whole.

Zec 1:3 Therefore say to them, Thus declares the LORD of hosts: Return to me, says the LORD of hosts, and I will return to you, says the LORD of hosts.

James 4:8 Draw near to God, and he will draw near to you. Cleanse your hands, you sinners, and purify your hearts, you double-minded.

Rev 3:19-20 Those whom I love, I reprove and discipline, so be zealous and repent. ²⁰Behold, I stand at the door and knock. If anyone hears my voice and opens the door, I will come in to him and eat with him, and he with me.

Verse 20 is often used as depicting Christ reaching out to unbelievers, but in actual fact it is the lukewarm members of the church in Laodicea that are in view.

Jer 15:19 Therefore thus says the LORD: “If you return, I will restore you, and you shall stand before me. If you utter what is precious, and not what is worthless, you shall be as my mouth. They shall turn to you, but you shall not turn to them.

God’s promised Jeremiah that if he repented he would again serve God.

‡ If after sinning we seek God wholeheartedly, we will find him:

Deut 4:29 But from there [after forsaking him] you will seek the LORD your God and you will find him, if you search after him with all your heart and with all your soul.

2Ki 17:22-23 The people of Israel walked in all the sins that Jeroboam did. They did not depart from them,²³ until the LORD removed Israel out of his sight, as he had spoken by all his servants the prophets. So Israel was exiled from their own land to Assyria until this day. 📖

Isa 9:13-15 The people did not turn to him who struck them, nor inquire of the LORD of hosts.¹⁴ So the LORD cut off from Israel head and tail, palm branch and reed in one day—¹⁵ the elder and honored man is the head, and the prophet who teaches lies is the tail; . . . 📖

Jer 44:5-6 But they did not listen or incline their ear, to turn from their evil and make no offerings to other gods.⁶ Therefore my wrath and my anger were poured out and kindled in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem, and they became a waste and a desolation, as at this day. 📖

^a Hebrew along with the captivity of your horses

^b That is, a burning stick

The persistent refusal of Israel to return despite God's punishment resulted in more punishments (cf. Lev 26:14-39). Verse 12 indicates that God would further punish Israel for not returning to him. The punishment is not actually specified; instead in an ominous tone Israel is told to ready itself to meet God "as he comes in judgment" (NLT). Note that "cleanness of teeth" (v. 6) appears to allude to a lack of food to eat.

. . . Unrepentant churches face Jesus Christ's judgment

Jesus Christ is the speaker in the following verses from Revelation.

Rev 2:4-5 But I have this against you, that you have abandoned the love you had at first.⁵ Remember therefore from where you have fallen; repent, and do the works you did at first. If not, I will come to you and remove your lampstand from its place, unless you repent. 📖

The phrase "remove your lampstand" implies judgment, possibly in particular the removal of the church in Ephesus as a light of testimony for Christ.

Rev 2:16 Therefore repent. If not, I will come to you soon and war against them with the sword of my mouth. 📖

This speaks of Christ's judgment of unrepentant church members in Pergamum. The reference to "the sword of my mouth" possibly means that the judgment would be in accordance with his words or pronounced by his word/s and thus come into being. As such, his words would in effect "cut like a sword" (CEV).

Rev 2:20-23 But I have this against you, that you tolerate that woman Jezebel, who calls herself a prophetess and is teaching and seducing my servants^c to practice sexual immorality and to eat food sacrificed to idols. ²¹*I gave her time to repent, but she refuses to repent of her sexual immorality.* ²²*Behold, I will throw her onto a sickbed, and those who commit adultery with her I will throw into great tribulation, unless they repent of her works,* ²³*and I will strike her children dead.* And all the churches will know that I am he who searches mind and heart, and I will give to each of you according to your works. 📖

^c Greek bondservants

The phrase "her children" refers to those who followed this self-proclaimed prophetess Jezebel in practicing immorality – her "spiritual" children.

Rev 3:3 Remember, then, what you received and heard. Keep it, and repent. If you will not wake up, I will come like a thief, and you will not know at what hour I will come against you.

If the church in Sardis did not obey and repent, Christ would come to them in judgment without warning. Note that here the phrase "like a thief" is not necessarily referring to Christ's second coming.

✚ Failure to repent means that sin is not atoned for:

Isa 22:12-14 In that day the Lord GOD of hosts called for weeping and mourning, for baldness and wearing sackcloth; ¹³and behold, joy and gladness, killing oxen and slaughtering sheep, eating flesh and drinking wine. "Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we die." ¹⁴*The LORD of hosts has revealed himself in my ears: "Surely this iniquity will not be atoned for you until you die," says the Lord GOD of hosts.* 📖

II. Avoiding Sin and Being Holy

The Bible does not merely tell us not to sin. It also helps us not to do so by giving sound instructions and alternatives to sin. In conjunction with this, the Bible calls us to be holy – i.e. to live pure lives, set apart from all that is ungodly.

Deut 4:23 Take care, lest you forget the covenant of the LORD your God, which he made with you, and make a carved image, the form of anything that the LORD your God has forbidden you.

For the people to forget their covenant with God would necessarily involve sin, so in a real sense Moses is effectively urging the people not to sin.

Deut 11:16 Take care lest your heart be deceived, and you turn aside and serve other gods and worship them; ...

Deut 15:9 Take care lest there be an unworthy thought in your heart and you say, 'The seventh year, the year of release is near,' and your eye look grudgingly^a on your poor brother, and you give him nothing, and he cry to the LORD against you, and you be guilty of sin.

^a Or be evil; also verse 10

We should be careful not to harbor any "unworthy" thought, which can lead to sin – and moreover is sinful in itself.

Job 36:18 Beware lest wrath entice you into scoffing, and let not the greatness of the ransom turn you aside.

Jer 17:21 Thus says the LORD: Take care for the sake of your lives, and do not bear a burden on the Sabbath day or bring it in by the gates of Jerusalem.

This is an exhortation to be careful not to work on the Sabbath.

Luke 12:15 And he said to them, "Take care, and be on your guard against all covetousness, for one's life does not consist in the abundance of his possessions."

1Cor 10:12 Therefore let anyone who thinks that he stands take heed lest he fall.

Job 34:31-32 For has anyone said to God, ‘I have borne punishment; I will not offend any more; ³²*teach me what I do not see*; if I have done iniquity, I will do it no more?’

The first part of v. 32 is speaking of any sin of one’s own that one cannot see (cf. AMP, CEV, GNT, NlrV, NLT). We should ask God to show us any wrong that we do, so as to not do it again (cf. Ps 139:23-24 ↓).

Ps 19:13 Keep back your servant also from presumptuous sins; let them not have dominion over me! Then I shall be blameless, and innocent of great transgression.

Ps 119:10, 29, 37, 80, 133 With my whole heart I seek you; let me not wander from your commandments! ... ²⁹*Put false ways far from me* and graciously teach me your law! ... ³⁷*Turn my eyes from looking at worthless things*; and give me life in your ways. ... ⁸⁰*May my heart be blameless in your statutes, that I may not be put to shame!* ... ¹³³*Keep steady my steps according to your promise, and let no iniquity get dominion over me.*

In v. 37, “worthless things” quite possibly refers primarily to idols (cf. AMP).

Ps 139:23-24 Search me, O God, and know my heart! Try me and know my thoughts!^d ²⁴*And see if there be any grievous way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting!*^e

^d Or cares

^e Or in the ancient way (compare Jeremiah 6:16)

The psalmist asks God to examine him, and if there is any sinful way in him, to turn him from it to God’s way. Note that similar to v. 23, Psalm 26:2 says, “Prove me, O Lord, and try me; test my heart and my mind.”

Ps 141:3-4 Set a guard, O LORD, over my mouth; keep watch over the door of my lips! ⁴*Do not let my heart incline to any evil, to busy myself with wicked deeds in company with men who work iniquity, and let me not eat of their delicacies!*

Prov 30:8 Remove far from me falsehood and lying; give me neither poverty nor riches; feed me with the food that is needful for me, ...

Matt 6:13 And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.^f

^f Or the evil one; some manuscripts add For yours is the kingdom and the power and the glory, forever. Amen

Particularly as James 1:13 says that God does not tempt anyone, “lead us not into temptation” may have the sense “don’t let us yield to temptation” (NLT; cf. NlrV). Alternatively “temptation” may have a more general sense, referring to “hard testing” (GNT; cf. NRSV).

Luke 22:40, 45-46 And when he came to the place, he said to them, “Pray that you may not enter into temptation.” ... ⁴⁵And when he rose from prayer, he came to the disciples and found them sleeping for sorrow, ⁴⁶and he said to them, “Why are you sleeping? Rise and pray that you may not enter into temptation.”

The “temptation” spoken of here is probably primarily being unfaithful in the face of imminent danger, rather than only referring to the temptation of sleep.

Jer 10:24 Correct me, O LORD, but in justice; not in your anger, lest you bring me to nothing.

We ought to ask God to “correct, instruct, and chastise” (AMP) ourselves.

. . . For God and Jesus Christ are willing and able to help us withstand temptation

1Cor 10:13 No temptation has overtaken you that is not common to man. God is faithful, and he will not let you be tempted beyond your ability, but with the temptation he will also provide the way of escape, that you may be able to endure it.

Heb 2:18 For because he himself has suffered when tempted, he is able to help those who are being tempted.

In saying that Jesus “suffered when tempted” the writer may primarily have in view Jesus’ suffering leading up to and during his resurrection and the temptation to opt out of such an ordeal. His temptation by Satan in the desert after fasting for forty days and nights may also be in view. Amidst such hardship these temptations would have been all the harder to resist, making Jesus’ experience of temptation the equal of any we might face. Thus he understands our plight and knows how to help.

Heb 4:15-16 For we do not have a high priest who is unable to sympathize with our weaknesses, but one who in every respect has been tempted as we are, yet without sin. ¹⁶*Let us then with confidence draw near to the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy and find grace to help in time of need.*

2Pet 2:9 ... then the Lord knows how to rescue the godly from trials,⁹ and to keep the unrighteous under punishment until the day of judgment, ...

⁹ Or temptations

In this verse the Greek for “trials” can also been translated as “temptation” (ESV text note, NASB, cf. NKJV) making it pertinent to this subsection. It may well be inclusive of – it is at least applicable to – both “temptations and trials” (AMP).

Jude 1:24 Now to him who is able to keep you from stumbling and to present you blameless before the presence of his glory with great joy, ...

The term “stumbling” would appear to mean falling into sin or error – both of which are grave dangers of false teachers who are so prominent in Jude’s letter. The term could alternatively, or additionally, allude to actually falling away from the faith, the result of unchecked sin or error.

Use God’s word to avoid sin and counter evil

See also:

- God’s word helps people avoid sin, p. 313

Ps 17:4 With regard to the works of man, by the word of your lips I have avoided the ways of the violent.

Ps 37:31 The law of his God is in his heart; his steps do not slip.

The last clause quite probably refers to not committing sin.

Ps 119:9, 11, 165 How can a young man keep his way pure? By guarding it according to your word. ... ¹¹*I have stored up your word in my heart, that I might not sin against you.* ... ¹⁶⁵*Great peace have those who love your law; nothing can make them stumble.*

We should use God’s word to avoid sin by: following its instructions (v. 9); meditating on it or bearing it in mind (v. 11); and loving it (v. 165).

Matt 4:3-11 And the tempter came and said to him, “If you are the Son of God, command these stones to become loaves of bread.” ⁴*But he answered, “It is written, “Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that comes from the mouth of God.”* ⁵Then the devil took him to the holy city and set him on the pinnacle of the temple ⁶and said to him, “If you are the Son of God, throw yourself down, for it is written, “He will command his angels concerning you,” and “On their hands they will bear you up, lest you strike your foot against a stone.” ⁷*Jesus said to him, “Again it is written, ‘You shall not put the Lord your God to the test.’”* ⁸Again, the devil took him to a very high mountain and showed him all the kingdoms of the world and their glory. ⁹And he said to him, “All these I will give you, if you will fall down and worship me.” ¹⁰*Then Jesus said to him, “Be gone, Satan! For it is written, “You shall worship the Lord your God and him only shall you serve.”* ¹¹Then the devil left him, and behold, angels came and were ministering to him.

Jesus counters each of Satan’s three temptations by quoting from Scripture, exposing the faults of what Satan had said.

Eph 6:17 ... and take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God, ...

This is said in the context of standing against the devil’s schemes (cf. v. 11) and struggling against evil forces (cf. v. 12-13).

James 1:21 Therefore put away all filthiness and rampant wickedness and receive with meekness the implanted word, which is able to save your souls.

2Pet 1:4 ... by which he has granted to us his precious and very great promises, so that through them you may become partakers of the divine nature, having escaped from the corruption that is in the world because of sinful desire.

The use of the phrase “through them” may be pointing to the fact that as we take God’s promises to heart and set our hope on them, they will have a purifying effect on us. For the hope given by God’s promises leads and spurs us on in the Christian life. Alternatively, “through them” may instead be speaking of their fulfillment, by which we will come to participate in God’s nature. The first alternative seems the most likely and as such the verse is pertinent to this subsection.

1Jn 2:1 My little children, I am writing these things to you so that you may not sin. But if anyone does sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous.

One of the prime aims of John writing his letter was to enlighten and encourage his readers so that they would not sin. Still today his letters and Scripture generally provide enlightenment and encouragement which help us avoid sin.

Avoid sinful passions and desires . . .

Rom 13:14 But put on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make no provision for the flesh, to gratify its desires.

1Cor 10:5-6 Nevertheless, with most of them God was not pleased, for they were overthrown in the wilderness. ⁶Now these things took place as examples for us, that we might not desire evil as they did.

Gal 5:24 And those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with its passions and desires.

Col 3:5 Put to death therefore what is earthly in you:^h sexual immorality, impurity, passion, evil desire, and covetousness, which is idolatry.

^h Greek therefore your members that are on the earth

2Tim 2:22 So flee youthful passions and pursue righteousness, faith, love, and peace, along with those who call on the Lord from a pure heart.

1Pet 1:14 As obedient children, do not be conformed to the passions of your former ignorance, ...

In keeping with not indulging sinful passions and desires, we should not conform to them.

1Pet 2:11 Beloved, I urge you as sojourners and exiles to abstain from the passions of the flesh, which wage war against your soul.

1Pet 4:1-2 Since therefore Christ suffered in the flesh,ⁱ arm yourselves with the same way of thinking, for whoever has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin,²so as to live for the rest of the time in the flesh no longer for human passions but for the will of God.

James 1:14-15 But each person is tempted when he is lured and enticed by his own desire. ¹⁵*Then desire when it has conceived gives birth to sin,* and sin when it is fully grown brings forth death.

Indulging sinful desires leads to temptation and then to sin – and ultimately spiritual death (cf. 1Tim 6:9 ↓).

Matt 15:18-19 But what comes out of the mouth proceeds from the heart, and this defiles a person. ¹⁹*For out of the heart come evil thoughts, murder, adultery, sexual immorality, theft, false witness, slander.*

The heart – with its passions and desires – greatly influences what comes out of one's mouth, and indeed all that one produces. Thus it is the source of what defiles a person (v. 18).

Luke 6:45 The good person out of the good treasure of his heart produces good, and the evil person out of his evil treasure produces evil, for out of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaks.

Similar to Matthew 15:18-19 above, here Jesus makes the point that the thoughts and desires of one's heart are manifested in one's speech (as well as actions). As such, evil desires lead to sin – in word and action.

Rom 6:12 Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, to make you obey its passions.

This points to the fact that sin involves the gratifying of evil or sinful passions.

2Tim 3:6 For among them are those who creep into households and capture weak women, burdened with sins and led astray by various passions, ...

James 3:16 For where jealousy and selfish ambition exist, there will be disorder and every vile practice.

Jealousy and selfish ambition are examples of evil passions or desires that lead to sin – as is coveting below in 4:1-2.

James 4:1-2 What causes quarrels and what causes fights among you? Is it not this, that your passionsⁱ are at war within you?^k ²*You desire and do not have, so you murder. You covet and cannot obtain, so you fight and quarrel.* You do not have, because you do not ask.

ⁱ Greek pleasures; also verse 3

^k Greek in your members

Note that the use of "murder" (v. 2a) may well be figurative, indicating intense hostility towards others.

2Pet 1:4 ... by which he has granted to us his precious and very great promises, so that through them you may become partakers of the divine nature, having escaped from the corruption that is in the world because of sinful desire.

‡ Sinful desires ultimately lead to ruin and destruction:

1Tim 6:9 But those who desire to be rich fall into temptation, into a snare, into many senseless and harmful desires that plunge people into ruin and destruction.

James 1:14-15 above makes a similar point (as noted there).

Renew your mind and take care of your “heart”

See also:

- . . . People are led into sin by their corrupt hearts and minds, p. 369

In accordance with the need to avoid and not indulge sinful desires, and in view of the fact that sinful desires lead to sin, we should renew our minds and take care of our “hearts”.

The first three references below speak of renewing our minds, with the latter references speaking of taking care of our “hearts”. In renewing our minds we should look to God, asking him to effect such a change. We assist this spiritual renewal by assimilating and applying God’s word, with the help of the Holy Spirit.

Rom 12:2 Do not be conformed to this world,^l but be transformed by the renewal of your mind, that by testing you may discern what is the will of God, what is good and acceptable and perfect.^m

^m Or what is the good and acceptable and perfect will of God

Eph 4:22-23 . . . to put off your old self,ⁿ which belongs to your former manner of life and is corrupt through deceitful desires,²³ and to be renewed in the spirit of your minds, . . .

ⁿ Greek man; also verse 24

The minds of God’s people are to be renewed, meaning a spiritual renewal of their attitudes and thoughts (cf. NLT).

Ps 51:10 Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right^o spirit within me.

^o Or steadfast

We must ask God to renew our spirit (which is closely associated with our mind) as ultimately it is he who accomplishes this.

Prov 4:23 Keep your heart with all vigilance, for from it flow the springs of life.

We must be careful what and how we think (cf. GNT, NCV), because our hearts determine what we do (cf. NLT) and shape our lives (cf. GNT).

Prov 23:19 Hear, my son, and be wise, and direct your heart in the way.

Ps 19:14 Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in your sight, O LORD, my rock and my redeemer.

In taking care of our hearts, we need to ask God to help make our thoughts pleasing to him.

‡ A person’s heart is indicative of the person:

Prov 27:19 As in water face reflects face, so the heart of man reflects the man.

Allied with the fact that one’s heart greatly influences oneself, one’s heart reflects what one is like – “what kind of person you are” (NCV™).

Matt 18:8-9 And if your hand or your foot causes you to sin, cut it off and throw it away. It is better for you to enter life crippled or lame than with two hands or two feet to be thrown into the eternal fire. ⁹*And if your eye causes you to sin, tear it out and throw it away.* It is better for you to enter life with one eye than with two eyes to be thrown into the hell^p of fire.

^p Greek Gehenna

These instructions are not meant to be taken literally. They are hyperbole, emphasizing that one should do whatever is needed to get rid of sinful influences and avoid sin.

Deut 12:2-3 You shall surely destroy all the places where the nations whom you shall dispossess served their gods, on the high mountains and on the hills and under every green tree. ³You shall tear down their altars and dash in pieces their pillars and burn their Asherim with fire. You shall chop down the carved images of their gods and destroy their name out of that place.

In v. 3b, “their name” refers to the names of the Canaanite nations’ gods (cf. Nlrv, NLT).

Deut 13:5-11 But that prophet or that dreamer of dreams shall be put to death, because he has taught rebellion against the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt and redeemed you out of the house of slavery, to make you leave the way in which the LORD your God commanded you to walk. So you shall purge the evil^a from your midst. ⁶“If your brother, the son of your mother, or your son or your daughter or the wife you embrace^r or your friend who is as your own soul entices you secretly, saying, ‘Let us go and serve other gods,’ which neither you nor your fathers have known, ⁷some of the gods of the peoples who are around you, whether near you or far off from you, from the one end of the earth to the other, ⁸you shall not yield to him or listen to him, nor shall your eye pity him, nor shall you spare him, nor shall you conceal him. ⁹But you shall kill him. Your hand shall be first against him to put him to death, and afterward the hand of all the people. ¹⁰You shall stone him to death with stones, because he sought to draw you away from the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery. ¹¹And all Israel shall hear and fear and never again do any such wickedness as this among you.

^a Or evil person

^r Hebrew the wife of your bosom

The Israelites were to destroy all corruptive influences, even wicked people (cf. Deut 20:16-18 ↓; 2Ki 23:5 ↓), which was a form of God’s judgment on such people. The importance of the command, “So you shall purge the evil from your midst,” (v. 5) is underlined by it being repeated a further eight times in Deuteronomy (cf. Deut 19:19 ↓; Deut 24:7 ↓), mostly verbatim. It is also referred to in Judges 20:13 and quoted in 1 Corinthians 5:13.

Deut 19:19 ... then you shall do to him as he had meant to do to his brother. So you shall purge the evil from your midst.

Deut 20:16-18 But in the cities of these peoples that the LORD your God is giving you for an inheritance, you shall save alive nothing that breathes, ¹⁷but you shall devote them to complete destruction,^s the Hittites and the Amorites, the Canaanites and the Perizzites, the Hivites and the Jebusites, as the LORD your God has commanded, ¹⁸that they may not teach you to do according to all their abominable practices that they have done for their gods, and so you sin against the LORD your God.

^s That is, set apart (devote) as an offering to the Lord (for destruction)

Deut 24:7 If a man is found stealing one of his brothers of the people of Israel, and if he treats him as a slave or sells him, then that thief shall die. So you shall purge the evil from your midst.

2Ki 23:5, 24 And he deposed the priests whom the kings of Judah had ordained to make offerings in the high places at the cities of Judah and around Jerusalem; those also who burned incense to Baal, to the sun and the moon and the constellations and all the host of the heavens. ... ²⁴Moreover, Josiah put away the mediums and the necromancers and the household gods and the idols and all the abominations that were seen in the land of Judah and in Jerusalem, that he might establish the words of the law that were written in the book that Hilkiah the priest found in the house of the LORD.

1Sam 25:28b For the LORD will certainly make my lord a sure house, because my lord is fighting the battles of the LORD, and evil shall not be found in you so long as you live.

Ps 101:3, 4 I will not set before my eyes anything that is worthless. I hate the work of those who fall away; it shall not cling to me. ... ⁴A perverse heart shall be far from me; I will know nothing of evil.

Ps 119:101 I hold back my feet from every evil way, in order to keep your word.

Rom 16:19 For your obedience is known to all, so that I rejoice over you, but I want you to be wise as to what is good and innocent as to what is evil.

Presumably the sense of the last clause is that in regard to evil we are to be blameless, rather than naive (cf. Heb 5:14 ↓).

1Cor 14:20 Brothers, do not be children in your thinking. Be infants in evil, but in your thinking be mature.

In regard to doing evil we are to be “innocent as babies” (NLT; cf. NCV).

2Cor 6:17 Therefore go out from their midst, and be separate from them, says the Lord, and touch no unclean thing; then I will welcome you, ...

Paul uses this quotation from Isaiah 52:11 to urge his readers to avoid compromising partnerships with ungodly people, with their sinful principles and practices.

Eph 5:11 Take no part in the unfruitful works of darkness, but instead expose them.

2Tim 2:16 But avoid irreverent babble, for it will lead people into more and more ungodliness, ...

Note that in the context “irreverent babble” – “foolish discussions” (GNT, NLT) – primarily refers to heretical ideas and teaching.

Heb 5:14 But solid food is for the mature, for those who have their powers of discernment trained by constant practice to distinguish good from evil.

To avoid evil, we need to learn to distinguish good from evil. By constant use or application of solid spiritual teaching (cf. v. 13), mature believers train their “senses and mental faculties” (AMP) to distinguish good from evil.

✦ Evil deeds are done by evil people:

1Sam 24:13 As the proverb of the ancients says, ‘Out of the wicked comes wickedness.’ But my hand shall not be against you.

Bear in mind that those who commit evil deeds are in fact evil themselves – which should be a sole reason for us to avoid committing evil deeds.

Hate evil and sin

Ps 97:10 O you who love the LORD, hate evil! He preserves the lives of his saints; he delivers them from the hand of the wicked.

Prov 8:13 The fear of the LORD is hatred of evil. Pride and arrogance and the way of evil and perverted speech I hate.

Ex 18:21 Moreover, look for able men from all the people, men who fear God, who are trustworthy and hate a bribe, and place such men over the people as chiefs of thousands, of hundreds, of fifties, and of tens.

Deut 7:26 And you shall not bring an abominable thing into your house and become devoted to destruction^t like it. You shall utterly detest and abhor it, for it is devoted to destruction.

^t That is, set apart (devoted) as an offering to the Lord (for destruction); twice in this verse

Ps 101:3 I will not set before my eyes anything that is worthless. I hate the work of those who fall away; it shall not cling to me.

Ps 119:104 Through your precepts I get understanding; therefore I hate every false way.

The psalmist says that he gained understanding from God’s laws and obeying them; thus he hated everything that was contrary to them.

Ps 139:21-22 Do I not hate those who hate you, O LORD? And do I not loathe those who rise up against you? ²²I hate them with complete hatred; I count them my enemies.

Bare in mind regarding David’s hatred of such people, that: it is consistent with descriptions of God’s hatred of them (cf. Sin is hated by God, p. 365); and it proceeds from David’s devotion to God rather than evil motives or feelings. Furthermore, note that David may more precisely be referring to disassociation (cf. BKC).

Jude 1:23 ... save others by snatching them out of the fire; to others show mercy with fear, hating even the garment^u stained by the flesh.

^u Greek chiton, a long garment worn under the cloak next to the skin

Some commentators think the final clause has in view the infectious nature of sin, with the infectiousness of the clothing of a leper being alluded to in illustrating the point. In any case it illustrates the need to hate evil, being in essence an exhortation to hate anything that is associated with sin.

Rev 2:6 Yet this you have: you hate the works of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate.

The practices of the Nicolaitans apparently included sexual sin and possibly also idolatry.

✦ Oppose the wicked:

Prov 28:4 Those who forsake the law praise the wicked, but those who keep the law strive against them.

We should oppose the wicked (cf. AMP, CEV, GNT, NASB, NCV, NKJV, NLT, NRSV). In doing so we should expose them, as Ephesians 5:11 says: “Take no part in the unfruitful works of darkness, but instead expose them.”

Along with hating evil, love what is good

Ps 45:7 ...you have loved righteousness and hated wickedness. Therefore God, your God, has anointed you with the oil of gladness beyond your companions; ...

Ps 119:127-128, 163 Therefore I love your commandments above gold, above fine gold. ¹²⁸Therefore I consider all your precepts to be right; I hate every false way. ... ¹⁶³I hate and abhor falsehood, but I love your law.

Amos 5:14-15 Seek good, and not evil, that you may live; and so the LORD, the God of hosts, will be with you, as you have said. ¹⁵Hate evil, and love good, and establish justice in the gate; it may be that the LORD, the God of hosts, will be gracious to the remnant of Joseph.

Rom 12:9 Let love be genuine. Abhor what is evil; hold fast to what is good.

1Thes 5:21-22 ... but test everything; hold fast what is good. ²²Abstain from every form of evil.

In loving what is good and hating evil, we should hold on to what is good (cf. Rom 12:9 ↑) and avoid evil.

Titus 1:8 ... but hospitable, a lover of good, self-controlled, upright, holy, and disciplined.

✦ Do no imitate evil but imitate good – as do those who are of God:

3Jn 1:11 Beloved, do not imitate evil but imitate good. Whoever does good is from God; whoever does evil has not seen God.

Instead of living by the sinful nature, live by the Holy Spirit

See also:

- c) Living Free of the Law and Sin – by the Spirit, p. 1072

Living by the Holy Spirit involves: being both alert to and responsive to the Spirit's promptings; and being reliant on his power, to enable and transform us. In conjunction with this, our minds should be set on "the things of the Spirit" (cf. Rom 8:5 ↓).

Rom 8:3b-5, 8-9, 12 By sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin,^v he condemned sin in the flesh,⁴in order that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. ⁵For those who live according to the flesh set their minds on the things of the flesh, but those who live according to the Spirit set their minds on the things of the Spirit. ... ⁸Those who are in the flesh cannot please God. ⁹You, however, are not in the flesh but in the Spirit, if in fact the Spirit of God dwells in you. Anyone who does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him. ... ¹²So then, brothers,^w we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh.

^v Or and as a sin offering

^w Or brothers and sisters; also verse 29

In v. 9, "not in the flesh but in the Spirit" refers to living life in and in accordance with the Spirit rather than the flesh (cf. AMP), effectively under the control of the Spirit (cf. CEV, NCV, NIV, NLT).

Gal 5:13, 16-25 For you were called to freedom, brothers. Only do not use your freedom as an opportunity for the flesh, but through love serve one another. ¶ ... ¹⁶But I say, walk by the Spirit, and you will not gratify the desires of the flesh. ¹⁷For the desires of the flesh are against the Spirit, and the desires of the Spirit are against the flesh, for these are opposed to each other, to keep you from doing the things you want to do. ¹⁸But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not under the law. ¹⁹*Now the works of the flesh are evident: sexual immorality, impurity, sensuality,* ²⁰*idolatry, sorcery, enmity, strife, jealousy, fits of anger, rivalries, dissensions, divisions,* ²¹*envy,^x drunkenness, orgies, and things like these. I warn you, as I warned you before, that those who do such things will not inherit the kingdom of God.* ²²*But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness,* ²³*gentleness, self-control;* against such things there is no law. ²⁴*And those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with its passions and desires.* ²⁵*If we live by the Spirit, let us also walk by the Spirit.* ¶

^x Some manuscripts add murder

In v. 17, “to keep you from doing the things you want to do” is probably speaking of the influence of the sinful nature in hindering one from doing the right things one wants to do. Alternatively it possibly could be speaking of the Spirit helping us to not indulge the desires that we naturally want to fulfill. Verses 22-23 indicate that a life led by the Spirit is evidenced by the presence of such spiritual “fruit”.

Eph 5:18 And do not get drunk with wine, for that is debauchery, but be filled with the Spirit, ... ¶

Believers are to keep on being replenished with the Holy Spirit. This is not a contrived experience, but one in which we are passively involved – we are to “let” (CEV, NLT) the Holy Spirit fill us (cf. ZBC). One who is filled by the Holy Spirit, cannot but live by the Holy Spirit.

✦ Further contrasts between living by the sinful nature and living by the Spirit:

Rom 8:6, 13-14 For to set the mind on the flesh is death, but to set the mind on the Spirit is life and peace. ¶ ... ¹³For if you live according to the flesh you will die, but if by the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body, you will live. ¹⁴*For all who are led by the Spirit of God are sons^y of God.* ¶

^y See discussion on “sons” in the Preface

In v. 14, to be “led by the Spirit” speaks of living under the Spirit’s influence.

Instead of living in darkness, live according to the light and truth . . .

See also:

- God’s word helps people avoid sin, p. 313
- Use God’s word to avoid sin and counter evil, p. 1856

When used figuratively in the NT, “darkness” represents evil and falseness, and is associated with spiritual ignorance – while “light” is usually a metaphor for holiness and truth. This is also the case in some OT verses, although in the OT “light” is more often used to symbolize well-being or God’s favor.

Believers are called to live in God’s light and truth. This consists primarily of living according to the spiritual light and truth that we have: from God’s word, including his commands; and through our relationship with God (cf. 1Jn 1:5-7 ↓).

Rom 13:12-14 The night is far gone; the day is at hand. So then let us cast off the works of darkness and put on the armor of light. ¹³*Let us walk properly as in the daytime, not in orgies and drunkenness, not in sexual immorality and sensuality, not in quarreling and jealousy.* ¹⁴*But put on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make no provision for the flesh, to gratify its desires.* ¶

Verse 12a speaks of the “night” of this dark age making way for the age to come, with the “day” quite possibly referring specifically to the day of Christ’s return. The “armor of light” (v. 12; 1Thes 5:8 ↓) is explained to some degree in the subsequent verses (vv. 13-14) – as indicated by the reference to “the daytime” (v. 13a) and the instruction to “put on” Christ (v. 14a). The latter is probably an allusion to the Christian’s union with Christ, and is often interpreted to imply that we should take on his characteristics.

Eph 5:8-11 ... for at one time you were darkness, but now you are light in the Lord. Walk as children of light ⁹*(for the fruit of light is found in all that is good and right and true),* ¹⁰*and try to discern what is pleasing to the Lord.* ¹¹*Take no part in the unfruitful works of darkness, but instead expose them.* ¶

Believers once lived in the darkness, in a sense being “full of darkness” (NCV™, NLT). But now they have God’s light and so should live accordingly, manifesting the light.

1Thes 5:5-8 For you are all children^z of light, children of the day. We are not of the night or of the darkness. ⁶*So then let us not sleep, as others do, but let us keep awake and be sober.* ⁷*For those who sleep, sleep at night, and those who get drunk, are drunk at night.* ⁸*But since we belong to the day, let us be sober, having put on the breastplate of faith and love, and for a helmet the hope of salvation.* ¶

^z Or sons; twice in this verse

The references to being asleep (vv. 6-7) allude to being spiritually asleep – unaware or indifferent of the need to live in accordance with the light (and “day”) and/or of what this requires.

Eph 6:12, 14 For we do not wrestle against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the cosmic powers over this present darkness, against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly places. ... ¹⁴*Stand therefore, having fastened on the belt of truth*, and having put on the breastplate of righteousness, ...

Living in accordance with truth is a key element against succumbing to the powers of darkness, which seek to draw us into living in darkness.

2Jn 1:4 I rejoiced greatly to find some of your children walking in the truth, just as we were commanded by the Father.

3Jn 1:3-4, 12 For I rejoiced greatly when the brothers^a came and testified to your truth, as indeed you are walking in the truth. ⁴*I have no greater joy than to hear that my children are walking in the truth*. ... ¹²*Demetrius has received a good testimony from everyone, and from the truth itself*. We also add our testimony, and you know that our testimony is true.

^a Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated “brothers”) refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God’s family, the church; also verses 5, 10

In v. 3a, “your truth” refers to their integrity and “faithfulness to the truth” (NIV®, NRSV; cf. GNT), as per their life of “walking in the truth” (v. 3b). In v. 12, John indicates that God’s truth or word reflects well on Demetrius’ life, him living in a way that is consistent with the truth.

Isa 2:5 O house of Jacob, come, let us walk in the light of the LORD.

The use of “light” here probably refers to God’s truth (cf. NCV, NIV).

... Insights on living in darkness and living in God’s light and truth

See also:

- Believers are to be light for the world, p. 1774

John 3:19-21 And this is the judgment: the light has come into the world, and people loved the darkness rather than the light because their works were evil. ²⁰*For everyone who does wicked things hates the light and does not come to the light, lest his works should be exposed*. ²¹*But whoever does what is true comes to the light, so that it may be clearly seen that his works have been carried out in God*.

The phrase “comes to the light” (v. 21; cf. v. 20) in this context means to come to Jesus Christ and/or the light that he brought. In the light given by Jesus Christ, all that one does in living by the truth is shown to have been carried out in or through God (v. 21) – “divinely prompted, done with God’s help, in dependence upon Him” (AMP). In contrast to those who live by God’s truth, unrepentant evil doers will not come to Jesus Christ for their deeds will be shown for what they are (vv. 19-20).

John 11:8-10 The disciples said to him, “Rabbi, the Jews were just now seeking to stone you, and are you going there again?” ⁹Jesus answered, “Are there not twelve hours in the day? If anyone walks in the day, he does not stumble, because he sees the light of this world. ¹⁰*But if anyone walks in the night, he stumbles, because the light is not in him*.”

Jesus appears to draw a parallel between this world’s natural daylight and God’s light – with the implication that we should live in accordance with God’s light. In view of v. 8, Jesus may be alluding to God’s light giving spiritual protection to those who live in it.

John 12:35-36 So Jesus said to them, “The light is among you for a little while longer. Walk while you have the light, lest darkness overtake you. The one who walks in the darkness does not know where he is going. ³⁶*While you have the light, believe in the light, that you may become sons of light*.” When Jesus had said these things, he departed and hid himself from them.

Jesus’ second statement in v. 35 probably means that the disciples should walk in Jesus’ light so that when he was taken away the darkness would not overtake them (cf. CEV, GNT, NASB, NCV, NKJV, NRSV). People need to walk in Jesus’ light while they have the opportunity, for otherwise darkness will overtake them.

1Jn 1:5-7 This is the message we have heard from him and proclaim to you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all. ⁶*If we say we have fellowship with him while we walk in darkness, we lie and do not practice the truth*. ⁷*But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin*.

1Jn 2:9-11 Whoever says he is in the light and hates his brother is still in darkness. ¹⁰*Whoever loves his brother abides in the* light, and in him^b there is no cause for stumbling. ¹¹But whoever hates his brother is in the darkness and walks in the darkness, and does not know where he is going, because the darkness has blinded his eyes.

^b Or it

Job 24:13 There are those who rebel against the light, who are not acquainted with its ways, and do not stay in its paths.

This associates living in darkness with ignorance of God's ways.

✦ Have good "eyes" so as to be full of light:

Luke 11:34-36 Your eye is the lamp of your body. When your eye is healthy, your whole body is full of light, but when it is bad, your body is full of darkness. ³⁵Therefore be careful lest the light in you be darkness. ³⁶If then your whole body is full of light, having no part dark, it will be wholly bright, as when a lamp with its rays gives you light.

We need to ensure that we are "full of light" (vv. 34, 36), not spiritually blind. For this we need good eyes (v. 34) – openness to spiritual truth – which will enlighten us.

Instead of living as a slave to sin, live as a slave to God and righteousness . . .

- "In" Jesus Christ they are identified with him in his death, resurrection and life – meaning release from sin and the law . . ., p. 783

Rom 6:6-14, 22 We know that our old self^c was crucified with him in order that the body of sin might be brought to nothing, so that we would no longer be enslaved to sin. ⁷For one who has died has been set free^d from sin. ⁸Now if we have died with Christ, we believe that we will also live with him. ⁹We know that Christ, being raised from the dead, will never die again; death no longer has dominion over him. ¹⁰For the death he died he died to sin, once for all, but the life he lives he lives to God. ¹¹So you also must consider yourselves dead to sin and alive to God in Christ Jesus. ¹²Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, to make you obey its passions. ¹³Do not present your members to sin as instruments for unrighteousness, but present yourselves to God as those who have been brought from death to life, and your members to God as instruments for righteousness. ¹⁴For sin will have no dominion over you, since you are not under law but under grace.  ... ²²But now that you have been set free from sin and have become slaves of God, the fruit you get leads to sanctification and its end, eternal life.

^c Greek man

^d Greek has been justified

Because of their relationship with Jesus Christ, in his death and resurrection believers have died to sin, freed from it, and are now alive to God. As such, instead of living as a slave to sin, believers should live as slaves to God and righteousness. To have "died to sin" (v. 10) or be "dead to sin" (v. 11) does not mean that one is immune to its allure. Rather it means that one has been set free from sin (vv. 7, 22; v. 18 ↓) with its controlling power or "reign" (v. 12), no longer a slave to it (v. 6; cf. vv. 16-19 ↓, v. 14). This is a reality for the believer, who through being united with Christ has participated in his death to sin (vv. 3-11). Verse 14 speaks of the fact that sin should not be our master now that we are under God's grace rather than the law, which gives sin its power (cf. 1Cor 15:56).

Rom 6:16-19 Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves,^e you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? ¹⁷But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, ¹⁸and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. ¹⁹I am speaking in human terms, because of your natural limitations. For just as you once presented your members as slaves to impurity and to lawlessness leading to more lawlessness, so now present your members as slaves to righteousness leading to sanctification.

^e Greek bondservants. Twice in this verse and verse 19; also once in verses 17, 20

1Pet 2:24 He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, that we might die to sin and live to righteousness. By his wounds you have been healed.

. . . In avoiding sin be focused on doing what is right

One of the most effective preventative measures against sinning is to be preoccupied with doing good. This is implied or suggested by the exhortations in this subsection and can also be inferred from the adjacent subsections.

Amos 5:14 Seek good, and not evil, that you may live; and so the LORD, the God of hosts, will be with you, as you have said.

In seeking good and not evil, the people were to concern themselves with doing what was good and right (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NLT).

2Tim 2:22 So flee youthful passions and pursue righteousness, faith, love, and peace, along with those who call on the Lord from a pure heart.

2Chr 12:14 And he did evil, for he did not set his heart to seek the LORD.

King Rehoboam did evil because he did not focus on seeking God. For in not focusing on seeking God he did not look to do God's will and obey (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV) and so he sinned.

Psa 119:9 How can a young man keep his way pure? By guarding it according to your word.

Prov 4:25-27 Let your eyes look directly forward, and your gaze be straight before you. ²⁶Ponder^f the path of your feet; then all your ways will be sure. ²⁷Do not swerve to the right or to the left; turn your foot away from evil.

^f Or Make level

God's people should be fully focused on God's way (v. 25), ensuring that their path is compatible with this (v. 26) and not being distracted or diverted by anything else (v. 27).

1Jn 2:10 Whoever loves his brother abides in the light, and in him^g there is no cause for stumbling.

^g Or it

Loving each other is a key aspect of doing what is right. As such this verse shows how doing what is right leads us to avoid sin, with the term "stumbling" encompassing committing sin (cf. AMP, GNT).

Gen 4:7 If you do well, will you not be accepted?^h And if you do not do well, sin is crouching at the door. Its desire is forⁱ you, but you must rule over it.

^h Hebrew will there not be a lifting up [of your face]?

ⁱ Or against

To "do well" here is akin to doing "what is right" (NIV®; cf. CEV, GNT, NLT). Doing the right thing leads to God's acceptance. In contrast, failing to do what is right or to not do well – here quite possibly referring to doing less than what one should (cf. vv. 3-5) – leaves one exposed to sin. We must instead "subdue" (NLT) sin. One can infer from this verse that striving to do the best one can is vital for avoiding or subduing sin.

‡ One must fill the "vacuum" left by evil:

Matt 12:43-45 "When the unclean spirit has gone out of a person, it passes through waterless places seeking rest, but finds none. ⁴⁴Then it says, 'I will return to my house from which I came.' And when it comes, it finds the house empty, swept, and put in order. ⁴⁵Then it goes and brings with it seven other spirits more evil than itself, and they enter and dwell there, and the last state of that person is worse than the first. So also will it be with this evil generation."

On being freed from evil, one must fill the "vacuum" left by sin and evil – i.e. one should respond to Jesus Christ and live a life fully focused on doing what is right in God's sight.

Pursue righteousness . . .

- 2Tim 2:22

In most if not all of the following verses, "righteousness" refers to righteous living – doing what God wants, living in a way that is right according to his ways.

1Tim 6:11 But as for you, O man of God, flee these things. Pursue righteousness, godliness, faith, love, steadfastness, gentleness.

Prov 21:21 Whoever pursues righteousness and kindness will find life, righteousness, and honor.

Isa 51:1 Listen to me, you who pursue righteousness, you who seek the LORD: look to the rock from which you were hewn, and to the quarry from which you were dug.

Zeph 2:3 Seek the LORD, all you humble of the land, who do his just commands;^j seek righteousness; seek humility; perhaps you may be hidden on the day of the anger of the LORD.

^j Or who carry out his judgment

Matt 5:6 Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they shall be satisfied.

Matt 6:33 But seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all these things will be added to you.

James 3:18 And a harvest of righteousness is sown in peace by those who make peace.

This appears to be saying that making peace produces righteousness – in the lives of ourselves and others, notably in church life as per the context. As such making peace is shown to be one way that we can pursue righteousness.

Dan 4:27 Therefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable to you: break off your sins by practicing righteousness, and your iniquities by showing mercy to the oppressed, that there may perhaps be a lengthening of your prosperity. 📖

Hos 10:12 Sow for yourselves righteousness; reap steadfast love; break up your fallow ground, for it is the time to seek the LORD, that he may come and rain righteousness upon you. 📖

Note that the latter part of the verse is most likely speaking of God in righteousness granting his blessings (cf. GNT, Nlrv) on those who act righteously (as per the first clause/instruction) and seek him. Alternatively it may have in view God bestowing righteousness (cf. AMP), God being the ultimate source of it.

Eph 6:14 Stand therefore, having fastened on the belt of truth, and having put on the breastplate of righteousness, ... 📖

Prov 16:13 Righteous lips are the delight of a king, and he loves him who speaks what is right. 📖

Matt 5:20 For I tell you, unless your righteousness exceeds that of the scribes and Pharisees, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven. 📖

Matt 22:11-13 But when the king came in to look at the guests, he saw there a man who had no wedding garment. ¹²*And he said to him, 'Friend, how did you get in here without a wedding garment?' And he was speechless.* ¹³*Then the king said to the attendants, 'Bind him hand and foot and cast him into the outer darkness. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.'* 📖

The wedding clothes probably symbolize righteousness (and possibly good fruit). As such, the point being made is that those who respond to God's invitation must come appropriately prepared, clothed in righteousness.

Rom 14:17 For the kingdom of God is not a matter of eating and drinking but of righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Spirit. 📖

Righteousness is a key aspect of the kingdom of God. Accordingly, one must be righteous in order to participate in the kingdom (cf. Matt 5:20 †; Matt 22:11-13 †).

1Ki 9:4 And as for you, if you will walk before me, as David your father walked, with integrity of heart and uprightness, doing according to all that I have commanded you, and keeping my statutes and my rules, ... 📖

1Chr 29:17 I know, my God, that you test the heart and have pleasure in uprightness. In the uprightness of my heart I have freely offered all these things, and now I have seen your people, who are present here, offering freely and joyously to you. 📖

Ps 78:72 With upright heart he shepherded them and guided them with his skillful hand. 📖

Ps 111:7-8 The works of his hands are faithful and just; all his precepts are trustworthy; ⁸*they are established forever and ever, to be performed with faithfulness and uprightness.* 📖

Prov 14:9 Fools mock at the guilt offering, but the upright enjoy acceptance.^k 📖

^k Hebrew but among the upright is acceptance

Note that there is some doubt about the meaning of the Hebrew in the second clause. Most likely it is speaking of the upright either having God's acceptance or doing what is good (cf. GNT, NCV, NLT).

✚ Try to live honorably in everything you do:

Heb 13:18 Pray for us, for we are sure that we have a clear conscience, desiring to act honorably in all things. 📖

Always try "to do the right thing" (GNT, NCV; cf. CEV).

Be good

3Jn 1:11 Beloved, do not imitate evil but imitate good. Whoever does good is from God; whoever does evil has not seen God. 📖

Eph 5:8b-9 Walk as children of light ⁹*(for the fruit of light is found in all that is good and right and true), ...* 📖

Luke 6:45 The good person out of the good treasure of his heart produces good, and the evil person out of his evil treasure produces evil, for out of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaks. 📖

Luke 8:15 As for that in the good soil, they are those who, hearing the word, hold it fast in an honest and good heart, and bear fruit with patience. 📖

Acts 11:24 ... for he [Barnabas] was a good man, full of the Holy Spirit and of faith. And a great many people were added to the Lord. 📖

¹ Or brothers and sisters; also verse 30

Prov 11:27 Whoever diligently seeks good seeks favor,^m but evil comes to him who searches for it. 📖

^mOr acceptance

Here “seeks good” may well be speaking of trying to do what is good and right (cf. CEV) – hence its inclusion here. The term “favor” may refer to favor from God (cf. Prov 12:2 ↓) but favor from people – or both – may be in view.

Prov 12:2 A good man obtains favor from the LORD, but a man of evil devices he condemns. 📖

Prov 14:14, 19, 22 The backslider in heart will be filled with the fruit of his ways, and a good man will be filled with the fruit of his ways. 📖 ... ¹⁹*The evil bow down before the good, the wicked at the gates of the righteous.* 📖 ... ²²*Do they not go astray who devise evil? ✦ Supplement your faith with virtue:

2Pet 1:5 For this very reason, make every effort to supplement your faith with virtue,^o and virtue with knowledge, ... 📖

The Greek translated here as “virtue” is often translated as “goodness” (CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV, NRSV). It is a general term that speaks of all good character traits (cf. ESB).

Dan 11:32 He shall seduce with flattery those who violate the covenant, but the people who know their God shall stand firm and take action. 📖

Knowing God enables one to resist corruptive influences, in part by enabling one to recognize them for what they are.

Eph 6:11-18a Put on the whole armor of God, that you may be able to stand against the schemes of the devil. ¹²For we do not wrestle against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the cosmic powers over this present darkness, against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly places. ¹³Therefore take up the whole armor of God, that you may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand firm. ¹⁴Stand therefore, having fastened on the belt of truth, and having put on the breastplate of righteousness, ¹⁵and, as shoes for your feet, having put on the readiness given by the gospel of peace. ¹⁶In all circumstances take up the shield of faith, with which you can extinguish all the flaming darts of the evil one; ¹⁷and take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God, ¹⁸praying at all times in the Spirit, with all prayer and supplication. 📖

For comment, see the comment on Eph 6:10-15 – under Use spiritual weapons and armor, p. 1814.

1Pet 4:1-2 Since therefore Christ suffered in the flesh,^p arm yourselves with the same way of thinking, for whoever has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin, ²so as to live for the rest of the time in the flesh no longer for human passions but for the will of God. 📖

^p Some manuscripts add for us; some for you

One effect of willingly enduring suffering as Jesus Christ did is that one is finished with sin – “no longer involved with sin” (GNT). Such suffering causes sin to be seen to be more unpalatable and pointless than before.

Ps 17:3 You have tried my heart, you have visited me by night, you have tested me, and you will find nothing; I have purposed that my mouth will not transgress. 📖

A strong resolve to abstain from sin – as is evident here – is important in avoiding sin. Daniel 1:8a similarly speaks of Daniel resolving not to defile himself – “But Daniel resolved that he would not defile himself with the king’s food, or with the wine that he drank.”

See also:

- b) God Makes His People Holy, p. 859

To be holy involves being separated from corruptive influences and totally dedicated to God. As such it includes moral purity and obedience to God. The process of becoming holy is largely facilitated by God, but in accordance believers are called upon to be holy. For a more in-depth discussion regarding this last point, see the introductory comment on b) God Makes His People Holy, p. 859.

Num 15:40 So you shall remember and do all my commandments, and be holy to your God.

Rom 12:1 I appeal to you therefore, brothers,^q by the mercies of God, to present your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God, which is your spiritual worship.^r

^q Or brothers and sisters

^r Or your rational service

Here “bodies” signifies our whole selves, encompassing our entire lives (cf. NCV).

1Cor 7:34b And the unmarried or betrothed woman is anxious about the things of the Lord, how to be holy in body and spirit. But the married woman is anxious about worldly things, how to please her husband.

Eph 1:4a ... even as he chose us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and blameless before him.

1Thes 2:10 You are witnesses, and God also, how holy and righteous and blameless was our conduct toward you believers.

2Tim 1:8-9 Therefore do not be ashamed of the testimony about our Lord, nor of me his prisoner, but share in suffering for the gospel by the power of God, ⁹who saved us and called us to^s a holy calling, not because of our works but because of his own purpose and grace, which he gave us in Christ Jesus before the ages began,^t ...

Be holy because God is holy

See also:

- ... and God only dwells with those who are holy, p. 57
- ... and imitate God, as children of God, p. 1194

If we are to be God’s people, acceptable to him, we need to be holy because God is holy and as such does not accept anything that is not holy (cf. Deut 23:14 ↓). So we should aspire to be holy, imitating God.

Lev 11:45 For I am the LORD who brought you up out of the land of Egypt to be your God. You shall therefore be holy, for I am holy.

Lev 19:2 Speak to all the congregation of the people of Israel and say to them, You shall be holy, for I the LORD your God am holy.

1Pet 1:14-16 As obedient children, do not be conformed to the passions of your former ignorance, ¹⁵but as he who called you is holy, you also be holy in all your conduct, ¹⁶since it is written, “You shall be holy, for I am holy.”

Eph 4:24 ... and to put on the new self, created after the likeness of God in true righteousness and holiness.

Heb 12:10 For they disciplined us for a short time as it seemed best to them, but he disciplines us for our good, that we may share his holiness.

It can be inferred from this verse that we ourselves should strive to share in God’s holiness.

1Jn 1:7 But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin.

Matt 5:48 You therefore must be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect.

1Jn 3:3 And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure.

‡ The camp of Israel’s army had to be holy so that God would not turn away from them:

Deut 23:14 Because the LORD your God walks in the midst of your camp, to deliver you and to give up your enemies before you, therefore your camp must be holy, so that he may not see anything indecent among you and turn away from you.

This reflects that to know God’s presence we need to be holy, because he is holy and as such does not tolerate anything that is not holy and so repulsive to him.

Be godly

1Tim 2:2 ... for kings and all who are in high positions, that we may lead a peaceful and quiet life, godly and dignified in every way.

1Tim 5:4 But if a widow has children or grandchildren, let them first learn to show godliness to their own household and to make some return to their parents, for this is pleasing in the sight of God.

Isa 52:11 Depart, depart, go out from there; touch no unclean thing; go out from the midst of her; purify yourselves, you who bear the vessels of the LORD.

James 3:17 But the wisdom from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, open to reason, full of mercy and good fruits, impartial and sincere.

Purity is the primary aspect of godly wisdom.

1Pet 3:1-2 Likewise, wives, be subject to your own husbands, so that even if some do not obey the word, they may be won without a word by the conduct of their wives, ²when they see your respectful and pure conduct.

1Jn 3:3 And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure.

Believers ought to be pure just as Jesus Christ is pure.

Neh 13:30 Thus I cleansed them from everything foreign, and I established the duties of the priests and Levites, each in his work; ...

Here Nehemiah speaks of cleansing the priests of foreign defilement and influence through intermarriage. Believers should likewise cleanse or purify themselves of everything "foreign" to or incompatible with godliness.

Titus 1:15 To the pure, all things are pure, but to the defiled and unbelieving, nothing is pure; but both their minds and their consciences are defiled.

This points out one blessing of being pure: those who are pure do not mistakenly see things as impure. Paul is speaking against false teachers who were apparently advocating various ascetic regulations such as prohibitions of certain foods. Paul states that for those who were spiritually pure, all non-moral things such as food are pure. In contrast, those whose "minds and ... consciences are defiled" do not have a clear perspective on what is and is not pure, leading them to mistakenly deem some things as impure.

g Greek from these things

The “dishonorable” articles probably are a reference to the unfaithful members of God’s household, foremost of which would be the false teachers mentioned earlier in the chapter. Timothy was to cleanse himself from these – including their teachings and practices – in order to be holy. Likewise, to be holy we need to cleanse ourselves from corruptive influences.

Titus 1:1 Paul, a servant^h of God and an apostle of Jesus Christ, for the sake of the faith of God’s elect and their knowledge of the truth, which accords with godliness, ... [B]

^h Or slave; Greek bondservant

A good knowledge of the truth is fundamental to becoming godly, and holy.

1Tim 3:16 Great indeed, we confess, is the mystery of godliness: Heⁱ was manifested in the flesh, vindicated^d by the Spirit,^k seen by angels, proclaimed among the nations, believed on in the world, taken up in glory. [B]

ⁱ Greek Who; some manuscripts God; others Which

^j Or justified

^k Or vindicated in spirit

The phrase “the mystery of godliness” may mean the mystery of “our religion” (CEV, GNT, NRSV; cf. NCV), or similarly the mystery of “our faith” (NLT). It appears to speak of the mystery that produces godliness – that being Jesus Christ and what was accomplished in his mission. This “mystery” produces godliness (cf. Titus 1:1 ↑) as its significance is applied to one’s life.

James 3:2 For we all stumble in many ways. And if anyone does not stumble in what he says, he is a perfect man, able also to bridle his whole body. [B]

This links keeping one’s tongue under control with being perfect. It can thus be inferred that the more one does so, the more perfect and holy one becomes.

1Pet 4:1 Since therefore Christ suffered in the flesh,^l arm yourselves with the same way of thinking, for whoever has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin, ... [B]

^l Some manuscripts add for us; some for you

As referred to earlier, this speaks of the willing endurance of suffering leading one to be finished with sin, and thus leading to holiness.

Things that lead to purity

Ps 51:10 Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right^m spirit within me. [B]

^mOr steadfast

We ought to ask God to purify ourselves (cf. 1Jn 1:9 ↓). Note that God and Jesus Christ’s prime role in the sanctification of believers is discussed in detail in b) God Makes His People Holy, p. 859.

Ps 119:9 How can a young man keep his way pure? By guarding it according to your word. [B]

Living according to God’s word enables us to keep our way pure; as such it likewise leads to purity.

Phil 1:9-10 And it is my prayer that your love may abound more and more, with knowledge and all discernment,¹⁰so that you may approve what is excellent, and so be pure and blameless for the day of Christ, ... [B]

This appears to indicate that love (cf. 1Pet 1:22 ↓), along with knowledge and discernment, produces purity and blamelessness.

Phil 2:14-15 Do all things without grumbling or questioning,¹⁵that you may be blameless and innocent, children of God without blemish in the midst of a crooked and twisted generation, among whom you shine as lights in the world, ... [B]

The use of “questioning” (v. 14) has in view being argumentative. Learning to abstain from such things as grumbling and arguing is critical to becoming blameless and pure.

2Tim 2:22 So flee youthful passions and pursue righteousness, faith, love, and peace, along with those who call on the Lord from a pure heart. [B]

The latter part of the verse implies that the aforementioned things lead to – or are associated with – “a pure heart”. Thus we should pursue such things in order to become pure and holy.

1Pet 1:22 Having purified your souls by your obedience to the truth for a sincere brotherly love, love one another earnestly from a pure heart, ... [B]

1Jn 1:7-9 But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin. ⁸If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. ⁹*If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.* ☞

1Jn 3:2-3 Beloved, we are God's children now, and what we will be has not yet appeared; but we know that when he appearsⁿ we shall be like him, because we shall see him as he is. ³*And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure.* ☞

ⁿ Or when it appears

The "hope" of Jesus Christ's return and of being like him (v. 2) leads one to make or keep themselves pure (v. 3). For focusing on such a hope makes anything that it is not pleasing to Christ incompatible with one's own goals and desires. Additionally one would not want to do anything that would bring Christ's disapproval on his return.

✦ Religion that God accepts as pure:

James 1:27 Religion that is pure and undefiled before God, the Father, is this: to visit orphans and widows in their affliction, and to keep oneself unstained from the world. ☞

Religious practice that is "pure and undefiled" includes keeping oneself "unstained" from/by the world".

We should be holy and pleasing to God because of the things he has done for us

^o Or brothers and sisters; also verse 29

Because of what God has done for us (v. 11) we have an obligation to him – to be holy, as opposed to living according to our sinful nature (v. 12).

Rom 12:1 I appeal to you therefore, brothers,^p by the mercies of God, to present your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God, which is your spiritual worship.^q ☞

^p Or brothers and sisters

^q Or your rational service

The phrase "by the mercies of God" likely means in view of or because of God's acts of mercy towards us (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV, NLT).

1Cor 6:19-20 Or do you not know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit within you, whom you have from God? You are not your own, ²⁰*for you were bought with a price. So glorify God in your body.* ☞

Eph 4:22-24 ... to put off your old self;^r which belongs to your former manner of life and is corrupt through deceitful desires, ²³*and to be renewed in the spirit of your minds,* ²⁴*and to put on the new self, created after the likeness of God in true righteousness and holiness.* ☞

^r Greek man; also verse 24

We ought to get rid of our old corrupted ways and to grow into the new nature, for God has created our new nature to be like himself (cf. Col 3:8-10 ↓) – righteous and holy.

Col 3:8-10, 12 But now you must put them all away: anger, wrath, malice, slander, and obscene talk from your mouth. ⁹*Do not lie to one another, seeing that you have put off the old self^s with its practices* ¹⁰*and have put on the new self, which is being renewed in knowledge after the image of its creator.* ☞ ... ¹²*Put on then, as God's chosen ones, holy and beloved, compassionate hearts, kindness, humility, meekness, and patience, ...* ☞

^s Greek man; also as supplied in verse 10

In addition to reflecting the reasoning of Ephesians 4:22-24 above, it can be inferred from v. 12 that we ought to be holy because God has chosen us and loves us.

Titus 2:11-14 For the grace of God has appeared, bringing salvation for all people, ¹²*training us to renounce ungodliness and worldly passions, and to live self-controlled, upright, and godly lives in the present age,* ¹³*waiting for our blessed hope, the appearing of the glory of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ,* ¹⁴*who gave himself for us to redeem us from all lawlessness and to purify for himself a people for his own possession who are zealous for good works.* ☞

Along with Jesus Christ's coming appearance (v. 13), his sacrifice on our behalf to redeem us from wickedness and purify us to be "a people for his own possession who are zealous for good works" (v. 14) is a very important reason as to why we should live a godly life.

1Pet 1:15-16 ... but as he who called you is holy, you also be holy in all your conduct, ¹⁶*since it is written, "You shall be holy, for I am holy."* ☞

It can be inferred from this that as God graciously called us, we should be holy in keeping both with God's holy character and his command to be holy.

Rev 3:4 Yet you have still a few names in Sardis, people who have not soiled their garments, and they will walk with me in white, for they are worthy.

The second half of the verse probably refers to being with Jesus Christ in the afterlife (cf. Rev 14:4 ↓), although it has an application to the present. The reference to being dressed “in white” appears to refer to their sanctified state in the afterlife, reflective of them not having “soiled their garments”, i.e. reflective of them being pure.

Rev 14:3-5 ... and they were singing a new song before the throne and before the four living creatures and before the elders. No one could learn that song except the 144,000 who had been redeemed from the earth. ⁴*It is these who have not defiled themselves with women, for they are virgins. It is these who follow the Lamb wherever he goes. These have been redeemed from mankind as firstfruits for God and the Lamb,* ⁵*and in their mouth no lie was found, for they are blameless.*

The 144,000 most likely symbolize the faithful believers who had come out of “the great tribulation” (7:14) and at this point are probably in heaven, though not all commentators would agree. The expression “have not defiled themselves with women” (v. 4) probably refers to either abstaining from sexual sin or from defiling relationships with the world. The subsequent clause – “for they are virgins” – refers to their purity (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV, NLT). The fact that they follow the Lamb wherever he goes and have been redeemed and offered to God and the Lamb (v. 4), shows them to have been accepted by God and Jesus Christ.

Matt 5:8 Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God.

The final phrase may have an application to the believer’s life of faith, but it would appear that seeing God in the age to come – being accepted into his presence – is the primary reference.

Ps 4:3 But know that the LORD has set apart the godly for himself; the LORD hears when I call to him.

In conjunction with being accepted by him, the godly are set apart by God for himself.

‡ The blameless are God’s delight:

Prov 11:20 Those of crooked heart are an abomination to the LORD, but those of blameless ways are his delight.

Here David sings of God delivering him, because God delighted in him (v. 19; cf. Prov 1:20 ↑), due in no small part to David’s ways being blameless and pure (vv. 23-26). Verses 25-26 speak of God being merciful, blameless and pure largely in reference to his care of his godly people.

Ps 119:1 ^v Blessed are those whose way is blameless, who walk in the law of the LORD!

^v This psalm is an acrostic poem of twenty-two stanzas, following the letters of the Hebrew alphabet; within a stanza, each verse begins with the same Hebrew letter

1Tim 6:6 Now there is great gain in godliness with contentment, ...

Godliness is great gain “when accompanied by contentment” (NASB). Note that while this is not speaking expressly of such “great gain” as being of God, presumably God’s blessings for the godly are partially in view.

Prov 13:6 Righteousness guards him whose way is blameless, but sin overthrows the wicked.

Rev 22:14 Blessed are those who wash their robes,^w so that they may have the right to the tree of life and that they may enter the city by the gates.

^w Some manuscripts do his commandments

The phrase “wash their robes” alludes to purification, through belief in Jesus and consequent forgiveness of sins (cf. NCV text note).

✦ The “Way of Holiness”, for those who walk on the way:

Isa 35:8 And a highway shall be there, and it shall be called the Way of Holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it. It shall belong to those who walk on the way; even if they are fools, they shall not go astray.^x

^x Or if they are fools, they shall not wander in it

This probably initially refers to the exiles returning from Babylon to Jerusalem, but it may well have a final fulfillment in the future. The latter would involve God’s holy people having access to his holy Jerusalem – a millennial one or the new Jerusalem of the afterlife.

Prelude: The world is basically evil

See also:

- Satan has great power and authority in the world, p. 184
- The ungodly do not know God, Jesus Christ or the Holy Spirit, p. 1675

In the NT the “world” often refers to the system of values, attitudes and behaviour commonplace in society – along with the people and social structures that conform to this system. This system is largely antagonistic towards or dismissive of God. As such, the “world” is essentially evil.

John 7:7 The world cannot hate you, but it hates me because I testify about it that its works are evil.

Isa 13:11 I will punish the world for its evil, and the wicked for their iniquity; I will put an end to the pomp of the arrogant, and lay low the pompous pride of the ruthless.

John 12:31 Now is the judgment of this world; now will the ruler of this world be cast out.

The “judgment of this world” points to the world being evil. Regarding the meaning of the phrase, see the comment on John 12:31-33 under Jesus Christ's death and resurrection were a triumph over Satan and evil, p. 605.

John 15:18-19 If the world hates you, know that it has hated me before it hated you. ¹⁹If you were of the world, the world would love you as its own; but because you are not of the world, but I chose you out of the world, therefore the world hates you.

John 17:14 I have given them your word, and the world has hated them because they are not of the world, just as I am not of the world.

1Cor 11:32 But when we are judged by the Lord, we are disciplined^y so that we may not be condemned along with the world.

^y Or when we are judged we are being disciplined by the Lord

Eph 6:12 For we do not wrestle against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the cosmic powers over this present darkness, against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly places.

The term “this present darkness” refers to the spiritual darkness that pervades this world – indicative of the world’s evil or ungodly condition.

✦ The world does not know God:

John 17:25 O righteous Father, even though the world does not know you, I know you, and these know that you have sent me.

That the world does not know God shows that it is ungodly and reflects that it is evil. Moreover, John 1:10, 14:17 and 1 John 3:1 (cf. The ungodly do not know God, Jesus Christ or the Holy Spirit, p. 1675) show that in addition to not knowing God, the world does not know Jesus Christ or the Holy Spirit.

Be set apart for God

Ex 22:31a “You shall be consecrated to me.

“Consecrate” means to set apart for God or dedicate as sacred to him.

Lev 20:26 You shall be holy to me, for I the LORD am holy and have separated you from the peoples, that you should be mine.

As God had separated Israel from the other peoples, they were to remain as such, holy to him.

Ezra 6:21 It was eaten by the people of Israel who had returned from exile, and also by every one who had joined them and separated himself from the uncleanness of the peoples of the land to worship the LORD, the God of Israel.

Neh 10:28 The rest of the people, the priests, the Levites, the gatekeepers, the singers, the temple servants, and all who have separated themselves from the peoples of the lands to the Law of God, their wives, their sons, their daughters, all who have knowledge and understanding, ...

Isa 52:11 Depart, depart, go out from there; touch no unclean thing; go out from the midst of her; purify yourselves, you who bear the vessels of the LORD.

The return from Babylonian exile appears to be primarily in view. God’s people – in particular those who would carry the holy vessels which belonged to God’s temple – were to depart from ungodly Babylonia and be pure, avoiding any “unclean thing”. This term here quite possibly refers figuratively to sinful things rather than simply unclean things.

2Cor 6:17 Therefore go out from their midst, and be separate from them, says the Lord, and touch no unclean thing; then I will welcome you, ...

2Tim 2:21 Therefore, if anyone cleanses himself from what is dishonorable,^z he will be a vessel for honorable use, set apart as holy, useful to the master of the house, ready for every good work. 📖

^z Greek from these things

Rev 18:4 Then I heard another voice from heaven saying, “Come out of her, my people, lest you take part in her sins, lest you share in her plagues; ... 📖

The reference is to the figurative “Babylon”, symbolic of a great but corrupt world power, probably of the end times.

Num 23:9 For from the top of the crags I see him, from the hills I behold him; behold, a people dwelling alone, and not counting itself among the nations! 📖

The Israelites were to live apart from the other nations.

Do not love this world

1Jn 2:15, 17 Do not love the world or the things in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him. 📖 ... ¹⁷*And the world is passing away along with its desires, but whoever does the will of God abides forever.* 📖

The fact that the world and the desires associated with it are passing away (v. 17; cf. 1Cor 7:31b ↕) – in contrast to godly people – is good reason to not love the world or anything in it (v. 15).

2Tim 4:9-10a Do your best to come to me soon. ¹⁰*For Demas, in love with this present world, has deserted me and gone to Thessalonica.* 📖

James 4:4 You adulterous people!^a Do you not know that friendship with the world is enmity with God? Therefore whoever wishes to be a friend of the world makes himself an enemy of God. 📖

^a Greek You adulteresses!

Being a friend of the world (v. 4) involves conforming to the norms of the world – taking on its values and viewing things from its perspective – and implies a love for the things of this world. James indicates that this must be avoided.

✦ Set your minds on things above, not on worldly things:

Col 3:2 Set your minds on things that are above, not on things that are on earth. 📖

The phrase “things that are on earth” is inclusive of sinful worldly things.

Do not conform to this world

Rom 12:2 Do not be conformed to this world,^b but be transformed by the renewal of your mind, that by testing you may discern what is the will of God, what is good and acceptable and perfect.^c 📖

^b Greek age

^c Or what is the good and acceptable and perfect will of God

1Cor 7:31 ... and [let] those who deal with the world as though they had no dealings with it. For the present form of this world is passing away. 📖

Paul appears to be meaning that when dealing with the world or things of the world, we should not be influenced by it/them – e.g. through becoming attached to or engrossed in it/them (cf. AMP, GNT, NIV, NLT). For doing so would lead to conforming to the pattern of the world.

2Cor 10:2-4 I beg of you that when I am present I may not have to show boldness with such confidence as I count on showing against some who suspect us of walking according to the flesh. ³*For though we walk in the flesh, we are not waging war according to the flesh.* ⁴*For the weapons of our warfare are not of the flesh* but have divine power to destroy strongholds. 📖

In speaking of acting “according to the flesh” (vv. 2b, 3) Paul is speaking of acting “according to human standards” (NRSV) – “by the standards of this world” (NIV®; cf. CEV, GNT, NCV). We should avoid acting as such, and so we should avoid the use of worldly “weapons” (v. 4) – such as deceit and coercion. We should not resort to using such things, conforming to this world’s ways, even if what we are trying to achieve is honorable.

Eph 2:1-2 And you were dead in the trespasses and sins ²*in which you once walked, following the course of this world, following the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that is now at work in the sons of disobedience—* 📖

For believers, following the ways of this world should be a thing of the past.

James 1:27 Religion that is pure and undefiled before God, the Father, is this: to visit orphans and widows in their affliction, and to keep oneself unstained from the world. 📖

1Jn 5:3-5 For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments. And his commandments are not burdensome. ⁴*For everyone who has been born of God overcomes the world. And this is the victory that has overcome the world—our faith.* ⁵*Who is it that overcomes the world except the one who believes that Jesus is the Son of God?* 📖

To “overcome the world” means to rise above its sinful way of life, obeying God (v. 3). It is possible “by means of our faith” (GNT).

Acts 2:40 And with many other words he bore witness and continued to exhort them, saying, “Save yourselves from this crooked generation.”

Here Peter exhorts his listeners to save themselves “from the evil of today’s people” (NCV™), i.e. to avoid conforming to it – and suffering the consequences of such corruption (cf. CEV, GNT).

Do not live as other people do . . .

Lev 18:3 You shall not do as they do in the land of Egypt, where you lived, and you shall not do as they do in the land of Canaan, to which I am bringing you. You shall not walk in their statutes.

Lev 20:23 And you shall not walk in the customs of the nation that I am driving out before you, for they did all these things, and therefore I detested them.

Deut 18:9 When you come into the land that the LORD your God is giving you, you shall not learn to follow the abominable practices of those nations.

Isa 8:11-12 For the LORD spoke thus to me with his strong hand upon me, and warned me not to walk in the way of this people, saying: ¹²“Do not call conspiracy all that this people calls conspiracy, and do not fear what they fear, nor be in dread.”

One aspect of not living like the people of this world (v. 11) is that we should not think like them (cf. Eph 4:17 ↓), being fearful of what they fear (v. 12). Somewhat similarly Mark 4:18-19 says that we should not be concerned with “the cares of the world”.

Ezek 11:11b-12 I will judge you at the border of Israel, ¹²*and you shall know that I am the LORD. For you have not walked in my statutes, nor obeyed my rules, but have acted according to the rules of the nations that are around you.*

Eph 4:17 Now this I say and testify in the Lord, that you must no longer walk as the Gentiles do, in the futility of their minds.

In this context “Gentiles” refers to ungodly heathens.

1Tim 5:22 Do not be hasty in the laying on of hands, nor take part in the sins of others; keep yourself pure.

1Pet 4:3 For the time that is past suffices for doing what the Gentiles want to do, living in sensuality, passions, drunkenness, orgies, drinking parties, and lawless idolatry.

. . . Worldly and human behavior to be avoided

See also:

- Isa 8:12 ↑; 1Pet 4:3 ↑

Note that the references to “flesh” in the following verses speak of the unspiritual human nature, manifested in ungodly behavior characteristic of humans and this world.

1Cor 3:3b For while there is jealousy and strife among you, are you not of the flesh and behaving only in a human way?

2Cor 1:12 For our boast is this, the testimony of our conscience, that we behaved in the world with simplicity^d and godly sincerity, not by earthly wisdom but by the grace of God, and supremely so toward you.

^d Some manuscripts holiness

Earthly or worldly “wisdom” is based on human thinking and as such is limited and flawed – both morally and intellectually. One should strive to reason in line with God’s wisdom and teaching – by his grace – rather than that of the world.

2Cor 1:17 Was I vacillating when I wanted to do this? Do I make my plans according to the flesh, ready to say “Yes, yes” and “No, no” at the same time?

A number of commentators interpret Paul to be speaking of acting in a way that served his own interests, so that he would be inclined to easily change his mind to suit himself – almost as if he was saying “Yes” and “No” in the one breath.

2Cor 5:16 From now on, therefore, we regard no one according to the flesh. Even though we once regarded Christ according to the flesh, we regard him thus no longer.

Do not view people from a mere human perspective, based on such things as appearances (cf. v. 12), people’s background and worldly credentials.

2Cor 7:10 For godly grief produces a repentance that leads to salvation without regret, whereas worldly grief produces death.

Worldly grief can be devoid of hope and so negative, directionless and even perpetual. Thus it tends to be destructive.

2Cor 11:17-18 What I am saying with this boastful confidence, I say not with the Lord's authority but as a fool. ¹⁸Since many boast according to the flesh, I too will boast. 📖

As a rule, such human boasting should be avoided. Here Paul felt obliged to do it in order to defend his ministry.

Phil 3:19 Their end is destruction, their god is their belly, and they glory in their shame, with minds set on earthly things. 📖

The clause "their god is their belly" suggests that their stomach was their top priority. However the reference may be more general, with "belly" possibly being used as a metaphor for "their bodily desires" (GNT, cf. NCV) – particularly in light of the following clause "they glory in their shame". Both possibilities involve a mindset focused on earthly or worldly things – and should be avoided.

Col 2:20-22 If with Christ you died to the elemental spirits of the world, why, as if you were still alive in the world, do you submit to regulations— ²¹*Do not handle, Do not taste, Do not touch* ²²*(referring to things that all perish as they are used)—according to human precepts and teachings?* 📖

Here Paul has primarily in view the heresy of asceticism – which involved the observance of strict rules to supposedly gain God's approval. They refer to things that perish with use (v. 22a) and were based on a strain of human wisdom rather than being of God. Likewise we should be wary of and avoid teaching based on worldly wisdom.

Ps 101:4, 7 A perverse heart shall be far from me; I will know nothing of evil. 📖 ... ⁷*No one who practices deceit shall dwell in my house; no one who utters lies shall continue before my eyes.* 📖

"A perverse heart" (v. 4) refers to perverse people.

Prov 1:10-11, 14-16 My son, if sinners entice you, do not consent. ¹¹*If they say, "Come with us, let us lie in wait for blood; let us ambush the innocent without reason; ...* ¹⁴*throw in your lot among us; we will all have one purse"—* ¹⁵*my son, do not walk in the way with them; hold back your foot from their paths,* ¹⁶*for their feet run to evil, and they make haste to shed blood.* 📖

Eph 5:6-7 Let no one deceive you with empty words, for because of these things the wrath of God comes upon the sons of disobedience. ⁷*Therefore do not become partners with them; ...* 📖

^g The singular Hebrew word for man (ish) is used here to portray a representative example of a godly person; see Preface

To walk “in the counsel of the wicked” is to follow their advice. To stand “in the way of sinners” probably refers to following their ways (cf. CEV, GNT), but could be speaking of keeping company with them (cf. NLT). Some commentators point out that this verse speaks of being progressively or increasingly influenced by the wicked, culminating with joining in with them – in effect becoming one of them.

Ps 106:34-36 They did not destroy the peoples, as the LORD commanded them, ³⁵but they mixed with the nations and learned to do as they did. ³⁶They served their idols, which became a snare to them. 📖

Prov 13:20 Whoever walks with the wise becomes wise, but the companion of fools will suffer harm. 📖

The phrase “suffer harm” probably means such a person will be harmed by trouble. However in the light of the first part of the verse, it may instead be referring to their character suffering harm by becoming foolish in accordance with the foolish company they keep.

Prov 16:29 A man of violence entices his neighbor and leads him in a way that is not good. 📖

Being enticed into the company and ways of a violent person leads one into trouble.

Avoid compromising alliances with unbelievers and the wicked

2Cor 6:14-17 Do not be unequally yoked with unbelievers. For what partnership has righteousness with lawlessness? Or what fellowship has light with darkness? ¹⁵What accord has Christ with Belial?^h Or what portion does a believer share with an unbeliever? ¹⁶What agreement has the temple of God with idols? For we are the temple of the living God; as God said, “I will make my dwelling among them and walk among them, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. ¹⁷Therefore go out from their midst, and be separate from them, says the Lord, and touch no unclean thing; then I will welcome you, ... 📖

^h Greek Beliar

“Do not be unequally yoked with unbelievers” (v. 14a) appears to be speaking against forming close, binding associations with unbelievers that would risk leading a believer to compromise aspects of their faith and/or inhibit their service and witness to Christ. Additionally, basic differences between believers and unbelievers mean that such relationships lack: fellowship (v. 14); things in common (v. 15); harmony (v. 15); and agreement (v. 16). Probably Paul had primarily in mind affiliations either with the false teachers who had appeared in the Corinthian church or pagan idolaters (vv. 15a, 16a). Note that “Belial” (v. 15a) is Satan.

Ex 23:32-33 You shall make no covenant with them and their gods. ³³They shall not dwell in your land, lest they make you sin against me; for if you serve their gods, it will surely be a snare to you. 📖

Ex 34:12-15 Take care, lest you make a covenant with the inhabitants of the land to which you go, lest it become a snare in your midst. ¹³You shall tear down their altars and break their pillars and cut down their Asherim ¹⁴(for you shall worship no other god, for the LORD, whose name is Jealous, is a jealous God), ¹⁵lest you make a covenant with the inhabitants of the land, and when they whore after their gods and sacrifice to their gods and you are invited, you eat of his sacrifice, ... 📖

Such a covenant “or mutual agreement” (AMP, v. 12; cf. Ex 23:32 ↑) would make way for participation in each other’s practices, including corruptive ones.

Josh 23:12-13 For if you turn back and cling to the remnant of these nations remaining among you and make marriages with them, so that you associate with them and they with you, ¹³know for certain that the LORD your God will no longer drive out these nations before you, but they shall be a snare and a trap for you, a whip on your sides and thorns in your eyes, until you perish from off this good ground that the LORD your God has given you.

In speaking of the destructive results of alliances with the former occupants of the land (v. 13b), Joshua quite probably had primarily in mind the lure of worshipping their gods and the consequences this would bring.

Ezra 9:11b-12 “The land that you are entering, to take possession of it, is a land impure with the impurity of the peoples of the lands, with their abominations that have filled it from end to end with their uncleanness. ¹²*Therefore do not give your daughters to their sons, neither take their daughters for your sons, and never seek their peace or prosperity, that you may be strong and eat the good of the land and leave it for an inheritance to your children forever.*’

2Chr 20:35-37 After this Jehoshaphat king of Judah joined with Ahaziah king of Israel, who acted wickedly. ³⁶*He joined him in building ships to go to Tarshish, and they built the ships in Ezion-geber.* ³⁷Then Eliezer the son of Dodavahu of Mareshah prophesied against Jehoshaphat, saying, “Because you have joined with Ahaziah, the LORD will destroy what you have made.” And the ships were wrecked and were not able to go to Tarshish.

God emphatically showed his disapproval of Jehoshaphat’s alliance with the wicked Ahaziah, by destroying a prime focus of the alliance.

Isa 30:1-2 “Ah, stubborn children,” declares the LORD, “who carry out a plan, but not mine, and who make an alliance,¹ but not of my Spirit, that they may add sin to sin; ²who set out to go down to Egypt, without asking for my direction, to take refuge in the protection of Pharaoh and to seek shelter in the shadow of Egypt!

Gen 14:21-24 And the king of Sodom said to Abram, “Give me the persons, but take the goods for yourself.” ²²*But Abram said to the king of Sodom, “I have lifted my hand¹ to the LORD, God Most High, Possessor of heaven and earth, ²³that I would not take a thread or a sandal strap or anything that is yours, lest you should say, ‘I have made Abram rich.’ ²⁴I will take nothing but what the young men have eaten, and the share* of the men who went with me. Let Aner, Eshcol, and Mamre take their share.”

John 8:23 He said to them, “You are from below; I am from above. You are of this world; I am not of this world.

In contrast to the Pharisees, Jesus himself was not of this world. The same is true of his followers, as the following verses show.

John 15:19 If you were of the world, the world would love you as its own; but because you are not of the world, but I chose you out of the world, therefore the world hates you.

John 17:14-16 I have given them your word, and the world has hated them because they are not of the world, just as I am not of the world. ¹⁵I do not ask that you take them out of the world, but that you keep them from the evil one.^k ¹⁶*They are not of the world, just as I am not of the world.*

1Jn 3:1, 13 See what kind of love the Father has given to us, that we should be called children of God; and so we are. The reason why the world does not know us is that it did not know him. 📖 ... ¹³*Do not be surprised, brothers,ⁿ that the world hates you.* 📖

ⁿ Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated “brothers”) refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God’s family, the church; also verses 14, 16

Not knowing God, the people of the world do not recognize or acknowledge believers for who they are (v. 1b; cf. AMP) – i.e. God’s people or children (v. 1a). The fact that believers are God’s people, not recognized by and indeed hated by the world (v. 13; cf. John 15:19 ↑; John 17:14 ↑), points to the fact that believers are not of this world.

Phil 3:20 But our citizenship is in heaven, and from it we await a Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ, ... 📖

Christians are citizens of heaven rather than citizens of this world.

1Cor 4:13 ... when slandered, we entreat. We have become, and are still, like the scum of the world, the refuse of all things. 📖

The treatment of Paul as if he was the scum of the world, demonstrated that Paul was not of this world.

Lev 20:26 You shall be holy to me, for I the LORD am holy and have separated you from the peoples, that you should be mine. 📖

... God’s people are in effect exiles and temporary residents in this world – even homeless in it

- Heb 11:38 ↑

God’s people should view their stay in this world as transitory –residing here temporarily, in exile from their true home, to which they will go after this life.

1Pet 1:1, 17 Peter, an apostle of Jesus Christ, To those who are elect exiles of the dispersion in Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia, 📖 ... ¹⁷*And if you call on him as Father who judges impartially according to each one’s deeds, conduct yourselves with fear throughout the time of your exile, ...* 📖

In referring to believers as “exiles” (cf. 1Pet 2:11 ↓), Peter speaks of their absence from their true and ultimate home in the new world that is to come.

1Pet 2:11 Beloved, I urge you as sojourners and exiles to abstain from the passions of the flesh, which wage war against your soul. 📖

A “sojourner” is a person who is staying somewhere temporarily.

In vv. 9-10 the writer appears to correlate the promise to Abraham and his family of inheriting the promised land with the promise to all God’s people of the heavenly city to come.

Gen 23:3-4 And Abraham rose up from before his dead and said to the Hittites, “I am a sojourner and foreigner among you; give me property among you for a burying place, that I may bury my dead out of my sight.” 📖

Abraham’s situation in Canaan reflects that of God’s people on earth (cf. Heb 11:9-10, 13-16 ↓).

1Chr 29:15 For we are strangers before you and sojourners, as all our fathers were. Our days on the earth are like a shadow, and there is no abiding.^o 📖

^o Septuagint, Vulgate; Hebrew hope, or prospect

David’s first statement may be reflecting on the fact that even in the promised land the Israelites were merely aliens, tenants in the land – as stated in Leviticus 25:23, “... the land is mine. For you are strangers and sojourners with me.” (Ps 39:12 below may also have this in mind.) This mirrors the fact that from God’s perspective his people are “strangers ... and sojourners ... on the earth”. His people should likewise see themselves as such.

Ps 39:12 Hear my prayer, O LORD, and give ear to my cry; hold not your peace at my tears! For I am a sojourner with you, a guest, like all my fathers. 📖

Ps 119:19 I am a sojourner on the earth; hide not your commandments from me! 📖

Luke 9:58 And Jesus said to him, “Foxes have holes, and birds of the air have nests, but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay his head.” 📖

In conjunction with being exiles and temporary residents in the world, in following Jesus believers may like him have no home of their own in this world (cf. 1Cor 4:11 ↓; Heb 1:38 ↑). Peter may have had this partly in view in his statement to Jesus in Matthew 19:27a – “See, we have left everything and followed you.”

1Cor 4:11 To the present hour we hunger and thirst, we are poorly dressed and buffeted and homeless, ... 📖

✦ As exiles on earth, God's people long for a heavenly city:
Heb 11:9-10, 13-16 By faith he went to live in the land of promise, as in a foreign land, living in tents with Isaac and Jacob, heirs with him of the same promise. ¹⁰*For he was looking forward to the city that has foundations, whose designer and builder is God.* ... ¹³*These all died in faith, not having received the things promised, but having seen them and greeted them from afar, and having acknowledged that they were strangers and exiles on the earth.* ¹⁴*For people who speak thus make it clear that they are seeking a homeland.* ¹⁵*If they had been thinking of that land from which they had gone out, they would have had opportunity to return.* ¹⁶*But as it is, they desire a better country, that is, a heavenly one.*

Therefore God is not ashamed to be called their God, for he has prepared for them a city.

In v. 10, the writer implies that Abraham was ultimately looking beyond the promise of inheriting the promised land, to dwelling in the heavenly city to come. Note that on the same theme as this passage, later the author of Hebrews says in 13:14, "For here we have no lasting city, but we seek the city that is to come."

I. Pride

Pride is one of the greatest dangers to one's life as a believer, yet it is also one of the most subtle. Pride has an adverse effect on both one's relationship with God and one's relationships with others. The opposite to pride is humility, which correspondingly is very much a key factor in living an ongoing and effective Christian life.

Do not be proud or conceited

See also:

- 1Sam 2:3 ↕; 1Sam 2:3 ↕; Prov 8:13 ↕; Prov 21:24 ↕; 2Tim 3:1-2 ↕

To be conceited is to be vain, having an excessively high opinion of yourself.

Jer 13:15 Hear and give ear; be not proud, for the LORD has spoken. 📖

Rom 11:20b So do not become proud, but fear. 📖

Gal 5:26 Let us not become conceited, provoking one another, envying one another. 📖

Phil 2:3 Do nothing from rivalry or conceit, but in humility count others more significant than yourselves. 📖

Rom 12:3 For by the grace given to me I say to everyone among you not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think, but to think with sober judgment, each according to the measure of faith that God has assigned. 📖

The phrase "measure of faith" is commonly understood to refer to the amount of faith one has (in God). Some think it refers more specifically to our faith as applied to serving others, and especially to the spiritual gifts we have been given (cf. vv. 6-8). Others take it to refer to the Christian faith. Irrespective of which is correct, Paul may be implying that the fact that this "measure of faith" has been given to us by God – rather than coming from ourselves – is one reason as to why we should think soberly or realistically of ourselves.

1Jn 2:16 For all that is in the world—the desires of the flesh and the desires of the eyes and pride in possessions—is not from the Father but is from the world. 📖

Ps 131:1 O LORD, my heart is not lifted up; my eyes are not raised too high; I do not occupy myself with things too great and too marvelous for me. 📖

In the first two clauses David speaks of not being proud. In the second part of the verse, he appears to be speaking of not aspiring to accomplish distinguished achievements (cf. CEV) and/or mastering subjects requiring great intellect (cf. GNT). To desire such things for the sake of status is indicative of pride.

Isa 16:6 We have heard of the pride of Moab— how proud he is!— of his arrogance, his pride, and his insolence; in his idle boasting he is not right. 📖

Ezek 16:49 Behold, this was the guilt of your sister Sodom: she and her daughters had pride, excess of food, and prosperous ease, but did not aid the poor and needy. 📖

Do not be arrogant

1Sam 2:3 Talk no more so very proudly, let not arrogance come from your mouth; for the LORD is a God of knowledge, and by him actions are weighed. 📖

Prov 8:13 The fear of the LORD is hatred of evil. Pride and arrogance and the way of evil and perverted speech I hate. 📖

The speaker is Wisdom personified. In speaking of hating evil and then immediately of hating pride and arrogance, the verse implies that pride and arrogance are in fact evil – and thus should be hated and spurned.

Prov 16:5 Everyone who is arrogant in heart is an abomination to the LORD; be assured, he will not go unpunished. 📖

Prov 21:24 “Scoffer” is the name of the arrogant, haughty man who acts with arrogant pride. 📖

Those who are arrogant typically scoff at others.

Rom 11:17-21 But if some of the branches were broken off, and you, although a wild olive shoot, were grafted in among the others and now share in the nourishing root^a of the olive tree, ¹⁸*do not be arrogant toward the branches. If you are, remember it is not you who support the root, but the root that supports you.* ¹⁹*Then you will say, “Branches were broken off so that I might be grafted in.”* ²⁰*That is true. They were broken off because of their unbelief, but you stand fast through faith. So do not become proud, but fear.* ²¹*For if God did not spare the natural branches, neither will he spare you.* 📖

^a Greek root of richness; some manuscripts richness

Here Paul warns his Gentile readers not to be arrogant and proud about their inclusion amongst God’s people while unbelieving Jews were “broken off”. In v. 12 Paul warns that we should not be proud about our position in Christ, as it is dependent on us continuing in faith rather than anything of ourselves. Rather than being proud and arrogant we should fear the consequences of not continuing in faith.

1Cor 13:4 Love is patient and kind; love does not envy or boast; it is not arrogant ... 📖

2Tim 3:1-2 But understand this, that in the last days there will come times of difficulty. ²*For people will be lovers of self, lovers of money, proud, arrogant, abusive, disobedient to their parents, ungrateful, unholy, ...* 📖

✦ Paul’s disdain for arrogance amongst the Corinthians:

1Cor 4:18-20 Some are arrogant, as though I were not coming to you. ¹⁹*But I will come to you soon, if the Lord wills, and I will find out not the talk of these arrogant people but their power.* ²⁰*For the kingdom of God does not consist in talk but in power.* 📖

Do not be haughty . . .

To be “haughty” is to be arrogant and disdainful, viewing oneself as superior.

Rom 12:16a Live in harmony with one another. Do not be haughty, but associate with the lowly.^b 📖

^b Or give yourselves to humble tasks

1Tim 6:17 As for the rich in this present age, charge them not to be haughty, nor to set their hopes on the uncertainty of riches, but on God, who richly provides us with everything to enjoy. 📖

Ps 101:5 Whoever slanders his neighbor secretly I will destroy. Whoever has a haughty look and an arrogant heart I will not endure. 📖

Note that it is David speaking, as king. He would not tolerate people who were haughty and proud.

Prov 6:16-17 There are six things that the LORD hates, seven that are an abomination to him: ¹⁷haughty eyes, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood, ... 📖

Isa 3:16-17 The LORD said: Because the daughters of Zion are haughty and walk with outstretched necks, glancing wantonly with their eyes, mincing along as they go, tinkling with their feet, ¹⁷therefore the Lord will strike with a scab the heads of the daughters of Zion, and the LORD will lay bare their secret parts. 📖

The women were walking along “with outstretched necks” – i.e. “with their noses in the air” (GNT, NIV, NLT) – indicative of them seeing themselves as above others.

. . . Do not think you are better than others

Deut 17:19-20 And it shall be with him, and he shall read in it all the days of his life, that he may learn to fear the LORD his God by keeping all the words of this law and these statutes, and doing them, ²⁰*that his heart may not be lifted up above his brothers, and that he may not turn aside from the commandment, either to the right hand or to the left, so that he may continue long in his kingdom, he and his children, in Israel.* 📖

Verse 20a is saying that the king “should not think he is better than his fellow Israelites” (NCV™; cf. CEV, GNT, NIV).

1Sam 18:18 And David said to Saul, “Who am I, and who are my relatives, my father’s clan in Israel, that I should be son-in-law to the king?” 📖

David provides a good example of not thinking oneself to be better than others – as does Daniel in Daniel 2:30 below.

Isa 65:5 ... [There are those] who say, "Keep to yourself, do not come near me, for I am too holy for you." These are a smoke in my nostrils, a fire that burns all the day.

Here God is speaking against obstinate Israelites, who self-righteously considered themselves above others.

Dan 2:30 But as for me, this mystery has been revealed to me, not because of any wisdom that I have more than all the living, but in order that the interpretation may be made known to the king, and that you may know the thoughts of your mind.

Luke 18:9-14 He also told this parable to some who trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and treated others with contempt: ¹⁰*"Two men went up into the temple to pray, one a Pharisee and the other a tax collector. ¹¹The Pharisee, standing by himself, prayed^c thus: 'God, I thank you that I am not like other men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even like this tax collector. ¹²I fast twice a week; I give tithes of all that I get.' ¹³But the tax collector, standing far off, would not even lift up his eyes to heaven, but beat his breast, saying, 'God, be merciful to me, a sinner!' ¹⁴I tell you, this man went down to his house justified, rather than the other. For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, but the one who humbles himself will be exalted."*

^c Or standing, prayed to himself

1Cor 4:7 For who sees anything different in you? What do you have that you did not receive? If then you received it, why do you boast as if you did not receive it?

Any notable attributes or talents that we might have are all ultimately gifts from God – not from ourselves. Thus we have no reason to think of ourselves as “better than others” (NCV™; cf. AMP, GNT, NIV, NLT) nor boast.

Gal 6:4-5 But let each one test his own work, and then his reason to boast will be in himself alone and not in his neighbor. ⁵For each will have to bear his own load.

In v. 4 Paul is saying that we should evaluate our own actions without making comparisons with others – as it is for our own actions that we are responsible (v. 5). Paul may well have in mind the making of such comparisons in the hope of seeing oneself as better than others (cf. AMP, CEV). Note that the use of “boast” likely has in view “personal satisfaction” (NLT) rather than sinful pride.

‡ To think you are better than you are, is just deceiving yourself:

Gal 6:3 For if anyone thinks he is something, when he is nothing, he deceives himself.

Groundless conceit appears to be in view. If you think you are important when you are not, you are just kidding yourself. The implication may be that no one should think themselves important.

Do not be wise in your own eyes . . .

Rom 12:16 Live in harmony with one another. Do not be haughty, but associate with the lowly.^d Never be wise in your own sight.

^d Or give yourselves to humble tasks

Prov 3:5-7 Trust in the LORD with all your heart, and do not lean on your own understanding. ⁶In all your ways acknowledge him, and he will make straight your paths. ⁷Be not wise in your own eyes; fear the LORD, and turn away from evil.

In conjunction with not thinking yourself to be wise (v. 7), do not consider your own understanding – with your own perceptions and evaluations – to be sound enough to trust in (v. 5). Rather, trust in God.

Isa 5:21 Woe to those who are wise in their own eyes, and shrewd in their own sight!

Isa 10:12-13 When the Lord has finished all his work on Mount Zion and on Jerusalem, he^e will punish the speech of the arrogant heart of the king of Assyria and the boastful look in his eyes. ¹³For he says: "By the strength of my hand I have done it, and by my wisdom, for I have understanding; I remove the boundaries of peoples, and plunder their treasures; like a bull I bring down those who sit on thrones.

^e Hebrew I

Ezek 28:6-7 ... therefore thus says the Lord GOD: Because you make your heart like the heart of a god, ⁷therefore, behold, I will bring foreigners upon you, the most ruthless of the nations; and they shall draw their swords against the beauty of your wisdom and defile your splendor.

The clause “you make your heart like the heart of a god” has the sense “you think you are as wise as a god” (GNT, NLT; cf. NCV, NIV).

Rom 11:25 Lest you be wise in your own sight, I want you to understand this mystery, brothers:^f a partial hardening has come upon Israel, until the fullness of the Gentiles has come in.

^f Or brothers and sisters

1Cor 4:10 We are fools for Christ's sake, but you are wise in Christ. We are weak, but you are strong. You are held in honor, but we in disrepute. 📖

The Corinthians considered themselves wise – in contrast to Paul's apparent foolishness – something which Paul scorns here with his use of irony.

... Seeing yourself as wise is associated with foolishness

Prov 26:12, 16 Do you see a man who is wise in his own eyes? There is more hope for a fool than for him. 📖 ...¹⁶*The sluggard is wiser in his own eyes than seven men who can answer sensibly.* 📖

To be wise in one's own eyes leads to an unrealistic trust in one's own judgment, making one very vulnerable to trouble. Hence there is more hope for a fool than for such a person (v. 12). Verse 16 is saying that lazy people see themselves as wiser than people who give considered answers. Such a view is obviously foolish.

Prov 28:11 A rich man is wise in his own eyes, but a poor man who has understanding will find him out. 📖

Having riches does not mean that one is wise – though such success may well lead a person to think themselves wise. The verse indicates that a rich man with such an attitude is not wise, even foolish.

Rom 1:22-23 *Claiming to be wise, they became fools,*²³and exchanged the glory of the immortal God for images resembling mortal man and birds and animals and creeping things. 📖

This illustrates that thinking oneself wise can in fact lead to foolishness.

1Cor 3:18-20 Let no one deceive himself. *If anyone among you thinks that he is wise in this age, let him become a fool that he may become wise.*¹⁹*For the wisdom of this world is folly with God. For it is written, "He catches the wise in their craftiness,"*²⁰*and again, "The Lord knows the thoughts of the wise, that they are futile."* 📖

In v. 18b, Paul is saying that one needs to stop seeing oneself as wise in accordance with this world's wisdom – in fact "become a fool" in the eyes of this world – in order to become wise by God's standards. For worldly wisdom is foolishness in God's eyes (v. 19).

2Cor 11:19-20 *For you gladly bear with fools, being wise yourselves!*²⁰*For you bear it if someone makes slaves of you, or devours you, or takes advantage of you, or puts on airs, or strikes you in the face.* 📖

Verse 19 suggests that pride in their own supposed wisdom had made new, exclusive teaching attractive to the Corinthians. But in fact foolishness was evident in them putting up with foolish false teachers (v. 19), even ones that exploited them (v. 20).

1Cor 8:1-2 Now concerning^g food offered to idols: we know that "all of us possess knowledge." This "knowledge" puffs up, but love builds up.²*If anyone imagines that he knows something, he does not yet know as he ought to know.* 📖

^g The expression Now concerning introduces a reply to a question in the Corinthians' letter; see 7:1

In v. 2 Paul may be meaning that anyone who considers themselves knowledgeable has an unrealistic understanding of human knowledge and its limitations (cf. v. 1) and so is really flawed in their knowledge.

‡ The wise man should not boast of his wisdom:

Jer 9:23 Thus says the LORD: "Let not the wise man boast in his wisdom, let not the mighty man boast in his might, let not the rich man boast in his riches, ..." 📖

Do not be self-righteous . . .

Deut 9:4, 6 Do not say in your heart, after the LORD your God has thrust them out before you, 'It is because of my righteousness that the LORD has brought me in to possess this land,' whereas it is because of the wickedness of these nations that the LORD is driving them out before you. 📖 ...⁶*Know, therefore, that the LORD your God is not giving you this good land to possess because of your righteousness, for you are a stubborn people.* 📖

Here God warns the Israelites against seeing themselves as righteous, which was most definitely not the case (v. 6b).

Luke 18:9-14 *He also told this parable to some who trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and treated others with contempt:¹⁰"Two men went up into the temple to pray, one a Pharisee and the other a tax collector.*¹¹*The Pharisee, standing by himself, prayed^h thus: 'God, I thank you that I am not like other men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even like this tax collector.*¹²*I fast twice a week; I give tithes of all that I get.'*¹³But the tax collector, standing far off, would not even lift up his eyes to heaven, but beat his breast, saying, 'God, be merciful to me, a sinner!'¹⁴*I tell you, this man went* down to his house justified, rather than the other. For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, but the one who humbles himself will be exalted.”

^h Or standing, prayed to himself

The Pharisee’s prayer was one of self-righteousness and self-justification. As such he failed to be justified before God – in contrast to the humble and contrite tax collector.

Matt 9:10-13 And as Jesusⁱ reclined at table in the house, behold, many tax collectors and sinners came and were reclining with Jesus and his disciples. ¹¹And when the Pharisees saw this, they said to his disciples, “Why does your teacher eat with tax collectors and sinners?” ¹²But when he heard it, he said, “Those who are well have no need of a physician, but those who are sick. ¹³Go and learn what this means, ‘I desire mercy, and not sacrifice.’ For I came not to call the righteous, but sinners.”

ⁱ Greek he

The “righteous” (v. 13) appears to be used in an ironical sense, to denote the self-righteous – “those who think they are already good enough” (NLT; cf. Nlrv). To such Jesus could offer nothing, for only those who recognized themselves as “sick” (v. 12) – i.e. acknowledged they were sinners – could see the value of his call and the need to respond to it. The same is the case today.

Isa 65:5 ... [There are those] who say, “Keep to yourself, do not come near me, for I am too holy for you.” These are a smoke in my nostrils, a fire that burns all the day.

As commented earlier, God is speaking against obstinate Israelites, who self-righteously considered themselves above others.

... Self-righteousness causes one to overlook sin

Prov 30:12 There are those who are clean in their own eyes but are not washed of their filth.

Jer 2:34-35 Also on your skirts is found the lifeblood of the guiltless poor; you did not find them breaking in. Yet in spite of all these things ³⁵you say, ‘I am innocent; surely his anger has turned from me.’ Behold, I will bring you to judgment for saying, ‘I have not sinned.’

Claiming innocence in the face of one’s sin only worsens one’s culpability, making one even more liable to God’s judgment.

Rom 2:17-24 But if you call yourself a Jew and rely on the law and boast in God ¹⁸and know his will and approve what is excellent, because you are instructed from the law; ¹⁹and if you are sure that you yourself are a guide to the blind, a light to those who are in darkness, ²⁰an instructor of the foolish, a teacher of children, having in the law the embodiment of knowledge and truth— ²¹you then who teach others, do you not teach yourself? While you preach against stealing, do you steal? ²²You who say that one must not commit adultery, do you commit adultery? You who abhor idols, do you rob temples? ²³You who boast in the law dishonor God by breaking the law. ²⁴For, as it is written, “The name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles because of you.”

Having the law and a special covenantal relationship with God had resulted in many Jews seeing themselves as righteous (vv. 17-20), when in fact their practices showed them to be far from this (vv. 21-22). Thus by their hypocrisy they had brought dishonor to God (vv. 23-24).

1Jn 1:8, 10 If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. ... ¹⁰If we say we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

Self-righteousness is behind such misguided thinking.

Prov 16:2 All the ways of a man are pure in his own eyes, but the LORD weighs the spirit.

This is speaking of people generally, rather than those who are particularly self-righteous. We naturally see things from our own perspective, tending to see what we do as right.

‡ Trusting in one’s righteousness can lead to sin:

Ezek 33:13 Though I say to the righteous that he shall surely live, yet if he trusts in his righteousness and does injustice, none of his righteous deeds shall be remembered, but in his injustice that he has done he shall die.

When such a righteous man esteems his righteousness to the point of trusting in it, he then becomes self-righteous – which leads to evil and the consequent punishment.

Do not embrace glory from people – particularly in preference to glory from God

See also:

▪ ... Seek to please God rather than people, p. 1391

John 5:41, 44 I do not receive glory from people. ... ⁴⁴How can you believe, when you receive glory from one another and do not seek the glory that comes from the only God?

John 12:42-43 Nevertheless, many even of the authorities believed in him, but for fear of the Pharisees they did not confess it, so that they would not be put out of the synagogue; ⁴³for they loved the glory that comes from man more than the glory that comes from God. 📖

This illustrates that loving glory or praise from men more than from God (v. 43) leads to unfaithful actions (v. 42b).

1Thes 2:6 Nor did we seek glory from people, whether from you or from others, though we could have made demands as apostles of Christ. 📖

Acts 10:25-26 When Peter entered, Cornelius met him and fell down at his feet and worshiped him. ²⁶But Peter lifted him up, saying, "Stand up; I too am a man." 📖

In conjunction with not embracing such a gesture – one which was to his glory – Peter would not allow it to continue.

Acts 12:21-23 On an appointed day Herod put on his royal robes, took his seat upon the throne, and delivered an oration to them. ²²And the people were shouting, "The voice of a god, and not of a man!" ²³Immediately an angel of the Lord struck him down, because he did not give God the glory, and he was eaten by worms and breathed his last. 📖

Verse 23a implies that Herod embraced this glory from the people.

Luke 6:26 Woe to you, when all people speak well of you, for so their fathers did to the false prophets. 📖

When the vast majority of people speak well of someone, it is usually indicative of their life and beliefs being compatible with a worldly viewpoint. As such they basically live independently of God and his will, making them subject to his judgment. Thus, rather than embracing glory from people we should be very wary of it.

✦ A person is tested by the praise they receive:

Prov 27:21 The crucible is for silver, and the furnace is for gold, and a man is tested by his praise. 📖

Note: Pride can easily stem from riches and power

Riches and power – as with other forms of success – can easily lead to pride.

Deut 8:12-14 ... lest, when you have eaten and are full and have built good houses and live in them, ¹³and when your herds and flocks multiply and your silver and gold is multiplied and all that you have is multiplied, ¹⁴then your heart be lifted up, and you forget the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery, ... 📖

Ezek 28:5, 17 ... by your great wisdom in your trade you have increased your wealth, and your heart has become proud in your wealth— 📖 ... ¹⁷Your heart was proud because of your beauty; you corrupted your wisdom for the sake of your splendor. I cast you to the ground; I exposed you before kings, to feast their eyes on you. 📖

This speaks of the King of Tyre (although some think that Satan is ultimately in view). In v. 17, "beauty" speaks of the splendor of the King and his possessions, stemming from his wealth (v. 5). Physical beauty is of course another thing that can lead to pride.

Prov 28:11 A rich man is wise in his own eyes, but a poor man who has understanding will find him out. 📖

Riches can lead a person to thinking themselves wise – which is indicative of pride.

2Chr 26:16 But when he was strong, he grew proud, to his destruction. For he was unfaithful to the LORD his God and entered the temple of the LORD to burn incense on the altar of incense. 📖

This suggests that Uzziah's power was the main reason for his pride.

Ezek 30:6 Thus says the LORD: Those who support Egypt shall fall, and her proud might shall come down; from Migdol to Syene they shall fall within her by the sword, declares the Lord GOD. 📖

Ezek 31:3, 10 Behold, Assyria was a cedar in Lebanon, with beautiful branches and forest shade, and of towering height, its top among the clouds. ^j ... ¹⁰"Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: Because it^k towered high and set its top among the clouds, and its heart was proud of its height, ... 📖

^j Or its top went through the thick boughs; also verses 10, 14

^k Syriac, Vulgate; Hebrew you

Assyria's "height" (v. 10) – its great power and standing amongst the nations – resulted in its pride.

2Ki 14:10 You have indeed struck down Edom, and your heart has lifted you up. Be content with your glory, and stay at home, for why should you provoke trouble so that you fall, you and Judah with you? 📖

Amaziah, king of Judah, had tasted military success against Edom, showing him to have some power. This led to his arrogance or pride – "your heart has lifted you up".

1Tim 3:6 He must not be a recent convert, or he may become puffed up with conceit and fall into the condemnation of the devil. 📖

This is speaking of credentials required for church overseers. Such success in quickly rising to a position of power can lead to conceit, even amongst God's people.

✦ Knowledge can lead to pride:

1Cor 8:1 Now concerning¹ food offered to idols: we know that "all of us possess knowledge." This "knowledge" puffs up, but love builds up. 📖

¹ The expression Now concerning introduces a reply to a question in the Corinthians' letter; see 7:1

b) Pride in Action: Self-Exaltation and Boasting

Subsections

- Do not exalt yourself . . .
- . . . Honor others, rather than yourself
- Do not dress lavishly for outward appearances
- Those who exalt themselves will be humbled – and those who humble themselves will be exalted
- Do not boast about yourself . . .
- . . . Only boast about God and Jesus Christ
- Boasting about oneself typically is bad
- Boasting is of no benefit and even destructive

Do not exalt yourself . . .

Prov 25:6 Do not put yourself forward in the king's presence or stand in the place of the great, ... 📖

Prov 30:32 If you have been foolish, exalting yourself, or if you have been devising evil, put your hand on your mouth. 📖

The last clause appears to be saying to stop such talk.

Prov 12:23 A prudent man conceals knowledge, but the heart of fools proclaims folly. 📖

Wise people "don't make a show" (NLT) of what they know. To do so would be a form of self-exaltation.

Mark 12:38-40 And in his teaching he said, "*Beware of the scribes, who like to walk around in long robes and like greetings in the marketplaces*³⁹*and have the best seats in the synagogues and the places of honor at feasts,*⁴⁰*who devour widows' houses and for a pretense make long prayers. They will receive the greater condemnation.*" 📖

The self-exalting practices of vv. 38-39 also intimated great piety, like the lengthy public prayers (v. 40a). Presumably then the severity of the punishment (v. 40b) was in part due to their evil in taking widows' houses being exacerbated by such pretentiousness as well as their hypocritical praying.

Mark 10:35-37, 41-45 And James and John, the sons of Zebedee, came up to him and said to him, "Teacher, we want you to do for us whatever we ask of you."³⁶ And he said to them, "What do you want me to do for you?"³⁷ And they said to him, "Grant us to sit, one at your right hand and one at your left, in your glory." 📖 ...⁴¹ *And when the ten heard it, they began to be indignant at James and John.*⁴² And Jesus called them to him and said to them, "*You know that those who are considered rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them.*⁴³ But it shall not be so among you. But whoever would be great among you must be your servant,^m *and whoever would be first among you must be slaveⁿ of all.*⁴⁵ For even the Son of Man came not to be served but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many." 📖

ⁿ Greek bondservant (doulos)

James and John basically ask Jesus to promise that he will exalt them above all others throughout the afterlife (v. 37). Verse 41 demonstrates that such aspirations of or claims to greatness can incense others. In v. 42, Jesus may well be portraying rulers wrongly reveling in their exalted positions (cf. Luke 2:25 ↓), akin to actually exalting themselves. In vv. 43-44, Jesus teaches that any aspirations of greatness should in fact be channeled into humble service. (Extracts from the parallel passage in Luke follow, it having some subtle but notable differences.)

Luke 22:24-27 *A dispute also arose among them, as to which of them was to be regarded as the greatest.*²⁵ *And he said to them, "The kings of the Gentiles exercise lordship over them, and those in authority over them are called benefactors.*²⁶ *But not so with you. Rather, let the greatest among you become as the youngest, and the leader as one who serves.*²⁷ For who is the greater, one who reclines at table or one who serves? Is it not the one who reclines at table? But I am among you as the one who serves.

Luke 9:46-48 An argument arose among them as to which of them was the greatest. ⁴⁷But Jesus, knowing the reasoning of their hearts, took a child and put him by his side ⁴⁸and said to them, “Whoever receives this child in my name receives me, and whoever receives me receives him who sent me. For he who is least among you all is the one who is great.”

In speaking of welcoming such a child “in his name”, Jesus appears to be speaking of welcoming one as being of him – or possibly on his behalf (cf. NLT) or for his sake (cf. AMP). (These alternatives are to some extent interrelated anyway.) To welcome a child or a humble believer as such, is in effect to welcome Jesus himself. Thus Jesus rebukes the disciples’ desire to be the greatest by associating a little child, who had little or no status in the eyes of the world, with himself and ultimately God. Jesus draws the conclusion that the one who is the least amongst God’s people, unassuming and humble like a child, is in fact the greatest. This is reflected in Jesus’ own example (cf. Mark 10:43-45 ↑; Luke 2:26-27 ↑).

2Cor 10:12 Not that we dare to classify or compare ourselves with some of those who are commending themselves. But when they measure themselves by one another and compare themselves with one another, they are without understanding.

Paul appears to begin the verse with irony or sarcasm in disapproving of those “who exalt and furnish testimonials for themselves” (AMP).

2Cor 12:11 I have been a fool! You forced me to it, for I ought to have been commended by you. For I was not at all inferior to these super-apostles, even though I am nothing.

In the preceding couple of chapters, Paul had expounded his credentials in order to defend his credibility as an apostle. He acknowledges here that such self-exaltation was foolish, although the Corinthians had left him little option. He then is careful to qualify his status in a self-effacing manner, portraying himself as “a nobody” (AMP).

... Honor others, rather than yourself

Ps 15:4 ... in whose eyes a vile person is despised, but who honors those who fear the LORD; who swears to his own hurt and does not change; ...

We should honor others who fear God.

Rom 12:10 Love one another with brotherly affection. Outdo one another in showing honor.

Phil 2:3 Do nothing from rivalry or conceit, but in humility count others more significant than yourselves.

We should consider others more significant and so “more important” (NASB, NCV) than ourselves. In doing so we honor others above ourselves in our thoughts, which is reflected in our words and deeds.

1Tim 5:3 Honor widows who are truly widows.

1Pet 2:17 Honor everyone. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the emperor.

Prov 25:27 It is not good to eat much honey, nor is it glorious to seek one’s own glory.^o

^o The meaning of the Hebrew line is uncertain

Matt 6:2 Thus, when you give to the needy, sound no trumpet before you, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may be praised by others. Truly, I say to you, they have received their reward.

‡ Punishment for exalting oneself against God:

Ezek 35:13-14 And you magnified yourselves against me with your mouth, and multiplied your words against me; I heard it. ¹⁴*Thus says the Lord GOD: While the whole earth rejoices, I will make you desolate.*

Do not dress lavishly for outward appearances

To dress lavishly is in effect an attempt to exalt ourselves in the eyes of others. Correspondingly, it evidences vanity, which is also closely associated with pride.

1Pet 3:3-5 Do not let your adorning be external—the braiding of hair and the putting on of gold jewelry, or the clothing you wear—⁴but let your adorning be the hidden person of the heart with the imperishable beauty of a gentle and quiet spirit, which in God’s sight is very precious. ⁵*For this is how the holy women who hoped in God used to adorn themselves, by submitting to their own husbands, ...*

Verse 5a illustrates that we should adorn ourselves by the way we act (cf. 1Tim 2:9 ↓) – as opposed to trying to promote ourselves by outward appearances.

1Tim 2:9-10 ...likewise also that women should adorn themselves in respectable apparel, with modesty and self-control, not with braided hair and gold or pearls or costly attire, ¹⁰*but with what is proper for women who profess godliness—with good works.* 📖

Isa 3:16-24 The LORD said: Because the daughters of Zion are haughty and walk with outstretched necks, glancing wantonly with their eyes, mincing along as they go, tinkling with their feet, ¹⁷*therefore the Lord will strike with a scab the heads of the daughters of Zion, and the LORD will lay bare their secret parts.* ¹⁸*In that day the Lord will take away the finery of the anklets, the headbands, and the crescents;* ¹⁹*the pendants, the bracelets, and the scarves;* ²⁰*the headdresses, the armlets, the sashes, the perfume boxes, and the amulets;* ²¹*the signet rings and nose rings;* ²²*the festal robes, the mantles, the cloaks, and the handbags;* ²³*the mirrors, the linen garments, the turbans, and the veils.* ²⁴*Instead of perfume there will be rotteness; and instead of a belt, a rope; and instead of well-set hair, baldness; and instead of a rich robe, a skirt of sackcloth; and branding instead of beauty.* 📖

In “mincing along as they go” (v. 16) – taking “quick, short steps” (NirV®) – the women were probably trying to use ornaments “tinkling” on their feet or ankles (v. 16) to draw attention to themselves. This was consistent with their excessive emphasis on outward appearances, evidenced by the many things they wore or used for their appearance (vv. 18-24).

Luke 20:46 Beware of the scribes, who like to walk around in long robes, and love greetings in the marketplaces and the best seats in the synagogues and the places of honor at feasts, ... 📖

✦ Splendor can corrupt:

Ezek 28:17 Your heart was proud because of your beauty; you corrupted your wisdom for the sake of your splendor. I cast you to the ground; I exposed you before kings, to feast their eyes on you. 📖

The concept of splendor corrupting is relevant to all who would aspire to outward grandeur, even on a small scale.

Those who exalt themselves will be humbled – and those who humble themselves will be exalted

Luke 14:7-11 Now he told a parable to those who were invited, when he noticed how they chose the places of honor, saying to them, ⁸*“When you are invited by someone to a wedding feast, do not sit down in a place of honor, lest someone more distinguished than you be invited by him,* ⁹*and he who invited you both will come and say to you, ‘Give your place to this person,’ and then you will begin with shame to take the lowest place.* ¹⁰*But when you are invited, go and sit in the lowest place, so that when your host comes he may say to you, ‘Friend, move up higher.’ Then you will be honored in the presence of all who sit at table with you.* ¹¹*For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, and he who humbles himself will be exalted.”* 📖

Luke 18:9-14 He also told this parable to some who trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and treated others with contempt: ¹⁰*“Two men went up into the temple to pray, one a Pharisee and the other a tax collector.* ¹¹*The Pharisee, standing by himself, prayed thus: ‘God, I thank you that I am not like other men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even like this tax collector.* ¹²*I fast twice a week; I give tithes of all that I get.’* ¹³*But the tax collector, standing far off, would not even lift up his eyes to heaven, but beat his breast, saying, ‘God, be merciful to me, a sinner!’* ¹⁴*I tell you, this man went down to his house justified, rather than the other. For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, but the one who humbles himself will be exalted.”* 📖

Ⓟ Or standing, prayed to himself

Matt 23:11-12 The greatest among you shall be your servant. ¹²*Whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and whoever humbles himself will be exalted.* 📖

In v. 11 Jesus is saying that who willingly serves the others will be the greatest (cf. Matt 18:4 ↓) – as affirmed by v. 12b.

Prov 25:6-7a Do not put yourself forward in the king’s presence or stand in the place of the great, for it is better to be told, “Come up here,” than to be put lower in the presence of a noble. 📖

Ezek 21:25-26 And you, O profane^a wicked one, prince of Israel, whose day has come, the time of your final punishment, ²⁶*thus says the Lord GOD: Remove the turban and take off the crown. Things shall not remain as they are. Exalt that which is low, and bring low that which is exalted.* 📖

^a Or slain; also verse 29

Job 5:11 ... he sets on high those who are lowly, and those who mourn are lifted to safety.

The term “lowly” most likely means “humble” (GNT, NCV) or “poor and humble” (NLT).

Luke 1:52 ... he has brought down the mighty from their thrones and exalted those of humble estate; ...

The reference the mighty probably has primarily in view bad rulers (cf. Ezek 21:25-26 ↑) who typically seek to further exalt themselves.

1Pet 5:6 Humble yourselves, therefore, under the mighty hand of God so that at the proper time he may exalt you, ...

✦ The humble are the greatest in God’s kingdom:

Matt 18:4 Whoever humbles himself like this child is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven.

In the parallel account in Luke, Jesus says, “For he who is least among you all is the one who is great.” (Luke 9:48)

Do not boast about yourself . . .

Particularly in view of God’s greatness (vv. 2-3), the boastful – and indeed all people – have no grounds to boast (v. 4).

Prov 27:1-2 Do not boast about tomorrow, for you do not know what a day may bring. ²Let another praise you, and not your own mouth; a stranger, and not your own lips.

1Cor 4:7 For who sees anything different in you? What do you have that you did not receive? If then you received it, why do you boast as if you did not receive it?

1Cor 9:16 For if I preach the gospel, that gives me no ground for boasting. For necessity is laid upon me. Woe to me if I do not preach the gospel!

Paul considered his wonderful work in preaching the gospel as no reason for him to boast, for it was not something he did on his own initiative – he had to do it; it was a duty given him by God. Additionally, Paul may have had in view the fact that God enabled him to do the work.

1Cor 13:4 Love is patient and kind; love does not envy or boast; it is not arrogant ...

2Cor 12:5-6 On behalf of this man I will boast, but on my own behalf I will not boast, except of my weaknesses. ⁶Though if I should wish to boast, I would not be a fool, for I would be speaking the truth. But I refrain from it, so that no one may think more of me than he sees in me or hears from me.

Jude 1:16 These are grumblers, malcontents, following their own sinful desires; they are loud-mouthed boasters, showing favoritism to gain advantage.

1Ki 20:10-11 Ben-hadad sent to him and said, “The gods do so to me and more also, if the dust of Samaria shall suffice for handfuls for all the people who follow me.” ¹¹And the king of Israel answered, “Tell him, ‘Let not him who straps on his armor boast himself as he who takes it off.’”

The king of Israel rightly implied that one should be wary of boasting about doing something one is yet to accomplish.

Isa 10:12-13 When the Lord has finished all his work on Mount Zion and on Jerusalem, he^r will punish the speech of the arrogant heart of the king of Assyria and the boastful look in his eyes. ¹³For he says: “By the strength of my hand I have done it, and by my wisdom, for I have understanding; I remove the boundaries of peoples, and plunder their treasures; like a bull I bring down those who sit on thrones.

. . . Only boast about God and Jesus Christ

Boasting about/in God involves boasting of God himself and what he has done or will do, including what he has done for/with oneself.

Ps 34:2 My soul makes its boast in the LORD; let the humble hear and be glad.

Ps 44:8 In God we have boasted continually, and we will give thanks to your name forever. Selah

Jer 9:23-24 Thus says the LORD: “Let not the wise man boast in his wisdom, let not the mighty man boast in his might, let not the rich man boast in his riches, ²⁴but let him who boasts boast in this, that he understands and knows me, that I am the LORD who practices steadfast love, justice, and righteousness

in the earth. For in these things I delight, declares the LORD."

If one has to boast, one should boast about matters that really count, primarily knowledge of God and God's attributes and deeds. Note that v. 24 may be speaking of: boasting of knowing God, including knowing that he is the LORD who exercises such things (cf. NLT); or both boasting of knowing God and boasting of God being the LORD who exercises such things (cf. CEV).

1Cor 1:31 ... so that, as it is written, "Let the one who boasts, boast in the Lord."

Gal 6:14 But far be it from me to boast except in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by which^s the world has been crucified to me, and I to the world.

^s Or through whom

Rom 15:17-18 In Christ Jesus, then, I have reason to be proud of my work for God. ¹⁸For I will not venture to speak of anything except what Christ has accomplished through me to bring the Gentiles to obedience—by word and deed, ...

Here Paul is effectively "boasting" (NASB) of what Christ had accomplished, through him – rather than simply what he himself had done.

Phil 3:3 For we are the circumcision, who worship by the Spirit of God^t and glory in Christ Jesus and put no confidence in the flesh—

^t Some manuscripts God in spirit

Other translations indicate that the idea of glorying in Christ is linked to: boasting in him (NLT, NRSV); taking pride in him (CEV, NCV); and rejoicing or exulting in him (GNT, NKJV).

Heb 3:6 ... but Christ is faithful over God's house as a son. And we are his house if indeed we hold fast our confidence and our boasting in our hope.^u

^u Some manuscripts insert firm to the end

In association with boasting about God and Jesus Christ, we should boast about the future hope that they have given us.

2Cor 11:30 If I must boast, I will boast of the things that show my weakness.

In boasting of the things that showed his weaknesses (cf. 2Cor 12:9 ↓; 2Cor 12:5 ↑), Paul would make known how Jesus Christ had empowered him (cf. 2Cor 12:9 ↓) and likewise what Jesus Christ had done through him. In boasting as such, Paul was effectively boasting of Jesus Christ.

✦ Paul boasted about his weaknesses so that Christ's power would be with him:

2Cor 12:7-9 So to keep me from becoming conceited because of the surpassing greatness of the revelations,^v a thorn was given me in the flesh, a messenger of Satan to harass me, to keep me from becoming conceited. ⁸Three times I pleaded with the Lord about this, that it should leave me. ⁹But he said to me, "My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness." Therefore I will boast all the more gladly of my weaknesses, so that the power of Christ may rest upon me.

^v Or hears from me, even because of the surpassing greatness of the revelations. So to keep me from becoming conceited

In boasting of his weaknesses, Paul acknowledged them and was open to, even dependent on, Jesus Christ's empowerment. As per 11:30 immediately above, indirectly Paul was boasting about Jesus Christ.

Boasting about oneself typically is bad

James 4:16 As it is, you boast in your arrogance. All such boasting is evil.

Boasting is typically indicative of arrogance – and is evil.

1Cor 5:6 Your boasting is not good. Do you not know that a little leaven leavens the whole lump?

Ps 94:4 They pour out their arrogant words; all the evildoers boast.

Boasting is characteristic of evildoers (cf. Ps 52:1 ↓).

Ps 52:1 Why do you boast of evil, O mighty man? The steadfast love of God endures all the day.

Boasting itself is bad enough, but even more so if it is boasting of evil.

Isa 16:6 We have heard of the pride of Moab— how proud he is!— of his arrogance, his pride, and his insolence; in his idle boasting he is not right.

Moab's boasts were baseless, false claims. Boasting has an inherent tendency to overstate facts and thus is often characterized by falsehood.

2Cor 11:17-18 What I am saying with this boastful confidence, I say not with the Lord's authority but as a fool. ¹⁸Since many boast according to the flesh, I too will boast.

As noted earlier, in 2 Corinthians 10-12 Paul felt compelled to boast to try to prove his credentials as an apostle and to counter the boasts and claims of false apostles (cf. 2Cor 10:8, 13-17 ↓; 2Cor 12:1 ↓). In doing so, Paul acknowledges that boasting is in itself foolish and merely in accordance with “human standards” (NRSV).

Ps 5:5 The boastful shall not stand before your eyes; you hate all evildoers. 📖

The boastful are not permitted or able to stand before God; in his holiness God does not tolerate boastfulness. One could say that he “cannot stand the sight of” (GNT) boastful people.

✦ In “boasting” to defend his ministry, Paul did not exceed the truth:

2Cor 10:8, 13-17 For even if I boast a little too much of our authority, which the Lord gave for building you up and not for destroying you, I will not be ashamed. 📖 ... ¹³*But we will not boast beyond limits, but will boast only with regard to the area of influence God assigned to us, to reach even to you.* ¹⁴*For we are not overextending ourselves, as though we did not reach you. For we were the first to come all the way to you with the gospel of Christ.* ¹⁵*We do not boast beyond limit in the labors of others.* But our hope is that as your faith increases, our area of influence among you may be greatly enlarged, ¹⁶so that we may preach the gospel in lands beyond you, without boasting of work already done in another’s area of influence. ¹⁷*Let the one who boasts, boast in the Lord.”* 📖

In the latter part of v. 8, Paul may be meaning that in his boasting he would not be put to shame “for exceeding the truth” (AMP). In boasting to defend his ministry and credibility, Paul ensured he did not claim anything that was beyond the limits of what was true (vv. 13-15a). As such he did not want to boast about the work of others as if it were his own (vv. 15-16), but essentially only about what the Lord had done through him (v. 17).

Boasting is of no benefit and even destructive

Prov 25:14 Like clouds and wind without rain is a man who boasts of a gift he does not give. 📖

Jer 48:30 I know his insolence, declares the LORD; his boasts are false, his deeds are false. 📖

A number of other translations interpret the second part of the verse as indicating that the boasts “accomplish nothing” (NIV®, NLT; cf. AMP, GNT, NASB, NCV).

2Cor 10:18 For it is not the one who commends himself who is approved, but the one whom the Lord commends. 📖

Commending oneself, boasting about what one has done, counts for nothing. For God’s approval is only for those whom Jesus Christ commends.

2Cor 12:1 I must go on boasting. Though there is nothing to be gained by it, I will go on to visions and revelations of the Lord. 📖

In the first half of the verse, Paul would appear to have in mind that he needed to go on boasting – to counter false claims in his current circumstances (cf. 2Cor 11:17-18 ↑; 2Cor 10:8, 13-17 ↑) – though in itself there is nothing to be gained by boasting.

Prov 17:19 Whoever loves transgression loves strife; he who makes his door high seeks destruction. 📖

The second part of the verse figuratively implies that one who boasts is “asking for trouble” (GNT, NCV, cf. NLT). As well as inviting destruction itself (cf. Ps 12:3 ↓), boasting and the accompanying pride naturally tend to lead to trouble (which is probably what is primarily in view here).

Ps 12:3 May the LORD cut off all flattering lips, the tongue that makes great boasts, ... 📖

2Chr 26:16 But when he was strong, he grew proud, to his destruction. For he was unfaithful to the LORD his God and entered the temple of the LORD to burn incense on the altar of incense.

Uzziah's pride led him to be unfaithful to God.

2Chr 32:24-25a In those days Hezekiah became sick and was at the point of death, and he prayed to the LORD, and he answered him and gave him a sign. ²⁵*But Hezekiah did not make return according to the benefit done to him, for his heart was proud.*

Ps 10:4 In the pride of his face^x the wicked does not seek him;^y all his thoughts are, "There is no God."

^x Or of his anger

^y Or the wicked says, "He will not call to account"

In their pride, the wicked have no desire and see no need to seek God (v. 4). Note that the last clause appears to speak of the wicked thinking and/or telling themselves that there is no God.

Ps 36:1-2 Transgression speaks to the wicked deep in his heart;^z there is no fear of God before his eyes. ²*For he flatters himself in his own eyes that his iniquity cannot be found out and hated.*

^z Some Hebrew manuscripts, Syriac, Jerome (compare Septuagint); most Hebrew manuscripts in my heart

Note that flattering oneself is indicative of pride.

Ps 138:6 For though the LORD is high, he regards the lowly, but the haughty he knows from afar.

Given what precedes it, the final phrase probably means that God distances himself from the proud (cf. NCV, NLT), "keeping an eye on them" from afar.

1Pet 5:5 Likewise, you who are younger, be subject to the elders. Clothe yourselves, all of you, with humility toward one another, for "God opposes the proud but gives grace to the humble."

The quotation is from Proverbs 3:34, which is also quoted in James 4:6.

Prov 21:4 Haughty eyes and a proud heart, the lamp^a of the wicked, are sin.

^a Or the plowing

Pride is actually sin – and evil (cf. Mark 7:21-23 ↓) – and so detrimental to a relationship with God.

Mark 7:21-23 For from within, out of the heart of man, come evil thoughts, sexual immorality, theft, murder, adultery, ²²coveting, wickedness, deceit, sensuality, envy, slander, pride, foolishness. ²³*All these evil things come from within, and they defile a person.*

1Cor 10:12 Therefore let anyone who thinks that he stands take heed lest he fall.

Pride is not specifically referred to here, but Paul does appear to be warning against a self-confidence bordering on smugness or pride. Such an attitude makes one vulnerable to sin (cf. AMP, NLT).

. . . and acting presumptuously is linked with not obeying God's commands

As used in the following contexts, "presumption" or acting presumptuously involves arrogance, assuming that one's own perspective is right. As such it evidences pride.

Neh 9:16, 29 But they and our fathers acted presumptuously and stiffened their neck and did not obey your commandments. ... ²⁹*And you warned them in order to turn them back to your law. Yet they acted presumptuously and did not obey your commandments, but sinned against your rules,* which if a person does them, he shall live by them, and they turned a stubborn shoulder and stiffened their neck and would not obey.

Deut 1:42-43 And the LORD said to me, 'Say to them, Do not go up or fight, for I am not in your midst, lest you be defeated before your enemies.'⁴³So I spoke to you, and you would not listen; but you rebelled against the command of the LORD and presumptuously went up into the hill country.

1Sam 15:23 For rebellion is as the sin of divination, and presumption is as iniquity and idolatry. Because you have rejected the word of the LORD, he has also rejected you from being king.

The two similes in the first statement may well be associating presumption with rebellion against God. The comparison with idolatry emphatically underlines the evilness of being presumptuous, here manifested in rejecting God's word.

Ps 119:21 You rebuke the insolent, accursed ones, who wander from your commandments.

As with "presumption", "insolence" is akin to arrogance – and so indicative of pride.

Pride and arrogance lead to ill treatment of others

Ps 10:2 In arrogance the wicked hotly pursue the poor; let them be caught in the schemes that they have devised.

Ps 31:18 Let the lying lips be mute, which speak insolently against the righteous in pride and contempt.

Ps 56:2 ... my enemies trample on me all day long, for many attack me proudly.

Ps 73:6-8 Therefore pride is their necklace; violence covers them as a garment. ⁷Their eyes swell out through fatness; their hearts overflow with follies. ⁸They scoff and speak with malice; loftily they threaten oppression.

Ps 94:2-6 Rise up, O judge of the earth; repay to the proud what they deserve! ³O LORD, how long shall the wicked, how long shall the wicked exult? ⁴They pour out their arrogant words; all the evildoers boast. ⁵They crush your people, O LORD, and afflict your heritage. ⁶They kill the widow and the sojourner, and murder the fatherless; ...

Ps 119:51, 69, 78, 85, 122 The insolent utterly deride me, but I do not turn away from your law.  ... ⁶⁹The insolent smear me with lies, but with my whole heart I keep your precepts;  ... ⁷⁸Let the insolent be put to shame, because they have wronged me with falsehood; as for me, I will meditate on your precepts.  ... ⁸⁵The insolent have dug pitfalls for me; they do not live according to your law.  ... ¹²²Give your servant a pledge of good; let not the insolent oppress me.

Ps 123:4 Our soul has had more than enough of the scorn of those who are at ease, of the contempt of the proud.

Ps 140:5 The arrogant have hidden a trap for me, and with cords they have spread a net;^b beside the way they have set snares for me. Selah

^b Or they have spread cords as a net

Zeph 2:10 This shall be their lot in return for their pride, because they taunted and boasted against the people of the LORD of hosts.

This suggests that deriding others is symptomatic of pride.

Gal 5:26 Let us not become conceited, provoking one another, envying one another.

↳ Insolence leads to strife:

Prov 13:10 By insolence comes nothing but strife, but with those who take advice is wisdom.

Pride is associated with self-deception and flawed understanding

See also:

- ... Seeing yourself as wise is associated with foolishness, p. 1889

Self-deception and flawed understanding are inevitably outcomes of pride. Conversely they are often causes of or exacerbate pride. Note that flawed understanding includes both a lack of understanding and over-confidence in otherwise good understanding (or wisdom or knowledge).

Obad 1:3-4 The pride of your heart has deceived you, you who live in the clefts of the rock,^c in your lofty dwelling, who say in your heart, "Who will bring me down to the ground?" ⁴Though you soar aloft like the eagle, though your nest is set among the stars, from there I will bring you down, declares the LORD.

^c Or Sela

Gal 6:3 For if anyone thinks he is something, when he is nothing, he deceives himself.

Having an inflated opinion of oneself indicates pride, and means one has deceived oneself.

1Cor 3:18-20 Let no one deceive himself. If anyone among you thinks that he is wise in this age, let him become a fool that he may become wise. ¹⁹For the wisdom of this world is folly with God. For it is written, "He catches the wise in their craftiness," ²⁰and again, "The Lord knows the thoughts of the wise, that they are futile."

Thinking oneself to be wise “by this world’s standards” (GNT, NLT cf. NCV, NIV) reflects pride. Ironically it is also indicative of being self-deceived (v. 18a), for worldly wisdom is in fact ultimately foolishness, as God knows and shows it to be (vv. 19-20).

1Cor 8:1-2 Now concerning^d food offered to idols: we know that “all of us possess knowledge.” This “knowledge” puffs up, but love builds up. ²*If anyone imagines that he knows something, he does not yet know as he ought to know.*

^d The expression Now concerning introduces a reply to a question in the Corinthians’ letter; see 7:1

Verse 1b associates knowledge – that is apart from love – with pride, leading one to proudly think of his or her self as knowledgeable (v. 2a). Such knowledge is flawed as one can only wisely use knowledge in humility, with an awareness of the limitations of one’s knowledge. So anyone who has become puffed up or proud over their knowledge is in fact not as sound in knowledge and wise as they think. As such, their pride has led to self-deception.

2Cor 10:12 Not that we dare to classify or compare ourselves with some of those who are commending themselves. But when they measure themselves by one another and compare themselves with one another, they are without understanding.

Paul’s adversaries were viewing their own conduct as the standard, and then taking pride in measuring up to it (cf. ZBC). Their resultant self-commendation reflected pride and reflected a lack of understanding and self-deception.

1Tim 6:3-4a If anyone teaches a different doctrine and does not agree with the sound^e words of our Lord Jesus Christ and the teaching that accords with godliness, ⁴*he is puffed up with conceit and understands nothing.*

^e Or healthy

Isa 16:6 We have heard of the pride of Moab— how proud he is!— of his arrogance, his pride, and his insolence; in his idle boasting he is not right.

Moab’s pride led her to make boasts that were baseless, false claims – quite possibly self-delusions rather than deliberate lies.

Isa 47:10 You felt secure in your wickedness, you said, “No one sees me”; your wisdom and your knowledge led you astray, and you said in your heart, “I am, and there is no one besides me.”

This is an example of over-confidence in one’s wisdom and knowledge misleading one into a proud, false opinion of oneself.

Jer 13:15-17 Hear and give ear; be not proud, for the LORD has spoken. ¹⁶*Give glory to the LORD your God before he brings darkness, before your feet stumble on the twilight mountains, and while you look for light he turns it into gloom and makes it deep darkness.* ¹⁷*But if you will not listen, my soul will weep in secret for your pride; my eyes will weep bitterly and run down with tears, because the LORD’s flock has been taken captive.*

In v. 17 Jeremiah may well be speaking of the people being “too proud to listen” (CEV). Pride (vv. 15, 17) is a key reason why people do not pay attention and listen to God’s word – leaving them with a flawed understanding.

Jer 43:2 Azariah the son of Hoshai and Johanan the son of Kareah and all the insolent men said to Jeremiah, “You are telling a lie. The LORD our God did not send you to say, ‘Do not go to Egypt to live there,’

In their insolence the men failed to recognize and understand that Jeremiah had been sent by God.

2Ki 14:10 You have indeed struck down Edom, and your heart has lifted you up. Be content with your glory, and stay at home, for why should you provoke trouble so that you fall, you and Judah with you?

This warning was given by Jehoash king of Israel to Amaziah king of Judah. In his arrogance Amaziah would not withdraw from threatening Israel, resulting in his downfall (cf. vv. 11-14).

✦ One is better off being humble and poor than sharing loot as one of the proud:

Prov 16:19 It is better to be of a lowly spirit with the poor than to divide the spoil with the proud. ㊦

The term “lowly spirit” refers to “a humble spirit” (NASB, NKJV; cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NLT). The future prospects of the proud – spoken of in the preceding verse (v. 18 ↑) – and the contrasting future prospects of the humble, affirm the validity of the verse’s assertion.

Luke 11:43 Woe to you Pharisees! For you love the best seat in the synagogues and greetings in the marketplaces. ㊦

In their pride the Pharisees loved the most important seats in the synagogues and being acknowledged in public. Such pride was a key factor in Jesus in effect condemning them.

1Tim 3:6 He must not be a recent convert, or he may become puffed up with conceit and fall into the condemnation of the devil. ㊦

This may well be intimating that the devil was conceited. Those who are likewise conceited will be punished as he was (cf. AMP) and/or will be (cf. CEV).

Rev 18:7-8 As she glorified herself and lived in luxury, so give her a like measure of torment and mourning, since in her heart she says, 'I sit as a queen, I am no widow, and mourning I shall never see.' ⁸*For this reason her plagues will come in a single day, death and mourning and famine, and she will be burned up with fire; for mighty is the Lord God who has judged her.* ☞

d) Antithesis of Pride: Humility

See also:

- Humble yourself before God over your sin – and its consequences, p. 1844

Humility is the opposite of pride. It is a most critical attitude for maintaining one's guard against things that can cause one to fall – spiritually and otherwise. This is in contrast to pride which opens oneself up to many kinds of destructive dangers (as reflected in the previous section, Outcomes of Pride).

Be humble, particularly before God

Mic 6:8 He has told you, O man, what is good; and what does the LORD require of you but to do justice, and to love kindness,^m and to walk humbly with your God?

^mOr steadfast love

Dan 10:12 Then he said to me, “Fear not, Daniel, for from the first day that you set your heart to understand and humbled yourself before your God, your words have been heard, and I have come because of your words.

This shows that humbling ourselves before God is important for prayer.

Isa 58:5 Is such the fast that I choose, a day for a person to humble himself? Is it to bow down his head like a reed, and to spread sackcloth and ashes under him? Will you call this a fast, and a day acceptable to the LORD?

One can infer from this that we are to constantly humble ourselves before God – not just in formal worship.

Isa 66:2 All these things my hand has made, and so all these things came to be, declares the LORD. But this is the one to whom I will look: he who is humble and contrite in spirit and trembles at my word.

The phrase “I will look” appears to have the sense “I will have regard for” (cf. AMP, CEV, NIV).

Zeph 2:3 *Seek the LORD, all you humble of the land, who do his just commands;*ⁿ seek righteousness; seek humility; perhaps you may be hidden on the day of the anger of the LORD.

ⁿ Or who carry out his judgment

This suggests that humility is vital in order to seek God.

1Pet 5:6 Humble yourselves, therefore, under the mighty hand of God so that at the proper time he may exalt you, ...

The admonition to humble themselves “under the mighty hand of God” is probably a reference to either: God allowing or ordaining the sufferings the readers were experiencing (cf. 1:7; 4:12, 19; 5:10); or, as the final clause suggests, trusting in God’s mighty power and deliverance.

‡ Those with child-like humility are the greatest in God’s kingdom:

Matt 18:1-4 At that time the disciples came to Jesus, saying, “Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?” ²And calling to him a child, he put him in the midst of them ³and said, “Truly, I say to you, unless you turn and become like children, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven. ⁴*Whoever humbles himself like this child is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven.*

Jesus’ reference to greatness in the kingdom of heaven (v. 4) looks back to the disciples’ question in v. 1. He associates such greatness with child-like humility – without which one cannot enter the kingdom of heaven (v. 3).

Humbly acknowledge your unworthiness before God and Jesus Christ

Gen 18:27 Abraham answered and said, “Behold, I have undertaken to speak to the Lord, I who am but dust and ashes.

Job 40:1-5 And the LORD said to Job: ²“Shall a faultfinder contend with the Almighty? He who argues with God, let him answer it.” ³*Then Job answered the LORD and said: “Behold, I am of small account; what shall I answer you? I lay my hand on my mouth. ⁵I have spoken once, and I will not answer; twice, but I will proceed no further.”*

Job's sense of unworthiness before God was no doubt accentuated by God confronting Job with his foolish, presumptuous questioning of him, the Almighty.

Job 33:6 Behold, I am toward God as you are; I too was pinched off from a piece of clay.

Here Elihu speaks to Job – rather than directly to God – of their unworthiness before God, by pointing to their humble origins.

Mark 7:25 But immediately a woman whose little daughter had an unclean spirit heard of him and came and fell down at his feet.

Luke 5:8 But when Simon Peter saw it, he fell down at Jesus' knees, saying, "Depart from me, for I am a sinful man, O Lord."

On witnessing Jesus' miraculous, divine power (cf. vv. 4-7), Peter acknowledged his unworthiness before Jesus.

Luke 7:6-7 And Jesus went with them. When he was not far from the house, the centurion sent friends, saying to him, "Lord, do not trouble yourself, for *I am not worthy to have you come under my roof.*⁷ Therefore I did not presume to come to you. But say the word, and let my servant be healed.

Luke 7:37-38 And behold, a woman of the city, who was a sinner, when she learned that he was reclining at table in the Pharisee's house, brought an alabaster flask of ointment,³⁸ and standing behind him at his feet, weeping, she began to wet his feet with her tears and wiped them with the hair of her head and kissed his feet and anointed them with the ointment.

The woman's act not only demonstrated great love towards Jesus (cf. v. 47), it demonstrated her humility, even a sense of unworthiness, before him.

Luke 17:10 So you also, when you have done all that you were commanded, say, 'We are unworthy servants;° we have only done what was our duty.'

° Greek bondservants

The reference is to our attitudes as servants of God or Jesus Christ (cf. Humility is important for obeying and serving God, below).

John 1:26-27 John answered them, "I baptize with water, but among you stands one you do not know,²⁷ even he who comes after me, the strap of whose sandal I am not worthy to untie."

John the Baptist is speaking in regard to Jesus (cf. John 3:29-30 ↓).

Gen 32:10 I am not worthy of the least of all the deeds of steadfast love and all the faithfulness that you have shown to your servant, for with only my staff I crossed this Jordan, and now I have become two camps.

Here Jacob humbly acknowledges before God his unworthiness of God's great blessing. David similarly acknowledges his unworthiness of God's blessing – on a couple of occasions: "Who am I, O Lord GOD, and what is my house, that you have brought me thus far?" (2Sam 7:18b); and, "But who am I, and what is my people, that we should be able thus to offer willingly?" (1Chr 29:14a).

† John humbly accepted that he needed to take a lesser role to Jesus:

John 3:29-30 The one who has the bride is the bridegroom. The friend of the bridegroom, who stands and hears him, rejoices greatly at the bridegroom's voice. Therefore this joy of mine is now complete. ³⁰*He must increase, but I must decrease.*[†]

† Some interpreters hold that the quotation continues through verse 36

John the Baptist likened his preparatory role to that of a friend attending a bridegroom (v. 29b). Now that Jesus had come, John humbly and realistically states that he needed to take a lesser role (v. 30).

Fast as a means of humbling yourself before God

Possibly fasting is seen as a means of humbling oneself as it heightens our sense of our own weakness and insufficiency, particularly as we come before God.

Ezra 8:21 Then I proclaimed a fast there, at the river Ahava, that we might humble ourselves before our God, to seek from him a safe journey for ourselves, our children, and all our goods.

Ps 35:13 But I, when they were sick— I wore sackcloth; I afflicted myself with fasting; I prayed with head bowed^q on my chest.

^q Or my prayer shall turn back

David's fasting – along with his putting on sackcloth – is indicative of him humbling himself (cf. NASB, NIV, NKJV) before God.

Ps 69:10 When I wept and humbled^r my soul with fasting, it became my reproach.

^r Hebrew lacks and humbled

1Ki 21:27-29 And when Ahab heard those words, he tore his clothes and put sackcloth on his flesh and fasted and lay in sackcloth and went about dejectedly. ²⁸And the word of the LORD came to Elijah the Tishbite, saying, ²⁹“Have you seen how Ahab has humbled himself before me? Because he has humbled himself before me, I will not bring the disaster in his days; but in his son’s days I will bring the disaster upon his house.”

In speaking of humility in association with characteristics that pertain to relating to people rather than to God (cf. Col 3:12 ↓; 1Pet 3:8 ↓), it would appear that Paul has humility towards others in view.

Col 3:12 Put on then, as God’s chosen ones, holy and beloved, compassionate hearts, kindness, humility, meekness, and patience, ...

1Pet 3:8 Finally, all of you, have unity of mind, sympathy, brotherly love, a tender heart, and a humble mind.

1Pet 5:5 Likewise, you who are younger, be subject to the elders. Clothe yourselves, all of you, with humility toward one another, for “God opposes the proud but gives grace to the humble.”

Rom 12:16 Live in harmony with one another. Do not be haughty, but associate with the lowly.^s Never be wise in your own sight.

^s Or give yourselves to humble tasks

Phil 2:3 Do nothing from rivalry or conceit, but in humility count others more significant than yourselves.

Luke 22:25-27 And he said to them, “The kings of the Gentiles exercise lordship over them, and those in authority over them are called benefactors. ²⁶But not so with you. Rather, let the greatest among you become as the youngest, and the leader as one who serves. ²⁷For who is the greater, one who reclines at table or one who serves? Is it not the one who reclines at table? But I am among you as the one who serves.”

In contrast to the heads of the Gentiles, leaders amongst Christians are to “become as the youngest” (v. 26a) – a key requirement of which is humility – and serve the others (vv. 26b-27).

Eph 3:8 To me, though I am the very least of all the saints, this grace was given, to preach to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ, ...

In 2 Corinthians 12:11, somewhat similarly Paul humbly tells his readers: “I am nothing.”

Jesus Christ’s example illustrates the role of humility in obeying and serving God, pointing to the importance of humility for doing so.

Zeph 2:3 Seek the LORD, all you humble of the land, who do his just commands;^v seek righteousness; seek humility; perhaps you may be hidden on the day of the anger of the LORD.

^v Or who carry out his judgment

The first part of the verse associates humility with obedience to God (cf. Phil 2:8 ↑); similarly the second associates it with righteousness.

2Chr 30:8, 10-11 Do not now be stiff-necked as your fathers were, but yield yourselves to the LORD and come to his sanctuary, which he has consecrated forever, and serve the LORD your God, that his fierce anger may turn away from you.

... ¹⁰So the couriers went from city to city through the country of Ephraim and Manasseh, and as far as Zebulun, but they laughed them to scorn and mocked them. ¹¹However, some men of Asher, of Manasseh, and of Zebulun humbled themselves and came to Jerusalem.

Some of the people of the northern kingdom of Israel accepted the invitation of Hezekiah – the king of the southern kingdom of Judah – to go to Jerusalem to celebrate the Passover (v. 11), in submission to God’s will and in accordance with serving God (v. 8).

Luke 17:7-10 “Will any one of you who has a servant^w plowing or keeping sheep say to him when he has come in from the field, ‘Come at once and recline at table?’ ⁸Will he not rather say to him, ‘Prepare supper for me, and dress properly,^x and serve me while I eat and drink, and afterward you will eat and drink?’ ⁹Does he thank the servant because he did what was commanded? ¹⁰*So you also, when you have done all that you were commanded, say, ‘We are unworthy servants;^y we have only done what was our duty.’”*

^w Greek bondservant; also verse 9

^x Greek gird yourself

^y Greek bondservants

Even when completing tasks God or Jesus Christ have given us, rather than presume to be shown any favor or acknowledgement from them (vv. 7b, 9), we ought to be ready to continue serving them (v. 8) and acknowledge that we are merely unworthy servants (v. 10).

The “poor in spirit” are those who in their spirit acknowledge that they are impoverished in spiritual matters. They know they are “spiritually poor” (GNT) with “great spiritual needs” (NCV™, cf. NLT) – an attitude reflecting at least a degree of humility.

II. Riches and Sex

Riches and sex are both good in themselves; in fact they are blessings from God. However they both are easily and often misused, bringing ill effects for both ourselves and others. Indeed, few things have the capacity of riches or sex for both good and harm. So it should be no surprise that they feature so prominently in the Bible's teaching on our relationships with others and moreover our relationship with God.

Riches are a barrier to a relationship with God

Matt 6:19-21, 24 *Do not lay up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust^a destroy and where thieves break in and steal, ²⁰but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust destroys and where thieves do not break in and steal. ²¹For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also. ^b Greek mammon, a Semitic word for money or possessions

Matt 13:22 As for what was sown among thorns, this is the one who hears the word, but the cares of the world and the deceitfulness of riches choke the word, and it proves unfruitful. [E]

Similarly, Luke 8:14 says of such people in their response to God's word: "... they are choked by the cares and riches and pleasures of life ..."

Mark 10:21-25 And Jesus, looking at him, loved him, and said to him, "You lack one thing: go, sell all that you have and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me." ²²Disheartened by the saying, he went away sorrowful, for he had great possessions. ²³And Jesus looked around and said to his disciples, "How difficult it will be for those who have wealth to enter the kingdom of God!" ²⁴And the disciples were amazed at his words. But Jesus said to them again, "Children, how difficult it is^c to enter the kingdom of God! ²⁵It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich person to enter the kingdom of God." [E]

^c Some manuscripts add for those who trust in riches

Note the reference to the rich in particular in the text note on v. 24 (cf. AMP).

Col 3:5 Put to death therefore what is earthly in you:^d sexual immorality, impurity, passion, evil desire, and covetousness, which is idolatry. [E]

^d Greek therefore your members that are on the earth

Here "covetousness" is identified with "idolatry" because it involves devotion to earthly things rather than to God – illustrating that desire for riches or possessions is a barrier to a relationship with God.

Rev 3:17-18 For you say, I am rich, I have prospered, and I need nothing, not realizing that you are wretched, pitiable, poor, blind, and naked. ¹⁸I counsel you to buy from me gold refined by fire, so that you may be rich, and white garments so that you may clothe yourself and the shame of your nakedness may not be seen, and salve to anoint your eyes, so that you may see. [E]

The Laodiceans' material success – demonstrated notably by their gold, textile trade and a noted eye salve or ointment – had resulted in a self-reliance and limp spirituality. In v. 18 Jesus Christ figuratively exhorts them to instead obtain from him spiritual riches, provisions and insight.

Job 22:23-26 If you return to the Almighty you will be built up; if you remove injustice far from your tents, ²⁴if you lay gold in the dust, and gold of Ophir among the stones of the torrent-bed, ²⁵then the Almighty will be your gold and your precious silver. ²⁶*For then you will delight yourself in the Almighty and lift up your face to God.*

This has parallels with the well-known words of Jesus above in Matthew 6:21, 24 and Mark 10:21. One's delight should be in God; he should be our most treasured possession (vv. 25-26). Riches have an innate tendency to captivate us and become our delight and priority, rather than God. As such we should take measures to counteract this, even getting rid of our riches (v. 24). Note that despite the wisdom of Eliphaz's word, they were inappropriately spoken to godly Job.

Isa 2:6-7 For you have rejected your people, the house of Jacob, because they are full of things from the east and of fortune-tellers like the Philistines, and they strike hands with the children of foreigners. ⁷*Their land is filled with silver and gold, and there is no end to their treasures; their land is filled with horses, and there is no end to their chariots.*

The inclusion of the people's massive stock of silver and gold amidst a listing of their sins (cf. vv. 6-8) implies that this had contributed to their poor spiritual condition.

Hos 12:7-8 A merchant, in whose hands are false balances, he loves to oppress. ⁸Ephraim has said, "Ah, but I am rich; I have found wealth for myself; in all my labors they cannot find in me iniquity or sin."

Verse 8 indicates either that the wealth of the people of Ephraim had deceived them into thinking that they were without sin in their labors – which was certainly not the case (v. 7) – or they thought that with their wealth they would be able to cover up their sin. Both possibilities illustrate that riches can be a barrier to godliness and thus to a relationship with God.

Riches draw one away from God . . .

Deut 8:11-14 Take care lest you forget the LORD your God by not keeping his commandments and his rules and his statutes, which I command you today, ¹²*lest, when you have eaten and are full and have built good houses and live in them, ¹³and when your herds and flocks multiply and your silver and gold is multiplied and all that you have is multiplied, ¹⁴then your heart be lifted up, and you forget the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery, ...*

Deut 32:15 But Jeshurun grew fat, and kicked; you grew fat, stout, and sleek; then he forsook God who made him and scoffed at the Rock of his salvation.

The first half of the verse portrays Israel as growing affluent.

Prov 30:8-9 Remove far from me falsehood and lying; give me neither poverty nor riches; feed me with the food that is needful for me, ⁹lest I be full and deny you and say, "Who is the LORD?" or lest I be poor and steal and profane the name of my God.

As reflected in Deuteronomy 8:11-14 above (cf. Rev 3:17 ), riches can lead to self-reliance – instead of trusting in God – which in turn can lead to forgetting God (v. 9).

1Tim 6:9-10 But those who desire to be rich fall into temptation, into a snare, into many senseless and harmful desires that plunge people into ruin and destruction. ¹⁰*For the love of money is a root of all kinds of evils. It is through this craving that some have wandered away from the faith and pierced themselves with many pangs.*

Ezek 7:19 They cast their silver into the streets, and their gold is like an unclean thing. Their silver and gold are not able to deliver them in the day of the wrath of the LORD. They cannot satisfy their hunger or fill their stomachs with it. For it was the stumbling block of their iniquity.

. . . Contrastingly, the poor are given prominence as recipients of the gospel and God's kingdom

Luke 4:18 The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he has anointed me to proclaim good news to the poor. He has sent me to proclaim liberty to the captives and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty those who are oppressed, ...

Luke 7:22 And he answered them, "Go and tell John what you have seen and heard: the blind receive their sight, the lame walk, lepers^e are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, the poor have good news preached to them."

^e Leprosy was a term for several skin diseases; see Leviticus 13

Luke 6:20-21 And he lifted up his eyes on his disciples, and said: "Blessed are you who are poor, for yours is the kingdom of God." ²¹*"Blessed are you who are hungry now, for you shall be satisfied. "Blessed are you who weep now, for you shall laugh.*"

Note that some commentators do not think that "poor" is here referring exclusively to those who are materially poor, claiming that it also has a spiritual application (cf. Matt 5:3). Such commentators may have a similar view of the above references from Luke.

James 2:5 Listen, my beloved brothers, has not God chosen those who are poor in the world to be rich in faith and heirs of the kingdom, which he has promised to those who love him?

It would appear that James is making a generalization, as obviously not all who are poor are rich in faith, and presumably some who are not poor will have a part in the kingdom.

James 1:9-11 Let the lowly brother boast in his exaltation, and the rich in his humiliation, because like a flower of the grass^f he will pass away. For the sun rises with its scorching heat and withers the grass; its flower falls, and its beauty perishes. So also will the rich man fade away in the midst of his pursuits.

^f Or a wild flower

The term “exaltation” (v. 9) appears to refer to an exalted position in God’s kingdom, although many commentators think it refers to the exalted position of simply being in the kingdom. In contrast the rich brother is in a low position – “his humiliation” (v. 10) – because he and what he has will pass away. James’s application of “boast” (v. 9) to the rich possibly has in view that the rich should “boast” or take pride as being in a low or humble position itself is a good thing. Alternatively, James may be applying “boast” to the rich in an ironic sense, as one who is rich is in fact in a low position in or in relation to the kingdom, destined to fade away.

Luke 1:53 ... he has filled the hungry with good things, and the rich he has sent away empty.

Mary may be referring to God’s past deeds. But given the context, with the impending advent of the Messiah, this could refer to or encompass the poor being filled with the spiritual blessings that God’s kingdom offers – in contrast to the rich being sent away from the kingdom, devoid of its blessings.

‡ God chooses the lowly:

1Cor 1:26-29 For consider your calling, brothers: not many of you were wise according to worldly standards,^g not many were powerful, not many were of noble birth. But God chose what is foolish in the world to shame the wise; God chose what is weak in the world to shame the strong; God chose what is low and despised in the world, even things that are not, to bring to nothing things that are,^h so that no human being^h might boast in the presence of God.

^g Greek according to the flesh

^h Greek no flesh

In v. 28 Paul expands on the previous verse, saying that God has chosen the lowly, the despised and those seen as nothing, to reduce to nothing the things that are important in the eyes of the world. God does this so that no one can be in a position to boast before him (v. 29), with one’s standing before God having nothing to do with what one was previously.

Desire for riches can lead to mistreatment of others

▪ 1Tim 6:10 ↓

In addition to harming our relationship with God, a desire for riches can also lead us to mistreat other people.

Prov 18:23 The poor use entreaties, but the rich answer roughly.

Despite the poor’s pleas for mercy, the rich are often unmerciful in their pursuit of increased wealth.

James 2:6-7 But you have dishonored the poor man. Are not the rich the ones who oppress you, and the ones who drag you into court? Are they not the ones who blaspheme the honorable name by which you were called?

Not all rich people do such things, but such things are normally done by rich people, or those desiring riches. Note that in v. 7 James may be speaking of these rich people slandering the name of Jesus indirectly through their mistreatment of his people (James’s readers), or in addition to this mistreatment.

2Pet 2:3 And in their greed they will exploit you with false words. Their condemnation from long ago is not idle, and their destruction is not asleep.

Isa 5:8 Woe to those who join house to house, who add field to field, until there is no more room, and you are made to dwell alone in the midst of the land.

This condemns those who acquire assets – in particular property – to the detriment of others.

Acts 16:16-23 As we were going to the place of prayer, we were met by a slave girl who had a spirit of divination and brought her owners much gain by fortune-telling. She followed Paul and us, crying out, “These men are servants of the Most High God, who proclaim to you the way of salvation.” And this she kept doing for many days. Paul, having become greatly annoyed, turned and said to the spirit, “I command you in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her.” And it came out that very hour. But when her owners saw that their hope of gain was gone, they seized Paul and Silas and dragged them into the marketplace before the rulers. And when they had brought them to the magistrates, they said, “These men are Jews, and they are disturbing our city. ²¹They advocate customs that are not lawful for us as Romans to accept or practice.” ²²The crowd joined in attacking them, and the magistrates tore the garments off them and gave orders to beat them with rods. ²³And when they had inflicted many blows upon them, they threw them into prison, ordering the jailer to keep them safely.

ⁱ Greek bondservants

The desire for riches of the slave girl’s owners led them to exploit her (v. 16). Additionally, when they lost this source of riches, their desire for riches led them to vindictively take vengeance on Paul and Silas (vv. 19-23).

Acts 19:24-29 For a man named Demetrius, a silversmith, who made silver shrines of Artemis, brought no little business to the craftsmen. ²⁵These he gathered together, with the workmen in similar trades, and said, “Men, you know that from this business we have our wealth. ²⁶And you see and hear that not only in Ephesus but in almost all of Asia this Paul has persuaded and turned away a great many people, saying that gods made with hands are not gods. ²⁷And there is danger not only that this trade of ours may come into disrepute but also that the temple of the great goddess Artemis may be counted as nothing, and that she may even be deposed from her magnificence, she whom all Asia and the world worship.” ²⁸When they heard this they were enraged and were crying out, “Great is Artemis of the Ephesians!” ²⁹So the city was filled with the confusion, and they rushed together into the theater, dragging with them Gaius and Aristarchus, Macedonians who were Paul’s companions in travel.

So, do not love money . . .

Heb 13:5a Keep your life free from love of money ...

Ps 62:10 Put no trust in extortion; set no vain hopes on robbery; if riches increase, set not your heart on them.

1Tim 3:2-3 Therefore an overseer^j must be above reproach, the husband of one wife,^k sober-minded, self-controlled, respectable, hospitable, able to teach, ³not a drunkard, not violent but gentle, not quarrelsome, not a lover of money.

^j Or bishop; Greek episkopos; a similar term occurs in verse 1

^k Or a man of one woman; also verse 12

1Tim 6:9-10 But those who desire to be rich fall into temptation, into a snare, into many senseless and harmful desires that plunge people into ruin and destruction. ¹⁰For the love of money is a root of all kinds of evils. It is through this craving that some have wandered away from the faith and pierced themselves with many pangs.

Ecc 5:10 He who loves money will not be satisfied with money, nor he who loves wealth with his income; this also is vanity.

The final clause refers to the uselessness or emptiness of loving money, a desire that can never be satisfied.

Luke 16:14-15 The Pharisees, who were lovers of money, heard all these things, and they ridiculed him. ¹⁵And he said to them, “You are those who justify yourselves before men, but God knows your hearts. For what is exalted among men is an abomination in the sight of God.

The final statement may refer to or be inclusive of money and the love of it (v. 14a), although Jesus may primarily be speaking of the Pharisees’ pretentious public image (v. 15a).

Prov 23:4 Do not toil to acquire wealth; be discerning enough to desist.

This is a warning against wearing ourselves out trying to get rich (cf. AMP, GNT, NASB, NCV, NIV, NLT, NRSV). Such “toil” is indicative of a love of money, and is unwise.

Prov 28:20, 22 A faithful man will abound with blessings, but whoever hastens to be rich will not go unpunished.  ... ²²*A stingy man¹ hastens after wealth and does not know that poverty will come upon him.*

The punishment in view in v. 20 may well be punishment for dishonesty, a constant temptation for “whoever hastens to be rich”.

. . . Be content with what you have

Heb 13:5 Keep your life free from love of money, and be content with what you have, for he has said, “I will never leave you nor forsake you.”

1Tim 6:6-8 Now there is great gain in godliness with contentment, ⁷for we brought nothing into the world, and^m we cannot take anything out of the world. ⁸But if we have food and clothing, with these we will be content.

^mGreek for; some manuscripts insert [it is] certain [that]

Luke 3:14 Soldiers also asked him, “And we, what shall we do?” And he said to them, “Do not extort money from anyone by threats or by false accusation, and be content with your wages.”

Phil 4:11-13 Not that I am speaking of being in need, for I have learned in whatever situation I am to be content. ¹²I know how to be brought low, and I know how to abound. In any and every circumstance, I have learned the secret of facing plenty and hunger, abundance and need. ¹³*I can do all things through him who strengthens me.*

A number of commentators point out that the word translated as “content” can be understood as meaning “self-sufficient”. Paul had learned how to be self-sufficient and content in every circumstance, not being reliant on things of this world, through the strength that Jesus Christ gives (v. 13).

Eccl 4:6-8 Better is a handful of quietness than two hands full of toil and a striving after wind. ⁷Again, I saw vanity under the sun: ⁸one person who has no other, either son or brother, yet there is no end to all his toil, and his eyes are never satisfied with riches, so that he never asks, “For whom am I toiling and depriving myself of pleasure?” This also is vanity and an unhappy business.

Verse 6 is saying that it is better to have a small amount with “peace and quiet” (NirV®) – associated with being “content” (NCV™) – than having more from toil and futilely chasing an ever-increasing amount, as v. 8 elaborates. For those who endlessly toil after riches are “never satisfied” (v. 8) with what they gain (cf. Eccl 5:10 ↑).

Eccl 6:9 Better is the sight of the eyes than the wandering of the appetite: this also is vanity and a striving after wind.

It is better to be content with and enjoy what you have – that which your eyes can see – rather than to crave what you do not have.

Prov 19:23 The fear of the LORD leads to life, and whoever has it rests satisfied; he will not be visited by harm.

This indicates that fearing God is a key to being content.

✦ The psalmist’s contentment with God:

Ps 73:25-26 Whom have I in heaven but you? And there is nothing on earth that I desire besides you. ²⁶*My flesh and my heart may fail, but God is the strengthⁿ of my heart and my portion forever.*

ⁿ Hebrew rock

The rhetorical question (v. 25a) implies that not only did the psalmist not have anyone nor anything else in heaven, he also did not long for such. In saying that God was his “portion forever” (v. 26) the psalmist appears to be implying that God was all he ever needed (cf. GNT) or wanted.

Note: Wealth ultimately comes from God

- Prosperity [blessings of wisdom], p. 1685

Bear in mind that the knowledge that wealth ultimately comes from God is no reason to keep it for oneself. Rather, one must use wealth wisely, remembering that: riches give one great potential for good (cf. 1Tim 6:18 ↓) – for God’s kingdom and helping others; and there are grave potential pitfalls associated with accumulating riches (as the other subsections in this and the following section indicate). Also note that the knowledge that wealth ultimately comes from God rather than our own efforts, should encourage us to not be focused on chasing wealth.

Deut 8:17-18 Beware lest you say in your heart, ‘My power and the might of my hand have gotten me this wealth.’ ¹⁸*You shall remember the LORD your God, for it is he who gives you power to get wealth, that he may confirm his covenant that he swore to your fathers, as it is this day.*

Note that the promise of material wealth for those who obeyed God and kept his covenant was a promise of the first covenant (v. 18b). Under the new covenant, spiritual and eternal blessings are stated as the rewards for God’s people.

1Sam 2:7 The LORD makes poor and makes rich; he brings low and he exalts.

1Chr 29:12 Both riches and honor come from you, and you rule over all. In your hand are power and might, and in your hand it is to make great and to give strength to all.

Prov 10:22 The blessing of the LORD makes rich, and he adds no sorrow with it.^o

^o Or and toil adds nothing to it

Wealth without trouble is a gift from God – as is wealth and the enjoyment of it (cf. Eccl 5:19 ↓).

Eccl 5:19 Everyone also to whom God has given wealth and possessions and power to enjoy them, and to accept his lot and rejoice in his toil—this is the gift of God.

Gen 26:12-13 And Isaac sowed in that land and reaped in the same year a hundredfold. The LORD blessed him,¹³ and the man became rich, and gained more and more until he became very wealthy.

This and the following verses do not actually say or necessarily imply that wealth in general ultimately comes from God. But as examples of God giving wealth, they illustrate and even allude to this.

2Chr 32:29 He [Hezekiah] likewise provided cities for himself, and flocks and herds in abundance, for God had given him very great possessions.

Job 1:10b You have blessed the work of his hands, and his possessions have increased in the land.

Hos 2:8 And she did not know that it was I who gave her the grain, the wine, and the oil, and who lavished on her silver and gold, which they used for Baal.

✦ God provides us with everything – including riches, which should be used for the good of others:

1Tim 6:17-19 As for the rich in this present age, charge them not to be haughty, nor to set their hopes on the uncertainty of riches, but on God, who richly provides us with everything to enjoy.¹⁸ They are to do good, to be rich in good works, to be generous and ready to share,¹⁹ thus storing up treasure for themselves as a good foundation for the future, so that they may take hold of that which is truly life.

The teaching in v. 18 that the rich should use their riches for the good of others, may have in view the fact that they only have such riches because of God's provision (v. 17b).

Prov 23:4-5 Do not toil to acquire wealth; be discerning enough to desist.⁵ When your eyes light on it, it is gone, for suddenly it sprouts wings, flying like an eagle toward heaven.

Prov 27:24 ... for riches do not last forever; and does a crown endure to all generations?

The reference to the insecurity of “a crown” parallels and accentuates the aforementioned insecurity of riches.

Matt 6:19 Do not lay up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust^p destroy and where thieves break in and steal, ...

^p Or worm; also verse 20

1Tim 6:17 As for the rich in this present age, charge them not to be haughty, nor to set their hopes on the uncertainty of riches, but on God, who richly provides us with everything to enjoy.

James 5:2-3a Your riches have rotted and your garments are moth-eaten.³ Your gold and silver have corroded ...

Eccl 5:13-14 There is a grievous evil that I have seen under the sun: riches were kept by their owner to his hurt,¹⁴ and those riches were lost in a bad venture. And he is father of a son, but he has nothing in his hand.

... and we do not know what the future holds

We do not know what the future holds, for ourselves or our riches.

Prov 27:1 Do not boast about tomorrow, for you do not know what a day may bring.

James 4:13-14 Come now, you who say, "Today or tomorrow we will go into such and such a town and spend a year there and trade and make a profit"—¹⁴yet you do not know what tomorrow will bring. What is your life? For you are a mist that appears for a little time and then vanishes.

Ecc 7:14 In the day of prosperity be joyful, and in the day of adversity consider: God has made the one as well as the other, so that man may not find out anything that will be after him.

The thought appears to be that as our circumstances are of God, we cannot know what the future holds.

Ecc 8:7 For he [man] does not know what is to be, for who can tell him how it will be?

Ecclesiastes 10:14b is very similar: "... no man knows what is to be, and who can tell him what will be after him?"

Ecc 9:1, 11-12 But all this I laid to heart, examining it all, how the righteous and the wise and their deeds are in the hand of God. Whether it is love or hate, man does not know; both are before him.  ... ¹¹Again I saw that under the sun the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, nor bread to the wise, nor riches to the intelligent, nor favor to those with knowledge, but time and chance happen to them all. ¹²*For man does not know his time. Like fish that are taken in an evil net, and like birds that are caught in a snare, so the children of man are snared at an evil time, when it suddenly falls upon them.*

The last statement of v. 1 appears to mean that no one knows whether they will experience "love or hate"; both are possible. This "love or hate" is presumably from other people, but some interpret it as referring to God's "favor" (cf. NlrV, NLT) or lack thereof. The phrase "his time" (v. 12a) refers to a time of disaster, not necessarily death.

Ecc 11:2, 6 Give a portion to seven, or even to eight, for you know not what disaster may happen on earth.  ... ⁶In the morning sow your seed, and at evening withhold not your hand, for you do not know which will prosper, this or that, or whether both alike will be good.

Verse 6 and the following two verses are not so readily applicable to the insecurity and questionable worth of riches in view of the uncertainty of the future. But they do further illustrate that one does not know what the future holds.

Acts 20:22 And now, behold, I am going to Jerusalem, constrained by^a the Spirit, not knowing what will happen to me there, ...

^a Or bound in

Gen 27:2 He said, "Behold, I am old; I do not know the day of my death."

Ecc 10:8-9 He who digs a pit will fall into it, and a serpent will bite him who breaks through a wall. ⁹*He who quarries stones is hurt by them, and he who splits logs is endangered by them.*

The meaning of these verses is debatable. One possibility – the reason for their inclusion here – is that they are referring to "the risks of life" (NLT), illustrating that rather than advancing one's circumstances, one's endeavors may in fact lead to harm. Other possibilities are that: they warn of the wisdom needed to avoid calamity; and, particularly v. 8, they speak of malicious activities bringing harm to the perpetrators (cf. AMP).

The second clause in v. 35 implies that it is a rich wicked man in view.

Ps 39:5-6 Behold, you have made my days a few handbreadths, and my lifetime is as nothing before you. Surely all mankind stands as a mere breath! Selah ⁶*Surely a man goes about as a shadow! Surely for nothing^t they are in turmoil; man heaps up wealth and does not know who will gather!*

^t Hebrew Surely as a breath

The “shadow” metaphor (v. 6a) appears to allude to one or more of the following aspects of human existence: brevity (v. 5); instability; and futility. Verse 6b teaches that working hard to heap up wealth is a vain exercise, as one’s wealth must be left behind to someone else when one dies.

Ps 49:10-14, 16-17 For he sees that even the wise die; the fool and the stupid alike must perish and leave their wealth to others. ¹¹*Their graves are their homes forever;^u their dwelling places to all generations, though they called lands by their own names.* ¹²*Man in his pomp will not remain; he is like the beasts that perish.* ¹³*This is the path of those who have foolish confidence; yet after them people approve of their boasts.^v* Selah ¹⁴*Like sheep they are appointed for Sheol; death shall be their shepherd, and the upright shall rule over them in the morning. ^u Septuagint, Syriac, Targum; Hebrew Their inward thought was that their homes were forever

^v Or and of those after them who approve of their boasts

The clause “they called lands by their own names” (v. 11b) refers to land that they had owned (“lands of their own” – GNT, cf. CEV, NLT) – i.e. part of their wealth. The context suggests that the rich are primarily in view in vv. 13-14 as well as in the other verses here.

Ecdl 2:18-21 I hated all my toil in which I toil under the sun, seeing that I must leave it to the man who will come after me, ¹⁹*and who knows whether he will be wise or a fool? Yet he will be master of all for which I toiled and used my wisdom under the sun. This also is vanity.* ²⁰*So I turned about and gave my heart up to despair over all the toil of my labors under the sun,* ²¹*because sometimes a person who has toiled with wisdom and knowledge and skill must leave everything to be enjoyed by someone who did not toil for it. This also is vanity and a great evil.* ☞

A consequence of people not being able to take their riches with them when they die is that they must leave their riches for others who have not worked for them (v. 21) and who may even use them foolishly (v. 19). This situation renders the accumulation of riches an essentially meaningless exercise.

Ecdl 5:15 As he came from his mother’s womb he shall go again, naked as he came, and shall take nothing for his toil that he may carry away in his hand. ☞

Luke 12:16-21 And he told them a parable, saying, “The land of a rich man produced plentifully, ¹⁷and he thought to himself, ‘What shall I do, for I have nowhere to store my crops?’ ¹⁸And he said, ‘I will do this: I will tear down my barns and build larger ones, and there I will store all my grain and my goods. ¹⁹And I will say to my soul, Soul, you have ample goods laid up for many years; relax, eat, drink, be merry.’ ²⁰But God said to him, ‘Fool! This night your soul is required of you, and the things you have prepared, whose will they be?’ ²¹*So is the one who lays up treasure for himself and is not rich toward God.*” ☞

Verse 21 indicates that the plight of the rich fool (v. 20) is applicable to all who store up things for themselves and are “not rich toward God” (v. 20). Not being rich “toward God” probably refers to not having spiritual riches – “not rich in God’s sight” (GNT, cf. CEV). Unlike one who has been “rich toward God”, such people will have no equivalent replacement for their riches in the afterlife.

1Cor 7:29-31 This is what I mean, brothers: the appointed time has grown very short. From now on, let those who have wives live as though they had none, ³⁰and those who mourn as though they were not mourning, and those who rejoice as though they were not rejoicing, and those who buy as though they had no goods, ³¹and those who deal with the world as though they had no dealings with it. For the present form of this world is passing away. ☞

The instruction that “those who buy” goods should treat them “as though they had no goods” (v. 30b) has partly in view the transience of life and of life as we know it (vv. 29b, 31b) – coupled with the fact that we cannot keep material possessions beyond this life.

One must use worldly wealth for the benefit of others (v. 9), as opposed to hoarding it. Those who have not used worldly wealth – comparatively “very little” (v. 10) – as they ought to have, will not be given the “true riches” (v. 11) of God’s kingdom – i.e. “much” (v. 10) wealth. Note that in v. 10, “unrighteous” (NASB) and “unjust” (NKJV) are alternative translations to “dishonest”.

Luke 16:19-26 There was a rich man who was clothed in purple and fine linen and who feasted sumptuously every day. ²⁰And at his gate was laid a poor man named Lazarus, covered with sores, ²¹who desired to be fed with what fell from the rich man’s table. ^z Greek bosom; also verse 23

As alluded to in other references in this subsection, the rich who ignore the poor face eternal condemnation – characterized by torment (vv. 23-24).

James 5:1-5 Come now, you rich, weep and howl for the miseries that are coming upon you. ²Your riches have rotted and your garments are moth-eaten. ³Your gold and silver have corroded, and their corrosion will be evidence against you and will eat your flesh like fire. You have laid up treasure in the last days. ⁴Behold, the wages of the laborers who mowed your fields, which you kept back by fraud, are crying out against you, and the cries of the harvesters have reached the ears of the Lord of hosts. ⁵*You have lived on the earth in luxury and in self-indulgence. You have fattened your hearts in a day of slaughter.* ☞

Note that v. 4 implies that this passage was primarily aimed at people who were wicked as well as rich (cf. v. 6). In v. 5, “a day of slaughter” denotes a day of God’s judgment – not necessarily the final judgment day, but applicable to it.

‡ People who covet have no inheritance in God’s kingdom, and instead face God’s wrath:

Eph 5:5-6 For you may be sure of this, that everyone who is sexually immoral or impure, or who is covetous (that is, an idolater), has no inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God. ⁶Let no one deceive you with empty words, for because of these things the wrath of God comes upon the sons of disobedience. ☞

The phrase “these things” (v. 6) refers to the sins mentioned in v. 5 including covetousness, which is essentially being “greedy” (CEV, GNT, NASB, NCV, NRSV). The “wrath of God” (v. 6) may not primarily be referring to the eschatological wrath of God, but it is most probably at least inclusive of it.

Other shortcomings of riches

Prov 11:4 Riches do not profit in the day of wrath, but righteousness delivers from death. ☞

The “day of wrath” possibly refers to death (cf. GNT, NCV), but may more specifically refer to a time of divine retribution (cf. Zeph 1:18 ↓).

Prov 13:8 The ransom of a man’s life is his wealth, but a poor man hears no threat. ☞

Prov 15:16-17 Better is a little with the fear of the LORD than great treasure and trouble with it. ¹⁷*Better is a dinner of herbs where love is than a fattened ox and hatred with it.* ☞

Spiritual things are better than wealth, particularly where the latter is accompanied by trouble. Possibly these verses also imply that wealth tends to create such troubles.

Prov 18:11 A rich man's wealth is his strong city, and like a high wall in his imagination.

This hints at the shortcomings of riches for providing security. Rich people tend to trust in riches for security, seeing them as a wall that cannot be overcome. However this is a mistaken notion, merely what they imagine.

Prov 27:7 One who is full loathes honey, but to one who is hungry everything bitter is sweet.

Particularly in light of the latter part of the verse, the first part may well be implying that those who have plenty do not appreciate things.

Prov 28:6 Better is a poor man who walks in his integrity than a rich man who is crooked in his ways.

It is no good being rich if one's ways are crooked.

Prov 28:11 A rich man is wise in his own eyes, but a poor man who has understanding will find him out.

This implies that having riches tends to lead a rich man to think that he is wise, but a discerning poor man can see him for what he really is.

Ecdl 7:12 For the protection of wisdom is like the protection of money, and the advantage of knowledge is that wisdom preserves the life of him who has it.

This indicates that while wisdom and money both provide significant protection, money is less able to preserve one's life.

Ecdl 5:11-13 *When goods increase, they increase who eat them, and what advantage has their owner but to see them with his eyes? ¹²Sweet is the sleep of a laborer, whether he eats little or much, but the full stomach of the rich will not let him sleep. ¹³There is a grievous evil that I have seen under the sun: riches were kept by their owner to his hurt, ... *

Verse 12b appears to figuratively refer to the excessive wealth of the rich causing them worry. Verse 13 complements the thought, pointing out the irony that wealth sometimes brings harm to its owner.

Zeph 1:18 Neither their silver nor their gold shall be able to deliver them on the day of the wrath of the LORD. In the fire of his jealousy, all the earth shall be consumed; for a full and sudden end he will make of all the inhabitants of the earth.

✦ God will punish the rich who acquire assets to the detriment of others:

Isa 5:8-10, 17 Woe to those who join house to house, who add field to field, until there is no more room, and you are made to dwell alone in the midst of the land. ⁹The LORD of hosts has sworn in my hearing: "Surely many houses shall be desolate, large and beautiful houses, without inhabitant. ¹⁰For ten acres^a of vineyard shall yield but one bath, and a homer of seed shall yield but an ephah."^b  ... ¹⁷Then shall the lambs graze as in their pasture, and nomads shall eat among the ruins of the rich.

^a Hebrew ten yoke, the area ten yoke of oxen can plow in a day

^b A bath was about 6 gallons or 22 liters; a homer was about 6 bushels or 220 liters; an ephah was about 3/5 bushel or 22 liters

Note: Advantages of riches, as opposed to poverty

Prov 10:15 A rich man's wealth is his strong city; the poverty of the poor is their ruin.

Prov 14:20 The poor is disliked even by his neighbor, but the rich has many friends.

Prov 19:4, 7 Wealth brings many new friends, but a poor man is deserted by his friend.  ... ⁷All a poor man's brothers hate him; how much more do his friends go far from him! He pursues them with words, but does not have them.^c

^c The meaning of the Hebrew sentence is uncertain

Prov 22:7 The rich rules over the poor, and the borrower is the slave of the lender.

Ecdl 10:19 Bread is made for laughter, and wine gladdens life, and money answers everything.

There are many interpretations of the final clause. Quite possibly the verse is saying that just as a feast (cf. AMP, GNT, NCV, NIV, NKJV, NLT, NRSV) provides laughter and wine provides merriment, so money provides everything (cf. NLT) – or so people think (cf. NIV).

✦ The equality of rich and poor before God:

Prov 22:2 The rich and the poor meet together; the LORD is the maker of them all.

Here the phrase "meet together" is akin to "have this in common" (GNT, NIV, NKJV, NLT, NRSV).

Avoid sexual sin . . .

Acts 15:28-29 For it has seemed good to the Holy Spirit and to us to lay on you no greater burden than these requirements: ²⁹*that you abstain* from what has been sacrificed to idols, and from blood, and from what has been strangled, and from sexual immorality. If you keep yourselves from these, you will do well. Farewell.

Rom 13:13 Let us walk properly as in the daytime, not in orgies and drunkenness, not in sexual immorality and sensuality, not in quarreling and jealousy.

1Cor 6:18a Flee from sexual immorality.

Eph 5:3 But sexual immorality and all impurity or covetousness must not even be named among you, as is proper among saints.

Col 3:5 *Put to death therefore what is earthly in you:*⁴ sexual immorality, impurity, passion, evil desire, and covetousness, which is idolatry.

⁴ Greek therefore your members that are on the earth

The terms "impurity" (cf. Eph 5:3 ↑) and "passion" appear to be primarily referring to such things associated with sexual immorality, with the Greek for "passion" also translated as "lust" (GNT, NIV, NLT).

1Thes 4:3-6 For this is the will of God, your sanctification:^e *that you abstain from sexual immorality;*⁴ that each one of you know how to control his own body^f *in holiness and honor,*⁵ *not in the passion of lust like the Gentiles who do not know God;*⁶ that no one transgress and wrong his brother in this matter, because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as we told you beforehand and solemnly warned you.

^e Or your holiness

^f Or how to take a wife for himself; Greek how to possess his own vessel

Note that the first clause of v. 6 appears to be speaking against sexual sin with a brother's wife (cf. NLT).

Heb 12:16 ... [See to it] that no one is sexually immoral or unholy like Esau, who sold his birthright for a single meal.

John 8:3, 11 The scribes and the Pharisees brought a woman who had been caught in adultery, and placing her in the midst ... ¹¹She said, "No one, Lord." And Jesus said, "Neither do I condemn you; go, and from now on sin no more."

. . . Be pure

See also:

- Eph 5:3 ↑; Col 3:5 ↑
- Be pure . . ., p. 1869

Most of the following verses are not necessarily speaking of being pure in contrast in particular to being sexually immoral, but this is quite possibly at least partially in view in all of them.

2Cor 7:1 Since we have these promises, beloved, *let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of body*⁸ and spirit, bringing holiness to completion in the fear of God.

⁸ Greek flesh

1Tim 5:1-2, 22 Do not rebuke an older man but encourage him as you would a father, younger men as brothers, ²older women as mothers, younger women as sisters, in all purity. ... ²²Do not be hasty in the laying on of hands, nor take part in the sins of others; keep yourself pure.

Titus 2:5 ... to be self-controlled, pure, working at home, kind, and submissive to their own husbands, that the word of God may not be reviled.

Heb 13:4 Let marriage be held in honor among all, and let the marriage bed be undefiled, for God will judge the sexually immoral and adulterous.

2Tim 2:22 So flee youthful passions and pursue righteousness, faith, love, and peace, along with those who call on the Lord from a pure heart.

The “youthful lusts” (AMP, NASB, NKJV; cf. NLT) Paul refers to presumably include sexually immoral ones.

1Pet 1:22 Having purified your souls by your obedience to the truth for a sincere brotherly love, love one another earnestly from a pure heart, ...

Ps 119:9 How can a young man keep his way pure? By guarding it according to your word.

✦ Rather than being impure, God calls us to be holy:

1Thes 4:7-8 For God has not called us for impurity, but in holiness. ⁸Therefore whoever disregards this, disregards not man but God, who gives his Holy Spirit to you.

In v. 8, “disregards this” refers to the preceding commands to avoid sexual immorality (cf. vv. 3-6 ).

^h Or wrongdoers

ⁱ The two Greek terms translated by this phrase refer to the passive and active partners in consensual homosexual acts

Note that this verse and the following two references (Eph 5:5; Rev 2:14-15), also pertain to the following subsection, as missing out on involvement in God’s kingdom is also part of God’s judgment.

Eph 5:5 For you may be sure of this, that everyone who is sexually immoral or impure, or who is covetous (that is, an idolater), has no inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God.

Rev 22:14-15 Blessed are those who wash their robes,^j so that they may have the right to the tree of life and that they may enter the city by the gates. ¹⁵Outside are the dogs and sorcerers and the sexually immoral and murderers and idolaters, and everyone who loves and practices falsehood.

^j Some manuscripts do his commandments

The sexually immoral, along with other ungodly people, will miss out on participating in the new Jerusalem of the afterlife.

1Cor 6:12 “All things are lawful for me,” but not all things are helpful. “All things are lawful for me,” but I will not be enslaved by anything.

Paul seems to be quoting some of the Corinthians who apparently – in order to justify their sexual sin – claimed that everything is permissible for Christians to do, presumably in reference to not being under the OT law. Paul argues that while in one sense this might be true, obviously it is not a good idea to do things that are harmful. For like all sin, sexual sin is not beneficial and it can master or have control over a person (cf. 2Pet 2:18-19 ; Eph 4:19).

1Cor 6:18 Flee from sexual immorality. Every other sin^k a person commits is outside the body, but the sexually immoral person sins against his own body.

^k Or Every sin

In contrast to other sins, sexual sin involves the misuse and mistreatment of one’s own body. Moreover, Paul seems to imply that sexual sin adversely affects the body or one’s being in a deeper way than any other sin (cf. CEV, GNT, NLT).

Rom 1:24, 27 Therefore God gave them up in the lusts of their hearts to impurity, to the dishonoring of their bodies among themselves,  ... ²⁷and the men likewise gave up natural relations with women and were consumed with passion for one another, men committing shameless acts with men and receiving in themselves the due penalty for their error.

Verse 24 shows that sexual sin is dishonoring. As such it is “shameful” (CEV, GNT, NLT) and so brings shame. The concept of such sin having intrinsic ill consequences is apparent in v. 27b, which appears to refer to some kind of spiritual and/or emotional harm.

2Pet 2:18-19 For, speaking loud boasts of folly, they entice by sensual passions of the flesh those who are barely escaping from those who live in error. ¹⁹They promise them freedom, but they themselves are slaves^l of corruption. For whatever overcomes a person, to that he is enslaved.

^l Greek bondservants

The false teachers promised that their immoral way would bring freedom, but ironically they themselves had become subject to and controlled by such depravity (v. 19; cf. 1Cor 6:12 ↑). In light of v. 18, it appears that sexual immorality was one thing primarily involved in both their promise of freedom and in the depravity that had mastered them.

Prov 6:25-26 Do not desire her beauty in your heart, and do not let her capture you with her eyelashes; ²⁶for the price of a prostitute is only a loaf of bread,^m but a married womanⁿ hunts down a precious life.

^mOr (compare Septuagint, Syriac, Vulgate) for a prostitute leaves a man with nothing but a loaf of bread

ⁿHebrew a man's wife

Prov 31:1-3 The words of King Lemuel. An oracle that his mother taught him: ²What are you doing, my son?^o What are you doing, son of my womb? What are you doing, son of my vows? ³*Do not give your strength to women, your ways to those who destroy kings.*

^oHebrew What, my son?

Harems in particular may be in view in this warning given to a king. A life focused largely on sexual desire is a waste of one's energy and leads to ruin.

Rev 2:20-23 But I have this against you, that you tolerate that woman Jezebel, who calls herself a prophetess and is teaching and seducing my servants^u to practice sexual immorality and to eat food sacrificed to idols. ²¹*I gave her time to repent, but she refuses to repent of her sexual immorality.* ²²*Behold, I will throw her onto a sickbed, and those who commit adultery with her I will throw into great tribulation, unless they repent of her works,* ²³*and I will strike her children dead.* And all the churches will know that I am he who searches mind and heart, and I will give to each of you according to your works.

^uGreek bondservants

The term “her children” (v. 23) refers to those who followed this self-proclaimed prophetess Jezebel in practicing immorality – her “spiritual” children.

Further insights on sexual sin

1Cor 6:13b-17, 19-20 The body is not meant for sexual immorality, but for the Lord, and the Lord for the body. ¹⁴*And God raised the Lord and will also raise us up by his power.* ¹⁵*Do you not know that your bodies are members of Christ? Shall I then take the members of Christ and make them* members of a prostitute? Never! ¹⁶Or do you not know that he who is joined^v to a prostitute becomes one body with her? For, as it is written, “The two will become one flesh.” ¹⁷But he who is joined to the Lord becomes one spirit with him. ☞ ... ¹⁹Or do you not know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit within you, whom you have from God? You are not your own, ²⁰for you were bought with a price. So glorify God in your body. ☞

^v Or who holds fast (compare Genesis 2:24 and Deuteronomy 10:20); also verse 17

The last pair of phrases in v. 13 appears to imply that our bodies are to be used for the benefit of the Lord, just as the Lord acts for the benefit of our bodies (and selves). The subsequent verse (v. 14) reinforces Christ’s and God’s concern for the body, with the reference to God resurrecting us.

Eph 4:19 They have become callous and have given themselves up to sensuality, greedy to practice every kind of impurity. ☞

The phrase “have become callous” indicates that the consciences of these ungodly people had been so dulled that they no longer had any “feeling of shame” (GNT, NCV). This is generally characteristic of those who persistently indulge in sexual sin and long for more.

Gal 5:19 Now the works of the flesh are evident: sexual immorality, impurity, sensuality, ... ☞

Sexual sin is a prominent product of the sinful nature, “the flesh”.

Rev 2:14 But I have a few things against you: you have some there who hold the teaching of Balaam, who taught Balak to put a stumbling block before the sons of Israel, so that they might eat food sacrificed to idols and practice sexual immorality. ☞

Sexual immorality is indeed “a stumbling block” and so is something that Christ’s servants ought to be wary of being led into.

Note: The sexually immoral who believe and repent are forgiven and granted righteousness

Matt 21:28-32 “What do you think? A man had two sons. And he went to the first and said, ‘Son, go and work in the vineyard today.’ ²⁹And he answered, ‘I will not,’ but afterward he changed his mind and went. ³⁰And he went to the other son and said the same. And he answered, ‘I go, sir,’ but did not go. ³¹Which of the two did the will of his father?” They said, “The first.” Jesus said to them, “Truly, I say to you, the tax collectors and the prostitutes go into the kingdom of God before you. ³²For John came to you in the way of righteousness, and you did not believe him, but the tax collectors and the prostitutes believed him. And even when you saw it, you did not afterward change your minds and believe him. ☞

Verse 32 indicates that like the first son (v. 29) the prostitutes (and the tax collectors) changed their minds and did “believe”. In so doing they chose “the way of righteousness” (v. 32a) and were entering the kingdom of God (v. 31b).

Luke 7:37-50 And behold, a woman of the city, who was a sinner, when she learned that he was reclining at table in the Pharisee’s house, brought an alabaster flask of ointment, ³⁸and standing behind him at his feet, weeping, she began to wet his feet with her tears and wiped them with the hair of her head and kissed his feet and anointed them with the ointment. ³⁹Now when the Pharisee who had invited him saw this, he said to himself, “If this man were a prophet, he would have known who and what sort of woman this is who is touching him, for she is a sinner.” ⁴⁰And Jesus answering said to him, “Simon, I have something to say to you.” And he answered, “Say it, Teacher.” ⁴¹“A certain moneylender had two debtors. One owed five hundred denarii, and the other fifty. ⁴²When they could not pay, he cancelled the debt of both. Now which of them will love him more?” ⁴³Simon answered, “The one, I suppose, for whom he cancelled the larger debt.” And he said to him, “You have judged rightly.” ⁴⁴Then turning toward the woman he said to Simon, “Do you see this woman? I entered your house; you gave me no water for my feet, but she has wet my feet with her tears and wiped them with her hair. ⁴⁵You gave me no kiss, but from the time I came in she has not ceased to kiss my feet. ⁴⁶You did not anoint my head with oil, but she has anointed my feet with ointment. ⁴⁷Therefore I tell you, her sins, which are many, are forgiven—for she loved much. But he who is forgiven little, loves little.” ⁴⁸And he said to her, “Your sins are forgiven.” ⁴⁹Then those who were at table with him began to say among^w themselves, “Who is this, who even forgives sins?” ⁵⁰And he said to the woman, “Your faith has saved you; go in peace.” ☞

^w Or to

In being described as “a sinner” (vv. 37, 39), the woman was probably a prostitute. In v. 47a, Jesus is saying that her great love (vv. 37-38) showed that her many sins had been forgiven – rather than saying that it was the reason for why they were forgiven; for it was her faith that saved her (v. 50). One can infer that the love she showed Jesus was an expression of her faith – and presumably of her repentance as well – which led to her forgiveness and salvation.

John 8:3-11 The scribes and the Pharisees brought a woman who had been caught in adultery, and placing her in the midst ⁴*they said to him, "Teacher, this woman has been caught in the act of adultery.* ⁵*Now in the Law Moses commanded us to stone such women. So what do you say?"* ⁶*This they said to test him, that they might have some charge to bring against him. Jesus bent down and wrote with his finger on the ground.* ⁷*And as they continued to ask him, he stood up and said to them, "Let him who is without sin among you be the first to throw a stone at her."* ⁸*And once more he bent down and wrote on the ground.* ⁹*But when they heard it, they went away one by one, beginning with the older ones, and Jesus was left alone with the woman standing before him.* ¹⁰*Jesus stood up and said to her, "Woman, where are they? Has no one condemned you?"* ¹¹*She said, "No one, Lord." And Jesus said, "Neither do I condemn you; go, and from now on sin no more."*

Jesus' command to repent (v. 11b) implies that in not condemning the woman (v. 11a) – possibly implying that he forgave her – he required her to repent. Note that the Jewish authorities were hoping to be able to accuse Jesus of either: not upholding the OT law; or apparently – if he did endorse stoning – of being unmerciful and/or contravening the Romans who prohibited the Jews to impose such penalties. One can only guess what Jesus may have written on the ground (vv. 6, 8). In view of v. 7, possibly it was other commandments, to point out the hypocrisy of the woman's accusers in condemning her for one sin while being guilty themselves of breaking other ones – including ones punishable by death under the OT law.

1Cor 6:9-11 Or do you not know that the unrighteous^x will not inherit the kingdom of God? Do not be deceived: neither the sexually immoral, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor men who practice homosexuality,^y ¹⁰*nor thieves, nor the greedy, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor swindlers will inherit the kingdom of God.* ¹¹*And such were some of you. But you were washed, you were sanctified, you were justified in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ and by the Spirit of our God.*

^x Or wrongdoers

^y The two Greek terms translated by this phrase refer to the passive and active partners in consensual homosexual acts

Undoubtedly those spoken of had repented and come to faith – and thus received forgiveness and were justified (v. 11), and so made righteous.

Heb 11:31 By faith Rahab the prostitute did not perish with those who were disobedient, because she had given a friendly welcome to the spies.

James 2:25 And in the same way was not also Rahab the prostitute justified by works when she received the messengers and sent them out by another way?

By her action in the cause of God and his people (cf. Jos 2), the prostitute Rahab was justified. Above in Hebrews 11:31 her actions are deemed to be ones of faith, resulting in her escaping the judgment of those who "were disobedient". Thus her action can be understood as indicative of belief and repentance, for which she was seen as righteous and in effect forgiven.

Rev 2:20-22 But I have this against you, that you tolerate that woman Jezebel, who calls herself a prophetess and is teaching and seducing my servants^z to practice sexual immorality and to eat food sacrificed to idols. ²¹*I gave her time to repent, but she refuses to repent of her sexual immorality.* ²²*Behold, I will throw her onto a sickbed, and those who commit adultery with her I will throw into great tribulation, unless they repent of her works, ...*

^z Greek bondservants

The implication is that if the false prophetess Jezebel had repented (v. 21) she would have avoided the judgment (v. 22a) – indicative of being forgiven – as was the case for those who had followed her ways (v. 22b).

Lust

Job 31:1 I have made a covenant with my eyes; how then could I gaze at a virgin?

Job speaks of making a covenant with his eyes, effectively himself, not to look lustfully at young woman.

Matt 5:27-29 You have heard that it was said, ‘You shall not commit adultery.’ ²⁸But I say to you that everyone who looks at a woman with lustful intent has already committed adultery with her in his heart. ²⁹*If your right eye causes you to sin, tear it out and throw it away. For it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body be thrown into hell.*

Gazing longingly at a woman with sexual desire, is committing adultery in one’s heart and in a spiritual sense. The instruction in v. 29 is not meant to be taken literally. It is hyperbole, emphasizing that one should do whatever is needed to get rid of sin, here lust in particular.

Col 3:5 Put to death therefore what is earthly in you:^a sexual immorality, impurity, passion, evil desire, and covetousness, which is idolatry.

^a Greek therefore your members that are on the earth

Here and elsewhere in this subsection, “passion” refers to or at least encompasses “lust” (GNT, NIV, NLT).

1Thes 4:3-5 For this is the will of God, your sanctification:^b that you abstain from sexual immorality; ⁴*that each one of you know how to control his own body^c in holiness and honor,* ⁵*not in the passion of lust like the Gentiles who do not know God;* ...

^b Or your holiness

^c Or how to take a wife for himself; Greek how to possess his own vessel

1Pet 4:3 For the time that is past suffices for doing what the Gentiles want to do, living in sensuality, passions, drunkenness, orgies, drinking parties, and lawless idolatry.

2Pet 2:9-10a ... then the Lord knows how to rescue the godly from trials,^d and to keep the unrighteous under punishment until the day of judgment, ¹⁰*and especially those who indulge in the lust of defiling passion and despise authority.*

^d Or temptations

2Pet 2:18 For, speaking loud boasts of folly, they entice by sensual passions of the flesh those who are barely escaping from those who live in error.

This implies that lust is a product of sinful human nature.

1Jn 2:16 For all that is in the world—the desires of the flesh and the desires of the eyes and pride in possessions—is not from the Father but is from the world.

The phrase “the desires of the flesh” encompasses – if not primarily referring to – sexual desire or lust. The subsequent phrase, “the desires of the eyes”, likely denotes coveting of worldly things in general. Being of the world rather than from God, such things are to be avoided.

Prov 6:25 Do not desire her beauty in your heart, and do not let her capture you with her eyelashes; ...

✦ It is better to marry rather than to burn with lust:

1Cor 7:9 But if they cannot exercise self-control, they should marry. For it is better to marry than to burn with passion.

Obviously people should marry someone whom they are also compatible with, rather than simply someone for whom they “burn with passion”.

Fornication

See also:

- ... Warnings against being enticed by an adulteress – which leads to ruin, p. 1698

“Fornication” is used in this subheading as referring to sexual relations involving two unmarried people. Used in a more general sense it also encompasses adultery. (The latter is also a prohibited form of sex, as indicated in the above cross reference.)

Ex 22:16-17 “If a man seduces a virgin^e who is not betrothed and lies with her, he shall give the bride-price^f for her and make her his wife. ¹⁷*If her father utterly refuses to give her to him, he shall pay money equal to the bride-price for virgins.*

^e fx 22:16 Or engagement present; also verse 17

Two unmarried people having sexual relations required them to get married (cf. Deut 22:28-29) – unless the father refused. Even so the bride-price was a few years’ wages and so was a very substantial consequence. This indicates that God’s people are not free to have sexual relations outside of marriage.

Deut 22:20-21 But if the thing is true, that evidence of virginity was not found in the young woman,²¹ then they shall bring out the young woman to the door of her father's house, and the men of her city shall stone her to death with stones, because she has done an outrageous thing in Israel by whoring in her father's house. So you shall purge the evil from your midst.

Despite the use of "whoring", which may be hyperbole, most likely it is the act of sex before marriage which is in view (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV, NLT). Note that the death penalty for prohibited sexual acts is not advocated by the NT (cf. Note: The sexually immoral who believe and repent are forgiven and granted righteousness, p. 1921). However its inclusion in OT references such as this does serve to underline the seriousness of such sins.

Matt 15:19 For out of the heart come evil thoughts, murder, adultery, sexual immorality, theft, false witness, slander.

The Greek terms for "sexual immorality" and "the sexually immoral" in this and the following references are translated more specifically as "fornication" (or "fornications") and "fornicators" in the NASB and NRSV, suggesting that fornication is primarily in view. Moreover, the listing of "sexual immorality" in addition to "adultery" in this verse, strongly implies that sexual sin outside of marriage is in view here, i.e. fornication.

Acts 15:20 ... but should write to them to abstain from the things polluted by idols, and from sexual immorality, and from what has been strangled, and from blood.

1Cor 6:9 Or do you not know that the unrighteous^g will not inherit the kingdom of God? Do not be deceived: neither the sexually immoral, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor men who practice homosexuality,^h ...

^g Or wrongdoers

^h The two Greek terms translated by this phrase refer to the passive and active partners in consensual homosexual acts

Heb 13:4 Let marriage be held in honor among all, and let the marriage bed be undefiled, for God will judge the sexually immoral and adulterous.

The reference to "the sexually immoral" alongside of adulterers points to the fact that "fornicators" (NASB, NKJV, NRSV) are in view.

✦ Living together does not constitute a marriage:

John 4:17-18 The woman answered him, "I have no husband." Jesus said to her, "You are right in saying, 'I have no husband';¹⁸ for you have had five husbands, and the one you now have is not your husband. What you have said is true."

The "one you now have" implies that the woman was living with a man (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NLT).

Prostitution

Lev 19:29 Do not profane your daughter by making her a prostitute, lest the land fall into prostitution and the land become full of depravity.

Deut 23:17-18 None of the daughters of Israel shall be a cult prostitute, and none of the sons of Israel shall be a cult prostitute.¹⁸ You shall not bring the fee of a prostitute or the wages of a dogⁱ into the house of the LORD your God in payment for any vow, for both of these are an abomination to the LORD your God.

ⁱ Or male prostitute

Ezek 43:9 Now let them put away their whoring and the dead bodies of their kings far from me, and I will dwell in their midst forever.

The reference appears to be to spiritual "prostitution" or unfaithfulness to God. But the imagery still serves to indicate the wrongness of prostitution.

1Cor 6:15 Do you not know that your bodies are members of Christ? Shall I then take the members of Christ and make them members of a prostitute? Never!

Prov 6:25-26 Do not desire her beauty in your heart, and do not let her capture you with her eyelashes;²⁶ for the price of a prostitute is only a loaf of bread,^j but a married woman^k hunts down a precious life.

^j Or (compare Septuagint, Syriac, Vulgate) for a prostitute leaves a man with nothing but a loaf of bread

^k Hebrew a man's wife

If the rendering in the text note is to be preferred, v. 26a is saying that a prostitute can bring a man to poverty (cf. NIV, NLT; 29:3). As it is, it serves to highlight the gravity of the consequences of adultery.

Prov 23:26-28 My son, give me your heart, and let your eyes observe^l my ways. ²⁷For a prostitute is a deep pit; an adulteress^m is a narrow well. ²⁸She lies in wait like a robber and increases the traitors among mankind.

^l Or delight in

^m Hebrew a foreign woman

Verse 28 appears to apply to both the prostitute and the wayward wife (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV).

Prov 29:3 He who loves wisdom makes his father glad, but a companion of prostitutes squanders his wealth.

Hos 4:10-14 They shall eat, but not be satisfied; they shall play the whore, but not multiply, because they have forsaken the LORD to cherish ¹¹*whoredom, wine, and new wine, which take away the understanding.* ¹²My people inquire of a piece of wood, and their walking staff gives them oracles. For a spirit of whoredom has led them astray, and they have left their God to play the whore. ¹³They sacrifice on the tops of the mountains and burn offerings on the hills, under oak, poplar, and terebinth, because their shade is good. Therefore your daughters play the whore, and your brides commit adultery. ¹⁴I will not punish your daughters when they play the whore, nor your brides when they commit adultery; for the men themselves go aside with prostitutes and sacrifice with cult prostitutes, and a people without understanding shall come to ruin.

In v. 12 “a spirit of whoredom” probably is comparing the people with a prostitute, or those who use them, in their unfaithfulness to God – while also alluding to their desire for prostitutes (cf. CEV). Verse 14 may be implying that the men punished their daughters for turning to prostitution, punishment which God would take no part in, as the men themselves hypocritically used prostitutes.

Jer 13:26-27 I myself will lift up your skirts over your face, and your shame will be seen. ²⁷*I have seen your abominations, your adulteries and neighings, your lewd whorings, on the hills in the field. Woe to you, O Jerusalem! How long will it be before you are made clean?*

Spiritual prostitution is again at least partly in view, with such imagery indicative of the ungodliness of prostitution. Note that physical prostitution was often involved in such spiritual prostitution as worshipping other gods.

Homosexual acts

Lev 18:22 You shall not lie with a male as with a woman; it is an abomination.

Lev 20:13 If a man lies with a male as with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination; they shall surely be put to death; their blood is upon them.

Under the old covenant, in Israel the law required the death penalty for certain prohibited acts, including adultery and other sexual sins (cf. vv. 10-16). The New Testament does not advocate for the death penalty, including for sexual sins (cf. John 8:1-11).

Rom 1:26-27 For this reason God gave them up to dishonorable passions. For their women exchanged natural relations for those that are contrary to nature; ²⁷and the men likewise gave up natural relations with women and were consumed with passion for one another, men committing shameless acts with men and receiving in themselves the due penalty for their error.

This points out that homosexual relations are unnatural. In v. 27, as noted earlier, “receiving in themselves the due penalty” implies that the committing of such acts carries its own natural consequences.

1Cor 6:9-10 Or do you not know that the unrighteousⁿ will not inherit the kingdom of God? Do not be deceived: neither the sexually immoral, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor men who practice homosexuality,^o ¹⁰nor thieves, nor the greedy, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor swindlers will inherit the kingdom of God.

ⁿ Or wrongdoers

^o The two Greek terms translated by this phrase refer to the passive and active partners in consensual homosexual acts

1Tim 1:9-10 ... understanding this, that the law is not laid down for the just but for the lawless and disobedient, for the ungodly and sinners, for the unholy and profane, for those who strike their fathers and mothers, for murderers, ¹⁰*the sexually immoral, men who practice homosexuality, enslavers,*^p liars, perjurers, and whatever else is contrary to sound^q doctrine, ...

^p That is, those who take someone captive in order to sell him into slavery

^q Or healthy

The passage implies that the practices listed in vv. 9b-10a are against the law (v. 9a) and sound doctrine (v. 10b) – and that the unrighteous terms in v. 9a apply to those who commit these practices.

✚ The forbidding of cross-dressing:

Deut 22:5 A woman shall not wear a man's garment, nor shall a man put on a woman's cloak, for whoever does these things is an abomination to the LORD your God.

This prohibition may have had in view marginalizing God-ordained distinctions between males and females, or ungodly sexual practices that may involve or are associated with wearing clothing of the opposite sex.

Incest

Lev 18:6-13 None of you shall approach any one of his close relatives to uncover nakedness. I am the LORD. ⁷You shall not uncover the nakedness of your father, which is the nakedness of your mother; she is your mother, you shall not uncover her nakedness. ⁸You shall not uncover the nakedness of your father's wife; it is your father's nakedness. ⁹You shall not uncover the nakedness of your sister, your father's daughter or your mother's daughter, whether brought up in the family or in another home. ¹⁰You shall not uncover the nakedness of your son's daughter or of your daughter's daughter, for their nakedness is your own nakedness. ¹¹You shall not uncover the nakedness of your father's wife's daughter, brought up in your father's family, since she is your sister. ¹²You shall not uncover the nakedness of your father's sister; she is your father's relative. ¹³You shall not uncover the nakedness of your mother's sister, for she is your mother's relative.

The expression “uncover the nakedness” is a euphemism for sexual intercourse. Note that in view of the reference to one's mother in v. 7, v. 8 appears to refer to a stepmother (cf. 1Cor 5:1 ↓) or another wife of a father in a polygamous marriage. Clauses such as “it is your father's nakedness” (v. 8), refer to violating or disgracing a person.

Lev 18:14-18 You shall not uncover the nakedness of your father's brother, that is, you shall not approach his wife; she is your aunt. ¹⁵You shall not uncover the nakedness of your daughter-in-law; she is your son's wife, you shall not uncover her nakedness. ¹⁶You shall not uncover the nakedness of your brother's wife; it is your brother's nakedness. ¹⁷You shall not uncover the nakedness of a woman and of her daughter, and you shall not take her son's daughter or her daughter's daughter to uncover her nakedness; they are relatives; it is depravity. ¹⁸And you shall not take a woman as a rival wife to her sister, uncovering her nakedness while her sister is still alive.

As is the case in a sense at least in vv. 7-8 above, these prohibitions speak of in-laws (cf. vv. 7-8 ↑). Thus they go beyond basic incest laws regarding blood relatives, which are in part due to medical concerns regarding any offspring. They may partly have in view the vulnerability of women to sexual abuse when living in close proximity to other males in an extended family. Regarding the prohibition in v. 16 (cf. Lev 20:21 ↓), some commentators claim that it applies even to marrying a deceased brother's wife. If this is the case, the inheritance rights of children of the dead brother may be in view. A divorced or widowed woman and her blood relatives appear to be spoken of in v. 17.

Lev 20:17, 21 If a man takes his sister, a daughter of his father or a daughter of his mother, and sees her nakedness, and she sees his nakedness, it is a disgrace, and they shall be cut off in the sight of the children of their people. He has uncovered his sister's nakedness, and he shall bear his iniquity.  ... ²¹*If a man takes his brother's wife, it is impurity.^r He has uncovered his brother's nakedness; they shall be childless.*

^r Literally menstrual impurity

‡ Condemnation of sleeping with one's stepmother:

1Cor 5:1 It is actually reported that there is sexual immorality among you, and of a kind that is not tolerated even among pagans, for a man has his father's wife.

A man's “father's wife” appears to refer to his “stepmother” (CEV, GNT).

Bestiality

Lev 18:23 And you shall not lie with any animal and so make yourself unclean with it, neither shall any woman give herself to an animal to lie with it: it is perversion.

Ex 22:19 Whoever lies with an animal shall be put to death.

Lev 20:15-16 If a man lies with an animal, he shall surely be put to death, and you shall kill the animal. ¹⁶If a woman approaches any animal and lies with it, you shall kill the woman and the animal; they shall surely be put to death; their blood is upon them.

Deut 27:21 ‘Cursed be anyone who lies with any kind of animal.’ And all the people shall say, ‘Amen.’

‡ Do not mate different kinds of animals:

Lev 19:19a “You shall keep my statutes. You shall not let your cattle breed with a different kind.

In being “sober” we are to be “calm, collected, and circumspect” (AMP), in contrast to being drunk (v. 7b).

2Tim 4:5 As for you, always be sober-minded, endure suffering, do the work of an evangelist, fulfill your ministry.

1Pet 1:13 Therefore, preparing your minds for action,^s and being sober-minded, set your hope fully on the grace that will be brought to you at the revelation of Jesus Christ.

^s Greek girding up the loins of your mind

In conjunction with being sober-minded, we ought to prepare our minds for action.

1Pet 4:7 The end of all things is at hand; therefore be self-controlled and sober-minded for the sake of your prayers.

1Pet 5:8 Be sober-minded; be watchful. Your adversary the devil prowls around like a roaring lion, seeking someone to devour.

‡ Be alert:

Acts 20:31 Therefore be alert, remembering that for three years I did not cease night or day to admonish everyone with tears.

Watch yourself . . .

1Tim 4:16 Keep a close watch on yourself and on the teaching. Persist in this, for by so doing you will save both yourself and your hearers.

1Ki 2:4 . . . that the LORD may establish his word that he spoke concerning me, saying, ‘If your sons pay close attention to their way, to walk before me in faithfulness with all their heart and with all their soul, you shall not lack^t a man on the throne of Israel.’

^t Hebrew there shall not be cut off for you

David’s descendants needed to watch how they lived so that they would stay faithful to God, as per 8:25 – “... if only your sons pay close attention to their way, to walk before me as you have walked before me.”

Acts 20:28 Pay careful attention to yourselves and to all the flock, in which the Holy Spirit has made you overseers, to care for the church of God,^u which he obtained with his own blood.^v

1Cor 16:13 Be watchful, stand firm in the faith, act like men, be strong.

“Be watchful” is applicable to watching ourselves and also to watching out for spiritual threats, to both our own spiritual lives and those of others.

Deut 4:9 Only take care, and keep your soul diligently, lest you forget the things that your eyes have seen, and lest they depart from your heart all the days of your life. Make them known to your children and your children’s children—

The command to “keep your soul diligently” (cf. Prov 4:23 ↓) is akin to “watch yourselves closely” (NIV®, NRSV).

Prov 4:23 Keep your heart with all vigilance, for from it flow the springs of life. 📖

“Watch over your heart with all diligence” (NASB), carefully guarding your thoughts (cf. CEV).

Ps 39:1 I said, “I will guard my ways, that I may not sin with my tongue; I will guard my mouth with a muzzle, so long as the wicked are in my presence.” 📖

Prov 16:17 The highway of the upright turns aside from evil; whoever guards his way preserves his life. 📖

Particularly in the light of the first half of the verse, the second half probably alludes to guarding one’s way so as not to follow evil. This is also the case in 22:5 below.

Prov 22:5 Thorns and snares are in the way of the crooked; whoever guards his soul will keep far from them. 📖

One who guards themselves against wickedness will keep away from its traps and/or consequences.

Mal 2:15-16 Did he not make them one, with a portion of the Spirit in their union?^w And what was the one God^x seeking?^y Godly offspring. ^a Hebrew who hates and divorces

^b Probable meaning (compare Septuagint and Deuteronomy 24:1-4); or “The LORD, the God of Israel, says that he hates divorce, and him who covers

To “guard yourselves in your spirit” (vv. 15b, 16b) involves watching and evaluating such things as one’s attitudes, motives and conscience – effectively one’s thoughts.

Matt 16:6, 11-12 Jesus said to them, “Watch and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees.” 📖 ... ¹¹How is it that you fail to understand that I did not speak about bread? Beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees.” ¹²*Then they understood that he did not tell them to beware of the leaven of bread, but of the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees.* 📖

Matt 26:41 Watch and pray that you may not enter into temptation. The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak. 📖

Luke 12:15 And he said to them, “Take care, and be on your guard against all covetousness, for one’s life does not consist in the abundance of his possessions.” 📖

Gal 6:1 Brothers,^c if anyone is caught in any transgression, you who are spiritual should restore him in a spirit of gentleness. Keep watch on yourself, lest you too be tempted. 📖

^c Or Brothers and sisters; also verse 18

2Jn 1:8 Watch yourselves, so that you may not lose what we^d have worked for, but may win a full reward. 📖

^d Some manuscripts you

Further to watching against sin, we should watch out that we do not fall away from God altogether, forfeiting our reward.

✦ It is not easy to discern one’s own sin:

Ps 19:12 Who can discern his errors? Declare me innocent from hidden faults. 📖

Examine and evaluate yourself

Ps 119:59 When I think on my ways, I turn my feet to your testimonies; ... 📖

Lam 3:40 Let us test and examine our ways, and return to the LORD! 📖

We should “examine and probe our ways” (NASB).

Hag 1:7 Thus says the LORD of hosts: Consider your ways. 📖

Note that this verse is actually the beginning of a strong reprimand.

2Cor 13:5 Examine yourselves, to see whether you are in the faith. Test yourselves. Or do you not realize this about yourselves, that Jesus Christ is in you?—unless indeed you fail to meet the test!

Paul is quite possibly asking the Corinthians to examine themselves to see if they were living in accordance with the faith (cf. AMP, CEV, NCV, NRSV). Alternatively, some understand Paul to be speaking of them needing to assess if they were in fact genuine believers (cf. NlrV, NLT).

1Cor 11:27-29, 31 Whoever, therefore, eats the bread or drinks the cup of the Lord in an unworthy manner will be guilty concerning the body and blood of the Lord. ²⁸*Let a person examine himself, then, and so eat of the bread and drink of the cup.* ²⁹For anyone who eats and drinks without discerning the body eats and drinks judgment on himself.  ... ³¹*But if we judged^e ourselves truly, we would not be judged.*

^e Or discerned

The references to “judgment” (v. 29) and being “judged” (v. 31b) are to the Lord’s disciplining of believers. The phrases “the body and blood of the Lord” (v. 27) and “the body” (v. 29) probably refer to Jesus’ sacrifice of himself – along with what this accomplished – but some would contend that his body the church is also or alternatively in view (cf. 10:16-17). To participate in the Lord’s Supper is to symbolically and spiritually participate in these things, and we must take part appropriately in recognition of this. Thus we need to examine our readiness for taking part and our approach in doing so, examining and judging ourselves (vv. 28, 31).

Ps 4:4 Be angry,^f and do not sin; ponder in your own hearts on your beds, and be silent. Selah

^f Or Be agitated

The second part of the verse appears to be an exhortation (possibly aimed at David’s enemies) to examine or “search” oneself – quite possibly in particular in regard to the issues relating to the aforementioned anger. Note that the meaning of the first part of the verse is also open to debate (cf. CEV, GNT, NASB).

Gal 6:4-5 But let each one test his own work, and then his reason to boast will be in himself alone and not in his neighbor. ⁵For each will have to bear his own load.

We should evaluate our own actions without making comparisons with others, as it is for our own actions that we are responsible (v. 5).

Prov 20:27 The spirit^g of man is the lamp of the LORD, searching all his innermost parts.

^g Hebrew breath

This appears to be making an observation that our spirit – presumably in part with the light of our conscience – tends to examine our innermost character, attitudes and thoughts. It may also be implying that we should consciously seek to do this.

‡ Ask God to examine you:

Ps 139:23-24 Search me, O God, and know my heart! Try me and know my thoughts!^h ²⁴And see if there be any grievous way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting!

^h Or cares

ⁱ Or in the ancient way (compare Jeremiah 6:16)

Here David asks God to examine him, presumably with a view to God enlightening him about his spiritual state. Similarly in Psalms 26:2 David prays, “Prove me, O LORD, and try me; test my heart and my mind.”

Keep a clear conscience . . .

Acts 23:1 And looking intently at the council, Paul said, “Brothers, I have lived my life before God in all good conscience up to this day.”

Acts 24:16 So I always take pains to have a clear conscience toward both God and man.

Paul strove to keep his conscience clear not only before God but also before others, trying not to do anything wrong in the eyes of anyone.

1Tim 3:9 They must hold the mystery of the faith with a clear conscience.

2Tim 1:3 I thank God whom I serve, as did my ancestors, with a clear conscience, as I remember you constantly in my prayers night and day.

1Pet 3:20-21 ... because^j they formerly did not obey, when God’s patience waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was being prepared, in which a few, that is, eight persons, were brought safely through water. ²¹Baptism, which corresponds to this, now saves you, not as a removal of dirt from the body but as an appeal to God for a good conscience, through the resurrection of Jesus Christ, ...

^j Or when

In being baptized one effectively makes “an appeal to God for a good conscience”. Subsequently one should live in keeping with a good conscience.

Heb 13:18 Pray for us, for we are sure that we have a clear conscience, desiring to act honorably in all things. 📖

... A good conscience is vital for governing ourselves in pleasing God

A good conscience is vital for governing ourselves in pleasing God for it helps us to evaluate our actions.

Rom 2:14-15 For when Gentiles, who do not have the law, by nature do what the law requires, they are a law to themselves, even though they do not have the law. ¹⁵They show that the work of the law is written on their hearts, while their conscience also bears witness, and their conflicting thoughts accuse or even excuse them ... 📖

Though they did not have the law, the Gentiles’ consciences bore witness to its requirements and so they themselves could judge their own actions. Similarly, when we are unsure whether some action meets God’s approval, a clear conscience is a good guide.

Rom 9:1 I am speaking the truth in Christ—I am not lying; my conscience bears me witness in the Holy Spirit— 📖

As one having the Holy Spirit, Paul’s conscience under the guidance of the Spirit confirmed to himself (cf. 2Cor 1:12 ↓) that he was not lying.

2Cor 1:12 For our boast is this, the testimony of our conscience, that we behaved in the world with simplicity^k and godly sincerity, not by earthly wisdom but by the grace of God, and supremely so toward you. 📖

^k Some manuscripts holiness

Their consciences confirmed to them that they had acted rightly.

1Tim 1:5-6, 18-19 The aim of our charge is love that issues from a pure heart and a good conscience and a sincere faith. ⁶*Certain persons, by swerving from these, have wandered away into vain discussion*, 📖 ... ¹⁸This charge I entrust to you, Timothy, my child, in accordance with the prophecies previously made about you, that by them you may wage the good warfare, ¹⁹*holding faith and a good conscience*. By rejecting this, some have made shipwreck of their faith, ... 📖

In conjunction with a pure heart and along with a sincere faith, a good conscience produces love of others (v. 5), manifested in actions. Verses 6, 19 both indicate that a good conscience is critical to maintaining one’s faith (cf. 1Tim 3:9 ↑).

1Pet 3:15-16 ... but in your hearts honor Christ the Lord as holy, always being prepared to make a defense to anyone who asks you for a reason for the hope that is in you; yet do it with gentleness and respect, ¹⁶*having a good conscience, so that, when you are slandered, those who revile your good behavior in Christ may be put to shame*. 📖

Peter implies that keeping a clear conscience helps ensure one’s behaviour is good, thus foiling the slander of opponents.

Evaluate all things

1Thes 5:20-21 Do not despise prophecies, ²¹but test everything; hold fast what is good. 📖

Lev 10:10-11 You are to distinguish between the holy and the common, and between the unclean and the clean, ¹¹and you are to teach the people of Israel all the statutes that the LORD has spoken to them by Moses. 📖

The priests needed to be able to make such distinctions – closely linked here to their role of teaching the people the law (v. 11). Similarly Christians need to evaluate all things and distinguish between what is holy or acceptable to God and what is not.

Heb 5:14 But solid food is for the mature, for those who have their powers of discernment trained by constant practice to distinguish good from evil. 📖

Job 34:2-4 Hear my words, you wise men, and give ear to me, you who know; ²*for the ear tests words as the palate tastes food*. ⁴*Let us choose what is right; let us know among ourselves what is good*. 📖

This points to the need to evaluate what people say (v. 3; cf. 1Cor 10:15 ↓; 1Cor 14:29 ↓) so as to discern and learn what is right and good (v. 4).

1Cor 10:15 I speak as to sensible people; judge for yourselves what I say. 📖

1Cor 14:29 Let two or three prophets speak, and let the others weigh what is said. 📖

1Cor 6:9-10 Or do you not know that the unrighteous^l will not inherit the kingdom of God? Do not be deceived: neither the sexually immoral, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor men who practice homosexuality,^m nor thieves, nor the greedy, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor swindlers will inherit the kingdom of God.

ⁿ Probably from Menander's comedy Thais

Gal 6:7 Do not be deceived: God is not mocked, for whatever one sows, that will he also reap.

James 1:16 Do not be deceived, my beloved brothers.

This appears to be referring to the incorrect notion that temptation originates from God (cf. v. 13), when in fact it comes from ourselves (cf. vv. 14-15). By contrast, from God come all "good and perfect" things (cf. v. 17).

1Jn 3:7 Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous.

1Cor 3:18-19 Let no one deceive himself. If anyone among you thinks that he is wise in this age, let him become a fool that he may become wise. ¹⁹For the wisdom of this world is folly with God. For it is written, "He catches the wise in their craftiness,"

Gal 6:3 For if anyone thinks he is something, when he is nothing, he deceives himself.

1Jn 1:8 If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us.

James 1:22 But be doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves.

James 1:26 If anyone thinks he is religious and does not bridle his tongue but deceives his heart, this person's religion is worthless.

Jer 49:16 The horror you inspire has deceived you, and the pride of your heart, you who live in the clefts of the rock,^o who hold the height of the hill. Though you make your nest as high as the eagle's, I will bring you down from there, declares the LORD.

Rom 7:11 For sin, seizing an opportunity through the commandment, deceived me and through it killed me.

This appears to mean that the law allows sin the opportunity to deceive, as the law presents truth and – being contrary to the law – sin deceives us in regard to its truths.

Eph 4:22 ... to put off your old self,^p which belongs to your former manner of life and is corrupt through deceitful desires, ...

^p Greek man; also verse 24

One's "old self" has been infected by sin. Thus in keeping with sin's deceitfulness, one's "old self" (or sinful nature) has become "corrupted by its deceitful desires".

1Tim 2:14 ... and Adam was not deceived, but the woman was deceived and became a transgressor.

Thus alludes to the deceitfulness of sin and in particular its chief instigator, Satan – "The woman said, "The serpent deceived me, and I ate."" (Gen 3:13b)

‡ Sin also clings:

Heb 12:1 Therefore, since we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, let us also lay aside every weight, and sin which clings so closely, and let us run with endurance the race that is set before us, ...

Note that sin's deceitfulness may be partly in view, with the writer quite possibly having in mind how "deftly and cleverly" (AMP) sin operates.

Warnings against complacency

We are to avoid complacency in living our Christian life. One aspect of this is that we should avoid being complacent in regard to God's coming judgment, when we will receive his payment for our actions. A number of the passages below (including the extracts from the OT prophets) have this aspect in view, speaking of the complacency of the wayward or ungodly amongst God's people.

Prov 1:32 For the simple are killed by their turning away, and the complacency of fools destroys them; ...

Isa 32:9-11 Rise up, you women who are at ease, hear my voice; you complacent daughters, give ear to my speech. ¹⁰*In little more than a year you will shudder, you complacent women; for the grape harvest fails, the fruit harvest will not come.* ¹¹*Tremble, you women who are at ease, shudder, you complacent ones; strip, and make yourselves bare, and tie sackcloth around your waist.*

Presumably these women were ungodly. In their complacency they were unconcerned about their actions and oblivious to God's judgment that would befall them and their people.

Amos 6:1-7 "Woe to those who are at ease in Zion, and to those who feel secure on the mountain of Samaria, the notable men of the first of the nations, to whom the house of Israel comes! ²Pass over to Calneh, and see, and from there go to Hamath the great; then go down to Gath of the Philistines. Are you better than these kingdoms? Or is their territory greater than your territory, ³O you who put far away the day of disaster and bring near the seat of violence? ⁴"Woe to those who lie on beds of ivory and stretch themselves out on their couches, and eat lambs from the flock and calves from the midst of the stall, ⁵who sing idle songs to the sound of the harp and like David invent for themselves instruments of music, ⁶who drink wine in bowls and anoint themselves with the finest oils, but are not grieved over the ruin of Joseph! ⁷Therefore they shall now be the first of those who go into exile, and the revelry of those who stretch themselves out shall pass away."

The meaning of v. 2 is debatable. One possibility is that Amos was using the cities in question as examples of cities that once had appeared secure but now were destroyed; as such they served as a warning to his people. In v. 3 Amos appears to indicate that his people had put off all thoughts of the coming day of judgment, while by their evil activities they effectively hastened its coming (cf. AMP, GNT, NIV, NLT).

Zeph 1:12 At that time I will search Jerusalem with lamps, and I will punish the men who are complacent,^a those who say in their hearts, 'The LORD will not do good, nor will he do ill.'

^a Hebrew are thickening on the dregs [of their wine]

1Cor 10:12 Therefore let anyone who thinks that he stands take heed lest he fall.

Heb 2:1-3a Therefore we must pay much closer attention to what we have heard, lest we drift away from it. ²*For since the message declared by angels proved to be reliable, and every transgression or disobedience received a just retribution, ³how shall we escape if we neglect such a great salvation?*

As opposed to being complacent, we must pay careful attention to the gospel message (v. 1) and not be indifferent to it (v. 3a).

Heb 6:12 ... so that you may not be sluggish, but imitators of those who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

Do not become "spiritually dull and indifferent" (NLT).

✚ Be very careful how you live:

Eph 5:15-16 Look carefully then how you walk, not as unwise but as wise, ¹⁶making the best use of the time, because the days are evil.

The phrase "making the best use of the time" refers to making the best out of every situation we can for the cause of God's glory and his kingdom.

I. General

Hard times are experienced by all Christians. This reality is reflected in the Bible, notably in Job and Psalms. But the Bible also shows that there are a number of practical and effective things that we can do when undergoing hard times.

Note that the next chapter looks at experiencing persecution because of one's faith. This current chapter deals with undergoing hard times in general – particularly when one is hurting or "down" – irrespective of whether such times are a result of one's faith or not. As such the responses discussed in this chapter, supplement or reinforce the responses to persecution that are given in the following chapter.

Trouble is characteristic of human life

Job 5:7 ... but man is born to trouble as the sparks fly upward.

Job 14:1 Man who is born of a woman is few of days and full of trouble.

Job asserts that people's lives are typically full of trouble.

Job 7:1 Has not man a hard service on earth, and are not his days like the days of a hired hand?

Human life is hard and difficult.

Ps 90:10 The years of our life are seventy, or even by reason of strength eighty; yet their span^a is but toil and trouble; they are soon gone, and we fly away.

^a Or pride

Ecc 2:23 For all his days are full of sorrow, and his work is a vexation. Even in the night his heart does not rest. This also is vanity.

As with the other verses in this subsection, this and 5:17 below are referring to the lives of people in general.

Ecc 5:17 Moreover, all his days he eats in darkness in much vexation and sickness and anger.

The first part of the verse appears to be speaking of living in darkness (cf. GNT), as explained by the second half of the verse. The reference seems to be to the lot of people in general, but some commentators interpret it to have in view those who hoard wealth (cf. v. 13).

Ecc 8:6 For there is a time and a way for everything, although man's trouble^b lies heavy on him.

^b Or evil

The second part of the verse indicates that people's lives are often hard (cf. CEV), weighed down by trouble (cf. NCV, NLT).

‡ The difficulties of old age:

Ecc 12:1-5 Remember also your Creator in the days of your youth, before *the evil days come and the years draw near of which you will say, "I have no pleasure in them";² before the sun and the light and the moon and the stars are darkened and the clouds return after the rain,³ in the day when the keepers of the house tremble, and the strong men are bent, and the grinders cease because they are few, and those who look through the windows are dimmed,⁴ and the doors on the street are shut—when the sound of the grinding is low, and one rises up at the sound of a bird, and all the daughters of song are brought low—⁵they are afraid also of what is high, and terrors are in the way; the almond tree blossoms, the grasshopper drags itself along,^c and desire fails, because man is going to his eternal home, and the mourners go about the streets—

^c Or is a burden

Verses 2-5 describe old age, mostly in metaphorical terms. Fading eyesight is referred to by: "the sun and the light and the moon and the stars are darkened" (v. 2); and "those who look through the windows are dimmed" (v. 3). The final clause of v. 2 most likely speaks of more troubles looming ("the clouds") soon after other troubles ("the rain") have diminished. The “keepers of the house” (v. 3) apparently refers to one’s arms. The “grinders” (v. 3) that cease and are few generally are thought to be teeth that are ground down and/or fall out. In v. 4, faltering speech and deafness seem to be largely in view. In v. 5, “the almond tree blossoms” apparently depicts gray hair. The reference to the grasshopper dragging itself along (v. 5) depicts how old age stiffens once nimble beings.

me, and my eye dwells on their provocation.  ... ⁷My eye has grown dim from vexation, and all my members are like a shadow.  ... ¹¹My days are past; my plans are broken off, the desires of my heart.

In v. 7, “all my members” refers to body parts, perhaps limbs in particular (cf. GNT).

Job 19:17-20 My breath is strange to my wife, and I am a stench to the children of my own mother. ¹⁸Even young children despise me; when I rise they talk against me. ¹⁹All my intimate friends abhor me, and those whom I loved have turned against me. ²⁰My bones stick to my skin and to my flesh, and I have escaped by the skin of my teeth.

Job 30:15-17, 26-31 Terrors are turned upon me; my honor is pursued as by the wind, and my prosperity has passed away like a cloud. ¹⁶“And now my soul is poured out within me; days of affliction have taken hold of me. ¹⁷The night racks my bones, and the pain that gnaws me takes no rest.  ... ²⁶But when I hoped for good, evil came, and when I waited for light, darkness came. ²⁷My inward parts are in turmoil and never still; days of affliction come to meet me. ²⁸I go about darkened, but not by the sun; I stand up in the assembly and cry for help. ²⁹I am a brother of jackals and a companion of ostriches. ³⁰My skin turns black and falls from me, and my bones burn with heat. ³¹My lyre is turned to mourning, and my pipe to the voice of those who weep.

In v. 29, by speaking of his camaraderie with such creatures, Job appears to speak of wailing – howling like a jackal and squealing dismally like an ostrich (cf. AMP).

Ps 6:6-7 I am weary with my moaning; every night I flood my bed with tears; I drench my couch with my weeping. ⁷My eye wastes away because of grief; it grows weak because of all my foes.

Why call me Naomi, when the LORD has testified against me and the Almighty has brought calamity upon me?”*

^g Naomi means pleasant

^h Mara means bitter

Naomi’s husband and two sons had died (cf. v. 5).

Job 6:4 For the arrows of the Almighty are in me; my spirit drinks their poison; the terrors of God are arrayed against me.

Job 16:7-14 Surely now God has worn me out; he hasⁱ made desolate all my company. ⁸And he has shriveled me up, which is a witness against me, and my leanness has risen up against me; it testifies to my face. ⁹He has torn me in his wrath and hated me; he has gnashed his teeth at me; my adversary sharpens his eyes against me. ¹⁰Men have gaped at me with

ⁱ Hebrew you have; also verse 8

Job 19:8-13, 21 He has walled up my way, so that I cannot pass, and he has set darkness upon my paths. ⁹He has stripped from me my glory and taken the crown from my head. ¹⁰He breaks me down on every side, and I am gone, and my hope has he pulled up like a tree. ¹¹He has kindled his wrath against me and counts me as his adversary. ¹²His troops come on together; they have cast up their siege ramp¹ against me and encamp around my tent. ¹³“He has put my brothers far from me, and those who knew me are wholly estranged from me.  ... ²¹Have mercy on me, have mercy on me, O you my friends, for the hand of God has touched me!

^j Hebrew their way

As often the case with laments – as seen in other passages in this subsection – this includes figurative portrayals (e.g. v. 12) of what the sufferer understood as God’s action against him. In v. 21, the final clause speaks of God striking him.

Jer 45:3 You said, ‘Woe is me! For the LORD has added sorrow to my pain. I am weary with my groaning, and I find no rest.’

Lam 3:1-18 I am the man who has seen affliction under the rod of his wrath; ²he has driven and brought me into darkness without any light; ³surely against me he turns his hand again and again the whole day long. ⁴He has made my flesh and my skin waste away; he has broken my bones; ⁵he has besieged and enveloped me with bitterness and tribulation; ⁶he has made me dwell in darkness like the dead of long ago. ⁷He has walled me about so that I cannot escape; he has made my chains heavy; ⁸though I call and cry for help, he shuts out my prayer; ⁹he has blocked my ways with blocks of stones; he has made my paths crooked. ¹⁰He is a bear lying in wait for me, a lion in hiding; ¹¹he turned aside my steps and tore me to pieces; he has made me desolate; ¹²he bent his bow and set me as a target for his arrow. ¹³He drove into my kidneys the arrows of his quiver; ¹⁴I have become the laughingstock of all peoples, the object of their taunts all day long. ¹⁵He has filled me with bitterness; he has sated me with wormwood. ¹⁶He has made my teeth grind on gravel, and made me cower in ashes; ¹⁷my soul is bereft of peace; I have forgotten what happiness^k is; ¹⁸so I say, “My endurance has perished; so has my hope from the LORD.”

^k Hebrew good

The language of vv. 2-13 is largely metaphorical. Wormwood (v. 15) is a woody shrub with a bitter taste, sometimes figuratively used to portray sorrow.

Note: The desire to contend with God over one’s plight

Job 7:11, 17-21 “Therefore I will not restrain my mouth; I will speak in the anguish of my spirit; I will complain in the bitterness of my soul.  ... ¹⁷What is man, that you make so much of him, and that you set your heart on him, ¹⁸visit him every morning and test him every moment? ¹⁹How long will you not look away from me, nor leave me alone till I swallow my spit?²⁰If I sin, what do I do to you, you watcher of mankind? Why have you made me your mark? Why have I become a burden to you?²¹Why do you not pardon my transgression and take away my iniquity? For now I shall lie in the earth; you will seek me, but I shall not be.”

“Therefore” (v. 11) appears to refer to the misery of Job’s predicament (cf. vv. 2-5) with the prospect of imminent death (cf. vv. 6-10) – and possibly also his apparent innocence (cf. 6:10, 24, 30). His circumstances being as such, he therefore would not keep silent but speak out and complain to God. In vv. 17-18 Job queries as to why a person, so insignificant in comparison to God, should be given so much attention that so much affliction be directed towards him – seemingly from God. In v. 21 Job asks why God does not forgive his sins and relent, apparently reasoning that his death – by which he would pay for his sin – was now imminent anyway.

Job 10:2 I will say to God, Do not condemn me; let me know why you contend against me.

Job 13:3, 15-16 But I would speak to the Almighty, and I desire to argue my case with God.  ... ¹⁵Though he slay me, I will hope in him;¹ yet I will argue my ways to his face. ¹⁶This will be my salvation, that the godless shall not come before him.

¹ Or Behold, he will slay me; I have no hope

In v. 16, Job claims or hopes that by arguing his case before God, he will prove his innocence – and be saved – for the guilty godless would not dare come before God.

Job 13:22-23 Then call, and I will answer; or let me speak, and you reply to me. ²³How many are my iniquities and my sins? Make me know my transgression and my sin.

Job 21:4 As for me, is my complaint against man? Why should I not be impatient?

Job indicates that his complaint is directed to God.

Job 23:3-7 Oh, that I knew where I might find him, that I might come even to his seat! ⁴I would lay my case before him and fill my mouth with arguments. ⁵I would know what he would answer me and understand what he would say to me. ⁶Would he contend with me in the greatness of his power? No; he would pay attention to me. ⁷There an upright man could argue with him, and I would be acquitted forever by my judge.

Job 31:35-37 Oh, that I had one to hear me! (Here is my signature! Let the Almighty answer me!) Oh, that I had the indictment written by my adversary! ³⁶Surely I would carry it on my shoulder; I would bind it on me as a crown; ³⁷I would give him an account of all my steps; like a prince I would approach him.

"Here is my signature" (v. 35) speaks of Job signing off on a written testimony to the truth of what he had said in his defense. In v. 36 Job appears to indicate that he would wear proudly any accusations for all to see, confident that it would be obvious to all that they were not true.

Job 5:8 As for me, I would seek God, and to God would I commit my cause, ...

Here Eliphaz says that if he was in Job's dreadful position he would appeal to God over it. His tone is more restrained than Job's in the above references.

✦ Job's resignation over the uselessness of disputing with God:

Job 9:3-4, 14-20 If one wished to contend with him, one could not answer him once in a thousand times. ⁴He is wise in heart and mighty in strength —who has hardened himself against him, and succeeded?—  ... ¹⁴How then can I answer him, choosing my words with him? ¹⁵Though I am in the right, I cannot answer him; I must appeal for mercy to my accuser.^m ¹⁶If I summoned him and he answered me, I would not believe that he was listening to my voice. ¹⁷For he crushes me with a tempest and multiplies my wounds without cause; ¹⁸he will not let me get my breath, but fills me with bitterness. ¹⁹If it is a contest of strength, behold, he is mighty! If it is a matter of justice, who can summon him?ⁿ ²⁰Though I am in the right, my own mouth would condemn me; though I am blameless, he would prove me perverse.

^mOr to my judge

ⁿ Compare Septuagint; Hebrew me

In v. 20 Job fears that whatever he said may in fact make him appear guilty, probably thinking either that he would be overwhelmed by God's presence or foiled by God's far superior intellect.

b) Mourn Loss

The actions spoken of in this section are important for dealing with grief. For they help us express it and "get it out of our system". Note that while the vast majority of the verses in this section refer to loss in accordance with the above heading – usually in regard to the death of one or more loved ones – a few of them speak of other troubles.

Subsections

- Mourn and weep over loss – particularly deaths
- Mourn and weep before God

Mourn and weep over loss – particularly deaths

Gen 23:2 And Sarah died at Kiriath-arba (that is, Hebron) in the land of Canaan, and Abraham went in to mourn for Sarah and to weep for her.

Deut 34:7-8 Moses was 120 years old when he died. His eye was undimmed, and his vigor unabated. ⁸And the people of Israel wept for Moses in the plains of Moab thirty days. Then the days of weeping and mourning for Moses were ended.

2Sam 13:33, 36-37 Now therefore let not my lord the king so take it to heart as to suppose that all the king's sons are dead, for Amnon alone is dead."  ... ³⁶And as soon as he had finished speaking, behold, the king's sons came and lifted up their voice and wept. And the king also and all his servants wept very bitterly. ³⁷But Absalom fled and went to Talmai the son of Ammihud, king of Geshur. And David mourned for his son day after day.

2Sam 18:33 ° And the king was deeply moved and went up to the chamber over the gate and wept. And as he went, he said, "O my son Absalom, my son, my son Absalom! Would I had died instead of you, O Absalom, my son, my son!"

° Ch 19:1 in Hebrew

Job 16:16 My face is red with weeping, and on my eyelids is deep darkness, ...

Isa 16:7 Therefore let Moab wail for Moab, let everyone wail. Mourn, utterly stricken, for the raisin cakes of Kir-hareseth.

The last clause apparently refers to one of the good things lost in the destruction of the city.

Isa 22:4 Therefore I said: "Look away from me; let me weep bitter tears; do not labor to comfort me concerning the destruction of the daughter of my people."

The phrase "the daughter of my people" (cf. Jer 9:1 ↓) appears to figuratively denote the people themselves and/or Jerusalem (cf. NCV).

Jer 9:1, 10 ¶ Oh that my head were waters, and my eyes a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people! ... ¹⁰"I will take up weeping and wailing for the mountains, and a lamentation for the pastures of the wilderness, because they are laid waste so that no one passes through, and the lowing of cattle is not heard; both the birds of the air and the beasts have fled and are gone.

¶ Ch 8:23 in Hebrew

In v. 10 Jeremiah speaks of weeping over the desolation of the land, due to the Babylonian conquest and the subsequent lack of people to tend the land.

Zec 12:10 And I will pour out on the house of David and the inhabitants of Jerusalem a spirit of grace and pleas for mercy, so that, when they look on me, on him whom they have pierced, they shall mourn for him, as one mourns for an only child, and weep bitterly over him, as one weeps over a firstborn.

This is commonly understood to depict Israel's eventual turning to Jesus Christ in deep remorse over their prior response to him – in particular the instigation of his death by their ancestors – along with the repercussions. The setting is probably either immediately preceding or on Christ's return.

John 11:32-35 Now when Mary came to where Jesus was and saw him, she fell at his feet, saying to him, "Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died."³³When Jesus saw her weeping, and the Jews who had come with her also weeping, he was deeply moved in his spirit and greatly troubled. ³⁴And he said, "Where have you laid him?" They said to him, "Lord, come and see."³⁵Jesus wept.

Jesus' emotion in v. 33b appears to be at least in part in response to the weeping of Mary and the other Jews, but may well also have been due to his friend's death, as appears to be the case in v. 35.

Acts 8:2 Devout men buried Stephen and made great lamentation over him.

Matt 5:4 Blessed are those who mourn, for they shall be comforted.

The mourning referred to here is probably primarily the mourning of godly people over sin and its consequences, rather than mourning over loss or trouble. (For further comment see Be sorrowful over your sin, p. 1843.) However, it would appear to still at least be applicable to the latter.

‡ The Jews wept in exile at their loss of Zion:

Ps 137:1 By the waters of Babylon, there we sat down and wept, when we remembered Zion.

Mourn and weep before God

Josh 7:4-6 So about 3,000 men went up there from the people. And they fled before the men of Ai, ⁵and the men of Ai killed about thirty-six of their men and chased them before the gate as far as Shebarim and struck them at the descent. And the hearts of the people melted and became as water. ⁶Then Joshua tore his clothes and fell to the earth on his face before the ark of the LORD until the evening, he and the elders of Israel. And they put dust on their heads.

The actions of Joshua and the elders (v. 6) signified mourning. Note that the ark of the LORD signified God's presence amongst the Israelites.

2Ki 19:1 As soon as King Hezekiah heard it, he tore his clothes and covered himself with sackcloth and went into the house of the LORD.

Wearing sackcloth is an expression of intense sorrow, as is tearing one's clothes (cf. Josh 7:6 ↑).

Judg 20:25-26 And Benjamin went against them out of Gibeah the second day, and destroyed 18,000 men of the people of Israel. All these were men who drew the sword. ²⁶Then all the people of Israel, the whole army, went up and came to Bethel and wept. They sat there before the LORD and fasted that day until evening, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before the LORD.

The ark was kept at Bethel at this time.

1Sam 1:10, 15 She was deeply distressed and prayed to the LORD and wept bitterly. ... ¹⁵But Hannah answered, “No, my lord [Eli], I am a woman troubled in spirit. I have drunk neither wine nor strong drink, but I have been pouring out my soul before the LORD.

Job 16:20 My friends scorn me; my eye pours out tears to God, ...

Ps 39:12a “Hear my prayer, O LORD, and give ear to my cry; hold not your peace at my tears!

Lam 3:49-50 My eyes will flow without ceasing, without respite, ⁵⁰until the LORD from heaven looks down and sees; ...

Isa 38:2-3 Then Hezekiah turned his face to the wall and prayed to the LORD, ³and said, “Please, O LORD, remember how I have walked before you in faithfulness and with a whole heart, and have done what is good in your sight.” And Hezekiah wept bitterly.

This suggests that Hezekiah wept before God, subsequent to praying to God.

Openly express your sorrow and grief

Note that the adjacent subsections also contain a number of verses illustrating open expression of sorrow and grief.

Num 14:1 Then all the congregation raised a loud cry, and the people wept that night.

1Sam 30:3-4 And when David and his men came to the city, they found it burned with fire, and their wives and sons and daughters taken captive. ⁴Then David and the people who were with him raised their voices and wept until they had no more strength to weep.

2Sam 1:11, 17-19, 23-27 Then David took hold of his clothes and tore them, and so did all the men who were with him. ... ¹⁷And David lamented with this lamentation over Saul and Jonathan his son, ¹⁸and he said it^a should be taught to the people of Judah; behold, it is written in the Book of Jashar.^r He said: ¹⁹“Your glory, O Israel, is slain on your high places!

How the mighty have fallen! ... ²³“Saul and Jonathan, beloved and lovely! In life and in death they were not divided; they were swifter than eagles; they were stronger than lions. ²⁴“You daughters of Israel, weep over Saul, who clothed you luxuriously in scarlet, who put ornaments of gold on your apparel. ²⁵“How the mighty have fallen in the midst of the battle! “Jonathan lies slain on your high places. ²⁶I am distressed for you, my brother Jonathan; very pleasant have you been to me; your love to me was extraordinary, surpassing the love of women. ²⁷“How the mighty have fallen, and the weapons of war perished!”

^a Septuagint; Hebrew the Bow, which may be the name of the lament’s tune

^r Or of the upright

A lament is a passionate and often poetic expression of grief. In vv. 19-27 David recites his lament as an open expression of his sorrow and grief. Moreover, he even ordered that the men of Judah be taught it (v. 18). In v. 26 David speaks of his deep love for Jonathan, who was like a brother to him. The “weapons” (v. 27b) possibly refers to Saul and Jonathan (cf. CEV text note), although the destruction of their actual weapons could be in view.

2Sam 13:19 And Tamar put ashes on her head and tore the long robe that she wore. And she laid her hand on her head and went away, crying aloud as she went.

Here Tamar mourns and weeps after being raped and further ill treated by her half brother, Amnon (who would later pay with his life).

2Sam 15:23, 30 And all the land wept aloud as all the people passed by, and the king crossed the brook Kidron, and all the people passed on toward the wilderness. ... ³⁰But David went up the ascent of the Mount of Olives, weeping as he went, barefoot and with his head covered. And all the people who were with him covered their heads, and they went up, weeping as they went.

The occasion was David’s evacuation from Jerusalem – and the loss of much of his authority – due to the conspiracy of his son Absalom.

Est 4:1 When Mordecai learned all that had been done, Mordecai tore his clothes and put on sackcloth and ashes, and went out into the midst of the city, and he cried out with a loud and bitter cry.

Isa 15:2b-3 On every head is baldness; every beard is shorn; ³in the streets they wear sackcloth; on the housetops and in the squares everyone wails and melts in tears.

Isa 33:7 Behold, their heroes cry in the streets; the envoys of peace weep bitterly.

Matt 2:16-18 Then Herod, when he saw that he had been tricked by the wise men, became furious, and he sent and killed all the male children in Bethlehem and in all that region who were two years old or under, according to the time that he had ascertained from the wise men. ¹⁷Then was fulfilled what was spoken by the prophet Jeremiah: ¹⁸*“A voice was heard in Ramah, weeping and loud lamentation, Rachel weeping for her children; she refused to be comforted, because they are no more.”*

✦ Believers have reason to not grieve like others do, without any hope:

1Thes 4:13-14 But we do not want you to be uninformed, brothers, about those who are asleep, that you may not grieve as others do who have no hope. ¹⁴*For since we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so, through Jesus, God will bring with him those who have fallen asleep.*

Fast in mourning

Judg 20:26 Then all the people of Israel, the whole army, went up and came to Bethel and wept. They sat there before the LORD and fasted that day until evening, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before the LORD.

2Sam 1:12 And they mourned and wept and fasted until evening for Saul and for Jonathan his son and for the people of the LORD and for the house of Israel, because they had fallen by the sword.

Note that 1 Chronicles 10:12 says that the inhabitants of Jabesh Gilead fasted seven days after Saul's death.

2Sam 3:33-35 And the king lamented for Abner, saying, “Should Abner die as a fool dies? ³⁴Your hands were not bound; your feet were not fettered; as one falls before the wicked you have fallen.” And all the people wept again over him. ³⁵Then all the people came to persuade David to eat bread while it was yet day. But David swore, saying, “God do so to me and more also, if I taste bread or anything else till the sun goes down!”

Ezra 10:6 Then Ezra withdrew from before the house of God and went to the chamber of Jehohanan the son of Eliashib, where he spent the night,^s neither eating bread nor drinking water, for he was mourning over the faithlessness of the exiles.

^s Probable reading; Hebrew where he went

Est 4:3 And in every province, wherever the king's command and his decree reached, there was great mourning among the Jews, with fasting and weeping and lamenting, and many of them lay in sackcloth and ashes.

This speaks of the proposed annihilation of all Jews, during the reign of the Persian King Xerxes.

Dan 10:2-3 In those days I, Daniel, was mourning for three weeks. ³*I ate no delicacies, no meat or wine entered my mouth, nor did I anoint myself at all, for the full three weeks.*

It is not stated why Daniel mourned and fasted, but it most likely was due to either his people's current predicament or the implications of the vision he had received in v. 1.

Matt 9:15 And Jesus said to them, “Can the wedding guests mourn as long as the bridegroom is with them? The days will come when the bridegroom is taken away from them, and then they will fast.”

While Jesus was with them there was no reason for the disciples to mourn and fast, but when he would be “taken away from them” – probably a reference to his death – then they would do so.

1Sam 20:34 And Jonathan rose from the table in fierce anger and ate no food the second day of the month, for he was grieved for David, because his father had disgraced him.

Zec 8:19 Thus says the LORD of hosts: The fast of the fourth month and the fast of the fifth and the fast of the seventh and the fast of the tenth shall be to the house of Judah seasons of joy and gladness and cheerful feasts. Therefore love truth and peace.

These fasts were commemorative fasts, in which the Jews mourned particular events surrounding the Babylonian destruction of Jerusalem (cf. 2Ki 25).

✦ Saul's fasting while blind:

Acts 9:8-9 Saul rose from the ground, and although his eyes were opened, he saw nothing. So they led him by the hand and brought him into Damascus. ⁹*And for three days he was without sight, and neither ate nor drank.*

Saul's fasting was probably more related to his recognition of his spiritual condition than his blindness.

In hard times, remember God . . .

See also:

- Ensure you remember God, p. 1787

The verses in this and the following subsection indicate that even in hard times we can draw hope and comfort from remembering: God himself, including his amazing capabilities and loving characteristics; and what he has done, including the things he has done for us (cf. comment on Ps 7:7-15 ↓)

Ps 42:6b My soul is cast down within me; therefore I remember you from the land of Jordan and of Hermon, from Mount Mizar. 📖

Jer 51:50 You who have escaped from the sword, go, do not stand still! Remember the LORD from far away, and let Jerusalem come into your mind: ... 📖

The exiles who had escaped the sword – either that of the Babylonians or their conquerors the Persians (cf. v. 49) – are told to leave Babylon (cf. vv. 6, 49) and return to Jerusalem. The call to “Remember the LORD in a distant land” (NIV®, NRSV) is applicable to believers of all generations living in difficult circumstances.

Jonah 2:7 When my life was fainting away, I remembered the LORD, and my prayer came to you, into your holy temple. 📖

Neh 4:14 And I looked and arose and said to the nobles and to the officials and to the rest of the people, “Do not be afraid of them. Remember the Lord, who is great and awesome, and fight for your brothers, your sons, your daughters, your wives, and your homes.” 📖

. . . and remember what God has done

Deut 7:18 ...you shall not be afraid of them but you shall remember what the LORD your God did to Pharaoh and to all Egypt, ... 📖

Ps 77:7-15 “Will the Lord spurn forever, and never again be favorable? ⁸Has his steadfast love forever ceased? Are his promises at an end for all time? ⁹Has God forgotten to be gracious? Has he in anger shut up his compassion?” Selah ¹⁰*Then I said, “I will appeal to this, to the years of the right hand of the Most High.”^t ¹¹I will remember the deeds of the LORD; yes, I will remember your wonders of old. ¹²I will ponder all your work, and meditate on your mighty deeds. ¹³Your way, O God, is holy. What god is great like our God? ¹⁴You are the God who works wonders; you have made known your might among the peoples. ¹⁵You with your arm redeemed your people, the children of Jacob and Joseph. Selah* 📖

^t Or This is my grief: that the right hand of the Most High has changed

The expression “the years of the right hand of the Most High” (v. 10) speaks of the years when God's power was clearly manifested on his people's behalf. In the face of present difficulties and God's apparent rejection and inactivity (vv. 7-9), the psalmist chooses to remember and meditate on God's wonderful deeds of the past (vv. 10-12, 15), by which he finds encouragement and a revitalized view of God (vv. 13-14).

Ps 143:3-6 For the enemy has pursued my soul; he has crushed my life to the ground; he has made me sit in darkness like those long dead. ⁴Therefore my spirit faints within me; my heart within me is appalled. ⁵*I remember the days of old; I meditate on all that you have done; I ponder the work of your hands. ⁶I stretch out my hands to you; my soul thirsts for you like a parched land. Selah* 📖

Remembering and meditating on what God has done in the past (v. 5), appears to prompt the psalmist to pray to God (v. 6).

‡ Additionally, remember who God is:

Isa 44:6-8, 21-22 Thus says the LORD, the King of Israel and his Redeemer, the LORD of hosts: “I am the first and I am the last; besides me there is no god. ⁷Who is like me? Let him proclaim it.^u Let him declare and set it before me, since I appointed an ancient people. Let them declare what is to come, and what will happen. ⁸Fear not, nor be afraid; have I not told you from of old and declared it? And you are my witnesses! Is there a God besides me? There is no Rock; I know not any.” ²¹Remember these things, O Jacob, and Israel, for you are my servant; I formed you; you are my servant; O Israel, you will not be forgotten by me. ²²I have blotted out your transgressions like a cloud and your sins like mist; return to me, for I have redeemed you. ²³

^u Or Who like me can proclaim it?

“Remember “these things” (v. 21a) may primarily have in view the preceding discussions on who God is and his incomparableness (vv. 6-8) – as illustrated by God foretelling the future (vv. 7-8a) and the contrasting uselessness of idols (cf. vv. 9-20). As God’s servants, his people ought to remember who and how great God is. “Remember these things” could additionally be speaking of remembering that they are his servant/s (cf. GNT, NCV), made so by God (v. 21b), and that as his servants God would not forget them (v. 21b). It could also encompass what he had done for them in forgiving them and redeeming them (v. 22). In hard times – as at any time – it is important to remember all such things.

Seek God in hard times

- . . . By punishment and discipline God causes his people to seek him again, p. 870

Ps 27:7-8 Hear, O LORD, when I cry aloud; be gracious to me and answer me! ⁸You have said, “Seek^v my face.” My heart says to you, “Your face, LORD, do I seek.”^w

^v The command (seek) is addressed to more than one person

^w The meaning of the Hebrew verse is uncertain

To seek God’s face (cf. 2Chr 7:14 ↓) has been equated with seeking God’s favor, but it may well fundamentally refer to seeking his presence or fellowship – from which would follow his favor, involving such things as his protection.

Ps 77:2 In the day of my trouble I seek the Lord; in the night my hand is stretched out without wearying; my soul refuses to be comforted.

2Chr 7:13-14 When I shut up the heavens so that there is no rain, or command the locust to devour the land, or send pestilence among my people, ¹⁴if my people who are called by my name humble themselves, and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and heal their land.

This speaks of suffering God’s punishment because of sin, but the direction to seek God is very much applicable to all difficult circumstances.

2Chr 20:2-4 Some men came and told Jehoshaphat, “A great multitude is coming against you from Edom,^x from beyond the sea; and, behold, they are in Hazazon-tamar” (that is, Engedi). ³Then Jehoshaphat was afraid and set his face to seek the LORD, and proclaimed a fast throughout all Judah. ⁴And Judah assembled to seek help from the LORD; from all the cities of Judah they came to seek the LORD.

^x One Hebrew manuscript; most Hebrew manuscripts Aram (Syria)

‡ Asa’s failure to seek God when in need:

2Chr 16:12 In the thirty-ninth year of his reign Asa was diseased in his feet, and his disease became severe. Yet even in his disease he did not seek the LORD, but sought help from physicians.

Do not forget God’s word

See also:

- Remember God’s word and commands, p. 1789

Ps 119:61, 83, 93, 109, 141, 153 Though the cords of the wicked ensnare me, I do not forget your law. ⁸³For I have become like a wineskin in the smoke, yet I have not forgotten your statutes. ⁹³*I will never forget your precepts, for by them you have given me life.* ¹⁰⁹I hold my life in my hand continually, but I do not forget your law. ¹⁴¹I am small and despised, yet I do not forget your precepts. ¹⁵³Look on my affliction and deliver me, for I do not forget your law.

The psalmist’s suffering had taken its toll on him so much so that he likened himself to a wineskin hung over a fire (v. 83), which becomes shriveled and blackened. In v. 93b the psalmist appears to be speaking of the strength and meaning he found in God’s word during his affliction, which had effectively preserved his life. “I hold my life in my hand continually” (v. 109a) may be a reference to the psalmist putting his life in danger by remaining faithful to God’s law, refusing to forget it (v. 109b).

‡ The psalmist longed for God’s precepts:

Ps 119:40 Behold, I long for your precepts; in your righteousness give me life!

In the midst of adversity, not only did the psalmist not forget God's word, he longed for God's commands. Possibly being able to obey God's commands is primarily in view (cf. GNT, NCV, NLT).

Ps 119:23, 51, 69, 78, 87, 95, 98, 157, 166 Even though princes sit plotting against me, your servant will meditate on your statutes. ... ⁵¹The insolent utterly deride me, but I do not turn away from your law. ... ⁶⁹The insolent smear me with lies, but with my whole heart I keep your precepts; ... ⁷⁸Let the insolent be put to shame, because they have wronged me with falsehood; as for me, I will meditate on your precepts. ... ⁸⁷They have almost made an end of me on earth, but I have not forsaken your precepts. ... ⁹⁵The wicked lie in wait to destroy me, but I consider your testimonies. ... ⁹⁸Your commandment makes me wiser than my enemies, for it is ever with me. ... ¹⁵⁷Many are my persecutors and my adversaries, but I do not swerve from your testimonies. ... ¹⁶⁶I hope for your salvation, O LORD, and I do your commandments.

Job 6:10 This would be my comfort; I would even exult^y in pain unsparing, for I have not denied the words of the Holy One.

^y The meaning of the Hebrew word is uncertain

Job has primarily in view his obedience to God's commands (cf. CEV), which he had not rejected (cf. NCV, NirV) amidst his great ordeal.

Ps 17:3, 5 You have tried my heart, you have visited me by night, you have tested me, and you will find nothing; I have purposed that my mouth will not transgress. ... ⁵*My steps have held fast to your paths; my feet have not slipped*.

Amidst the threat of enemies (cf. vv. 1-2, 9-12), David continued to hold to God's ways and not to sin.

Ps 37:34 Wait for the LORD and keep his way, and he will exalt you to inherit the land; you will look on when the wicked are cut off.

Job 4:5-6 But now it has come to you, and you are impatient; it touches you, and you are dismayed. ⁶*Is not your fear of God^z your confidence, and the integrity of your ways your hope?*

^z Hebrew lacks of God

Living righteously does give reason for confidence and hope for one's future – although here Eliphaz was mistaken to believe that it necessarily meant freedom from one's suffering in this life (cf. v. 7).

‡ Do not turn to evil in the midst of affliction:

Job 36:21 Take care; do not turn to iniquity, for this you have chosen rather than affliction.

Elihu appears to be warning Job to not do this, rather than accusing him of already having done so. Note that 2 Chronicles 28:22 indicates that King Ahaz was guilty of this – “In the time of his distress he became yet more faithless to the LORD—this same King Ahaz.”

Put your hope in God's word

See also:

- During hard times, put your hope in God, p. 1950

Ps 119:43, 81, 114, 147 And take not the word of truth utterly out of my mouth, for my hope is in your rules. ... ⁸¹My soul longs for your salvation; I hope in your word. ... ¹¹⁴You are my hiding place and my shield; I hope in your word. ... ¹⁴⁷I rise before dawn and cry for help; I hope in your words.

The references to hoping in God's word involve primarily having hope in the promises that God has made in his word (cf. v. 41 ↓; v. 50 ↓), to which the psalmist clung amidst adversity. Note that in v. 43a the psalmist appears to either call on God not to take his promises away from him, or to allow him to continue to speak God's word, propagating it amongst others.

Ps 130:5 I wait for the LORD, my soul waits, and in his word I hope; ...

‡ Trust in God's word:

Ps 119:41-42 Let your steadfast love come to me, O LORD, your salvation according to your promise; ⁴²then shall I have an answer for him who taunts me, for I trust in your word.

Take comfort in God's word and delight in it

See also:

- God's word encourages people, p. 314

Ps 119:50, 52 This is my comfort in my affliction, that your promise gives me life. 📖 ... ⁵²*When I think of your rules from of old, I take comfort, O LORD.* 📖

In v. 50 the psalmist says that his comfort in suffering is God's promise which preserves or "revives" (NLT) his life, through the hope that it gives (cf. vv. 43, 81, 114, 147 ↑).

Ps 119:70, 77, 92, 111, 143 ... their heart is unfeeling like fat, but I delight in your law. 📖 ... ⁷⁷*Let your mercy come to me, that I may live; for your law is my delight.* 📖 ... ⁹²*If your law had not been my delight, I would have perished in my affliction.* 📖 ... ¹¹¹*Your testimonies are my heritage forever, for they are the joy of my heart.* 📖 ... ¹⁴³*Trouble and anguish have found me out, but your commandments are my delight.* 📖

In v. 92 the psalmist asserts that he would have perished in his affliction if God's law had not "been the source of my joy" (GNT) and so "sustained me with joy" (NLT). The reason why God's word produced such joy may have primarily been because of its promises (v. 50 ↑) and/or because the psalmist "found happiness in obeying" it (CEV). In regard to the latter, bear in mind that willingly obeying God's commands brings such things as contentment and meaning to one's life.

✦ Even in hard times, God's word gives freedom:

Ps 119:45 ... and I shall walk in a wide place, for I have sought your precepts. 📖

As this was written in troubled times (cf. v. 50 ↑; vv. 77, 92, 143 ↑), the thought may be that the trials the psalmist was experiencing were not burdensome or oppressive because of the "freedom" (CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV, NLT) that God's word brought, with its encouragement and wise counsel.

Ps 31:9-15 Be gracious to me, O LORD, for I am in distress; my eye is wasted from grief; my soul and my body also. ¹⁰For my life is spent with sorrow, and my years with sighing; my strength fails because of my iniquity, and my bones waste away. ¹¹Because of all my adversaries I have become a reproach, especially to my neighbors, and an object of dread to my acquaintances; those who see me in the street flee from me. ¹²I have been forgotten like one who is dead; I have

The statement: “You are my God” (v. 14) – part of David’s declaration of faith (vv. 14-15a) from the depths of despair (vv. 9-13) – implies that the LORD is the one he trusts in as sovereign over his life, the one who held his present and future circumstances in his hands (v. 15a).

Isa 50:10 Who among you fears the LORD and obeys the voice of his servant? Let him who walks in darkness and has no light trust in the name of the LORD and rely on his God.

This is most likely directed to godly people living in the darkness of difficult circumstances (cf. AMP, GNT, NCV, NLT), although some interpret it as speaking to those living in the darkness of sin (cf. CEV).

2Tim 1:12 ... which is why I suffer as I do. But I am not ashamed, for I know whom I have believed, and I am convinced that he is able to guard until that Day what has been entrusted to me.^b

^b Or what I have entrusted to him; Greek my deposit

If the alternative rendering in the text note is to be preferred (cf. NASB, NIV, NKJV, NLT, NRSV), then Paul would appear to be speaking of trusting God to guard his ministry and its fruits, along with himself – even through death. Despite his great suffering, Paul knew God, the one whom he believed or “trusted” (GNT, cf. NLT). Knowing God, Paul was certain that God was able to guard that which he had entrusted to God, even through death.

Ps 116:10 I believed, even when^c I spoke, “I am greatly afflicted”; ...

^c Or believed, indeed; Septuagint believed, therefore

To commit yourself to God is to entrust yourself to him, trusting God to care for you. Taking refuge in God involves focusing on God’s surrounding presence and trusting in his protection, as a refuge.

Ps 31:5 Into your hand I commit my spirit; you have redeemed me, O LORD, faithful God.

In the first part of the verse, David speaks of committing or entrusting (cf. NLT) his spirit and/or life (cf. NCV, NIV) to God’s care. The words were spoken by Jesus just prior to his death (cf. Luke 23:46).

Jer 11:20 But, O LORD of hosts, who judges righteously, who tests the heart and the mind, let me see your vengeance upon them, for to you have I committed my cause.

1Pet 2:23 When he was reviled, he did not revile in return; when he suffered, he did not threaten, but continued entrusting himself to him who judges justly.

Ps 143:8b-9 Make me know the way I should go, for to you I lift up my soul. ⁹Deliver me from my enemies, O LORD! I have fled to you for refuge!^d

^d One Hebrew manuscript, Septuagint; most Hebrew manuscripts To you I have covered

The expression “to you I lift up my soul” (cf. Ps 25:1) probably has a meaning akin to “to you I commit my soul”. It certainly appears to be an expression of trust.

Ruth 2:12 The LORD repay you for what you have done, and a full reward be given you by the LORD, the God of Israel, under whose wings you have come to take refuge!

Ps 11:1-3 In the LORD I take refuge; how can you say to my soul, “Flee like a bird to your mountain, ²for behold, the wicked bend the bow; they have fitted their arrow to the string to shoot in the dark at the upright in heart; ³if the foundations are destroyed, what can the righteous do?”^e ^e Or for the foundations will be destroyed; what has the righteous done?

In the face of fearful advice to flee from the threatening circumstances (vv. 1b-3), David states that he will instead take refuge in the LORD (v. 1a). Note that the quotation marks include vv. 2-3 as part of the advice beginning in v. 1b.

Ps 57:1 Be merciful to me, O God, be merciful to me, for in you my soul takes refuge; in the shadow of your wings I will take refuge, till the storms of destruction pass by.

Ps 71:1, 3, 7 In you, O LORD, do I take refuge; let me never be put to shame!  ... ³*Be to me a rock of refuge, to which I may continually come; you have given the command to save me, for you are my rock and my fortress.*  ... ⁷*I have been as a portent to many, but you are my strong refuge.*

Ps 73:28 But for me it is good to be near God; I have made the Lord GOD my refuge, that I may tell of all your works.

Ps 118:8-9 It is better to take refuge in the LORD than to trust in man. ⁹*It is better to take refuge in the LORD than to trust in princes.*

Jer 17:17 Be not a terror to me; you are my refuge in the day of disaster.

Ps 62:6-8 He only is my rock and my salvation, my fortress; I shall not be shaken. ⁷*On God rests my salvation and my glory; my mighty rock, my refuge is God.* ⁸*Trust in him at all times, O people; pour out your heart before him; God is a refuge for us.* Selah

Ps 63:7-8 ... for you have been my help, and in the shadow of your wings I will sing for joy. ⁸*My soul clings to you; your right hand upholds me.*

In speaking of being in the “shadow” of God’s “wings” (v. 7) and of clinging to God (v. 8), David is effectively speaking of taking refuge in God.

Heb 6:17-18 So when God desired to show more convincingly to the heirs of the promise the unchangeable character of his purpose, he guaranteed it with an oath, ¹⁸so that by two unchangeable things, in which it is impossible for God to lie, we who have fled for refuge might have strong encouragement to hold fast to the hope set before us.

The phrase “fled for refuge” appears to refer to taking refuge in God, with quite possibly his great promises for our future largely in view.

Ps 37:40 The LORD helps them and delivers them; he delivers them from the wicked and saves them, because they take refuge in him.

Ps 91:1-13 He who dwells in the shelter of the Most High will abide in the shadow of the Almighty. ²*I will say^h to the LORD, “My refuge and my fortress, my God, in whom I trust.”* ³*For he will deliver you from the snare of the fowler and from the deadly pestilence.* ⁴*He will cover you with his pinions, and under his wings you will find refuge; his faithfulness is a shield and buckler.* ⁵*You will not fear the terror of the night, nor the arrow that flies by day, nor the pestilence that stalks in darkness, nor the destruction that wastes at noonday.* ⁷*A thousand may fall at your side, ten thousand at your right hand, but it will not come near you.* ⁸*You will only look with your eyes and see the recompense of the wicked.* ⁹*Because you have made the LORD your dwelling place— the Most High, who is my refugeⁱ—* ¹⁰*no evil shall be allowed to befall you, no plague come near your tent.* ¹¹*For he will command his angels concerning you to guard you in all your ways.* ¹²*On their hands they will bear you up, lest you strike your foot against a stone.* ¹³*You will tread on the lion and the adder; the young lion and the serpent you will trample underfoot.*

^h Septuagint He will say

ⁱ Or For you, O LORD, are my refuge! You have made the Most High your dwelling place

In vv. 3-6 imagery relating to a mother bird protecting her young from various dangers is used to illustrate God’s protection of those who take refuge in him. In v. 13 the reference to lions and snakes denotes dangers or foes, possibly implying both powerful ones (the lions) and insidious ones (the snakes). Those who take refuge in God will overcome all such things.

Ps 27:1, 5 The LORD is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The LORD is the stronghold^d of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? ... ⁵*For he will hide me in his shelter in the day of trouble; he will conceal me under the cover of his tent; he will lift me high upon a rock.*

^j Or refuge

The references to God's "shelter" and "tent" (v. 5) refer to the tabernacle, and so point to God's presence (cf. Ps 31:19-20 [†]).

Ps 5:11 But let all who take refuge in you rejoice; let them ever sing for joy, and spread your protection over them, that those who love your name may exult in you.

In praying that God will protect those who take refuge in God, David implies that God is able to protect them, and even that God does do so.

Ps 32:7 You are a hiding place for me; you preserve me from trouble; you surround me with shouts of deliverance. Selah

Isa 57:13b But he who takes refuge in me shall possess the land and shall inherit my holy mountain.

This may be alluding to blessings of the last days.

Nah 1:7 The LORD is good, a stronghold in the day of trouble; he knows those who take refuge in him.

† Those who take refuge in God are blessed:

Ps 2:12 Kiss the Son, lest he be angry, and you perish in the way, for his wrath is quickly kindled. Blessed are all who take refuge in him.

Note that "he", "his" and "him" may refer to God (cf. CEV, GNT), but could instead refer to the Son. (The Hebrew is itself is actually unclear.) Also note that similarly Psalms 34:8b says, "Blessed is the man who takes refuge in him!"

In the first statement Jacob acknowledged that God was in control of the destiny of his two sons and his last statement implies that he would accept the outcome even if it meant his loss of them.

Job 1:13-22 Now there was a day when his sons and daughters were eating and drinking wine in their oldest brother's house, ¹⁴and there came a messenger to Job and said, "The oxen were plowing and the donkeys feeding beside them, ¹⁵and the Sabeans fell upon them and took them and struck down the servants^l with the edge of the sword, and I alone have escaped to tell you." ¹⁶While he was yet speaking, there came another and said, "The fire of God fell from heaven and burned up the sheep and the servants and consumed them, and I alone have escaped to tell you." ¹⁷While he was yet speaking, there came another and said, "The Chaldeans formed three groups and made a raid on the camels and took them and struck down the servants with the edge of the sword, and I alone have escaped to tell you." ¹⁸While he was yet speaking, there came another and said, "Your sons and daughters were eating and drinking wine in their oldest brother's house, ¹⁹and behold, a great wind came across the wilderness and struck the four corners of the house, and it fell upon the young people, and they are dead, and I alone have escaped to tell you." ²⁰Then Job arose and tore his robe and shaved his head and fell on the ground and worshiped. ²¹*And he said, "Naked I came from my mother's womb, and naked shall I return. The LORD gave, and the LORD has taken away; blessed be the name of the LORD."* ²²In all this Job did not sin or charge God with wrong.

^l Hebrew the young men; also verses 16, 17

In v. 21 Job classically states that all he had was only what God had given him – none of which was his forever – and that therefore God had the right to take it away. In acknowledging this and blessing God in the light of it, Job shows unqualified acceptance of such distressing events (vv. 13-19) as being in line with God's will.

Job 2:7-10 So Satan went out from the presence of the LORD and struck Job with loathsome sores from the sole of his foot to the crown of his head. ⁸And he took a piece of broken pottery with which to scrape himself while he sat in the ashes. ⁹Then his wife said to him, "Do you still hold fast your integrity? Curse God and die." ¹⁰But he said to her, "You speak as one of the foolish women would speak. Shall we receive good from God, and shall we not receive evil?"^m In all this Job did not sin with his lips.

^m Or disaster; also verse 11

Job's rhetorical question (v. 10) implies we should "accept" (AMP, CEV, GNT, NASB, NIV, NKJV, NLT) all things from God, both good and bad.

Ecc 7:14 In the day of prosperity be joyful, and in the day of adversity consider: God has made the one as well as the other, so that man may not find out anything that will be after him.

The main theme of this verse is the uncertainty of life, but arguably it can also be construed from it that as both good and bad times are from God, we should be accepting of both – rather than one and not the other (cf. Job 2:10 ↑).

Heb 12:5-9 And have you forgotten the exhortation that addresses you as sons? “My son, do not regard lightly the discipline of the Lord, nor be weary when reproved by him. ⁶For the Lord disciplines the one he loves, and chastises every son whom he receives.” ⁷*It is for discipline that you have to endure. God is treating you as sons.* For what son is there whom his father does not discipline? ⁸If you are left without discipline, in which all have participated, then you are illegitimate children and not sons. ⁹Besides this, we have had earthly fathers who disciplined us and we respected them. Shall we not much more be subject to the Father of spirits and live?

The instructions to “not regard lightly” nor “be weary” over hardship from God (v. 5), to endure it as discipline (v. 7) and to submit to God’s will in it (v. 9) – i.e. “accept discipline from the Father” (NCV™) – all speak of accepting hard times from God.

Luke 22:42 ... saying, “Father, if you are willing, remove this cup from me. Nevertheless, not my will, but yours, be done.”

1Pet 2:18-19 Servants, be subject to your masters with all respect, not only to the good and gentle but also to the unjust. ¹⁹*For this is a gracious thing, when, mindful of God, one endures sorrows while suffering unjustly.*

The phrase “mindful of God” (v. 19) speaks of being mindful of God’s will (cf. GNT). Peter is speaking of viewing such unjust suffering as being in accordance with God’s will, and therefore accepting and enduring it.

Job’s perseverance in his great hardship was in many ways exemplary. But he was guilty of contending with and making unjust accusations and complaints against God.

Job 35:14-16 How much less when you say that you do not see him, that the case is before him, and you are waiting for him! ¹⁵And now, because his anger does not punish, and he does not take much note of transgression,^p ¹⁶Job opens his mouth in empty talk; he multiplies words without knowledge.

^p Theodotion, Symmachus (compare Vulgate); the meaning of the Hebrew word is uncertain

Here Elihu appears to chide Job for complaining: that God had not shown interest in his plight (v. 14a; cf. Job 33:13 ↑), making him wait for his case to be heard (v. 14b); and that God does not punish wickedness (v. 15), which was a further slur on God’s justice.

Job 40:1-2, 8 And the LORD said to Job: ²“Shall a faultfinder contend with the Almighty? He who argues with God, let him answer it.” ☞ ... ⁸Will you even put me in the wrong? Will you condemn me that you may be in the right? ☞

To contend with God or accuse him (v. 2b) amounts to attempting to correct God (v. 2a). This is obviously an absurd thing to do – a point that God would accentuate in questioning Job in this and the subsequent chapter. As a result Job repented (cf. Job 42:3 ↓).

Job 42:3 ‘Who is this that hides counsel without knowledge?’ Therefore I have uttered what I did not understand, things too wonderful for me, which I did not know. ☞

Job is the speaker here. He quotes a rhetorical question from God which indicates that in contending with God, Job had misconstrued God’s counsel with his relatively negligible knowledge. Anyone who would contend with God is in danger of doing this.

Ps 73:13-15, 21-22 All in vain have I kept my heart clean and washed my hands in innocence. ¹⁴For all the day long I have been stricken and rebuked every morning. ¹⁵If I had said, “I will speak thus,” I would have betrayed the generation of your children. ☞ ... ²¹When my soul was embittered, when I was pricked in heart, ²²I was brutish and ignorant; I was like a beast toward you. ☞

In v. 15 the psalmist acknowledges that to have publicly expressed such complaints (vv. 13-14), which in essence were against God, would have been in a sense a betrayal of God’s people – undermining their relationship with God and possibly leading some astray. In vv. 21-22 he acknowledges that in his bitterness and hurt, his thoughts expressed before God were irrational.

Ps 9:18 For the needy shall not always be forgotten, and the hope of the poor shall not perish forever.

This may imply that the hope of the afflicted – here based firmly in God – will eventually be fulfilled.

Wait for God

Ps 25:5, 21 Lead me in your truth and teach me, for you are the God of my salvation; for you I wait all the day long. ...

²¹May integrity and uprightness preserve me, for I wait for you.

In v. 21 David is in a sense meaning that his life of “integrity and uprightness” gives him reason to wait on God to take action to preserve him.

Ps 33:20 Our soul waits for the LORD; he is our help and our shield.

Ps 39:7 And now, O Lord, for what do I wait? My hope is in you.

David implies that he waits for God, in whom is his hope.

Ps 52:9 I will thank you forever, because you have done it. I will wait for your name, for it is good, in the presence of the godly.

God's name is largely synonymous with God himself. Thus David is saying that he will wait for God, for God is good.

Ps 130:5-6 I wait for the LORD, my soul waits, and in his word I hope; my soul waits for the Lord more than watchmen for the morning, more than watchmen for the morning.

Job 14:13-14 Oh that you would hide me in Sheol, that you would conceal me until your wrath be past, that you would appoint me a set time, and remember me! ¹⁴If a man dies, shall he live again? All the days of my service I would wait, till my renewal^a should come.

^a Or relief

In vv. 13-14a Job ponders the possibility of God bringing him back to life after dying. Most probably “the days of my service” (v. 14b) is speaking of Job’s current suffering. His “renewal” or “relief” (cf. text note) would then refer to either: a renewal in this life; or his release from his suffering through death and renewal in a life after death. Alternatively, “the days of my service” may refer to the time in the grave between his death and such a resurrection. Christians have a firmer and clearer hope of a resurrection – in which their ultimate renewal will come – giving great incentive to wait throughout any lengthy trials they have in this life.

... For God cares for and blesses those who wait for him

Isa 25:9 It will be said on that day, “Behold, this is our God; we have waited for him, that he might save us. This is the LORD; we have waited for him; let us be glad and rejoice in his salvation.”

Isa 40:29-31 He gives power to the faint, and to him who has no might he increases strength. ³⁰Even youths shall faint and be weary, and young men shall fall exhausted; ³¹but they who wait for the LORD shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings like eagles; they shall run and not be weary; they shall walk and not faint.

Those who “wait for the LORD” are strengthened (v. 31) by God (v. 29).

Isa 64:4 From of old no one has heard or perceived by the ear, no eye has seen a God besides you, who acts for those who wait for him.

Ps 25:2-3 O my God, in you I trust; let me not be put to shame; let not my enemies exult over me. ³Indeed, none who wait for you shall be put to shame; they shall be ashamed who are wantonly treacherous.

Ps 37:9, 34 For the evildoers shall be cut off, but those who wait for the LORD shall inherit the land.  ... ³⁴Wait for the LORD and keep his way, and he will exalt you to inherit the land; you will look on when the wicked are cut off.

The primary reference here is to Israelites who wait for the LORD inheriting Canaan or the land in which they lived. But arguably this is also applicable to believers who wait for God inheriting the earth (cf. v. 11; Matt 5:5; ZBC)

Prov 20:22 Do not say, “I will repay evil”; wait for the LORD, and he will deliver you.

Lam 3:25 The LORD is good to those who wait for him, to the soul who seeks him.

Isa 30:18 Therefore the LORD waits to be gracious to you, and therefore he exalts himself to show mercy to you. For the LORD is a God of justice; blessed are all those who wait for him.

Israel had been rebellious (cf. vv. 9-17) and so had to endure God’s punishment. But he longed to be gracious to them and would show them mercy. The last statement implies that those who wait for God will be blessed with his graciousness and mercy. The verse illustrates that as God waits to show mercy to us, so we should wait for him to do so.

Isa 49:23 Kings shall be your foster fathers, and their queens your nursing mothers. With their faces to the ground they shall bow down to you, and lick the dust of your feet. Then you will know that I am the LORD; those who wait for me shall not be put to shame.

The renewed Israel of the end times is in view here. This verse makes the significant point that those who wait for God will not be put to shame, as God will care for and bless them.

‡ All who wait for God should be strong and take courage:

Ps 31:24 Be strong, and let your heart take courage, all you who wait for the LORD!

II. Praying in Hard Times

Prayer is probably the most prominent positive response to hard times. The Bible shows us a great deal about praying to God in such times. The psalms in particular contain a number of prayers of people faced with great difficulties and suffering, from which we can learn much.

Ps 9:13 Be gracious to me, O LORD! See my affliction from those who hate me, O you who lift me up from the gates of death, ...

Ps 22:6-8, 11-18 But I am a worm and not a man, scorned by mankind and despised by the people. ⁷All who see me mock me; they make mouths at me; they wag their heads; ⁸He trusts in the LORD; let him deliver him; let him rescue him, for he delights in him!" ... ¹¹Be not far from me, for trouble is near, and there is none to help. ¹²Many bulls encompass me; strong bulls of Bashan surround me; ¹³they open wide their mouths at me, like a ravening and roaring lion. ¹⁴I am poured out like water, and all my bones are out of joint; my heart is like wax; it is melted within my breast; ¹⁵my strength is dried up like a potsherd, and my tongue sticks to my jaws; you lay me in the dust of death. ¹⁶For dogs encompass me; a company of evildoers encircles me; they have pierced my hands and feet^a— ¹⁷I can count all my bones— they stare and gloat over me; ¹⁸they divide my garments among them, and for my clothing they cast lots.

^a Some Hebrew manuscripts, Septuagint, Vulgate, Syriac; most Hebrew manuscripts like a lion [they are at] my hands and feet

This psalm is quoted or alluded to in the NT more often than any other psalm. It is used in the NT in relation to Jesus' suffering.

Ps 25:16-19 Turn to me and be gracious to me, for I am lonely and afflicted. ¹⁷The troubles of my heart are enlarged; bring me out of my distresses. ¹⁸Consider my affliction and my trouble, and forgive all my sins. ¹⁹Consider how many are my foes, and with what violent hatred they hate me.

Ps 31:9-13 Be gracious to me, O LORD, for I am in distress; my eye is wasted from grief; my soul and my body also. ¹⁰For my life is spent with sorrow, and my years with sighing; my strength fails because of my iniquity, and my bones waste away. ¹¹Because of all my adversaries I have become a reproach, especially to my neighbors, and an object of dread to my acquaintances; those who see me in the street flee from me. ¹²I have been forgotten like one who is dead; I have become like a broken vessel. ¹³For I hear the whispering of many— terror on every side!— as they scheme together against me, as they plot to take my life.

Ps 35:11-12, 15-16 Malicious^b witnesses rise up; they ask me of things that I do not know. ¹²They repay me evil for good; my soul is bereft.^c ... ¹⁵But at my stumbling they rejoiced and gathered; they gathered together against me; wretches whom I did not know tore at me without ceasing; ¹⁶like profane mockers at a feast,^d they gnash at me with their teeth.

^b Or Violent

^c Hebrew it is bereavement to my soul

^d The meaning of the Hebrew phrase is uncertain

Verse 11 appears to be speaking of the psalmist being accusingly questioned over false accusations made against him, things he knows nothing about.

Ps 42:3 My tears have been my food day and night, while they say to me all the day long, "Where is your God?"

The question mentioned was used as a taunt (cf. NLT).

Ps 55:2-5 Attend to me, and answer me; I am restless in my complaint and I moan, ³because of the noise of the enemy, because of the oppression of the wicked. For they drop trouble upon me, and in anger they bear a grudge against me. ⁴My heart is in anguish within me; the terrors of death have fallen upon me. ⁵Fear and trembling come upon me, and horror overwhelms me.

Ps 59:3-4 For behold, they lie in wait for my life; fierce men stir up strife against me. For no transgression or sin of mine, O LORD, ⁴for no fault of mine, they run and make ready. Awake, come to meet me, and see!

Ps 69:1-4, 19-20 Save me, O God! For the waters have come up to my neck.^e ²I sink in deep mire, where there is no foothold; I have come into deep waters, and the flood sweeps over me. ³I am weary with my crying out; my throat is parched. My eyes grow dim with waiting for my God. ⁴More in number than the hairs of my head are those who hate me without cause; mighty are those who would destroy me, those who attack me with lies. What I did not steal must I now restore? ... ¹⁹You know my reproach, and my shame and my dishonor; my foes are all known to you. ²⁰Reproaches have broken my heart, so that I am in despair. I looked for pity, but there was none, and for comforters, but I found none.

^e Or waters threaten my life

Ps 109:1-5, 22-25 Be not silent, O God of my praise! ²For wicked and deceitful mouths are opened against me, speaking against me with lying tongues. ³They encircle me with words of hate, and attack me without cause. ⁴In return for my love they accuse me, but I give myself to prayer.^f ⁵So they reward me evil for good, and hatred for my love. ... ²²For I am poor and needy, and my heart is stricken within me. ²³I am gone like a shadow at evening; I am shaken off like a locust. ²⁴My knees are weak through fasting; my body has become gaunt, with no fat. ²⁵I am an object of scorn to my accusers; when they see me, they wag their heads.

^f Hebrew but I am prayer

In v. 23b the psalmist speaks of feeling as if he has been tossed aside like an insect (cf. CEV).

Ps 142:3b-4, 6 In the path where I walk they have hidden a trap for me. ⁴Look to the right and see: there is none who takes notice of me; no refuge remains to me; no one cares for my soul. ... ⁶Attend to my cry, for I am brought very low! Deliver me from my persecutors, for they are too strong for me!

Ps 143:3-4 For the enemy has pursued my soul; he has crushed my life to the ground; he has made me sit in darkness like those long dead. ⁴Therefore my spirit faints within me; my heart within me is appalled.

Jer 15:15 O LORD, you know; remember me and visit me, and take vengeance for me on my persecutors. In your forbearance take me not away; know that for your sake I bear reproach.

... Pour out your heart to God

See also:

- Openly express your sorrow and grief, p. 1940

To pour out your heart to God involves earnestly telling God about all your concerns and feelings. In a sense it is to empty your heart of all its troubles, laying them out before God.

Ps 62:8 Trust in him at all times, O people; pour out your heart before him; God is a refuge for us. Selah

Lam 2:19 "Arise, cry out in the night, at the beginning of the night watches! Pour out your heart like water before the presence of the Lord! Lift your hands to him for the lives of your children, who faint for hunger at the head of every street."

Ps 42:4 These things I remember, as I pour out my soul: how I would go with the throng and lead them in procession to the house of God with glad shouts and songs of praise, a multitude keeping festival.

Note that here "pour out my soul" possibly simply means that the psalmist's heart was breaking (cf. GNT, NCV, NLT) rather than necessarily involving him pouring out his emotions and problems before God.

1Sam 1:10, 12-16 She was deeply distressed and prayed to the LORD and wept bitterly. ... ¹²As she continued praying before the LORD, Eli observed her mouth. ¹³Hannah was speaking in her heart; only her lips moved, and her voice was not heard. Therefore Eli took her to be a drunken woman. ¹⁴And Eli said to her, "How long will you go on being drunk? Put your wine away from you." ¹⁵But Hannah answered, "No, my lord [Eli], I am a woman troubled in spirit. I have drunk neither wine nor strong drink, but I have been pouring out my soul before the LORD. ¹⁶Do not regard your servant as a worthless woman, for all along I have been speaking out of my great anxiety and vexation."

Hannah's deep distress (v. 10) and "great anxiety and vexation" (v. 16) led her to pour out her soul or heart to God (v. 15) in prayer.

Ps 142:2 I pour out my complaint before him; I tell my trouble before him.

One could say that David poured out his troubles to God.

Prayer anxiously speaking of God's seeming remoteness and of apparent isolation from him . . .

See also:

- God is near us in hard times and when we pray, p. 1975

The things said in this and the following subsections are not necessarily exemplary in the sense of being things that we ought to say to God amidst hard times. But they do show how one can express anguish to God and suggest that it is acceptable, even productive, for the most part to say/express such thoughts and emotions. (See also the introductory comment below on Prayer despairingly speaking of God as even the source of one's suffering, p. 1957.)

Ps 10:1 Why, O LORD, do you stand far away? Why do you hide yourself in times of trouble?

Ps 22:1-2 My God, my God, why have you forsaken me? Why are you so far from saving me, from the words of my groaning? ²O my God, I cry by day, but you do not answer, and by night, but I find no rest.

The question that begins this psalm was quoted by Jesus on the cross (cf. Matt 27:46; Mark 15:34). As far as David understood, God had forsaken him; he had cried out to God day and night, but God did not answer.

Ps 44:23-24 Awake! Why are you sleeping, O Lord? Rouse yourself! Do not reject us forever! ²⁴Why do you hide your face? Why do you forget our affliction and oppression?

Ps 88:14 O LORD, why do you cast my soul away? Why do you hide your face from me?

Ps 31:22a I had said in my alarm,^g "I am cut off from your sight."

^g Or in my haste

Lam 5:20 Why do you forget us forever, why do you forsake us for so many days?

Job 23:3, 8-9 Oh, that I knew where I might find him, that I might come even to his seat!  ... ⁸"Behold, I go forward, but he is not there, and backward, but I do not perceive him; ⁹on the left hand when he is working, I do not behold him; he turns to the right hand, but I do not see him.

Here Job is speaking to his friends rather than to God in prayer. Similar to the above prayers, amidst his trouble Job speaks of his inability to find God – pointing to God's apparent remoteness from him in his dreadful circumstances.

Ps 63:1 O God, you are my God; earnestly I seek you; my soul thirsts for you; my flesh faints for you, as in a dry and weary land where there is no water.

Ps 143:6 I stretch out my hands to you; my soul thirsts for you like a parched land. Selah

Isa 26:8-9 In the path of your judgments, O LORD, we wait for you; your name and remembrance are the desire of our soul. ⁹My soul yearns for you in the night; my spirit within me earnestly seeks you. For when your judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world learn righteousness.

Verse 8b is speaking of desiring or longing for either God (cf. GNT, NASB, NCV, NKJV) or his honor (cf. CEV, NLT) – or perhaps both.

Ps 84:2 My soul longs, yes, faints for the courts of the LORD; my heart and flesh sing for joy to the living God.

Psalm 84 is a prayer which speaks of longing for the house of God, in essence for God's presence. It may have been written in difficult times, possibly expressing the longing of one who had been prevented from going to the temple in Jerusalem. Alternatively, it may simply be speaking of the longing of one making a pilgrimage to the temple in Jerusalem.

‡ Longing for God's salvation:

Ps 119:81, 123, 174 My soul longs for your salvation; I hope in your word. ...¹²³My eyes long for your salvation and for the fulfillment of your righteous promise. ...¹⁷⁴I long for your salvation, O LORD, and your law is my delight.

Prayer despairingly speaking of God as even the source of one's suffering

See also:

- Examples of God's people even attributing hard times to God, p. 1936

Those suffering in the Bible did not always speak of God as the source of their suffering (particularly when wicked opponents afflicted them). In reading the following examples of those that did, bear in mind that such people were not necessarily always correct or fair in what they said and how they expressed it.

Job 7:13-16 When I say, 'My bed will comfort me, my couch will ease my complaint,'¹⁴*then you scare me with dreams and terrify me with visions,*¹⁵*so that I would choose strangling and death rather than my bones.*¹⁶*I loathe my life; I would not live forever. Leave me alone, for my days are a breath.*

Ps 60:1-3 *O God, you have rejected us, broken our defenses; you have been angry; oh, restore us.*²*You have made the land to quake; you have torn it open; repair its breaches, for it totters.*³*You have made your people see hard things; you have given us wine to drink that made us stagger.*

The first two clauses in v. 2 speak metaphorically of the devastation of the people and their society.

Ps 80:5-6 *You have fed them [God's people] with the bread of tears and given them tears to drink in full measure.*⁶*You make us an object of contention for our neighbors, and our enemies laugh among themselves.*

Ps 88:6-9a, 15-18 *You have put me in the depths of the pit, in the regions dark and deep.*⁷*Your wrath lies heavy upon me, and you overwhelm me with all your waves.* Selah⁸*You have caused my companions to shun me; you have made me a horror⁸ to them. I am shut in so that I cannot escape;*⁹*my eye grows dim through sorrow. ...¹⁵Afflicted and close to death from my youth up, I suffer your terrors; I am helpless.*¹⁶*Your wrath has swept over me; your dreadful assaults destroy me.*¹⁷*They surround me like a flood all day long; they close in on me together.*¹⁸*You have caused my beloved and my friend to shun me; my companions have become darkness.*^k

ⁱ Or an abomination

^j The meaning of the Hebrew word is uncertain

^k Or darkness has become my only companion

Psalm 88 has been called the saddest psalm, poignantly illustrating intense and sustained suffering, with little or no sign of hope or resolution. Verse 18b speaks either of darkness being the psalmist's only companion (cf. AMP, CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV), or his companions in their absence being as if they were in darkness (cf. NASB, NRSV).

Ps 102:9-10 *For I eat ashes like bread and mingle tears with my drink,*¹⁰*because of your indignation and anger; for you have taken me up and thrown me down.*

Isa 38:13 I calmed myself¹ until morning; like a lion he breaks all my bones; from day to night you bring me to an end.

¹ Or (with Targum) I cried for help

The expression "breaks all my bones" figuratively depicts Hezekiah's devastated state.

Lam 3:45 You have made us scum and garbage among the peoples.

‡ In his pain, Jeremiah complained to God that God had let him down:

Jer 15:18 Why is my pain unceasing, my wound incurable, refusing to be healed? Will you be to me like a deceitful brook, like waters that fail?

In his intense suffering, Jeremiah distraughtly and unfairly portrays God as deceptive or unreliable, comparing him to a supply of water that at times appears to be plentiful, but dries up.

Prayer desperately asking God how long suffering and his apparent inaction or wrath is to continue

Ps 6:3 My soul also is greatly troubled. But you, O LORD—how long?

Ps 13:1-2 How long, O LORD? Will you forget me forever? How long will you hide your face from me? ²How long must I take counsel in my soul and have sorrow in my heart all the day? How long shall my enemy be exalted over me?

Ps 35:17 How long, O Lord, will you look on? Rescue me from their destruction, my precious life from the lions!

Ps 74:9-10 We do not see our signs; there is no longer any prophet, and there is none among us who knows how long.¹⁰*How long, O God, is the foe to scoff? Is the enemy to revile your name forever?*

This psalm was composed during the time of the Babylonian exile. The psalmist asks how long would God allow himself to be dishonored by the enemy – with his people in such a subjugated position (cf. vv. 1-2) and his sanctuary in ruins (cf. vv. 3-7).

Ps 80:4 O LORD God of hosts, how long will you be angry with your people's prayers?

Ps 89:46 How long, O LORD? Will you hide yourself forever? How long will your wrath burn like fire?

Ps 90:13 Return, O LORD! How long? Have pity on your servants!

Ps 119:82, 84 My eyes long for your promise; I ask, "When will you comfort me?"  ... ⁸⁴*How long must your servant endure?^m When will you judge those who persecute me?*

^mHebrew How many are the days of your servant?

✦ Further discouragement over God's apparent inaction:

Jer 14:8-9 O you hope of Israel, its savior in time of trouble, why should you be like a stranger in the land, like a traveler who turns aside to tarry for a night? ⁹*Why should you be like a man confused, like a mighty warrior who cannot save?* Yet you, O LORD, are in the midst of us, and we are called by your name; do not leave us.

Verse 8b is likening God to a disinterested stranger.

Job 9:14-15 How then can I answer him, choosing my words with him? ¹⁵Though I am in the right, I cannot answer him; I must appeal for mercy to my accuser.^u 📖

^u Or to my judge

In view of God's great wisdom and power (cf. vv. 4-13), Job realizes that he could not successfully argue his case with God, even if he were innocent. All he could do would be to plead with God for mercy.

Ps 6:2 Be gracious to me, O LORD, for I am languishing; heal me, O LORD, for my bones are troubled. 📖

Graciousness (cf. Ps 119:132 ↓) and compassion (cf. Ps 79:8 ↓) are closely associated with mercy.

Ps 79:8 Do not remember against us our former iniquities;^v let your compassion come speedily to meet us, for we are brought very low. 📖

^v Or the iniquities of former generations

Ps 119:132 Turn to me and be gracious to me, as is your way with those who love your name. 📖

✚ Where applicable, appeal to God for justice:

Ps 17:1-2 Hear a just cause, O LORD; attend to my cry! Give ear to my prayer from lips free of deceit! ²From your presence let my vindication come! Let your eyes behold the right! 📖

Ask God for strength

Neh 6:9 For they all wanted to frighten us, thinking, “Their hands will drop from the work, and it will not be done.” But now, O God,^w strengthen my hands. 📖

^w Hebrew lacks O God

Ps 86:16 Turn to me and be gracious to me; give your strength to your servant, and save the son of your maidservant. 📖

Ps 119:28 My soul melts away for sorrow; strengthen me according to your word! 📖

Isa 33:2 O LORD, be gracious to us; we wait for you. Be our arm every morning, our salvation in the time of trouble. 📖

This use of “arm” is a figurative reference to strength (cf. AMP, CEV, NCV, NASB, NIV, NLT).

✚ Ask God to uphold you amidst trouble:

Ps 119:116-117 Uphold me according to your promise, that I may live, and let me not be put to shame in my hope! ¹¹⁷*Hold* me up, that I may be safe and have regard for your statutes continually!

Akin to asking for strength (cf. GNT), the psalmist asks God to support and sustain him.

Ask God to guide you

Ps 5:8 Lead me, O LORD, in your righteousness because of my enemies; make your way straight before me.

In asking to be led “in your righteousness”, David may be appealing to God to act in accordance with his righteousness (cf. CEV). Alternatively he may be asking to be led along a way that is in accordance with God’s righteousness – as appears to be the case with “Lead me in your truth” in 25:5 immediately below. (See also the comments below on 27:11 and 43:3.)

Ps 25:5 Lead me in your truth and teach me, for you are the God of my salvation; for you I wait all the day long.

Ps 27:11 Teach me your way, O LORD, and lead me on a level path because of my enemies.

In this context, a “level path” (cf. Ps 143:10 ↓) quite possibly means a “safe path” (GNT). Alternatively, it could be a “right path” (CEV; cf. NCV, NLT) encompassing both righteous living and the resultant stability and protection.

Ps 43:3 Send out your light and your truth; let them lead me; let them bring me to your holy hill and to your dwelling!

The reference could be to being guided by the “light” and “truth” of God’s word or ways (cf. Ps 25:5 ↑). However more likely the psalmist is asking God to guide him by God’s favour/salvation (“light”) and because of God’s faithfulness (“truth”).

Ps 139:24 *And see if there be any grievous way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting!

* Or in the ancient way (compare Jeremiah 6:16)

The term “the way everlasting” probably refers to the long-standing, time-proven ways of God (cf. CEV, NRSV text note), which will forever be the right and best way (cf. Nlrv). It has alternatively been interpreted to speak of the way that leads to “everlasting life” (NCV™, NLT).

Ps 143:8, 10 Let me hear in the morning of your steadfast love, for in you I trust. Make me know the way I should go, for to you I lift up my soul.  ... ¹⁰*Teach me to do your will, for you are my God! Let your good Spirit lead me on level ground!*

Ps 61:2 ... from the end of the earth I call to you when my heart is faint. Lead me to the rock that is higher than I, ...

The “rock that is higher than I” denotes a place of safety, that seems to be beyond the psalmist’s reach. Quite possibly it alludes to God himself (cf. vv. 3-4).

1Sam 30:8 And David inquired of the LORD, “Shall I pursue after this band? Shall I overtake them?” He answered him, “Pursue, for you shall surely overtake and shall surely rescue.”

David similarly asks God for guidance in the midst of warfare in 2 Samuel 2:1 and 5:19, 23. Note that David probably made such inquiries of God through the priest and the use of lots.

In Psalms 86:4 David similarly asks in a difficult time that God would bring joy to him: "Bring joy to your servant, for to you, O Lord, I lift up my soul."

Ask God to hear and answer your prayer . . .

Neh 1:6a ... let your ear be attentive and your eyes open, to hear the prayer of your servant that I now pray before you day and night for the people of Israel your servants, confessing the sins of the people of Israel, which we have sinned against you. 📖

David pleads with God to hear and answer his prayer (v. 7), as opposed to rejecting him (v. 9).

Ps 28:1-2 To you, O LORD, I call; my rock, be not deaf to me, lest, if you be silent to me, I become like those who go down to the pit. ²Hear the voice of my pleas for mercy, when I cry to you for help, when I lift up my hands toward your most holy sanctuary.^z 📖

Ps 141:1-2 O LORD, I call upon you; hasten to me! Give ear to my voice when I call to you! ²Let my prayer be counted as incense before you, and the lifting up of my hands as the evening sacrifice!

In v. 2 David asks that his prayer be acceptable to God like the stipulated daily incense offerings and evening sacrifice.

Dan 9:17-18 Now therefore, O our God, listen to the prayer of your servant and to his pleas for mercy, and for your own sake, O Lord,^a make your face to shine upon your sanctuary, which is desolate. ¹⁸O my God, incline your ear and hear. Open your eyes and see our desolations, and the city that is called by your name. For we do not present our pleas before you because of our righteousness, but because of your great mercy.

^a Hebrew for the Lord's sake

1Ki 8:28-30, 44-45, 52 Yet have regard to the prayer of your servant and to his plea, O LORD my God, listening to the cry and to the prayer that your servant prays before you this day, ²⁹that your eyes may be open night and day toward this house, the place of which you have said, 'My name shall be there,' that you may listen to the prayer that your servant offers toward this place. ³⁰And listen to the plea of your servant and of your people Israel, when they pray toward this place. And listen in heaven your dwelling place, and when you hear, forgive.  ... ⁴⁴'If your people go out to battle against their enemy, by whatever way you shall send them, and they pray to the LORD toward the city that you have chosen and the house that I have built for your name, ⁴⁵then hear in heaven their prayer and their plea, and maintain their cause.  ... ⁵²Let your eyes be open to the plea of your servant and to the plea of your people Israel, giving ear to them whenever they call to you.

Here just prior to the actual dedication of the temple, Solomon asks God to hear and answer his people's prayers for help. Note that the temple signified God's presence amongst his people, particularly as it contained the ark of the covenant. As such, when the people prayed to God, they prayed toward the temple (cf. Ps 28:2 ↑).

Ps 83:1 O God, do not keep silence; do not hold your peace or be still, O God!

Ps 86:3 Be gracious to me, O Lord, for to you do I cry all the day.

Ps 88:1, 9 O LORD, God of my salvation; I cry out day and night before you.  ... ⁹my eye grows dim through sorrow. Every day I call upon you, O LORD; I spread out my hands to you.

Luke 18:7-8 And will not God give justice to his elect, who cry to him day and night? Will he delay long over them? ⁸I tell you, he will give justice to them speedily. Nevertheless, when the Son of Man comes, will he find faith on earth?

1Tim 5:5 She who is truly a widow, left all alone, has set her hope on God and continues in supplications and prayers night and day, ...

✦ Denunciation of not turning to God in trouble:

Job 35:9-11 Because of the multitude of oppressions people cry out; they call for help because of the arm of the mighty.^c ¹⁰But none says, ‘Where is God my Maker, who gives songs in the night,’ ¹¹who teaches us more than the beasts of the earth and makes us wiser than the birds of the heavens?’

^c Or the many

Verse 9 is most likely not speaking of crying/calling out to God. As such this is censuring people for not calling on God (v. 10) in times of trouble (v. 9). But if v. 9 is speaking of crying out to God (cf. CEV), then Elihu would be condemning people for only calling on God in trouble without any intention of turning to him and his ways.

Note: Prayer asking for retribution for wicked enemies

In some respects at least, the following verses would appear to be at odds with some NT teaching – such as loving one’s enemies. But Christians can concur with these verses in at least the following aspects: the disdain of ungodliness; the acknowledgment of the ultimate fate of the ungodly who do not repent; and the desire for God’s justice to be manifested and vindicated.

Neh 4:4-5 Hear, O our God, for we are despised. Turn back their taunt on their own heads and give them up to be plundered in a land where they are captives. ⁵*Do not cover their guilt, and let not their sin be blotted out from your sight*, for they have provoked you to anger in the presence of the builders.

The reference is the wicked adversaries of those rebuilding the walls of Jerusalem.

Ps 28:4 Give to them according to their work and according to the evil of their deeds; give to them according to the work of their hands; render them their due reward.

Ps 35:4-8, 26 Let them be put to shame and dishonor who seek after my life! Let them be turned back and disappointed who devise evil against me! ⁵*Let them be like chaff before the wind, with the angel of the LORD driving them away!* ⁶*Let their way be dark and slippery, with the angel of the LORD pursuing them!* ⁷For without cause they hid their net for me; without cause they dug a pit for my life.^d ⁸*Let destruction come upon him when he does not know it! And let the net that he hid ensnare him; let him fall into it—to his destruction!*  ... ²⁶*Let them be put to shame and disappointed altogether who rejoice at my calamity! Let them be clothed with shame and dishonor who magnify themselves against me!*

^d The word pit is transposed from the preceding line; Hebrew For without cause they hid the pit of their net for me; without cause they dug for my life

Ps 54:5 He will return the evil to my enemies; in your faithfulness put an end to them.

Ps 69:21-28 They gave me poison for food, and for my thirst they gave me sour wine to drink. ²²*Let their own table before them become a snare; and when they are at peace, let it become a trap.*^e ²³*Let their eyes be darkened, so that they cannot see, and make their loins tremble continually.* ²⁴*Pour out your indignation upon them, and let your burning anger overtake them.* ²⁵*May their camp be a desolation; let no one dwell in their tents.* ²⁶For they persecute him whom you have struck down, and they recount the pain of those you have wounded. ²⁷*Add to them punishment upon punishment; may they have no acquittal from you.*^f ²⁸*Let them be blotted out of the book of the living; let them not be enrolled among the righteous.*

^e Hebrew; a slight revocalization yields (compare Septuagint, Syriac, Jerome) a snare, and retribution and a trap

^f Hebrew may they not come into your righteousness

In v. 22 "their own table before them" may well allude to the food metaphors depicting their ill treatment of the psalmist in v. 21. In v. 26 the psalmist speaks of the wicked persecuting those already suffering God's punishment.

Ps 109:29 May my accusers be clothed with dishonor; may they be wrapped in their own shame as in a cloak!

Ps 140:9-11 As for the head of those who surround me, let the mischief of their lips overwhelm them! ¹⁰*Let burning coals fall upon them! Let them be cast into fire, into miry pits, no more to rise!* ¹¹*Let not the slanderer be established in the land; let evil hunt down the violent man speedily!*

Jer 11:20 But, O LORD of hosts, who judges righteously, who tests the heart and the mind, let me see your vengeance upon them, for to you have I committed my cause.

Jer 12:3 But you, O LORD, know me; you see me, and test my heart toward you. Pull them out like sheep for the slaughter, and set them apart for the day of slaughter.

Jer 15:15 O LORD, you know; remember me and visit me, and take vengeance for me on my persecutors. In your forbearance take me not away; know that for your sake I bear reproach.

Jer 17:18 Let those be put to shame who persecute me, but let me not be put to shame; let them be dismayed, but let me not be dismayed; bring upon them the day of disaster; destroy them with double destruction!

2Ki 20:1-3 In those days Hezekiah became sick and was at the point of death. And Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz came to him and said to him, "Thus says the LORD, 'Set your house in order, for you shall die; you shall not recover.'" ²Then Hezekiah turned his face to the wall and prayed to the LORD, saying, ³"Now, O LORD, please remember how I have walked before you in faithfulness and with a whole heart, and have done what is good in your sight." And Hezekiah wept bitterly.

2Chr 14:11 And Asa cried to the LORD his God, "O LORD, there is none like you to help, between the mighty and the weak. Help us, O LORD our God, for we rely on you, and in your name we have come against this multitude. O LORD, you are our God; let not man prevail against you."

In the final sentence Asa appears to indicate that as the LORD was Judah's God, defeat for Judah would in effect be equivalent to defeat for the LORD.

Ps 5:2 Give attention to the sound of my cry, my King and my God, for to you do I pray.

In the last clause David quite possibly means that God was the only one that he would ever pray to (cf. NLT).

Ps 26:1-3, 6-8 Vindicate me, O LORD, for I have walked in my integrity, and I have trusted in the LORD without wavering. ²Prove me, O LORD, and try me; test my heart and my mind.ⁱ ³For your steadfast love is before my eyes, and I walk in your faithfulness.  ... ⁶I wash my hands in innocence and go around your altar, O LORD, ⁷proclaiming thanksgiving aloud, and telling all your wondrous deeds. ⁸O LORD, I love the habitation of your house and the place where your glory dwells.

ⁱ Hebrew test my kidneys and my heart

Along with the other things mentioned here, David's blamelessness (vv. 1, 6) is indicative of his devotion to God. In v.3a, David appears to mean that he persistently kept God's love in view. In v.3b, he is likely speaking either of being faithful to God (cf. AMP, CEV, NRSV) or living in a manner consistent with God's faithfulness, which likewise implies faithfulness to God.

Ps 28:9 Oh, save your people and bless your heritage! Be their shepherd and carry them forever.

In describing God's people as God's "heritage", David was emphasizing that they belonged to God as his "special possession" (NLT).

Ps 31:2-4 Incline your ear to me; rescue me speedily! Be a rock of refuge for me, a strong fortress to save me! ³For you are my rock and my fortress; and for your name's sake you lead me and guide me; ⁴you take me out of the net they have hidden for me, for you are my refuge.

As is implied in some of the other references (e.g. Ps 5:2 ↑; Ps 40:17 ↓; Ps 71:5-6 ↓; Ps 86:4 ↓), David seems to claim that God alone is the one to whom he has always looked for help and protection. And it is in part to this exclusive reliance on God that David appeals.

Ps 40:17 As for me, I am poor and needy, but the Lord takes thought for me. You are my help and my deliverer; do not delay, O my God!

Ps 44:4 You are my King, O God; ordain salvation for Jacob!

Ps 71:4-6 Rescue me, O my God, from the hand of the wicked, from the grasp of the unjust and cruel man. ⁵For you, O Lord, are my hope, my trust, O LORD, from my youth. ⁶Upon you I have leaned from before my birth; you are he who took me from my mother's womb. My praise is continually of you.

Ps 86:2, 4, 16 Preserve my life, for I am godly; save your servant, who trusts in you—you are my God.  ... ⁴Gladden the soul of your servant, for to you, O Lord, do I lift up my soul.  ... ¹⁶Turn to me and be gracious to me; give your strength to your servant, and save the son of your maidservant.

Ps 119:94, 121, 153, 173-174 I am yours; save me, for I have sought your precepts.  ... ¹²¹I have done what is just and right; do not leave me to my oppressors.  ... ¹⁵³Look on my affliction and deliver me, for I do not forget your law.  ... ¹⁷³Let your hand be ready to help me, for I have chosen your precepts. ¹⁷⁴I long for your salvation, O LORD, and your law is my delight.

In conjunction with his devotion to and relationship with God, in v. 121 the psalmist appeals to his righteous ways.

Jer 17:14 Heal me, O LORD, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved, for you are my praise.

... and God's promises to his people

Ps 119:28, 38, 41, 49, 58, 76, 116, 154, 170 My soul melts away for sorrow; strengthen me according to your word! ...³⁸*Confirm to your servant your promise, that you may be feared.* ...⁴¹*Let your steadfast love come to me, O LORD, your salvation according to your promise;* ...⁴⁹*Remember your word to your servant, in which you have made me hope.* ...⁵⁸*I entreat your favor with all my heart; be gracious to me according to your promise.* ...⁷⁶*Let your steadfast love comfort me according to your promise to your servant.* ...¹¹⁶*Uphold me according to your promise, that I may live, and let me not be put to shame in my hope!* ...¹⁵⁴*Plead my cause and redeem me; give me life according to your promise!* ...¹⁷⁰*Let my plea come before you; deliver me according to your word.*

Gen 32:11-12 *Please deliver me from the hand of my brother, from the hand of Esau, for I fear him, that he may come and attack me, the mothers with the children.*¹²*But you said, 'I will surely do you good, and make your offspring as the sand of the sea, which cannot be numbered for multitude.'*

Ex 32:12-13 Why should the Egyptians say, 'With evil intent did he bring them out, to kill them in the mountains and to consume them from the face of the earth'? *Turn from your burning anger and relent from this disaster against your people.*¹³*Remember Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, your servants, to whom you swore by your own self, and said to them, 'I will multiply your offspring as the stars of heaven, and all this land that I have promised I will give to your offspring, and they shall inherit it forever.'*

Neh 1:5-6, 8-11 And I said, "O LORD God of heaven, the great and awesome God who keeps covenant and steadfast love with those who love him and keep his commandments,⁶*let your ear be attentive and your eyes open, to hear the prayer of your servant that I now pray before you day and night for the people of Israel your servants, confessing the sins of the people of Israel, which we have sinned against you. Even I and my father's house have sinned.* ...⁸*Remember the word that you commanded your servant Moses, saying, 'If you are unfaithful, I will scatter you among the peoples,*⁹*but if you return to me and keep my commandments and do them, though your outcasts are in the uttermost parts of heaven, from there I will gather them and bring them to the place that I have chosen, to make my name dwell there.'*¹⁰They are your servants and your people, whom you have redeemed by your great power and by your strong hand.¹¹*O Lord, let your ear be attentive to the prayer of your servant, and to the* prayer of your servants who delight to fear your name, and give success to your servant today, and grant him mercy in the sight of this man." Now I was cupbearer to the king.

Twice Nehemiah appeals to promises of God (vv. 5, 8-9) before asking God to answer his prayer (vv. 6, 11).

Ps 74:19-20 *Do not deliver the soul of your dove to the wild beasts; do not forget the life of your poor forever.*²⁰*Have regard for the covenant, for the dark places of the land are full of the habitations of violence.*

Note that it is Israel that is referred to here as God's "dove" (v. 19), or "turtledove" (AMP, NASB, NRSV). As such the term appears to allude to God's love for Israel and possibly also to her defenselessness (cf. GNT).

Jer 14:21b ... remember and do not break your covenant with us.

This was part of an appeal to God for help (cf. vv. 7, 21 ↓).

The sake of God's "name"

The general thrust of the following prayer excerpts is that as the petitioners are God's people, for God to not save them and allow them to continue in their suffering – or be destroyed – would be a great slight on his name.

Ps 79:9-10a *Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory of your name; deliver us, and atone for our sins, for your name's sake!*¹⁰*Why should the nations say, "Where is their God?"*

Ps 109:21 But you, O GOD my Lord, deal on my behalf for your name's sake; because your steadfast love is good, deliver me!

Ps 143:11a For your name's sake, O LORD, preserve my life!

Jer 14:7, 21 Though our iniquities testify against us, act, O LORD, for your name's sake; for our backslidings are many; we have sinned against you. ...²¹*Do not spurn us, for your name's sake; do not dishonor your glorious throne; remember and do not break your covenant with us.*

In v. 21a, "your glorious throne" refers to the temple in Jerusalem, amidst and identified with his people who were enduring great hardship.

Dan 9:19 O Lord, hear; O Lord, forgive. O Lord, pay attention and act. Delay not, for your own sake, O my God, because your city and your people are called by your name.

Josh 7:8-9 O Lord, what can I say, when Israel has turned their backs before their enemies! ⁹For the Canaanites and all the inhabitants of the land will hear of it and will surround us and cut off our name from the earth. And what will you do for your great name? 📖

In view of Israel's defeat (v. 8) and subsequent increased vulnerability (v. 9a), Joshua effectively appeals to God to act on their behalf for the sake of his great name.

Ps 74:10, 22 How long, O God, is the foe to scoff? Is the enemy to revile your name forever? 📖 ... ²²*Arise, O God, defend your cause; remember how the foolish scoff at you all the day!* 📖

This was written sometime after the Babylonian defeat of Judah. With his people in exile and his temple destroyed (cf. vv. 3-7), the psalmist appeals to God to act – in part at least – for the sake of his name.

Ps 83:16, 18 Fill their faces with shame, that they may seek your name, O LORD. 📖 ... ¹⁸*that they may know that you alone, whose name is the LORD, are the Most High over all the earth.* 📖

Deut 9:27-28 Remember your servants, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. Do not regard the stubbornness of this people, or their wickedness or their sin, ²⁸*lest the land from which you brought us say, "Because the LORD was not able to bring them into the land that he promised them, and because he hated them, he has brought them out to put them to death in the wilderness."* 📖

In the face of God's threat to destroy the people because of their wickedness, Moses in effect appeals to the sake of God's name and reputation. He reasoned that if God destroyed the people the Egyptians may claim that he had done so because he was not able to take them into the land he had promised them.

✦ David asked God to exalt himself by saving him:

Ps 57:4-5 My soul is in the midst of lions; I lie down amid fiery beasts— the children of man, whose teeth are spears and arrows, whose tongues are sharp swords. ⁵*Be exalted, O God, above the heavens! Let your glory be over all the earth!* 📖

David implies that by delivering him from his predicament (v. 4), God would be exalted and glorified (v. 5).

Note: Believe that God will hear you and answer your prayer – and tell him so

The psalmists often concluded prayers for help by asserting that their requests would not go unheeded – as is the case with most, if not all, of the following references. Note that the following section – Praise and Rejoice in God – contains a number of verses that similarly reflect belief that God would hear and answer prayer in hard times.

Ps 6:7-9 My eye wastes away because of grief; it grows weak because of all my foes. ⁸Depart from me, all you workers of evil, for the LORD has heard the sound of my weeping. ⁹*The LORD has heard my plea; the LORD accepts my prayer.* 📖

Ps 22:19, 23-24 But you, O LORD, do not be far off! O you my help, come quickly to my aid! 📖 ... ²³You who fear the LORD, praise him! All you offspring of Jacob, glorify him, and stand in awe of him, all you offspring of Israel! ²⁴*For he has not despised or abhorred the affliction of the afflicted, and he has not hidden his face from him, but has heard, when he cried to him.* 📖

Ps 55:16-18 But I call to God, and the LORD will save me. ¹⁷Evening and morning and at noon I utter my complaint and moan, and he hears my voice. ¹⁸*He redeems my soul in safety from the battle that I wage, for many are arrayed against me.* 📖

Ps 17:6 I call upon you, for you will answer me, O God; incline your ear to me; hear my words. 📖

Ps 38:15 But for you, O LORD, do I wait; it is you, O Lord my God, who will answer. 📖

Ps 86:7 In the day of my trouble I call upon you, for you answer me. 📖

Although David speaks in general terms, this note of confidence in God's deliverance was written during a time of distress (cf. vv. 1-6, 14-17).

Ps 57:1-3 Be merciful to me, O God, be merciful to me, for in you my soul takes refuge; in the shadow of your wings I will take refuge, till the storms of destruction pass by. ²*I cry out to God Most High, to God who fulfills his purpose for me.* ³*He will send from heaven and save me; he will put to shame him who tramples on me. Selah God will send out his steadfast love and his faithfulness!* 📖

Ps 71:12, 20-21 O God, be not far from me; O my God, make haste to help me! ... ²⁰You who have made me see many troubles and calamities will revive me again; from the depths of the earth you will bring me up again. ²¹You will increase my greatness and comfort me again.

Ps 109:26, 28 Help me, O LORD my God! Save me according to your steadfast love! ... ²⁸Let them curse, but you will bless! They arise and are put to shame, but your servant will be glad!

2Chr 20:9 'If disaster comes upon us, the sword, judgment,^j or pestilence, or famine, we will stand before this house and before you—for your name is in this house—and cry out to you in our affliction, and you will hear and save.'

Praise and thank God amidst trouble

2Chr 20:15, 18-22 And he [Jahaziel] said, "Listen, all Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem and King Jehoshaphat: Thus says the LORD to you, 'Do not be afraid and do not be dismayed at this great horde, for the battle is not yours but God's. ... ¹⁸Then Jehoshaphat bowed his head with his face to the ground, and all Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem fell down before the LORD, worshiping the LORD. ¹⁹And the Levites, of the Kohathites and the Korahites, stood up to praise the LORD, the God of Israel, with a very loud voice. ²⁰And they rose early in the morning and went out into the wilderness of Tekoa. And when they went out, Jehoshaphat stood and said, "Hear me, Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem! Believe in the LORD your God, and you will be established; believe his prophets, and you will succeed." ²¹And when he had taken counsel with the people, he appointed those who were to sing to the LORD and praise him in holy attire, as they went before the army, and say, "Give thanks to the LORD, for his steadfast love endures forever." ²²And when they began to sing and praise, the LORD set an ambush against the men of Ammon, Moab, and Mount Seir, who had come against Judah, so that they were routed.

Presumably the worship, praise and thanksgiving would have had God's sure deliverance at least partly in view.

Job 1:20-21 Then Job arose and tore his robe and shaved his head and fell on the ground and worshiped. ²¹And he said, "Naked I came from my mother's womb, and naked shall I return. The LORD gave, and the LORD has taken away; blessed be the name of the LORD."

Ps 59:3, 16-17 For behold, they lie in wait for my life; fierce men stir up strife against me. For no transgression or sin of mine, O LORD, ... ¹⁶But I will sing of your strength; I will sing aloud of your steadfast love in the morning. For you have been to me a fortress and a refuge in the day of my distress. ¹⁷O my Strength, I will sing praises to you, for you, O God, are my fortress, the God who shows me steadfast love.

Ps 66:17 I cried to him with my mouth, and high praise was on^k my tongue.¹

^k Hebrew under

¹ Or and he was exalted with my tongue

The psalmist cried out to God for help, but also praised God in his prayer for help.

Ps 71:4-8, 14-20 Rescue me, O my God, from the hand of the wicked, from the grasp of the unjust and cruel man. ⁵For you, O Lord, are my hope, my trust, O LORD, from my youth. ⁶Upon you I have leaned from before my birth; you are he who took me from my mother's womb. My praise is continually of you. ⁷I have been as a portent to many, but you are my strong refuge. ⁸My mouth is filled with your praise, and with your glory all the day. ... ¹⁴But I will hope continually and will praise you yet more and more. ¹⁵My mouth will tell of your righteous acts, of your deeds of salvation all the day, for their number is past my knowledge. ¹⁶With the mighty deeds of the Lord GOD I will come; I will remind them of your righteousness, yours alone. ¹⁷O God, from my youth you have taught me, and I still proclaim your wondrous deeds. ¹⁸So even to old age and gray hairs, O God, do not forsake me, until I proclaim your might to another generation, your power to all those to come. ¹⁹Your righteousness, O God, reaches the high heavens. You who have done great things, O God, who is like you? ²⁰You who have made me see many troubles and calamities will revive me again; from the depths of the earth you will bring me up again. 📖

In v. 7a, the psalmist speaks of appearing to other people to be an example or a wonder, either as someone: who has suffered significantly, apparently in being punished by God; or who has been delivered by God from much trouble. In v. 15, the psalmist says that God had done far more in righteously bringing salvation than the psalmist could know (cf. AMP, CEV, NASB, NRSV).

Ps 109:1, 30-31 Be not silent, O God of my praise! 📖 ... ³⁰With my mouth I will give great thanks to the LORD; I will praise him in the midst of the throng. ³¹For he stands at the right hand of the needy one, to save him from those who condemn his soul to death. 📖

This concludes a psalm involving petition for help in great need (cf. vv. 1-5, 21-29). As such amidst his trouble, the psalmist speaks of praising God in light of his readiness to save the needy.

Acts 16:22-25 The crowd joined in attacking them, and the magistrates tore the garments off them and gave orders to beat them with rods. ²³And when they had inflicted many blows upon them, they threw them into prison, ordering the jailer to keep them safely. ²⁴Having received this order, he put them into the inner prison and fastened their feet in the stocks. ²⁵About midnight Paul and Silas were praying and singing hymns to God, and the prisoners were listening to them, ... 📖

✦ Give thanks in all circumstances:

1Thes 5:18 ... give thanks in all circumstances; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus for you. 📖

Rejoice in God amidst trouble

Ps 13:1-2, 5-6 How long, O LORD? Will you forget me forever? How long will you hide your face from me? ²How long must I take counsel in my soul and have sorrow in my heart all the day? How long shall my enemy be exalted over me? 📖 ... ⁵But I have trusted in your steadfast love; my heart shall rejoice in your salvation. ⁶I will sing to the LORD, because he has dealt bountifully with me. 📖

Despite God's apparent lack of concern and his troubles (vv. 1-2), the psalmist trusts in God's steadfast love, confident of God's salvation (v. 5). This leads the psalmist to rejoice (v. 5b) and sing praises to God for his goodness (v. 6).

Ps 28:1, 6-7 To you, O LORD, I call; my rock, be not deaf to me, lest, if you be silent to me, I become like those who go down to the pit. 📖 ... ⁶Blessed be the LORD! For he has heard the voice of my pleas for mercy. ⁷The LORD is my strength and my shield; in him my heart trusts, and I am helped; my heart exults, and with my song I give thanks to him. 📖

The tone of vv. 6-7 and particularly the phrase "my heart exults" (v. 7b) indicate that the psalmist rejoices, confident that God has heard his cry for mercy (v. 6b).

Ps 34:2 My soul makes its boast in the LORD; let the humble hear and be glad. 📖

David asserts that hearing of what God had done for him in adversity (cf. vv. 4-6) gives similarly afflicted people reason to be glad or "rejoice" (NASB, NIV) – not least because of the hope it provides them in their predicament.

Hab 3:17-19a Though the fig tree should not blossom, nor fruit be on the vines, the produce of the olive fail and the fields yield no food, the flock be cut off from the fold and there be no herd in the stalls, ¹⁸yet I will rejoice in the LORD; I will take joy in the God of my salvation. ¹⁹GOD, the Lord, is my strength; he makes my feet like the deer's; he makes me tread on my high places. 📖

2Cor 6:10 ... as sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; as poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing, yet possessing everything. 📖

Even amidst the sorrow Paul encountered in his work, Paul always had reason to rejoice.

Phil 4:4 Rejoice in the Lord always; again I will say, Rejoice. 📖

1Thes 5:16 Rejoice always, ... 📖

✦ “The joy of the LORD is your strength”:

Neh 8:10 Then he said to them, “Go your way. Eat the fat and drink sweet wine and send portions to anyone who has nothing ready, for this day is holy to our Lord. And do not be grieved, for the joy of the LORD is your strength.” 📖

The people – who had been weeping as they listened to the law (v. 9) – would draw strength from the joy they had in the LORD, with all the blessings that come from their relationship with God.

Determine and promise to praise and thank God for deliverance

Ps 42:10-11 As with a deadly wound in my bones, my adversaries taunt me, while they say to me all the day long, “Where is your God?” ¹¹Why are you cast down, O my soul, and why are you in turmoil within me? Hope in God; for I shall again praise him, my salvation and my God. 📖

Ps 43:1, 4 Vindicate me, O God, and defend my cause against an ungodly people, from the deceitful and unjust man deliver me! 📖 ... ⁴*Then I will go to the altar of God, to God my exceeding joy, and I will praise you with the lyre, O God, my God.* 📖

Ps 51:14-15 Deliver me from bloodguiltiness, O God, O God of my salvation, and my tongue will sing aloud of your righteousness. ¹⁵*O Lord, open my lips, and my mouth will declare your praise.* 📖

“O Lord, open my lips” (v. 15) appears to be a plea from David to answer his earlier requests for forgiveness and restoration (vv. 1-2, 7-14) so as to enable him to give praise to God with his mouth.

Ps 71:20-24 You who have made me see many troubles and calamities will revive me again; from the depths of the earth you will bring me up again. ²¹*You will increase my greatness and comfort me again.* ²²*I will also praise you with the harp for your faithfulness, O my God; I will sing praises to you with the lyre, O Holy One of Israel.* ²³*My lips will shout for joy, when I sing praises to you; my soul also, which you have redeemed.* ²⁴*And my tongue will talk of your righteous help all the day long, for they have been put to shame and disappointed who sought to do me hurt.* 📖

As with vv. 20-21, in vv. 23-24 the psalmist is probably confidently speaking of God redeeming him (cf. CEV, NCV) – at which such time he will praise God – rather than indicating that his redemption has already occurred.

Ps 79:9, 13 Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory of your name; deliver us, and atone for our sins, for your name's sake! 📖 ... ¹³*But we your people, the sheep of your pasture, will give thanks to you forever; from generation to generation we will recount your praise.* 📖

Ps 35:9-10, 17-18 Then my soul will rejoice in the LORD, exulting in his salvation. ¹⁰*All my bones shall say, “O LORD, who is like you, delivering the poor from him who is too strong for him, the poor and needy from him who robs him?”* 📖 ... ¹⁷How long, O Lord, will you look on? Rescue me from their destruction, my precious life from the lions! ¹⁸*I will thank you in the great congregation; in the mighty throng I will praise you.* 📖

1Chr 16:35 Say also: “Save us, O God of our salvation, and gather and deliver us from among the nations, that we may give thanks to your holy name, and glory in your praise.” 📖

The phrase “glory in your praise” speaks of exulting in praising God.

Ps 9:13-14 Be gracious to me, O LORD! See my affliction from those who hate me, O you who lift me up from the gates of death, ¹⁴*that I may recount all your praises, that in the gates of the daughter of Zion I may rejoice in your salvation.* 📖

Ps 119:175 Let my soul live and praise you, and let your rules help me. 📖

Ps 142:7 Bring me out of prison, that I may give thanks to your name! The righteous will surround me, for you will deal bountifully with me. 📖

Ps 88:10-11 Do you work wonders for the dead? Do the departed rise up to praise you? Selah ¹¹*Is your steadfast love declared in the grave, or your faithfulness in Abaddon?* 📖

In the face of death, the psalmist implies that in contrast to the dead he will praise God if he is delivered from his precarious predicament.

✦ The psalmist promised that if God delivered him, he would obey God:

Ps 119:134, 145-146 Redeem me from man's oppression, that I may keep your precepts. 📖 ... ¹⁴⁵*With my whole heart I cry; answer me, O LORD! I will keep your statutes.* ¹⁴⁶*I call to you; save me, that I may observe your testimonies.* 📖

Luke 18:41-43 “What do you want me to do for you?” He said, “Lord, let me recover my sight.” ⁴²And Jesus said to him, “Recover your sight; your faith has made you well.” ⁴³And immediately he recovered his sight and followed him, glorifying God. And all the people, when they saw it, gave praise to God.

2Cor 1:10-11 He delivered us from such a deadly peril, and he will deliver us. On him we have set our hope that he will deliver us again. ¹¹You also must help us by prayer, so that many will give thanks on our behalf for the blessing granted us through the prayers of many.

Here Paul speaks of other people giving thanks for his deliverance in response to prayer (cf. Luke 18:43 ↑).

Ps 50:15 ...and call upon me in the day of trouble; I will deliver you, and you shall glorify me.

Hannah rejoiced in God, delighting in his deliverance from both torment (cf. 1:6) and the humiliation of her childlessness, through the birth of Samuel.

Ps 14:7b When the LORD restores the fortunes of his people, let Jacob rejoice, let Israel be glad.

Ps 30:11-12 You have turned for me my mourning into dancing; you have loosed my sackcloth and clothed me with gladness, ¹²that my glory may sing your praise and not be silent. O LORD my God, I will give thanks to you forever!

Note that “my glory” (v. 12) alludes to one’s whole self.

Ps 126:1-3 When the LORD restored the fortunes of Zion, we were like those who dream. ²Then our mouth was filled with laughter, and our tongue with shouts of joy; then they said among the nations, “The LORD has done great things for them.” ³The LORD has done great things for us; we are glad.

Isa 52:7-9 How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him who brings good news, who publishes peace, who brings good news of happiness, who publishes salvation, who says to Zion, “Your God reigns.” ⁸The voice of your watchmen—they lift up their voice; together they sing for joy; for eye to eye they see the return of the LORD to Zion. ⁹Break forth together into singing, you waste places of Jerusalem, for the LORD has comforted his people; he has redeemed Jerusalem.

Joel 2:20-23 I will remove the northerner far from you, and drive him into a parched and desolate land, his vanguard^s into the eastern sea, and his rear guard^t into the western sea; the stench and foul smell of him will rise, for he has done great things. ²¹“Fear not, O land; be glad and rejoice, for the LORD has done great things!” ²²Fear not, you beasts of the field, for the pastures of the wilderness are green; the tree bears its fruit; the fig tree and vine give their full yield. ²³“Be glad, O children of Zion, and rejoice in the LORD your God, for he has given the early rain for your vindication; he has poured down for you abundant rain, the early and the latter rain, as before.

The “northerner” (v. 20) refers to an incredibly great plague of locusts that had brought desolation to the land.

Zeph 3:14-15 Sing aloud, O daughter of Zion; shout, O Israel! Rejoice and exult with all your heart, O daughter of Jerusalem! ¹⁵The LORD has taken away the judgments against you; he has cleared away your enemies. The King of Israel, the LORD, is in your midst; you shall never again fear evil.

Ps 35:27 Let those who delight in my righteousness shout for joy and be glad and say evermore, “Great is the LORD, who delights in the welfare of his servant!”

Here David calls upon others to rejoice in God’s deliverance of him from hard times. Similarly Isaiah 49:13 below figuratively calls on creation to rejoice in God’s deliverance of his people, reflective of their own joy.

Isa 49:13 Sing for joy, O heavens, and exult, O earth; break forth, O mountains, into singing! For the LORD has comforted his people and will have compassion on his afflicted.

God is near us in hard times and when we pray

See also:

- God is always with his people, p. 1125

Obviously God is always near us – or with us. However the following verses largely seem to suggest that in prayer and hard times we are more open to a deeper awareness or experience of God's presence.

Ps 34:18 The LORD is near to the brokenhearted and saves the crushed in spirit. ☞

Ps 119:150-151 They draw near who persecute me with evil purpose; they are far from your law. ¹⁵¹*But you are near, O LORD, and all your commandments are true.* ☞

Ps 145:18 The LORD is near to all who call on him, to all who call on him in truth. ☞

Deut 4:7 For what great nation is there that has a god so near to it as the LORD our God is to us, whenever we call upon him? ☞

God does not ignore the suffering and cries of the afflicted

Ps 22:24 For he has not despised or abhorred the affliction of the afflicted, and he has not hidden his face from him, but has heard, when he cried to him. ☞

Ps 9:12 For he who avenges blood is mindful of them; he does not forget the cry of the afflicted. ☞

Ps 31:22 I had said in my alarm,^v "I am cut off from your sight." But you heard the voice of my pleas for mercy when I cried to you for help. ☞

^v Or in my haste

Ps 69:33 For the LORD hears the needy and does not despise his own people who are prisoners. ☞

Ps 102:17 ... he regards the prayer of the destitute and does not despise their prayer. ☞

Ex 2:23-25 During those many days the king of Egypt died, and the people of Israel groaned because of their slavery and cried out for help. Their cry for rescue from slavery came up to

God. ²⁴And God heard their groaning, and God remembered his covenant with Abraham, with Isaac, and with Jacob. ²⁵God saw the people of Israel—and God knew.

Ex 3:7 Then the LORD said, “I have surely seen the affliction of my people who are in Egypt and have heard their cry because of their taskmasters. I know their sufferings, ...

Ex 22:22-23, 26-27 You shall not mistreat any widow or fatherless child. ²³If you do mistreat them, and they cry out to me, I will surely hear their cry, ... ²⁶If ever you take your neighbor’s cloak in pledge, you shall return it to him before the sun goes down, ²⁷for that is his only covering, and it is his cloak for his body; in what else shall he sleep? And if he cries to me, I will hear, for I am compassionate.

Job 34:28 ... so that they caused the cry of the poor to come to him, and he heard the cry of the afflicted—

Ps 106:44 Nevertheless, he looked upon their distress, when he heard their cry.

God comforts his people in hard times, and in delivering them

Ps 23:4 Even though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death,^w I will fear no evil, for you are with me; your rod and your staff, they comfort me.

^w Or the valley of deep darkness

The shepherd’s rod and staff were used to rescue, protect and guide the sheep. In this most famous of psalms, where God is spoken of as a shepherd, they are used to allude to God’s protection and guidance – which bring comfort to his people.

Ps 94:19 When the cares of my heart are many, your consolations cheer my soul.

The term “consolations” is indicative of “comfort” (GNT, NLT; cf. CEV, NCV).

Ps 119:50, 76 This is my comfort in my affliction, that your promise gives me life. ... ⁷⁶*Let your steadfast love comfort me according to your promise to your servant.*

God’s promise gave the psalmist reason to hope and so ask that God’s steadfast love would comfort him (v. 76).

Isa 12:1 You^x will say in that day: “I will give thanks to you, O LORD, for though you were angry with me, your anger turned away, that you might comfort me.

^x The Hebrew for you is singular in verse 1

Isa 40:1-2 Comfort, comfort my people, says your God. ²Speak tenderly to Jerusalem, and cry to her that her warfare^y is ended, that her iniquity is pardoned, that she has received from the LORD’s hand double for all her sins.

^y Or time of service

Isa 49:13 Sing for joy, O heavens, and exult, O earth; break forth, O mountains, into singing! For the LORD has comforted his people and will have compassion on his afflicted.

Isa 51:3, 12 For the LORD comforts Zion; he comforts all her waste places and makes her wilderness like Eden, her desert like the garden of the LORD; joy and gladness will be found in her, thanksgiving and the voice of song. ... ¹²*I, I am he who comforts you; who are you that you are afraid of man who dies, of the son of man who is made like grass, ...*

Isa 52:9 Break forth together into singing, you waste places of Jerusalem, for the LORD has comforted his people; he has redeemed Jerusalem.

Isa 61:1-3 The Spirit of the Lord GOD is upon me, because the LORD has anointed me to bring good news to the poor;^z he has sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to those who are bound;^a ²to proclaim the year of the LORD’s favor, and the day of vengeance of our God; to comfort all who mourn; ³*to grant to those who mourn in Zion— to give them a beautiful headdress instead of ashes, the oil of gladness instead of mourning, the garment of praise instead of a faint spirit; that they may be called oaks of righteousness, the planting of the LORD, that he may be glorified.*^b

^z Or afflicted

^a Or the opening [of the eyes] to those who are blind; Septuagint and recovery of sight to the blind

^b Or that he may display his beauty

Verses 1-2a of this prophecy were fulfilled by Jesus as he stated in Luke 4:18-21. References to the poor, the brokenhearted, the captives and the like may well have a literal application but they are usually viewed in a spiritual sense (cf. Matt 5:4 ↓). Most commentators interpret Jesus concluding his quotation immediately prior to “the day of vengeance of our God” to indicate that he will fulfill the remainder of the prophecy on his second coming.

Isa 66:13 As one whom his mother comforts, so I will comfort you; you shall be comforted in Jerusalem.

Jer 31:13 Then shall the young women rejoice in the dance, and the young men and the old shall be merry. I will turn their mourning into joy; I will comfort them, and give them gladness for sorrow. 📖

Matt 5:4 Blessed are those who mourn, for they shall be comforted. 📖

2Cor 1:3-5 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort, who comforts us in all our affliction, so that we may be able to comfort those who are in any affliction, with the comfort with which we ourselves are comforted by God. ⁵*For as we share abundantly in Christ's sufferings, so through Christ we share abundantly in comfort too.*^c 📖

^c Or For as the sufferings of Christ abound for us, so also our comfort abounds through Christ

Verse 5 is speaking of God's comfort overflowing into our lives through Christ (cf. NCV, NLT).

2Cor 7:6 But God, who comforts the downcast, comforted us by the coming of Titus, ... 📖

Phil 2:1 So if there is any encouragement in Christ, any comfort from love, any participation in the Spirit, any affection and sympathy, ... 📖

This appears to be speaking of comfort from Christ's love (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV, NLT). In referring to this comfort, Paul may well have had in view the hard time that the Philippians were enduring, spoken of in the verses immediately preceding this (cf. 1:29-30).

✦ A blessing pertaining to Christ's and God's comfort:

2Thes 2:16-17 Now may our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God our Father, who loved us and gave us eternal comfort and good hope through grace, comfort your hearts and establish them in every good work and word. 📖

Paul prays that they would be comforted and given strength in everything they do and say for the Lord.

Ps 32:6 Therefore let everyone who is godly offer prayer to you at a time when you may be found; surely in the rush of great waters, they shall not reach him. 📖

^d Or Make thanksgiving your sacrifice to God

Ps 55:17-18, 22 Evening and morning and at noon I utter my complaint and moan, and he hears my voice. ¹⁸*He redeems my soul in safety from the battle that I wage, for many are arrayed against me.* 📖 ... ²²*Cast your burden on the LORD, and he will sustain you; he will never permit the righteous to be moved.* 📖

Ps 91:14-15 Because he holds fast to me in love, I will deliver him; I will protect him, because he knows my name. ¹⁵*When he calls to me, I will answer him; I will be with him in trouble; I will rescue him and honor him.* 📖

Ps 145:18-19 The LORD is near to all who call on him, to all who call on him in truth. ¹⁹*He fulfills the desire of those who fear him; he also hears their cry and saves them.* 📖

The phrase "in truth" may refer to one or more of: sincerity (cf. CEV, GNT, NLT); righteous integrity; and genuine faith.

Luke 18:7-8 And will not God give justice to his elect, who cry to him day and night? Will he delay long over them? ⁸*I tell you, he will give justice to them speedily.* Nevertheless, when the Son of Man comes, will he find faith on earth? 📖

Note that v. 8b points to the need to persist in faith (cf. AMP) – as is required in persistence in prayer – doing so until Christ's return.

Ps 18:6, 16-21, 24-27 In my distress I called upon the LORD; to my God I cried for help. From his temple he heard my voice, and my cry to him reached his ears. 📖 ... ¹⁶*He sent from on high, he took me; he drew me out of many waters.* ¹⁷*He rescued me from my strong enemy and from those who hated me, for* they were too mighty for me. ¹⁸They confronted me in the day of my calamity, but the LORD was my support. ¹⁹He brought me out into a broad place; he rescued me, because he delighted in me. ²⁰The LORD dealt with me according to my righteousness; according to the cleanness of my hands he rewarded me. ²¹For I have kept the ways of the LORD, and have not wickedly departed from my God. ... ²⁴So the LORD has rewarded me according to my righteousness, according to the cleanness of my hands in his sight. ²⁵With the merciful you show yourself merciful; with the blameless man you show yourself blameless; ²⁶with the purified you show yourself pure; and with the crooked you make yourself seem tortuous. ²⁷For you save a humble people, but the haughty eyes you bring down. ...

David cried to the LORD (v. 6), who rescued him (vv. 16-19), according to David's righteousness (vv. 20-27).

... God has compassion on his people, saving and blessing them

In association with his vindication of his people, God would have compassion on them and take action accordingly. Note that "there is none remaining, bond or free" may well have exile in view.

Judg 2:18 Whenever the LORD raised up judges for them, the LORD was with the judge, and he saved them from the hand of their enemies all the days of the judge. For the LORD was moved to pity by their groaning because of those who afflicted and oppressed them. ...

Note that "pity" (cf. Ps 102:13 ↓; Isa 49:10 ↓; Isa 63:9 ↓) is akin to "compassion", but also involves a sense of sorrow. Similarly "mercy" (cf. Ps 103:4 ↓) involves compassion.

Ps 102:13 You will arise and have pity on Zion; it is the time to favor her; the appointed time has come. ...

Ps 103:4 ... who redeems your life from the pit, who crowns you with steadfast love and mercy, ...

The second part of the verse speaks of the blessing and enrichment that God's love and mercy bring to his people.

Isa 49:10, 13-15 ... they shall not hunger or thirst, neither scorching wind nor sun shall strike them, for he who has pity on them will lead them, and by springs of water will guide them. ... ¹³Sing for joy, O heavens, and exult, O earth; break forth, O mountains, into singing! For the LORD has comforted his people and will have compassion on his afflicted. ¹⁴But Zion said, "The LORD has forsaken me; my Lord has forgotten me." ¹⁵"Can a woman forget her nursing child, that she should have no compassion on the son of her womb? Even these may forget, yet I will not forget you. ...

Note that Psalms 136:23 also speaks of God not forgetting his people in hard times – "It is he who remembered us in our low estate, for his steadfast love endures forever; ..."

Isa 54:7-8 For a brief moment I deserted you, but with great compassion I will gather you. ⁸In overflowing anger for a moment I hid my face from you, but with everlasting love I will have compassion on you," says the LORD, your Redeemer. ...

Isa 63:7, 9 I will recount the steadfast love of the LORD, the praises of the LORD, according to all that the LORD has granted us, and the great goodness to the house of Israel that he has granted them according to his compassion, according to the abundance of his steadfast love. ... ⁹In all their affliction he was afflicted,^f and the angel of his presence saved them; in his love and in his pity he redeemed them; he lifted them up and carried them all the days of old. ...

^f Or he did not afflict

"In all their affliction he was afflicted" (v. 9) underlines God's empathy for his people, a key factor motivating his compassionate acts (vv. 7, 9).

Jer 12:15 And after I have plucked them up, I will again have compassion on them, and I will bring them again each to his heritage and each to his land. ...

The reference is actually to ungodly nations, who God would pluck out of their lands, sending them into exile. God's compassion on them is aimed at their repentance (cf. vv. 16-17).

Lam 3:22, 32 The steadfast love of the LORD never ceases;^g his mercies never come to an end; ... ³²but, though he cause grief, he will have compassion according to the abundance of his steadfast love; ...

I. The Persecution of God's People

The Bible warns that faithfully following God inevitably results in persecution and difficulties. In fact in a number of countries today severe persecution of Christians is common. Additionally, the Bible speaks of a time just prior to Jesus Christ's return when persecution will be severe worldwide. But along with such warnings, the Bible gives wonderful and powerful promises of God's care for his people in the face of persecution.

Following God and Jesus Christ results in persecution . . .

2Tim 3:12 Indeed, all who desire to live a godly life in Christ Jesus will be persecuted, ...

Matt 10:25b If they have called the master of the house Beelzebul, how much more will they malign^a those of his household.

^a Greek lacks will they malign

Jesus is referring primarily to himself and his disciples (cf. John 15:20-21 ↓).

John 15:20-21 Remember the word that I said to you: 'A servant is not greater than his master.' If they persecuted me, they will also persecute you. If they kept my word, they will also keep yours. ²¹*But all these things they will do to you on account of my name, because they do not know him who sent me.*

John 16:1-4 I have said all these things to you to keep you from falling away. ²They will put you out of the synagogues. Indeed, the hour is coming when whoever kills you will think he is offering service to God. ³And they will do these things because they have not known the Father, nor me. ⁴But I have said these things to you, that when their hour comes you may remember that I told them to you. "I did not say these things to you from the beginning, because I was with you.

"I have said all these things to you" (v. 1) refers to what Jesus had told his disciples towards the end of the preceding chapter regarding the world's hatred of them (cf. 15:18-25). Jesus warned his disciples of coming persecution so as to prepare them for it (vv. 1, 4).

Acts 8:1, 3 And Saul approved of his execution. And there arose on that day a great persecution against the church in Jerusalem, and they were all scattered throughout the regions of Judea and Samaria, except the apostles.  ... ³*But Saul was ravaging the church, and entering house after house, he dragged off men and women and committed them to prison.*

Acts 26:9, 11 I myself was convinced that I ought to do many things in opposing the name of Jesus of Nazareth.  ... ¹¹*And I punished them often in all the synagogues and tried to make them blaspheme, and in raging fury against them I persecuted them even to foreign cities.*

Opposing the name of Jesus (v. 9) primarily involved persecuting his followers (cf. NLT), as reflected in v. 11b.

Gal 1:13 For you have heard of my former life in Judaism, how I persecuted the church of God violently and tried to destroy it.

Gal 4:29 But just as at that time he who was born according to the flesh persecuted him who was born according to the Spirit, so also it is now.

Ishmael who was born to Abraham in the ordinary way mocked Isaac (cf. Gen 21:9) who was born to Abraham by the power of the Spirit, with God having enabled barren Sarah to conceive him. Similarly the legalistic Jews who advocated following the law so as to earn righteousness, persecuted the believers whose righteousness was through the Spirit. Furthermore, this points to the general principle that those who are of the world persecute those who are reborn by the Spirit.

Gal 6:12 It is those who want to make a good showing in the flesh who would force you to be circumcised, and only in order that they may not be persecuted for the cross of Christ.

1Thes 3:3-4, 7 ... that no one be moved by these afflictions. For you yourselves know that we are destined for this. ⁴For when we were with you, we kept telling you beforehand that we were to suffer affliction, just as it has come to pass, and just as you know. ... ⁷for this reason, brothers,^b in all our distress and affliction we have been comforted about you through your faith.

^b Or brothers and sisters

1Pet 4:16-18 Yet if anyone suffers as a Christian, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorify God in that name. ¹⁷For it is time for judgment to begin at the household of God; and if it begins with us, what will be the outcome for those who do not obey the gospel of God? ¹⁸And "If the righteous is scarcely saved, what will become of the ungodly and the sinner?"^c

^c Greek where will the ungodly and sinner appear?

The judgment of the family of God (v. 17) refers to the persecution that believers experience (v. 16), a form of disciplinary or purifying judgment. This testing judgment endured by believers as they follow the path of salvation, appears to be what Peter has in view in referring to the righteous being "scarcely saved" (v. 18).

Rev 12:17a Then the dragon became furious with the woman and went off to make war on the rest of her offspring, on those who keep the commandments of God and hold to the testimony of Jesus.

The "dragon" is Satan. In making war against God's people, one of Satan's main tactics is to persecute them.

Ps 119:86 All your commandments are sure; they persecute me with falsehood; help me!

The persecution that the psalmist suffered may well have been related to his devotion to God's word and ways.

Matt 11:12 From the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven has suffered violence,^d and the violent take it by force.

^d Or has been coming violently

The phrase "has suffered violence" seemingly refers to persecution of believers. Accordingly, the following clause – "the violent take it by force" – may be speaking of violent people attacking the kingdom. Alternatively, the first phrase could be speaking of the kingdom "going forward in strength" (NCV™; cf. ESV text note), with the latter phrase then likely referring to fervent people pressing their way into the kingdom.

... It brings all kinds of hardships and suffering

The hardships and suffering referred to in the following verses are largely ones resulting from persecution, but in some verses other things are possibly also in view – such as appears to be the case in Romans 8:35.

Acts 14:22 ...strengthening the souls of the disciples, encouraging them to continue in the faith, and saying that through many tribulations we must enter the kingdom of God.

Acts 9:15-16 But the Lord said to him, "Go, for he is a chosen instrument of mine to carry my name before the Gentiles and kings and the children of Israel. ¹⁶For I will show him how much he must suffer for the sake of my name."

Acts 20:23 ... except that the Holy Spirit testifies to me in every city that imprisonment and afflictions await me.

Rom 8:35 Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? Shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or danger, or sword?

Likely the things listed were mentioned as things that the believers were possibly to face because of their faith.

2Cor 1:8 For we do not want you to be ignorant, brothers,^e of the affliction we experienced in Asia. For we were so utterly burdened beyond our strength that we despaired of life itself.

^e Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated "brothers") refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God's family, the church

Phil 1:29-30 For it has been granted to you that for the sake of Christ you should not only believe in him but also suffer for his sake, ³⁰engaged in the same conflict that you saw I had and now hear that I still have.

Heb 10:32-33 But recall the former days when, after you were enlightened, you endured a hard struggle with sufferings, ³³sometimes being publicly exposed to reproach and affliction, and sometimes being partners with those so treated.

1Pet 1:6 In this you rejoice, though now for a little while, if necessary, you have been grieved by various trials, ...

1Pet 5:9 Resist him, firm in your faith, knowing that the same kinds of suffering are being experienced by your brotherhood throughout the world.

Note that this shows that believers should draw strength in the knowledge that they are not alone, but part of a fellowship of suffering believers.

Rev 1:9 I, John, your brother and partner in the tribulation and the kingdom and the patient endurance that are in Jesus, was on the island called Patmos on account of the word of God and the testimony of Jesus.

Gal 6:17 From now on let no one cause me trouble, for I bear on my body the marks of Jesus.

The term “marks of Jesus” alludes to the markings that identified slaves as belonging to a particular master. Paul is implying that likewise his scars from his sufferings identified him as belonging to Jesus (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NLT).

✦ Suffering as being part of God’s will for a believer:

1Pet 4:19 Therefore let those who suffer according to God’s will entrust their souls to a faithful Creator while doing good.

Similarly 3:17 indicates that suffering for simply doing good can be God’s will – “For it is better to suffer for doing good, if that should be God’s will, than for doing evil.”

Spreading the gospel can lead to opposition . . .

Acts 13:7-8 He was with the proconsul, Sergius Paulus, a man of intelligence, who summoned Barnabas and Saul and sought to hear the word of God. ⁸*But Elymas the magician (for that is the meaning of his name) opposed them, seeking to turn the proconsul away from the faith.*

Acts 14:1-2 Now at Iconium they entered together into the Jewish synagogue and spoke in such a way that a great number of both Jews and Greeks believed. ²*But the unbelieving Jews stirred up the Gentiles and poisoned their minds against the brothers.*^f

^f Or brothers and sisters

Acts 13:45 But when the Jews saw the crowds, they were filled with jealousy and began to contradict what was spoken by Paul, reviling him.

Acts 19:8-9 And he entered the synagogue and for three months spoke boldly, reasoning and persuading them about the kingdom of God. ⁹*But when some became stubborn and continued in unbelief, speaking evil of the Way before the congregation, he withdrew from them and took the disciples with him, reasoning daily in the hall of Tyrannus.*^g

^g Some manuscripts add from the fifth hour to the tenth (that is, from 11 A.M. to 4 P.M.)

1Cor 16:8-9 But I will stay in Ephesus until Pentecost, ⁹*for a wide door for effective work has opened to me, and there are many adversaries.*

Phil 1:27-28a Only let your manner of life be worthy^h of the gospel of Christ, so that whether I come and see you or am absent, I may hear of you that you are standing firm in one spirit, with one mind striving side by side for the faith of the gospel, ²⁸*and not frightened in anything by your opponents.*

^h Greek Only behave as citizens worthy

The segment “striving side by side for the faith of the gospel” probably refers primarily to spreading the gospel (cf. CEV, NIV).

Phil 3:18 For many, of whom I have often told you and now tell you even with tears, walk as enemies of the cross of Christ.

Many live in opposition to the gospel, that is centered on “the cross of Christ” (cf. 1Cor 16:8-9 ↑).

1Thes 2:2 But though we had already suffered and been shamefully treated at Philippi, as you know, we had boldness in our God to declare to you the gospel of God in the midst of much conflict.

1Thes 2:14-16 For you, brothers, became imitators of the churches of God in Christ Jesus that are in Judea. For you suffered the same things from your own countrymen as they did from the Jews, ¹⁵*who killed both the Lord Jesus and the prophets, and drove us out, and displease God and oppose all mankind* ¹⁶*by hindering us from speaking to the Gentiles that they might be saved*—so as always to fill up the measure of their sins. But God’s wrath has come upon them at last!ⁱ

ⁱ Or completely, or forever

This appears to indicate that the opposition of the Jews to the gospel was not only displeasing to God, but even produced hostility towards unconverted Gentiles who were potential respondents to the gospel.

2Tim 4:15 Beware of him yourself, for he strongly opposed our message.

... and spreading the gospel can result in persecution

Acts 4:1-3 And as they were speaking to the people, the priests and the captain of the temple and the Sadducees came upon them, ²greatly annoyed because they were teaching the people and proclaiming in Jesus the resurrection from the dead. ³And they arrested them and put them in custody until the next day, for it was already evening. 📖

Acts 5:40 ... and when they had called in the apostles, they beat them and charged them not to speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go. 📖

Acts 6:8-13 And Stephen, full of grace and power, was doing great wonders and signs among the people. ⁹Then some of those who belonged to the synagogue of the Freedmen (as it was called), and of the Cyrenians, and of the Alexandrians, and of those from Cilicia and Asia, rose up and disputed with Stephen. ¹⁰But they could not withstand the wisdom and the Spirit with which he was speaking. ¹¹Then they secretly instigated men who said, "We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Moses and God." ¹²And they stirred up the people and the elders and the scribes, and they came upon him and seized him and brought him before the council, ¹³and they set up false witnesses who said, "This man never ceases to speak words against this holy place and the law, ... 📖

No doubt Stephen's ministry (v. 8) involved spreading the gospel, which is also possibly in view in v. 10; hence the opposition.

Acts 13:49-50 And the word of the Lord was spreading throughout the whole region. ⁵⁰But the Jews incited the devout women of high standing and the leading men of the city, stirred up persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and drove them out of their district. 📖

Col 4:3 At the same time, pray also for us, that God may open to us a door for the word, to declare the mystery of Christ, on account of which I am in prison— 📖

2Tim 1:8, 11-12a Therefore do not be ashamed of the testimony about our Lord, nor of me his prisoner, but share in suffering for the gospel by the power of God, 📖 ... ¹¹*for which I was appointed a preacher and apostle and teacher*, ¹²*which is why I suffer as I do*. 📖

Rev 1:9 I, John, your brother and partner in the tribulation and the kingdom and the patient endurance that are in Jesus, was on the island called Patmos on account of the word of God and the testimony of Jesus. 📖

Patmos is a small island and was apparently used as a penal colony. John was imprisoned there because of his faithfulness to the gospel.

Rev 6:9 When he opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of those who had been slain for the word of God and for the witness they had borne. 📖

Rev 17:6a And I saw the woman, drunk with the blood of the saints, the blood of the martyrs of Jesus.^j 📖

^j Greek the witnesses to Jesus

The "woman" referred to here is the symbolic "Babylon the Great". As the text note indicates, "the martyrs of Jesus" were witnesses to Jesus.

God's people are hated

Matt 10:22 ... and you will be hated by all for my name's sake. But the one who endures to the end will be saved. 📖

Here "all" could be hyperbole, but more likely refers to all types or classes of people (cf. "all nations", Matt 24:9 ↓).

Matt 24:9 Then they will deliver you up to tribulation and put you to death, and you will be hated by all nations for my name's sake. 📖

John 15:18-19 If the world hates you, know that it has hated me before it hated you. ¹⁹If you were of the world, the world would love you as its own; but because you are not of the world, but I chose you out of the world, therefore the world hates you. 📖

John 17:14 I have given them your word, and the world has hated them because they are not of the world, just as I am not of the world. 📖

1Jn 3:13 Do not be surprised, brothers,^k that the world hates you. 📖

^k Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated "brothers") refers to siblings in a family. In

New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God's family, the church; also verses 14, 16

Luke 6:22 Blessed are you when people hate you and when they exclude you and revile you and spurn your name as evil, on account of the Son of Man! 📖

1Ki 22:8 And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, "There is yet one man by whom we may inquire of the LORD, Micaiah the son of Imlah, but I hate him, for he never prophesies good concerning me, but evil." And Jehoshaphat said, "Let not the king say so." 📖

Ahab hated Micaiah because he prophesied faithfully God's word, rather than tailor his message to what the king wanted to hear.

Isa 66:5 Hear the word of the LORD, you who tremble at his word: "Your brothers who hate you and cast you out for my name's sake have said, 'Let the LORD be glorified, that we may see your joy'; but it is they who shall be put to shame. 📖

God's people may face plots against them

2Chr 24:21 But they conspired against him [Zechariah son of Jehoiada], and by command of the king they stoned him with stones in the court of the house of the LORD. 📖

Neh 6:2 Sanballat and Geshem sent to me, saying, "Come and let us meet together at Hakkephirim in the plain of Ono." But they intended to do me harm. 📖

Jer 11:18-19 The LORD made it [a plot] known to me and I knew; then you showed me their deeds. ¹⁹But I was like a gentle lamb led to the slaughter. I did not know it was against me they devised schemes, saying, "Let us destroy the tree with its fruit, let us cut him off from the land of the living, that his name be remembered no more." 📖

Jer 18:18, 23a Then they said, "Come, let us make plots against Jeremiah, for the law shall not perish from the priest, nor counsel from the wise, nor the word from the prophet. Come, let us strike him with the tongue, and let us not pay attention to any of his words." 📖 ... ²³Yet you, O LORD, know all their plotting to kill me. 📖

Note that in v. 18 Jeremiah's opponents appear to imply that they could do without him, for they still would have their priests, wise men and supposed prophets.

Acts 9:23-24 When many days had passed, the Jews plotted to kill him, ²⁴*but their plot became known to Saul. They were watching the gates day and night in order to kill him, ...* 📖

Acts 20:3 There he spent three months, and when a plot was made against him by the Jews as he was about to set sail for Syria, he decided to return through Macedonia. 📖

Acts 20:18b-19 You yourselves know how I lived among you the whole time from the first day that I set foot in Asia, ¹⁹*-serving the Lord with all humility and with tears and with trials that happened to me through the plots of the Jews; ...* 📖

Acts 23:12-15 When it was day, the Jews made a plot and bound themselves by an oath neither to eat nor drink till they had killed Paul. ¹³*There were more than forty who made this conspiracy.* ¹⁴They went to the chief priests and elders and said, "We have strictly bound ourselves by an oath to taste no food till we have killed Paul. ¹⁵Now therefore you, along with the council, give notice to the tribune to bring him down to you, as though you were going to determine his case more exactly. And we are ready to kill him before he comes near." 📖

✚ Amidst their scheming, many waited for Jeremiah to slip:

Jer 20:10 For I hear many whispering. Terror is on every side! "Denounce him! Let us denounce him!" say all my close friends, watching for my fall. "Perhaps he will be deceived; then we can overcome him and take our revenge on him." 📖

"Terror is on every side" could be a description (possibly a derisive one) of Jeremiah and his predicament, effectively calling him "The Man Who Lives in Terror" (NLT). The use of "friends" is either sarcasm or referring to former friends – "old friends" (NLT), "so-called friends" (CEV).

Ridicule

2Chr 36:16 But they kept mocking the messengers of God, despising his words and scoffing at his prophets, until the wrath of the LORD rose against his people, until there was no remedy.

Neh 4:1-3 ¹ Now when Sanballat heard that we were building the wall, he was angry and greatly enraged, and he jeered at the Jews. ²And he said in the presence of his brothers and of the army of Samaria, "What are these feeble Jews doing? Will they restore it for themselves?^m Will they sacrifice? Will they finish up in a day? Will they revive the stones out of the heaps of rubbish, and burned ones at that?" ³Tobiah the Ammonite was beside him, and he said, "Yes, what they are building—if a fox goes up on it he will break down their stone wall!"

^m Or Will they commit themselves to God?

On returning from exile, the Jews faced ridicule when rebuilding the walls of Jerusalem.

Ps 22:6-8 But I am a worm and not a man, scorned by mankind and despised by the people. ⁷All who see me mock me; they make mouths at me; they wag their heads; ⁸"He trusts in the LORD; let him deliver him; let him rescue him, for he delights in him!"

Ps 42:10 As with a deadly wound in my bones, my adversaries taunt me, while they say to me all the day long, "Where is your God?"

With their taunt the psalmist's foes appear to ridicule him, probably calling into question the capacity of his God in whom he trusted to help him.

Ps 69:7-12 For it is for your sake that I have borne reproach, that dishonor has covered my face. ⁸I have become a stranger to my brothers, an alien to my mother's sons. ⁹For zeal for your house has consumed me, and the reproaches of those who reproach you have fallen on me. ¹⁰When I wept and humbledⁿ my soul with fasting, it became my reproach. ¹¹When I made sackcloth my clothing, I became a byword to them. ¹²I am the talk of those who sit in the gate, and the drunkards make songs about me.

ⁿ Hebrew lacks and humbled

The use of "reproach" here is suggestive of insults (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV, NLT).

Jer 17:15 Behold, they say to me, "Where is the word of the LORD? Let it come!"

Sarcasm is evident here.

Jer 20:7b-8 I have become a laughingstock all the day; everyone mocks me. ⁸For whenever I speak, I cry out, I shout, "Violence and destruction!" For the word of the LORD has become for me a reproach and derision all day long.

Jeremiah's warnings of coming judgment brought him derision from the unrepentant people of Jerusalem.

Acts 2:4, 13 And they were all filled with the Holy Spirit and began to speak in other tongues as the Spirit gave them utterance. ... ¹³But others mocking said, "They are filled with new wine."

Acts 17:32 Now when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some mocked. But others said, "We will hear you again about this."

Verbal abuse

Acts 13:45 But when the Jews saw the crowds, they were filled with jealousy and began to contradict what was spoken by Paul, reviling him.

Acts 18:6 And when they opposed and reviled him, he shook out his garments and said to them, "Your blood be on your own heads! I am innocent. From now on I will go to the Gentiles."

1Cor 4:12b When reviled, we bless; when persecuted, we endure; ...

1Pet 4:4 With respect to this they are surprised when you do not join them in the same flood of debauchery, and they malign you; ...

Jer 15:10 Woe is me, my mother, that you bore me, a man of strife and contention to the whole land! I have not lent, nor have I borrowed, yet all of them curse me.

In a sense cursing is a form of verbal abuse – as per the theme of this subsection – particularly if unwarranted.

Lies and slander

Matt 5:11 Blessed are you when others revile you and persecute you and utter all kinds of evil against you falsely on my account. 📖

Acts 6:11-14 Then they secretly instigated men who said, “We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Moses and God.”¹²And they stirred up the people and the elders and the scribes, and they came upon him and seized him and brought him before the council,¹³and they set up false witnesses who said, “This man never ceases to speak words against this holy place and the law,¹⁴for we have heard him say that this Jesus of Nazareth will destroy this place and will change the customs that Moses delivered to us.” 📖

Acts 24:5-6, 9 For we have found this man a plague [Paul], one who stirs up riots among all the Jews throughout the world and is a ringleader of the sect of the Nazarenes.⁶He even tried to profane the temple, but we seized him.⁹...⁹The Jews also joined in the charge, affirming that all these things were so. 📖

° Some manuscripts add and we would have judged him according to our law. 7But the chief captain Lysias came and with great violence took him out of our hands, 8commanding his accusers to come before you.

Rom 3:8 And why not do evil that good may come?—as some people slanderously charge us with saying. Their condemnation is just. 📖

1Cor 4:13 ... when slandered, we entreat. We have become, and are still, like the scum of the world, the refuse of all things. 📖

1Pet 2:12 Keep your conduct among the Gentiles honorable, so that when they speak against you as evildoers, they may see your good deeds and glorify God on the day of visitation. 📖

1Pet 3:16 ... having a good conscience, so that, when you are slandered, those who revile your good behavior in Christ may be put to shame. 📖

3Jn 1:10a So if I come, I will bring up what he is doing, talking wicked nonsense against us. 📖

Rev 2:9 I know your tribulation and your poverty (but you are rich) and the slander^ρ of those who say that they are Jews and are not, but are a synagogue of Satan. 📖

^ρ Greek blasphemy

Jesus Christ knew the afflictions of the church in Smyrna, including the slandering that their opponents did of them.

Ezra 4:7, 12-13 In the days of Artaxerxes, Bishlam and Mithredath and Tabeel and the rest of their associates wrote to Artaxerxes king of Persia. The letter was written in Aramaic and translated.⁹ 📖 ...¹²be it known to the king that the Jews who came up from you to us have gone to Jerusalem. They are rebuilding that rebellious and wicked city. They are finishing the walls and repairing the foundations.¹³Now be it known to the king that if this city is rebuilt and the walls finished, they will not pay tribute, custom, or toll, and the royal revenue will be impaired. 📖

⁹ Hebrew written in Aramaic and translated in Aramaic, indicating that 4:8-6:18 is in Aramaic; another interpretation is The letter was written in the Aramaic script and set forth in the Aramaic language

Although they could claim some past history as evidence – i.e. the attempts of Jehoiakim and Zedekiah to break away from the rule of Babylon – at best what was said by the opponents of the Jews was conjecture; basically it was a lie (as was the case below in Amos 7:10).

Amos 7:10 Then Amaziah the priest of Bethel sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, “Amos has conspired against you in the midst of the house of Israel. The land is not able to bear all his words.” 📖

Ostracism and expulsion

Amos 7:12-13 And Amaziah said to Amos, “O seer, go, flee away to the land of Judah, and eat bread there, and prophesy there,¹³but never again prophesy at Bethel, for it is the king’s sanctuary, and it is a temple of the kingdom.” 📖

Amaziah was a priest in charge of the sanctuary at Bethel and carried a significant amount of authority. The prophet Amos was originally from Judah, but God had called him to prophesy in the northern kingdom of Israel. Amaziah’s directive would have meant Amos was expelled from the sanctuary at Bethel and would have effectively labeled him as being unwelcome in Israel (cf. NSB).

Luke 6:22-23 Blessed are you when people hate you and when they exclude you and revile you and spurn your name as evil, on account of the Son of Man! ²³Rejoice in that day, and leap for joy, for behold, your reward is great in heaven; for so their fathers did to the prophets. 📖

Here Jesus speaks of his followers being excluded and rejected (along with being insulted), just as the prophets had been.

John 9:22 (His parents said these things because they feared the Jews, for the Jews had already agreed that if anyone should confess Jesus^r to be Christ, he was to be put out of the synagogue.) 📖

^r Greek him

John 12:42 Nevertheless, many even of the authorities believed in him, but for fear of the Pharisees they did not confess it, so that they would not be put out of the synagogue; ... 📖

Acts 13:50 But the Jews incited the devout women of high standing and the leading men of the city, stirred up persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and drove them out of their district. 📖

1Thes 2:14b-15 For you suffered the same things from your own countrymen as they did from the Jews, ¹⁵who killed both the Lord Jesus and the prophets, and drove us out, and displease God and oppose all mankind ... 📖

This is speaking of what would happen before signs of the end of the age. Such persecution would/will involve believers being put on trial before kings and governors (cf. CEV).

Acts 26:11 And I punished them often in all the synagogues and tried to make them blaspheme, and in raging fury against them I persecuted them even to foreign cities.

Heb 10:34 For you had compassion on those in prison, and you joyfully accepted the plundering of your property, since you knew that you yourselves had a better possession and an abiding one.

Jesus came to bring peace between people and God, and gave spiritual peace to his disciples as well. But Jesus knew his coming would also inevitably result in division and conflict – even the persecution of some believers by members of their own household. This is reflected in Luke 21:16 – “You will be delivered up even by parents and brothers and relatives and friends, and some of you they will put to death.”

c) The Antichrist and the Final Persecution

See also:

- God will ultimately save believers from the persecution of the end times, p. 2003

The Bible speaks of a figure of the end times that is opposed to God and Jesus Christ, and persecutes their people. Daniel has visions which contain figures that appear to be ultimately representative of such an individual. In 2 Thessalonians 2:1-10 Paul clearly speaks of such a “man”. In his letters John refers to an “antichrist”. Most prominently, in Revelation John speaks of two “beasts” – accomplices of Satan – arising in the end times. The predominant first beast is correlated by many with a final antichrist, though others consider it and the second beast to represent evil world systems rather than individual persons. See also the comment on Revelation 13:1-2, 5-7 below in The antichrist will be of Satan and opposed to God, p. 1993.

The portrayals in both Daniel and Revelation are in apocalyptic literature and thus are highly symbolic. As such much of what is written is open to interpretation. The purpose is not to give precise details but enough knowledge so that when such events occur, believers will be able to recognize them for what they are. Furthermore the general concepts involved give encouragement to all God's people, giving reason for hope amidst persecution in all eras.

Scripture speaks of the coming of an antichrist

2Thes 2:3, 6-8 Let no one deceive you in any way. For that day will not come, unless the rebellion comes first, and the man of lawlessness^y is revealed, the son of destruction,^z  ... ⁶*And you know what is restraining him now so that he may be* revealed in his time. ⁷For the mystery of lawlessness is already at work. Only he who now restrains it will do so until he is out of the way. ⁸And then the lawless one will be revealed, whom the Lord Jesus will kill with the breath of his mouth and bring to nothing by the appearance of his coming.

^y Some manuscripts sin

^z Greek the son of perdition (a Hebrew idiom)

This "man of lawlessness" is quite likely the antichrist. There are a number of theories as to what or who is restraining him (vv. 6-7). The "mystery of lawlessness" (v. 7) appears to refer to evil power in rebellion (cf. v. 3) against God, which is limited for now but still influential (cf. 1Jn 4:3 ↓).

1Jn 2:18 Children, it is the last hour, and as you have heard that antichrist is coming, so now many antichrists have come. Therefore we know that it is the last hour.

The final antichrist will be preceded by many others who are anti-Christ – "even now many antichrists have come". False teachers could be primarily in view, but the designation is applicable at least to some degree to anyone who actively denies that Jesus is the Christ (cf. 1Jn 4:3 ↓). This is asserted by v. 22 – "Who is the liar but he who denies that Jesus is the Christ? This is the antichrist, he who denies the Father and the Son."

1Jn 4:3 ... and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already.

The reference to "the spirit of the antichrist" coming probably has the coming of the antichrist himself ultimately in view (cf. CEV, NIV, NLT). Note that in conjunction with the teaching above in 2 Thessalonians 2:7a and 1 John 2:18, this verse indicates that even now the antichrist exerts influence in the world – with the spirit of the antichrist's work through false teachers primarily being in view.

Rev 17:7-8 But the angel said to me, "Why do you marvel? I will tell you the mystery of the woman, and of the beast with seven heads and ten horns that carries her. ⁸The beast that you saw was, and is not, and is about to rise from the bottomless pit^a and go to destruction. And the dwellers on earth whose names have not been written in the book of life from the foundation of the world will marvel to see the beast, because it was and is not and is to come.

^a Greek the abyss

This beast is quite probably the beast of ch. 13 (cf. Rev 13:1-2, 5-7 ↓; Rev 16:13 ↓). While its "seven heads and ten horns" (v. 7) contrast with the "ten horns and seven heads" (13:1) of the latter, they match the description of Satan in 12:3 as "a great red dragon, with seven heads and ten horns" – reinforcing the beast's association with Satan (as per the following subsection) and thus the correlation of this beast with the beast of ch. 13. The expression "was and is not and is to come" (v. 8b; cf. v. 11) – along with the similar expression earlier in v. 8 – suggests that the beast with his power was once apparent, although presently not, but will come again and exercise authority. The woman is "Babylon the Great". The most prominent views of what this represents are: Rome, with its decadence and oppression of Christians; an actual rebuilt city of Babylon, characterized by the power and ungodliness of the original; and all worldly political and religious opposition to the true God.

Dan 7:7-8, 20, 23-24 After this I saw in the night visions, and behold, a fourth beast, terrifying and dreadful and exceedingly strong. It had great iron teeth; it devoured and broke in pieces and stamped what was left with its feet. It was different from all the beasts that were before it, and it had ten horns. ⁸I considered the horns, and behold, there came up among them another horn, a little one, before which three of the first horns were plucked up by the roots. And behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of a man, and a mouth speaking great things. ... ²⁰and about the ten horns that were on its head, and the other horn that came up and before which three of them fell, the horn that had eyes and a mouth that spoke great things, and that seemed greater than its companions. ... ²³"Thus he said: 'As for the fourth beast, there shall be a fourth kingdom on earth, which shall be different from all the kingdoms, and it shall devour the whole earth, and trample it down, and break it to pieces. ²⁴As for the ten horns, out of this kingdom ten kings shall arise, and another shall arise after them; he shall be different from the former ones, and shall put down three kings.

In this vision of Daniel's, the "fourth beast" (v. 7) does not itself appear to be the antichrist. Rather the little "horn" that comes from it and becomes so dominant is generally thought to portray the coming antichrist. The "fourth beast" could represent the Roman Empire. Note that it has ten horns (v. 7b; cf. Rev 17:7-8 ↑). The reference to the little "horn" speaking "great things" (vv. 8, 20) denotes boasting.

Rev 13:1-2, 5-6 And I saw a beast rising out of the sea, with ten horns and seven heads, with ten diadems on its horns and blasphemous names on its heads. ²And the beast that I saw was like a leopard; its feet were like a bear's, and its mouth was like a lion's mouth. And to it the dragon gave his power and his throne and great authority.  ... ⁵*And the beast has given a mouth uttering haughty and blasphemous words, and it was allowed to exercise authority for forty-two months. ⁶It opened its mouth to utter blasphemies against God, blaspheming his name and his dwelling,^b that is, those who dwell in heaven.*

^b Or tabernacle

The dragon is Satan. The verse preceding this passage (12:17) ends by saying of the dragon: "And he stood on the sand of the sea." Immediately following on from this, v. 1 implies that the beast "rising out of the sea" is of Satan – as further indicated by v. 2b. In addition to (or arguably instead of) a final antichrist, this first beast may symbolize various evil powers of different eras, with its heads and horns possibly symbolizing empires or rulers. The blasphemous names on the heads are possibly titles either claiming deity or blaspheming God. Another view is that the beast represents the Roman Empire, with its emperor worship – the ancient one or a revived, future one. Quite possibly "the sea" (v. 1) symbolizes the Abyss (cf. 11:7; 17:8), which is understood to be a prison or abode for demons.

2Thes 2:9-10 The coming of the lawless one is by the activity of Satan with all power and false signs and wonders, ¹⁰and with all wicked deception for those who are perishing, because they refused to love the truth and so be saved.

Dan 7:25 He shall speak words against the Most High, and shall wear out the saints of the Most High, and shall think to change the times and the law; and they shall be given into his hand for a time, times, and half a time.

The "times" is often understood to speak of the times set for "sacred feasts and holy days" (AMP; cf. CEV, GNT, NLT, NRSV). In conjunction with this, "the laws" is often interpreted as referring to God's law in particular.

Dan 11:36a "And the king shall do as he wills. He shall exalt himself and magnify himself above every god, and shall speak astonishing things against the God of gods.

2Thes 2:3-4 Let no one deceive you in any way. For that day will not come, unless the rebellion comes first, and the man of lawlessness^c is revealed, the son of destruction,^d ⁴who opposes and exalts himself against every so-called god or object of worship, so that he takes his seat in the temple of God, proclaiming himself to be God.

^e Or seven; twice in this verse

Many commentators consider that the antichrist is most likely the ruler spoken of here – as seems to be the case in the other passages in this subsection. His actions here show his opposition to God. The last statement is difficult to translate. Many understand the first part of it as speaking of desecration of the temple in Jerusalem by the setting up of a sacrilegious object (cf. GNT, NLT).

✦ The gathering of evil forces against God at Armageddon:

Rev 16:13-16 And I saw, coming out of the mouth of the dragon and out of the mouth of the beast and out of the mouth of the false prophet, three unclean spirits like frogs. ¹⁴For they are demonic spirits, performing signs, who go abroad to the kings of the whole world, to assemble them for battle on the great day of God the Almighty. ¹⁵("Behold, I am coming like a thief! Blessed is the one who stays awake, keeping his garments on, that he may not go about naked and be seen exposed!") ¹⁶And they assembled them at the place that in Hebrew is called Armageddon.

This is most likely portraying the beast – along with Satan and the false prophet (cf. Rev 13:11-14 ↓) – gathering forces to battle against the forces of God – illustrating the beast's opposition to God and Jesus Christ. There is a place in Israel that many identify with "Armageddon" (v. 16), but this identification is not without its critics. This reference to "Armageddon" may simply signify the event of God's defeat of evil (cf. Rev 19:19-20), rather than also being its geographical location.

^g Hebrew thrust at

This appears to be speaking of an all-conquering antichrist figure, particularly if "the time of the end" (v. 40) is understood to refer to the end of the age – "the end time" (NASB). Verse 40 seemingly refers to this ruler as "the king of the North", resoundingly responding to the attack of a "king of the South" (cf. CEV, NCV, NIV). The "glorious land" (v. 41) is Israel. Note that the "foreign god" (v. 39a) possibly refers to "the god of fortresses ... A god whom his fathers did not know" (v. 38), but what it refers to exactly is open to conjecture.

Rev 13:3-4, 7b-8 One of its heads seemed to have a mortal wound, but its mortal wound was healed, and the whole earth marveled as they followed the beast. ⁴And they worshiped the dragon, for he had given his authority to the beast, and they worshiped the beast, saying, "Who is like the beast, and who can fight against it?"  ... ⁷ ... And authority was given it over every tribe and people and language and nation, ⁸*and all who dwell on earth will worship it, everyone whose name has not been written before the foundation of the world in the book of life of the Lamb who was slain.*

Note that there are various theories regarding the "mortal wound" (v. 3a; cf. vv. 12, 14 ↓). Whatever its precise meaning, it is something which the beast has miraculously survived and seems to be at least part of the reason why the whole world is so awed by the beast and follows it (v. 3b; cf. NLT).

Rev 13:11-14 Then I saw another beast rising out of the earth. It had two horns like a lamb and it spoke like a dragon. ¹²*It exercises all the authority of the first beast in its presence,*^h and makes the earth and its inhabitants worship the first beast, whose mortal wound was healed. ¹³It performs great signs, even making fire come down from heaven to earth in front of people, ¹⁴*and by the signs that it is allowed to work in the presence of^f the beast it deceives those who dwell on earth, telling them to make an image for the beast that was wounded by the sword and yet lived.*

^h Or on its behalf

ⁱ Or on behalf of

This second beast who exercises the first beast's authority on its behalf (cf. ESV text note, CEV, NIV, NLT) and instigates worship of it (vv. 12, 14), is quite likely "the false prophet" of 16:13, 19:20 and 20:10. As with the first beast, there are a number of viewpoints regarding its identity, including: a human associate of the final antichrist; persecuting powers of all eras; and the priesthood of the cult of the emperor in the Roman Empire.

Rev 17:3, 9-13 And he carried me away in the Spirit into a wilderness, and I saw a woman sitting on a scarlet beast that was full of blasphemous names, and it had seven heads and ten horns.  ... ⁹This calls for a mind with wisdom: the seven heads are seven mountains on which the woman is seated; ¹⁰they are also seven kings, five of whom have fallen, one is, the other has not yet come, and when he does come he must remain only a little while. ¹¹As for the beast that was and is not, it is an eighth but it belongs to the seven, and it goes to destruction. ¹²And the ten horns that you saw are ten kings who have not yet received royal power, but they are to receive authority as kings for one hour, together with the beast. ¹³*These are of one mind, and they hand over their power and authority to the beast.*

There are various theories regarding the identity of the seven hills and seven kings (vv. 9-11), including the Roman Empire and Roman emperors. In v. 11, "it belongs to the seven" (v. 11b) may mean that the beast is one of the seven kings (cf. CEV, GNT, NASB), or closely associated with at least one of them. The ten kings (vv. 12-13) appear to be rulers of the end times. They are only given authority for a short time (v. 12b), and will give their power and authority to the beast (v. 13), thus adding to his authority.

† Many will receive the number of the beast, in submission to him:

Rev 13:16-18 Also it [the second beast] causes all, both small and great, both rich and poor, both free and slave,^j to be marked on the right hand or the forehead, ¹⁷*so that no one can buy or sell unless he has the mark, that is, the name of the beast or the number of its name.* ¹⁸This calls for wisdom: let the one who has understanding calculate the number of the beast, for it is the number of a man, and his number is 666.^k

^j Greek bondservant

^k Some manuscripts 616

Having the number of the beast is indicative of being in submission to him, even belonging to him. There are various interpretations of the number 666 (v. 18). In view of v. 17b, many see it as indicative of the name of the final antichrist. In line with this view, 666 has been derived from names through numerical values correlated with letters. Another prominent interpretation is that as 6 is one short of the perfect number 7, the number 666 represents the inferior "trinity" of Satan, the beast and the false prophet.

Persecution of God's people will increase in the end times – especially due to the antichrist . . .

Dan 11:36 And the king shall do as he wills. He shall exalt himself and magnify himself above every god, and shall speak astonishing things against the God of gods. He shall prosper till the indignation is accomplished; for what is decreed shall be done. ☞

The “indignation” appears to refer to God’s indignation or wrath. It implies that God will use the destruction wreaked by this king, an antichrist figure, as a form of punishment. As well as perhaps impacting many non-believers, this punishment will presumably be in part for the purification of God’s own people (cf. Dan 12:10 ↓) – possibly Israel in particular. As such it alludes to or encompasses the persecution of God’s people by this king.

Dan 12:1, 9-10 At that time shall arise Michael, the great prince who has charge of your people. And there shall be a time of trouble, such as never has been since there was a nation till that time. But at that time your people shall be delivered, everyone whose name shall be found written in the book. ☞ ... ⁹He said, “Go your way, Daniel, for the words are shut up and sealed until the time of the end. ¹⁰*Many shall purify themselves and make themselves white and be refined, but the wicked shall act wickedly. And none of the wicked shall understand, but those who are wise shall understand.* ☞

Generally commentators interpret v. 1 to be referring to the end days as a time of distress primarily for God’s people – some understanding “your people” to be referring in particular to Israel – from which they will be delivered. The work of the antichrist is most likely in view, with him being spoken of in the preceding verses (cf. Dan 11:36 ↑). Verse 10a speaks of the purification of God’s people in such a time of distress or persecution in “the time of the end” (v. 9b).

Matt 24:9-14, 21-22 Then they will deliver you up to tribulation and put you to death, and you will be hated by all nations for my name’s sake. ¹⁰*And then many will fall away^l and betray one another and hate one another.* ¹¹*And many false prophets will arise and lead many astray.* ¹²*And because lawlessness will be increased, the love of many will grow cold.* ¹³*But the one who endures to the end will be saved.* ¹⁴*And this gospel of the kingdom will be proclaimed throughout the whole world as a testimony to all nations, and then the end will come.* ☞ ... ²¹*For then there will be great tribulation, such as has not been from the beginning of the world until now, no, and never will be.* ²²*And if those days had not been cut short, no human being would be saved. But for the sake of the elect those days will be cut short.* ☞

^l Or stumble

The teaching of vv. 9-13 was applicable to the disciples and has been to all believers since, but given the context it appears to pertain in particular to the end days (v. 14). The increase of “lawlessness” (v. 12) may not be referring specifically to persecution of believers, but it would appear to be inclusive of it, as is the case with the subsequent reference to standing firm until the end (v. 13). Similarly, the “great tribulation” (v. 21) may well be a period of distress for all people (cf. Rev 3:10 ↓; a) Prologue: Judgments Preceding Jesus Christ’s Return, p. 692) but include increased, intense persecution of believers (cf. Rev 7:14 ↓) just prior to Christ’s return. Note that some think that vv. 21-22 may primarily be referring to the fall of Jerusalem in A.D. 70.

Rev 12:13, 15-17 And when the dragon saw that he had been thrown down to the earth, he pursued the woman who had given birth to the male child. ☞ ... ¹⁵*The serpent poured water like a river out of his mouth after the woman, to sweep her away with a flood.* ¹⁶*But the earth came to the help of the woman, and the earth opened its mouth and swallowed the river that the dragon had poured from his mouth.* ¹⁷*Then the dragon became furious with the woman and went off to make war on the rest of her offspring, on those who keep the commandments of God and hold to the testimony of Jesus. And he stood^m on the sand of the sea.* ☞

^mSome manuscripts And I stood, connecting the sentence with 13:1

This may well portray the intense persecution of the church in the last days by Satan, with a number of commentators believing the woman (cf. vv. 1-6) to be symbolic of the church. Alternatively the woman may symbolize primarily Israel or believing Jews.

Rev 13:7a Also *it [the first beast] was allowed to make war on the saints and to conquer them.*ⁿ ☞

ⁿ Some manuscripts omit this sentence

Zec 11:15-16 Then the LORD said to me, "Take once more the equipment of a foolish shepherd. ¹⁶For behold, I am raising up in the land a shepherd who does not care for those being destroyed, or seek the young or heal the maimed or nourish the healthy, but devours the flesh of the fat ones, tearing off even their hoofs.

This "foolish" or "worthless" (CEV, GNT, NLT) shepherd is understood by a number of commentators to symbolize the final antichrist. As such these verses would appear to speak of him ruling over and mistreating Israel in particular.

Rev 6:9-11 When he opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of those who had been slain for the word of God and for the witness they had borne. ¹⁰They cried out with a loud voice, "O Sovereign Lord, holy and true, how long before you will judge and avenge our blood on those who dwell on the earth?" ¹¹Then they were each given a white robe and told to rest a little longer, until the number of their fellow servants^o and their brothers^p should be complete, who were to be killed as they themselves had been.

^o Greek fellow bondservants

^p Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated "brothers") refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God's family, the church

Similar to Matthew 24:9-13 in the previous subsection, this may refer to believers in general since the beginning of Christianity – and is certainly applicable to them. But again the context suggests that the time of the end may well be primarily in view.

Rev 7:9, 14 After this I looked, and behold, a great multitude that no one could number, from every nation, from all tribes and peoples and languages, standing before the throne and before the Lamb, clothed in white robes, with palm branches in their hands,  ... ¹⁴I said to him, "Sir, you know." And he said to me, "These are the ones coming out of the great tribulation. They have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

Martyrdom is most likely the reason for this great multitude "coming out" of the great tribulation.

Rev 11:7 And when they have finished their testimony, the beast that rises from the bottomless pit^q will make war on them and conquer them and kill them, ...

^q Or the abyss

A number of commentators consider that the "two witnesses" (cf. v. 3 ) spoken of here are representative of the church, and that these verses speak of a concentrated attack on the church by the beast of the end days, no doubt involving a significant number of deaths. Note that the beast's apparent victory over them is followed by God's vindication of them (cf. vv. 11-13).

Rev 13:10 If anyone is to be taken captive, to captivity he goes; if anyone is to be slain with the sword, with the sword must he be slain. Here is a call for the endurance and faith of the saints.

This implies that many of God's people will undergo captivity and/or death during the reign of the beast.

Rev 13:15 And [the second beast] it was allowed to give breath to the image of the beast, so that the image of the beast might even speak and might cause those who would not worship the image of the beast to be slain.

Rev 17:6 And I saw the woman, drunk with the blood of the saints, the blood of the martyrs of Jesus.^r When I saw her, I marveled greatly.

^r Greek the witnesses to Jesus

The "woman" is the symbolic "Babylon the Great".

Rev 20:4 Then I saw thrones, and seated on them were those to whom the authority to judge was committed. Also I saw the souls of those who had been beheaded for the testimony of Jesus and for the word of God, and those who had not worshiped the beast or its image and had not received its mark on their foreheads or their hands. They came to life and reigned with Christ for a thousand years.

✚ The end will be preceded by a time of trial for all the people of the world:

Rev 3:10 Because you have kept my word about patient endurance, I will keep you from the hour of trial that is coming on the whole world, to try those who dwell on the earth.

Note that to "keep you from" could mean either to keep from undergoing it or to protect during it.

“Three and a half years” is given for the rule of the antichrist and intense persecution

In regard to the duration of the antichrist’s rule and the future period of intense persecution of believers, the Bible speaks of periods of time which are equivalent to three and a half years. Whether or not this is a literal three and half years, such specifications are indicative of the period being predetermined by God. In view of Daniel 9:27 below, this three and half years of domination may commence half way through a seven-year period of considerable power for the antichrist. See also the comment on Daniel 12:6-7 below.

Dan 7:25 He shall speak words against the Most High, and shall wear out the saints of the Most High, and shall think to change the times and the law; and they shall be given into his hand for a time, times, and half a time.

The expression “a time, times and half a time” (cf. Dan 12:7 ↓) can be equated with three and a half years (cf. AMP, GNT, NCV, Nlrv) – “a year, two years, and half a year” (CEV text note).

Dan 9:27 And he shall make a strong covenant with many for one week,^s and for half of the week he shall put an end to sacrifice and offering. And on the wing of abominations shall come one who makes desolate, until the decreed end is poured out on the desolator.

^s Or seven; twice in this verse

The “week” or “seven” (cf. text note) is often understood to mean a seven-year period, but again it may be symbolic. Assuming the antichrist is in view here, a number of commentators interpret the first statement to mean that the antichrist will make a covenant with Israel. Half way through this period he will break the covenant and “set up a sacrilegious object that causes desecration” (NLT), presumably in the temple in Jerusalem. Such actions would set the scene for intense persecution of God’s people for the following three and a half years, i.e. the second half of the seven-year period.

Dan 12:6-7, 11-12 And someone said to the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the stream,^t “How long shall it be till the end of these wonders?”⁷ And I heard the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the stream; he raised his right hand and his left hand toward heaven and swore by him who lives forever that it would be for a time, times, and half a time, and that when the shattering of the power of the holy people comes to an end all these things would be finished.  ... ¹¹And from the time that the regular burnt offering is taken away and the abomination that makes desolate is set up, there shall be 1,290 days. ¹²Blessed is he who waits and arrives at the 1,335 days.

^t Or who was upstream; also verse 7

The question in v. 6 appears to be regarding the duration of the aforementioned events of the end time, including the rule of an antichrist figure (cf. 11:36-45) and great distress (cf. v. 1) particularly for God’s people (v. 7; cf. v. 10). Verse 1 may be speaking of events of the antichrist’s reign on assuming virtually unchallengeable power. The 1,290 days (cf. Rev 11:3 ↓) is quite close to three and a half years of 365 days (1277.5 days) and possibly corresponds to the period given in v. 7. There are various explanations regarding the significance of the extra 45 days making up the 1,335 days (v. 12). One is that it is a period between the end of the intense persecution and the consummation of Jesus Christ’s reign.

Rev 13:5 And the beast was given a mouth uttering haughty and blasphemous words, and it was allowed to exercise authority for forty-two months.

Rev 11:1-3 Then I was given a measuring rod like a staff, and I was told, “Rise and measure the temple of God and the altar and those who worship there,² but do not measure the court outside the temple; leave that out, for it is given over to the nations, and they will trample the holy city for forty-two months.³ And I will grant authority to my two witnesses, and they will prophesy for 1,260 days, clothed in sackcloth.”

In v. 1, “the temple of God” may signify God’s people or church. As such v. 1 possibly figuratively speaks of protection for God’s people (cf. Rev 12:6, 13-14 ↓) – more likely spiritual than physical – amidst great persecution and wickedness perpetrated by heathen nations (v. 2), who will trample on that which is God’s for “forty-two months”. Some commentators take a more literal interpretation, understanding that a literal temple, Jerusalem and the Jews in particular are in view. Note that 1,260 days (v. 3; cf. Rev 12:6 ↓) is equal to 42 months (of 30 days each) – i.e. three and a half years.

‡ The protection of the “woman” from Satan for three and a half years:

Rev 12:6, 13-14 ... and the woman fled into the wilderness, where she has a place prepared by God, in which she is to be nourished for 1,260 days.  ... ¹³And when the dragon saw that he had been thrown down to the earth, he pursued the woman who had given birth to the male child. ¹⁴But the woman was given the two wings of the great eagle so that she might fly from the serpent into the wilderness, to the place where she is to be nourished for a time, and times, and half a time.

As noted earlier, the “woman” is quite possibly symbolic of the church, though some think that Israel is in view. Three and a half years is indicated by both 1,260 days (v. 6) and "a time, times and half a time" (v. 14).

As noted earlier, the "horn" (v. 11) is likely the antichrist and the "beast" is the fourth "beast" (v. 11b), from which the "horn" appears to have come (cf. vv. 7-8). Because of the connection between the "horn" and this "beast", the slaying of the "beast" (v. 11b) may be indicative also of the end of the "horn"; the end of its power is certainly in view in v. 26.

Dan 11:44-45 But news from the east and the north shall alarm him, and he shall go out with great fury to destroy and devote many to destruction. ⁴⁵And he shall pitch his palatial tents between the sea and the glorious holy mountain. Yet he shall come to his end, with none to help him. ☞

The title "the son of destruction" appears to speak of being "destined for destruction" (NRSV; cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV).

^w Greek the abyss

The destruction of the beast (vv. 8a, 11) may well also be in view in the reference to the defeat of the ten kings who give their power and authority to him (vv. 13-14). As such this would appear to refer to Jesus Christ's triumph over the beast and his forces in 19:19-20 below (cf. 2Thes 2:8 ↑).

Rev 19:19-20 And I saw the beast and the kings of the earth with their armies gathered to make war against him who was sitting on the horse and against his army. ²⁰*And the beast was captured, and with it the false prophet who in its presence^x had done the signs by which he deceived those who had received the mark of the beast and those who worshiped its image. Rev 16:2, 10-11 So the first angel went and poured out his bowl on the earth, and harmful and painful sores came upon the people who bore the mark of the beast and worshiped its image. ☞ ... ¹⁰The fifth angel poured out his bowl on the throne of the beast, and its kingdom was plunged into darkness. People gnawed their tongues in anguish ¹¹and cursed the God of heaven for their pain and sores. They did not repent of their deeds.

The “throne of the beast” (v. 10a) appears to refer to the heart of his authority. The “darkness” may not necessarily be physical darkness. Quite possibly it depicts major problems besetting the beast’s kingdom, presumably adversely affecting those who submit to the beast – already in agony because of the sores inflicted on them (vv. 2, 10b-11).

Rev 15:2-4 And I saw what appeared to be a sea of glass mingled with fire—and also those who had conquered the beast and its image and the number of its name, standing beside the sea of glass with harps of God in their hands. ³And they sing the song of Moses, the servant^y of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, “Great and amazing are your deeds, O Lord God the Almighty! All nations will come and worship you, for your righteous acts have been revealed.”

The faithful believers are pictured as worshiping God in heaven. They are said to have “conquered the beast and its image and the number of its name” (v. 2) as, in faithfulness to God, they had refused to worship the beast or his image and had not submitted to receiving his mark or number (v. 2; cf. 13:16-17; Rev 20:4 ↓).

Rev 20:4-6 Then I saw thrones, and seated on them were those to whom the authority to judge was committed. Also I saw the souls of those who had been beheaded for the testimony of Jesus and for the word of God, and those who had not worshiped the beast or its image and had not received its mark on their foreheads or their hands. They came to life and reigned with Christ for a thousand years. ⁵The rest of the dead did not come to life until the thousand years were ended. This is the first resurrection. ⁶*Blessed and holy is the one who shares in the first resurrection! God’s all-surpassing purpose, work and love for his people – despite adversity

Rom 8:28-31 And we know that for those who love God all things work together for good,^a for those who are called according to his purpose. ²⁹For those whom he foreknew he also predestined to be conformed to the image of his Son, in order that he might be the firstborn among many brothers. ³⁰And those whom he predestined he also called, and those whom he called he also justified, and those whom he justified he also glorified. ³¹What then shall we say to these things? If God is for us, who can be^b against us?

^a Some manuscripts God works all things together for good, or God works in all things for the good

^b Or who is

The phrase “all things” (v. 28) probably primarily has in view adverse experiences, in particular persecution (cf. v. 18; vv. 35-36 ↓). In vv. 29-30 Paul proceeds to look beyond any suffering to the purpose and work of God for the believer that overshadows all difficulties we might experience in this life. Verse 31 is implying that if God is for us – as Paul has emphatically shown (vv. 28-30) – there is no one (and no thing) of comparable significance that can be against us.

Rom 8:35-39 Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? Shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or danger, or sword? ³⁶As it is written, “For your sake we are being killed all the day long; we are regarded as sheep to be slaughtered.”³⁷*No, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him who loved us.* ³⁸*For I am sure that neither death nor life, nor angels nor rulers, nor things present nor things to come, nor powers,* ³⁹*nor height nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord.*

This passage indicates that no difficulties or persecution can separate believers from Jesus Christ's and God's love (cf. 2Cor 4:8-9 ↓). In fact through Christ they “are more than conquerors” (v. 37) – they keep on being conquerors, having “overwhelming victory” (NLT, cf. GNT, NCV) over such adversity.

✦ When believers are facing persecution, God does not abandon them:

2Cor 4:8-9 We are afflicted in every way, but not crushed; perplexed, but not driven to despair; ⁹*persecuted, but not forsaken; struck down, but not destroyed; ...*

In persecution “God does not leave us” (NCV™; cf. CEV, Nlrv, NLT).

God and Jesus Christ strengthen their people amidst trials

Rom 15:5 May the God of endurance and encouragement grant you to live in such harmony with one another, in accord with Christ Jesus, ...

In alluding to God giving endurance and encouragement to his people – and thus strengthening them – Paul may well have times of persecution at least partly in view.

2Cor 4:16-17 So we do not lose heart. Though our outer self is wasting away, our inner self is being renewed day by day. ¹⁷*For this light momentary affliction is preparing for us an eternal weight of glory beyond all comparison, ...*

^c Greek man

Although Paul's “affliction” (v. 17) – including persecution and hardship (vv. 8-9) – were taking a toll on him physically, his spirit or inner being was being daily renewed (v. 16). Possibly Paul has primarily in view his ongoing experience of Christ's resurrection life, with its power (cf. vv. 11-12).

2Cor 12:9-10 But he said to me, “My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness.” Therefore I will boast all the more gladly of my weaknesses, so that the power of Christ may rest upon me. ¹⁰*For the sake of Christ, then, I am content with weaknesses, insults, hardships, persecutions, and calamities. For when I am weak, then I am strong.*

In weakness, hardship and/or persecution (v. 10a) Christ's power was perfected in Paul (v. 9). As such Paul could then say: “I am strong” (v. 10b).

Col 1:11 May you be strengthened with all power, according to his glorious might, for all endurance and patience with joy, ...

Note that persecution is not necessarily primarily in view here, but obviously this is readily applicable to it.

2Thes 3:2-5 ... and that we may be delivered from wicked and evil men. For not all have faith. ³*But the Lord is faithful. He will establish you and guard you against the evil one.*^d ⁴*And we have confidence in the Lord about you, that you are doing and will do the things that we command.* ⁵*May the Lord direct your hearts to the love of God and to the steadfastness of Christ.*

^d Or evil

“He will establish you” (v. 3) refers to the Lord establishing – and so strengthening (cf. AMP, CEV, GNT, NASB, NCV, NIV, NLT, NRSV) – the Thessalonians in the faith. The reference to being “delivered from wicked and evil men” (v. 2) implies that the Lord's strengthening (v. 3) has strengthening in the face of persecution in view. In regard to “the steadfastness of Christ” (v. 5), Paul appears to be speaking of the same perseverance as Christ showed (cf. CEV) and/or of the perseverance that comes from him (cf. GNT, NLT).

2Tim 1:8 Therefore do not be ashamed of the testimony about our Lord, nor of me his prisoner, but share in suffering for the gospel by the power of God, ...

By his power God gives Christians the strength (cf. GNT, NCV, NLT) to take part in suffering for the sake of the gospel.

2Tim 4:16-17 At my first defense no one came to stand by me, but all deserted me. May it not be charged against them! ¹⁷*But the Lord stood by me and strengthened me, so that through me the message might be fully proclaimed and all the Gentiles might hear it. So I was rescued from the lion's mouth.*

1Pet 5:9-10 Resist him [the devil], firm in your faith, knowing that the same kinds of suffering are being experienced by your brotherhood throughout the world. ¹⁰*And after you have suffered a little while, the God of all grace, who has called you to his eternal glory in Christ, will himself restore, confirm, strengthen, and establish you.*

The reference to suffering “a little while” (v. 10) is possibly alluding to the temporal nature of our sufferings in comparison to the “eternal glory” to come. The list of verbs in the final clause emphasizes and assures Peter's readers that God himself will enable them to endure trials and reinvigorate them, particularly spiritually, making them stronger in the faith than they were prior to such trials.

✦ God comforts his people amidst trials:

2Cor 1:3-5 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort, ⁴*who comforts us in all our affliction, so that we may be able to comfort those who are in any affliction, with the comfort with which we ourselves are comforted by God.* ⁵*For as we share abundantly in Christ's sufferings, so through Christ we share abundantly in comfort too.*^e

^e Or For as the sufferings of Christ abound for us, so also our comfort abounds through Christ

Verse 5 is speaking of receiving God's comfort through Christ (cf. NCV, NLT). One way in which God strengthens people during trials is by comforting them. See also God comforts his people in hard times, and in delivering them, p. 1976.

God and Jesus Christ will rescue their people from trials . . .

Luke 21:18 But not a hair of your head will perish.

The earlier reference to being put to death in v. 16 suggests that this is speaking metaphorically of not ultimately losing anything of spiritual worth (cf. Phil 1:19 ; 2Tim 4:18 .

Acts 26:16-17 But rise and stand upon your feet, for I have appeared to you for this purpose, to appoint you as a servant and witness to the things in which you have seen me and to those in which I will appear to you, ¹⁷*delivering you from your people and from the Gentiles—to whom I am sending you ...*

Phil 1:19 ... for I know that through your prayers and the help of the Spirit of Jesus Christ this will turn out for my deliverance, ...

The word "deliverance" may refer to deliverance from prison or final spiritual salvation.

2Tim 4:18 The Lord will rescue me from every evil deed and bring me safely into his heavenly kingdom. To him be the glory forever and ever. Amen.

In light of vv. 6-8, which indicate that his death was near, it appears that Paul is not referring here to a physical rescue but a spiritual one – where the Lord would bring him "safely into his heavenly kingdom".

. . . Examples of God and Jesus Christ rescuing believers from trials

Acts 12:6-11 Now when Herod was about to bring him out, on that very night, Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains, and sentries before the door were guarding the prison. ⁷*And behold, an angel of the Lord stood next to him, and a light shone in the cell. He struck Peter on the side and woke him, saying, "Get up quickly." And the chains fell off his hands.* ⁸*And the angel said to him, "Dress yourself and put on your sandals." And he did so. And he said to him, "Wrap your cloak around you and follow me."* ⁹*And he went out and followed him.* He did not know that what was being done by the angel was real, but thought he was seeing a vision. ¹⁰*When they had passed the first and the second guard, they came to the iron gate leading into the city. It opened for them of its own accord, and they went out and went along one street, and immediately the angel left him.* ¹¹*When Peter came to himself, he said, "Now I am sure that the Lord has sent his angel and rescued me from the hand of Herod and from all that the Jewish people were expecting."*

2Cor 1:8-10 For we do not want you to be ignorant, brothers,^f of the affliction we experienced in Asia. For we were so utterly burdened beyond our strength that we despaired of life itself. ⁹Indeed, we felt that we had received the sentence of death. But that was to make us rely not on ourselves but on God who raises the dead. ¹⁰*He delivered us from such a deadly peril, and he will deliver us.* On him we have set our hope that he will deliver us again.

^f Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated "brothers") refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God's family, the church

2Cor 4:7-9 But we have this treasure in jars of clay, to show that the surpassing power belongs to God and not to us. ⁸*We are afflicted in every way, but not crushed; perplexed, but not driven to despair;* ⁹*persecuted, but not forsaken; struck down, but not destroyed; ...*

In vv. 8-9 Paul appears to be illustrating how God's all-surpassing power (v. 7) has preserved him in the midst of great persecution and hardship, despite him being one of the vulnerable "jars of clay" (v. 7a), containing the "treasure" of the gospel (cf. v. 6). Note that the context (cf. vv. 1-15) indicates that "the surpassing power" from God not only preserved Paul but was behind his effectiveness in spreading the gospel.

2Tim 3:10-11 You, however, have followed my teaching, my conduct, my aim in life, my faith, my patience, my love, my steadfastness, ¹¹*my persecutions and sufferings that happened to me at Antioch, at Iconium, and at Lystra—which persecutions I endured; yet from them all the Lord rescued me.*

But at that time your people shall be delivered, everyone whose name shall be found written in the book.* ☞

It is the archangel Michael who is spoken of in the first sentence, as protecting God's people. The eternal deliverance of those whose names are "written in the book" is probably in view (cf. vv. 2-3). As such these verses speak of deliverance out of the trouble rather than necessarily from experiencing any of it.

^o Greek spiritually

That God will ultimately save believers from the persecution of the end times appears to be illustrated in v. 1 and also vv. 11-12. As noted earlier, v. 1 possibly speaks of spiritual protection for God’s people or church amidst great persecution and wickedness perpetrated by heathen nations (v. 2). A number of commentators consider that the “two witnesses” (v. 3) are representative of the church. The beast’s apparent victory over them is followed by God’s vindication of them (vv. 11-12). Note that “the great city that symbolically is called Sodom and Egypt” (v. 8), may be Jerusalem, it being “where their Lord was crucified.” It has also been identified with Rome and the symbolic Babylon spoken of elsewhere in Revelation. Quite possibly it is symbolic for the world forces as a whole that oppose God’s people. Being called “Sodom” signifies its immorality, while “Egypt” points to its idolatry – or possibly its apostasy – as well as its persecution of God’s people.

‡ Jesus Christ’s faithful followers will share in his victory over the beast and its allies:

Rev 17:13-14 These are of one mind, and they hand over their power and authority to the beast.¹⁴They will make war on the Lamb, and the Lamb will conquer them, for he is Lord of lords and King of kings, and those with him are called and chosen and faithful. ¶

II. What to Do in Persecution

The Bible provides practical teaching on what to do when faced with persecution. Moreover, the Bible even provides good reasons to rejoice in spite of the suffering often involved in persecution. Not least of these reasons are the blessings that we can experience amidst such hardship – and those that we will receive in the future for enduring it.

Note that, as was the case in the first half of the chapter, a few of the verses in this second half speak of other hardships in addition to persecution that believers may face because of their faith.

^a Or If our God whom we serve is able to deliver us, he will deliver us from the burning fiery furnace and out of your hand, O king.

In the face of death, Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego defiantly declare their refusal to be unfaithful to God.

Rev 2:10 Do not fear what you are about to suffer. Behold, the devil is about to throw some of you into prison, that you may be tested, and for ten days you will have tribulation. Be faithful unto death, and I will give you the crown of life. 📖

"Be faithful unto death" likely means be faithful "even if it means death" (GNT; cf. AMP, NCV, NIV, NLT).

Rev 2:13 'I know where you dwell, where Satan's throne is. Yet you hold fast my name, and you did not deny my faith^b even in the days of Antipas my faithful witness, who was killed among you, where Satan dwells. 📖

^b Or your faith in me

The clauses "where Satan's throne is" and "where Satan dwells" apparently refers to the city of Pergamum as a center of pagan worship, no doubt a hostile place to Christians. Note Antipas's example of being faithful "unto death" (v. 10b ↑).

Rev 3:8 I know your works. Behold, I have set before you an open door, which no one is able to shut. I know that you have but little power, and yet you have kept my word and have not denied my name. 📖

⚡ Superficial Christians (who have "no root") fall away in trouble or persecution:

Matt 13:20-21 As for what was sown on rocky ground, this is the one who hears the word and immediately receives it with joy, ²¹*yet he has no root in himself; but endures for a while, and when tribulation or persecution arises on account of the word, immediately he falls away.*^c 📖

^c Or stumbles

Having "no root" points to a shallowness from having no real commitment to God's word. Perhaps more precisely it portrays a failure to allow God's word to permeate one's life (cf. GNT, NCV).

Jer 26:11-13 Then the priests and the prophets said to the officials and to all the people, “This man deserves the sentence of death, because he has prophesied against this city, as you have heard with your own ears.” ¹²Then Jeremiah spoke to all the officials and all the people, saying, “The LORD sent me to prophesy against this house and this city all the words you have heard. ¹³Now therefore mend your ways and your deeds, and obey the voice of the LORD your God, and the LORD will relent of the disaster that he has pronounced against you.

Despite the threat of death (v. 11), Jeremiah continued to do what God had sent him to do (vv. 12-13).

2Tim 4:6-7 For I am already being poured out as a drink offering, and the time of my departure has come. ⁷I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith.

In v. 6 Paul pictures his life as being poured out as an offering to God, particularly in view of the apparent likelihood of his execution. He then declares that – despite all his troubles – he had fought on to the finish, doing God’s will and firmly holding to the faith (v. 7).

Heb 12:1 Therefore, since we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, let us also lay aside every weight, and sin which clings so closely, and let us run with endurance the race that is set before us, ...

The context shows that these instructions were given largely in reference to persecution (cf. 11:35-38; 12:2-4).

1Pet 2:12, 15 Keep your conduct among the Gentiles honorable, so that when they speak against you as evildoers, they may see your good deeds and glorify God on the day of visitation.  ... ¹⁵For this is the will of God, that by doing good you should put to silence the ignorance of foolish people.

1Pet 3:16 ... having a good conscience, so that, when you are slandered, those who revile your good behavior in Christ may be put to shame.

In 2:12, 15 above Peter calls on his readers to do good in the face of false accusations – in accordance with God’s will. In conjunction with doing good, here the phrase “having a good conscience” alludes to the need to avoid doing any wrong in such circumstances (as always).

1Pet 4:19 Therefore let those who suffer according to God’s will entrust their souls to a faithful Creator while doing good.

Rev 2:19 I know your works, your love and faith and service and patient endurance, and that your latter works exceed the first.

The mention of the “endurance” of the believers in Thyatira suggests that they were facing trials – in which they not only maintained the amount of work they were doing for the kingdom, but actually increased it (v. 19b).

Rev 14:12 Here is a call for the endurance of the saints, those who keep the commandments of God and their faith in Jesus.^d

^d Greek and the faith of Jesus

2Cor 8:2 ... for in a severe test of affliction, their abundance of joy and their extreme poverty have overflowed in a wealth of generosity on their part.

1Cor 13:7 Love bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things.

The reference to enduring may not be referring specifically to enduring persecution from others, but it is at least applicable to it (cf. NLT).

2Cor 6:4 ... but as servants of God we commend ourselves in every way: by great endurance, in afflictions, hardships, calamities, ...

2Thes 1:4 Therefore we ourselves boast about you in the churches of God for your steadfastness and faith in all your persecutions and in the afflictions that you are enduring.

2Tim 2:8-10 Remember Jesus Christ, risen from the dead, the offspring of David, as preached in my gospel, ⁹for which I am suffering, bound with chains as a criminal. But the word of God is not bound! ¹⁰*Therefore I endure everything for the sake of the elect*, that they also may obtain the salvation that is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory.

In v. 10 Paul states that he endures everything for the sake of those chosen by God, in order to ensure their salvation.

Heb 12:7, 12 It is for discipline that you have to endure. God is treating you as sons. For what son is there whom his father does not discipline? ... ¹²*Therefore lift your drooping hands and strengthen your weak knees, ...*

In v. 12 the writer uses figurative language in calling on his readers to strengthen themselves spiritually, so as to endure (v. 7).

Rev 13:10 If anyone is to be taken captive, to captivity he goes; if anyone is to be slain with the sword, with the sword must he be slain. Here is a call for the endurance and faith of the saints.

Heb 10:32 But recall the former days when, after you were enlightened, you endured a hard struggle with sufferings, ...

But if when you do good and suffer for it you endure, this is a gracious thing in the sight of God.*

Peter appears to be speaking of unjust suffering generally, not only that which is because of one's faith.

Rev 2:3 I know you are enduring patiently and bearing up for my name's sake, and you have not grown weary.

Rev 2:19 I know your works, your love and faith and service and patient endurance, and that your latter works exceed the first.

Rom 12:12 Rejoice in hope, be patient in tribulation, be constant in prayer.

2Cor 1:6 If we are afflicted, it is for your comfort and salvation; and if we are comforted, it is for your comfort, which you experience when you patiently endure the same sufferings that we suffer.

Note that Paul indicates here that comfort and encouragement from other believers helps enable one to patiently endure suffering.

James 5:7-8, 10-11 Be patient, therefore, brothers,^f until the coming of the Lord. See how the farmer waits for the precious fruit of the earth, being patient about it, until it receives the early and the late rains. ⁸*You also, be patient.* Establish your hearts, for the coming of the Lord is at hand. ... ¹⁰*As an example of suffering and patience, brothers, take the prophets who spoke in the name of the Lord.* ¹¹*Behold, we consider those blessed who remained steadfast. You have heard of the steadfastness of Job, and you have seen the purpose of the Lord, how the Lord is compassionate and merciful.*

^f Or brothers and sisters; also verses 9, 10, 12, 19

This is possibly referring to patience in the face of suffering at the hands of rich oppressors (cf. vv. 1-6) that is not necessarily due to one's faith. Even so, it is applicable to all suffering of believers, no matter what the reason.

‡ Endure suffering in a way that glorifies God:

1Pet 4:16 Yet if anyone suffers as a Christian, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorify God in that name.

Consider and follow Jesus Christ's example in suffering . . .

Heb 12:1-3 Therefore, since we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, let us also lay aside every weight, and sin which clings so closely, and let us run with endurance the race that is set before us, ²*looking to Jesus, the founder and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame,* and is seated at the right hand of the throne of God. ³*Consider him who endured from sinners such hostility against himself, so that you may not grow weary or fainthearted.*

The phrase "the founder and perfecter of our faith" is usually taken to indicate that Jesus Christ is the one who instigates each believer's faith and perfects it or brings it to completion. But some commentators, pointing out that "our" does not appear in the Greek (cf. NASB, NIRV), raise the possibility that it is actually referring to Jesus as the one who originated and perfected the way of faith. This meaning – very pertinent to this subsection – would comfortably fit the context.

1Pet 2:20b-23 But if when you do good and suffer for it you endure, this is a gracious thing in the sight of God. ²¹*For to this you have been called, because Christ also suffered for you, leaving you an example, so that you might follow in his steps.* ²²*He committed no sin, neither was deceit found in his mouth.* ²³*When he was reviled, he did not revile in return; when he suffered, he did not threaten, but continued entrusting himself to him who judges justly.*

Verse 23 speaks of aspects of Jesus Christ's patient endurance that we ought to emulate. The reference in v. 22 to Christ's blamelessness may similarly be speaking of it as another aspect of his example in suffering that we should emulate. However it could instead refer to Christ's blamelessness in his life prior to his suffering, in parallel to the earlier reference to doing good leading to suffering (v. 20b).

1Pet 4:1 Since therefore Christ suffered in the flesh,^g arm yourselves with the same way of thinking, for whoever has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin, ...

^g Some manuscripts add for us; some for you

Believers are to "arm" themselves with the same attitude as Jesus Christ had in the face suffering. This involved a steely resolve to do God's will – being willing to patiently endure suffering (cf. Heb 12:2-3 ), trusting in God rather than retaliating (cf. 1Pet 2:20b-23 .

2Thes 3:5 May the Lord direct your hearts to the love of God and to the steadfastness of Christ.

As noted earlier in the chapter, with the reference to being directed into "the steadfastness of Christ" (v. 5), Paul appears to be speaking of the same perseverance as Christ showed (cf. CEV) and/or the perseverance that comes from him (cf. GNT, NLT).

... and share Jesus Christ's sufferings

See also:

- Share together in the sufferings that come because of Jesus Christ, p. 1308

It was necessary for Christ to suffer in order to achieve God's objectives for him. Likewise those who are "in" him, being a part of his body (the church), must also be prepared to suffer in order to advance his cause. Quite possibly the NT writers had such a concept in mind when they wrote of sharing in Christ's sufferings. (See also the comments below on 2 Corinthians 4:10 and Colossians 1:24.)

Rom 8:16-17 The Spirit himself bears witness with our spirit that we are children of God, ¹⁷and if children, then heirs— heirs of God and fellow heirs with Christ, provided we suffer with him in order that we may also be glorified with him.

Phil 3:10-11 ... that I may know him and the power of his resurrection, and may share his sufferings, becoming like him in his death, ¹¹that by any means possible I may attain the resurrection from the dead.

1Pet 4:13 But rejoice insofar as you share Christ's sufferings, that you may also rejoice and be glad when his glory is revealed.

2Cor 1:5 For as we share abundantly in Christ's sufferings, so through Christ we share abundantly in comfort too.^h

^h Or For as the sufferings of Christ abound for us, so also our comfort abounds through Christ

2Cor 4:8-11 We are afflicted in every way, but not crushed; perplexed, but not driven to despair; ⁹persecuted, but not forsaken; struck down, but not destroyed; ¹⁰*always carrying in the body the death of Jesus*, so that the life of Jesus may also be manifested in our bodies. ¹¹*For we who live are always being given over to death for Jesus' sake*, so that the life of Jesus also may be manifested in our mortal flesh.

Verses 8-9 clearly indicate that endurance of suffering is in view in this passage. In vv. 10-11, Paul alludes to the sufferings he undergoes for Jesus' sake (v. 11a), by which he identifies with and shares in – metaphorically speaking – the death of Jesus (v. 10a). In both verses Paul says he does this so that Jesus Christ's resurrection life may be revealed in his mortal body.

Col 1:24 Now I rejoice in my sufferings for your sake, and in my flesh I am filling up what is lacking in Christ's afflictions for the sake of his body, that is, the church, ...

Paul considered that what he suffered was a necessary part in the completion (cf. GNT, NLT) or continuation (cf. CEV) of Christ's sufferings for his people.

Heb 13:13 Therefore let us go to him outside the camp and bear the reproach he endured.

This is a reference to leaving Judaism ("the camp") for Christ. This is applicable to the situation of anyone who leaves another religion or set of beliefs for Christ, including atheism. They are looked down upon and even despised by those who adhere to the former belief – and are often treated accordingly.

Mark 10:38-39 Jesus said to them, “You do not know what you are asking. Are you able to drink the cup that I drink, or to be baptized with the baptism with which I am baptized?”³⁹ And they said to him, “We are able.” And Jesus said to them, “The cup that I drink you will drink, and with the baptism with which I am baptized, you will be baptized, ...”

Jesus was asking James and John figuratively if they could partake in and endure the suffering that he would. Note that in its context Jesus’ challenging question was actually somewhat of a rebuke and a warning in response to a selfish request (cf. vv. 35-37).

✦ When his people are persecuted, Christ is persecuted:

Acts 9:1-5 But Saul, still breathing threats and murder against the disciples of the Lord, went to the high priest² and asked him for letters to the synagogues at Damascus, so that if he found any belonging to the Way, men or women, he might bring them bound to Jerusalem.³ Now as he went on his way, he approached Damascus, and suddenly a light from heaven flashed around him.⁴ And falling to the ground he heard a voice saying to him, “Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting me?”⁵ And he said, “Who are you, Lord?” And he said, “I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting.”

Note: Be on your guard against persecutors and avoid persecution when appropriate

We are to be faithful to God in what we do even if it means that we will draw persecution. Having said this, we should also guard against those who would persecute us (cf. Matt 10:16-17 ↓; Mark 13:9 ↓; Neh 4:8-9 ↓) and avoid persecution (cf. Matt 10:16 ↓; Acts 9:23-25 ↓; Acts 11:19 ↓; Acts 20:3 ↓) when doing so does not involve being unfaithful to God and Jesus Christ.

Matt 10:16-17 Behold, I am sending you out as sheep in the midst of wolves, so be wise as serpents and innocent as doves.¹⁷ Beware of men, for they will deliver you over to courts and flog you in their synagogues, ...

Verse 16a illustrates the need to be on one’s guard (v. 17a) – reflected also in the two subsequent directives (v. 16b).

Mark 13:9 But be on your guard. For they will deliver you over to councils, and you will be beaten in synagogues, and you will stand before governors and kings for my sake, to bear witness before them.

Neh 4:8-9 And they all plotted together to come and fight against Jerusalem and to cause confusion in it.⁹ And we prayed to our God and set a guard as a protection against them day and night.

Matt 10:23 When they persecute you in one town, flee to the next, for truly, I say to you, you will not have gone through all the towns of Israel before the Son of Man comes.

Acts 9:23-25 When many days had passed, the Jews plotted to kill him,²⁴ but their plot became known to Saul. They were watching the gates day and night in order to kill him,²⁵ but his disciples took him by night and let him down through an opening in the wall,ⁱ lowering him in a basket.

ⁱ Greek through the wall

Acts 11:19 Now those who were scattered because of the persecution that arose over Stephen traveled as far as Phoenicia and Cyprus and Antioch, speaking the word to no one except Jews.

Presumably the believers were “scattered because of the persecution” by traveling elsewhere to avoid it.

Acts 14:5-7 When an attempt was made by both Gentiles and Jews, with their rulers, to mistreat them and to stone them,⁶ they learned of it and fled to Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and to the surrounding country,⁷ and there they continued to preach the gospel.

Acts 20:3 There he spent three months, and when a plot was made against him by the Jews as he was about to set sail for Syria, he decided to return through Macedonia.

✦ Prepare for the hardships and opposition ahead:

Luke 22:36 He said to them, “But now let the one who has a moneybag take it, and likewise a knapsack. And let the one who has no sword sell his cloak and buy one.”

The reference to buying a sword is unlikely to have been intended to be taken literally (cf. v. 38). Probably it is hyperbole, to stress to the disciples the harrowing nature of what lay ahead and the need to be prepared.

Phil 1:18b-19 Yes, and I will rejoice,¹⁹for I know that through your prayers and the help of the Spirit of Jesus Christ this will turn out for my deliverance, ... ¶

Paul’s faith in God providing his deliverance is clearly indicated by the phrase “I know”. As noted earlier, “deliverance” could refer either to deliverance from prison or to final spiritual salvation.

^mOr what I have entrusted to him; Greek my deposit

If the alternative rendering in the text note is to be preferred (cf. NASB, NIV, NKJV, NLT, NRSV), then Paul would appear to be speaking of trusting God to guard his ministry and its fruits, along with himself – even through death.

1Pet 2:23 When he was reviled, he did not revile in return; when he suffered, he did not threaten, but continued entrusting himself to him who judges justly. ¶

Persecution for being God’s people is apparent in most of the things listed in vv. 33-34, with Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego’s renowned faith (cf. Dan 3:17, 28 ↑) probably in view in the first clause of v. 34. Through faith these people of faith were able to overcome such strife. Note that in the subsequent verses in Hebrews 11 (cf. vv. 35b-39 ↓), the focus is on enduring persecutions rather than overcoming them in a physical sense.

Note that the last clause could be referring to one's belief in Jesus in regard to what the NT says about him, rather than to trusting him during persecution. (The same can be said of 13:10 above.)

... Faith enables one to endure persecution and suffering

▪ Rev 2:10 ↓

Most of the following verses/passages do not state or necessarily imply that faith enables one to endure, but they do clearly associate faith and endurance, arguably suggesting that the former leads to or supports the latter.

2Thes 1:4 Therefore we ourselves boast about you in the churches of God for your steadfastness and faith in all your persecutions and in the afflictions that you are enduring. 📖

Heb 11:24-27 By faith Moses, when he was grown up, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter, ²⁵choosing rather to be mistreated with the people of God than to enjoy the fleeting pleasures of sin. ²⁶He considered the reproach of Christ greater wealth than the treasures of Egypt, for he was looking to the reward. ²⁷By faith he left Egypt, not being afraid of the anger of the king, for he endured as seeing him who is invisible. 📖

Note that the writer may be alluding to his definition of faith in v. 1 ("the assurance of things hoped for, the conviction of things not seen") in the descriptions of Moses' actions of faith – "he was looking to the reward" (v. 26) and "he endured as seeing him who is invisible" (v. 27) (cf. NBC).

Heb 11:35b-39 *Some were tortured, refusing to accept release, so that they might rise again to a better life. ³⁶Others suffered mocking and flogging, and even chains and imprisonment. ³⁷They were stoned, they were sawn in two,^o they were killed with the sword. ^o Some manuscripts add they were tempted

These people's faith in God (v. 39a) is evident in their endurance of such suffering and hardship, their faith facilitating their endurance. The goal mentioned in the last clause of v. 35b also reflects faith.

Rev 2:19 I know your works, your love and faith and service and patient endurance, and that your latter works exceed the first. 📖

↳ The "steadfastness of hope" in Jesus Christ:

1Thes 1:3 ... remembering before our God and Father your work of faith and labor of love and steadfastness of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ. 📖

The phrase "steadfastness of hope" may well mean that their steadfastness came from hope (cf. NCV, NIV). As such the verse would be pertinent to this subsection. Alternatively, it may be speaking of their hope itself as being steadfast (cf. CEV, GNT). Having such "steadfastness" in the midst of suffering appears to be in view (cf. v. 6).

The disciples were not to be afraid of those who would hate and persecute them (cf. vv. 21-23). Rather they were to fearlessly declare publicly what Jesus had told them in private (vv. 26-27).

Acts 4:13 Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and perceived that they were uneducated, common men, they were astonished. And they recognized that they had been with Jesus.

The reference is to Peter and John being questioned before the religious leaders (cf. vv. 5-7), after having been jailed the previous night (cf. v. 3) for teaching the people about Jesus Christ (cf. vv. 1-2).

Heb 13:6 So we can confidently say, "The Lord is my helper; I will not fear; what can man do to me?"

1Pet 3:14 But even if you should suffer for righteousness' sake, you will be blessed. Have no fear of them, nor be troubled, ...

Rev 2:10 Do not fear what you are about to suffer. Behold, the devil is about to throw some of you into prison, that you may be tested, and for ten days you will have tribulation. Be faithful unto death, and I will give you the crown of life.

John 16:33 I have said these things to you, that in me you may have peace. In the world you will have tribulation. But take heart; I have overcome the world.

In Jesus Christ believers have peace, irrespective of the trouble they experience from being in the world – in fact Jesus Christ has overcome the world. So rather than be afraid, his followers should "take courage" (AMP), "be brave" (GNT, NCV) and "cheer up" (CEV, NIRV). Note that in making the final statement not long before the cross, Jesus may have been claiming the victory over the world that would be his through his death and resurrection. Alternatively he may have been referring to related concepts such as his instituting of God's kingdom in the world or his overpowering of Satan – things which in one sense at least had already been accomplished (cf. Matt 12:28-29).

Acts 23:10-11 And when the dissension became violent, the tribune, afraid that Paul would be torn to pieces by them, commanded the soldiers to go down and take him away from among them by force and bring him into the barracks. ¹¹The following night the Lord stood by him and said, "Take courage, for as you have testified to the facts about me in Jerusalem, so you must testify also in Rome."

✚ Paul urged the Ephesians not to be discouraged because of his sufferings for them:

Eph 3:13 So I ask you not to lose heart over what I am suffering for you, which is your glory.

Paul's sufferings were because of what he had done for them in propagating the kingdom of God among them. Note that the last phrase may mean that his sufferings brought them glory – either the glory resulting from being in the kingdom or the glory of the afterlife.

Do not worry about what to say – you will be given what to say

See also:

▪ d) Do Not Worry, p. 1130

Matt 10:18-20 ... and you will be dragged before governors and kings for my sake, to bear witness before them and the Gentiles. ¹⁹When they deliver you over, do not be anxious how you are to speak or what you are to say, for what you are to say will be given to you in that hour. ²⁰*For it is not you who speak, but the Spirit of your Father speaking through you.*

Mark 13:11 And when they bring you to trial and deliver you over, do not be anxious beforehand what you are to say, but say whatever is given you in that hour, for it is not you who speak, but the Holy Spirit.

Luke 21:14-15 Settle it therefore in your minds not to meditate beforehand how to answer, ¹⁵*for I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which none of your adversaries will be able to withstand or contradict.*

The instruction "not to meditate beforehand how to answer" (v. 14) means that we should not worry about what to say (cf. CEV, GNT, NCV, NIV, NLT) and even "not to prepare beforehand" (NASB; cf. NRSV) what to say.

Acts 6:9-10 Then some of those who belonged to the synagogue of the Freedmen (as it was called), and of the Cyrenians, and of the Alexandrians, and of those from Cilicia and Asia, rose up and disputed with Stephen. ¹⁰*But they could not withstand the wisdom and the Spirit with which he was speaking.*

This illustrates the above promises (cf. Matt 10:18-20; Mark 13:11) that the Holy Spirit will speak through believers in times of persecution and trial.

‡ God's promise that his servants will refute every tongue that rises against them:

Isa 54:17 ... no weapon that is fashioned against you shall succeed, and you shall confute every tongue that rises against you in judgment. This is the heritage of the servants of the LORD and their vindication^t from me, declares the LORD. ☞

^t Or righteousness

This promise is made to Jerusalem in its time of future renewal, but Luke 21:15 above makes a similar promise, suggesting that this promise from Isaiah is also applicable to believers now.

^v Or keep awake; also verses 40, 41

‡ Pray regarding future persecution:

Luke 21:36 But stay awake at all times, praying that you may have strength to escape all these things that are going to take place, and to stand before the Son of Man. ☞

The phrase "all these things that are going to take place" probably ultimately refers to events just prior to Jesus Christ's return. Traumatic events or judgments that all mankind will be exposed to may be in view, rather than only persecution of Christians. Here "escape" may have the sense "go safely through" (GNT), rather than meaning to avoid altogether.

Pray for and bless those who persecute you

See also:

- Pray for those facing persecution, p. 1323
- Love your enemies and do good to them . . ., p. 1541
- . . . Do not repay evil with evil, but with good, p. 1541

The benefits of responding as follows to those who persecute us include: we do not leave ourselves open to the negative effects that the natural response of hatred has on a person who hates; we do not expose ourselves to the ramifications of not having forgiven others (cf. . . . Forgive and God will forgive you, p. 1550); and we give a wonderful witness to others.

Matt 5:44-45 But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, ⁴⁵*so that you may be sons of your Father who is in heaven*. For he makes his sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust. ☞

Praying for those who persecute us imitates God, as he graciously blesses evil people along with the good people. For believers to do so is indicative that they are children of God.

Luke 6:27-28 But I say to you who hear, Love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, ²⁸*bless those who curse you, pray for those who abuse you*. ☞

Rom 12:14 Bless those who persecute you; bless and do not curse them. ☞

Prayer – such as praying for spiritual enlightenment – may well be one thing in view in this exhortation to “bless”. In support of this, note that the NLT, GNT and CEV interpret this verse as meaning that we should pray that God will bless those who persecute us.

1Cor 4:12b When reviled, we bless; when persecuted, we endure; ...

Acts 7:59-60 And as they were stoning Stephen, he called out, “Lord Jesus, receive my spirit.” ⁶⁰And falling to his knees he cried out with a loud voice, “Lord, do not hold this sin against them.” And when he had said this, he fell asleep.

✦ The lesser person is blessed by the greater:

Heb 7:7 It is beyond dispute that the inferior is blessed by the superior.

The context is Melchizedek’s blessing of Abraham – as opposed to any reference to persecution. The writer may have made this statement as a general rule, or he may have had primarily in view blessings being given in a formal and authoritative way (cf. ZBC). As applied to believers blessing those who persecute them, due to their position in and riches in God’s kingdom that they have in Jesus Christ, they are indeed in such a position so as to condescend to graciously bestow blessing on their persecutors.

Rejoice because trials develop Christian character and virtues

Rom 5:3-4 More than that, we rejoice in our sufferings, knowing that suffering produces endurance, ⁴and endurance produces character, and character produces hope, ...

Here “character” speaks of character that has been tried and proved (cf. AMP, GNT), evidencing a “strength of character” (NLT).

James 1:2-4 Count it all joy, my brothers,^w when you meet trials of various kinds, ³for you know that the testing of your faith produces steadfastness. ⁴And let steadfastness have its full effect, that you may be perfect and complete, lacking in nothing.

^w Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated “brothers”) refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God’s family, the church; also verses 16, 19

1Pet 1:6-7 In this you rejoice, though now for a little while, if necessary, you have been grieved by various trials, ⁷so that the tested genuineness of your faith—more precious than gold that perishes though it is tested by fire—may be found to result in praise and glory and honor at the revelation of Jesus Christ.

“In this you rejoice” (v. 6) is actually referring to the promises of the previous verses, rather than to the trials. Thus this passage does not actually say to rejoice because of the trials or their effects. The passage has been included here as it implies that believers should rejoice amidst suffering and also it points to the fact that trials develop our faith – as alluded to with the reference to gold being refined by fire (v. 7; cf. Dan 12:10 ↓).

Dan 12:10 Many shall purify themselves and make themselves white and be refined, but the wicked shall act wickedly. And none of the wicked shall understand, but those who are wise shall understand.

The trials of the end times (cf. vv. 1, 7) will lead to many of God’s people being purified. No mention is made of rejoicing here or in 1 Peter 5:9-10 immediately below, but these extracts further point to the fact that trials develop Christian character and virtue.

1Pet 5:9-10 Resist him, firm in your faith, knowing that the same kinds of suffering are being experienced by your brotherhood throughout the world. ¹⁰And after you have suffered a little while, the God of all grace, who has called you to his eternal glory in Christ, will himself restore, confirm, strengthen, and establish you.

The Greek rendered here as “restore” (v. 10) means to “perfect” (GNT, NASB, NKJV) or to “complete and make you what you ought to be” (AMP; cf. CEV).

✦ Trials lead believers to focus their faith and hope on God:

2Cor 1:8-10 For we do not want you to be ignorant, brothers,^x of the affliction we experienced in Asia. For we were so utterly burdened beyond our strength that we despaired of life itself. ⁹Indeed, we felt that we had received the sentence of death. But that was to make us rely not on ourselves but on God who raises the dead. ¹⁰He delivered us from such a deadly peril, and he will deliver us. On him we have set our hope that he will deliver us again.

^x Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated “brothers”) refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God’s family, the church

Rejoice because of rewards for suffering and enduring persecution . . .

Matt 5:11-12 Blessed are you when others revile you and persecute you and utter all kinds of evil against you falsely on my account. ¹²Rejoice and be glad, for your reward is great in heaven, for so they persecuted the prophets who were before you.

Luke 6:22-23 Blessed are you when people hate you and when they exclude you and revile you and spurn your name as evil, on account of the Son of Man! ²³Rejoice in that day, and leap for joy, for behold, your reward is great in heaven; for so their fathers did to the prophets.

1Pet 4:12-13 Beloved, do not be surprised at the fiery trial when it comes upon you to test you, as though something strange were happening to you. ¹³But rejoice insofar as you share Christ’s sufferings, that you may also rejoice and be glad when his glory is revealed.

Sharing in the sufferings of Christ, suffering on his behalf, gives believers reason to rejoice. For sharing Christ’s suffering identifies believers with him, which means we will naturally be overjoyed on his glorious return and triumph – which will include “the wonderful joy of sharing his glory” (NLT), which Peter may have in mind here.

Heb 10:34 For you had compassion on those in prison, and you joyfully accepted the plundering of your property, since you knew that you yourselves had a better possession and an abiding one.

Note that this is not necessarily saying that the reward – “a better possession and an abiding one” – were in particular for enduring the aforementioned persecution. However such endurance is certainly one reason why faithful believers will receive such rewards.

. . . and look forward to these rewards

2Cor 4:17-18 For this light momentary affliction is preparing for us an eternal weight of glory beyond all comparison, ¹⁸*as we look not to the things that are seen but to the things that are unseen.* For the things that are seen are transient, but the things that are unseen are eternal.

Heb 11:26 He considered the reproach of Christ greater wealth than the treasures of Egypt, for he was looking to the reward.

This points to the fact that the believer’s reward is of greater value than anything that this world can offer. Bearing this in mind stimulates one to look forward to their reward.

Heb 13:13-14 Therefore let us go to him outside the camp and bear the reproach he endured. ¹⁴*For here we have no lasting city, but we seek the city that is to come.*

In this context, to “seek” the city that is to come involves looking forward to it (cf. AMP, GNT, NCV, NIV, NLT, NRSV).

✦ Our present sufferings are not worth comparing with our glory in the afterlife:

Rom 8:18 For I consider that the sufferings of this present time are not worth comparing with the glory that is to be revealed to us.

Note that this truth is reflected in 2 Corinthians 4:17 above – and complemented by the teaching in Hebrews 11:26 above, as per the comment there.

Other reasons to rejoice in persecution and difficulties

Acts 5:40-41 ... and when they had called in the apostles, they beat them and charged them not to speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go. ⁴¹Then they left the presence of the council, rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer dishonor for the name.

The apostles rejoiced in part because they considered it to be an honor to suffer for “the name” of Jesus Christ (cf. NCV, NIRV). Furthermore, being “counted worthy” by God and/or Jesus Christ is indicative of being accepted by them – a thought that the apostles may have also had in mind.

2Cor 12:9-10 But he said to me, “My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness.” Therefore I will boast all the more gladly of my weaknesses, so that the power of Christ may rest upon me. ¹⁰*For the sake of Christ, then, I am content with weaknesses, insults, hardships, persecutions, and calamities. For when I am weak, then I am strong.*

The more aware we are of our weaknesses and of our limitations in facing persecutions and difficulties, the more we are open to depending on Christ’s power – in which we are truly made strong. This is ample reason to gladly boast about such things (v. 9) and be content with them (v. 10) – even delighting in them (cf. AMP, NIV, NKJV).

Phil 1:18b-19 Yes, and I will rejoice, ¹⁹*for I know that through your prayers and the help of the Spirit of Jesus Christ this will turn out for my deliverance, ...*

Despite his imprisonment and the attempts of some preachers to stir up trouble for him (cf. vv. 12-17), Paul continued to rejoice – knowing that all that had happened would turn out for his deliverance. As noted earlier, his final spiritual salvation may be in view.

Col 1:24 Now I rejoice in my sufferings for your sake, and in my flesh I am filling up what is lacking in Christ’s afflictions for the sake of his body, that is, the church, ...

Paul could have in mind here both that his sufferings were greatly helping Christ’s body, and that they were a necessary part in the completion (cf. GNT, NLT) or continuation (cf. CEV) of Christ’s sufferings for his people. As such Paul had reason to rejoice in these sufferings.

2Cor 7:4-7 I am acting with great boldness toward you; I have great pride in you; I am filled with comfort. In all our affliction, I am overflowing with joy. ⁵For even when we came into Macedonia, our bodies had no rest, but we were afflicted at every turn—fighting without and fear within. ⁶But God, who comforts the downcast, comforted us by the coming of Titus, ⁷and not only by his coming but also by the comfort with which he was comforted by you, as he told us of your longing, your mourning, your zeal for me, so that I rejoiced still more.

This and 1 Peter 1:3-6 below speak of reasons to rejoice despite persecution and difficulties – as opposed to rejoicing because of persecution/difficulties and their implications, which is the case in the above verses and previous subsections. The spiritual growth of young Christians – alluded to in v. 4a – and the concern of other believers (v. 7b), gives one great joy amidst troubles. This is particularly so for leaders, as was the case here with Paul. Note that the first clause in v. 4, appears to reflect Paul’s confidence in his relating to his readers (cf. AMP, GNT, NASB, NCV, NIV, NLT), with him apparently being confident of their faith and warm feelings towards him.

1Pet 1:3-6 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ! According to his great mercy, he has caused us to be born again to a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, ⁴*to an inheritance that is imperishable, undefiled, and unfading, kept in heaven for you,* ⁵*who by God’s power are being guarded through faith for a salvation ready to be revealed in the last time.* ⁶*In this you rejoice, though now for a little while, if necessary, you have been grieved by various trials, ...*

“In this” (v. 6) certainly refers to the contents of vv. 3b-4; that which is in v. 5 may also be encompassed. These things give great reason to rejoice no matter what one’s current circumstances.

Further examples of rejoicing during persecution and difficulties

Phil 2:17-18 Even if I am to be poured out as a drink offering upon the sacrificial offering of your faith, I am glad and rejoice with you all. ¹⁸Likewise you also should be glad and rejoice with me.

As was noted earlier in regard to the use of the phrase in 2 Timothy 4:6, “poured out” may well have in view the possibility of Paul dying as a martyr. As such it would portray Paul’s life, part of which he spent on building up the faith of the Philippians, being “poured out” as an offering accompanying the sacrificial service that came from their faith. In v. 18, Paul's exhortation to "be glad and rejoice" may have partly in view the Philippians' own difficulties, with them facing opposition and suffering (cf. 1:27-31)

2Cor 6:10 ... as sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; as poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing, yet possessing everything.

Even amidst the sorrow that persecution and difficulties bring, believers have great reasons to persistently rejoice – notably those discussed in the above subsections and in the following section on God's blessings for persecuted believers. Note that while sorrow may make rejoicing harder to do, it also creates a greater need for it.

2Cor 8:2 ... for in a severe test of affliction, their abundance of joy and their extreme poverty have overflowed in a wealth of generosity on their part.

1Thes 1:6 And you became imitators of us and of the Lord, for you received the word in much affliction, with the joy of the Holy Spirit, ...

✦ Praying and singing hymns during persecution:

Acts 16:23-25 And when they had inflicted many blows upon them, they threw them into prison, ordering the jailer to keep them safely. ²⁴Having received this order, he put them into the inner prison and fastened their feet in the stocks. ²⁵About midnight Paul and Silas were praying and singing hymns to God, and the prisoners were listening to them, ...

Blessings amidst suffering and in the present life

Rom 15:4 For whatever was written in former days was written for our instruction, that through endurance and through the encouragement of the Scriptures we might have hope.

Believers gain hope through endurance, largely due to God's faithfulness in such times giving hope and reason to believe that he will likewise faithfully bring them through future trials. Believers also gain hope through the encouragement of the Scriptures. In this Paul may have in view God's promises and the experience of past saints, which give the hope of God's blessings and ultimate deliverance to those who endure.

2Cor 1:3-7 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort, ⁴who comforts us in all our affliction, so that we may be able to comfort those who are in any affliction, with the comfort with which we ourselves are comforted by God. ⁵For as we share abundantly in Christ's sufferings, so through Christ we share abundantly in comfort too.^y ⁶If we are afflicted, it is for your comfort and salvation; and if we are comforted, it is for your comfort, which you experience when you patiently endure the same sufferings that we suffer. ⁷Our hope for you is unshaken, for we know that as you share in our sufferings, you will also share in our comfort.

^y Or For as the sufferings of Christ abound for us, so also our comfort abounds through Christ

In suffering we receive God's comfort ourselves and as a result are equipped to help others who suffer, with God's comfort overflowing from us to others. As such our sufferings bring blessing to others as well as to ourselves.

2Cor 4:8-11 We are afflicted in every way, but not crushed; perplexed, but not driven to despair; ⁹persecuted, but not forsaken; struck down, but not destroyed; ¹⁰always carrying in the body the death of Jesus, so that the life of Jesus may also be manifested in our bodies. ¹¹For we who live are always being given over to death for Jesus' sake, so that the life of Jesus also may be manifested in our mortal flesh.

Jesus' "life" refers to his resurrection life – with its spiritual power for those who share in his suffering, suffering on his behalf.

2Cor 4:16 So we do not lose heart. Though our outer self^z is wasting away, our inner self is being renewed day by day. ☞

^z Greek man

In speaking of outwardly "wasting away" Paul has his afflictions (cf. v. 17) in view, which go hand in hand with his daily renewal.

1Pet 4:1-2 Since therefore Christ suffered in the flesh,^a arm yourselves with the same way of thinking, for whoever has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin, ²so as to live for the rest of the time in the flesh no longer for human passions but for the will of God. ☞

^a Some manuscripts add for us; some for you

Those who suffer for God are finished with sin – "no longer involved with sin" (GNT). Such suffering causes one to see sin to be more unpalatable and pointless than before – even undesirable. Furthermore, the actions of enduring great suffering for God and needlessly displeasing him by sinning are incompatible.

1Pet 4:14 If you are insulted for the name of Christ, you are blessed, because the Spirit of glory^b and of God rests upon you. ☞

^b Some manuscripts insert and of power

Peter appears to indicate that suffering for Jesus Christ brings with it a rich experience of God's Spirit.

Rev 2:9 I know your tribulation and your poverty (but you are rich) and the slander^c of those who say that they are Jews and are not, but are a synagogue of Satan. ☞

^c Greek blasphemy

Although they were very poor, these faithful believers had spiritual riches (and also were heirs to the glorious riches of the afterlife). Such riches were theirs amidst their afflictions partly due to their endurance of these afflictions.

James 5:11 Behold, we consider those blessed who remained steadfast. You have heard of the steadfastness of Job, and you have seen the purpose of the Lord, how the Lord is compassionate and merciful. ☞

As was Job's experience, those who persevere are blessed by God's compassion and mercy. Note that blessing following persecution, for those who have persevered through it, appears to be in view – as opposed to blessing amidst persecution, prominent in the above references.

✦ Blessings given to the church in Philadelphia which had endured patiently:

Rev 3:8-10 I know your works. *Behold, I have set before you an open door, which no one is able to shut. I know that you have but little power, and yet you have kept my word and have not denied my name. ⁹Behold, I will make those of the synagogue of Satan who say that they are Jews and are not, but lie—behold, I will make them come and bow down before your feet and they will learn that I have loved you. ¹⁰Because you have kept my word about patient endurance, I will keep you from the hour of trial that is coming on the whole world, to try those who dwell on the earth.* ☞

The "open door, which no one is able to shut" (v. 8) is probably the door to God's kingdom. Another possibility is that it represents an opportunity for service.

The future rewards of: eternal life; . . .

Luke 21:19 By your endurance you will gain your lives. ☞

Note that Jesus makes this statement after speaking of coming persecutions (cf. vv. 12-17).

James 1:12 Blessed is the man who remains steadfast under trial, for when he has stood the test he will receive the crown of life, which God has promised to those who love him. ☞

Rev 2:7, 10 He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. To the one who conquers I will grant to eat of the tree of life, which is in the paradise of God. ☞ ... ¹⁰Do not fear what you are about to suffer. Behold, the devil is about to throw some of you into prison, that you may be tested, and for ten days you will have tribulation. Be faithful unto death, and I will give you the crown of life. ☞

The "tree of life" (v. 7) and the "crown of life" (v. 10; cf. James 1:12 ↑) symbolize and/or point to eternal life.

Rev 3:5 The one who conquers will be clothed thus in white garments, and I will never blot his name out of the book of life. I will confess his name before my Father and before his angels. ☞

The Bible refers to "the book of life" (cf. Ex 32:32; Dan 12:1; Rev 20:12, 15; 21:27; cf. Mal 3:16; Luke 10:20), in which are listed only the names of those who will receive eternal life.

Heb 11:35b Some were tortured, refusing to accept release, so that they might rise again to a better life. ☞

This speaks of being raised from the dead to "a better life" (cf. AMP, GNT, NCV, NirV, NLT) – eternal life.

Matt 10:22 ... and you will be hated by all for my name's sake. But the one who endures to the end will be saved.

This also points to the reward of eternal life, encompassing being saved from "death in the world to come" (AMP).

Phil 3:10-11 ... that I may know him and the power of his resurrection, and may share his sufferings, becoming like him in his death, ¹¹*that by any means possible I may attain the resurrection from the dead.*

The resurrection from the dead – and correspondingly everlasting life – is partially a product of sharing in Christ's sufferings.

... God's kingdom; and glory

Matt 5:10 Blessed are those who are persecuted for righteousness' sake, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

Note that this teaching probably has a present application as well as a future one.

2Thes 1:4-5 Therefore we ourselves boast about you in the churches of God for your steadfastness and faith in all your persecutions and in the afflictions that you are enduring. ⁵*This is evidence of the righteous judgment of God, that you may be considered worthy of the kingdom of God, for which you are also suffering—*

In accordance with God's righteous judgment, the Thessalonians' steadfastness and faith would result in them being counted worthy of God's kingdom.

Rom 8:17-18 ... and if children, then heirs—heirs of God and fellow heirs with Christ, provided we suffer with him in order that we may also be glorified with him. ¹⁸*For I consider that the sufferings of this present time are not worth comparing with the glory that is to be revealed to us.*

Note that this also associates the wonderful blessing of being "heirs of God and fellow heirs with Christ" with suffering with Christ, which largely involves being faithful in persecution.

2Cor 4:17 For this light momentary affliction is preparing for us an eternal weight of glory beyond all comparison, ...

✦ Those who endure will reign with Jesus Christ:

2Tim 2:12 ... if we endure, we will also reign with him; if we deny him, he also will deny us; ...

The Bible speaks of a future reign that believers will participate in with Jesus Christ (cf. Rev 20:4 ↓). This is discussed in God's people will reign with Jesus Christ, p. 724.

2Tim 4:6, 8 For I am already being poured out as a drink offering, and the time of my departure has come.  ... ⁸*Henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will award to me on that Day, and not only to me but also to all who have loved his appearing.*

The term "crown of righteousness" could refer to being pronounced right with God or being made completely righteous – or even to a reward for a righteous life.

Heb 13:13-14 Therefore let us go to him outside the camp and bear the reproach he endured. ¹⁴*For here we have no lasting city, but we seek the city that is to come.*

The reference appears to be to the New Jerusalem that believers will inhabit with God and Jesus Christ.

1Pet 3:14a But even if you should suffer for righteousness' sake, you will be blessed.

Peter does not actually specify any particular blessings here. But for a number of commentators the use of "blessed" recalls Matthew 5:10-12, which says that those persecuted because of righteousness are blessed because "theirs is the kingdom of heaven" (Matt 5:10 ↑), with great reward in heaven (v. 12).

Rev 6:11 Then they were each given a white robe and told to rest a little longer, until the number of their fellow servants^d and their brothers^e should be complete, who were to be killed as they themselves had been.

^d Greek fellow bondservants

^e Or brothers and sisters. The plural Greek word adelphoi (translated "brothers") refers to siblings in a family. In New Testament usage, depending on the context, adelphoi may refer either to men or to both men and women who are siblings (brothers and sisters) in God's family, the church

The white robes (cf. Rev 7:14 ↓) given to the martyrs appears to signify purity and the glorified state of the righteous.

Rev 7:14-17 I said to him, “Sir, you know.” And he said to me, “These are the ones coming out of the great tribulation. They have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb. ¹⁵“Therefore they are before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple; and he who sits on the throne will shelter them with his presence. ¹⁶*They shall hunger no more, neither thirst anymore; the sun shall not strike them, nor any scorching heat.* ¹⁷*For the Lamb in the midst of the throne will be their shepherd, and he will guide them to springs of living water, and God will wipe away every tear from their eyes.*”

The “springs of living water” (v. 17) are “springs of the water of life” (NASB, NRSV). As such v. 17 is also pertinent to The future rewards of: eternal life; . . ., above.

Rev 14:12-13 Here is a call for the endurance of the saints, those who keep the commandments of God and their faith in Jesus.^f ¹³And I heard a voice from heaven saying, “Write this: Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from now on.” “Blessed indeed,” says the Spirit, “that they may rest from their labors, for their deeds follow them!”

^f Greek and the faith of Jesus

The phrase “who die in the Lord” (v. 13) is not necessarily speaking of believers martyred for their faith, but v. 12 – and the preceding verses – make it clear that they have certainly at least remained faithful under pressure. The phrase “from now on” (v. 13) probably refers to the time of the Great Tribulation in the end times, although the promise that follows is applicable to all faithful believers. They will be able to rest from their labor, for their good deeds will be remembered and “rewarded” (CEV, cf. NCV).

Rev 20:4 Then I saw thrones, and seated on them were those to whom the authority to judge was committed. Also I saw the souls of those who had been beheaded for the testimony of Jesus and for the word of God, and those who had not worshiped the beast or its image and had not received its mark on their foreheads or their hands. They came to life and reigned with Christ for a thousand years.

This is interpreted by many to be speaking of a literal thousand-year reign. For discussion of this concept see the introductory comments on f) Jesus Christ's Universal Rule, p. 717, and its first subsection, Prelude: The thousand years.

... Blessings for “one who conquers”

All of the blessings spoken of below are applicable to all God's people who conquer the challenges of the “world”. The background to some of the following references involves overcoming persecution, with the remainder involving other worldly challenges to faithfulness.

Rev 2:7 He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. To the one who conquers I will grant to eat of the tree of life, which is in the paradise of God.

Rev 2:11 He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. The one who conquers will not be hurt by the second death.

The second death is eternal suffering in the lake of fire.

Rev 2:17 He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. To the one who conquers I will give some of the hidden manna, and I will give him a white stone, with a new name written on the stone that no one knows except the one who receives it.

There are various ideas about what is meant by the hidden manna, the white stone and the new name (cf. Rev 3:12 ↓) – although all are clearly significant rewards for faithfulness. (Likewise there are various interpretations of “the morning star” in 2:28 below.)

Rev 2:26-28 The one who conquers and who keeps my works until the end, to him I will give authority over the nations, and he will rule them with a rod of iron, as when earthen pots are broken in pieces, even as I myself have received authority from my Father. ²⁸*And I will give him the morning star.*

Verses 26-27 – and 3:21 below – may have in view the reign of believers with Jesus Christ that is spoken of in Revelation 20:4 in the previous subsection.

Rev 3:4-5 Yet you have still a few names in Sardis, people who have not soiled their garments, and they will walk with me in white, for they are worthy. ⁵*The one who conquers will be clothed thus in white garments, and I will never blot his name out of the book of life. I will confess his name before my Father and before his angels.*

As per the references to white robes in the previous subsection (cf. Rev 6:11 ↑; Rev 7:14-17 ↑), being dressed in white (vv. 4b-5a) signifies purity and quite possibly also the glorified state of the righteous.

Rev 3:12 The one who conquers, I will make him a pillar in the temple of my God. Never shall he go out of it, and I will write on him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, the new Jerusalem, which comes down from my God out of heaven, and my own new name.

Being “a pillar in the temple of my God” probably involves a permanent and prominent position in the coming kingdom. Having the names of God and the city of God written on them, signify that believers belong to God and are citizens of the city. Having Jesus Christ's “new name” written on them may simply signify that also they belong to him; but it being a "new" name may also allude to their perfected state.

Rev 3:21 The one who conquers, I will grant him to sit with me on my throne, as I also conquered and sat down with my Father on his throne. 📖

Rev 21:7 The one who conquers will have this heritage, and I will be his God and he will be my son. 📖

The believer who overcomes will inherit all the blessings of the new Jerusalem. The second part of the statement refers to a prime aim of God's covenant with Israel – that he would be their God and they would be his people.

✦ Blessed are those who persevere to the end of the 1,335 days:

Dan 12:12 Blessed is he who waits and arrives at the 1,335 days. 📖

Although the persecution by Antiochus Epiphanes in the second century B.C. could possibly be in view, this might well be referring to – or at least be inclusive of – enduring the period of tribulation prior to Jesus Christ's return.
